(p) "Farm acreage allotment" means a cotton acreage allotment established for a farm under the "Marketing Quota Regulations Relating to Apportionment of the National Acreage Allotment for the 1955 Crop of Upland Cotton to States, Counties, and Farms" (19 F. R. 7213), as amended.

(q) "Upland cotton" (referred to in §§ 722.641 to 722.688 as "cotton") means any cotton other than extra long staple cotton.

(r) "Extra long staple cotton" means American-Egyptian, Sea Island, and Sealand cotton, and all other varieties of the Barbadense species, and any hybrid thereof, and any other cotton in which one or more of these varieties predominates.

(s) "Acreage planted to cotton" means the acreage of land seeded to cotton on the farm in 1955, excluding any acreage in excess of the allotment which (1) is destroyed by causes beyond the producer's control prior to the expiration of the period established under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for disposing of excess cotton acreage, or (2) is disposed of not later than 20 days, or such longer period as is approved in writing by the county committee in accordance with § 722.646 (c), after the original notice of the measured cotton acreage is mailed to the farm operator.

(t) "State and county code number" means the applicable numbers assigned by the Commodity Stabilization Service of the United States Department of Agriculture to each State and county for the purpose of identification.

(u) "Serial number of the farm" or "farm serial number" means the serial number assigned to the farm by the county committee for the purpose of identification.

(v) "Normal yield" for any county means the average yield per acre of lint cotton for the county, adjusted for abnormal weather conditions, during the five calendar years immediately preceding the year in which such normal yield is determined. If for any year of such five-year period the data are not available or there was no actual yield, the yield for such year shall be appraised by taking into consideration the yields in years for which data are available, abnormal weather conditions, and the yields for such year in nearby counties in which the type of soil, topography, and farming practices are similar. If, because of drought, flood, insect pests, plant disease, or other uncontrollable natural cause, the yield in any year of such five-year period is less than 75 percent of the average (computed without regard to such year), such year shall be eliminated in calculating the normal yield per acre for the county. County normal yields for cotton shall be determined by the Director. The normal yield determined for a county shall be kept readily available to the public in the county office, and the normal yield determined for each county in a State shall be kept readily available to the public in the State office.

(w) "Normal yield" for any farm means the average yield per acre of lint cotton for the farm, adjusted for abnormal weather conditions, during the five calendar years 1950, 1951, 1952, 1953, and 1954, except that if the normal yield is established after December 31, 1955, such normal yield shall be determined on the basis of the five calendar years immediately preceding the year in which such normal yield is determined. If for any such year data are not available or there was no actual yield, then the normal yield for the farm shall be appraised, in accordance with instructions issued by the Deputy Administrator, taking into consideration abnormal weather conditions, the normal yield for the county, and the yield in years for which data are available. The normal yield for a farm on which cotton was not planted in 1952, 1953, or 1954 shall be that yield per acre which the county committee determines is normal for the farm as compared with other farms in the locality which are similar with respect to soil and other physical factors affecting the production of cotton.

(x) "Normal production" of any number of acres means the normal yield for the farm multiplied by such number of acres.

(y) "Actual production" of cotton on the farm means the total number of pounds of lint cotton determined to have been produced on the farm in 1955.

(z) "Actual yield" per acre means the number of pounds of lint cotton determined by dividing the actual production of cotton on the farm by the acreage planted to cotton on the farm in 1955.

(aa) "Producer" means a person who, as owner or landlord (other than the landlord of a standing-rent tenant, fixed-rent tenant, or cash tenant), cash tenant, standing-rent tenant, fixed-rent tenant, share tenant, or sharecropper is entitled to all or a share of the 1955 crop of cotton (or cotton on hand from a prior crop) or of the proceeds thereof.

(cc) "Farm marketing excess" means the amount of cotton determined for any farm under § 722.650 or § 722.652, whichever is applicable.

(ee) "Farm with a farm marketing excess" means a farm on which the acreage planted to cotton in 1955 is in excess of the farm acreage allotment established therefor.

(ff) "Penalty" means the penalty provided in section 346 (a) of the act and § 722.666.

(gg) "Seed cotton" means the harvested fruit of the cotton plant before ginning.

(hh) "Lint cotton" means the fiber taken from seed cotton by ginning.

(ii) "Carry-over cotton" means the unmarketed cotton from the 1954 or any previous crop which the producer thereof has on hand.

(jj) "Ginning" means the process by which lint cotton is removed from the cotton seed.

(kk) "Ginner" means a person engaged in the business of ginning cotton.

(ll) "Gin bale number or mark" means the number entered on the bale tag or any other mark made or used by the ginner to identify a bale of cotton.

(mm) "Warehouse receipt number" means the number on the warehouse receipt and on the warehouse bale tag used by the warehouseman to identify a bale of cotton.

(nn) "Buyer" means a person who acquires cotton from a producer by purchase. An agricultural cooperative association which makes purchase- and sale-agreements with producers, or marketing agreements under which the title to cotton passes upon delivery of cotton by the producer and the association is authorized to deal with such cotton as owner, shall be deemed to be a "buyer" with respect to any cotton acquired pursuant to such an agreement which is subject to marketing quotas as provided in § 722.648.

(oo) "Transferee" means a person who receives cotton from a producer by barter, or exchange, or by gift inter vivos.

(pp) "Market" means to dispose of cotton in raw or processed form by voluntary or involuntary sale, barter, or exchange, or by gift inter vivos.

(1) The term "sale" means any transfer of title to cotton by a producer to another by any means other than barter or exchange or gift inter vivos.

(2) The terms "barter" and "exchange" mean transfer of title to cotton by a producer to another in return for cotton or any other commodity, service, or property in cases where the value of the cotton or such other commodity, service, or property is not considered in terms of money, or the transfer of title to cotton by a producer to another in payment of a fixed rental or other charge for land.

(3) The term "gift inter vivos" means any transfer of title, accompanied by delivery, to cotton by a producer to another which takes effect immediately and irrevocably and is made without any consideration or compensation therefor.

(4) "Marketed," "marketing," and "for market" shall have corresponding meanings to the term "market" in the connection in which they are used.

(qq) "Marketing year" means the period beginning August 1, 1955, and ending July 31, 1956, both dates inclusive.

§ 722.643 Issuance of forms and instructions. The Director shall cause to be prepared such forms and instructions as are necessary for carrying out §§ 722.642 to 722.688. The forms shall be issued by the Director with the approval of the Deputy Administrator, and the instructions shall be issued by the Deputy Administrator. Copies of such forms and instructions shall be furnished free to persons needing them upon request made to the State or county office or to the Director.

§ 722.644 Extent of calculations and rule of fractions. In making any computation in connection with §§ 722.642 to 722.688, the amount of lint cotton shall be rounded to the nearest whole pound and the amount of penalties or refunds shall be rounded to the nearest whole cent. Fractions of exactly five-tenths of a pound or cent shall be dropped. The acreage of each field of cotton on the farm shall be expressed in hundredths of an acre, and thousandths of an acre shall be dropped. The total acreage of cotton on the farm shall be expressed in tenths of an acre, and hundredths of an acre shall be dropped.

IDENTIFICATION AND MEASUREMENT OF FARMS

§ 722.645 Identification of farms. Each farm as operated for the 1955 crop of cotton shall be identified by a farm serial number and all records pertaining to marketing quotas for the 1955 crop of cotton shall be identified by such number.

§ 722.646 Measurement of farms—(a) Premeasurement. The county committee shall provide for the measurement prior to planting of an acreage on the farm equal to the farm acreage allotment if the farm operator requests such measurement and pays the cost thereof, as determined in accordance with instructions issued by the Deputy Administrator, and any farm on which such measured acreage is the only acreage planted to cotton shall be deemed to have an acreage not in excess of the farm acreage allotment.

(b) Measurement after planting. Measurement of the acreage planted to cotton on each farm in the county shall be made under the general supervision of the county committee in accordance with the following provisions: (1) The measurement of the farm shall be made by an employee of the county committee who has been designated as a reporter and determined by the county office manager to be qualified to carry out the duties of a reporter. A reporter may be assisted in the measurement of a farm by another reporter, a community, county, or State committeeman, a State committee representative, any employee of the county office when authorized by the county office manager, or by any employee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture when authorized by the Deputy Administrator. The reporter may request the operator or producer or his representative to designate all fields on the farm on which cotton was planted in 1955 and otherwise to assist in measuring the farm. If so requested, the operator or producer or his representative shall so designate all fields planted to cotton on the farm in 1955 and otherwise assist in measuring the farm. The reporter may utilize any such assistance from the operator or producer or his representative; (2) the county office manager shall have responsibility for assigning, in writing, insofar as practicable, the farms in the county to be measured by a reporter, and in the case of a farm where a reporter has been refused permission to measure the cotton a written assignment shall be issued in connection with such farm. Upon request of any interested producer the reporter shall obtain certification from the county office manager that the reporter is the county office representative appointed to determine the cotton acreage on the farm in which the producer is interested; (3) a reporter shall visit each farm assigned to him for measurement and enter thereon if such entry will facilitate measurement. Upon request he will exhibit to the farm operator, producer, or owner his assignment to measure the farm; (4) measurement may be made by identification of fields or parts of fields by use of a map or aerial photograph, or by means of a steel or metallic tape or chain, or rod and chain, or by use of a measuring wheel when authorized by the Deputy Administrator, or by a combination of two or more of the foregoing methods. The pertinent data and information for the farm shall be entered by the reporter on the Form CSS–578, and on maps or aerial photographs where applicable, and filed in the county office. Computations of acreages shall be made by an employee in the county office from the data so obtained, and the use of a planimeter or rotometer in connection therewith is authorized; (5) measurements of whole fields made prior to the effective date of this section and in accordance with existing procedures then in effect may be utilized where pertinent for the purpose of ascertaining with respect to any farm the acreage planted to cotton in 1955 and the acreage of cotton in excess of the 1955 farm acreage allotment.

(c) Notice of measured acreage and disposition of excess acreage. The county committee shall notify the farm operator by mail of the measured acreage of cotton on the farm. If such acreage is in excess of the farm acreage allotment, the county committee shall also notify the farm operator that unless the acreage of cotton on the farm is adjusted to the farm acreage allotment within the time established pursuant to § 722.642 (s), the farm marketing excess for the farm will be determined on the basis of the excess acreage and the normal yield for the farm. Notice so given shall constitute notice to each producer having an interest in the 1955 crop of cotton produced on the farm. If, because of adverse weather conditions or other reasons beyond their control, producers on the farm cannot dispose of the excess cotton acreage within 20 days after the original notice of measured cotton acreage is mailed to the farm operator, and a request in writing for additional time and a showing to the satisfaction of the county committee that circumstances beyond their control prevented the disposition of the excess acreage within the 20-day period is filed with the county committee, the county committee may allow an additional period not to exceed 10 days for disposing of the excess acreage. No cotton acreage shall be disposed of for purposes of adjusting the planted acreage of cotton to the farm acreage allotment after any cotton has been harvested from such planted acreage.

(d) Remeasurement. The county committee shall provide for the remeasurement, upon request by the farm operator, of the acreage planted to cotton on the farm, but the operator shall be required to deposit with the treasurer of the county committee an amount equal to the estimated cost of such remeasurement and such deposit shall not be returned to the farm operator if the planted acreage is found upon such remeasurement to be in excess of the farm acreage allotment. Where the farm operator requests an additional remeasurement of the acreage planted to cotton on the farm, the county committee shall provide for such remeasurement only if it finds, on the basis of evidence presented by the farm operator and other available information or data, that an error was probably made in the prior remeasurement.

(e) Measurement of acreage disposed of. If the excess cotton acreage on any farm is disposed of within the time allowed pursuant to § 722.642 (s) and a producer on the farm requests that the acreage disposed of be measured and pays the estimated cost of measuring such acreage, the county committee shall provide for such measurement.

§ 722.647 Reports and records of farm measurements. The county committee shall keep a record of the measurements made on all farms. It shall file with the State office a written report on Form MQ–94—Cotton (Upland), setting forth for each farm with a farm marketing excess (a) the farm serial number, (b) the name of the operator, (c) the farm acreage allotment, (d) the acreage planted to cotton in 1955, and (e) the total acreage in cultivation.

FARM MARKETING QUOTA AND FARM MARKETING EXCESS

§ 722.648 Cotton subject to marketing quota provisions. Marketing quotas for the 1955 crop of cotton shall be applicable to any cotton of that crop notwithstanding that it may be available for marketing prior to the beginning of the marketing year or marketed subsequent to the end of the marketing year. Marketing quotas shall also be applicable to carry-over cotton marketed during the marketing year.

(b) Where the acreage planted to cotton is not measured. Whenever measurement of the acreage planted to cotton on the farm is prevented by a producer on the farm, the farm marketing excess shall be the total number of pounds of lint cotton produced in 1955 on the farm. In the event the farm operator or any other producer on the farm establishes, in accordance with § 722.652, the total number of pounds of cotton produced in 1955 on the farm, the farm marketing excess shall be the number of pounds of lint cotton produced in 1955 on the farm in excess of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment. Whenever the county committee determines that a reasonably accurate estimate can be made of the acreage planted to cotton on any such farm for which measurements have been prevented, the county committee shall provide for such an estimate to be made, and if the producer fails or refuses to establish the amount of lint cotton produced in 1955 on the farm and if the penalty collected in connection with marketings of cotton reported by buyers pursuant to § 722.677 (c) is less than the penalty due on the farm marketing excess determined on the basis of the estimated acreage planted to cotton, the farm marketing excess and the penalty for the farm shall be established on the basis of the normal yield and the estimated acreage planted to cotton in excess of the farm acreage allotment, and the operator shall be notified of such determinations in accordance with § 722.651.

§ 722.651 Notice of farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess. Written notice of the farm marketing quota and, where applicable, the farm marketing excess, established for a farm shall be mailed to the operator of such farm. Notice so given shall constitute notice to each producer having an interest in the 1955 cotton crop produced or to be produced on the farm. Each notice shall contain a brief statement of the procedure whereby application for a review of the farm marketing quota or farm marketing excess, or any determination made in connection therewith, may be had in accordance with section 363 of the act. A record of the date of mailing the notice to the operator of the farm shall be kept among the records of the county office and upon request a copy of the notice shall be furnished without charge to any producer on the farm for which the notice is given. Such notice shall contain the information necessary in each case to inform the producer as to the basis for the determinations set forth in the notice and the effect thereof.

§ 722.652 Farm marketing excess adjustment—(a) Application for adjustment in the farm marketing excess. Any producer having an interest in the cotton produced in 1955 on a farm with a farm marketing excess may apply in writing to the county committee as provided herein for a downward adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess on the basis of the amount of cotton produced in 1955 on the farm. Any such application shall be filed with the county committee not later than the earlier of (1) 60 days after harvest is completed on the farm or by such later date as is approved by the State committee on the basis of a recommendation by the county committee and a showing that the producer's failure to apply for such adjustment within the 60-day period was due to circumstances beyond his control or (2) March 15, 1956. If the harvesting of cotton on the farm has not been completed by March 15, 1956, but an application has been timely filed under the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, the producer may request the county committee to provide for an estimate to be made of the amount of unharvested cotton on the farm in order that a final determination of the actual production on the farm in 1955 may be made. The county committee shall keep a record of each application so made and the date thereof. The county committee shall establish a time and place at which each application will be considered and shall notify the applicant of the time and place of the hearing. Insofar as practicable, applications shall be considered in the order in which made. Unless application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess is made within the period of time provided for in this paragraph, the farm marketing excess as determined pursuant to § 722.650 shall be final as to the producers on the farm. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, whenever the county committee determines that no cotton has been or will be produced in 1955 on a farm with a farm marketing excess, the county committee may adjust the farm marketing excess and notify the operator of such adjustment, as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Procedure in connection with an application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess. The county committee shall consider each application on the basis of facts known by or made available to it and on the basis of such evidence as may be presented to it by the applicant. The actual production of cotton on any farm shall be determined in view of the relevant facts, including the past production on the farm, the actual yields per acre in 1955 for other farms in the community which are similar with regard to farming practices followed, type of soil, and productivity; the harvesting, ginning, and sales of the cotton produced on the farm; and weather conditions and other factors affecting the production of cotton on the farm and in the locality in which the farm is situated. In the consideration of any application for adjustment in the farm marketing excess, the producer shall have the burden of proof. The evidence presented by the applicant may be in the form of written statements or other documentary evidence or of oral testimony in a hearing before the county committee during its consideration of the application. In order to expedite the consideration of applications, the county committee shall receive, in advance of the time fixed for consideration of the application, any written statement or documentary evidence offered by or on behalf of the applicant, and the application may be disposed of upon the basis of such statement or evidence, together with other information bearing on or establishing the facts, which is available to the county committee, unless the applicant appears before the county committee at the time fixed for considering the application and requests a hearing for the purpose of offering additional documentary evidence or oral testimony in support of the application. Every such hearing shall be open to the public. The county committee shall make its determination in connection with each application not later than five calendar days next succeeding the day on which the consideration of the application was concluded. The determination of the county committee shall be in writing and shall contain (1) a concise statement of the grounds upon which the applicant sought an adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess, (2) a concise statement of the findings of the county committee upon the question of fact, and (3) the determination of the county committee as to the farm marketing quota, the actual production of cotton on the farm, the farm marketing excess, and the penalty due on the farm marketing excess. A notice showing the result of the determination made as of aforesaid, shall be mailed to the operator of the farm and also to the applicant if he is not such operator.

§ 722.653 Publication of the farm acreage allotment, normal yield, marketing quota, and marketing excess. A record of the farm acreage allotment, normal yield, farm marketing quota, and farm marketing excess established for farms in the county shall be made available for public inspection in the county office for a period of not less than 30 calendar days. The records containing the information shall be kept where the public may freely examine them. At the end of the 30-day period the records shall be filed in the county office and remain available for further inspection upon request. There may be used for this purpose listing sheets, copies of notices, or other compilations upon which the pertinent data are shown.

§ 722.654 Marketing quotas not transferable. A farm marketing quota established for a farm may not be assigned or otherwise transferred in whole or in part to any other farm. Under sections 345 and 347 of the act, farm marketing quotas are established for the 1955 crops of both upland and extra long staple cotton. The farm marketing quota established under the provisions of §§ 722.648 to 722.656 for the 1955 crop of upland cotton may not be used in whole or in part in connection with the marketing of extra long staple cotton produced in 1955 or a prior crop year.

§ 722.655 Successors-in-interest. Any person who succeeds to the interest of a producer in a farm, or in a cotton crop produced on a farm, for which a farm marketing quota and a farm marketing excess were established, shall, to the same extent as his predecessor, be entitled to all the rights and privileges incident to such marketing quota and marketing excess and be subject to the penalty on the farm marketing excess and to the lien on the entire crop of cotton and to the restrictions on the marketing of cotton.

§ 722.656 Review of quotas—(a) Right to review by review committee. Any producer on a farm with a farm marketing excess who is dissatisfied with the farm marketing quota or the farm marketing excess may, within 15 calendar days after the notice of the farm marketing excess is mailed to him, apply in writing for a review by a review committee of any such determination: Provided, That if a review hearing has been held and a determination made by a review committee with respect to the farm acreage allotment no further review by a review committee shall be made with respect thereto: Provided further, That any application for review which is based on the county committee's determination as contained in the notice issued pursuant to § 722.652 (b), shall be limited to a review of the actual production of cotton on the farm. Unless application for review is made within the 15-day period provided for in this paragraph, the determination of the county committee shall be final as to the producers on the farm. Application for review and the review committee proceedings shall be in accordance with the review regulations (MQ–51, §§ 711.1 to 711.34 of this chapter), as issued by the Secretary.

(b) Court review. If the producer is dissatisfied with the determination of the review committee, he may, within 15 days after notice of such determination is mailed to him by registered mail, institute proceedings against the review committee to have the determination of the review committee reviewed by a court in accordance with section 365 of the act.

MARKETING CARDS, MARKETING CERTIFICATES AND LOAN DOCUMENTS

§ 722.657 Eligibility for and issuance of marketing cards—(a) Producers eligible to receive marketing cards. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the operator and any other producer on a farm shall be eligible to receive a marketing card (Form MQ–76–Upland Cotton (1955)), if (1) no farm marketing excess is determined for the farm, or (2) an amount equal to the penalty on the farm marketing excess has been received by the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the farm is located, except that a marketing card shall not be issued under subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph if any producer on the farm has on hand any cotton produced in 1950 or in 1954 on which the penalty was incurred and has not been paid.

(b) Multiple farm producers eligible to receive marketing cards. Any person who is a cotton producer on more than one farm in a county shall not be eligible to receive a marketing card for any such farm in the county until, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, he is eligible to receive a marketing card for each of such farms. Any other producers on a farm who are eligible to receive marketing cards pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section shall receive marketing cards with respect to the farm notwithstanding the ineligibility of the multiple farm producer, unless the county committee determines that, in order to enforce the provisions of the act, such producers, including the multiple farm producer, should not receive marketing cards for such farm with no farm marketing excess. Where a producer is engaged in the production of cotton in more than one county (in the same State or two or more States), the procedure outlined in this section for issuing marketing cards for multiple farms in a county may be followed with respect to all such farms, wherever situated, if the county committees of the respective counties so decide, or if the State committee has reason to believe that the procedure would be necessary to enforce the provisions of the act. The State committee may require any multiple farm producer to file with it a list of all farms on which he is engaged in the production of cotton, together with any other information deemed necessary to enforce the provisions of the act.

(c) Producers to whom marketing cards will not be issued to enforce the provisions of the act. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the county committee shall deny any producer a marketing card if it determines that such action is necessary to enforce the provisions of the act.

(d) Preparation and issuance of marketing cards. A marketing card shall be issued to the operator of the farm if he is eligible to receive it under the foregoing provisions of this section and, if the county committee or the county office manager determines that it will serve a useful purpose, marketing cards shall also be issued to the other eligible producers on the farm. Each marketing card when completed shall be serially numbered and shall show: (1) The names of the county and State and the serial number of the farm, (2) the name and address of the farm operator, (3) the name and address of the producer to whom issued, (4) the signature of a member of the county committee or the county office manager and the signature of the producer, (5) the farm acreage allotment and the acreage planted to cotton, and (6) such additonal information and data as may be prescribed by the Deputy Administrator. The county office manager may designate not more than three persons to sign his name in issuing marketing cards: Provided, That each person so designated shall place his initials immediately beneath the name of the county office manager as written by him or stamped on the card. Where the producer designates an agent to use his marketing card, the card shall also show: (1) The name and address of the agent authorized to use the marketing card and (2) the signatures of the producer and the agent.

§ 722.658 Marketing certificates and loan documents—(a) Use of marketing certificates. The county committee shall issue to a producer upon his request a marketing certificate (Form MQ–91–Cotton (Upland)) to permit the marketing of cotton (1) by any such producer (i) who is eligible to receive a marketing card and who desires to market cotton by telegraph, telephone, mail, or by any other means or method other than directly to and in the presence of the buyer or transferee; (ii) who is not engaged in the production of cotton in the 1955 crop year and who desires to market cotton which he has on hand from any prior crop, except cotton from the 1950 and 1954 crops on which the penalty was incurred and has not been paid; (iii) who has an interest as a cotton producer in the 1955 crop and who desires to market cotton which he has on hand from any prior crop, except cotton from the 1950 and 1954 crops on which the penalty was incurred and has not been paid; (iv) who desires to market cotton produced by him on a farm with no farm marketing excess but he is not eligible to receive a marketing card under § 722.657 (b) because he or another producer on such farm is also a cotton producer on a farm with a farm marketing excess; and (v) who desires to market his share of the cotton produced on a farm with no farm marketing excess or on a farm on which the penalty on the farm marketing excess has been paid but he was denied a marketing card by the county committee because it deemed such action necessary to enforce the provisions of the act, and (2) any other producer who has cotton not subject to the penalty or on which the penalty has been paid and such producer is not eligible to receive a marketing card or does not have a loan document as prescribed in § 722.664. The county committee, with the approval of the State committee, may issue marketing certificates for a farm in a total amount for the 1955 crop not exceeding the product of the farm acreage allotment multiplied by the smaller of the normal yield per acre or the estimated actual yield per acre, in instances where the acreage planted to cotton on the farm in 1955 has not been determined through no fault of the operator and he, in applying for such certificates, certifies that he has cotton from the 1955 crop available for marketing and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the acreage planted to cotton on the farm does not exceed the farm acreage allotment.

(b) Preparation and delivery of marketing certificates. Each marketing certificate shall show (1) the name and address of the producer to whom issued, (2) the names of the county and State and the serial number of the farm, if any, (3) the serial number of the 1955 marketing card issued for the farm, where applicable, (4) the description and amount of the cotton to be marketed, (5) the signature of the producer and the date thereof, and (6) the signature of a member of the county committee or the county office manager and the date thereof. The county committee shall estimate or otherwise determine the actual production on each farm for which a marketing card has not been issued and for which marketing certificates are to be issued, and certificates shall not be issued for marketings in excess of such production. The "buyer's copy", "producer's copy", and "county office copy" of the marketing certificate shall be delivered to the producer to whom issued, and such producer, upon marketing the cotton described in the marketing certificate, shall deliver all such copies to the buyer.

(c) Use of loan documents in lieu of marketing certificates to identify carry-over CCC loan cotton. Any producer who desires to sell his equity in carry-over cotton which is pledged as collateral security for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or to sell carry-over cotton on which such a loan has been repaid may, as provided in § 722.664, identify such cotton as being penalty-free by presenting to the buyer or transferee thereof a loan document covering such cotton, and the buyer or transferee shall accept such document as evidence to him that the cotton described therein is not subject to the penalty or the lien for the penalty.

§ 722.659 Lost, destroyed, or stolen marketing cards or marketing certificates—(a) Report of loss, destruction, or theft. In case a marketing card or marketing certificate delivered to a producer is lost, destroyed, or stolen, any person having knowledge thereof shall, insofar as he is able, immediately notify the county committee of the following: (1) The name of the producer to whom the marketing card or certificate was issued; (2) the serial number of the marketing card or certificate; and (3) whether in his knowledge or judgment it was lost, destroyed, or stolen and by whom.

(b) Investigation and findings of county committee. The county committee shall make or cause to be made a thorough investigation of the circumstances of such loss, destruction, or theft. If it is found that such marketing card or marketing certificate was in fact lost, destroyed or stolen, such marketing card or certificate shall be cancelled and a notice in writing to that effect shall be signed by the county office manager and mailed to the producer to whom the marketing card or certificate was issued at his last known address. If it is found that there has been no collusion or connivance in conection therewith on the part of the producer to or for whom the marketing card or certificate was issued, a marketing card or certificate shall be issued to him to replace the lost, destroyed, or stolen marketing card or certificate. Each marketing card or certificate issued under this section shall bear across its face in bold letters the word "Duplicate." In case a marketing card or certificate is cancelled, as provided in this section, the county office manager shall immediately notify the ginners and buyers in the county, or in the immediate vicinity, that the marketing card or certificate has been cancelled and that a duplicate has been issued. A report of the findings and action of the county office manager shall be kept among the county office records. Any ginner or buyer or any other person coming into possession or control of a marketing card or certificate which has been cancelled shall immediately return it to the county office which issued it.

§ 722.660 Cancellation of marketing cards and marketing certificates issued in error. In the event any marketing card or marketing certificate was erroneously issued, the producer to whom it was issued shall be requested to return it to the county office and upon its being returned it shall be cancelled by the county office manager by endorsing thereon in bold letters the word "Cancelled." Without awaiting its return the county office manager shall notify the producer by registered mail at his last known address that it is void and of no effect. A copy of the notice, containing a notation thereon of the date of mailing, shall be kept among the records of the county office. The county committee or county office manager shall notify the ginners and buyers in the county, or in the immediate vicinity, that the marketing card or certificate has been cancelled.

IDENTIFICATION OF COTTON

§ 722.661 Time and manner of identification. Each producer of cotton shall, at the time he markets any cotton, identify the cotton to the buyer or transferee, in the manner hereinafter provided, as being subject to or not subject to the penalty provided in § 722.666 and the lien for the penalty as provided in § 722.667.

§ 722.662 Identification by marketing card. A marketing card (Form MQ–76—Upland Cotton (1955)) shall, when presented to the buyer or transferee by the producer to whom issued, be evidence to the buyer or transferee that the cotton produced on the farm for which the marketing card was issued may be purchased by him without collection, deduction, or payment of the penalty, and that such cotton is not subject to the lien for the penalty.

§ 722.663 Identification by marketing certificate. A marketing certificate (Form MQ–91—Cotton (Upland)) shall, when presented to the buyer or transferee by the producer to whom it was issued, be evidence to the buyer or transferee that the cotton described on such certificate may be purchased by him without the collection, deduction, or payment of the penalty, and that such cotton is not subject to the lien for the penalty.

§ 722.664 Identification by loan document. A loan document (the original or the producer's copy) shall, when presented to the buyer or transferee by the producer in whose favor it is drawn, be evidence to the buyer or transferee that the carry-over cotton described in such loan document may be purchased by him without the collection, deduction, or payment of the penalty, and that such cotton is not subject to the lien for the penalty. Any one of the following forms shall constitute a "loan document" for purposes of the foregoing provisions of this paragraph: Cotton Producer's Note and Loan Agreement (CCC Cotton Form A); Producer's Loan Statement—A; or Producer's Warranty and Agreement (CCC Cotton Form G–2).

§ 722.665 Cotton not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate or loan document. All cotton marketed by a producer which is not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document, as provided in §§ 722.662, 722.663, or 722.664, shall be taken by the buyer or transferee thereof as cotton subject to the penalty prescribed in § 722.666 and to the lien for the penalty. The buyer or transferee of such unidentified cotton shall collect the penalty from the producer or deduct it from the purchase price of the cotton. The buyer or transferee shall report the purchase of all such unidentified cotton on Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland) and remit the penalty collected or deducted to the treasurer of the county committee.

PENALTY

§ 722.666 Rate of penalty. The rate of the penalty for lint cotton is 50 percent of the parity price for cotton as of June 15, 1955, as provided in section 346 (a) of the act. (This section will be amended to include the exact rate of the penalty when such parity price becomes available.)

§ 722.668 Interest on unremitted penalty. The person liable for the payment or collection of the penalty shall be liable also for interest on the amount of penalty which is not remitted in accordance with § 722.669 (b) or § 722.670 (c), as the case may be, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the final date for remitting the penalty until the date such penalty is remitted. The computation of interest on any penalty due shall be made beginning with the day following the final date for remitting the penalty.

§ 722.669 Payment of penalty by producers—(a) Producers liable for payment of penalty. Each producer having an interest in the 1955 crop of cotton on any farm for which a farm marketing excess has been determined shall be liable to pay the entire amount of the penalty on the farm marketing excess. The amount of the penalty which any producer shall pay shall nevertheless be reduced by the amount of the penalty which is paid by another producer or a buyer of cotton produced on the farm.

(b) Time when penalty becomes due and payable. The farm marketing excess for a farm shall be regarded as available for marketing and the penalty thereon shall become due at the time any cotton produced on the farm is harvested. The amount of the penalty on the farm marketing excess for any farm shall be remitted on the date it becomes due or not later than March 15, 1956: Provided, however, That the penalty on any bale or lot of cotton marketed (1) from a farm for which the penalty on the farm marketing excess has not been paid or (2) without being properly identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document as provided in § 722.662, 722.663, or 722.664, shall be due on the date of such marketing and shall be remitted not later than seven calendar days next succeeding the end of the calendar week in which the cotton was marketed.

(c) Apportionment of the penalty. The county committee may, upon application of any producer made prior to the expiration of the time allowed for remitting the penalty on the farm marketing excess, determine his proportionate share of the penalty on the farm marketing excess if, pursuant to the application, the producer establishes that he is unable to arrange with other producers on the farm for the payment of the penalty on the entire farm marketing excess, that his share of the cotton crop produced on the farm is marketed by him separately, and that he exercises no control over the marketing of the shares of the other producers in the cotton crop. The producer's proportionate share of the penalty on the farm marketing excess shall be that proportion of the entire penalty on the farm marketing excess which his share in the cotton produced in 1955 on the farm bears to the total amount of cotton produced in 1955 on the farm. When the producer pays his proportionate share of the penalty, he shall not be liable for the remainder of the penalty on the farm marketing excess and he shall be entitled to receive a marketing certificate, issued in accordance with § 722.658, to be used by him only in the marketing of his proportionate share of the cotton crop produced in 1955 on the farm.

§ 722.670 Payment of penalty by buyers and transferees—(a) Buyers and transferees liable for payment of penalty. Each person within the United States who buys or acquires from the producer any cotton subject to the lien for the penalty shall be liable for and shall pay the penalty thereon. Cotton shall be taken as subject to the lien for the penalty unless the producer presents to the buyer or transferee a marketing card (Form MQ–76—Upland Cotton (1955)), a marketing certificate (Form MQ–91—Cotton (Upland)), or a loan document, as provided in §§ 722.662, 722.663 and 722.664.

(b) Payment of penalty on account of lien for the penalty. Each person within the United States who buys or acquires cotton from the producer which is subject to the lien for the penalty shall pay the amount of the penalty on each pound thereof in satisfaction of the lien thereon.

(c) Time when penalty becomes due. The penalty to be paid by any buyer or transferee pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall become due at the time the cotton is marketed and shall be remitted not later than seven calendar days next succeeding the end of the calendar week in which the cotton was marketed. Cotton shall be deemed to be sold when either title to or actual or constructive possession of the cotton is delivered by or on behalf of the producer or any part of the purchase price is paid. Cotton shall be deemed to have been marketed by barter or exchange when it is delivered to the transferee of the cotton by actual or constructive delivery or the transferor has received any part of the property, goods, or services for which the cotton is being bartered or exchanged. Cotton shall be deemed to have been marketed by gift inter vivos when there is an actual or constructive delivery of the cotton to the transferee during the lifetime of the producer. Cotton shall be deemed to have been marketed in processed form when the producer, or some person on his behalf, converts cotton into an article of trade and thereby causes the cotton to lose its identity as seed cotton or lint cotton. An article of trade within the meaning of this provision is any article made in whole or in part from cotton for the purpose of marketing such article.

(d) Manner of deducting penalty and issuance of receipts. The buyer may deduct from the price paid for any cotton an amount equivalent to the amount of the penalty to be paid by the buyer pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. Any buyer who deducts an amount equivalent to the penalty shall issue to the person from whom the cotton was purchased a receipt for the amount so deducted which shall be on Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland).

§ 722.671 Remittance of penalty to the treasurer of the county committee. The treasurer of the county committee, for and on behalf of the Secretary, shall receive the penalty and any interest due thereon and issue a receipt therefor to the person remitting the penalty. The penalty and interest shall be remitted only in legal tender, or by check, draft, or money order drawn payable to the order of the Treasurer of the United States. All checks, drafts, or money orders tendered in payment of the penalty and interest shall be received by the treasurer of the county committee subject to collection and payment at par, and the receipt issued in connection therewith shall bear a notation to that effect and a description of the check, draft, or money order.

§ 722.672 Deposit of funds. All funds received by the treasurer of the county committee in connection with penalties for cotton shall be scheduled and transmitted by him on the day received, or not later than the morning of the next succeeding business day, to the State committee, which, in accordance with applicable instructions, shall cause such funds to be deposited to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States. In the event the funds so received are in the form of cash, the treasurer of the county committee shall deposit such cash in the county committee bank account and issue a check in the amount thereof payable to the Treasurer of the United States and transmit such check to the State committee. The treasurer of the county committee shall make and keep a record of each amount received by him, showing the name of the person who remitted the funds, the identification of the farm or farms for which the funds were remitted, and the names of the persons who marketed the cotton in connection with which the funds were remitted.

§ 722.673 Refunds of money in excess of the penalty—(a) Determination of refunds. The county committee and the treasurer of the county committee, upon their own motion or upon the request of any interested person, shall review the amount of money received in connection with the penalty for any farm to determine for each producer the amount thereof, if any, which is in excess of the penalty incurred. The excess amount shall be refunded. Any refund shall be made only to persons who bore the burden of the payment and who have not been reimbursed therefor. The excess sum shall be first applied, insofar as the sum will permit, so as to make refunds to eligible persons other than producers and the remainder, if any, shall be applied so as to make refunds to the eligible producers. The amount to be refunded to each producer shall be either (1) the amount agreed upon in writing by each and every cotton producer on the farm or (2) in the event that such producers cannot agree to the division of such refund or if all of the producers on the farm are not available to apply for such refund, the amount determined by apportioning the excess among all of the producers on the farm on the basis of the amount of the penalty borne by each producer, as determined by the county committee. No refund shall be made to any buyer or transferee of any amount which he collected from the producer, deducted from the price or other consideration for the cotton, or for which he was liable.

(b) Certification of refunds. A member of the county committee, or the treasurer of the county committee, shall notify the State committee of the amount which the county committee determines may be refunded to each person with respect to the farm, and the State committee shall cause to be certified to the appropriate Disbursing Officer of the Treasury Department for payment such amounts as are approved by it. No refund of money shall be certified under this section unless the money has been collected and transmitted to the State committee but has not been covered into the general fund of the Treasury of the United States.

§ 722.674 Refund of penalty erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected. Whenever, pursuant to a claim filed with the Secretary within the time prescribed in section 372 of the act after payment to him of the penalty collected from any person pursuant to the act, the Secretary finds that the penalty was erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected, he shall certify to the Secretary of the Treasury for payment to the claimant, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, such amount as the Secretary finds the claimant is entitled to receive as a refund of penalty. Any claim filed pursuant to this section shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

§ 722.675 Report of violations and court proceedings to collect penalty. It shall be the duty of the county office manager to report in writing to the State administrative officer each case of failure or refusal to pay the penalty or to remit the same as provided in §§ 722.642 to 722.688 to the Secretary when collected. It shall be the duty of the State administrative officer to report each such case in writing to the Office of the General Counsel of the United States Department of Agriculture, in accordance with instructions issued by the Deputy Administrator, with a view to the institution of proceedings by the United States Attorney for the appropriate district, under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, to collect the penalties, as provided in section 376 of the act.

RECORDS AND REPORTS

§ 722.676 Records to be kept and reports to be made by ginners—(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each ginner shall, in conformity with section 373 (a) of the act, keep the records and make the reports the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to cotton, the provisions of the act.

(b) Nature and availability of records. Each ginner shall keep, as part of or in addition to the records maintained by him in the conduct of his business, a record which shall show with respect to each bale of cotton, and each lot of cotton less than a bale, ginned by him the following information: (1) The date of ginning; (2) the name of the operator of the farm on which the cotton was produced; (3) the name of the producer of the cotton; (4) the county and State in which the farm on which the cotton was produced is located; (5) the gin bale number or mark; (6) the serial number of the gin ticket or receipt prepared or issued by the ginner for the bale of cotton and for the lot of cotton less than a bale; (7) the gross weight of each bale of cotton and the net weight of each lot of lint cotton less than a bale; and (8) the kind of bagging and ties used on each bale. The records so made shall be kept available for examination and inspection by the Secretary, or by any authorized representative of the Secretary, until December 31, 1957, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept pursuant to §§ 722.642 to 722.688, or of obtaining the information required to be furnished in any report pursuant to §§ 722.642 to 722.688, but not so furnished. Such records shall be kept for such longer period of time as may be requested in writing by the Director.

(c) Requests for reports. Each ginner, upon written request of the State committee or county committee, shall make a report showing the information provided for in this section, or any part thereof as specified in the request, with respect to cotton ginned for the person or persons specified in the request or for the period of time specified in the request. This report shall be filed not later than the date designated by the State committee or county committee in the written request for such report.

(d) Manner of submitting reports. The treasurer of the county committee designated in the request for such report, or his successor in office, is hereby authorized and empowered to receive each such report, on behalf of the Secretary. Each report shall be mailed or delivered directly to the said treasurer.

(e) Penalty for failure or refusal to keep records or make reports. Any person engaged in the business of ginning cotton who fails to keep any record or make any report as required by this section or who makes any false report or false record shall, as provided for in section 373 (a) of the act, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense.

§ 722.677 Records to be kept and reports to be made by buyers—(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each person who buys seed cotton or lint cotton from the producer thereof shall, in conformity with section 373 (a) of the act, keep the records and make the reports the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to cotton, the provisions of the act.

(b) Nature of and availability of records. Each buyer shall keep, as a part of or in addition to the records maintained by him in the conduct of his business, a record which shall show with respect to each bale of cotton, and each lot of cotton less than a bale, which is purchased by him from the producer thereof the following information: (1) The name and address of the producer from whom the cotton was purchased; (2) the date on which the cotton was purchased; (3) the original gin bale number or, if there is no gin bale number, the gin bale mark or other information showing the origin or source of the cotton and, in the case of seed cotton purchased, the number of pounds of seed cottor and the known or estimated amount of lint in such seed cotton; (4) the number of pounds of lint cotton in each bale, and each lot of cotton less than a bale, purchased from the producer; (5) the amount of any penalty required to be collected under §§ 722.642 to 722.688 and the amount of penalty collected in connection with the cotton purchased from the producer; and (6) the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate or a brief description of the loan document by which the cotton was identified when marketed (if a loan number appears on the loan document, the buyer shall keep a record of such number and the crop year; otherwise, the buyer shall keep a record of the form number of the CCC loan document and the date of the loan). It shall be presumed that the cotton was not identified in the manner provided in §§ 722.642 to 722.688 if the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate or a brief description of the loan document does not appear on the records required by this paragraph. The record so made shall be kept available for examination and inspection by the Secretary, or by any authorized representative of the Secretary, until December 31, 1957, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept pursuant to §§ 722.642 to 722.688, or of obtaining the information required to be furnished in any report pursuant to §§ 722.642 to 722.688 but not so furnished. Such records shall be kept for such longer period of time as may be requested in writing by the Director. The county committee shall, upon the request of any buyer, furnish to him without cost blank copies of Form MQ–100–Cotton (Upland) which may be used by him for the purpose of keeping the records required pursuant to this paragraph.

(c) Reports in connection with cotton not identified by marketing cards, marketing certificates, or loan documents. The buyer of cotton which is not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document, as provided in §§ 722.662, 722.663, and 722. 664, when marketed shall, with respect to each purchase, make a written report on Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland) of the following information (1) The name and address of the producer from whom the cotton was purchased; (2) the date on which the cotton was purchased; (3) the original gin bale number or, if there is no gin bale number, the gin bale mark or other information showing the origin or source of the cotton; (4) the net weight of each bale of cotton, and of each lot of lint cotton less than a bale; and (5) the amount of the penalty collected in connection with the cotton purchased. The report shall be prepared and executed in triplicate; the "Producer's copy shall be delivered to the producer, the "Buyer's copy" shall be retained by the buyer, and the buyer shall mail or deliver the "County office copy" to the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which such cotton was produced.

(d) Reports in connection with cotton identified by marketing certificates. The buyer of cotton which is identified when marketed by a marketing certificate, Form MQ–91—Cotton (Upland), as provided in § 722.663, shall make a report in connection with the transaction by executing the certificate in triplicate and by mailing or delivering the "County office copy" to the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which such certificate was issued. The "Buyer's copy" shall be retained by the buyer and the "Producer's copy" shall be delivered to the producer to whom such certificate was issued. The manner in which the marketing certificate shall be executed and distributed, in case the marketing is to a buyer not within the United States, is provided for in § 722.680 (b).

(e) Receipts to producers for penalties. Where the cotton is not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document at the time of marketing the "Producer's copy" of the executed Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland) shall be the receipt from the buyer to the producer for the penalty collected. The buyer shall report the giving of each such receipt to the producer by forwarding the "County office copy" of Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland) to the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which such cotton was produced, as provided in paragraph (c) of this section.

(f) Time for making reports. Each report required by the foregoing provisions of this section shall be made not later than seven calendar days next succeeding the end of the calendar week in which the cotton covered thereby was marketed.

(g) Buyer's record and report. In the event the county committee, or the State committee, has reason to believe that any buyer failed or refused to collect or to remit the penalty required to be collected by him for any cotton which he purchased, or otherwise in any manner failed or refused to comply with §§ 722.642 to 722.688, the buyer shall, within fifteen days after a written request therefor by such committee is sent to him by registered mail at his last-known address, make a report verified as true and correct on Form MQ–100—Cotton (Upland) to such committee with respect to cotton purchased or acquired by him from the person or persons specified in the request or purchased or acquired by him during the period of time specified in the request. Such report shall include the following information for each bale of cotton, and each lot of cotton less than a bale, purchased by such buyer: (1) The name and address of the producer from whom the cotton was purchased; (2) the date on which the cotton was purchased; (3) the original gin bale number, or if there is no gin bale number, the gin bale mark or other information showing the origin or source of the cotton and, in the case of cotton purchased in the seed, the number of pounds of seed cotton and the known or estimated amount of lint in such seed cotton; (4) the number of pounds of lint cotton in each bale, and in each lot of cotton less than a bale, purchased from the producer; (5) the amount of penalty required to be collected under §§ 722.642 to 722.688 and the amount of any penalty collected in connection with the cotton purchased from the producer; and (6) the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate or a brief description of the loan document by which the cotton was identified when marketed (if the cotton was identified by a loan document when marketed, enter the loan number and the crop year or the form number of the CCC loan document and the date of the loan.)

(h) Manner of submitting reports. The treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the cotton covered by the report was produced, or his successor in office is hereby authorized and empowered to receive, for and on behalf of the Secretary, each report required pursuant to this section. Each report shall be mailed or delivered directly to the said treasurer. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this paragraph, each report on Form MQ–82—Cotton (Upland) in connection with the purchase of cotton marketed without the use of the means of identification provided by §§ 722.642 to 722.688 may be mailed or delivered directly to the treasurer of the county committee from whom the unexecuted copy of the form was obtained.

(i) Penalty for failure or refusal to keep records or make reports. Any person engaged in the business of purchasing cotton from producers who fails to keep any records or make any report as required by this section or who makes any false report or false record shall, as provided for in section 373 (a) of the act, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense.

§ 722.678 Records to be kept and reports to be made by transferees. Each transferee who acquires seed cotton or lint cotton from the producer thereof shall keep the same records and make the same reports which are required to be kept and made by buyers pursuant to § 722.677. Also, transferees shall execute applicable certificates which are necessary to enable the producer to keep the records and make the reports required of him.

§ 722.679 Records to be kept by warehousemen and others. Each warehouseman, processor (including compressor), common carrier, and other person, as defined in section 373 (a) of the act, who buys, stores, processes (including compressing), transports as a common carrier, or otherwise deals with cotton from, for, or on behalf of the producer thereof shall make available for examination and inspection by the Secretary, or by any authorized representative of the Secretary, the records kept in his business concerning such cotton, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept pursuant to §§ 722.642 to 722.688 or of obtaining the information required to be furnished in any report pursuant to §§ 722.642 to 722.688 but not so furnished. The Secretary, in conformity with section 373 (a) of the act, hereby finds such records to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to cotton, the provisions of the act.

§ 722.680 Records to be kept and reports to be made by producers—(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each person who produces in 1955, or who produced in any previous year, cotton which is subject to the provisions of §§ 722.642 to 722.688, shall, in conformity with section 373 (b) of the act, keep the records and make the reports prescribed by this section, which records and reports the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to cotton, the provisions of the act.

(b) Cotton marketed to persons not within the United States. In each case where cotton for which a marketing certificate has been issued pursuant to § 722.658 is marketed to any person not within the United States, the producer shall enter the name and address of the buyer or transferee and indicate in the space provided for the signature of the buyer or transferee on each copy of the marketing certificate that such person is not within the United States. The producer shall retain the "Producer's copy" of the certificate and the "County office copy" and the "Buyer's copy" shall be mailed or delivered by such producer to the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the certificate was issued not later than 15 calendar days next succeeding the day on which the cotton was marketed.

(c) Farm operator's report. The operator of the farm shall file with the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the farm is located a farm operator's report on Form MQ–98—Cotton (Upland) in the following cases: (1) Where the producer is making an application for a downward adjustment in the farm marketing excess pursuant to § 722.652, except that the county committee may waive this requirement in case it determines that the evidence otherwise submitted by the producer is satisfactory evidence of the actual production of cotton on the farm in 1955; (2) where a farm marketing excess is determined for the farm but an application for downward adjustment in the farm marketing excess has not been filed and the county committee or the State committee requests the report in writing; and (3) where a farm marketing excess is not established but the State committee or the county committee determines that a farm operator's report is necessary for proper administration of §§ 722.642 to 722.688 and requests such report in writing. Upon written request by the county committee or by the State committee for a farm operator's report on Form MQ–98—Cotton (Upland), the operator of the farm shall make the report in the manner specified in this paragraph not later than the date designated by such committee in its request. Form MQ–98—Cotton (Upland) shall show for the farm the following information or any part thereof as specified in such request: (i) The date harvesting of the 1955 crop of cotton was completed on the farm, the date of the last ginning of cotton produced on the farm in 1955, and the acreage planted to cotton on the farm; (ii) the total number of pounds of lint cotton ginned from the 1955 crop of cotton; (iii) the name and address of each ginner who ginned such cotton and the number of and net weight of bales or lots less than a bale ginned by him; (iv) the total amount of seed cotton of the 1955 crop marketed; (v) the total amount of 1955 crop lint cotton marketed; (vi) the amount of unmarketed cotton of the 1955 crop on hand; (vii) the total number of pounds of lint cotton produced in the 1955 crop year; (viii) the name and address of each buyer or transferee of 1955 crop lint or seed cotton and the amount thereof marketed to him; and (ix) the amount of penalty paid by the producer or collected by the buyer or transferee.

§ 722.681 Data to be kept confidential. Except as otherwise provided herein all data reported to or acquired by the Secretary pursuant to and in the manner provided in §§ 722.642 to 722.688 shall be kept confidential by all officers and employees of the United States Department of Agriculture, members of county committees and State committees, county agents, and the employees of such committees and county agents' offices, and shall not be disclosed to anyone not having an interest in or responsibility for any cotton, farm, or transaction covered by the particular data, record, information, report, or form; and only such data so reported or acquired as the Secretary deems relevant shall be disclosed by them to anyone not having such an interest or not being employed in the administration of the act and then only in a suit or administrative hearing under the provisions of the act.

§ 722.682 Enforcement. It shall be the duty of the county office manager to report in writing in quadruplicate to the State administrative officer each case of failure or refusal to make any report or keep any record as required by §§ 722.642 to 722.688 and so to report each case of making any false report or record. It shall be the duty of the State administrative officer to report each such case in writing, in triplicate, to the Office of the General Counsel of the United States Department of Agriculture, in accordance with instructions issued by the Deputy Administrator, with a view to the institution of proceedings by the United States Attorney for the appropriate district, under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, to enforce the provisions of the act.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS AND EXCEPTIONS

§ 722.683 Cotton produced by publicly-owned agricultural experiment stations—(a) Conditions of exemption. The penalty shall not apply to the marketing of any cotton of the 1955 crop grown for experimental purposes only on land owned or leased by a publicly-owned agricultural experiment station and produced at public expense by employees of the experiment station, or to cotton produced by farmers pursuant to an agreement with a publicly-owned experiment station whereby the experiment station bears the costs and risks incident to the production of the cotton and the proceeds from the crop inure to the benefit of the experiment station: Provided, That such agreement is approved by the State committee prior to the issuance of a marketing card for the farm.

(b) Issuing marketing cards. The county office manager shall, upon the written application of a responsible executive officer of any publicly-owned agricultural experiment station to which the exemption referred to in paragraph (a) of this section is applicable, issue a marketing card for the experiment station in the manner and subject to the conditions specified in §§ 722.657 to 722.660 inclusive.

§ 722.684 Erroneous notice of cotton acreage allotment. In any case where through error the producer is officially notified in writing of a farm acreage allotment larger that the finally approved farm acreage allotment and it is found by the county committee that such producer, acting solely on the information contained in the erroneous notice, planted an acreage to cotton in excess of the finally approved farm acreage allotment, the producer will not be considered to have exceeded the farm acreage allotment unless he planted an acreage in excess of the allotment shown on the erroneous notice. The determination by the county committee under this section shall be subject to the approval of the State committee. The acreage planted to cotton on the farm in excess of the finally approved allotment shall be considered as excess acreage for purposes of § 722.685.

§ 722.686 Availability of records. The State and county committees shall make available for inspection by owners or operators of farms receiving cotton acreage allotments all records pertaining to cotton acreage allotments and marketing quotas.

§ 722.687 Designation of representatives of the Secretary to examine records—(a) Designation of representatives. In order to carry out the provisions of §§ 722.676, 722.677, 722.678, and 722.679, relating to the examination of records, the Deputy Administrator is hereby authorized and directed to designate in writing, with the counter signature of the State administrative officer, an appropriate number of persons from the officers or employees of the Department of Agriculture to act as the authorized representatives of the Secretary for the purposes of said provisions.

(b) Proof of designation. Each person designated pursuant to this section shall be furnished with a copy of his designation.

(c) Authorization to administer oaths. Each person designated pursuant to this section to act as the authorized representative of the Secretary is hereby authorized and empowered, pursuant to the act of Congress approved January 31, 1925 (sec. 1, 43 Stat. 803; 5 U. S. C. 521), to administer to or take from any person an oath, affirmation, or affidavit whenever such oath, affirmation, or affidavit is for use in any prosecution or proceeding under or in the enforcement of the cotton marketing quota provisions of the act or §§ 722.642 to 722.688.

§ 722.688 Redelegation of authority. Any authority delegated to the State committee by §§ 722.642 to 722.688 may be redelegated by the State committee.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of these regulations have been approved by and subsequent reporting requirements will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 3d day of June 1955. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] TRUE D. MORSE,

AUTHORITY: §§ 722.1241 to 722.1289 issued under sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1375. Interpret or apply secs. 301, 342–347, 361–368, 372–376, 388; 52 Stat. 38, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1301, 1342–1347, 1361–1368, 1372–1376, 1388.

GENERAL

§ 722.1241 Basis and purpose. The provisions of §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 are issued pursuant to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended. These provisions govern the identification and measurement of farms; the amount, adjustment, and review of the farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess; the issuance of marketing cards and marketing certificates; the identification of extra long staple cotton which is marketed as being subject to or not subject to the penalty and lien for the penalty; the rate of the penalty and the manner in which penalties shall be paid by producers and buyers; the refunding of penalty overpayments; the records and reports required to be made by extra long staple cotton producers, ginners, buyers and others; and other miscellaneous provisions regarding the production and marketing of extra long staple cotton. The provisions apply (a) to extra long staple cotton produced in 1955, and (b) to extra long staple cotton produced in 1954 or any prior year which is marketed by producers during the 1955–56 marketing year. The provisions of §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 supplement the "Marketing Quota Regulations Relating to Apportionment of the National Acreage Allotment for the 1955 Crop of Extra Long Staple Cotton to States, Counties, and Farms", issued November 8, 1954 (19 F. R. 7253), as amended. In accordance with section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237), notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 23, 1955 (20 F. R. 2740) that the Secretary of Agriculture had under consideration the formulation and issuance of such provisions. The data, views, and recommendations submitted by interested persons have been duly considered within the limits of the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, in connection with the preparation of §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289.

§ 722.1242 Definitions. As used in §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 and in all forms and documents in connection therewith, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires, the following terms shall have the following meanings and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter genders and the singular shall include the plural number:

(a) "Act" means the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 and any amendments thereto heretofore or hereafter made.

(b) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, or the officer of the Department of Agriculture acting in his stead pursuant to delegated authority.

(c) "Deputy Administrator" means the Deputy Administrator for Production Adjustment, or Acting Deputy Administrator for Production Adjustment, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

(d) "Director" means the Director, or Acting Director, of the Cotton Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

(1) "Community committee" means the persons elected within a community as the community committee pursuant to the Secretary's regulations governing the selection and functions of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county and community committees (19 F. R. 3637), as amended.

(2) "County committee" means the persons elected within a county as the county committee pursuant to the Secretary's regulations governing the selection and functions of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county and community committees (19 F. R. 3637), as amended. In Puerto Rico the ASC Caribbean Area Committee shall, insofar as applicable, perform the functions of the county committee.

(3) "State committee" means the persons designated by the Secretary as the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. In Puerto Rico the ASC Caribbean Area Committee shall, insofar as applicable, perform the functions of the State committee.

(4) "Review committee" means the review committee appointed by the Secretary pursuant to section 363 of the act.

(f) "County office manager" means the person employed by the county committee to execute the policies of the county committee and to be responsible for the day-to-day operations of the office of the county committe, (hereinafter referred to as the "county office"), or the person acting in such capacity.

(g) "State administrative officer" means the person employed to execute the policies of the State committee and to be responsible for the day-to-day operations of the office of the State committee (hereinafter referred to as the "State office"), or the person acting in such capacity.

(h) "Treasurer of the county committee" means the county office manager or the person designated by him to act as treasurer of the county committee. In Puerto Rico the ASC Caribbean Area Committee shall designate one or more of the ASC employees to perform the duties and functions of treasurer of the county committee.

(i) "Person" means an individual, partnership, firm, joint-stock company, corporation, association, trust, estate, or other legal entity, or a State, political subdivision of a State, or any agency thereof, or the Federal Government, or any agency thereof. The term "person" shall include two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

(j) "Owner" or "landlord" means a person who owns farm land and rents such land to another person or who operates such land.

(k) "Cash tenant", "standing-rent tenant", or "fixed-rent tenant" means a person who rents land from another for a fixed amount of cash or a commodity to be paid as rent.

(l) "Share tenant" means a person other than a sharecropper who rents land from another person and pays as rent a share of the crops or the proceeds thereof.

(m) "Sharecropper" means a person who works a farm in whole or in part under the general supervision of the operator and is entitled to receive for his labor a share of the crops produced thereon or the proceeds thereof.

(n) "Operator" means the person who is in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations on the entire farm.

(o) "Farm" means all adjacent or nearby farm or range land under the same ownership which is operated by one person, including also:

(1) Any other adjacent or nearby farm or range land which the county committee, in accordance with instructions issued by the Deputy Administrator, determines is operated by the same person as part of the same unit in producing range livestock or with respect to the rotation of crops and with workstock, farm machinery, and labor substantially separate from that for any other lands; and

(2) Any field-rented tract (whether operated by the same or another person) which, together with any other land included in the farm, constitutes a unit with respect to the rotation of crops. A farm shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative area, as the case may be, in which the principal dwelling is situated, or if there is no dwelling thereon, it shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative area, as the case may be, in which the major portion of the farm is located.

(p) "Farm acreage allotment" means an acreage allotment established for extra long staple cotton for a farm under the "Marketing Quota Regulations Relating to Apportionment of the National Acreage Allotment for the 1955 Crop of Extra Long Staple Cotton to States, Counties, and Farms" (19 F. R. 7253), as amended.

(q) "Upland cotton" means any cotton other than extra long staple cotton.

(r) "Extra long staple cotton" means American-Egyptian, Sea Island, and Sealand cotton, and all other varieties of the Barbadense species, and any hybrid thereof, and any other cotton in which one or more of these varieties predominates.

(s) "Acreage planted to extra long staple cotton" means the acreage of land seeded to extra long staple cotton on the farm in 1955, excluding any acreage in excess of the allotment which (1) is destroyed by causes beyond the producer's control prior to the expiration of the period established under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for disposing of excess extra long staple cotton acreage, or (2) is disposed of not later than 20 days, or such longer period as is approved in writing by the county committee in accordance with § 722.1246 (c), after the original notice of the measured acreage of extra long staple cotton is mailed to the farm operator.

(t) "State and county code number" means the applicable numbers assigned by the Commodity Stabilization Service of the United States Department of Agriculture to each State and county for the purpose of identification.

(u) "Serial number of the farm" or "farm serial number" means the serial number assigned to the farm by the county committee for the purpose of identification.

(v) "Normal yield" for any county means the average yield per acre of extra long staple lint cotton for the county, adjusted for abnormal weather conditions, during the five calendar years immediately preceding the year in which such normal yield is determined. If for any year of such five-year period the data are not available or there was no actual yield, the yield for such year shall be appraised by taking into consideration the yields in years for which data are available, abnormal weather conditions, and the yields for such year in nearby counties in which the type of soil, topography, and farming practices are similar. If, because of drought, flood, insect pests, plant disease, or other uncontrollable natural cause, the yield in any year of such five-year period is less than 75 percent of the average (computed without regard to such year), such year shall be eliminated in calculating the normal yield per acre for the county. County normal yields for extra long staple cotton shall be determined by the Director. The normal yield determined for a county shall be kept readily available to the public in the county office, and the normal yield determined for each county in a State shall be kept readily available to the public in the State office.

(w) "Normal yield" for any farm means the average yield per acre of extra long staple lint cotton for the farm, adjusted for abnormal weather conditions, during the five calendar years, 1950, 1951, 1952, 1953, and 1954, except that if the normal yield is established after December 31, 1955, such normal yield shall be determined on the basis of the five calendar years immediately preceding the year in which such normal yield is determined. If for any such year data are not available or there was no actual yield, then the normal yield for the farm shall be appraised, in accordance with instructions issued by the Deputy Administrator, taking into consideration abnormal weather conditions, the normal yield for the county, and the yield in years for which data are available. The normal yield for a farm on which extra long staple cotton was not planted in 1952, 1953, or 1954 shall be that yield per acre which the county committee determines is normal for the farm as compared with other farms in the locality which are similar with respect to soil and other physical factors affecting the production of extra long staple cotton.

(y) "Actual production" of extra long staple cotton on the farm means the total number of pounds of extra long staple lint cotton determined to have been produced on the farm in 1955.

(z) "Actual yield" per acre means the number of pounds of extra long staple lint cotton determined by dividing the actual production of extra long staple cotton on the farm by the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton on the farm in 1955.

(aa) "Producer" means a person who, as owner or landlord (other than the landlord of a standing-rent tenant, fixed-rent tenant, or cash tenant), cash tenant, standing-rent tenant, fixed-rent tenant, share tenant, or sharecropper is entitled to all or a share of the 1955 crop of extra long staple cotton (or extra long staple cotton on hand from a prior crop) or of the proceeds thereof.

(bb) "Farm marketing quota" means an extra long staple cotton marketing quota established for the farm under § 722.1249.

(cc) "Farm marketing excess" means the amount of extra long staple cotton determined for any farm under § 722.1250 or § 722.1252, whichever is applicable.

(ff) "Penalty" means the penalty provided in section 347 (c) of the act and § 722.1266.

(gg) "Seed cotton" means the harvested fruit of the extra long staple cotton plant before ginning.

(hh) "Extra long staple lint cotton" means the fiber taken from seed cotton by ginning.

(ii) "Carry-over extra long staple cotton" means the unmarketed extra long staple cotton from the 1954 or any previous crop which the producer thereof has on hand.

(jj) "Ginning" means the process by which extra long staple lint cotton is removed from the cotton seed.

(kk) "Ginner" means a person engaged in the business of ginning extra long staple cotton.

(ll) "Gin bale number or mark" means the number entered on the bale tag or any other mark made or used by the ginner to identify a bale of extra long staple cotton.

(mm) "Warehouse receipt number" means the number on the warehouse receipt and on the warehouse bale tag used by the warehouseman to identify a bale of extra long staple cotton.

(nn) "Buyer" means a person who acquires extra long staple cotton from a producer by purchase. An agricultural cooperative association which makes purchase- and sale-agreements with producers, or marketing agreements under which the title to extra long staple cotton passes upon delivery of such cotton by the producer and the association is authorized to deal with such cotton as owner, shall be deemed to be a "buyer" with respect to any such cotton acquired pursuant to such an agreement which is subject to marketing quotas as provided in § 722.1248.

(oo) "Transferee" means a person who receives extra long staple cotton from a producer by barter, or exchange, or by gift inter vivos.

(pp) "Market" means to dispose of extra long staple cotton in raw or processed form by voluntary or involuntary sale, barter, or exchange, or by gift inter vivos.

(1) The term "sale" means any transfer of title to extra long staple cotton by a producer to another by any means other than barter or exchange or gift inter vivos.

(2) The terms "barter" and "exchange" mean transfer of title to extra long staple cotton by a producer to another in return for extra long staple cotton or any other commodity, service, or property in cases where the value of the extra long staple cotton or such other commodity, service, or property is not considered in terms of money, or the transfer of title to extra long staple cotton by a producer to another in payment of a fixed rental or other charge for land.

(3) The term "gift inter vivos" means any transfer of title, accompanied by delivery, to extra long staple cotton by a producer to another which takes effect immediately and irrevocably and is made without any consideration or compensation therefor.

(4) "Marketed," "marketing," and "for market" shall have corresponding meanings to the term "market" in the connection in which they are used.

§ 722.1243 Issuance of forms and instructions. The Director shall cause to be prepared such forms and instructions as are necessary for carrying out §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289. The forms shall be issued by the Director with the approval of the Deputy Administrator, and the instructions shall be issued by the Deputy Administrator. Copies of such forms and instructions shall be furnished free to persons needing them upon request made to the State or county office or to the Director.

§ 722.1244 Extent of calculations and rule of fractions. In making any computation in connection with §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289, the amount of extra long staple lint cotton shall be rounded to the nearest whole pound and the amount of penalties or refunds shall be rounded to the nearest whole cent. Fractions of exactly five-tenths of a pound or cent shall be dropped. The acreage of each field of extra long staple cotton on the farm shall be expressed in hundredths of an acre, and thousandths of an acre shall be dropped. The total acreage of extra long staple cotton on the farm shall be expressed in tenths of an acre, and hundredths of an acre shall be dropped.

IDENTIFICATION AND MEASUREMENT OF FARMS

§ 722.1245 Identification of farms. Each farm as operated for the 1955 crop of extra long staple cotton shall be identified by a farm serial number and all records pertaining to marketing quotas for the 1955 crop of extra long staple cotton shall be identified by such number.

§ 722.1246 Measurement of farms—(a) Premeasurement. The county committee shall provide for the measurement prior to planting of an acreage on the farm equal to the farm acreage allotment if the farm operator requests such measurement and pays the cost thereof, as determined in accordance with instructions issued by the Deputy Administrator, and any farm on which such measured acreage is the only acreage planted to extra long staple cotton shall be deemed to have an acreage not in excess of the farm acreage allotment.

(b) Measurement after planting. Measurement of the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton on each farm in the county shall be made under the general supervision of the county committee in accordance with the following provisions: (1) The measurement of the farm shall be made by an employee of the county committee who has been designated as a reporter and determined by the county office manager to be qualified to carry out the duties of a reporter. A reporter may be assisted in the measurement of a farm by another reporter, a community, county, or State committeeman, a State committee representative, any employee of the county office when authorized by the county office manager, or by any employee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture when authorized by the Deputy Administrator. The reporter may request the operator or producer or his representative to designate all fields on the farm on which extra long staple cotton was planted in 1955 and otherwise to assist in measuring the farm. If so requested, the operator or producer or his representative shall so designate all fields planted to extra long staple cotton on the farm in 1955 and otherwise assist in measuring the farm. The reporter may utilize any such assistance from the operator or producer or his representative; (2) the county office manager shall have responsibility for assigning, in writing, insofar as practicable, the farms in the county to be measured by a reporter, and in the case of a farm where a reporter has been refused permission to measure the extra long staple cotton a written assignment shall be issued in connection with such farm. Upon request of any interested producer the reporter shall obtain certification from the county office manager that the reporter is the county office representative appointed to determine the extra long staple cotton acreage on the farm in which the producer is interested; (3) a reporter shall visit each farm assigned to him for measurement and enter thereon if such entry will facilitate measurement. Upon request he will exhibit to the farm operator, producer, or owner his assignment to measure the farm; (4) measurement may be made by identification of fields or parts of fields by use of a map or aerial photograph, or by means of a steel or metallic tape or chain, or rod and chain, or by use of a measuring wheel when authorized by the Deputy Administrator, or by a combination of two or more of the foregoing methods. The pertinent data and information for the farm shall be entered by the reporter on the Form CSS–578, and on maps or aerial photographs where applicable, and filed in the county office. Computations of acreages shall be made by an employee in the county office from the data so obtained, and the use of a planimeter or rotometer in connection therewith is authorized; (5) measurements of whole fields made prior to the effective date of this section and in accordance with existing procedures then in effect may be utilized where pertinent for the purpose of ascertaining with respect to any farm the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton in 1955 and the acreage of extra long staple cotton in excess of the 1955 farm acreage allotment.

(c) Notice of measured acreage and disposition of excess acreage. The county committee shall notify the farm operator by mail of the measured acreage of extra long staple cotton on the farm. If such acreage is in excess of the farm acreage allotment, the county committee shall also notify the farm operator that unless the acreage of extra long staple cotton on the farm is adjusted to the farm acreage allotment within the time established pursuant to § 722.1242 (s), the farm marketing excess for the farm will be determined on the basis of the excess acreage and the normal yield for the farm. Notice so given shall constitute notice to each producer having an interest in the 1955 crop of extra long staple cotton produced on the farm. If, because of adverse weather conditions or other reasons beyond their control, producers on the farm cannot dispose of the excess acreage of extra long staple cotton within 20 days after the original notice of measured extra long staple cotton acreage is mailed to the farm operator, and a request in writing for additional time and a showing to the satisfaction of the county committee that circumstances beyond their control prevented the disposition of the excess acreage within the 20-day period is filed with the county committee, the county committee may allow an additional period not to exceed 10 days for disposing of the excess acreage. No extra long staple cotton acreage shall be disposed of for purposes of adjusting the planted acreage of extra long staple cotton to the farm acreage allotment after any such cotton has been harvested from such planted acreage.

(d) Remeasurement. The county committee shall provide for the remeasurement, upon request by the farm operator, of the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton on the farm, but the operator shall be required to deposit with the treasurer of the county committee an amount equal to the estimated cost of such remeasurement and such deposit shall not be returned to the farm operator if the planted acreage is found upon such remeasurement to be in excess of the farm acreage allotment. Where the farm operator requests an additional remeasurement of the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton on the farm, the county committee shall provide for such remeasurement only if it finds, on the basis of evidence presented by the farm operator and other available information or data, that an error was probably made in the prior remeasurement.

(e) Measurement of acreage disposed of. If the excess extra long staple cotton acreage on any farm is disposed of within the time allowed pursuant to § 722.1242 (s) and a producer on the farm requests that the acreage disposed of be measured and pays the estimated cost of measuring such acreage, the county committee shall provide for such measurement.

§ 722.1247 Reports and records of farm measurements. The county committee shall keep a record of the measurements made on all farms. It shall file with the State office a written report on Form MQ–94—Cotton (ELS), setting forth for each farm with a farm marketing excess (a) the farm serial number, (b) the name of the operator, (c) the farm acreage allotment, (d) the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton in 1955, and (e) the total acreage in cultivation.

FARM MARKETING QUOTA AND FARM MARKETING EXCESS

§ 722.1248 Cotton subject to marketing quota provisions. Marketing quotas for the 1955 crop of extra long staple cotton shall be applicable to any such cotton of that crop notwithstanding that it may be available for marketing prior to the beginning of the marketing year or marketed subsequent to the end of the marketing year. (In the Southern Area of Puerto Rico extra long staple cotton planted in 1955 for harvest in 1956 shall be considered as the 1955 crop of extra long staple cotton under §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289.) Marketing quotas shall also be applicable to carryover extra long staple cotton marketed during the marketing year.

(b) Where the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton is not measured. Whenever measurement of the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton on the farm is prevented by a producer on the farm, the farm marketing excess shall be the total number of pounds of extra long staple lint cotton produced in 1955 on the farm. In the event the farm operator or any other producer on the farm establishes, in accordance with § 722.1252, the total number of pounds of extra long staple cotton produced in 1955 on the farm, the farm marketing excess shall be the number of pounds of extra long staple lint cotton produced in 1955 on the farm in excess of the normal production of the farm acreage allotment. Whenever the county committee determines that a reasonably accurate estimate can be made of the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton on any such farm for which measurements have been prevented, the county committee shall provide for such an estimate to be made, and if the producer fails or refuses to establish the amount of extra long staple lint cotton produced in 1955 on the farm and if the penalty collected in connection with marketings of extra long staple cotton reported by buyers pursuant to § 722.1277 (c) is less than the penalty due on the farm marketing excess determined on the basis of the estimated acreage planted to extra long staple cotton, the farm marketing excess and the penalty for the farm shall be established on the basis of the normal yield and the estimated acreage planted to extra long staple cotton in excess of the farm acreage allotment, and the operator shall be notified of such determinations in accordance with § 722.1251.

§ 722.1251 Notice of farm marketing quota and farm marketing excess. Written notice of the farm marketing quota and, where applicable, the farm marketing excess, established for a farm shall be mailed to the operator of such farm. Notice so given shall constitute notice to each producer having an interest in the 1955 crop of extra long staple cotton produced or to be produced on the farm. Each notice shall contain a brief statement of the procedure whereby application for a review of the farm marketing quota or farm marketing excess, or any determination made in connection therewith, may be had in accordance with section 363 of the act. A record of the date of mailing the notice to the operator of the farm shall be kept among the records of the county office and upon request a copy of the notice shall be furnished without charge to any producer on the farm for which the notice is given. Such notice shall contain the information necessary in each case to inform the producer as to the basis for the determinations set forth in the notice and the effect thereof.

§ 722.1252 Farm marketing excess adjustment—(a) Application for adjustment in the farm marketing excess. Any producer having an interest in the extra long staple cotton produced in 1955 on a farm with a farm marketing excess may apply in writing to the county committee as provided herein for a downward adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess on the basis of the amount of extra long staple cotton produced in 1955 on the farm. Any such application shall be filed with the county committee not later than the earlier of (1) 60 days after harvest is completed on the farm or by such later date as is approved by the State committee on the basis of a recommendation by the county committee and a showing that the producer's failure to apply for such adjustment within the 60-day period was due to circumstances beyond his control or (2) March 15, 1956 (June 15, 1956, in the case of the Southern Area of Puerto Rico). If the harvesting of extra long staple cotton on the farm has not been completed by March 15, 1956 (June 15, 1956, in the case of the Southern Area of Puerto Rico), but an application has been timely filed under the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, the producer may request the county committee to provide for an estimate to be made of the amount of unharvested extra long staple cotton on the farm in order that a final determination of the actual production on the farm in 1955 may be made. The county committee shall keep a record of each application so made and the date thereof. The county committee shall establish a time and place at which each application will be considered and shall notify the applicant of the time and place of the hearing. Insofar as practicable, applications shall be considered in the order in which made. Unless application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess is made within the period of time provided for in this paragraph, the farm marketing excess as determined pursuant to § 722.1250 shall be final as to the producers on the farm. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, whenever the county committee determines that no extra long staple cotton has been or will be produced in 1955 on a farm with a farm marketing excess, the county committee may adjust the farm marketing excess and notify the operator of such adjustment, as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Procedure in connection with an application for an adjustment in the farm marketing excess. The county committee shall consider each application on the basis of facts known by or made available to it and on the basis of such evidence as may be presented to it by the applicant. The actual production of extra long staple cotton on any farm shall be determined in view of the relevant facts, including the past production on the farm, the actual yields per acre in 1955 for other farms in the community which are similar with regard to farming practices followed, type of soil, and productivity; the harvesting, ginning, and sales of the extra long staple cotton produced on the farm; and weather conditions and other factors affecting the production of extra long staple cotton on the farm and in the locality in which the farm is situated. In the consideration of any application for adjustment in the farm marketing excess, the producer shall have the burden of proof. The evidence presented by the applicant may be in the form of written statements or other documentary evidence or of oral testimony in a hearing before the county committee during its consideration of the application. In order to expedite the consideration of applications, the county committee shall receive, in advance of the time fixed for consideration of the application, any written statement or documentary evidence offered by or on behalf of the applicant, and the application may be disposed of upon the basis of such statement or evidence, together with other information bearing on or establishing the facts, which is available to the county committee, unless the applicant appears before the county committee at the time fixed for considering the application and requests a hearing for the purpose of offering additional documentary evidence or oral testimony in support of the application. Every such hearing shall be open to the public. The county committee shall make its determination in connection with each application not later than five calendar days next succeeding the day on which the consideration of the application was concluded. The determination of the county committee shall be in writing and shall contain (1) a concise statement of the grounds upon which the applicant sought an adjustment in the amount of the farm marketing excess, (2) a concise statement of the findings of the county committee upon the question of fact, and (3) the determination of the county committee as to the farm marketing quota, the actual production of extra long staple cotton on the farm, the farm marketing excess, and the penalty due on the farm marketing excess. A notice showing the result of the determination made as aforesaid, shall be mailed to the operator of the farm and also to the applicant if he is not such operator.

§ 722.1253 Publication of the farm acreage allotment, normal yield, marketing quota, and marketing excess. A record of the farm acreage allotment, normal yield, farm marketing quota, and farm marketing excess established for farms in the county shall be made available for public inspection in the county office for a period of not less than 30 calendar days. The records containing the information shall be kept where the public may freely examine them. At the end of the 30-day period the records shall be filed in the county office and remain available for further inspection upon request. There may be used for this purpose listing sheets, copies of notices, or other compilations upon which the pertinent data are shown.

§ 722.1254 Marketing quotas not transferable. A farm marketing quota established for a farm may not be assigned or otherwise transferred in whole or in part to any other farm. Under sections 345 and 347 of the act, farm marketing quotas are established for the 1955 crops of both upland and extra long staple cotton. The farm marketing quota established under the provisions of §§ 722.1248 to 722.1256 for the 1955 crop of extra long staple cotton may not be used in whole or in part in connection with the marketing of upland cotton produced in 1955 or a prior crop year.

§ 722.1255 Successors-in-interest. Any person who succeeds to the interest of a producer in a farm, or in a crop of extra long staple cotton produced on a farm, for which a farm marketing quota and a farm marketing excess were established, shall, to the same extent as his predecessor, be entitled to all the rights and privileges incident to such marketing quota and marketing excess and be subject to the penalty on the farm marketing excess and to the lien on the entire crop of extra long staple cotton and to the restrictions on the marketing of such cotton.

§ 722.1256 Review of quotas—(a) Right to review by review committee. Any producer on a farm with a farm marketing excess who is dissatisfied with the farm marketing quota or the farm marketing excess may, within 15 calendar days after the notice of the farm marketing excess is mailed to him, apply in writing for a review by a review committee of any such determination: Provided, That if a review hearing has been held and a determination made by a review committee with respect to the farm acreage allotment no further review by a review committee shall be made with respect thereto: Provided further, That any application for review which is based on the county committee's determination as contained in the notice issued pursuant to § 722.1252 (b), shall be limited to a review of the actual production of extra long staple cotton on the farm. Unless application for review is made within the 15-day period provided for in this paragraph, the determination of the county committee shall be final as to the producers on the farm. Application for review and the review committee proceedings shall be in accordance with the review regulations (MQ–51, §§ 711.1 to 711.36 of this chapter), as issued by the Secretary.

(b) Court review. If the producer is dissatisfied with the determination of the review committee, he may, within 15 days after notice of such determination is mailed to him by registered mail, institute proceedings against the review committee to have the determination of the review committee reviewed by a court in accordance with section 365 of the act.

MARKETING CARDS, MARKETING CERTIFICATES AND LOAN DOCUMENTS

§ 722.1257 Eligibility for and issuance of marketing cards—(a) Producers eligible to receive marketing cards. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the operator and any other producer on a farm shall be eligible to receive a marketing card (Form MQ–76–ELS Cotton (1955)), if (1) no farm marketing excess is determined for the farm, or (2) an amount equal to the penalty on the farm marketing excess has been received by the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the farm is located, except that a marketing card shall not be issued under subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph if any producer on the farm has on hand any extra long staple cotton produced in 1954 on which the penalty was incurred and has not been paid.

(b) Multiple farm producers eligible to receive marketing cards. Any person who is a producer of extra long staple cotton on more than one farm in a county shall not be eligible to receive a marketing card for any such farm in the county until, in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, he is eligible to receive a marketing card for each of such farms. Any other producers on a farm who are eligible to receive marketing cards pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section shall receive marketing cards with respect to the farm notwithstanding the ineligibility of the multiple farm producer, unless the county committee determines that, in order to enforce the provisions of the act, such producers, including the multiple farm producer, should not receive marketing cards for such farm with no farm marketing excess. Where a producer is engaged in the production of extra long staple cotton in more than one county (in the same State or two or more States), the procedure outlined in this section for issuing marketing cards for multiple farms in a county may be followed with respect to all such farms, wherever situated, if the county committees of the respective counties so decide, or if the State committee has reason to believe that the procedure would be necessary to enforce the provisions of the act. The State committee may require any multiple farm producer to file with it a list of all farms on which he is engaged in the production of extra long staple cotton, together with any other information deemed necessary to enforce the provisions of the act.

(c) Producers to whom marketing cards will not be issued to enforce the provisions of the act. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the county committee shall deny any producer a marketing card if it determines that such action is necessary to enforce the provisions of the act.

(d) Preparation and issuance of marketing cards. A marketing card shall be issued to the operator of the farm if he is eligible to receive it under the foregoing provisions of this section and, if the county committee or the county office manager determines that it will serve a useful purpose, marketing cards shall also be issued to the other eligible producers on the farm. Each marketing card when completed shall be serially numbered and shall show: (1) The names of the county and State and the serial number of the farm, (2) the name and address of the farm operator, (3) the name and address of the producer to whom issued, (4) the signature of a member of the county committee or the county office manager and the signature of the producer, (5) the farm acreage allotment and the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton, and (6) such additional information and data as may be prescribed by the Deputy Administrator. The county office manager may designate not more than three persons to sign his name in issuing marketing cards: Provided, That each person so designated shall place his initials immediately beneath the name of the county office manager as written by him or stamped on the card. Where the producer designates an agent to use his marketing card, the card shall also show: (1) The name and address of the agent authorized to use the marketing card and (2) the signatures of the producer and the agent.

§ 722.1258 Marketing certificates and loan documents—(a) Use of marketing certificates. The county committee shall issue to a producer upon his request a marketing certificate (Form MQ–91—Cotton (ELS)) to permit the marketing of extra long staple cotton (1) by any such producer (i) who is eligible to receive a marketing card and who desires to market extra long staple cotton by telegraph, telephone, mail, or by any other means or method other than directly to and in the presence of the buyer or transferee; (ii) who is not engaged in the production of extra long staple cotton in the 1955 crop year and who desires to market extra long staple cotton which he has on hand from any prior crop, except extra long staple cotton from the 1954 crop on which the penalty was incurred and has not been paid; (iii) who has an interest as a producer of extra long staple cotton in the 1955 crop and who desires to market extra long staple cotton which he has on hand from any prior crop, except extra long staple cotton from the 1954 crop on which the penalty was incurred and has not been paid; (iv) who desires to market extra long staple cotton produced by him on a farm with no farm marketing excess but he is not eligible to receive a marketing card under § 722.1257 (b) because he or another producer on such farm is also a producer of extra long staple cotton on a farm with a farm marketing excess; and (v) who desires to market his share of the extra long staple cotton produced on a farm with no farm marketing excess or on a farm on which the penalty on the farm marketing excess has been paid but he was denied a marketing card by the county committee because it deemed such action necessary to enforce the provisions of the act, and (2) any other producer who has extra long staple cotton not subject to the penalty or on which the penalty has been paid and such producer is not eligible to receive a marketing card or does not have a loan document as prescribed in § 722.1264. The county committee, with the approval of the State committee, may issue marketing certificates for a farm in a total amount for the 1955 crop not exceeding the product of the farm acreage allotment multiplied by the smaller of the normal yield per acre or the estimated actual yield per acre, in instances where the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton on the farm in 1955 has not been determined through no fault of the operator and he, in applying for such certificates, certifies that he has extra long stape cotton from the 1955 crop available for marketing and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the acreage planted to extra long staple cotton on the farm does not exceed the farm acreage allotment.

(b) Preparation and delivery of marketing certificates. Each marketing certificate shall show (1) the name and address of the producer to whom issued, (2) the names of the county and State and the serial number of the farm, if any, (3) the serial number of the 1955 marketing card issued for the farm, where applicable, (4) the description and amount of the extra long staple cotton to be marketed, (5) the signature of the producer and the date thereof, and (6) the signature of a member of the county committee or the county office manager and the date thereof. The county committee shall estimate or otherwise determine the actual production on each farm for which a marketing card has not been issued and for which marketing certificates are to be issued, and certificates shall not be issued for marketings in excess of such production. The "buyer's copy", "producer's copy", and "county office copy" of the marketing certificate shall be delivered to the producer to whom issued, and such producer, upon marketing the extra long staple cotton described in the marketing certificate, shall deliver all such copies to the buyer.

(c) Use of loan documents in lieu of marketing certificates to identify carry-over CCC loan extra long staple cotton. Any producer who desires to sell his equity in carry-over extra long staple cotton which is pledged as collateral security for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or to sell carry-over extra long staple cotton on which such a loan has been repaid may, as provided in § 722.1264, identify such cotton as being penalty-free by presenting to the buyer or transferee thereof a loan document covering such cotton, and the buyer or transferee shall accept such document as evidence to him that the extra long staple cotton described therein is not subject to the penalty or the lien for the penalty.

§ 722.1259 Lost, destroyed, or stolen marketing cards or marketing certificates—(a) Report of loss, destruction, or theft. In case a marketing card or marketing certificate delivered to a producer is lost, destroyed, or stolen, any person having knowledge thereof shall, insofar as he is able, immediately notify the county committee of the following: (1) The name of the producer to whom the marketing card or certificate was issued; (2) the serial number of the marketing card or certificate; and (3) whether in his knowledge or judgment it was lost, destroyed, or stolen and by whom.

(b) Investigation and findings of county committee. The county committee shall make or cause to be made a thorough investigation of the circumstances of such loss, destruction, or theft. If it is found that such marketing card or marketing certificate was in fact lost, destroyed, or stolen, such marketing card or certificate shall be canceled and a notice in writing to that effect shall be signed by the county office manager and mailed to the producer to whom the marketing card or certificate was issued at his last known address. If it is found that there has been no collusion or connivance in connection therewith on the part of the producer to or for whom the marketing card or certificate was issued, a marketing card or certificate shall be issued to him to replace the lost, destroyed, or stolen marketing card or certificate. Each marketing card or certificate issued under this section shall bear across its face in bold letters the word "Duplicate." In case a marketing card or certificate is canceled, as provided in this section, the county office manager shall immediately notify the ginners and buyers in the county, or in the immediate vicinity, that the marketing card or certificate has been canceled and that a duplicate has been issued. A report of the findings and action of the county office manager shall be kept among the county office records. Any ginner or buyer or any other person coming into possession or control of a marketing card or certificate which has been canceled shall immediately return it to the county office which issued it.

§ 722.1260 Cancellation of marketing cards and marketing certificates issued in error. In the event any marketing card or marketing certificate was erroneously issued, the producer to whom it was issued shall be requested to return it to the county office and upon its being returned it shall be canceled by the county office manager by endorsing thereon in bold letters the word "Canceled." Without awaiting its return the county office manager shall notify the producer by registered mail at his last known address that it is void and of no effect. A copy of the notice, containing a notation thereon of the date of mailing, shall be kept among the records of the county office. The county committee or county office manager shall notify the ginners and buyers in the county, or in the immediate vicinity, that the marketing card or certificate has been canceled.

IDENTIFICATION OF COTTON

§ 722.1261 Time and manner of identification. Each producer of extra long staple cotton shall, at the time he markets any such cotton, identify such cotton to the buyer or transferee, in the manner hereinafter provided, as being subject to or not subject to the penalty provided in § 722.1266 and the lien for the penalty as provided in § 722.1267.

§ 722.1262 Identification by marketing card. A marketing card (Form MQ–76–ELS Cotton (1955)), shall, when presented to the buyer or transferee by the producer to whom issued, be evidence to the buyer or transferee that the extra long staple cotton produced on the farm for which the marketing card was issued may be purchased by him without collection, deduction, or payment of the penalty, and that such cotton is not subject to the lien for the penalty.

§ 722.1263 Identification by marketing certificate. A marketing certificate (Form MQ–91—Cotton (ELS)) shall, when presented to the buyer or transferee by the producer to whom it was issued, be evidence to the buyer or transferee that the extra long staple cotton described on such certificate may be purchased by him without the collection, deduction, or payment of the penalty, and that such cotton is not subject to the lien for the penalty.

§ 722.1264 Identification by loan document. A loan document (the original or the producer's copy) shall, when presented to the buyer or transferee by the producer in whose favor it is drawn, be evidence to the buyer or transferee that the carry-over extra long staple cotton described in such loan document may be purchased by him without the collection, deduction, or payment of the penalty, and that such cotton is not subject to the lien for the penalty. Any one of the following forms shall constitute a "loan document" for purposes of the foregoing provisions of this paragraph: Cotton Producer's Note and Loan Agreement (CCC Cotton Form A); Producer's Loan Statement—A; or Producer's Warranty and Agreement (CCC Cotton Form G–2).

§ 722.1265 Extra long staple cotton not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document. All extra long staple cotton marketed by a producer which is not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document, as provided in § 722.1262, 722.1263, or 722.1264, shall be taken by the buyer or transferee thereof as extra long staple cotton subject to the penalty prescribed in § 722.1266 and to the lien for the penalty. The buyer or transferee of such unidentified extra long staple cotton shall collect the penalty from the producer or deduct it from the purchase price of such cotton. The buyer or transferee shall report the purchase of all such unidentified extra long staple cotton on Form MQ–82—Cotton (ELS) and remit the penalty collected or deducted to the treasurer of the county committee.

PENALTY

§ 722.1266 Rate of penalty. The rate of the penalty for extra long staple cotton is the higher of 50 percent of the parity price for extra long staple cotton as of June 15, 1955, or 50 percent of the 1955 support price for extra long staple cotton, as provided in section 347 (c) of the act. (This section will be amended to include the exact rate of the penalty when such price data are available.)

§ 722.1268 Interest on unremitted penalty. The person liable for the payment or collection of the penalty shall be liable also for interest on the amount of penalty which is not remitted in accordance with § 722.1269 (b) or § 722.1270 (c), as the case may be, at the rate of 6 percent per annum from the final date for remitting the penalty until the date such penalty is remitted. The computation of interest on any penalty due shall be made beginning with the day following the final date for remitting the penalty.

§ 722.1269 Payment of penalty by producers—(a) Producers liable for payment of penalty. Each producer having an interest in the 1955 crop of extra long staple cotton on any farm for which a farm marketing excess has been determined shall be liable to pay the entire amount of the penalty on the farm marketing excess. The amount of the penalty which any producer shall pay shall nevertheless be reduced by the amount of the penalty which is paid by another producer or a buyer of extra long staple cotton produced on the farm.

(b) Time when penalty becomes due and payable. The farm marketing excess for a farm shall be regarded as available for marketing and the penalty thereon shall become due at the time any extra long staple cotton produced on the farm is harvested. The amount of the penalty on the farm marketing excess for any farm shall be remitted on the date it becomes due or not later than March 15, 1956 (June 15, 1956, in the case of the southern area of Puerto Rico). Provided, however, That the penalty on any bale or lot of extra long staple cotton marketed (1) from a farm for which the penalty on the farm marketing excess has not been paid or (2) without being properly identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document as provided in §§ 722.1262, 722.1263, or 722.1264, shall be due on the date of such marketing and shall be remitted not later than seven calendar days next succeeding the end of the calendar week in which the cotton was marketed.

(c) Apportionment of the penalty. The county committee may, upon application of any producer made prior to the expiration of the time allowed for remitting the penalty on the farm marketing excess, determine his proportionate share of the penalty on the farm marketing excess if, pursuant to the application, the producer establishes that he is unable to arrange with other producers on the farm for the payment of the penalty on the entire farm marketing excess, that his share of the extra long staple cotton crop produced on the farm is marketed by him separately, and that he exercises no control over the marketing of the shares of the other producers in the extra long staple cotton crop. The producer's proportionate share of the penalty on the farm marketing excess shall be that proportion of the entire penalty on the farm marketing excess which his share in the extra long staple cotton produced in 1955 on the farm bears to the total amount of such cotton produced in 1955 on the farm. When the producer pays his proportionate share of the penalty, he shall not be liable for the remainder of the penalty on the farm marketing excess and he shall be entitled to receive a marketing certificate, issued in accordance with § 722.1258, to be used by him only in the marketing of his proportionate share of the extra long staple cotton crop produced in 1955 on the farm.

§ 722.1270 Payment of penalty by buyers and transferees—(a) Buyers and transferees liable for payment of penalty. Each person within the United States, including Puerto Rico, who buys or acquires from the producer any extra long staple cotton subject to the lien for the penalty shall be liable for and shall pay the penalty thereon. Extra long staple cotton shall be taken as subject to the lien for the penalty unless the producer presents to the buyer or transferee a marketing card (Form MQ–76–ELS Cotton (1955)), a marketing certificate (Form MQ–91—Cotton (ELS)), or a loan document, as provided in §§ 722.1262, 722.1263, and 722.1264.

(b) Payment of penalty on account of lien for the penalty. Each person within the United States, including Puerto Rico, who buys or acquires extra long staple cotton from the producer which is subject to the lien for the penalty shall pay the amount of the penalty on each pound thereof in satisfaction of the lien thereon.

(c) Time when penalty becomes due. The penalty to be paid by any buyer or transferee pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall become due at the time the extra long staple cotton is marketed and shall be remitted not later than seven calendar days next succeeding the end of the calendar week in which such cotton was marketed. Extra long staple cotton shall be deemed to be sold when either title to or actual or constructive possession of such cotton is delivered by or on behalf of the producer or any part of the purchase price is paid. Extra long staple cotton shall be deemed to have been marketed by barter or exchange when it is delivered to the transferee of such cotton by actual or constructive delivery or the transferor has received any part of the property, goods, or services for which such cotton is being bartered or exchanged. Extra long staple cotton shall be deemed to have been marketed by gift inter vivos when there is an actual or constructive delivery of such cotton to the transferee during the lifetime of the producer. Extra long staple cotton shall be deemed to have been marketed in processed form when the producer, or some person on his behalf, converts such cotton into an article of trade and thereby causes such cotton to lose its identity as seed cotton or extra long staple lint cotton. An article of trade within the meaning of this provision is any article made in whole or in part from extra long staple cotton for the purpose of marketing such article.

(d) Manner of deducting penalty and issuance of receipts. The buyer may deduct from the price paid for any extra long staple cotton an amount equivalent to the amount of the penalty to be paid by the buyer pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. Any buyer who deducts an amount equivalent to the penalty shall issue to the person from whom the extra long staple cotton was purchased a receipt for the amount so deducted which shall be on Form MQ–82—Cotton (ELS).

§ 722.1271 Remittance of penalty to the treasurer of the county committee. The treasurer of the county committee, for and on behalf of the Secretary, shall receive the penalty and any interest due thereon and issue a receipt therefor to the person remitting the penalty. The penalty and interest shall be remitted only in legal tender, or by check, draft, or money order drawn payable to the order of the Treasurer of the United States. All checks, drafts, or money orders tendered in payment of the penalty and interest shall be received by the treasurer of the county committee subject to collection and payment at par, and the receipt issued in connection therewith shall bear a notation to that effect and a description of the check, draft, or money order.

§ 722.1272 Deposit of funds. All funds received by the treasurer of the county committee in connection with penalties for extra long staple cotton shall be scheduled and transmitted by him on the day received, or not later than the morning of the next succeeding business day, to the State committee, which, in accordance with applicable instructions, shall cause such funds to be deposited to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States. In the event the funds so received are in the form of cash, the treasurer of the county committee shall deposit such cash in the county committee bank account and issue a check in the amount thereof payable to the Treasurer of the United States and transmit such check to the State committee. The treasurer of the county committee shall make and keep a record of each amount received by him, showing the name of the person who remitted the funds, the identification of the farm or farms for which the funds were remitted, and the names of the persons who marketed the extra long staple cotton in connection with which the funds were remitted.

§ 722.1273 Refunds of money in excess of the penalty—(a) Determination of refunds. The county committee and the treasurer of the county committee, upon their own motion or upon the request of any interested person, shall review the amount of money received in connection with the penalty for any farm to determine for each producer the amount thereof, if any, which is in excess of the penalty incurred. The excess amount shall be refunded. Any refund shall be made only to persons who bore the burden of the payment and who have not been reimbursed therefor. The excess sum shall be first applied, insofar as the sum will permit, so as to make refunds to eligible persons other than producers and the remainder, if any, shall be applied so as to make refunds to the eligible producers. The amount to be refunded to each producer shall be either (1) the amount agreed upon in writing by each and every extra long staple cotton producer on the farm or (2) in the event that such producers cannot agree to the division of such refund or if all of the producers on the farm are not available to apply for such refund, the amount determined by apportioning the excess among all of the producers on the farm on the basis of the amount of the penalty borne by each producer, as determined by the county committee. No refund shall be made to any buyer or transferee of any amount which he collected from the producer, deducted from the price or other consideration for the extra long staple cotton, or for which he was liable.

(b) Certification of refunds. A member of the county committee, or the treasurer of the county committee, shall notify the State committee of the amount which the county committee determines may be refunded to each person with respect to the farm, and the State committee shall cause to be certified to the appropriate Disbursing Officer of the Treasury Department for payment such amounts as are approved by it. No refund of money shall be certified under this section unless the money has been collected and transmitted to the State committee but has not been covered into the general fund of the Treasury of the United States.

§ 722.1274 Refund of penalty erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected. Whenever, pursuant to a claim filed with the Secretary within the time prescribed in section 372 of the act after payment to him of the penalty collected from any person pursuant to the act, the Secretary finds that the penalty was erroneously, illegally, or wrongfully collected, he shall certify to the Secretary of the Treasury for payment to the claimant, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, such amount as the Secretary finds the claimant is entitled to receive as a refund of penalty. Any claim filed pursuant to this section shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

§ 722.1275 Report of violations and court proceedings to collect penalty. It shall be the duty of the county office manager to report in writing to the State administrative officer each case of failure or refusal to pay the penalty or to remit the same as provided in §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 to the Secretary when collected. It shall be the duty of the State administrative officer to report each such case in writing to the Office of the General Counsel of the United States Department of Agriculture, in accordance with instructions issued by the Deputy Administrator, with a view to the institution of proceedings by the United States Attorney for the appropriate district, under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, to collect the penalties, as provided in section 376 of the act.

§ 722.1276 Records to be kept and reports to be made by ginners—(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each ginner shall, in conformity with section 373 (a) of the act, keep the records and make the reports the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to extra long staple cotton, the provisions of the act.

(b) Nature and availability of records. Each ginner shall keep, as part of or in addition to the records maintained by him in the conduct of his business, a record which shall show with respect to each bale of extra long staple cotton, and each lot of extra long staple cotton less than a bale, ginned by him the following information: (1) The date of ginning; (2) the name of the operator of the farm on which the extra long staple cotton was produced; (3) the name of the producer of the extra long staple cotton; (4) the county and State in which the farm on which the extra long staple cotton was produced is located; (5) the gin bale number or mark; (6) the serial number of the gin ticket or receipt prepared or issued by the ginner for the bale of extra long staple cotton and for the lot of such cotton less than a bale; (7) the gross weight of each bale of extra long staple cotton and the net weight of each lot of extra long staple lint cotton less than a bale; and (8) the kind of bagging and ties used on each bale. The records so made shall be kept available for examination and inspection by the Secretary, or by any authorized representative of the Secretary, until December 31, 1957, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept pursuant to §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289, or of obtaining the information required to be furnished in any report pursuant to §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 but not so furnished. Such records shall be kept for such longer period of time as may be requested in writing by the Director.

(c) Requests for reports. Each ginner, upon written request of the State committee or county committee, shall make a report showing the information provided for in this section, or any part thereof as specified in the request, with respect to extra long staple cotton ginned for the person or persons specified in the request or for the period of time specified in the request. This report shall be filed not later than the date designated by the State committee or county committee in the written request for such report.

(d) Manner of submitting reports. The treasurer of the county committee designated in the request for such report, or his successor in office, is hereby authorized and empowered to receive each such report, on behalf of the Secretary. Each report shall be mailed or delivered directly to the said treasurer.

(e) Penalty for failure or refusal to keep records or make reports. Any person engaged in the business of ginning extra long staple cotton who fails to keep any record or make any report as required by this section or who makes any false report or false record shall, as provided for in section 373 (a) of the act, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense.

§ 722.1277. Records to be kept and reports to be made by buyers—(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each person who buys extra long staple seed cotton or extra long staple lint cotton from the producer thereof shall, in conformity with section 373 (a) of the act, keep the records and make the reports the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to extra long staple cotton, the provisions of the act.

(b) Nature of and availability of records. Each buyer shall keep, as a part of or in addition to the records maintained by him in the conduct of his business, a record which shall show with respect to each bale of extra long staple cotton, and each lot of extra long staple cotton less than a bale, which is purchased by him from the producer thereof the following information: (1) The name and address of the producer from whom the extra long staple cotton was purchased; (2) the date on which the extra long staple cotton was purchased; (3) the original gin bale number or, if there is no gin bale number, the gin bale mark or other information showing the origin or source of the extra long staple cotton and, in the case of extra long staple seed cotton purchased, the number of pounds of such seed cotton and the known or estimated amount of extra long staple lint in such seed cotton; (4) the number of pounds of extra long staple lint cotton in each bale, and each lot of extra long staple cotton less than a bale, purchased from the producer; (5) the amount of any penalty required to be collected under §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 and the amount of penalty collected in connection with the extra long staple cotton purchased from the producer; and (6) the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate or a brief description of the loan document by which the extra long staple cotton was identified when marketed (if a loan number appears on the loan document, the buyer shall keep a record of such number and the crop year; otherwise, the buyer shall keep a record of the form number of the CCC loan document and the date of the loan). It shall be presumed that the extra long staple cotton was not identified in the manner provided in §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 if the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate or a brief description of the loan document does not appear on the records required by this paragraph. The record so made shall be kept available for examination and inspection by the Secretary, or by any authorized representative of the Secretary, until December 31, 1957, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept pursuant to §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289, or of obtaining the information required to be furnished in any report pursuant to §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 but not so furnished. Such records shall be kept for such longer period of time as may be requested in writing by the Director. The county committee shall, upon the request of any buyer, furnish to him without cost blank copies of Form MQ–100—Cotton (ELS) which may be used by him for the purpose of keeping the records required pursuant to this paragraph.

(c) Reports in connection with extra long staple cotton not identified by marketing cards, marketing certificates, or loan documents. The buyer of extra long staple cotton which is not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document, as provided in §§ 722.1262, 722.1263, and 722.1264, when marketed shall, with respect to each purchase, make a written report on Form MQ–82—Cotton (ELS) of the following information: (1) The name and address of the producer from whom the extra long staple cotton was purchased; (2) the date on which the extra long staple cotton was purchased; (3) the original gin bale number or, if there is no gin bale number, the gin bale mark or other information showing the origin or source of the extra long staple cotton; (4) the net weight of each bale of extra long staple cotton, and of each lot of extra long staple lint cotton less than a bale; and (5) the amount of the penalty collected in connection with the extra long staple cotton purchased. The report shall be prepared and executed in triplicate; the "producer's copy" shall be delivered to the producer, the "buyer's copy" shall be retained by the buyer, and the buyer shall mail or deliver the "county office copy" to the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which such cotton was produced.

(d) Reports in connection with extra long staple cotton identified by marketing certificates. The buyer of extra long staple cotton which is identified when marketed by a marketing certificate, Form MQ–91—Cotton (ELS), as provided in § 722.1263 shall make a report in connection with the transaction by executing the certificate in triplicate and by mailing or delivering the "county office copy" to the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which such certificate was issued. The "buyer's copy", shall be retained by the buyer and the "producer's copy" shall be delivered to the producer to whom such certificate was issued. The manner in which the marketing certificate shall be executed and distributed, in case the marketing is to a buyer not within the United States, is provided for in § 722.1280 (b).

(e) Receipts to producers for penalties. Where the extra long staple cotton is not identified by a marketing card, marketing certificate, or loan document at the time of marketing the "producer's copy" of the executed Form MQ–82—Cotton (ELS) shall be the receipt from the buyer to the producer for the penalty collected. The buyer shall report the giving of each such receipt to the producer by forwarding the "county office copy" of Form MQ–82—Cotton (ELS) to the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which such cotton was produced, as provided in paragraph (c) of this section.

(f) Time for making reports. Each report required by the foregoing provisions of this section shall be made not later than seven calendar days next succeeding the end of the calendar week in which the extra long staple cotton covered thereby was marketed.

(g) Buyer's record and report. In the event the county committee, or the State committee, has reason to believe that any buyer failed or refused to collect or to remit the penalty required to be collected by him for any extra long staple cotton which he purchased, or otherwise in any manner failed or refused to comply with §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289, the buyer shall, within fifteen days after a written request therefor by such committee is sent to him by registered mail at his last-known address, make a report verified as true and correct on Form MQ–100—Cotton (ELS) to such committee with respect to extra long staple cotton purchased or acquired by him from the person or persons specified in the request or purchased or acquired by him during the period of time specified in the request. Such report shall include the following information for each bale of extra long staple cotton, and each lot of extra long staple cotton less than a bale, purchased by such buyer: (1) The name and address of the producer from whom the extra long staple cotton was purchased; (2) the date on which the extra long staple cotton was purchased; (3) the original gin bale number, or if there is no gin bale number, the gin bale mark or other information showing the origin or source of the extra long staple cotton and, in the case of extra long staple cotton purchased in the seed, the number of pounds of such seed cotton and the known or estimated amount of lint in such seed cotton; (4) the number of pounds of extra long staple lint cotton in each bale, and in each lot of extra long staple cotton less than a bale, purchased from the producer; (5) the amount of penalty required to be collected under §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 and the amount of any penalty collected in connection with the extra long staple cotton purchased from the producer; and (6) the serial number of the marketing card or marketing certificate or a brief description of the loan document by which the extra long staple cotton was identified when marketed (if the extra long staple cotton was identified by a loan document when marketed, enter the loan number and the crop year or the form number of the CCC loan document and the date of the loan).

(h) Manner of submitting reports. The treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the extra long staple cotton covered by the report was produced, or his successor in office, is hereby authorized and empowered to receive, for and on behalf of the Secretary, each report required pursuant to this section. Each report shall be mailed or delivered directly to the said treasurer. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this paragraph, each report on Form MQ–82—Cotton (ELS) in connection with the purchase of extra long staple cotton marketed without the use of the means of identification provided by §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 may be mailed or delivered directly to the treasurer of the county committee from whom the unexecuted copy of the form was obtained.

(i) Penalty for failure or refusal to keep records or make reports. Any person engaged in the business of purchasing extra long staple cotton from producers who fails to keep any records or make any report as required by this section or who makes any false report or false record shall, as provided for in section 373 (a) of the act, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense.

§ 722.1278 Records to be kept and reports to be made by transferees. Each transferee who acquires extra long staple seed cotton or extra long staple lint cotton from the producer thereof shall keep the same records and make the same reports which are required to be kept and made by buyers pursuant to § 722.1277. Also, transferees shall execute applicable certificates which are necessary to enable the producer to keep the records and make the reports required of him.

§722.1279 Records to be kept by warehousemen and others. Each warehouseman, processor (including compressor), common carrier, and other person, as defined in section 373 (a) of the act, who buys, stores, processes (including compressing), transports as a common carrier, or otherwise deals with extra long staple cotton from, for, or on behalf of the producer thereof shall make available for examination and inspection by the Secretary, or by any authorized representative of the Secretary, the records kept in his business concerning such cotton, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept pursuant to §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 or of obtaining the information required to be furnished in any report pursuant to §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 but not so furnished. The Secretary, in conformity with section 373 (a) of the act, hereby finds such records to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to extra long staple cotton, the provisions of the act.

§ 722.1280 Records to be kept and reports to be made by producers—(a) Necessity for records and reports. Each person who produces in 1955, or who produced in any previous year, extra long staple cotton which is subject to the provisions of §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 shall, in conformity with section 373 (b) of the act, keep the records and make the reports prescribed by this section, which records and reports the Secretary hereby finds to be necessary to enable him to carry out, with respect to extra long staple cotton, the provisions of the act.

(b) Extra long staple cotton marketed to persons not within the United States (including Puerto Rico). In each case where extra long staple cotton for which a marketing certificate has been issued pursuant to § 722.1258 is marketed to any person not within the United States (including Puerto Rico), the producer shall enter the name and address of the buyer or transferee and indicate in the space provided for the signature of the buyer or transferee on each copy of the marketing certificate that such person is not within the United States. The producer shall retain the "producer's copy" of the certificate and the "county office copy" and the "buyer's copy" shall be mailed or delivered by such producer to the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the certificate was issued not later than 15 calendar days next succeeding the day on which the extra long staple cotton was marketed.

(c) Farm operator's report. The operator of the farm shall file with the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which the farm is located a farm operator's report on Form MQ–98—Cotton (ELS) in the following cases: (1) Where the producer is making an application for a downward adjustment in the farm marketing excess pursuant to § 722.1252, except that the county committee may waive this requirement in case it determines that the evidence otherwise submitted by the producer is satisfactory evidence of the actual production of extra long staple cotton on the farm in 1955; (2) where a farm marketing excess is determined for the farm but an application for downward adjustment in the farm marketing excess has not been filed and the county committee or the State committee requests the report in writing; and (3) where a farm marketing excess is not established but the State committee or the county committee determines that a farm operator's report is necessary for proper administration of §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 and requests such report in writing. Upon written request by the county committee or by the State committee for a farm operator's report on Form MQ–98—Cotton (ELS), the operator of the farm shall make the report in the manner specified in this paragraph not later than the date designated by such committee in its request. Form MQ–98—Cotton (ELS) shall show for the farm the following information or any part thereof as specified in such request: (i) The date harvesting of the 1955 crop of extra long staple cotton was completed on the farm, the date of the last ginning of extra long staple cotton produced on the farm in 1955, and the acreage planted to such cotton on the farm; (ii) the total number of pounds of extra long staple lint cotton ginned from the 1955 crop of cotton; (iii) the name and address of each ginner who ginned such cotton and the number of and net weight of bales or lots less than a bale ginned by him; (iv) the total amount of extra long staple seed cotton of the 1955 crop marketed; (v) the total amount of 1955 crop extra long staple lint cotton marketed; (vi) the amount of unmarketed extra long staple cotton of the 1955 crop on hand; (vii) the total number of pounds of extra long staple lint cotton produced in the 1955 crop year; (viii) the name and address of each buyer or transferee of 1955 crop lint or seed extra long staple cotton and the amount thereof marketed to him; and (ix) the amount of penalty paid by the producer or collected by the buyer or transferee.

§ 722.1281 Data to be kept confidential. Except as otherwise provided herein all data reported to or acquired by the Secretary pursuant to and in the manner provided in §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 shall be kept confidential by all officers and employees of the United States Department of Agriculture, members of county committees and State committees, county agents, and the employees of such committees and county agents' offices, and shall not be disclosed to anyone not having an interest in or responsibility for any extra long staple cotton, farm, or transaction covered by the particular data, record, information, report, or form; and only such data so reported or acquired as the Secretary deems relevant shall be disclosed by them to anyone not having such an interest or not being employed in the administration of the act and then only in a suit or administrative hearing under the provisions of the act.

§ 722.1282 Enforcement. It shall be the duty of the county office manager to report in writing in quadruplicate to the State administrative officer each case of failure or refusal to make any report or keep any record as required by §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 and so to report each case of making any false report or record. It shall be the duty of the State administrative officer to report each such case in writing, in triplicate, to the Office of the General Counsel of the United States Department of Agriculture, in accordance with instructions issued by the Deputy Administrator, with a view to the institution of proceedings by the United States Attorney for the appropriate district, under the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, to enforce the provisions of the act.

§ 722.1283 Extra long staple cotton produced by publicly-owned agricultural experiment stations—(a) Conditions of exemption. The penalty shall not apply to the marketing of any extra long staple cotton of the 1955 crop grown for experimental purposes only on land owned or leased by a publicly-owned agricultural experiment station and produced at public expense by employees of the experiment station, or to extra long staple cotton produced by farmers pursuant to an agreement with a publicly-owned experiment station whereby the experiment station bears the costs and risks incident to the production of such cotton and the proceeds from the crop inure to the benefit of the experiment station: Provided, That such agreement is approved by the State committee prior to the issuance of a marketing card for the farm.

(b) Issuing marketing cards. The county office manager shall, upon the written application of a responsible executive officer of any publicly-owned agricultural experiment station to which the exemption referred to in paragraph (a) of this section is applicable, issue a marketing card for the experiment station in the manner and subject to the conditions specified in §§ 722.1257 to 722.1260 inclusive.

§ 722.1284 Erroneous notice of extra long staple cotton acreage allotment. In any case where through error the producer is officially notified in writing of a farm acreage allotment larger than the finally approved farm acreage allotment and it is found by the county committee that such producer, acting solely on the information contained in the erroneous notice, planted an acreage to extra long staple cotton in excess of the finally approved farm acreage allotment, the producer will not be considered to have exceeded the farm acreage allotment unless he planted an acreage in excess of the allotment shown on the erroneous notice. The determination by the county committee under this section shall be subject to the approval of the State committee. The acreage planted to extra long staple cotton on the farm in excess of the finally approved allotment shall be considered as excess acreage for purposes of § 722.1285.

§ 722.1286 Availability of records. The State and county committees shall make available for inspection by owners or operators of farms receiving extra long staple cotton acreage allotments all records pertaining to extra long staple cotton acreage allotments and marketing quotas.

§ 722.1287 Designation of representatives of the Secretary to examine records—(a) Designation of representatives. In order to carry out the provisions of §§ 722.1276, 722.1277, 722.1278, and 722.1279, relating to the examination of records, the Deputy Administrator is hereby authorized and directed to designate in writing, with the counter signature of the State administrative officer, an appropriate number of persons from the officers or employees of the Department of Agriculture to act as the authorized representatives of the Secretary for the purposes of said provisions.

(b) Proof of designation. Each person designated pursuant to this section shall be furnished with a copy of his designation.

(c) Authorization to administer oaths. Each person designated pursuant to this section to act as the authorized representative of the Secretary is hereby authorized and empowered, pursuant to the act of Congress approved January 31, 1925 (sec. 1, 43 Stat. 803; 5 U. S. C. 521), to administer to or take from any person an oath, affirmation, or affidavit whenever such oath, affirmation, or affidavit is for use in any prosecution or proceeding under or in the enforcement of the extra long staple cotton marketing quota provisions of the act or §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289.

§ 722.1288 Redelegation of authority. Any authority delegated to the State committee by §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289 may be redelegated by the State committee.

§ 722.1289 Delivery of notices in Puerto Rico. Notwithstanding the provisions of §§ 722.1242 to 722.1289, where it is impractical or impossible to use the United States mail to serve the producer in Puerto Rico with the notice provided for therein, use shall be made of such other method of service as is available; however, when such other method is used the county committee shall make provision for keeping an accurate record of the date and method of delivery to the producer of any such notice.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of these regulations have been approved by and subsequent reporting requirements will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 3d day of June 1955. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] TRUE D. MORSE,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

Chapter VIII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Sugar), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter B—Sugar Requirements and Quotas

[Sugar Reg. 814.31, Amdt. 1]

PART 814—ALLOTMENT OF SUGAR QUOTAS

DOMESTIC BEET SUGAR AREA, 1955

Basis and purpose. This amendment is issued under section 205 (a) of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended (hereinafter called the "act"), for the purpose of revising Sugar Regulation 814.31 (19 F. R. 9326), which established preliminary allotments of the 1955 sugar quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area.

Omission of recommended decision and effective date. The record of the hearing regarding the subject of this order shows that the supply of beet sugar available for marketing in 1955 will exceed the quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area by an estimated 1,340,000 short tons, raw value (R. 24). The allotments established by this order differ significantly from the allotments of that quota established by Sugar Regulation 814.31. Thus, to permit the individual processors to plan their marketings within such allotments and avoid disorderly marketings, it is imperative that such allotments be placed in effect at the earliest possible date (R. 25). Since this proceeding was instituted for the purpose of issuing allotments to prevent disorderly marketings of sugar and to afford all interested persons an equitable opportunity to market, it is hereby found that due and timely execution of the functions imposed upon the Secretary under the act imperatively and unavoidably requires omission of a recommended decision in this proceeding. It is hereby further found that compliance with the 30-day effective date requirement of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237), is impracticable and contrary to the public interest and, consequently, this order shall be effective when published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Preliminary statement. Section 205 (a) of the act requires the Secretary to allot a quota whenever he finds that the allotment is necessary (1) to assure an orderly and adequate flow of sugar or liquid sugar in the channels of interstate or foreign commerce, (2) to prevent the disorderly marketing of sugar or liquid sugar, (3) to maintain a continuous and stable supply of sugar or liquid sugar, or (4) to afford all interested persons equitable opportunities to market sugar within the quota for the area. Section 205 (a) also requires that such allotment be made after such hearing and upon such notice as the Secretary may by regulation prescribe.

Pursuant to the applicable rules of practice and procedure (7 CFR 801.1 et seq.) a preliminary finding was made that allotment of the quota is necessary, and a notice was published on November 13, 1954 (19 F. R. 7354), of a public hearing to be held at Washington, D. C., in Room 3709 South Building of the U. S. Department of Agriculture on December 13, 1954, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., for the purpose of receiving evidence to enable the Secretary (1) to affirm, modify or revoke the preliminary finding of necessity for allotments, and (2) to establish fair, efficient and equitable allotments of the 1955 quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area for the calendar year 1955.

The hearing was opened by the hearing examiner at the time and place specified in the notice of hearing and thereafter was continued by him to a date and place to be later announced by public notice. Notice was published on April 27, 1955 (20 F. R. 2820) that the hearing, as continued, would be held on May 6, 1955, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. t., in Room 5860 South Building, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Notice was also published on April 27, 1955 (20 F. R. 2820), of a revision of the original notice of hearing (19 F. R. 7354) to permit the presentation of evidence relating to the proration of area deficits or deficits in the allotment for any allottee, and the effect on allotments of certain marketings of molasses.

Summary of testimony. The Government witness was the only witness testifying regarding allotment of the quota.

With respect to the necessity for allotment, the witness testified that the Secretary of Agriculture had made a finding in Sugar Regulation 814.31 (19 F. R. 9326) (Ex. 5) that allotment of the 1955 quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area was necessary to prevent disorderly marketing and afford all interested parties equitable opportunities to market sugar. In amplification of this finding, the witness testified that an estimated 1,610,000 short tons, raw value, of sugar was in inventory on January 1, 1955, or would be produced from 1954-crop sugar beets and would be available for marketing in 1955; and that, if only 85 percent of the estimated 1,800,000 short tons, raw value, of sugar to be produced from 1955-crop sugar beets was produced in the calendar year 1955, a total of approximately 3,140,000 tons of sugar would be available for marketing in 1955 within the quota of 1,800,000 short tons, raw value (R. 15–16, Ex. 5).

With respect to the method of allotment of the quota, the witness testified that the sugar beet processors named in Sugar Regulation 814.31 had unanimously recommended, in the form of a stipulation (Ex. 6), a schedule of allotments for the consideration of the Secretary (R. 16–17). Data on processings, past marketings and inventories during the period 1948 through 1954 were also introduced for the record (R. 19, Ex. 11).

The witness submitted for the record a joint request by the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company and Gunnison Sugar, Inc., that one allotment of the 1955 quota be made to the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company in a quantity representing the combined allotments which the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company and Gunnison Sugar, Inc., would otherwise receive (R. 21–22, Ex. 12).

The witness also proposed in the event the Domestic Beet Sugar Area quota is increased as a result of the proration of a deficit in the quota of another supply area; or, any allottee notifies the Department in writing that it will be unable to market as large a quantity of sugar as would be permitted within the allotment for that allottee, that the allotment of the 1955 quota be revised without further notice and hearing in order that such area or allottee's deficits may be prorated among the allottees able to supply additional sugar on the basis of their allotments established pursuant to this proceeding (R. 23).

The witness also proposed that a provision be incorporated into the order allotting the 1955 quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area which would provide for charges to allotments in accordance with the following recommendation which was unanimously recommended by all sugar beet processors: "If sugar beets or molasses derived from sugar beets are sold by a processor but retained and processed by such processor and the sugar or liquid sugar processed therefrom is delivered to or for the account of the buyer of the sugar beets or molasses, the marketing of such sugar or liquid sugar shall, at the time such sugar or liquid sugar is so delivered, be charged to the allotment of the processor who sold and processed such sugar beets or molasses (R. 23–24; Ex. 6).

* * * Allotments shall be made in such manner and in such amounts as to provide a fair, efficient, and equitable distribution of such quota or proration thereof, by taking into consideration the processings of sugar or liquid sugar from sugar beets or sugarcane to which proportionate shares, determined pursuant to the provisions of subsection (b) of section 302, pertained; the past marketings or importations of each such person; and the ability of such person to market or import that portion of such quota or proration thereof allotted to him. * * *

Each of the three factors specified in the foregoing provision of the act has been taken into consideration by measuring each factor respectively by the data in the record for each processor of recent crop processings, past marketings, and effective inventories combined with new-crop marketings. The interrelationship of the three factors as measured and weighted for the purpose of evaluating the schedule of allotments which was unanimously recommended by all of the sugar beet processors, indicated that such allotments would constitute a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of the 1955 quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area.

From evidence introduced into the record of this proceeding, it appears that Gunnison Sugar, Inc., is a wholly owned and operated subsidiary of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company and that all sugar processed by both corporations is marketed by the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company under contracts of sale issued in the name of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company. Upon the basis of this and other information contained in the record with respect to the interrelationship of the two companies, and in accordance with the request submitted jointly by the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company and Gunnison Sugar, Inc., one allotment is established for the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company equal to the total of the allotments which would otherwise have been established for both processors.

To assure that the marketing of sugar or liquid sugar will be charged against the proper allotment, a provision has been included in the order to cover the marketing of sugar or liquid sugar derived from sugar beets or molasses which are sold by one processor to another but which are retained and processed and the sugar or liquid sugar derived therefrom is delivered to the buyer or for his account.

Findings and conclusions. On the basis of the record of the hearing, I hereby find and conclude that:

(1) For the calendar year 1955 Domestic Beet Sugar Area processors will have available for marketing from 1954-crop sugar beets about 1,610,000 short tons, raw value, of sugar and if only 85 percent of the estimated production of 1,800,000 tons of sugar from 1955-crop beets is produced in the calendar year 1955, the total supply of beet sugar available for marketing in 1955 will exceed the quota by an estimated 1,340,000 short tons, raw value.

(2) The allotment of the 1955 quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area is necessary to prevent disorderly marketing and to afford all interested persons equitable opportunities to market sugar processed from sugar beets in that area.

(3) By taking into consideration the "processings of sugar or liquid sugar from sugar beets * * * to which proportionate shares, * * * pertained," "the past marketings," and "the ability * * * to market," of each allottee, it is found that the schedule of allotments unanimously recommended by all processors in the Domestic Beet Sugar Area and the quantities set forth in the order constitute a fair, efficient and equitable distribution of the quota for that area, and meet the requirements of section 205 (a) of the act.

(4) One allotment shall be made to the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company in a quantity equal to the total of the allotments which would otherwise be established for both the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company and Gunnison Sugar, Inc.

(5) The order shall be revised, without further notice or hearing, for the purpose of allotting any additional quota resulting from proration of deficits in the quota for other supply areas, or any deficit in the allotment for any allottee under the order, by allotting any such additional quota or deficit to other allottees who are able to supply the additional sugar in the proportion that the respective allotments of such allottees bear to the total of the allotments of such allottees under the order.

(6) To assure that the marketing of sugar or liquid sugar is charged against the proper allotment, it is necessary that the order provide for charges to allotments of processors who sell sugar beets, or molasses derived from sugar beets, but retain and process such sugar beets or molasses into sugar or liquid sugar for delivery to or for the account of the buyer.

(7) The quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area of 1,800,000 short tons, raw value, is equivalent to 33,644,860 one hundred pound bags of beet sugar.

Order. Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by section 205 (a) of the act, it is hereby order that § 814.31 be revised to read as follows:

§ 814.31 Allotment of the 1955 sugar quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area.—(a) Allotments. The 1955 sugar quota for the Domestic Beet Sugar Area is hereby allotted to the following processors in the amounts which appear in column (1) opposite their respective names:

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Plum Order 5]

PART 936—FRESH BARTLETT PEARS, PLUMS, AND ELBERTA PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

REGULATION BY GRADES

§ 936.502 Plum Order 5—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 36, as amended (7 CFR Part 936), regulating the handling of fresh Bartlett pears, plums, and Elberta peaches grown in the State of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Plum Commodity Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of plums of the Amador, Apex, California Blue, Earliana, Gros Hungarian, Satsuma, Improved Satsuma, Shiro, Splendor, and Standard varieties (hereinafter referred to as "miscellaneous varieties of Plums"), in the manner herein provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than June 10, 1955. A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, such plums must await the development of the crop thereof, and adequate information thereon was not available to the Plum Commodity Committee until June 3, 1955; recommendation as to the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such plums was made at the meeting of said committee on June 3, 1955, after consideration of all available information relative to the supply and demand conditions for such plums, at which time the recommendation and supporting information was submitted to the Department; shipments of the current crop of the miscellaneous varieties of plums are expected to begin on or about June 10, 1955, and this section should be applicable, insofar as practicable, to all such shipments in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 10, 1955, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., November 1, 1955, no shipper shall ship any package or container of miscellaneous varieties of plums unless:

(i) Such plums grade at least U. S. No. 1 with a total tolerance of fifteen (15) percent for defects not considered serious damage in addition to the tolerances permitted for such grade.

(2) Section 936.143 of the rules and regulations, as amended (18 F. R. 712, 2839; 19 F. R. 425), sets forth the requirements with respect to the inspection and certification of shipments of plums. Such section also prescribes the conditions which must be met if any shipment is to be made without prior inspection and certification. Notwithstanding that shipments may be made without inspection and certification, each shipper shall comply with all grade and size regulations applicable to the respective shipment.

(3) As used in this section, "U. S. No. 1" and "serious damage" shall have the same meaning as set forth in the revised United States Standards for plums and prunes (fresh) §§ 51.1520 to 51.1530 of this title); and all other terms shall have the same meaning as when used in the amended marketing agreement and order.

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

[Supp. 16]

PART 40—SCHEDULED INTERSTATE AIR CARRIER CERTIFICATION AND OPERATION RULES

OPERATION IN ICING CONDITIONS

In order to provide a clear understanding of what constitutes compliance with § 40.392 (b), the following interpretation is added. This supplement interprets the regulation to mean that no takeoff will be made when frost, snow, or ice adhering to any part of the airplane might adversely affect its performance.

A new § 40.392–1 is adopted to read:

§ 40.392–1 Operation in icing conditions (CAA interpretations which apply to § 40.392 (b)). No takeoff will be made when frost, snow, or ice adhering to any part of the airplane might adversely affect its performance.

[Supp. 13]

PART 43—GENERAL OPERATION RULES

ELIMINATION OF FLIGHT TEST

The purpose of this supplement is to (1) establish a policy whereby definite check procedures will be set up, before making a determination to eliminate the flight test required under § 43.21 of this subchapter, for ascertaining whether repair or alteration made to an aircraft will appreciably change its flight characteristics; and (2) set up for persons authorized to approve repairs and alterations to aircraft other than air carrier aircraft, criteria for determining whether a flight test is necessary. The following section is adopted to read as follows:

§ 43.21–1 Flight tests on aircraft prior to carrying passengers—determination of repairs or alterations which may have appreciably changed flight characteristics or substantially affected operation in flight (CAA policies which apply to § 43.21). (a) The flight test requirement of this section is not necessary where ground tests and/or inspections of an aircraft have been made which conclusively show that the repairs and alterations have not appreciably changed the flight characteristics or substantially affected its operation in flight.

(b) Because of the many types and variations of aircraft repairs or alterations, including engine changes, it is recognized that it is difficult to determine whether or not a repair or alteration has appreciably changed the flight characteristics of an aircraft, therefore an air carrier or other persons accomplishing repairs pursuant to air carrier maintenance rules, will include in the air carrier's or operator's maintenance manual a detailed outline, for the guidance of all personnel, which specifies the procedures and circumstances under which flight tests will or will not be required.

(c) When repairs or alterations are made to aircraft other than air carrier aircraft, persons authorized under § 18.11 of this subchapter to approve such repairs or alterations as airworthy should determine whether or not a flight test is required. In making such flight test determination, such persons should consider the following: the nature of the repair or alteration, adequacy of ground test and inspection procedures, adequacy of facilities and equipment for the performance of such tests or inspections and the service experience with a particular repair or alteration.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interprets or applies secs. 601, 605, 52 Stat. 1007, 1010, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551, 555)

This supplement shall become effective June 30, 1955.

PART 608—RESTRICTED AREAS

ALTERATIONS

The restricted area alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Panel, and are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Since a military function of the United States is involved, compliance with the notice, procedure, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is not required.

Part 608 is amended as follows:

1. In § 608.41, the Cherry Point, North Carolina, No. 1 area (R–123 formerly D–123), amended on December 3, 1952, in 17 F. R. 10903, is further amended by changing the "Description by Geographical Coordinates" column to read: "Beginning at latitude 35°46′30″, longitude 76°47′00″; clockwise along the arc of a circle with a radius of 60 statute miles centered at latitude 34°54′30″, longitude 76°53′00″; to a point 3 nautical miles from the shoreline at latitude 35°06′05″, longitude 75°51′05″; southwesterly paralleling the shoreline at a distance of 3 nautical miles to latitude 34°17′15″, longitude 77°37′35″; clockwise along the arc of a circle with a radius of 60 statute miles centered at latitude 34°54′30″, longitude 76°53′00″; to latitude 34°21′40″, longitude 77°41′30″; thence northeasterly along the east edge of Amber civil airway No. 9 to latitude 35°46′30″, longitude 76°47′00″; point of beginning."

2. § 608.41, the Cherry Point, North Carolina, No. 2 area (R–125 formerly D–125) amended on October 20, 1954, in 19 F. R. 2726, is further amended by changing the "Description by Geographical Coordinates" column to read: "Beginning at latitude 35°46′30″, longitude 76°47′00″; southwesterly along the east edge of Amber civil airway No. 9 to a latitude 34°21′40″, longitude 77°41′30″; clockwise along the arc of a circle with a radius of 60 statute miles centered at latitude 34°54′30″, longitude 76°53′00″ to latitude 35°46′30″, longitude 76°47′00″; point of beginning."

This amendment shall become effective on June 16, 1955.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

PART 141c—CHLORTETRACYLINE (OR TETRACYCLINE) AND CHLORTETRACYCLINE- (OR TETRACYCLINE-) CONTAINING DRUGS; TESTS AND METHODS OF ASSAY

PART 146c—CERTIFICATION OF CHLORTETRACYCLINE (OR TETRACYCLINE) AND CHLORTETRACLCLINE- (OR TETRACYCLINE-) CONTAINING DRUGS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 507, 59 Stat. 463, as amended by 61 Stat. 11, 63 Stat. 409, 67 Stat. 389; sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U. S. C. 357, 371) and delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs by the Secretary (20 F. R. 1996), the regulations for tests and methods of assay for chlortetracycline and chlortetracycline-containing drugs (21 CFR, 1953 Supp., Part 141c; 19 F. R. 1141) and certification of chlortetracycline and chlortetracycline-containing drugs (21 CFR, 1953 Supp., Part 146c; 19 F. R. 1141, 4279; 20 F. R. 3, 1377, 1551) are amended as indicated below.

1. Part 141c is amended by adding the following new section:

§ 141c.225 Tetracycline hydrochloride-nystatin tablets—(a) Tablets—(1) Potency—(i) Tetracycline hydrochloride content. Proceed as directed in § 141c.224 (a) (1) (i). Its content of tetracycline hydrochloride is satisfactory if it contains not less than 85 percent of the number of milligrams that it is represented to contain.

(ii) Nystatin content. Proceed as directed in § 141c.224 (a) (1) (ii). Its content of nystatin is satisfactory if it contains not less than 85 percent of the number of units that it is represented to contain.

(iii) Moisture. Proceed as directed in § 141a.5 (a) or § 141a.26 (e) of this chapter.

(b) Nystatin used in making the tablets. Proceed as directed in § 141c.224 (b).

2. Part 146c is amended by adding the following new section:

§ 146c.225 Tetracycline hydrochloride-nystatin tablets. Tetracycline hydrochloride-nystatin tablets are tablets that conform to all requirements and are subject to all procedures prescribed by § 146c.224 for tetracycline hydrochloride-nystatin capsules except that the expiration date is the date that is 24 months after the month during which the batch was certified.

3. Section 146c.222 Tetracycline hydrochloride oral suspension * * * is amended in paragraph (a) by changing the words "6.5 and not more than 7.5" to read "7.0 and not more than 8.0."

4. Section 146c.224 Tetracycline hydrochloride-nystatin capsules is amended in paragraph (a) by changing the number "250,000" to read "100,000".

(Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U. S. C. 371)

Notice and public procedure are not necessary prerequisites to the promulgation of this order, and I so find, since it was drawn in collaboration with interested members of the affected industry and since it would be against public interest to delay providing for the amendments set forth above.

This order shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, since both the public and the affected industry will benefit by the earliest effective date, and I so find.

Dated: June 2, 1955.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE, 1954

Chapter I—Internal Revenue Service, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter E—Alcohol, Tobacco, and Other Excise Taxes

PART 252—DRAWBACK ON LIQUORS EXPORTED

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

On February 16, 1955, a notice of proposed rule making with respect to regulations designated as Part 252 of Title 26 (1954) of the Code of Federal Regulations was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (20 F. R. 975). The purposes of the proposal were (a) to conform the regulations to FEDERAL REGISTER regulations as to form and arrangement, and (b) to implement the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. After consideration of all relevant matter presented by interested parties, regarding the regulations proposed, the regulations so published are hereby adopted, subject to the changes set forth below:

PAR. 2. Subpart B is amended as follows: § 252.14 is revised.

PAR. 3. Subpart C is amended as follows:

(A) Section 252.59 (d) is revised.

(B) Section 252.61 is revised by striking from the third sentence, which begins, "If the spirits", the phrase " 'For', 'Bottled for', or 'Bottled expressly for'," and inserting in lieu thereof the phrase: " 'For export by', 'Bottled for export by', or 'Bottled expressly for export by'.".

(C) Section 252.69 is revised by striking the fourth sentence, which begins, "Where distilled spirits", and inserting in lieu thereof the following sentence: "Where distilled spirits or wines had been dumped and rectified prior to September 1, 1954, a copy of each Form 122 covering such prior dumping of the distilled spirits or wines and each Form 237 covering such prior rectification shall be submitted and referred to, in lieu of a batch record Form 122."

(D) Section 252.86 is revised by striking the second sentence, which begins, "Wines bottled or packaged", and all succeeding sentences in the section, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Wines bottled or packaged especially for export by the proprietor of a taxpaid wine bottling house may be transferred by him, pursuant to execution of Form 1656, from the export storage room of the bottler or packer to any export storage room at the port of exportation for storage pending removal, for direct exportation or use as supplies on vessels or aircraft. Form 1656 will be executed in triplicate (or quadruplicate, if the spirits are to be transferred to an export storage room in another region) by the bottler, packer, or exporter. In the case of spirits and wines to be transferred from the export storage room of a rectifying plant or a taxpaid bottling house, all copies of Form 1656 will be submitted to the storekeeper-gauger for approval. In the case of wines to be transferred from the export storage room of a taxpaid wine bottling house, Forms 1656 will be disposed of as provided in § 252.88."

(E) Sections 252.87 to 252.89 are revised.

(F) Section 252.94 is revised by inserting in the first sentence, after the words "Provided, That", the following: "if the exporter is the bottler of the spirits or wines, or is the person for whom such spirits or wines were bottled, as indicated by the markings on the case, then the name of the exporter and the city and State in which he is located need not again be shown: Provided further, That".

(G) Section 252.119 is revised by inserting immediately after the phrase "within six months" the following phrase: "from the date of such requirement".

(H) Section 252.123 is revised by striking the third sentence, which begins "Letters and other documents", and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Letters and other documents in a foreign language must be accompanied by translations. The translation shall be signed by the translator and immediately above the signature will appear the following statement: 'I declare under the penalties of perjury that this translation has been examined by me and to the best of my knowledge and belief is a true and accurate translation.' When the letters fail to identify the goods sufficiently, the original sales account must be produced."

[SEAL] T. COLEMAN ANDREWS,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

D. B. STRUBINGER,
Acting Commissioner of Customs.

Approved: June 3, 1955.

M. B. FOLSOM,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

Preamble: 1. The regulations in this part shall supersede Regulations 28, 1940 edition (26 CFR (1939) Part 176).

SUBPART A—SCOPE OF REGULATIONS

§ 252.1 Drawback on distilled spirits, wines, beer and alcohol. The regulations in this part relate to the allowance of drawback of internal revenue tax on (a) distilled spirits and wines packaged, or bottled, especially for export, and beer brewed and manufactured in the United States, when exported or used as supplies on vessels or aircraft, (b) distilled spirits exported in distiller's original packages containing not less than 20 wine gallons each, and (c) domestic alcohol used in the manufacture or production of flavoring extracts, and medicinal or toilet preparations (including perfumery), upon the exportation of such products. Regulations relating to drawback of tax on such articles deposited in foreign trade zones are contained in Part 253 of this title.

§ 252.2 Forms prescribed. The Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, is authorized to prescribe all internal revenue forms required by this part, including bonds, applications, notices, reports, returns, and records. Information called for shall be furnished in accordance with the instructions on the forms or issued in respect thereto.

§ 252.3 Supplies upon certain vessels or aircraft. Distilled spirits and wines, bottled or packaged especially for export with benefit of drawback in accordance with this part, and beer, shall be considered to be exported for the purpose of drawback of taxes, when laden as supplies on vessels and aircraft as follows:

(a) Vessels or aircraft operated by the United States;

(b) Vessels of the United States employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business, or actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States or between the United States and any of its possessions;

(c) Aircraft registered in the United States and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions;

(d) Vessels of war of any foreign nation;

(e) Foreign vessels employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business, or actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, where such trade by foreign vessels is permitted; or

(f) Aircraft registered in any foreign country and actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the United States and any of its possessions, where trade by foreign aircraft is permitted, and where the Secretary of the Treasury shall have been advised by the Secretary of Commerce that he has found such foreign country allows, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges in respect to aircraft registered in the United States.

§ 252.4 Reciprocating foreign countries. The Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, will advise assistant regional commissioners concerning those foreign countries which will allow, to aircraft registered in the United States and engaged in foreign trade, privileges substantially reciprocal to the privileges allowed herein to aircraft of a foreign country. Assistant regional commissioners shall not allow claims for drawback on distilled spirits, wines, or beer, laden for use as supplies on aircraft of any other foreign country, which it is claimed reciprocates similar privileges to aircraft of the United States, unless it shall be established that such country does reciprocate similar privileges to aircraft of the United States. In such cases, the applicant should request the Secretary of Commerce to find and advise the Secretary of the Treasury that such foreign country or countries allow, or will allow, substantially reciprocal privileges to aircraft of the United States.

SUBPART B—DEFINITIONS

§ 252.10 Meaning of terms. As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires, terms shall have the meanings ascribed in this subpart.

§ 252.11 Alcohol. "Alcohol" shall mean that substance known as ethyl alcohol, hydrated oxide of ethyl, or spirits of wine, from whatever source or process produced, having a proof of 160 degree or more, but does not include the substances commonly known as whisky, brandy, rum, vodka, or gin, or other spirits produced at registered distilleries or fruit distilleries operated under Parts 220 and 221 of this title.

§ 252.12 Assistant regional commissioner. "Assistant regional commissioner" shall mean the assistant regional commissioner, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax, who is responsible to, and functions under the direction and supervision of, the regional commissioner.

§ 252.13 Beer. "Beer" shall mean beer, ale, porter, stout and other similar fermented beverages (including sake or similar products) of any name or description containing one-half of 1 percent or more of alcohol by volume, brewed or produced from malt, wholly or in part, or from any substitute therefor.

§ 252.14 Collector of customs. "Collector of customs" shall mean the person having charge of a customs collection district and shall also include assistant collector of customs, deputy collector of customs, and any person authorized by law or by regulations approved by the Secretary of the Treasury to perform the duties of a collector of customs.

§ 252.16 Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division. "Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division" shall mean the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

§ 252.17 Distilled spirits or spirits. "Distilled spirits" or "spirits" shall mean all the substances produced by the distillation of fermented grain, molasses, fruit or other materials, commonly known as spirits, whisky, rum, gin, brandy, alcohol, vodka, etc., and shall include rectified spirits, cordials, liqueurs and similar compounds, and other rectified products prepared with distilled spirits and wines, except where otherwise indicated.

§ 252.18 Exportation. "Exportation" shall mean a severance of goods from the mass of things belonging to the United States with the intention of uniting them to the mass of things belonging to some foreign country. The export character of any shipment will be determined by the intention with which it is made, and it assumes an export character only when destined for use in a foreign country. For the purposes of this part, shipments to Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Guam, and the Panama Canal Zone shall be treated as exportations. Shipments to Alaska, Hawaii, Kingman's Reef, the Midway Islands, or Wake Island are not exportations within the meaning of this part.

§ 252.19 Include and including. The words "include" and "including" shall not be deemed to exclude things other than those enumerated which are in the same general class.

§ 252.20 Inclusive language. Words in the plural form shall include the singular, and vice versa, and words in the masculine gender shall include the feminine, a trust, estate, association, partnership, company or corporation.

§ 252.22 Package. "Package" shall mean any cask, barrel, drum or other similar container, containing 5 wine gallons or more.

§ 252.23 Person or proprietor. "Person" or "proprietor" shall include natural persons, trusts, estates, associations, partnerships, companies, and corporations.

§ 252.24 Rectifier. "Rectifier" shall mean the proprietor of a rectifying plant.

§ 252.27 Regional Commissioner. "Regional Commissioner" shall mean the Regional Commissioner of Internal Revenue in each of the internal revenue regions.

§ 252.28 Tax. "Tax" or "internal revenue tax," for which drawback may be allowed, is the distilled spirits tax, the rectification tax, the beer tax, or the applicable wine tax imposed by the internal revenue laws.

§ 252.29 Taxpaid bottling house. "Taxpaid bottling house" shall mean a taxpaid bottling house qualified and operated under the provisions of Part 230 of this title.

§ 252.30 Taxpaid wine bottling house. "Taxpaid wine bottling house" shall mean a taxpaid wine bottling house qualified and operated under the provisions of Part 231 of this title.

§ 252.31 U. S. C. "U. S. C." shall mean the United States Code.

§ 252.32 Wines. "Wines" shall mean all kinds of still wine (including special natural wine), sparkling wine, and artificially carbonated wine.

SUBPART C—PROVISIONS RELATING TO DISTILLED SPIRITS AND WINES BOTTLED OR PACKAGED ESPECIALLY FOR EXPORT WITH BENEFIT OF DRAWBACK

DRAWBACK AUTHORIZED

§ 252.40 Allowance upon exportation. Upon the exportation of distilled spirits or wines manufactured or produced in the United States, on which an internal revenue tax has been paid, which are bottled or packaged especially for export, in accordance with the provisions of this subpart, there shall be allowed a drawback equal in amount to the tax found to have been paid thereon. Such drawback, in the case of rectified spirits mixed with wines shall include the distilled spirits excise tax, the rectification tax or the cordial tax (as the case may be), and the wine tax.

DRAWBACK BOND

§ 252.41 General. Whenever, as to any shipment, a certificate of foreign landing, as provided by § 252.114, is required by the assistant regional commissioner or an affidavit as to lading and intended use is required under the provisions of § 252.115, and the exporter desires drawback on the shipment of distilled spirits or wines under the provisions of this subpart prior to submission of such certificate or affidavit to the assistant regional commissioner, he shall file bond in accordance with the provisions of this subpart.

§ 252.42 Filing of bond. Where a drawback bond is required under the provisions of this subpart relating to distilled spirits or wines bottled or packaged especially for export with benefit of drawback, the exporter shall file with the assistant regional commissioner such bond on Form 1581, in triplicate, for distilled spirits, or on Form 1581–A, in triplicate, for wines. The bond must be furnished with acceptable corporate surety or secured by the deposit of proper collateral (see Department Circular 154, 31 CFR Part 225). A separate bond must be filed in each internal revenue region in which is located an export storage room from which withdrawals are made by the exporter.

§ 252.43 Bond prerequisite to claim allowance. Where a bond is required under the provisions of this subpart, no claim for allowance of drawback on distilled spirits or wines bottled or packaged especially for export, and exported or laden as supplies on vessels will be approved until the claimant has furnished the required bond, evidence satisfactory to the assistant regional commissioner of exportation, affidavit of lading and intended use as supplies on vessels, or proof of loss at sea.

§ 252.44 Bond procedure. Drawback bonds, Form 1581, and Form 1581–A, shall be executed, filed, approved, disapproved, superseded, strengthened, and terminated in accordance with the procedure prescribed by Part 235 of this title in respect to bonds required therein, in so far as such procedure is not inconsistent with the regulations in this part.

§ 252.45 Penal sum. The penal sum of the bond must be sufficient to cover the amount of drawback which will at any time constitute a charge against the bond: Provided, That such bond shall be furnished in multiples of $100 and shall in no case be in a less penal sum than $500. The liability under such bond shall be a continuing one, subject to increase as successive claims for drawback are allowed by the assistant regional commissioner, and to decrease as satisfactory evidence of exportation, lading for use on vessels, or of loss after shipment without negligence on the part of the exporter, as hereinafter provided, is received by the assistant regional commissioner. When the limit of liability under any such bond is reached, no further claims for drawback may be allowed thereunder unless the penal sum is increased sufficiently to cover the additional liability by filing a strengthening or a superseding bond in a sufficient penal sum.

§ 252.46 Authority to approve bonds. Assistant regional commissioners are authorized to approve all bonds and consents of surety required by this subpart. When a bond is approved, one copy will be returned to the principal.

§ 252.47 Bond to support claims. Drawback claims may be allowed from time to time under the bond as long as it remains good and sufficient, or until it shall have been released or terminated by the assistant regional commissioner.

ACCOUNT WITH DRAWBACK BOND

§ 252.48 Account with bond. The assistant regional commissioner will keep an account with each drawback bond, Form 1581, or Form 1581–A, in which the principal will be charged with the full amount in which each drawback claim, for which bond is required, is allowed. Credit will be given for the amount of drawback represented by the distilled spirits or wines concerning which satisfactory evidence of exportation, or of lading for use as supplies on vessels, or of loss outside the jurisdiction of the United States without negligence on the part of the exporter, as hereinafter provided, has been received.

PERSONS AUTHORIZED TO BOTTLE OR PACKAGE DISTILLED SPIRITS AND WINES ESPECIALLY FOR EXPORT

§ 252.49 Distilled spirits and wines. Persons who have qualified either as rectifiers or proprietors of taxpaid bottling houses under internal revenue laws and regulations, and have established export storage rooms at the bottling or packaging premises in conformity with, respectively, the provisions of Parts 235 or 230 of this title, may bottle or package, especially for export with benefit of drawback, distilled spirits or wines or both, manufactured or produced in the United States on which an internal revenue tax has been paid.

§ 252.50 Wines. Any person qualified as a proprietor of a taxpaid wine bottling house, who has established an export storage room at the taxpaid wine bottling house, in conformity with the provisions of Part 231 of this title, may bottle or package, especially for export with benefit of drawback, at his taxpaid wine bottling house, wines manufactured or produced in the United States on which an internal revenue tax has been paid: Provided, That prior to or at the time of filing the first notice of intention to dump wine for bottling or packaging especially for export with benefit of drawback, the proprietor shall give notice to the assistant regional commissioner of the location and construction of the export storage room.

EVIDENCE OF TAXPAYMENT OF IMPORTED SPIRITS AND WINES

§ 252.51 Customs certification on Form 1583. Where spirits or wines manufactured (rectified) in the United States from imported spirits or wines are bottled or packaged especially for export with benefit of drawback, the collector of customs at the port where the entry or withdrawal for consumption was made shall, upon application in writing by the rectifier, execute a certificate on Form 1583, in duplicate, showing that internal revenue tax has been collected on the imported spirits or wines described in the application. The original of the certificate shall be forwarded by the collector of customs to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the spirits were rectified. The remaining copy shall be retained by the collector of customs. Such certificates shall be serially numbered, beginning with number 1 for each customs district.

§ 252.52 Application for certificate. The rectifier must set forth in his application for the issuance of the certificate sufficient information to enable the collector of customs to identify the importation, such as the port of entry, the entry number, name of importing vessel or other carrier, date of importation, name of importer, marks and numbers of packages, and a description of the spirits or wines.

§ 252.53 Certificate required before approval of claim or transfer application, Form 1656. The assistant regional commissioner will not approve a claim for drawback, or an application on Form 1656, when the spirits or wines covered thereby are manufactured from imported spirits or wines, until the Form 1583 has been received.

§ 252.54 Gauging of spirits and wines. The provisions of Parts 230 and 235 of this title in regard to the gauging of distilled spirits and wines bottled or packaged for domestic purposes, including the measurement of rectified spirits, wines, cordials, and other products containing saccharine and other solid matter, shall be applicable to the gauging of distilled spirits and wines bottled or packaged for export with benefit of drawback, under this subpart.

STRIP STAMPS

(68A Stat. 602; 26 U. S. C. 5008)

CAPACITY AND USE OF BOTTLES

§ 252.56 Distilled spirits. Distilled spirits shall be bottled for export in bottles containing less than 5 wine gallons. Liquor bottles conforming to the provisions of Part 175 of this title may be used in bottling such spirits for export, but the use of such bottles is not required.

§ 252.57 Wines. Wines shall be bottled especially for export in bottles containing 5 wine gallons or less.

LABELS

§ 252.58 Labeling of distilled spirits. Distilled spirits bottled especially for export under the provisions of this subpart shall be labeled as follows:

(a) Kind of spirits;
(b) Name of bottler;
(c) City or town and State in which bottled;
(d) Proof of spirits;
(e) The words "Bottled for export from U. S. A.", and
(f) The net contents of the bottle, unless legibly blown therein.

Such additional information not inconsistent with the foregoing requirements as may be desired by the exporter may also appear on the label.

§ 252.59 Labeling of wines. Wines bottled especially for export under the provisions of this subpart shall be labeled as follows:

(a) Kind of wines;
(b) Name of bottler;
(c) City or town and State in which bottled;
(d) Alcohol content by volume, except that if not over 14 percent, either the type designations "table wine" or "light wine", or the alcoholic content, shall be stated;
(e) The words "Bottled for export from U. S. A.", and
(f) The net contents of the bottle, unless legibly blown therein.

Such additional information not inconsistent with the foregoing requirements as may be desired by the exporter may also appear on the label.

CASES

§ 252.60 Construction of cases. Distilled spirits or wines bottled especially for export with benefit of drawback may be placed in cases constructed of wood, fiberboard, or other material provided such cases are so constructed as to afford protection against breakage during storage in the export storage room or transfer or shipment therefrom. Cases constructed of wood shall have the outer surface of the side or end, upon which the required marks and brands are to appear, made of dressed lumber.

REQUIRED MARKS ON CASES AND PACKAGES

§ 252.61 Cases filled at rectifying plants and taxpaid bottling houses. Each case of distilled spirits or wines filled by rectifiers for export with benefit of drawback shall bear on one side the markings required by Part 235 of this title; and each case filled for the same purpose by proprietors of taxpaid bottling houses shall bear on one side the markings required by Part 230 of this title. Each case shall also bear on the same side the words "For export from U. S. A." If the spirits or wines are to be exported by a person other than the bottler, the name and address of the exporter, preceded by the words "For export by", "Bottled for export by", or "Bottled expressly for export by", may also be marked upon the case. The method of marking the cases shall be in accordance with the applicable provisions of Parts 235 or 230 of this title, as the case may be.

§ 252.62 Cases filled by proprietors of taxpaid wine bottling houses. Each case of wines filled by proprietors of taxpaid wine bottling houses for export with benefit of drawback shall be marked in accordance with the requirements of Part 231 of this title for cases of wine bottled for domestic use and in addition thereto shall be marked in a plain and durable manner, in a color contrasting with the color of the case and in letters not less than one-half inch in height, the words "For export from U. S. A." If the wines are to be exported by a person other than the bottler, the name and address of the exporter, preceded by the words "For," "Bottled for," or "Bottled expressly for," may also be placed upon the case.

§ 252.63 Packages of distilled spirits. Each package of distilled spirits filled for export with benefit of drawback shall be numbered serially beginning with "1" for the first package filled: Provided, That such serial numbers shall be in sequence to the series in current use for the numbering of cases or other packages for domestic use. Where cases and packages are filled simultaneously and it is impracticable to number the cases and packages consecutively, separate series of numbers followed by an identifying letter may be used for the packages. In addition to the serial number, there shall be plainly and durably burned, cut, imprinted, or stenciled on the Government head of each barrel or similar container of distilled spirits: (a) the kind of spirits; (b) the wine gallon content; (c) the proof of spirits; (d) the proof gallon content; (e) the tare of the container; (f) the date of filling; (g) the name of the packer; (h) the location (city or town and State) of the plant where packaged; and (i) the words "For export from U. S. A." If the spirits are to be exported by a person other than the packer the name and address of the exporter, preceded by the words "For," "Packaged for," or "Packaged expressly for," may also be marked upon the package.

§ 252.64 Packages of wines. Except as provided herein, the packer shall place marks upon packages of wine similar to the marks required by § 252.63 to be placed upon packages of distilled spirits. The tare need not be marked on the packages, the alcohol content of the wine shall be shown in percentage by volume in lieu of the proof and, in the case of unrectified wine, the proof gallons may be omitted.

STAMPS ON PACKAGES

§ 252.65 Packages of distilled spirits to be stamped. Every package of distilled spirits filled especially for export with benefit of drawback must have a wholesale liquor dealer's stamp affixed thereto. In the case of packages filled on and after the effective date of this part, such packages will be stamped at the time of deposit in the export storage room. In the case of packages filled prior to the effective date of this part, such packages will be stamped prior to removal or transfer from the export storage room.

§ 252.66 Issuance of wholesale liquor dealer's stamps. Upon receipt of Forms 237 or dump Form 230 with attached Form 1684 for inspection and supervision of the deposit in the export storage room of packages of distilled spirits filled especially for export with benefit of drawback, the storekeeper-gauger will issue a wholesale liquor dealer's stamp for each package listed on the form. When issuing the stamps, the storekeeper-gauger will enter the required information in the blank spaces on each stamp and sign the stamps. The storekeeper-gauger may enter his signature by means of a facsimile stamp, provided care is taken to use only such ink as will neither fade nor blur. Where an appreciable number of packages will be filled, the rectifier must provide the storekeeper-gauger with suitable rubber stamps for the insertion of information common to all wholesale liquor dealer's stamps to be used by him. Where filled packages are reported on Form 1684 attached to dump Form 230, the storekeeper-gauger shall enter in the proper column, on the original and each copy of Form 1684, opposite the package for which each stamp is issued, the serial number of the stamp. Where packages are filled pursuant to Form 237, the storekeeper-gauger shall enter in the column headed "Packages" (properly modified to show wholesale liquor dealer's stamp), in part 2, opposite the package for which each stamp is issued, the serial number of the stamp. The provisions of this section will be followed, insofar as applicable, in stamping packages filled prior to the effective date of this part. Memorandum report of such stamping will be submitted to the assistant regional commissioner.

§ 252.67 Affixing and canceling of stamps. The provisions of Part 235 of this title in regard to the affixing and canceling of wholesale liquor dealer's stamps to packages of spirits for domestic use shall be applicable to the affixing and canceling of stamps to packages of distilled spirits filled especially for export with benefit of drawback.

RECTIFICATION, BOTTLING AND PACKAGING AT RECTIFYING PLANTS AND TAXPAID BOTTLING HOUSES

§ 252.68 Other regulations applicable. The provisions of Parts 230 and 235 of this title, insofar as they are applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this subpart, shall govern the dumping, rectification, bottling, and packaging of distilled spirits and wines to be exported with benefits of drawback by proprietors of tax paid bottling houses and rectifying plants, respectively.

RECORDS COVERING PRIOR RECTIFICATION, BOTTLING OR PACKAGING

§ 252.69 Records of prior rectification, bottling or packaging. Where the spirits or wines bottled or packaged for export with benefit of drawback include spirits or wines previously rectified and bottled, or packaged, there shall be attached to the extra copy of the Form 230 or 237, required by § 252.71 to be submitted to the assistant regional commissioner, a copy of each batch Form 122 and Form 237 or Form 230 pursuant to which such spirits or wines were previously rectified, bottled, or packaged. In the event imported spirits or wines entered into the original production of the liquors, Form 1583, procured from the collector of customs at the port of entry and showing that the internal revenue tax had been collected thereon, must also be attached. The extra copy of the Form 230 or batch record Form 122 shall make reference to the batch record Form 122, Form 237, or Form 230, covering any previous rectification, bottling, or packaging. Where distilled spirits or wines had been dumped and rectified prior to September 1, 1954, a copy of each Form 122 covering such prior dumping of the distilled spirits or wines and each Form 237 covering such prior rectification shall be submitted and referred to, in lieu of a batch record Form 122. In the case of spirits or wines which have been previously bottled without rectification at rectifying plants or taxpaid bottling houses, Form 230 covering the original bottling must be attached to the extra copy of the dump Form 230 or batch record Form 122 submitted to the assistant regional commissioner. Where wine is used in a rectified product there will be shown on the batch record Form 122 or, in the case of spirits or wines rectified prior to September 1, 1954, on the dump Form 122, in addition to the other required information, the wine gallons and taxable class of wine so used. Where alcoholic flavoring material produced at premises other than a rectifying plant is used in a rectified product, there shall be inserted on the batch record Form 122 or the Form 237 covering the bottling or packaging of the product, a statement showing the name and address of the manufacturer of the product, the proof gallons used, the serial number of the package in which such distilled spirits or alcohol were received by him, and the rate of nonbeverage drawback allowed thereon.

§ 252.70 Distilled spirits or wines in bottles. Domestically produced spirits and wines may be dumped from bottles for rectifying, bottling, or packaging only when they are contained in cases as originally packed.

§ 252.71 Bottling and packaging procedure. Domestically produced distilled spirits or wines, including previously rectified products, received in cases, packages, or by pipeline, dumped for bottling without rectification under the provisions of Parts 230 or 235 of this title, may be bottled or packaged in whole or in part especially for export with benefit of drawback; or distilled spirits or wines dumped and rectified for bottling or packaging under the provisions of Part 235 of this title, may be bottled or packaged, in whole or in part, especially for export with benefit of drawback: Provided, That, where spirits or wines dumped for bottling without rectification are packaged for export with benefit of drawback, the rectifier or bottler shall report the gauge of each package on Form 1684, in triplicate, and the total wine and proof gallons so packaged, and the first and last serial numbers of each sequence, appropriately identified by reference to the Form 1684 and its serial number, in the report of cases filled on the Form 230; and attach a copy of the Form 1684 to each copy of the dump Form 230: And provided further, That (a) one additional copy of Form 230, or batch record Form 122 and Form 237, as the case may be, shall be prepared, and (b) the proprietor shall insert in each copy of Form 230, 237, or 1684 after the description of cases or packages filled, a signed statement of the serial numbers of the cases or packages of distilled spirits or wines bottled or packaged especially for export, as follows:

Cases (or packages) serially numbered ------ to ------ were ---------- especially for export with benefit of drawback.

The proprietor shall hold such cases or packages pending inspection by the storekeeper-gauger and his supervision of the deposit of the cases or packages in the export storage room.

§ 252.72 Reduction in proof of spirits. Unrectified distilled spirits may be reduced in proof prior to being drawn into packages. The reduction in proof or the increase in volume of rectified spirits on which the rectification tax has been determined is prohibited by law, unless the spirits are again rectified and the rectification tax again determined thereon. However, a restoration of the proof and volume of rectified spirits upon which the rectification tax has been determined, by the addition of water, preparatory to being drawn into packages, shall not be deemed a reduction in proof or an increase in volume within the meaning of section 5021 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. Section 5021 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 is not applicable to the reduction in proof of domestically rectified spirits exempt from rectification tax.

§ 252.73 Packaging from original container. Where authorized by the assistant regional commissioner, wines, cordials, and liqueurs that require packaging from the original container may be so packaged. A packer desiring to package such liquors from the original containers must request approval of the assistant regional commissioner, in writing, describing the liquors and showing the necessity for packaging the same from the original container.

§ 252.74 Deposit in export storage room. After completion of bottling or packaging and execution by the proprietor of his certificate on Form 230, 237, or Form 230 and attached Form 1684 of cases or packages filled and his statement as to the cases or packages of distilled spirits or wines bottled or packaged especially for export with benefit of drawback, he shall deliver all copies of Form 230, 237, or Form 230 and attached Form 1684 to the storekeeper-gauger. The storekeeper-gauger will inspect the cases or packages declared by the proprietor on the Form 230, 237, or Form 230 and attached Form 1684 as bottled or packaged especially for export with benefit of drawback and, in the case of distilled spirits in packages, issue and supervise the affixing and canceling of the wholesale liquor dealer's stamps as provided in §§ 252.65 to 252.67. He will then supervise the deposit of the bottled or packaged spirits or wines in the export storage room. The storekeeper-gauger will note on each copy of the Form 230, 237, or 1684 immediately following the proprietor's statement, a signed statement of his examination and the deposit of the cases or packages in the export storage room, as follows:

bottled or packaged especially for export were inspected by me and deposited in the export storage room on the premises on ----------, 19----.
Signed ----------
(Storekeeper-gauger)

The storekeeper-gauger will return all copies of the Form 230, 237, or Form 230 and attached Form 1684 to the proprietor who shall retain one copy for his files and forward the original and one copy to the assistant regional commissioner. Where rectified distilled spirits or wines are bottled or packaged a copy of the batch record Form 122 shall be attached to the Form 237 forwarded to the assistant regional commissioner.

BOTTLING OR PACKAGING BY PROPRIETORS OF TAXPAID WINE BOTTLING HOUSES

§ 252.75 Other regulations applicable. The provisions of Part 231 of this title, insofar as applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this subpart, shall govern the dumping, bottling, and packaging of wines to be exported with benefit of drawback by proprietors of taxpaid wine bottling houses.

§ 252.76 Notice of intention to dump for bottling or packaging, Form 230. The proprietor shall prepare a separate notice on Form 230, in duplicate, for each lot of wines to be dumped and bottled or packaged for exportation with benefit of drawback. All the applicable information indicated in the headings of the various lines of parts 1 and 2 and the instructions printed on the form or issued in respect thereto and as required by this subpart shall be furnished except as to information in regard to proof gallons. In addition there will be shown in an unused column of part 2 (properly modified) the percent of alcohol by volume of the wine. The proprietor shall insert in each copy of the form, after the description of the wines to be bottled, a statement as follows:

The above described wines are to be bottled (or packaged) especially for export with benefit of drawback.

§ 252.77 Approval of Form 230. All copies of Form 230 shall be submitted to the assistant regional commissioner for approval: Provided, That where a storekeeper-gauger has been previously designated to approve Forms 230 they shall be submitted to the storekeeper-gauger; or, where the assistant regional commissioner has authorized such bottling or packaging without prior approval of Forms 230, the proprietor may proceed to bottle or package without submission of Forms 230 for approval. Upon receipt of the approved Form 230 from the assistant regional commissioner or the designated storekeeper-gauger, if such approval is required, the proprietor may proceed with the bottling or packaging of the wine.

§ 252.78 Bottling or packaging procedure. Where the wine is to be bottled or packaged from a tank, the proprietor will attach one copy of Form 230 to a board provided for the purpose on the tank. Upon completion of the bottling or packaging operations, including the labeling, casing, and marking required by this subpart, the proprietor will remove the tank copy and in the case of bottled wine execute part 4 of both copies of Form 230, except as to information in regard to proof gallons. In the column headed "Proof" the percent of alcohol by volume of the wine will be shown. In the case of packaged wine, the proprietor shall execute Form 1684, in duplicate, and attach a copy to each copy of the dump Form 230. Where wine is bottled and packaged from the same lot, report of gauge on Form 1684 and entries on Form 230 will be made, as applicable, as provided in § 252.71.

§ 252.79 Deposit in export storage room. After completion of bottling, and casing, or packaging and execution by the proprietor of his certificate on Form 230 or Form 230 and 1684, as the case may be, of the quantity of wine bottled or packaged, he will remove the wine to the export storage room pending shipment, unless the wine is to be shipped immediately.

§ 252.80 Disposition of Form 230. The proprietor will forward the original of the completed Form 230 with Form 1684 (if any) to the assistant regional commissioner and retain the copy of Form 230 with Form 1684 (if any) in his files available for inspection by internal revenue officers.

§ 252.81 Destruction of marks on wine containers. When wines are dumped for packaging by a proprietor of a taxpaid wine bottling house all marks, labels, or tags, which the packages are required by law and regulations to bear, must be destroyed or obliterated immediately after the packages are emptied.

RECORD OF DISTILLED SPIRITS AND WINES BOTTLED OR PACKAGED ESPECIALLY FOR EXPORT

§ 252.82 Record by rectifiers and proprietors of taxpaid bottling houses. The receipt, rectification, bottling, packaging, and disposition of distilled spirits and wines bottled or packaged especially for export, with benefit of drawback, shall be entered by the rectifier on Form 45. All applicable information indicated by the headings of the columns and lines and the instructions printed on the form will be entered thereon. The receipt, bottling, packaging, and disposition of distilled spirits or wines bottled or packaged especially for export with benefit of drawback, by proprietors of taxpaid bottling houses, shall be entered on Form 52–D. All applicable information indicated by the headings of the columns and lines, and the instructions printed on the form, will be entered thereon.

§ 252.84 Semiannual inventory by proprietors of taxpaid wine bottling houses. Proprietors of taxpaid wine bottling houses shall show separately on their semiannual inventory of wines on hand (required by Part 231 of this title) the quantity of wine stored in the export storage room.

TRANSFER AND STORAGE PENDING EXPORTATION

§ 252.85 Establishment of export storage room at port of exportation. Export storage rooms may be established at the port of exportation by a proprietor of a taxpaid bottling house, rectifying plant, or taxpaid wine bottling house, under the provisions of Parts 230, 235, or 231, respectively, of this title, whether or not such proprietor intends to bottle or package distilled spirits or wines especially for export. An export storage room at a port of exportation may also be established by the proprietor of an internal revenue bonded warehouse contiguous to the bonded premises under the provisions of Part 225 of this title.

§ 252.86 Application for transfer, Form 1656. Distilled spirits bottled or packaged especially for export may, pursuant to approved application on Form 1656, be transferred from the export storage room of the bottler or packer to an export storage room established at the port of exportation by a rectifier or proprietor of a taxpaid bottling house or internal revenue bonded warehouse for storage pending removal, for direct exportation or use as supplies on vessels or aircraft. Wines bottled or packaged especially for export by the proprietor of a taxpaid wine bottling house may be transferred by him, pursuant to execution of Form 1656, from the export storage room of the bottler or packer to any export storage room at the port of exportation for storage pending removal, for direct exportation or use as supplies on vessels or aircraft. Form 1656 will be executed in triplicate (or quadruplicate if the spirits are to be transferred to an export storage room in another region) by the bottler, packer, or exporter. In the case of spirits and wines to be transferred from the export storage room of a rectifying plant or a taxpaid bottling house, all copies of Form 1656 will be submitted to the storekeeper-gauger for approval. In the case of wines to be transferred from the export storage room of a taxpaid wine bottling house, Forms 1656 will be disposed of as provided in § 252.88.

§ 252.87 Transfer from export storage room at rectifying plant or taxpaid bottling house. Upon receipt by the storekeeper-gauger of Form 1656 he will examine the form to see that all the required information has been properly set forth thereon and will then inspect the cases or packages described on the form. If they are in transferable condition and properly marked, he will release them to the proprietor for shipment and execute his report of inspection and release on the form. The storekeeper-gauger will deliver one copy of the form to the proprietor and, in the case of intra-region shipments, will forward the original and one copy to the assistant regional commissioner. In the case on inter-region shipments, an additional copy will be forwarded to the assistant regional commissioner.

§ 252.88 Transfer from export storage room at taxpaid wine bottling house. Upon shipment of the cases or packages of wine described on Form 1656, the proprietor of the taxpaid wine bottling house will execute the report of removal on all copies of the form, retain one copy, and, in the case of intra-region shipments, forward the original and one copy to the assistant regional commissioner. In the case of inter-region shipments, an additional copy will be forwarded to the assistant regional commissioner.

§ 252.89 Action by assistant regional commissioner. Upon receipt of Form 1656 the assistant regional commissioner will establish the rate of drawback on the distilled spirits or wines described in the application and make notation of such rate on the form: Provided, That where imported spirits or wines were used in the manufacture of the spirits or wines bottled or packaged especially for export with benefit of drawback, the assistant regional commissioner will not establish the rate of drawback on Form 1656 prior to receipt from the collector of customs of Form 1583. The assistant regional commissioner will, upon notation of the rate of drawback on Form

1656, retain the original when the consignee is located in the same region, and forward the remaining copy to the consignee. In the case of inter-region shipments, the original will be forwarded to the assistant regional commissioner of the consignee's region, a copy will be retained, and the remaining copy forwarded to the consignee.

FILING OF NOTICE, AND REMOVAL

§ 252.90 Distilled spirits and wines exported, deposited in foreign-trade zones, or to be used as supplies on vessels. Notice of intention to remove distilled spirits or wines from the export storage room for export, for use as supplies on vessels, or for deposit in a foreign-trade zone, shall be prepared by the exporter on Form 1582, in triplicate, for distilled spirits, and Form 1582–A, in triplicate, for wines. Where shipment is made for exportation for use of the Armed Services of the United States as provided in § 252.110, the destination may be shown as "foreign" with a specific destination in navy code and the name of the vessel will be omitted.

§ 252.91 Packages of distilled spirits and wines to be gauged. Where distilled spirits or wines to be removed have been packaged especially for export with benefit of drawback, the proprietor of the export storage room shall gauge the packages prior to preparation of his notice on Form 1582 or 1582–A: Provided, That where inspection discloses no evidence of loss and removal is made within thirty days from the time of packaging the distilled spirits or wines for export with benefit of drawback, such gauge shall be considered the gauge at time of removal. At the request of the proprietor, the storekeeper-gauger shall allow the proprietor of a rectifying plant, taxpaid bottling house, or internal revenue bonded warehouse, access to his export storage room for the purpose of making such gauge and the storekeeper-gauger shall supervise the gauging of the distilled spirits or wines by such proprietor. Report of gauge will be made by the proprietor on Form 1520, in triplicate (appropriately modified), and a copy of the report of gauge shall be attached to each copy of Form 1582 or 1582–A and considered a part thereof. The report of gauge will be checked by the storekeeper-gauger, by verifying the gauge of a representative number of packages, selected at random.

§ 252.92 Distilled spirits and wines to be used as supplies on aircraft. Notice of intention to remove distilled spirits or wines from the export storage room for use as supplies on aircraft shall be prepared by the exporter on Form 1582, in quadruplicate, for distilled spirits, and Form 1582–A, in quadruplicate, for wines. In part 2 of Form 1582 or Form 1582–A the exporter will show, in addition to the information required by the form, the number and size of the bottles contained in the shipment. One copy of Form 1582 or Form 1582–A shall be marked "consignee's copy."

§ 252.93 Removal from export storage room. Where distilled spirits or wines are to be removed from an export storage room at a taxpaid bottling house, rectifying plant, or internal revenue bonded warehouse, for export, deposit in a foreign-trade zone, or use as supplies on vessels or aircraft, all copies of Form 1582 or 1582–A, executed as to part 1, will be delivered to the storekeeper-gauger for inspection of the cases or packages and the supervision of their removal from the export storage room. Where wines are to be removed from an export storage room at a taxpaid wine bottling house, the cases or packages will be inspected and removed by the proprietor, without supervision by an internal revenue officer, upon completion of part 1 of Form 1582–A.

§ 252.94 Export marks. Before distilled spirits or wines are removed from an export storage room at a taxpaid bottling house, rectifying plant, or internal revenue bonded warehouse, for export, deposit in a foreign-trade zone, or use as supplies on vessels or aircraft, the exporter will place upon the Government head of each package or the Government side of each case, in plain and durable letters and figures the words "Exported by" followed by the name of the exporter, the city and state in which he is located, and the date of inspection followed by the name and title of the internal revenue officer who inspected the spirits or wines: Provided, That if the exporter is the bottler of the spirits or wines, or is the person for whom such spirits or wines were bottled, as indicated by the markings on the case, then the name of the exporter and the city and State in which he is located need not again be shown; Provided further, That in the case of shipment for deposit in a foreign-trade zone, there shall be inserted, immediately following the words "For Export From U. S. A.," the words "via foreign-trade zone No. ------." The name of the internal revenue officer may be placed on the case or package by means of a rubber stamp. The provisions of this section, insofar as applicable, shall be followed in the case of wines removed for such purposes from an export storage room at a taxpaid wine bottling house.

§ 252.95 Certificate of removal. The internal revenue officer will, upon releasing the spirits or wines, execute his certificate of removal on Form 1582 or Form 1582–A and deliver all copies of the form to the proprietor or, in the case of wine shipped from an export storage room at a taxpaid wine bottling house, the proprietor will, upon shipping the wines, execute the certificate of removal on Form 1582–A. One copy of the claim and entry will be immediately forwarded to the assistant regional commissioner by the proprietor and the remaining copies (one of them the original) will be delivered to the exporter.

§ 252.96 Claim and entry. The exporter will complete the claim and entry for drawback of tax on the distilled spirits or wines, on all copies of the Form 1582 or Form 1582–A received from the proprietor of the export storage room and immediately shall forward or deliver all copies to the collector of customs at the port of entry for export, except that (a) where the Form 1582 or Form 1582–A covers distilled spirits or wines for use as supplies on aircraft, the copy prepared and marked for the consignee in accordance with § 252.92 will be sent to the airline ordering the distilled spirits or wines at the airport where the distilled spirits or wines are to be delivered, or (b) where the Form 1582 or Form 1582–A covers distilled spirits or wines to be exported for the use of the Armed Services of the United States, and appropriate arrangements have been made with the collector of customs and a customs bonded warehouse has been established for use by the Armed Service's Port Transportation Officer, all copies of the Form 1582 or Form 1582–A will be forwarded to the Port Transportation Officer, or (c) where the Form 1582 or Form 1582–A covers distilled spirits or wines to be deposited in a foreign-trade zone, all copies of the Form 1582 or Form 1582–A will be forwarded to the customs officer in charge of the foreign-trade zone. Where a claim and entry on Form 1582 or 1582–A is signed by an agent, proper power of attorney authorizing the agent to execute the claim for the exporter must be filed, on Form 1534, with the assistant regional commissioner with whom the claim is filed.

SHIPMENT OR DELIVERY FOR EXPORT

§ 252.97 Consignment. All distilled spirits and wines withdrawn from export storage rooms for use as supplies on aircraft will be consigned to the airline at the airport from which the aircraft will depart in international travel, in care of the collector of customs. Upon receipt of the distilled spirits or wines they will be stored at the airport under customs custody until laden as supplies on aircraft. All distilled spirits or wines, intended for export or for use as supplies on vessels shall be consigned to the collector of customs at the port of exportation, except that (a) when the shipment is to a contiguous foreign territory it shall be consigned to the foreign consignee at destination, but stenciled or marked in care of the collector of customs or deputy collector of customs at the port of export, and (b) shipments for exportation for use of the Armed Services of the United States as provided in § 252.110 shall be consigned to the Port Transportation Officer at the port of exportation in care of the collector of customs. In the case of shipment to contiguous foreign territory, the carrier shall deliver the spirits or wines for customs inspection at the port of export before transporting the same to the foreign destination. All distilled spirits or wines intended for deposit in a foreign-trade zone for exportation or storage pending exportation shall be consigned to the customs officer in charge of the foreign-trade zone.

§ 252.98 Direct delivery for customs inspection. If the export storage room where the distilled spirits or wines are stored is located at the port of exportation, the exporter shall deliver the shipment for export or lading as supplies on vessels directly for customs inspection and supervision of lading. The drawback entry must be filed with the collector of customs at least six hours prior to the lading of the spirits or wines in order to allow opportunity for customs inspection. The exporter must file a copy of the export bill of lading with the assistant regional commissioner. The bill of lading must show the exporter as the shipper, the serial numbers of the cases or packages, as the case may be, and the quantity shipped in wine gallons.

§ 252.99 Shipment for exportation by vessel. In the event the export storage room where the spirits or wines are stored is located elsewhere than at the port of exportation, the exporter shall deliver the shipment either directly for customs inspection and supervision of lading, as in the case where spirits or wines are stored at the port of exportation, or to a common carrier for transportation to the port of exportation. He shall forward a copy of the transportation bill of lading and a copy of the export bill of lading to the assistant regional commissioner of the region from which the shipment was made, for attachment to the copy of the claim and entry, Form 1582 or 1582–A received from the proprietor of the export storage room.

§ 252.100 Receipt covering supplies on vessels or aircraft. If the spirits or wines on which drawback is claimed are for use as supplies on vessels a receipt covering the spirits or wines showing the marks, serial numbers, and quantity, signed by the master or an authorized officer of the vessel or steamship company, will be filed with the assistant regional commissioner, in lieu of an export bill of lading. If the spirits or wines on which drawback is claimed are for use as supplies on aircraft, certificate of use, in lieu of export bill of lading, will be obtained as provided in § 252.108.

§ 252.101 Exportation through border port. In case of exportation to contiguous foreign territory by rail through a border port, the bill of lading will show the routing and will cover transportation to the foreign destination: Provided, That where a through bill of lading is not obtainable, separate bills of lading covering the shipment from the export storage room to the border port and from the border port to the foreign destination will be procured. The bill of lading will also show that the shipment was sent in care of the collector of customs at the border port. A copy of the through bill of lading, or copies of the separate bills of lading, as the case may be, will be transmitted by the exporter or his agent immediately by letter to the assistant regional commissioner of the region from which the spirits or wines were released for exportation. The assistant regional commissioner will attach the copy of the bill, or bills, of lading to the copy of the claim and entry, Form 1582 or 1582–A received from the proprietor of the export storage room.

§ 252.102 Exporter's agent. In the case of shipments by carrier to the port of export, the exporter will make all necessary arrangements in respect to transferring the shipment from the terminal of the carrier to the dock, ocean transportation and other matters incidental to exportation with benefit of drawback. Such duties may be performed for the exporter by his agent.

PROCEDURE AT PORT OF EXPORT

§ 252.103 General. The collector of customs, upon receipt of the drawback entry on Form 1582, or Form 1582–A, shall cause the date and hour of receipt to be stamped on each copy of the form and shall deliver all copies to a customs officer for inspection or gauge and supervision of lading. The customs officer to whom the forms are delivered shall inspect the export containers of spirits or wines. He shall make such inspection or gauge as is necessary to establish that the shipment corresponds with the description thereof on the Form 1582 or Form 1582–A and the accompanying gauge report, Form 1520, if any. He shall examine the contents of such containers as are found broken, damaged, or tampered with, or which he is led to suspect do not contain the spirits or wines originally packed therein, and shall make a special report thereon. The customs officer shall note in his report any deficiency in quantity or discrepancy between the merchandise inspected or gauged and that described in the entry. After having complied with the order of inspection, and after the spirits or wines have been duly laden on board the exporting conveyance, or laden aboard aircraft and used thereon as evidenced by the certificate of use prescribed in § 252.108, the customs officer shall complete and sign his certificate of inspection and lading on each copy of the form. If the customs officer has reason to believe that the merchandise is not the same as that originally packed in the containers or discovers any evidence of fraud, he shall detain the merchandise and notify the collector of customs who shall inform the assistant regional commissioner, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax, for the region in which the port is located, in order that appropriate action may be taken.

§ 252.105 Exportation in sealed conveyances, from port of entry through another port. Where distilled spirits or wine packaged or bottled especially for export with benefit of drawback are to be exported in conveyances, such as railroad cars, trucks, etc., through a frontier port and it is desired to avoid delay of customs inspection and gauge at such port, the distilled spirits or wines may be entered for exportation at an interior customs port and inspected or gauged by a customs officer at that port, or by an internal revenue officer as provided in § 252.106. The inspecting customs officer will supervise the loading of the distilled spirits or wines, and seal the conveyance with customs seals, and note the identifying number of the conveyance (license number in the case of trucks), and the serial numbers of the customs seals (if numbered seals are used), in his report on both copies of Form 1582 or 1582–A, as the case may be, and forward the forms with a copy of the bill of lading to be furnished by the exporter to the collector of customs. The collector of customs will forward both copies of Forms 1582 or 1582–A to the customs officer at the frontier port, and retain the bill of lading pending return of Forms 1582 or 1582–A. If the customs officer at the frontier port finds upon arrival of the conveyance that the seals are intact and there is no evidence of tampering with the contents, he will execute his report on Form 1582 or 1582–A, and allow the conveyance to proceed to its destination without opening. The officer will then return both copies of the Form 1582 or 1582–A, to the collector of customs at the interior port of entry. If, however, the customs officer finds that the seals are not intact or there is evidence of tampering with the contents, he will open the conveyance, inspect and, except in the case of bottled distilled spirits or wines, gauge the distilled spirits or wines, and make report of his gauge on Form 696, in duplicate, or, in the case of bottled spirits, report in detail, in his certificate on Form 1582 or 1582–A, the loss found to have been sustained by each case. When the distilled spirits or wines are so inspected and gauged, the customs officer will append to each copy of Form 1582 or 1582–A a copy of his gauge on Form 696, if any, before forwarding the forms to the collector of customs at the interior port of entry. Upon receipt of Forms 1582 or 1582–A and the gauge reports, if any, from the customs officer at the frontier port, the collector at the port of entry will execute his certificate on both copies of Form 1582 or 1582–A, and forward one copy of each form, to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the export storage room from which the spirits were shipped is located.

ance (license number in the case of trucks), and the serial numbers of the customs seals (if numbered seals are used), in the certificate of inspection and lading on Form 1582 or 1582–A, as the case may be, and otherwise complete such certificate including the placement of his signature and title in the space provided for the customs officer, and shall perform such other related duties as may be imposed upon customs officers regarding inspection, supervision, and reporting of the shipment.

§ 252.107 Distilled spirits or wines for use as supplies on aircraft. When an airline desires to withdraw distilled spirits or wines from its stock being held at the airport under customs custody, as supplies for a particular aircraft, as provided in § 252.97, a requisition in triplicate will be prepared for presentation to the customs officer. The requisition shall show the flight number, the registry number of the aircraft on which the distilled spirits or wines are to be laden, the date of departure of the aircraft, and the brand, kind, and quantity of distilled spirits or wines. Where the distilled spirits or wines are contained in kits which have been previously prepared while the distilled spirits or wines are under customs custody, the kit number will also be shown on the requisition. Where the kits are not prepared and the distilled spirits or wines are withdrawn for direct lading on aircraft, the requisitions shall be serially numbered in lieu of the insertion of the kit number. When the distilled spirits or wines are withdrawn and laden aboard the aircraft, the lading will be verified by the customs officer by an appropriate stamp or notation on the requisition. One copy of the requisition will be retained by the customs officer who certifies to the lading for attachment to the outgoing manifest. The other two copies will be delivered to the airline which will retain both copies until the return of the flight. In case any distilled spirits or wines are removed from the aircraft upon its return, appropriate notation will be made on both copies of the requisition retained by the airline and one copy will be delivered to the customs officer for attachment to the incoming manifest. The remaining copy will be retained by the airline.

§ 252.108 Certificate of use for distilled spirits or wines used as supplies on aircraft. When all of the distilled spirits or wines represented by any Form 1582 or 1582–A have been withdrawn from customs custody, and laden and used as supplies on aircraft, the airline will prepare a certificate of use on which are itemized all requisitions for such distilled spirits or wines. The certificate shall show the name of the exporter, the entry number, the brand and kind of spirits or wines, and the number of bottles to be accounted for; and, as to each requisition, the requisition (or kit) number, the date laden, the registry number of the aircraft, the country for which the aircraft was cleared, and the number of bottles used. The certificate shall be in substantially the following form:

Name of Exporter _____
Entry No. _____
Brand and kind of spirits or wines _____
No. of bottles to be accounted for _____

No. of requisition (or kit number)	Date laden	Registry No. of aircraft	Cleared for (country)	No. of bottles used [1]

[1] The number of bottles shown in this column will represent the difference between the number withdrawn for supplies and the number returned unused as shown by the requisition.

CERTIFICATE OF USE

I hereby certify that the above described taxpaid liquors were withdrawn from stock in customs custody and were laden for use as supplies on aircraft as set forth and that the records of the aircraft show such liquors were used outside the continental limits of the United States as supplies on aircraft operated by this company in international travel.

When the form has been completed as to all distilled spirits or wines laden and used as supplies, the certificate of use will be executed by the authorized representatives of the airline. The form will be presented to the customs officer at the airport who, upon verification with the requisitions previously verified, will certify the form by appropriate notation and execute his certificate of inspection and lading on Form 1582 or 1582–A, noting thereon exceptions, if any, such as shortages, breakage, etc. The customs officer will forward both copies of Form 1582 or 1582–A, with the certificate of use attached to the original, to the the collector of customs.

§ 252.109 Certification of non-inspection. In the case of bottled distilled spirits and wines, whenever the inspecting officer is unable to certify to the actual inspection and lading of the spirits or wines, he shall make his return on Form 1582, or Form 1582–A, stating therein the reasons why the spirits or wines were not inspected by him and laden under his supervision. The officer shall, after the vessel, aircraft, car, or other conveyance has cleared, examine the records of the delivering and exporting steamship, or transport lines for the purpose of verifying the particulars stated in the drawback entry, and will make his certification accordingly. If the records examined show that containers of similar description were laden on the exporting vessel, aircraft, car, or other conveyance for the designated port, the officer shall set forth in his certification, in addition to other data indicated by the form, the date and hour of lading.

§ 252.110 Shipment to the Armed Services, certificate of lading. In the case of shipments of distilled spirits or wines with benefit of drawback for use by military personnel of the United States, the certificate of inspection and lading shall be executed by the Armed Services Port Transportation Officer at the port of exportation who shall also show the name of the vessel in his certification. All copies of the form will then be delivered to the collector of customs for execution of his certificate of clearance and forwarding of the form as provided in § 252.111.

DISPOSITION OF CLAIMS

§ 252.112 Allowance of claim. The assistant regional commissioner will, upon receipt of the claim on Form 1582 or Form 1582–A, accompanied by the certificate of use in the case of supplies for use on aircraft, from the collector of customs, examine the claim and the records of his office pertinent to the distilled spirits or wines covered by the claim to determine whether the spirits or wines covered by the claim have been fully taxpaid, the amount claimed is correctly computed, the claimant has complied in every respect with law and regulations, and that evidence satisfactory to him of exportation, lading as supplies on vessels, or lading and use as supplies on aircraft has been filed. He will then allow or disallow the claim in accordance with existing law and regulations. If the claim is not allowed in full, the assistant regional commissioner will notify the claimant in writing of the reasons for any disallowance.

§ 252.113 Allowance in cases of non-inspection. Where spirits or wines in casks, barrels, drums or other approved containers containing not less than 5 wine gallons are not inspected by a customs officer at the port of export and loaded on the exporting vessel, aircraft, railroad car, motor truck, or other conveyance under his supervision, a claim for drawback thereon shall not be allowed. Where bottled spirits or wines were not inspected by a customs officer at the port of export, and loaded on the exporting vessel, aircraft, railroad car, motor truck, or other conveyance under his supervision, the claim for drawback may, nevertheless, be allowed, provided that the law and regulations were complied with in other respects and the exportation without customs inspection and supervision of lading was not the fault of the exporter or carrier or the agent of either.

PROOF OF EXPORTATION, ETC.

§ 252.114 Evidence of exportation. Exportation of distilled spirits and wines bottled or packaged especially for export with benefit of drawback may, for the purpose of allowing claims for drawback of tax on such distilled spirits or wines, be evidenced by (a) a copy of the export bill of lading issued by the exporting carrier, or (b) a certificate by the agent or representative of the export carrier showing actual exportation of the distilled spirits or wine, or (c) a certification by an Armed Services Port Transportation Officer, as to the lading of the distilled spirits or wines for a foreign destination when shipped for exportation for use of the Armed Services of the United States, or (d) a certificate of foreign landing whenever the assistant regional commissioner shall have reason to believe that the shipment is not a bona fide exportation.

§ 252.115 Evidence of use as supplies on vessels. If the spirits or wines were laden on board a vessel for use as ship's supplies, there must be submitted promptly to the assistant regional commissioner with whom the claim is filed, an affidavit of the master or other officer of the vessel on which the articles were laden, having knowledge of the facts, showing that the spirits or wines have been laden and will be used on board the vessel, and that no portion thereof has been or will be landed in the United States or any of its possessions: Provided, That such affidavit will not be required, in the case of any shipment, when the distilled spirits or wines are laden on vessels of war or where the amount of tax on the distilled spirits or wines does not exceed $100.

§ 252.116 Evidence of use on aircraft. The use of distilled spirits or wines as supplies on aircraft will be evidenced by a certificate of use as provided in § 252.108.

§ 252.117 Landing certificate. Proof of the foreign landing of the spirits or wines shall, in every case where required under the provisions of this subpart, consist of a duly executed landing certificate except as otherwise provided in this part. The landing certificate must give such description of the spirits or wines as will readily identify the shipment to which it relates. It will be in substantially the following form:

_____, 19__.

I, _____, of _____
_____, do hereby certify that the merchandise hereinafter described, shipped by _____, on or about the _____ day of _____, 19__, has been landed at this port, on or about the _____ day of _____, 19__.

[SEAL] _____
Subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 19__.

[SEAL] _____
(Name)
(Title)

Marks and numbers	Number of cases	Name of articles	Quantity
			Wine gallons	Proof gallons [1]

[1] In case of wines, show taxable grade in lieu of proof gallons.

§ 252.118 Execution of landing certificate. The landing certificate shall be signed by a revenue officer of the foreign country to which the merchandise is exported, unless it is shown by the exporter that such country has no customs administration, in which case the certificate shall be signed by the consignee or by the vessel's agent at the place of landing and sworn to before a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths and having an official seal. The assistant regional commissioner will, upon receipt of a proper landing certificate, enter an appropriate credit in the account kept with the drawback bond or allow the claim, as the case may be.

§ 252.119 Time for submission of proof of exportation, etc. Whenever a certificate of foreign landing, affidavit of lading for use on vessels, or proof of loss after shipment is required under the provisions of this subpart as to any shipment of distilled spirits or wines bottled or packaged especially for export with benefit of drawback, such certificate, affidavit, or proof of loss, satisfactory to the assistant regional commissioner, shall be submitted to him within six months from the date of such requirement and such additional extensions of time as he may grant.

§ 252.120 Extension of time for submitting proof. In case the exporter, from causes beyond his control, is unable to furnish required proof of landing, affidavit of lading for use on vessels, or loss on land or at sea, within the time prescribed, he may make application to the assistant regional commissioner for an extension of time for production of the evidence. Such application must state specifically the cause of failure to produce the evidence and must contain or be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury. The assistant regional commissioner may grant one extension of 3 months and, if necessary, upon a second application an additional 3 months may be granted, provided the exporter's bond is good and sufficient.

§ 252.121 Proof of loss after shipment. When a landing certificate or an affidavit of lading for use as supplies on vessels or aircraft, if required under the provisions of this subpart, cannot be obtained in consequence of loss on land or at sea, the exporter shall file with the assistant regional commissioner for the region from which the distilled spirits or wines were shipped an application for relief, setting forth the extent of the loss and, if possible, the location and manner of shipwreck, railroad wreck, aircraft wreck, or other casualty and the time of its occurrence. Such application must be accompanied by the affidavits of two or more creditable, and disinterested persons as to the loss. If the goods were insured, the exporter shall also file certificates by officers of the insurance companies or board of underwriters that the insurance has been paid, and that to the best of their knowledge or belief, the goods were actually lost on land or at sea. When obtainable, the exporter must furnish affidavits of the master and mate of the vessel, conductor or other official of the railroad, or air line, or operator of the motor truck or other conveyance, detailing the manner and extent of the loss and the time and location of the disaster or other casualty. The assistant regional commissioner will, upon receipt of the required evidence, if satisfied therefrom that the merchandise was lost on land or at sea outside the jurisdiction of the United States and without fault or negligence on the part of the exporter, enter an appropriate credit in the account kept with the bond or allow the claim, as the case may be.

§ 252.122 Application for relief where proof of exportation or use cannot be obtained. In case of inability to produce the prescribed evidence of landing or lading for use as supplies on vessels, application for relief may be made to the assistant regional commissioner of the region from which the distilled spirits or wines were shipped. The application must contain or be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury and must recite the facts connected with the alleged exportation, setting forth the date of shipment, the kind, quantity, and value of the distilled spirits or wines shipped; the name of the consignee; the name of the vessel or aircraft, or description of the railroad car, motor truck or other conveyance, and the port to which the shipment was made; the date and amount of the bond, if any, covering such shipment. The application shall also state in what particular the regulations respecting the proof of landing or lading for use as supplies have not been complied with; the cause of failure to produce such proof; that such failure was not occasioned by any lack of diligence on the part of the applicant or his agents; and that he is unable to produce any or better evidence than that submitted with his application.

§ 252.123 Collateral evidence. Each application submitted under § 252.122 shall be supported by such collateral evidence as the exporter is able to submit. The evidence may embrace original or verified copies of letters from consignees advising the shipper of the arrival or sale of the spirits or wines, with such other statements respecting the failure to furnish the prescribed evidence of landing as may be obtained from the consignee or other persons having knowledge thereof. Letters and other documents in a foreign language must be accompanied by translations. The translation shall be signed by the translator and immediately above the signature will appear the following statement: "I declare under the penalties of perjury that this translation has been examined by me and to the best of my knowledge and belief is a true and accurate translation". When the letters fail to identify the goods sufficiently, the original sales account must be produced.

§ 252.124 Approval of relief application. If the assistant regional commissioner is satisfied from the evidence presented that the spirits or wines were duly exported from the United States and were landed at the designated foreign port or, for a good and sufficient reason, at some other port outside the jurisdiction of the United States, or were laden as supplies on vessels, and that the failure of the applicant to furnish the prescribed evidence of landing, or lading for use as supplies on vessels, was not occasioned by any lack of diligence on his part or that of his agents, and that the applicant is unable to produce any other or better evidence than that submitted with the application, he will indorse his approval on the application, and enter proper credit in the account kept with the drawback bond or allow the claim, as the case may be.

§ 252.125 Claim against bond. If any claim supported by a bond is allowed and the exporter fails to present evidence satisfactory to the assistant regional commissioner of the exportation, loss at sea, or lading for use as supplies, as required in this subpart, the assistant regional commissioner will make written demand upon the principal and the surety for repayment to the United States of the full amount of such drawback, plus interest, at the rate of 6 percent from the time the drawback was paid. If the amount demanded is not promptly paid, a copy of the bond, accompanied by a full report of the facts, will be forwarded to the United States attorney for enforcement of the claim by suit.

SUBPART D—DRAWBACK ON DISTILLED SPIRITS EXPORTED IN DISTILLERS' ORIGINAL PACKAGES

§ 252.135 Drawback authorized. Distilled spirits on which all taxes have been paid may be exported, with the privilege of drawback, in distillers' original casks or packages containing not less than 20 wine gallons each, on application of the owner thereof to the collector of customs at any port of entry and after making such entry and complying with other conditions as prescribed in this subpart.

§ 252.136 Allowance of drawback. A drawback shall be allowed on distilled spirits on which the tax has been paid and which have been exported to foreign countries. The drawback allowed shall include the taxes levied and paid on the distilled spirits exported, as per last gauge of said spirits prior to exportation. It shall be due and payable only after the proper entries have been made and filed, and all other conditions complied with as required by this subpart, and on filing with the assistant regional commissioner the proper claim, accompanied by the certificate of the collector of customs at the port of entry for export, that such spirits have been received into his custody and the internal revenue stamps thereon scalped and obliterated. Drawback will not be allowed for taxes claimed to have been paid on distilled spirits exported in packages not stamped, or upon which the name and location of the distiller and the date of taxpayment have not been marked.

§ 252.137 Application and entry. Any person desiring to export and claim drawback of the tax paid on distilled spirits in distiller's original casks or packages shall, at least six hours prior to the time for inspecting and gauging such packages by customs officers and the lading thereof, present to the collector of customs for the port from which the exportation is to be made an application and entry (in triplicate) on Form 1629, with part 1 of the form executed. All the information required by part 1, as indicated by the lines and the headings of the columns, and the instructions printed on the form, shall be furnished.

§ 252.138 Customs inspection, gauge, and supervision of lading. Upon receipt of Form 1629, the collector of customs shall cause the date and hour of receipt to be stamped on each copy of the form and deliver all copies to a customs officer. The customs officer shall inspect and gauge the packages and prepare a report thereof on Form 696, in triplicate, showing all the information called for by the headings of the lines and columns on the form and the instructions printed thereon. The customs officer shall scalp the stamps attached to the packages, by cutting out that portion of the stamp extending from the top to the bottom and embracing the entire width within the borders, affix such scalped stamps to the original of the Form 696, and obliterate the portions remaining on the packages. He will then cause each package to have stenciled or otherwise marked on the head the words "For export from U. S. A.", followed by the date of inspection, and superintend the lading of the packages aboard the exporting conveyance. The customs officer shall then execute his certificate of inspection, gauge, and lading, on the original and the two copies of Form 1629, and return the original and the copies of the form, with Forms 696 attached, to the collector of customs.

§ 252.139 Customs certification of clearance. Upon receipt of Form 1629, completed as to certification of inspection, gauge, and supervision of lading, and upon clearance of the exporting conveyance, the collector of customs will complete his certificate of clearance on the original and both copies of Form 1629. He will forward the original of the Form 1629 and the copy of Form 696 to the exporter and one copy of the Form 1629 and the original Form 696 (with scalped stamps attached), to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the exporter is located. He shall retain the remaining copies of Forms 1629 and 696.

§ 252.140 Claim. The exporter, upon receipt of Forms 1629 and 696 from the collector of customs, shall, on the basis of the rate of tax paid, and the quantity, in proof gallons, of distilled spirits shown by the customs gauge on Form 696 to be contained in the packages, compute the amount of eligible drawback on the spirits, and execute his claim for drawback of such amount, on the Form 1629 received from the collector of customs. He shall then forward the claim with invoices and required bills of lading to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which he is located. The exporter shall retain the copy of Form 696.

§ 252.141 Evidence of ownership. If the exporter is a person other than the distiller or warehouseman by whom the tax was paid, the exporter shall attach invoices or bills of purchase, as evidence of ownership, to the claim, on Form 1629 submitted to the assistant regional commissioner.

§ 252.142 Requirements for allowance of claim. The provisions of subpart C, relating to exportation of distilled spirits packaged especially for export with benefit of drawback are hereby made applicable to claims under the provisions of this subpart with respect to the filing of bonds, evidence of exportation (including bills of lading), landing certificates, proof of loss at sea, and applications for relief and extensions of time and the actions thereon, and to the allowance of claims and crediting of bonds.

SUBPART E—DRAWBACK ON BEER EXPORTED

Drawback Authorized

§ 252.150 Allowance on exportation. Upon exportation of beer brewed or produced in the United States, upon which the internal revenue tax has been paid, the brewer thereof shall be allowed a drawback equal to the amount of the tax paid.

§ 252.151 Authorized withdrawals. Withdrawals of beer for exportation or for use as supplies on vessels or aircraft, upon which the internal revenue tax has been paid as provided by law, may be made by the producing brewer from the brewery at which produced or from any place of storage, located elsewhere, operated by either the brewer or another person.

Marks on Containers

§ 252.152 Marks on containers. In addition to the marks and brands prescribed under the provisions of Part 245 of this title, each case, crate, barrel, keg, or other package, containing beer to be exported or to be laden for use as supplies on vessels or aircraft under the provisions of this subpart, must have stenciled or otherwise marked thereon in durable and legible letters the words "Beer for Export—Entry No. , Drawback Claimed" and the port of exportation. The entry number assigned shall be the same as the entry number shown on Form 1582–B. The letters and figures shall be not less than three-quarters of an inch in height.

Claim and Entry Required

§ 252.153 Beer exported, deposited in foreign-trade zones, or used as supplies on vessels or aircraft. Claim for allowance of drawback of internal revenue taxes on beer brewed or produced in the United States, and entry for exportation, deposit in foreign-trade zone, or use as supplies on vessels or aircraft, shall be prepared by the brewer thereof on Form 1582–B, in triplicate.

Execution of Claim and Entry

§ 252.154 Removals from brewery premises where produced. The brewer will execute part 1 and part 3 of all copies of Form 1582–B. All the information required by the headings and various lines of the form and the instructions printed thereon or issued in respect thereto and as required by this subpart shall be furnished. Upon removal of the beer from the brewery for shipment the brewer will (a) immediately forward two copies of Form 1582–B to the collector of customs at the port of export or, (b) in the case of shipments to the Armed Services of the United States for export, the brewer will immediately forward two copies of Form 1582–B to the commanding or supply officer to whom the shipment is consigned, or (c) in the case of shipments to a foreign-trade zone, the brewer will immediately forward two copies of Form 1582–B to the customs officer in charge of the foreign-trade zone. The remaining copy will be filed with the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the producing brewery is located.

§ 252.155 Removals from storage warehouse located elsewhere. The agent of the brewer will execute part 1 of all copies of Form 1582–B. All the information required by the headings and various lines of the form, and the instructions printed thereon or issued in respect thereto and as required by this subpart shall be furnished. Upon removal of the beer from the storage warehouse for shipment the brewer's agent will (a) immediately forward two copies of Form 1582–B to the collector of customs at the port of export or, (b) in the case of shipments to the Armed Services of the United States for export, the brewer's agent will immediately forward two copies of Form 1582–B to the commanding or supply officer to whom the shipment is consigned, or (c) in the case of shipments to a foreign-trade zone the brewer's agent will immediately forward two copies of the Form 1582–B to the customs officer in charge of the foreign-trade zone. The remaining copy will be forwarded to the brewer at the producing brewery. Upon receipt of the copy of Form 1582–B from his agent at the shipping warehouse the brewer will execute the claim for drawback on the copy of Form 1582–B received from his agent and file such copy with the assistant regional commissioner of his region: Provided, That if proper power of attorney authorizing the agent to execute the claim for the brewer has been filed with the assistant regional commissioner, claim on Form 1582–B may be executed and filed by the agent with the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the producing brewery is located: And provided further, That where the brewer operates more than one brewery in different regions and removals for exportation or for use as supplies on vessels or aircraft are made from storage warehouses, the copy of Form 1582–B with the claim executed, either by the brewer or agent, will be filed with the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the principal office of the brewer is located.

Shipment or Delivery for Export or Use As Supplies on Vessels or Aircraft

§ 252.156 Consignment. Beer intended for export or use as supplies on vessels or aircraft with benefit of drawback shall be consigned to the collector of customs at the port of exportation, or port of lading for supplies on vessels or aircraft, except that (a) when the shipment is to a contiguous foreign territory it shall be consigned to the foreign consignee at destination, but marked in care of the collector of customs at the port of export, or (b) where shipment is pursuant to an order from the Armed Services for beer for export, the beer will be consigned to a commanding officer or a supply officer of the Armed Services of the United States and such fact as well as the name of the officer and the location of the supply base or place of delivery will be shown on Form 1582–B in lieu of the name and address of consignee and name or number of the vessel or aircraft. In the case of shipments to a contiguous foreign territory, the carrier shall deliver the beer for customs inspection at the port of export before transporting the same to foreign destinations.

§ 252.157 Direct delivery for customs inspections; bill of lading. If the brewery or storage warehouse from which the shipment is made is located at the port of exportation, the brewer shall deliver the shipment directly for customs inspection and supervision of lading, and will promptly forward a copy of the export bill of lading to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the claim for drawback is filed: Provided, That (a), in the case of shipments to the Armed Services, the shipment will be delivered to the commanding officer or supply officer to whom consigned and an export bill of lading will not be required, and (b) in the case of shipment for lading for use as supplies on vessels or aircraft, an export bill of lading will not be required.

§ 252.158 Exportation by vessel. In event the brewery or storage warehouse from which the shipment is made is located elsewhere than at the port of exportation, the brewer shall deliver the shipment either directly for customs inspection and supervision of lading, or to a common carrier for transportation to the port of exportation. In the latter case he shall forward a copy of the transportation bill of lading to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the claim for drawback is filed, for attachment to the claim on Form 1582–B filed by the brewer or his agent.

§ 252.159 Exportation through border port. In case of exportation through a border port to contiguous foreign territory, the bill of lading will cover transportation to the foreign destination, and must show the routing, particularly the carrier which will deliver the shipment for customs inspection at the border port: Provided, That where a through bill of lading is not obtainable, separate bills of lading covering the shipment from the brewery or storage warehouse to the border port and from the border port to the foreign destination will be procured. The bill of lading will also show that the shipment was sent in care of the collector of customs at the border port. A copy of the through bill of lading, or copies of separate bills of lading, as the case may be, will be transmitted by the brewer or his agent immediately by letter to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the claim for drawback is filed for attachment to the claim on Form 1582–B filed by the brewer or his agent.

Customs Procedure

§ 252.160 Examination by customs officer. The collector of customs will deliver the original and one copy of Form 1582–B to a customs officer for inspection and supervision of lading of the beer. The customs officer shall carefully inspect the containers of beer described in the entry. He shall examine the contents of such containers as are found broken or tampered with, or which he is led to suspect do not contain the beer originally packed therein, and make a special report thereon. If the customs officer discovers any evidence of fraud, he shall detain the beer and notify the collector of customs who shall inform the assistant regional commissioner for the region in which the port is located, in order that appropriate action may be taken. The customs officer shall note in his report any deficiency in quantity or discrepancy between the article inspected and that described in the entry. After having completed his inspection and supervision of lading on board the exporting conveyance or the vessel or aircraft for use as supplies, the customs officer shall complete and sign the certificate of inspection and lading, on each copy of the Form 1582–B.

§ 252.161 Disposition of Form 1582–B by customs officer. After the customs officer has executed the certificate of inspection, and lading for exportation, and after receipt of the export or through bill of lading when required, he will retain the copy of Form 1582–B and transmit the original, with copy of bill of lading (if any), to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the claim for drawback is filed (as indicated in part 1 of the form).

Receipt for Export to Armed Services

§ 252.162 Certification by commanding or supply officer. Upon receipt of Form 1582–B and the beer described thereon, at the supply base or other designated place of delivery, the officer to whom consigned or other authorized supply officer at such place will, in the space provided for the customs officers certification of inspection and lading on Form 1582–B, receipt for the number of cases or packages received. The officer must also certify on the receipt that the beer will be shipped or delivered only for consumption or use outside the jurisdiction of the internal revenue laws of the United States. The officer shall then return one copy of Form 1582–B, so certified, to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the claim for drawback is filed (as indicated in part 1 of the form).

DISPOSITION OF CLAIMS

§ 252.163 Allowance of claim. Upon receipt of the claim on Form 1582–B, executed by the brewer or his agent, and the corresponding original Form 1582–B executed by the customs officer as provided in § 252.160, or by the Armed Services officer as provided in § 252.162 the assistant regional commissioner will examine the claim and the required documents submitted in connection therewith to determine whether the amount claimed is correctly computed, the claimant has complied in all respects with law and regulations, and that the evidence of exportation as provided in § 252.164 or evidence of lading for use as supplies on vessels or aircraft as provided in § 252.165 has been filed. He will then allow or disallow the claim in accordance with existing law and regulations. If the claim is not allowed in full, the assistant regional commissioner will notify the claimant in writing of the reasons for any disallowance.

EVIDENCE OF EXPORTATION OR LADING FOR USE ON VESSELS OR AIRCRAFT

§ 252.164 Evidence of exportation. Exportation of beer may be evidenced by (a) a copy of the export bill of lading executed by the delivering carrier so as to show that the beer has been accepted by such carrier for delivery to a foreign destination, or (b) a certificate by the agent or representative of the export carrier or by a proper U. S. Customs officer showing that the beer has been laden for export, or (c) a certificate signed by the port transportation officer or the commanding officer of a supply base showing that the beer will be delivered only for consumption or use by the Armed Services of the United States: Provided, That where the evidence of exportation described above is not furnished, or where deemed necessary to protect the revenue, the assistant regional commissioner may require the submission of other evidence of exportation as provided in § 252.166.

§ 252.165 Evidence of lading for use on vessels or aircraft. When beer has been laden on board a vessel or aircraft for use as ship's supplies or supplies for aircraft, there must be submitted promptly to the assistant regional commissioner an affidavit or statement made under the penalties of perjury of the master or other officer of the vessel or aircraft on which the articles were laden, having knowledge of the facts, showing that the beer has been laden and will be used as supplies on board the vessel or aircraft, and that no portion thereof has been or will be unladen in the United States or any of its territories or possessions: Provided, That such affidavit will not be required, in the case of any shipment, when the beer has been laden on vessels of war, or where the amount of tax on the beer does not exceed $200 and in such case certification by the customs officer of inspection and lading for use will be considered evidence of lading or use.

§ 252.166 Other evidence of exportation or lading for use on vessels or aircraft required. Where the data submitted as evidence of exportation is not satisfactory to the assistant regional commissioner, or where a shipment is laden on the exporting vessel or vehicle without customs inspection, or where evidence of exportation or lading for use as supplies on vessels or aircraft as prescribed in this part, is not filed, the assistant regional commissioner of the region from which the beer was shipped will require the brewer to furnish other evidence of exportation, lading for use as supplies on vessels or aircraft, or proof of loss on land or at sea, as provided in this part.

§ 252.167 Application for relief. When a brewer, from causes beyond his control, is unable to furnish the evidence required by § 252.164 or § 252.165 he may file an application for relief setting forth the reasons why such evidence cannot be obtained. The application must recite the facts connected with the shipment showing the date and lot number of the shipment, the kind and quantity of the beer shipped, the name of the consignee, the name of the port to which shipment was made, the name of the export carrier, or vessel or aircraft to which consigned and such other identifying information available. The application shall also show that failure to furnish the required evidence was not due to any lack of diligence on the part of the applicant or his agents, and that he is unable to produce any better evidence than that submitted with his application.

§ 252.168 Evidence to support application. Each application for relief shall be supported by such collateral evidence as the brewer is able to submit. The evidence may consist of original or verified copies of letters from consignees acknowledging receipt of the shipment, the sales accounts and payments for the shipments, copies of delivering carriers' bills whereon consignees have acknowledged receipt of shipments, affidavits of insurance companies, masters of vessels, railroad officials, and others having knowledge of losses on land or sea after exportation, or any other competent evidence the brewer is able to obtain. Letters and documents in a foreign language must be accompanied by sworn translations and when the letters fail to identify sufficiently the goods the original sales account must be produced.

§ 252.169 Assistant regional commissioner's action on application. The assistant regional commissioner receiving such application and evidence shall examine same and endorse thereon his approval or disapproval and if satisfied as to its validity will allow the claim for drawback.

SUBPART F—DOMESTIC ALCOHOL USED IN THE MANUFACTURE OF FLAVORING EXTRACTS, MEDICINAL OR TOILET PREPARATIONS, ETC.

§ 252.180 Drawback authorized. Upon the exportation of flavoring extracts, medicinal or toilet preparations (including perfumery) manufactured or produced in the United States in part from domestic alcohol, there shall be allowed a drawback equal in amount to the internal revenue tax found to have been paid on the alcohol so used.

§ 252.181 Customs procedure. Exporters of extracts, medicinal or toilet preparations (including perfumery) manufactured or produced in the United States in part from domestic alcohol, in filing claims for drawback of the internal revenue tax paid upon the alcohol so used, shall follow the procedure prescribed in Chapter I, of Title 19, of the Code of Federal Regulations.

§ 252.182 Application for taxpaid certificate. The exporter or manufacturer, desiring to obtain drawback, shall submit application in writing directly to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the alcohol was withdrawn for the issuance to the collector of customs of a taxpaid certificate. The application shall state the quantity of alcohol in taxable gallons, the serial number of each package, the serial number of the stamp, the amount of tax paid on the alcohol, the name, registry number, and location of the warehouse, the date of withdrawal, the name of the manufacturer using the alcohol in producing the article or articles to be exported, the address of the manufacturer and of his manufacturing plant, and the port where the drawback claim will be filed. If the application is accompanied by Customs Form 7545, showing any of such data, the data so shown need not be repeated in the application.

§ 252.183 Submission of claim. Request for the allowance of drawback shall be addressed to the assistant regional commissioner for the region in which the product covered by the drawback claim was manufactured, and will be submitted to the collector of customs, who will forward it, together with the customs Form 4539, to the assistant regional commissioner. If Form 4539 covers alcohol used under more than one certificate on Form 646, the Form 4539 shall specify the quantity chargeable against each certificate, Form 646, and the serial number of each such certificate.

§ 252.184 Action by assistant regional commissioner. Upon receipt of the request for payment of drawback and the customs Form 4539, the assistant regional commissioner will examine the request and supporting documents, and allow or disallow the claim in accordance with existing law and regulations. If the claim is not allowed in full, the assistant regional commissioner will notify the claimant in writing of the reasons for any disallowance.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter V—Department of the Army

Subchapter G—Procurement

PART 596—CONTRACT CLAUSES

PART 598—PATENTS, COPYRIGHTS AND TECHNICAL DATA

PART 602—GOVERNMENT PROPERTY

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. In F. R. Document 55–4046, published in 20 F. R. 3502, May 19, 1955, paragraph 12, appearing on page 3507, is corrected by changing portions reading "602.1701–1" to read: "602.1707–1".

2. Section 596.050 is revised to read as follows:

§ 596.050 Applicability. This part is applicable not only to contract clauses but to approved contract forms prescribed in Part 16 of this title and Part 605 of this subchapter. Contract forms and clauses prescribed by Chapter I, of this title or this subchapter must be used in accordance therewith unless the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics grants a deviation (§ 1.109 of this title and § 590.109 of this subchapter). Other forms and clauses previously approved and currently in use in the respective Procuring Activities may continue to be used in accordance with instruction of such Activities, provided such forms and clauses are not inconsistent with Chapter I of this title or this subchapter. Contract forms and clauses prescribed or approved by Chapter 1 of this title or this subchapter may not be modified except as a variation in the prescribed or approved form or clause expressly permitted by Chapter I of this title or this subchapter, or by the addition of provisions supplementary to and consistent with a prescribed or approved form or clause. In those cases where applicability of a particular contract form or clause may be in doubt, Contracting Officers will request interpretations of the Chief, Purchases Branch, Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics, Department of the Army, through the Head of the Procuring Activity involved.

3. Part 598, Patents, Copyrights, and Technical Data, is revised to read as follows:

§ 598.000 Scope of part. This part sets forth administrative requirements, procedures, and other pertinent information in connection with (a) clauses in various types of contracts securing to the United States Government appropriate patent rights and adequate protection against patent infringement risks; (b) use of copyright and technical data clauses in Army contracts; (c) security requirements covering patent applications containing classified subject matter filed by Contractors; (d) adjustment of royalties payable by Army Contractors; (e) claims arising out of the use by the Army or Army Contractors of adversely owned inventions and the settlement or other disposition of such claims; and (f) procurement by the Army of invention rights other than as an incident to the settlement of claims.

§ 598.050 Definitions. As used in this section the following terms have the meanings assigned:

(a) Chief, Patent Division. The term "Chief, Patents Division" means the Chief, Patents Division, Office of The Judge Advocate General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C.

(b) Designee. The term "Designee" means any office, board, or person delegated, or designated to exercise, powers and authorities under any of the "applicable statutes" listed in § 598.105.

(c) Such claim. The terms "such claim" and "such a claim" mean a claim against the United States which in fact has been asserted or a claim (based upon actual past procurement and not contemplated procurement) which may reasonably be anticipated, under any of the "applicable statutes" listed in § 598.105.

SUBPART A—PATENTS

§ 598.102–1 Authorization and consent in contracts for supplies. The clause set forth in § 9.102–1 of this title shall be included in all contracts for supplies (including construction work) except as otherwise authorized by § 9.102–2 of this title as limited by § 598.102–2. This requirement does not apply to small purchase procedures (Subpart F of Part 592 of this subchapter) or to Purchase orders of $5,000 and less or delivery orders (§ 16.003 of this title).

§ 598.102–2 Authorization and consent in contracts for research or development. The clause set for in § 9.102–2 of this title shall be included in all contracts calling exclusively for research or development work, and may otherwise be included only in those Army contracts for both supplies and research or development work in which the research or development work is the primary purpose of the contract. In all other contracts for both supplies and research or development work, the clause set forth in § 9.102–1 of this title, shall be used.

§ 598.103–1 Patent indemnification in formally advertised contracts-commercial status predetermined. (a) In the case of any contract for supplies in an amount of $5,000 or more to be awarded by formal advertising, the Contracting Officer shall make a determination prior to issuance of the invitation for bids as to whether the supplies to be procured (or such supplies apart from relatively minor modifications to be made thereto) normally are or have been sold or offered for sale by any supplier to the public in the commercial open market. If it is determined that the supplies are or have been sold or offered for sale, the contract shall include the clause set forth in § 9.103–1 of this title.

(b) Any items to be excluded in accordance with § 9.103–1 (b) of this title shall be listed in detail rather than in general terms.

§ 598.103–2 Patent indemnification in formally advertised contracts-commer- cial status not predetermined. The clause set forth in § 9.103–2 of this title shall not be included in an Army contract without prior approval of the Chief, Purchases Branch, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics.

§ 598.103–4 Waiver of indemnity by the Government. Special patents may be excluded in accordance with § 9.103–4 of this title only with prior approval of the Chief, Purchases Branch, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics.

§ 598.103–50 Indemnification of Contractor by the Government. No provision whereby the Government expressly agrees to indemnify the Contractor against liability for patent infringement shall be included in any contract. Ordinarily, any demands of a Contractor in this respect can be satisfied by the modification or elimination of the patent indemnity clause (when authorized by § 9.103 of this title and § 598.103) and insertion of the authorization and consent clause (§ 9.102–1 or § 9.102–2 of this title).

§ 598.104 Notice and assistance. For proper action to be taken by Contracting Officers or others with respect to reports, received by them, of claims of patent infringement asserted against a Contractor or a subcontractor, see § 598.105–53.

§ 598.105 Processing of infringement claims. The policy of the Department of the Army, applicable statutes, administrative requirements, procedures, and other pertinent information in connection with investigation and disposition of "such claims" as defined in § 598.050 (c), and contracts or agreements in settlement of such claims, including suggested contract forms and mandatory and suggested articles to be used in such contracts are set forth below. The following are applicable statutes:

(a) Mutual Security Act. Section 506 of the Mutual Security Act of 1954 (22 U. S. C. 1758) provides that whenever in the furnishing of any assistance under the act (1) use within the United States, without authorization of the owner, is made of a patented invention, or (2) damage to the owner results from disclosure of "information" as defined in section 506 by reason of acts of the United States, the exclusive remedy shall be by suit against the United States for reasonable and entire compensation for unauthorized use of disclosure. The head of the furnishing agency is authorized before suit is instituted to enter into agreements settling claims brought under this section.

(b) Invention Secrecy Act. Title 35, U. S. Code, sections 181–188 (sometimes referred to as the Invention Secrecy Act), provide for the withholding of the grant of a patent through the issuance of a secrecy order, for such time as the national interest requires, in those cases where the patent application discloses an invention the publication of which would be detrimental to the national security of the United States. Section 183 authorizes the Department which caused the issuance of the order to enter into an agreement with the owner of an application, which except for the secrecy order would issue as a patent, in full settlement for the damage caused by the secrecy order and/or the use of the invention by the Government, resulting from his disclosure. If full settlement cannot be effected, the head of the Department concerned may award and pay a sum not exceeding 75 percent of the sum considered to be just compensation for the damage and/or use. Section 183 also provides for suit by the owner of the application for an amount which when added to the award would constitute just compensation for the damage and/or use. The act further provides that a patent owner who does not apply administratively for compensation is given the right to sue in the Court of Claims for just compensation for the damage caused by reason of the secrecy order and/or use by the Government of the invention resulting from his disclosure.

(c) Title 31, U. S. Code, section 649b. Title 31, U. S. Code, section 649b provides that:

> Appropriations for the military departments available for procurement or manufacture of supplies, equipment, and materials shall hereafter be available for the purchase or other acquisition of (a) copyrights, letters patent, applications for letters patent, (b) licenses under copyrights, under letters patent, and under applications for letters patent, and (c) designs, processes, and manufacturing data; and shall also be available for the purchase or other acquisition or releases, before suit is brought, for past infringement of letters patent. Any such purchase or other acquisition shall pertain to supplies, equipment, materials, or processes produced or used by or for, or useful to, the department concerned.

In connection with the "purchase or other acquisition of releases" of past infringement mentioned in the quoted language, the basic statutory provision dealing with infringement by or for the Government is Title 28, U. S. Code, section 1498. This section provides that whenever an invention described in and covered by a patent of the United States is, without license or other right, used or manufactured by the United States, or by any person, firm, or corporation for the United States and with its authorization and consent, the patent owner's remedy shall be by suit against the United States in the Court of Claims for the recovery of his reasonable and entire compensation for such use or manufacture. The statute also provides that a Government employee shall have the right to bring such a suit against the Government except where he was in a position to order, influence, or induce use of the invention by the Government. The statute also provides that it shall not confer a right of action on any patentee or his assignee with respect to any invention discovered or invented by a person while in the employment or service of the United States, where the invention was related to the official functions of the employee, in cases in which such functions included research and development, or in the making of which Government time, materials, or facilities were used.

§ 598.105–50 General policy. In order to maintain the good will of United States industry, to encourage invention and the development of scientific arts related to national defense, to dispose of past and avoid future infringement of privately owned rights in inventions and under United States letters patent, and to avoid litigation and attendant nonproductive time, it is the policy of the Department of the Army to settle claims for compensation for past infringement of such rights, and also to obtain necessary rights with respect to such inventions in view of contemplated Department procurement, where it is in the Government's interest to do so and when such rights can be obtained at not more than fair value. To this end, an investigation of each such claim shall be made in accordance with the instructions and procedures set forth in §§ 598.105–53 thru 598.105–57. If any patent upon which such a claim is based is found to be infringed, valid, and enforceable, and it is deemed advisable by the Designee, efforts to settle such claim, before suit against the United States has been instituted, shall be made in accordance with §§ 598.105–58 thru 598.105–62. Coordination with the Departments of the Navy and Air Force in the processing and final disposition of each such claim shall be effected by the Chief, Patents Division.

§ 598.105–51 Authority—(a) Purchase of releases of past infringement and licenses. By virtue of 31 U. S. C. 649b (text set forth in § 598.105 (c)), each of the Military Departments is authorized to purchase or otherwise acquire certain patent and other rights. The following are hereby authorized to make purchases in accordance with 31 U. S. C. 649b:

(1) Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics.

(2) Chief, Procurement Division, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics.

(3) Chief, Purchases Branch, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics.

(4) Chiefs of technical services.

(5) Chief, Armed Service Medical Procurement Agency.

(6) Designees of any of the foregoing.

(b) Claims under Mutual Security Acts. The chiefs of the technical services have been delegated authority to enter into agreements in settlement of claims asserted under the Mutual Security Act of 1951. Similar delegations of authority conferred by Section 506 of the Mutual Security Act of 1954 are in preparation.

§ 598.105–52 Duties of designees—(a) Duties. Each Designee is charged with the duty of taking appropriate action, on behalf of the Department of the Army, with respect to each such claim pertaining to the procurement responsibility of his service promptly after knowledge of the claim is brought to his attention. Such action includes the following:

(1) Acknowledging in writing receipt of the communication in which such claim is asserted. An authorized form of acknowledgement is set forth in § 598.105–54.

(2) Requiring the representative of the claimant to file in duplicate a Notice of Appearance in the form prescribed by paragraph (b) of § 583.1 of this chapter.

(3) Requesting clearance from the Chief, Patents Division, to investigate and settle each such claim pursuant to § 598.105–55, inclosing a copy of the communication in which such claim was asserted or reported.

(4) Investigating each such claim upon clearance from the Chief, Patents Division, and, if deemed appropriate, settling the same pursuant to §§ 598.105–58 thru 598.105–62.

(5) Making the required distribution of each contract of settlement or partial settlement of such claim pursuant to § 598.105–62.

(6) Preparing and transmitting to the Chief, Patents Division, a final report with respect to each such claim in which no settlement is effected, pursuant to § 598.105–56.

(b) Action by representative. The action indicated in paragraph (a) of this section, and wherever referred to in § 598.105, may be performed by an authorized representative of the Designee, except for the execution of contracts pursuant to paragraph (a) (4) of this section.

§ 598.105–53 Reporting of claims. Any officer, or employee of a technical service shall submit promptly to the chief legal or patent officer in his service (a) any communication received by him asserting such a claim, and (b) any report of such a claim received by him from a Contractor in accordance with § 9.104 of this title. (Notice and Assistance.) All communications asserting such claims received by others shall be sent to the Chief, Patents Division.

§ 598.105–54 Correspondence with claimant. No Designee shall concede in writing, addressed to any claimant, potential claimant, or the representative of either, the merit or value of such claim, except so far as such concession may be embodied in an agreement executed in settlement of such claim in accordance with this subpart. (See Part 518 of this chapter and § 598.105–63). Upon receipt of a notice of infringement, the Designee shall acknowledge such receipt. The following form letter is authorized for this purpose:

JOHN DOE,
Title Guarantee Building,
Miami, Florida.

DEAR SIR:

Your letter to ----------, dated ---------- 19----, stating that United States Letters Patent No. ------, granted (date of patent), to (patentee's full name), of (city and State), for "(title of invention)," is (are) infringed by (item or process) allegedly being used by the Department of the Army, has been referred to this office for necessary action and direct reply.

The matter presented in your letter will be carefully investigated and you will be informed of the Department of the Army's conclusions upon completion of the investigation.

To aid in the investigation, it is requested that you furnish this office as promptly as possible the following:

(1) The names and addresses of licensees, if any.

(2) Copies of license agreements.

(3) Brief statement of any litigation in which the patent(s) have been or are now involved.

(4) List of all notices of infringement which you have sent to alleged infringers of the patent (except the alleged infringers included in your statement of litigation), including but not limited to any other departments and agencies of the Government.

[(5) Two executed copies of the inclosed Notice of Appearance, required of any person appearing in a representative capacity before the Department of the Army in a matter involving a claim against the United States.][1]

Sincerely yours,

(Signature of designee or representative)

§ 598.105–55 Clearance to investigate. (a) Promptly after receipt of a notice or report of such a claim the Designee shall request in writing from the Chief, Patents Division, clearance to investigate and settle the claim. So far as practicable, one Designee shall represent the Department of the Army in the investigation and settlement of each such claim.

(b) Each request for clearance shall be submitted in quadruplicate and shall include the following:

(1) The name and address of each claimant or prospective claimant.

(2) The name and address of each Contractor and subcontractor who is believed, to the extent disclosed by a cursory search in the headquarters of the Designee, to have performed the alleged infringing acts.

(3) The number and date of each patent, and the serial number and filing date of each patent application involved.

(4) Description of the alleged infringing subject matter in sufficient detail to permit other procuring activities to determine whether they have an interest in the matter.

(5) A copy of the communication from the claimant, if any.

(6) A copy of the Notice of Appearance required by § 598.105–52 (a) (2).

(c) The Chief, Patents Division, upon receipt of the request for clearance, shall determine, so far as indicated by his files, the Government Register of Patent Rights, and the Department of Justice, whether the Department of the Army or any other department or agency has investigated or settled, or received a report or notice of, a claim pertaining to the same subject matter and whether a Government license may be involved, and shall then grant such clearance in writing as appears proper.

(d) When clearance has been granted, the Designee shall proceed in accordance with § 598.105–52 (a) (4) through (6).

(e) The Chief, Patents Division, shall send copies of the request for clearance and of the clearance to the chief patent or legal officer of each technical service having a probable interest in the matter. Each such officer shall promptly investigate the procurement in his service and report to the Designee to whom clearance has been issued of the interest, if any, of his service in the matter and of any pertinent information available. (Negative reports should be made if applicable.) A positive report shall include a description (with drawings where necessary), of the procured materiel sufficient to enable the Designee to determine whether the procurement constitutes infringement under such claim, together with the officer's opinion on the question of infringement and the reasons therefor. The Chief, Patents Division, also shall notify the Departments of Navy and Air Force of each such claim and request those Departments to notify the Designee (with informational copies to the Chief, Patents Division) of any pertinent information available to them. No claim shall be settled or final report rendered (pursuant to § 598.105–56) until reports are received by the Designee from each chief patent or legal officer notified of the clearance, unless adequate explanation is presented.

§ 598.105–56 Final report by designee where no settlement of claim is made. A final report (in duplicate) of the results of the investigation made on behalf of the Department, including recommendations and conclusions of the Designee, shall be made by him to the Chief, Patents Division, with respect to each such claim (whether or not such claim is covered by an indemnity agreement) in which settlement is believed to be inadvisable, or the Designee has been unable to settle upon terms deemed reasonable by him. A copy of the final report shall be forwarded by the Designee to the chiefs of the chiefs of the interested technical services at this time.) Each such report shall be dated and clearly marked "Final Report," and shall include so far as applicable and practicable the following information:

(a) Numbers and dates of all contracts and subcontracts for procurement of the item in question, together with the name and address of each Contractor and subcontractor concerned, and the text of each Contractor's agreement, if any, to indemnify the Government against liability for infringement, or a statement that there is no such indemnity agreement. This information shall include contracts of any other technical service concerned.

(b) Extent and dates of alleged infringement.

(c) The text of any contract clause granting (or if there is no such clause any other information relating to) authorization and consent by the Government to the manufacture or use of the article, material, design, or process upon which such claim is based.

(d) Copies of patents alleged to be infringed.

(e) Result of title search in the Patent Office Assignment Records and examination of the Government Register or Patent Rights.

(f) A full and complete disclosure of the alleged infringing device, material, design or process (including detailed description thereof, together with drawings, sketches, photographs, and specimens in proper cases) sufficient to determine whether infringement is present.

(g) Report of date and extent of searches, if any, in each of the following categories:

[1] For use where claim is asserted by a representative of the claimant.

(1) Prior art patents and publications.
(2) Pending applications filed by the service conducting the investigation.
(3) Prior public uses.

(h) Copies of any prior art patents and publications, and full and complete description (and where practicable, a drawing, sketch, photograph, or specimen) of any prior uses relied upon by the Designee.

(i) Statement of the extent to which royalties, if any, have been adjusted by the Department. (See § 9.111 of this title and § 598.111.)

(j) Statement as to whether or not the inventor or patent owner was a Government employee in a position to order, influence, or induce use of the invention by the Government.

(k) Statement as to whether or not the invention was made during the time the inventor was in the employment or service of the Government, and if so, a description of the inventor's official functions at the time and a statement as to whether Government time, materials, or facilities were used.

(l) Names and addresses of prospective witnesses (fact and expert) and, where pertinent to validity or infringement, signed statements of witnesses. Where a witness refuses to sign a statement, a statement of the interviewing officer setting forth the facts which the witness may be expected to state if called to testify.

(m) Conclusions regarding infringement (with respect to all departmental procurements involved) and reasons therefor.

(n) Conclusions regarding validity and reasons therefor, unless the Designee's conclusions given under paragraph (m) of this section are that in his opinion there is no infringement.

(o) Conclusions regarding the Government's liability, the estimated money value of the claim, and an estimate of future procurement involving possible increase of the claim.

(p) Summary of unsuccessful negotiations for settlement, if any.

(q) Recommendations.

§ 598.105–57 Action and authority of the Chief, Patents Division. (a) The Chief, Patents Division, shall coordinate and expedite the processing of such claims and may request status reports from the Designees for this purpose.

(b) The Chief, Patents Division, shall review each final report and, where such claim was asserted in a communication, shall write a letter to the claimant or his representative (with copies to the Designee and chiefs of interested technical services) stating the final conclusions of the Department.

(c) Upon reviewing the final report, the Chief, Patents Division, shall prepare a supplemental report (and send a copy to the Designee) stating any conclusions supplemental to those stated in the final report, if such supplemental report is deemed advisable, and stating any conclusions which differ from those of the Designee, with recommendations of appropriate action.

(d) When final action has been taken on behalf of the Department, the Chief, Patents Division, shall so advise the Attorney General.

§ 598.105–58 Available procedure for settlement of claims and procurement of invention and patent rights. (a) The Designee to whom the claim has been cleared may, subject to the availability of appropriations and allotments of funds in his service, settle such claims in accordance with these paragraphs, by execution of a contract or release and license, or release and assignment.

(b) No contract shall be made which includes a release of such claim, or a license, which will inure to the benefit of a Contractor who has agreed to indemnify the Government (§ 9.103 of this title and § 598.103) by releasing or discharging such Contractor in whole or in part from his obligation of indemnity, unless such Contractor is made a party to the contract and appropriate arrangements are made to the end that the Contractor shall pay all money consideration flowing to the claimant or potential claimant which is attributable to that part of the release or license which benefits the Contractor.

§ 598.105–59 Settlement with foreign claimants. No contract of settlement of patent infringement liability or other liability for use of inventions shall be made with a national of a government which is within the scope of the Mutual Defense Assistance program, without first obtaining the written approval of the Chief, Patents Division.

§ 598.105–60 Fiscal procedures. (a) An agreement to pay a fixed amount for the purchase of a paid up license and release or an assignment and release, or a release either by way of lump sum payment or an amount determinable at the time of execution of the contract, is subject to the provision that allotment of funds made for supplies will not be exceeded. Officers charged with making such agreements shall submit prior to incurring any obligation, the proposed agreements to the cognizant fiscal officer for verification as to sufficiency of funds for that purpose. The following statements shall be included on the face of the contract: "The supplies and services to be obtained by this instrument are authorized by, are for the purpose set forth in, and are chargeable to the following allotments, the available balances of which are sufficient to cover the cost of the same."

(b) An agreement to pay running royalties on future procurement proportioned to use is not subject to the provision mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Any fiscal questions involving patent matters may be referred to the Chief, Patents Division, for opinion.

§ 598.105–61 Approval of certain contracts—(a) Contracts requiring approval. Approval by the Chief, Purchases Branch, is required of all contracts made under any of the following circumstances:

(1) The contract provides for total payments by the Government of $25,000 or more.

(2) The scope of the license is limited to:

(i) A term less than the life of any patent involved;

(ii) Any particular Government purpose;

(iii) Less than all Government agencies on the same terms; or

(iv) Disposition rights otherwise than according to law.

(3) The rights obtained are a release of past infringement only.

(b) Submission for approval. Where approval of a contract is required by paragraph (a) of this section, or because the contract contains a deviation from the requirements of § 598.105 the Designee shall submit the contract in the number of copies for which approval is sought (plus one unexecuted copy) to the Chief, Purchases Branch, through the Chief, Patents Division. The contract shall be accompanied by a memorandum of facts signed by the Designee setting forth, where pertinent:

(1) Identification and brief description of the subject matter of the patent, patent application, or invention involved in the claim being settled.

(2) Date of clearance required by § 598.105–55.

(3) A brief statement of the Designee's conclusions regarding validity and infringement and the reasons therefor.

(4) A statement of the extent of Government use of the invention(s), including the estimated money value of the claim, if any, and an estimate of future procurement, if any, involving possible increase of the amount of the claim.

(5) Specific reference to the sections of this subchapter necessitating the requested approval.

(6) Reasons for any deviations from any prescribed contract clause, and precise statement of such deviation.

(7) Recommendation, with supporting reasons, that the contract be approved.

§ 598.105–62 Contract distribution—(a) General. The Designee will obtain the original and at least one executed copy of each release, license, and assignment made in accordance with these paragraphs. The original shall be forwarded by the Designee (unless the contract does not involve the payment of money to the Contractor) to Audits Branch, United States General Accounting Office, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis 49, Indiana. The executed copy, together with a second copy (photostatic preferred), shall be transmitted without delay by the Designee to the Chief, Patents Division for recording in the United States Patent Office. The memorandum of transmittal shall include the Designee's recommendation whether the instrument should be filed in the public register, departmental register, or the secret register. This memorandum shall also set forth (1) the name of the claimant; name of the releasor, licensor, or assignor; and name of the patentee or inventor; (2) the patent number or patent application serial number; and (3) a statement that the instrument effects settlement of the claim for which clearance was granted.

(b) Contracts providing for payment or a running royalty. A copy of each license which provides for the payment of a running royalty shall be transmitted by the Designee to the chiefs of the technical services. Receipt of such copy shall constitute notice that future procurement of the licensed subject matter requires the payment of royalties to the licensor. Where necessary, the chiefs of the technical services shall notify procurement and price analysis offices affected.

§ 598.105–63 Disclosure of information to claimants and their representatives. In order that settlements advantageous to the Government may be secured, any Designee or his representative may (subject to the provisions of § 598.105–54 and considerations of military security), in the performance of his official duties and when he has reason to believe that such action would be to the advantage of the United States, disclose to the claimant or his authorized representative any facts or matters of evidence which appear to bear upon his claim or its value.

§ 598.105–64 Contract clauses and forms. The following clauses and forms are applicable to contracts for the settlement of infringement claims.

(a) Mandatory contract clauses—(1) Certain clauses. Section 7.103–19 of this title—Officials Not to Benefit, § 7.103–20 of this title—Covenant Against Contingent Fees, and § 7.104–16 of this title—Gratuities, shall be included in every release, license, and assignment executed by the Government.

(2) Assignment of claims. Section 7.103–8 of this title—Assignment of Claims shall be included in every contract which calls for payments by the Government aggregating $1,000 or more.

(3) Disputes. Section 7.103–12 of this title—Disputes shall be included in every contract which calls for payments by the Government aggregating $20,000 or more, and is recommended for inclusion in other contracts.

(4) Release of past infringement. The following clause shall be included in every contract made in accordance with these paragraphs which grants to the Government under an issued patent:

RELEASE OF PAST INFRINGEMENT

Contractor agrees to and does hereby release each and every claim and demand which Contractor now has or may hereafter have against the Government, its officers, agents, servants and employees, for infringement by or for the Government of [(1)] any of the patents and applications for patent specifically identified in this contract, [(2) and any other patent or application for patent owned or hereafter acquired by Contractor, insofar as and to the extent only as such other patent or patent application covers the manufacture, use or disposition of (description of subject matter)], by reason of the manufacture, use, sale, or other disposition of any article or material, or the use of any process covered by said patents or applications for patent, occurring prior to the date of this contract, and by reason of the use, sale, or other disposition thereafter of any article or material manufactured or contracted for prior to the date of this contract.

NOTE: Bracketed portions of the foregoing clause may be omitted when not appropriate or not encompassed by the release as negotiated.

(5) Non-estoppel. The following clause shall be included in every contract made in accordance with these paragraphs, except that it may be omitted in contracts not executed by the Government made pursuant to § 598.1508 if the contract conveys to the Government (i) a release of not substantially less scope than that set forth in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, and (ii) a license for the full term of the licensed patents and patents issued on the patent applications or an assignment of not substantially less scope (except for foreign rights) than that set forth in paragraph (d) of this section:

NON-ESTOPPEL

Contractor agrees that the Government shall not be estopped at any time to contest the enforceability, validity or scope of, or the title to, any patent or patent application herein licensed,[1] [but this provision shall not be deemed to modify or avoid the obligation of the Government to pay royalties as elsewhere herein provided].[2]

(6) Protection against unjust payments. The following clause shall be included in every contract providing for payment of a running royalty:

PROTECTION AGAINST UNJUST PAYMENTS

(a) If any license has been or shall hereafter be granted under substantially the same patents and authorizing substantially the same acts which are authorized under this contract within the United States, on royalty terms which are in any respect more favorable to the licensee than those contained herein, the Government shall be entitled to the benefit of such more favorable terms with respect to all royalties accruing under this license after the date such more favorable terms become effective, and Contractor shall promptly notify the Secretary of the Army in writing of the granting of such more favorable terms.

(b) The Government shall have the right, notwithstanding any other provision of this contract, to terminate the within license by giving notice in writing to Contractor specifying a date when such termination is to be effective; termination of said license in the manner aforesaid may, as specified in such notice, take effect either in whole or insofar as said license applies to any specified service or command of the Department of the Army or to any specified article, material or method, or to the extent that rights are granted under any specified patent or the specified claims of any patent; and if any part of the said license is thus terminated the rights of the Government to enjoy or to terminate other parts thereof shall be in no wise prejudiced thereby.

(c) In the event any claim of any patent hereby licensed is construed or held invalid by decision of a court of competent jurisdiction, the requirement to pay royalties under this contract insofar as it arises solely by reason of such claim, and any other claim not materially different therefrom, shall be interpreted in conformity with the court's decision as to the scope or validity of such claims: Provided, however, That in the event such decision is modified or reversed on appeal, the requirements to pay royalties under this license shall be interpreted in conformity with the final decision rendered on such appeal.

(b) Suggested clauses; contracts except running royalty contracts—(1) License grant. The following clause is a suggested form for expressing the license grant in all contracts except those providing for payment of a running royalty:

LICENSE

(a) Contractor agrees to and does hereby grant and convey to the Government, an irrevocable, nonexclusive, nontransferable and paid up license under the following patent(s) [and application(s) for patent] to practice and cause to be practiced for the government any and all of the inventions thereof in the manufacture, use and disposition of any article or material, and in the use of any method, in accordance with law:

U. S. Patent No. ---------
Date ----------
Application serial No. ----
Filing date ----------

[together with corresponding foreign patents and applications for patent, insofar as Contractor has the right to grant licenses thereunder].

(b) Nothing contained herein shall limit any rights which the Government may have obtained by virtue of prior contracts or by operation of law or otherwise.

(2) License term. Either of the following clauses is suggested as a form for expressing the license term in any contract not providing for payment of a running royalty:

[ALTERNATE A]

TERMS

The license hereby granted shall remain in full force and effect for the full term of the patent(s) referred to above [and any and all patents hereafter issued on applications for patent referred to, above.]

TERM

The license hereby granted shall terminate on the ---- day of --------- 19---; Provided, however, That said termination shall be without prejudice to the completion of any contract entered into by the Government prior to said date of termination or to the use or disposition thereafter of any articles or materials manufactured by or for the Government under this license.

(c) Suggested clauses; contracts providing for payment of a running royalty. In addition to any clause required in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, the following clauses are suggested for use, where appropriate, in contracts providing for payment of a running royalty:

(1) License grant. No departments other than the Department of the Army shall be obligated to pay royalties unless the contract is signed on behalf of such departments. Accordingly, the following license grant clause, appropriately limited to the practice of the invention by or for the Department of the Army, is suggested for use:

LICENSE

(a) Contractor agrees to and does hereby grant and convey to the Government, as represented by the Secretary of the Army, an irrevocable, nonexclusive, nontransferable license under the following patent(s) [and application(s) for patent] to practice by the Department of the Army and cause to be practiced for the Department of the Army any and all of the inventions thereof in the manufacture, use and disposition of any article or material, and in the use of any method, in accordance with law:

[1] The word "licensed" is appropriately changed to "assigned" in assignment contracts.

[2] The bracketed part is to be omitted except in contracts for payment of running royalties.

U. S. Patent No. --------
Date ----------
Application serial No. ----
Filing date ----------

[together with corresponding foreign patents and applications for patent, so far as Contractor has the right to grant licenses thereunder].

(b) Nothing contained herein shall limit any rights which the Government may have obtained by virtue of prior contracts or by operation of law or otherwise.

(2) License term. The following clause is a suggested form for expressing the license term:

TERM

The license hereby granted shall remain in full force and effect for the full term(s) of the patent(s) referred to above [and any and all patents hereafter issued on applications for patent referred to above] unless sooner terminated as elsewhere herein provided.

(3) Computation of royalties. The contract clause providing for the computation of royalties may be of varying scope. The following alternative clauses are suggested. (Alternate A is based upon a percentage of cost of the articles or materials; alternate B is based upon a fixed amount per item.):

COMPUTATION OF ROYALTIES

[ALTERNATE A]

Royalties shall accrue under this contract in favor of Contractor, subject to payment thereof at the times and subject to limitation hereinafter stated on all articles or materials imbodying or manufactured by the use of any or all of the inventions licensed herein, upon acceptance thereof by the Department of the Army (whether made by or for the Department of the Army), at the rate of -- percent of the cost (as hereinafter defined) of such articles or materials to the Government. "Cost," as used in this paragraph means (1) in respect of articles or materials purchased by or for the Department of the Army, the purchase price of such articles or materials, except that in cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts it means the estimated cost as defined in such contract, and (2) in respect of articles or materials made by the Department of the Army, the actual cost of direct labor and materials without allowance for overhead or supervision.

[ALTERNATE B]

Royalties shall accrue under this contract in favor of licensor, subject to payment thereof at the times and subject to the limitation hereinafter stated, on all articles and materials embodying or made by the use of any or all of the inventions licensed herein, upon acceptance thereof by the Department of the Army (whether made by or for the Department of the Army), at the rate of -- (¢) cents per [name of item].

(4) Reporting and payment of royalties. (i) The contract must contain a provision specifying the chief of the technical service of the designee as the officer designated to make any necessary reports to the Contractor of the extent of use of the licensed subject matter by the entire Department, and such chief, shall be charged with responsibility of obtaining from all procuring activities the information necessary to make the required reports and corresponding vouchers to make required payments. The following clause is suggested for this purpose:

REPORTING AND PAYMENT OF ROYALTIES

(a) The [chief of technical service] shall, on or before the 60th day next following the end of each half yearly period ending June 30 and December 31 during which royalties have accrued under this license, deliver to contractor a report in writing stating the number of articles and the amounts of materials accepted by the Department of the Army during said half yearly period on which royalties have accrued under this contract, and the cost thereof.

(b) Royalties which have accrued under this contract during each half yearly period ending June 30 and December 31 shall be paid to contractor, provided appropriations therefor are available, within 60 days next following the end of each such period; provided, however, that the Government shall not be obligated to pay, in respect of any such half yearly period, an amount greater than -- Dollars.

(ii) In the event military security prohibits the disclosure of the quantity of production, the designee may negotiate an appropriate substitute for the clauses suggested in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(5) License to other government agencies. When it is desired not to limit the practice of the invention to the Department of the Army (see instruction in paragraph (a) of this section) the following clause is suggested for use:

LICENSE TO OTHER GOVERNMENT AGENCIES

(a) Contractor hereby agrees to grant a separate license under the patents, applications for patents, and improvements referred to in Article 1 hereof, on the same terms and conditions as appear in this license, to any department or agency of the Government other than the Department of the Army at any time on receipt of written request for such a license from such department or agency, provided, however, that as to royalties which accrue under such separate licenses, reports and payments will be made by such department or agency directly to contractor and not by the [designee]. Contractor shall notify the [designee] promptly upon receipt of any request for license hereunder.

(b) When two or more departments or agencies shall have subscribed to this license, such agencies shall jointly make the report of royalties called for by subparagraph (a) of Article ----. The royalties payable by such departments or agencies shall be combined for the purpose of computing the Government's total half yearly obligation as set forth in subparagraph (b) of Article ----. When such combined royalties exceed the said total half yearly obligation, each Department or agency shall pay the pro rata share of the said total half yearly obligation as determined by the proportion its accrued royalties bear to the combined total of accrued royalties.

(d) Assignments. (1) The following clause is suggested for use in contracts of assignment of patent rights to the Government:

ASSIGNMENT

Contractor agrees to and does hereby sell, assign, and transfer to the Government and its assigns, as represented by the Secretary of the Army, the entire right, title and interest in and to the following patent(s) [and application(s) for patent], in and to the invention(s) thereof, and in and to all claims and demands whatsoever for infringement thereof heretofore occurred, the same to be held and enjoyed by the Government through its duly appointed representatives to the full end of the term of said patent(s) [and to the full end of the term(s) of all patents which may be granted upon said application(s) for patent or upon any division, renewal or continuation thereof] as fully and entirely as the same would have been held by contractor had this assignment not been made:

U. S. Patent No.	Date	Name of inventor
U. S. Application Serial No.	Filing date	Name of inventor

[together with corresponding foreign patents and applications for patent, insofar as contractor has the right to assign the same].

(2) To facilitate proof of contracts of assignment, the acknowledgment of the Contractor should be executed by a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths. (35 U. S. C. 261).

(e) Suggested contract form. The following contract form is suggested for use for contracts of release, license or assignment:

Contract No. ----

PATENT LICENSE AND RELEASE CONTRACT

This contract, entered into this ---- day of ----------, 195--, by the United States of America (hereinafter called the Government), and ---------- (hereinafter called Contractor), [a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of ----------] [1] [a partnership consisting of ----------] [an individual trading as ----------] [1] of the City of ---------- in the State of ---------- witnesseth that

Whereas, Contractor warrants that it has the right to grant the within license and release, and the Government desires to procure the same, and

Whereas, this contract is authorized by law,

Now, Therefore, in consideration of the grant, release and agreements hereinafter recited the parties have agreed as follows:

ARTICLE 1. License.[2]

[Use the clause set forth in § 598.105–64 (b) (1) for a paid up license, or § 598.105–64 (c) (1) for a license on a running royalty basis.]

ARTICLE 2. Terms.[2]

[Use the appropriate alternative clause set forth in § 598.105–64 (b) (2) for a paid up license, or the clause set forth in § 598.105–64 (c) (2) for a license on a running royalty basis.]

ARTICLE 3. Release of past infringement.

[Use the clause set forth in § 598.105–64 (a) (4).]

ARTICLE 5. Payment.

Contractor shall be paid the sum of ------ dollars ($----) in full compensation for the rights herein granted and agreed to be granted. [For a license on a running royalty basis, use the appropriate alternative clause set forth in § 598.105–64 (c) (3) and also the clause as specified in § 598.105–64 (a) (6) and § 598.105–64 (c) (4) and (5).]

[1] Delete if inapplicable.

[2] If only a release is procured, delete this article; if an assignment is procured, use clause set forth in § 598.105–64 (d).

ARTICLE 6. Officials not to benefit. [§ 7.103–19, 32 CFR]

ARTICLE 7. Covenant against contingent fees. [§ 7.103–20, 32 CFR]

ARTICLE 8. Assignment of claim. [§ 7.103–8, 32 CFR]

(f) Gratuitous grants. For a suggested unilateral contract form for use where a patent owner voluntarily grants a royalty-free license, assignment or release to the Government, see § 598.-1509.

§ 598.106 Classified contracts. (a) Upon receipt from the Contractor of a patent application not yet filed which has been submitted by the Contractor in compliance with § 9.106 (a) of this title, the contracting officer shall immediately refer the application to the competent authority within his activity for assistance in determining, within the 30-day period referred to in § 9.106 (a) of this title, the proper security classification of the patent application. Upon such a determination, the contracting officer or his representative shall inform the contractor of any instructions deemed necessary or advisable relating to transmittal of the application to the United States Patent Office. In determining the necessity or advisability of such instructions, the contracting officer or his representative shall consider the following:

(1) If the patent application is classified Top Secret, the contractor shall be notified immediately, and advised that transmittal shall be handled in accordance with applicable procedures such as are set forth in Department of Defense Industrial Security Manual for Safeguarding Classified Security Information.

(2) If the patent application receives a classification lower than Top Secret or is determined to be unclassified, the contractor may be advised acordingly so as to facilitate transmittal of the application to the Patent Office in accordance with applicable procedures such as are set forth in the Department of Defense Industrial Security Manual for Safeguarding Classified Security Information.

(b) In the case of all applications filed under the provisions of §§ 9.106 and 9.106–1 of this title, the contracting officer or his representative has the further duty of securing the application serial number and filing date from the Contractor and submitting such information to a proper Department of the Army representative promptly after filing of the application in order that necessary steps may be taken to place the application under a Secrecy Order pursuant to 35 U. S. C. 181, if such action appears to be advisable.

§ 598.106–1 Classified contracts to be performed outside the United States. Delay in answering a request for the approval referred to in § 9.106–1 of this title may result in the loss of valuable patent rights of the contractor. Accordingly, such requests shall be considered and acted upon promptly.

§ 598.107–1 License rights—(a) Appropriate contracts. The policy stated in § 9.107–1 (a) of this title shall apply to any Army contract or modification thereof having experimental, developmental or research work as one of its purposes, irrespective of the contract designation or the source of funds involved (§ 598.112).

(b) Inventions first actually reduced to practice under contracts. Whenever practical, the contracting officer should obtain the advice of cognizant Government patent counsel prior to excluding any inventions from license grant in accordance with § 9.107–1 (b) of this title. Any questions of interpretation of § 9.107–1 (b) of this title may be referred through channels to the Chief, Patents Division.

(c) Foreign rights. If the contractor does not exercise the option of applying for and maintaining a patent in a foreign country in the time and manner set forth in paragraph (e) of clause in § 9.107–1 (d) of this title, the contracting officer is not required to request conveyance of foreign rights as referred to in paragraphs (e) (ii) (C) and (D) of the clause contained in § 9.107–1 (d) of this title, unless the Government intends to apply for or maintain such patent.

§ 598.107–2 Contracts relating to atomic energy. (a) Requests for deviation from the provisions of § 9.107–2 of this title shall be forwarded to the Chief, Purchases Branch, for referral to the United States Atomic Energy Commission for determination as to whether the deviation may be granted.

(b) Disclosures of inventions relating to atomic energy furnished by any contractor shall be forwarded to the Chief, Patents Division, for referral to the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

§ 598.107–3 Patent rights under contractor's product improvement programs. Section 9.107–3 of this title shall have no applicability to Army procurement.

§ 598.109 Followup of patent rights. Each technical service shall establish a followup system as required by § 9.109 of this title. In this connection, see the withholding provisions set forth in paragraph (f) of clause in § 9.107–1 (d) of this title.

§ 598.110 Reporting of royalties. (a) Furnishing copy of reports: The contracting officer shall furnish through channels to the Chief, Patents Division, a copy of any royalty report received in accordance with § 9.110 or § 9.110–2 of this title which indicates that royalties in excess of $250 have been paid or are to be paid to any person or firm. In addition to this requirement, contracting officers in technical services not having patent counsel shall furnish through channels to the Chief, Patents Division, a copy of any negative royalty report received in accordance with § 9.110 or § 9.110–2 of this title.

(b) Incomplete reports: Where a contractor presents a royalty report which, upon its face, does not comply with the provisions of § 9.110 or § 9.110–2 of this title, the contracting officer shall secure from the contractor a conforming report prior to forwarding the report as provided in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Additional information to be furnished by contracting officer with copy or report: If a contractor reports that royalties in excess of $250 have been or are to be paid, the contracting officer shall furnish, together with the copy of the report forwarded in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, the dollar amount of the contract and the date of the contract.

(d) The procedures set forth in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section shall also apply to royalty reports submitted in accordance with contract clauses prescribed by Chapter I of this title previous to April 4, 1955.

§ 598.111 Adjustment of royalties—(a) Duties of the technical services. Patent personnel representing the chiefs of the technical services shall report to the Chief, Patents Division, the final results of any actions taken in compliance with § 9.111 of this title, as well as any actions initiated by such personnel themselves.

(b) Actions under sections 1 and 2, Royalty Adjustments Act. Any questions relating to actions previously instituted under sections 1 and 2 of the Royalty Adjustment Act of 1942 (35 U. S. C. [1946 edition] 89, 90) should be referred to the Chief, Patents Division.

§ 598.112 Technical data in research or development contracts. Section 9.112 of this title shall be included in every contract containing the clause set forth in § 9.107–1 (d) of this title.

SUBPART B—COPYRIGHTS

§ 598.204 Contracts for motion pictures. (a) The contract clause set forth in § 9.204 of this title shall be used in all contracts for the production of motion pictures, and in all contracts for the preparation (for use in connection with motion pictures) of scripts, translations, sound tracks, musical compositions, or any other copyrightable material.

[3] When contractor is an individual, change "successors" to "heirs"; If a partnership, modify appropriately.

(b) In all contracts for the procurement of existing motion pictures, the following instructions apply as to use of the contract clause set forth in § 9.204 of this title.

(1) Paragraph (a) may be modified or omitted by the procuring activity.

(2) Paragraph (b) may be modified by the technical service concerned only to the extent of limiting the scope of the license granted by this paragraph to that scope which is consistent with the purposes for which the motion picture covered by the contract is being procured. Examples of such restricted rights are:

(i) Limitation as to the type of audience.

(ii) Limitation as to the geographical location.

(iii) Limitation as to time.

(3) Paragraph (c) should be used in this type of contract. It may, however, be modified to the extent that the coverage of the indemnity is coextensive with the rights acquired under the modification permitted by the preceding subparagraph.

(c) In all contracts for the procurement of a motion picture which is a modification (through the addition of subject matter specified by the contract and not already in existence) of an existing motion picture, the instructions given in paragraph (b) (2) and (3) of this section apply. In this type of contract paragraph (a) of the contract clause set forth in § 9.204 of this title shall be used without modification, except that the word "copyrightable" may, at the discretion of the technical service, be inserted before the word "material" in the first line.

SUBPART O—PROCUREMENT OF INVENTION AND PATENT RIGHTS

§ 598.1501 Scope of subpart. This subpart sets forth the policy of the Department of the Army, and administrative requirements and procedures, pertaining to the procurement of invention and patent rights (except as an incident to the settlement of claims for which see § 598.105), whether proposed by patent owners or by the Department of the Army.

§ 598.1502 General policy. It is the policy of the Department of the Army to obtain necessary rights under patents and applications for patents which are pertinent to contemplated procurement activities, in cases where it is in the interest of the Government to do so and the desired rights can be obtained at not more than their fair value. In furtherance of this policy, statutory basis for which may be found in Title 31, U. S. Code, section 649b, each proposed license or assignment of rights under patents or application for patents shall be processed in accordance with the instructions set forth in this subpart.

§ 598.1503 Action by representative. Any actions required by this subpart to be performed by a designee may be performed by his authorized representative, except for the execution of contracts made in accordance herewith.

§ 598.1504 Reporting of proposed licenses and assignments. Any officer or employee of a technical service shall promptly submit to the chief legal of patent officer of his service any communications relating to proposed licenses or assignments. Any other person receiving such communications shall transmit them to the Chief, Patents Division, for proper action.

§ 598.1505 Correspondence with invention owner or his representative. Upon receipt of a communication from an invention owner or his representative proposing a license or an assignment, the designee promptly shall acknowledge receipt thereof. The following form letter is suggested for this purpose:

JOHN DOE,
Title Guarantee Building,
Miami, Florida.

DEAR SIR:

Your letter to ----------, dated ----------, 19--, offering [to grant a nonexclusive license to (the Department of the Army) under] [1] [to assign to the Government the entire right, title, and interest in] [1] U. S. Letters Patent No. ----------, granted (date of patent), to (patentee's full name), of (city and state), for "(title of invention)", at suitable terms to be agreed upon, has been referred to this office for necessary action and direct reply.

Your offer will be carefully considered and you will be notified of the Department of the Army's conclusion in this connection upon completion of such consideration.

Sincerely yours,

§ 598.1506 Clearance to consider and procure licenses and assignments. (a) Promptly after receipt of a communication proposing a license or an assignment (or a determination has been made to endeavor to obtain a license or assignment) the designee shall request in writing from the Chief, Patents Division, clearance to consider and procure the license or assignment on behalf of the Department.

(b) Each request for clearance shall be submitted in quadruplicate and shall include the following:

(1) The name and address of the invention owner.

(2) The number and date of each patent and the serial number and filing date of each patent application involved, and the inventor's name.

(3) A copy of the communication from the patent owner (or his representative) making the offer, if any.

(4) A description of the subject matter of the patent (or application) in sufficient detail to permit other procuring activities to determine whether they have an interest in the matter.

(5) A resumé of the nature and terms of the proposed license or assignment (including a copy of the instrument if available).

(6) The names of any other procuring activities of the Department which might have an interest, and a statement as to the probable interest of the Departments of Navy and Air Force.

(7) Any other pertinent information.

(c) The Chief, Patents Division, upon receipt of the request for clearance, shall determine, so far as his files and the Government Register of Patent Rights indicate, whether the Government has any license of other interest in any patent or patent application involved and shall then grant such clearance in writing as appears proper.

(d) Upon receipt of such clearance, the designee shall proceed to consider the proposed license or assignment on behalf of the Department and, if deemed advisable by him, following coordination with any other interested Department of Defense agencies, to procure the same in accordance with § 598.1508.

(e) The Chief, Patents Division, shall send copies of the request for clearance and of the clearance to the chief patent or legal officer of each technical service having a probable interest in the matter. Each such officer promptly shall inform the designee to whom clearance has been granted of the interest, if any, of his service in the matter and of any pertinent information available (negative reports should be made if applicable). The Chief, Patents Division, also shall request the Departments of Navy and Air Force promptly to notify the designee of the interest, if any, of such Departments in the matter. No proposed license or assignment shall be procured or final report rendered (pursuant to § 598.1507) until reports are received by the designee from each chief patent or legal officer notified of the clearance, unless adequate explanation is presented.

§ 598.1507 Final report by designee where no license or assignment is procured. A final report (in duplicate) of the results of the consideration on behalf of the Department, including a statement of conclusions and final action, shall be made by the designee to the Chief, Patents Division, with respect to each proposed license or assignment the procurement of which is believed to be inadvisable, or the designee has been unable to accomplish upon terms deemed reasonable by him. (A copy of the final report shall be forwarded by the designee to the chiefs of the interested technical services at this time.)

§ 598.1508 Procedures applicable to procurement of invention and patent rights. The requirements and procedures of § 598.105–58 of this part (available procedure for settlement of claims and procurement of invention and patent rights), § 598.105–60 (fiscal procedure), § 598.105–61 (approval of certain contracts), § 598.105–62 (contract distribution), and § 598.105–64 (contract clauses and forms), are applicable to the procurement of licenses and assignments in accordance with this part, with the following modifications:

(a) Items (1), (2), (3), and (4) of § 598.105–61 (b) are changed to read as follows:

a. Identification and brief description of the subject matter of the patent or patent application involved in the license or assignment.

b. Date of clearance required by § 598.1506.

c. A brief statement of the designee's conclusions regarding potential infringement of the patent by contemplated procurement and validity of the patent, and the reasons therefor.

d. A statement of the estimated extent of contemplated procurement, including the estimated money value of a potential claim for infringement of the patent based upon such procurement.

(b) Item (3) of § 598.105–62 (a) is changed to read "a statement that the instrument procured constitutes the license or assignment for which clearance was granted."

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

PATENT LICENSE AND RELEASE CONTRACT

This contract, made this ---------- day of ----------, 195--, by ---------- (hereinafter called contractor), [a corporation organized and existing under the laws of ----------,] [1] [a partnership consisting of ----------,] [1] [an individual trading as ----------,] [1] of the City of ---------- in the State of ---------- in favor of the United States of America (hereinafter called the Government), as promissee, witnesseth that

Whereas, to aid the national defense and promote the common welfare various patent owners have granted and are continuing to grant royalty-free licenses and releases to the Government to practice the inventions secured by their patents and applications for patents,

Whereas, the Government has utilized many such inventions for the purposes aforesaid, and is desirous of obtaining further royalty-free licenses and releases including this license and release, and

Whereas, this contract is authorized by law,

Now, therefore, in consideration of the premises and of the grant by other patent owners of like licenses and releases to the Government, contractor has agreed as follows:

ARTICLE 1. [license] [assignment] [Use the clause set forth in § 598.105–64 (b) (1) for a license, or the clause set forth in § 598.105–64 (d) for an assignment.]

ARTICLE 2. Term. [Use the clause set forth in § 598.105–64 (b) (2) for a license; a separate "term" clause is not required if the "assignment" clause of § 598.105–64 (d) is used.]

ARTICLE 3. Release of past infringement. [Use the clause set forth in § 598.105–64 (a) (4).]

ARTICLE 4. Non-estoppel. [Use the clause set forth in § 598.105–64 (a) (5).]

Successors and assigns.[2] This contract shall be binding upon contractor, its successors and assigns.

In witness whereof, contractor has executed this contract as of the day and year first above written.

HANDLING OF MILK IN NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MILK MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT, AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of the recommended decision of the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan milk marketing area. Interested parties may file written exceptions to this decision with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business the 10th day after publication of this decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

[1] Delete if inapplicable.

Preliminary statement. The hearing, on the record of which the findings and conclusions hereinafter set forth were formulated was conducted at Syracuse, New York, and at New York, New York, during the period February 21 through March 17, 1955, pursuant to notice thereof issued on February 14, 1955 and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 17, 1955 (20 F. R. 1016).

The material issues of record are concerned with:

1. The pricing of Class I–A milk;
2. The pricing of Class III milk;
3. The need for prompt action necessitating omission of a recommended decision and opportunity for exceptions with respect to issues 1 and 2; and
4. The classification of milk used in the manufacture of Italian soft cheeses at plants in the marketing area.

Findings and conclusions. The findings and conclusions hereinafter set forth are based upon the evidence in the record of the hearing and relate only to the above listed issue No. 4. Findings and conclusions on issues 1, 2 and 3 are contained in a separate decision issued on April 19, 1955, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 22, 1955 (20 F. R. 2688).

Issue No. 4. The issue to be decided is whether or not the order should be amended to provide for classification in Class III of milk which is shipped to a plant in the marketing area from another plant and is manufactured at the plant where first received in the marketing area into Italian soft cheeses known as ricotta and mozzarella.

Under existing provisions of the order the classification of milk shipped in the form of milk to a plant in the marketing area is determined at the plant from which the milk is shipped to the plant in the marketing area and is classified in Class I–A. At no time since the order has been in effect has there been provision for classifying such milk in other than Class I–A (or an otherwise designated highest priced class). Under the proposal presented at this hearing, the classification in Class III of milk shipped as fluid milk from another plant to a plant in the marketing area would be permitted for the first time under the order, and would be accomplished by providing that classification would be determined at the plant in the marketing area if the milk is used at the plant where first received in the marketing area in the manufacture of ricotta and mozzarella cheeses.

The specific proposal on which the hearing was called was to amend § 927.33 of the order by adding a new paragraph "(f)" providing that "the classification of milk shipped in the form of milk to a plant in the marketing area shall be determined at the first plant in the marketing area at which such milk is received, if moved from such plant in the form of cheeses other than those cheeses mentioned in § 927.43." At the hearing, however, the proponent, a manufacturer of ricotta and mozzarella cheeses, proposed that the amendment be limited to milk utilized in making these two varieties of cheese and to plants in the marketing area from which no milk is disposed of in fluid form.

Proponent contends that the proposed amendment is needed to enable him to utilize Class III milk in the manufacture of ricotta and mozzarella cheeses at a plant in the marketing area. Proponent now operates, and for several years has operated, a plant located at Heuvelton in St. Lawrence County, New York, at which fluid milk received from pool plants operated by other handlers is manufactured into ricotta cheese and mozzarella curd. These products are then shipped by truck to his plant in the marketing area at which the manufacture of mozzarella cheese is completed and from which both products are distributed to various consumer outlets both within and outside the marketing area. Such cheeses are also distributed in the marketing area from plants operated by other concerns. Some such plants are located a considerable distance from the marketing area and others just outside the marketing area. Some of such cheese is manufactured from pool milk and some from nonpool milk, and both from milk which is approved by marketing area health authorities for sale as fluid milk in the marketing area and from milk which is not so approved.

The primary reasons advanced by proponent in support of the proposed amendment are that it would enable him to (1) supply consumers with a higher quality product, and (2) effect economies in his operation. The products which he manufactures, particularly ricotta, were represented as being highly perishable and for which the demand is fluctuating and unpredictable. These characteristics, it was claimed, make it desirable for the product to be manufactured near the point of consumption, thus permitting delivery to consumers more promptly after manufacture and the more effective servicing of customers.

Proponent contends that a consolidated manufacturing and distribution operation at the same point in the city would be more economical, and that this factor coupled with improved quality of product would enable him to expand his sales of the product and to compete more effectively with other concerns engaged in the same business including those with distribution directly from manufacturing plants located just outside the marketing area. It was predicted by proponent that the proposed amendment, if adopted, would improve returns to producers because he would use more pool milk at the full Class III price which otherwise would be used for butter and cheese, and because no substantial volume of Class I–A milk is now used to make ricotta and mozzarella for which Class III milk could be substituted if the amendment were adopted. Proponent also asserted that the proposed amendment would create no new administrative problems associated with verification of utilization, and no new opportunity for evasion through the substitution of Class III milk in higher priced uses.

A number of proponent's contentions and assertions were disputed by opposition witnesses. It was pointed out that transportation costs on fluid milk moved to the marketing area for manufacturing would be higher than for transporting the products and that for this and other reasons the claimed economies are not realistic. The importance of manufacture near the point of consumption from the standpoint of quality was discounted by evidence that ricotta must in any event be held for a period of time after manufacture before delivery to consumer outlets and by evidence that proponent himself now distributes his product in areas as far distant as Florida. Another manufacturer testified that manufacturing at plants considerable distance from the marketing area had not prevented him from adequately supplying his customers. Conflicting testimony also was presented relative to the number of establishments in the marketing area which would take advantage of the opportunity to obtain Class III milk for the manufacture of ricotta and mozzarella including numerous establishments now using Class I–A milk. The prospect that the proposed amendment inevitably would lead to equally valid claims for the same treatment for other manufactured products was presented. Contrary to the assertions of proponent, others expressed considerable apprehension over the extent to which the proposed amendment would create opportunities for evasion and the substitution of Class III milk in higher priced uses. It appears by no means certain that the proposed amendment would not adversely affect returns to producers. The evidence presented provides no basis for concluding that the proposed amendment is needed from the standpoint of orderly marketing of milk in the market.

Departure from the long established principle relating to the classification of milk shipped in the form of milk from other plants to plants in the marketing area is not justified without a better basis for distinguishing between the products manufactured by the proponent at this hearing and other products manufactured from fluid milk, or without a more comprehensive analysis and consideration of the problems associated with the departure from such a long established principle.

Accordingly, it is concluded that the proposed amendment should not be adopted.

Rulings. Briefs were filed on behalf of interested persons. The briefs contained suggested findings of facts, conclusions, and arguments with respect to the proposals considered at the hearing. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully examined along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the request to make such findings or to reach such conclusions is denied.

Filed at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of June 1955.

Deputy Administrator.

HANDLING OF IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN MODOC AND SISKIYOU COUNTIES IN CALIFORNIA AND IN ALL COUNTIES IN OREGON EXCEPT MALHEUR COUNTY

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO MARKETING AGREEMENT NO. 114 AND ORDER NO. 59

Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of the recommended decision of the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to proposed amendments to Marketing Agreement No. 114 and Order No. 59, as amended, regulating the handling of potatoes grown in the counties of Crook, Deschutes, Jefferson, Klamath, and Lake in the State of Oregon and Modoc and Siskiyou in the State of California, to be effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). Interested parties may file exceptions to this recommended decision with the Hearing Clerk, Room 112, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the tenth day after publication of this recommended decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. The public hearing on the record of which the proposed amendments to the marketing agreement and marketing order were formulated was held at Portland, Oregon, on January 31–February 1, 1955, pursuant to notice thereof which was published January 8, 1955, in the FEDERAL REGISTER (20 F. R. 209). Such notice set forth the proposed amendments.

To facilitate reference to the specific documents mentioned in this proceeding, Marketing Agreement No. 114 and Order No. 59, as amended, are hereinafter referred to as the "order". The proposed amendments to Marketing Agreement No. 114 and Order No. 59, as amended, are hereinafter referred to as the "proposed order". The Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is hereinafter referred to as the "act".

Material issues. The material issues presented on the record of the hearing are as follows:

(1) The right to exercise Federal jurisdiction.

(2) The amendment of § 959.1 to redefine "Secretary" to include employees of the United States Department of Agriculture among the persons to whom authority may be or has been delegated to act in the stead of the Secretary.

(3) The amendment of § 959.4 Production area so as to extend it to include all counties except Malheur, in the State of Oregon, within the definition of "Production area."

(4) The amendment of § 959.7 Ship or handle so as to cover all sales and the transportation of potatoes within the production area or between the production area and any point outside thereof.

(5) The amendment of § 959.9 Fiscal year so as to change the fiscal year from the period from July 1 of each year to June 30 of the following year, to a period beginning and ending on the dates approved by the Secretary pursuant to recommendations by the committee.

(6) The deletion of § 959.14 Wholesale pack and § 959.15 Consumer pack and substituting new § 959.14 Pack so as to include any unit of potatoes in any type of container which falls within specific weight limits, or within specific grade limits recommended by the committee and approved by the Secretary.

(7) The addition of a new § 959.15 to define "Container."

(8) The addition of a new § 959.17 to define "Grading."

(9) The amendment of § 959.25 (a) to provide for the addition of two members to the Oregon-California Potato Committee.

(10) The amendment of § 959.26 (a) so as to increase the number of members of the committee necessary to constitute a quorum and to increase the number of concurring votes required to pass any motion or approve any committee action.

(11) The amendment of § 959.27 (b) so as to provide methods of selecting the committee from the enlarged production area.

(12) The amendment of § 959.28 (a) so as to specify the terms of office of the members of the present committee and the members from the new district.

(13) The addition of two new paragraphs (k) and (l) to § 959.30 for the purpose of providing for (a) the establishment of marketing research and development projects and of subcommittees whose duties would be to consult with the appropriate agencies in the carrying out of such projects and (b) the establishment of subcommittees for the purpose of consulting and cooperating with the appropriate agencies and recommending regulations relative to containers.

(14) The amendment of § 959.32 (a) to establish a new district which would contain the new area added to the production area and to provide a basis for selecting committee members to represent the new district.

(15) The amendment of § 959.33 (a) so as to provide a method for the nomination of members of the committee to represent the new district.

(16) The amendment of § 959.40 to § 959.44 inclusive, so as to authorize (a) incurring of necessary expenses by the committee, (b) preparation of an estimated budget of income and expenditures likely to be incurred by the committee, (c) the levying of assessments to cover such expenses, and (d) the accounting and refunding of any excess funds collected.

(17) The amendment of § 959.50 to § 959.53 inclusive so as to delete the present provisions contained in these sections and to substitute new sections which require the submission of a marketing policy, authorize recommendation and regulations by the committee, and provide for the issuance of grade, size, and quality regulations by the Secretary.

(18) The amendment of § 959.54 (a) (1) so as to limit to the production area or any portion thereof, the shipment of potatoes exempted from grade, size, or quality regulations for grading or storing.

(19) The amendment of § 959.60 so as to (a) authorize the inspection of all shipments during any period in which regulations are in effect; (b) require reinspection of regraded, resorted, or repacked lots which have had prior inspection; (c) authorize the committee to establish, with the approval of the Secretary, a length of time for which an inspection certificate may be valid; and (d) require that a copy of each inspection certificate be made available to the committee by the inspection service.

(20) The amendment of § 959.70 by inserting "(a)" after the title Effective time, and by adding a new paragraph (b) so as to specify that the present rules and regulations issued under Order No. 59, which are in force on the effective date of this amendment, shall continue in force until subsequent modification or termination.

(21) The making of such other changes in the order as may be necessary because of the proposed expansion of the production area and to make the order conform with the amendments which are herein proposed.

(22) The amendment of § 959.2 Act so as to add the citation in the statute pertaining to the amendments to the act passed by the 83d Congress.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the material issues are based upon the evidence adduced at the hearing and the record thereof:

(1) (a) The right to exercise Federal jurisdiction under the act and under the proposed order is established by the fact that all sales and transportation of potatoes grown in the proposed production area are in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or directly burden, obstruct, or affect such commerce.

The record of hearing establishes that Oregon potatoes are transported to and unloaded in most of the markets in which the U. S. Department of Agriculture publishes carlot unloads of potatoes. In addition, potatoes produced in the present production area and in the production district to be added under the proposed order are sold or offered for sale in competition with each other in nearby markets, principal of which is at Portland, Oregon. Moreover, some potatoes sold in the Portland market, whether they are from the present or the proposed production area may be and often are transported directly to Vancouver, Washington and other out-of-state markets, often displacing potatoes shipped from any part of the present or the proposed production area.

Potatoes enter nearby trade channels not only in Portland, Oregon, but also in Salem, Eugene, Astoria, and many other towns in Oregon and in Northern California. Potatoes from the new district to be added under the proposed order are sold in Salem, Eugene, Astoria, and other towns in Oregon. So are potatoes produced in the present production area. The sale in any of these or in any other town of potatoes which are grown in the new district of the production area displaces potatoes from the present production area. Also, such sales have a direct effect upon prices of potatoes both in the present production area as well as in the proposed production area.

Sale and transportation of potatoes produced in any and all parts of the proposed production area are similar throughout the entire area, as well as being similar to and indistinguishable from sale and transportation of potatoes from other producing areas. Such sales and transportation of potatoes grown in the proposed production area are inextricably intermingled with potatoes grown in the present production area, and such sales and transportation directly burden, obstruct and affect interstate commerce in such potatoes.

(b) The objectives of the act will be accomplished by exercising the authority for regulating the handling of potatoes as set forth in the terms and conditions of the proposed order. The 1953 season farm price per bushel for potatoes produced in the proposed production area was $0.79 or 48 percent of parity. The preliminary figure shown in the record for the 1954 comparable season farm price per bushel for potatoes grown in the proposed production area was $1.20 per bushel. These prices may be compared with $1.87 for the 1952 season, $2.03 for the 1951 season, $0.90 for the 1950 season, and $1.43 for the 1949 season. The season average price for the 1954–55 season was estimated as of mid-December 1954 as $1.15 per bushel or 75 percent of parity, with approximately 50 percent of the crop shipped.

During the 1953–54 season, prices of U. S. No. 1 Oregon Russet potatoes on the Portland, Oregon, market ranged from $2.75 per hundredweight in October to $2.10 per hundredweight in January 1954 and down to $1.60 per hundredweight for the week ending March 20, 1954. These prices, after deducting cost of grading, sacking, etc., return less than parity to growers.

The U. S. average price received by farmers for potatoes as of December 15, 1954, was $1.05 per bushel. This was 70 percent of parity. With demand relatively inelastic, the farm price of potatoes fluctuates in response to changes in supply and generally intangible market factors. Potato prices as of mid-December 1954 will probably induce planting of the 1955 crop in the proposed production area at a level which, under normal conditions, will result in a supply that likely will return a price less than parity for the ensuing season to potato producers in such production area.

(2) The definition of "Secretary" should include not only the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, the official charged by law with responsibilities for programs of this nature, but also any other officer or employee of the United States Department of Agriculture who is or hereafter may be authorized to act in his stead. It is physically impossible for the Secretary in person to perform all functions and duties imposed upon him by law. The Secretary is empowered to delegate certain responsibilities and authority. The delegation of authority in the proposed definition of Secretary is provided by law and should be included in the definition as an appropriate means of promoting proper administration of the proposed order.

The production area in the proposed order should be extended to include all counties in the State of Oregon except Malheur County. Malheur County is located in Eastern Oregon and is included in Marketing Order No. 57, as amended (7 CFR Part 957) which regulates the handling of Irish potatoes grown in said county and in certain designated counties in Idaho.

Potato production in Oregon, other than Malheur County, is centered in certain areas scattered throughout the State. Two major producing areas are included in the present production area, one centered around Klamath Falls, Oregon, anad the other the Redmond-Bend area. Other producing areas of importance are in Baker County, the Boardman area, and the Willamette River Valley. The Willamette Valley includes the area surrounding Portland.

As has been found, potatoes grown in the present production area and those grown in the district to be added under the proposed order become inextricably intermingled with each other in entering trade channels at any point. This intermingling extends also to interstate traffic in potatoes, mixing and competing not only with out-of-state potatoes shipped into Oregon, but also with handling of Oregon potatoes in markets within the state and in out-of-state markets. During 1953, for example, potatoes were unloaded at Portland which were produced in Maine, the mid-west and Florida, as well as potatoes from the Western States of Oregon, California, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Colorado, and Arizona. Potatoes produced in Oregon were in turn sold in interstate commerce throughout the western, mid-western, southwestern, and eastern markets. The handling, therefore, of potatoes grown in the proposed production area, regardless of the section where grown, is in interstate commerce or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce.

The movement of potatoes grown in the section of Oregon to be added to the production area by the proposed order has had a serious effect upon the movement of and prices for potatoes grown in the present regulated production area. Many of these nonregulated Oregon potatoes are poorly graded and have an undue effect in reducing returns for all Oregon potatoes. Such nonregulated potatoes are offered for sale both within and outside the State in stores also offering regulated Oregon potatoes. Because the same varieties are grown throughout Oregon, it is practically impossible to identify potatoes as being from a certain producing area in Oregon. Since all potatoes grown in Oregon are commonly accepted as Oregon potatoes without distinction being made as to whether they are grown in a nonregulated area or in the present production area, sale of the lower grade, poor quality, nonregulated Oregon potatoes has a depressing effect on the prices received for all Oregon potatoes regardless of the particular area in Oregon where produced.

The initial quality of potatoes produced in the nonregulated area in Oregon is very similar to the initial quality of potatoes grown in the regulated areas. Marketing practices differ, however, in that some handlers in the nonregulated area pack lower grades and use second-hand sacks. Testimony shows that some potatoes grown in the nonregulated area are marketed as two grades, a U. S. No. 1, 2-inch minimum pack, and a U. S. No. 2, 1½-inch minimum pack. Since inspection is obtained on only about 10 percent of the total shipments of such potatoes, certification is lacking as to the actual grades of such shipments. Testimony shows, however, that experts consider the quality to be low. Also, the record shows that culls grown in the nonregulated area were sold in the Portland market, thereby displacing potatoes of good grade from the present production area as well as potatoes from other producing areas.

These Oregon potatoes of questionable quality, being influenced by the same demand and supply factors affecting regulated Oregon potatoes, and being presently sold without complying with the prescribed grade and size regulation, should be subject to the same regulations and restrictions as regulated Oregon potatoes and thus promote the orderly marketing of all such potatoes and improve returns to producers. If these counties which are not included within the production area of either the present order or Order No. 57, as amended, become part of the production area under the proposed order, the benefits derivable under the program will accrue to the producers in such counties on the same basis and in the same manner as to producers in the present production area. The production of and marketing channels for potatoes grown throughout the proposed production area are similar; they are being sold in the same markets, and any unit sale of such potatoes affects the prices returned for all such potatoes. Exclusion of any portion of the counties of Modoc and Siskiyou, in the State of California, or of any portion of Oregon (other than Malheur County) from the proposed production area would make the administration of the proposed order unreasonably difficult and impractical and would tend to prevent effectuating the declared policy of the act. Therefore, the definition of production area hereafter set forth constitutes the smallest practicable regional production area under the terms and provisions of the proposed order.

The movement of potatoes grown in the Oregon portion of the proposed production area to markets within the State of Oregon, and the movement of potatoes grown in the California portion of the proposed production area to markets within the State of California, respectively, directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such potatoes. There is an interstate or foreign market for potatoes grown in the proposed production area, and prices at markets, both within and outside the States of Oregon and California, are closely related to each other and to shipping point prices in the proposed production area. Every movement of such potatoes, whether to a market within or outside of the States of Oregon and California, affects the price structure for potatoes grown in the proposed production area and for potatoes grown in competing states.

(4) The definition of handle should be amended to include all selling and transporting of potatoes within the proposed production area and between the production area and any point outside thereof. This definition includes the activities of persons engaged in handling potatoes which are to be subject to regulations under the proposed order.

The handling of such potatoes begins with the movement from or the grading of such potatoes in the field where grown. Such handling ordinarily results in moving potatoes from the field where grown to a packing shed for grading, sorting, and packing, or to storage. In some instances, however, potatoes are transported directly from the field where grown (with or without usual grading, sorting, and packing) to wholesale establishments for resale to retailers or to retail stores for resale to consumers. The operations of grading, sorting, and packing, or storing potatoes are but intermediate steps in the marketing of such potatoes. These operations in some instances are performed on the farm where the potatoes are grown. The act of moving potatoes from the field where grown, and all subsequent operations and transactions performed with respect to such potatoes are included within the definition of handle. Such subsequent operations and transactions include, but are not limited to, the washing, grading, and sizing of potatoes, the packing of potatoes in bags or other containers, the movement of potatoes from the end of a grader to a car or truck for loading, the transportation of such potatoes to market, and the sale or sales of such potatoes made at the time of movement from the field or subsequent thereto. Handling includes grading which in turn includes any and all regrading, resorting, or repacking operations which may be performed with respect to such potatoes. Inclusion of the foregoing operations and transactions within the definition of handle is necessary for effective administration of the proposed order and for effectuating the declared policy of the act.

This definition covers substantially the same activities as are included in the present definition of the term in the current order and is made applicable to the production area defined in the proposed order.

(5) A fiscal period should be substituted for the presently defined fiscal year. Fiscal year is presently defined to include the period from July 1 of each year to June 30 of the following year. Under the definition of fiscal period, as hereinafter set forth, the fiscal period covers a period beginning and ending on dates recommended by the committee and approved by the Secretary. The committee should have this authority so as to recommend the period that is most practicable and workable. This permits the adjustment of the beginning and ending dates of the fiscal period to correspond to the actual shipping season.

(6) Pack is defined in the proposed order as a means for establishing a method of regulation. Pack relates to the grade and size of potatoes that may be placed in a given shipping unit. The common or usual packs in the potato industry under the proposed order are U. S. No. 1, Size A, 100-pound unit; or U. S. No. 1, 2" minimum, 100-pound unit; or U. S. No. 2, 8 ounces minimum or 10 ounces minimum, 50-pound unit. Weight variations commonly apply to units of 100 pounds, 50 pounds, 25 pounds, 10 pounds, and 5 pounds. U. S. No. 1 or No. 2 grade may be tied in with any weight unit, and, in turn, minimum or maximum size may be tied in with any grade and any weight unit. The particular packs which may be used shall be specified by recommendation of the committee and approval of the Secretary. The definition of pack set forth in the proposed order will help to promote more orderly marketing of potatoes and thereby will tend to effectuate the purposes of the act.

(7) Testimony in the record does not provide sufficient substantial evidence as a basis for the proposed definition of container. Hence, the definition is not included in the proposed order.

(8) It is necessary to define "grading" to determine what constitutes grading of potatoes or preparation for market. Authority is included in the proposed order to facilitate shipments of potatoes for the purpose of having them graded or stored within the production area generally or within any portion thereof. Also, the regrading, resorting, or repacking, or any other further preparation of potatoes for market would invalidate any prior inspection certificate covering the potatoes. The processes which constitute grading or preparation for market should be as defined in the proposed order.

(9) The inclusion of the new district within the proposed production area necessitates certain changes in the sections relating to the administrative agency, the Oregon-California Potato Committee, established under the order. The increase in the size of the production area, the increase in production, and the increase in the number of growers and handlers covered by the proposed order necessitate and justify an increase in committee membership. The addition of one grower and one handler to the committee membership, which would bring total members to twelve, would establish a committee large enough to give adequate representation to growers and handlers throughout the production area under the proposed order. The committee membership should be so enlarged by one grower member and one handler member, in order to provide adequate and equitable representation on the committee for the new district brought under the proposed order. The new district comprises approximately 14 percent of the potato acreage in the proposed production area and it will have one-sixth of the committee membership. An alternate with like qualifications should be selected for each member to provide continuity of committee operation in the event of a member's absence.

(10) The number of members to constitute a quorum and likewise the number of concurring votes required to pass any committee action also should be increased because of the enlarged membership of the committee. Under the present order seven of the committee's ten members are necessary for a quorum and seven concurring votes are necessary to pass any committee action. With committee membership enlarged to twelve, eight members should be required for a quorum to pass any action, thus requiring more deliberation on any consideration of any question. Furthermore, this eight vote requirement assures that any recommended regulation will have wider support than would be the case if a smaller number is required.

(11) Committee members should be selected on the basis of districts which are established in the proposed order. The present production area is divided into three districts. Under the amendments all of the remaining counties in Oregon except Malheur comprise the new district No. 3 because it is an appropriate and proper geographical entity for purposes of representation on the committee, and because the grower and handler representation on the committee is fair and equitable considering acreage and production in the new district. The grower and handler representation on the committee for the other districts under the proposed order is the same as under the present order. Grower and handler representation on the committee under the order has been satisfactory, fair and equitable. The addition of one grower member and one handler member from the new district No. 3 under the proposed order establishes for each district a fair and equitable representation on the committee based on a comparison of the acreage, production, and number of growers and handlers involved in the several districts.

(12) The term of office of committee members and alternates under the proposed order should be for two years beginning on July 1 and ending June 30, the same as under the order. This provides adequate opportunity for change in committee membership, if growers or handlers desire, and, at the same time the two year term promotes stability of operations from year to year. The extension of the two year terms to the new members from district No. 3 is appropriate because they will thereby be on the same basis of tenure as the members from the districts under the present order. Provision that one-half of the terms of office shall expire each year provides ample opportunity for growers and handlers to change composition on the committee if they so desire.

(13) The establishment or providing for the establishment of marketing research and development projects was authorized by amendments to the act in Public Law 690 enacted by the 83rd Congress. Such authorization should be included in the proposed order.

By means of marketing research and development projects, the committee could determine the volume of potatoes falling into each grade and size composition of each grade. With such information the Secretary and the committee would know what volume would be taken off the market by specific grade and size restrictions. By such projects the industry could undertake to determine the practicability of distributing educational literature describing the nutritional value of potatoes as an effort to counteract the declining per capita consumption of potatoes.

Information relative to the marketing of potatoes is needed to improve consumer acceptance. The committee could study consumer preferences for certain varieties, types, sizes and packs of potatoes to determine more nearly what potatoes and packs the consumer desires. Potatoes packed to high standards in the shipping area are often damaged enroute to the market. Potato quality almost always declines in storage. Studies which could discover improved methods of transporting and sorting potatoes would permit improvement of potato quality and would enable the industry to market a better product.

As the industry becomes more experienced in market research and development, new studies will undoubtedly become apparent which will be of value but which are not apparent at this time. Therefore, the committee should have the authority to recommend the establishment of such projects which may not have been specifically mentioned at the hearing. The committee should be empowered to engage in such projects, to spend funds for them, and to consult and cooperate with other agencies with regard to their establishment. All such projects must be approved by the Secretary. Evidence did not support the inclusion of subcommittees for recommending size, capacity, or weight of containers.

(14) The inclusion of the additional producing section of Oregon within the production area of the proposed order necessitates the establishment of a new district to provide a basis for committee representation from such new section. District No. 3 which under the present order includes the counties of Modoc and Siskiyou, California, is changed under the proposed order to District No. 4. District No. 3 under the proposed order is established so that it includes all counties in Oregon, except Malheur, which are not contained in Districts No. 1 and No. 2. The record shows that this provides a satisfactory, fair, and equitable geographical basis for establishing committee representation.

(15) The nomination of committee members from the new district should be submitted by producers and handlers in such district on an elective basis. Names of nominees may be submitted to the Secretary by county agents, industry organizations, or other appropriate agencies and then sent to growers and handlers in the form of a ballot so such growers and handlers can indicate their choices for nominees. Any other method of securing nominations in each district, however, may be employed which is fair and equitable to the expression of choice by growers and handlers for their representation on the committee.

The funds to cover the expenses of the comittee should be obtained through the levying of assessments on handlers. The act specifically authorizes the Secretary to approve the incurring of reasonable expenses by administrative agencies, such as the committee, and the statute also requires that each order issued pursuant to the act shall contain provisions requiring handlers to pay their pro rata share of the necessary expenses. Moreover, in order to assure continuance of the committee, the payment of assessments by handlers may be required irrespective of whether particular provisions of an order are suspended or become inoperative.

Each handler should pay the committee upon demand his pro rata share of such reasonable expenses which the Secretary finds will be incurred necessarily by the committee during each fiscal period. Such pro rata share of expenses should be equal to the ratio between the total quantity of potatoes handled by him as the first handler thereof during a specified fiscal period and the total quantity of potatoes so handled by all handlers during the same fiscal period. For assessment purposes, the first handler should be deemed to be the person who first applies for inspection since such person generally is the first handler. For potatoes which are not so inspected, the handler responsible for the assessment should be the handler so designated by the committee and should be the handler who first handles such potatoes.

At any time during or subsequent to a given fiscal period the committee should be authorized to recommend the approval of an amended budget and to recommend the fixing of an increased rate of assessment to balance necessary committee expenses and revenues for such period. Upon the basis of such recommendations, or other available information, the Secretary should be authorized to approve amended budgets, and, if he finds that the then current rate of assessment is insufficient to cover committee expenses and permit proper administration of the proposed order, he should be authorized to increase the rate of assessment. The proposed order should provide that such increased rate of assessment shall be applied retroactively to all potatoes previously handled by first handlers during the specified fiscal period so as to avoid inequities.

Funds received by the committee pursuant to the levying of assessments should be used solely for the purpose of administering the provisions of the proposed order. The committee should be required to maintain books and records clearly reflecting the true, up-to-date operation of its affairs so that its administration may be subject to inspection at any time by appropriate parties. Each member and each alternate, as well as employees, agencies, or other persons working for or on behalf of the committee should be required to account for all receipts and disbursements, funds, property, or records for which they are responsible, and the Secretary may at any time ask for such an accounting. Whenever any person ceases to be a member or alternate of the committee, he should be required to account for all receipts, disbursements, funds, property, books, records, and other committee assets for which he is responsible and to deliver such funds, property, and other assets as directed by the Secretary. Such person should also be required to execute assignments and such other instruments which may be appropriate to vest in his successor, or agency, or person designated by the Secretary, the right to all such funds and property and all claims vested in such person. This is a matter of good business practice.

If the committee should recommend that the operation of the proposed order should be suspended, or if no regulation should be in effect for a part or all of a marketing season, the committee should be authorized to recommend as a practical measure that one or more of its members, or any other person, should be designated by the Secretary to act as a trustee or trustees during such period. This provides a practical measure whereby the committee's business affairs may be taken care of during periods of relative inactivity with a minimum of difficulty and expense to the industry and to the Secretary.

The committee should provide periodic reports on its fiscal operations. Audit reports may be requested by the Secretary at appropriate times, such as at the end of each marketing season or at such other times as may be necessary, to maintain appropriate supervision and control of the committee's affairs. Handlers should be entitled to a proportionate refund of the excess assessments which remain at the end of a fiscal period, or at the end of such other period as may be deemed appropriate for seasonal accounting. Such refund should be credited to each such handler against the operations of the following fiscal period, unless he demands payment thereof, in which event such proportionate refund shall be paid to him.

When the committee is required to wind up its affairs upon termination of the proposed order, considerable expense may be involved in the liquidation process. It is appropriate, therefore, in order to meet the expenses of such liquidation that some of the funds remaining at the end of a fiscal period, which are in excess of those necessary for payment of expenditures during such period, should be carried over into subsequent fiscal periods as a reserve for possible liquidation. Such reserve should be maintained for the purpose of helping to cover the expenses of final liquidation of the committee in the event that the proposed order is terminated and would to the extent practical spread the cost of liquidation on an equitable basis among handlers during the entire period the program was in effect.

(17) The declared policy of the act is to establish and maintain such orderly marketing conditions for potatoes, among other commodities, as will tend to establish parity prices for such potatoes, and to establish and maintain such minimum standards of quality and maturity and such grading and inspection requirements as will effectuate such orderly marketing of potatoes as will be in the public interest. The regulation of shipments of potatoes by grade, size, quality, or maturity as authorized in the proposed order provides a means of carrying out such policy.

The present provisions of the order relative to marketing policy, recommendations of regulations, and the issuance of regulations should be deleted and new provisions substituted in their place so as to clarify such provisions in the proposed order.

The procedures and methods which are outlined in the proposed order for the development and institution of marketing policies relating to grade, size, quality, or maturity regulation provide a practical basis for the committee to obtain appropriate and adequate information relating to potato marketing problems. Also, other members of the industry, including both growers and handlers, should be provided with the information regarding the policies and regulations recommended by the committee to enable them to plan their operations accordingly. The factors set forth in the proposed order which the committee should take into consideration in developing its marketing policies are the factors commonly and usually taken into account by growers and handlers in their day-to-day evaluation of the market outlook with respect to potatoes.

In order that the Secretary may effectively carry out his responsibilities in connection with the proposed order, the committee should prepare and submit to the Secretary a report on its proposed marketing policy and amendments thereto, relating to the marketing of potatoes during each season. The initial marketing policy offered each season by the committee should be prepared and submitted to the Secretary prior to or simultaneous with recommendations for regulations. This should give all interested parties the maximum notice of probable regulations. Reports on marketing policy and regulations recommended by the committee should be submitted to the Secretary and presented to the industry as a means of keeping both informed.

The committee should be empowered to consider and recommend any or all authorized methods of regulation for issuance by the Secretary. Evidence shows that authority should be established in the proposed order to issue regulations with respect to grade, size, quality, or maturity in any or all portions of the production area during any period. Such grade, size, quality, or maturity regulations should be applicable to table stock potatoes or to seed potatoes or both. The limitation of shipments of poorer grades, off qualities, badly skinned, and less desirable sizes of potatoes grown in the production area will tend to increase prices of more desirable grades, qualities and sizes and to promote more orderly marketing and increase the returns to producers of such potatoes.

The standards for potatoes as issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, or by the State of Oregon or by the State of California, provide a common and acceptable means of determining grade, size, quality, or maturity of potatoes grown in the production area defined in the proposed order. Such standards are widely used throughout the production area and both producers and shipping point handlers, as well as buyers, are acquainted with such standards and commonly use them in their market transactions. The less desirable sizes of potatoes which may be considered for limitation under the authority of the proposed order may include not only small potatoes but also excessively large potatoes. Size limitations should also be authorized for limiting the sizes of potatoes which may be placed in seed stock or in table stock, as well as in any given pack of either as a means of promoting more orderly marketing. The poorer grades and off qualities could include not only the unclassified potatoes as set forth in the Federal and in the State standards for potatoes, which are commonly referred to as culls, but also other potatoes which show defects as set forth and described in such standards and in any modifications or amendments thereto which may be considered desirable by the Secretary or by appropriate State authorities. The limitation of shipments by prohibiting movement of poorer grades, off qualities, badly skinned, and less desirable sizes of potatoes will help to improve orderly marketing conditions for potatoes by enhancing the demand for and competitive position of potatoes grown in the production area defined in the proposed order.

The orderly marketing of potatoes grown in such production area, with the objective of increasing returns to producers of such potatoes, will be promoted by authorizing the regulation of shipments of particular grades, sizes, qualities, or maturity of potatoes differently for different varieties, differently for table stock or seed, differently for different portions of the production area, differently for different packs, or differently for any combination of these groups, during any period.

Demand for different varieties of potatoes establishes price preferences for different grades or sizes, or both, of such varieties. Testimony shows for example that usually there is greater acceptance and demand for U. S. No. 2 long variety potatoes than there is for U. S. No. 2 round white or red skin varieties. In addition, prices for minimum sizes of long varieties may well be different, and usually are different, from those for the minimum sizes of round varieties. Also, grade and size limitations for red varieties could receive different consideration than for either the round white varieties or the long varieties. It is possible that some varieties, such as promising new varieties for seed, should not be regulated at all.

Small size potatoes usually return a premium in the seed market but they are discounted in the table stock market. Therefore, different regulations should be authorized for table stock and seed. It is possible that weather conditions may vary from one portion of the production area to another, or hail storms and other weather damage may affect a certain portion of the production area more than others. Authority should be established in the proposed order for the committee to consider such differences and to recommend the issuance by the Secretary of different regulations to accommodate such differences in the crop arising out of acts beyond human control.

The proposed order should authorize different regulations for different packs so that this part of the marketing program may help to assist the industry in furthering merchandising approaches if they are found to be sound, and so that the committee and the Secretary may take account of different supply and demand conditions as they may arise and become apparent.

Due to lack of substantial evidence to support regulation of the size, weight, or capacity of containers, no authority for so doing is included in the proposed order.

The committee should be authorized to recommend, and the Secretary to establish as permitted by the act, such minimum standards of quality and maturity, and such grading and inspection requirements, during any and all periods when the seasonal average price for potatoes is above parity as will be in the public interest. Some potatoes are of such low quality that they do not give consumer satisfaction at any time because of the large amount of waste and the time consumed in preparing them. It was testified that consumers do not receive proper value for their expenditures for such low quality potatoes as culls, and when prices are above parity it is not in the public interest either of the producers or of consumers to permit shipments of such poor quality. The sale also of immature potatoes tends to disturb market conditions for the commodity, and the discounted prices received for such immature potatoes adversely affects growers' returns.

(18) The handling of ungraded potatoes for grading or storing in the proposed production area should be limited to such area generally or to specific portions thereof. Although some potatoes move directly from the field to the grader for preparation for market, most potatoes grown in the proposed production area are stored, being moved from the field to storage in field run condition. Usually this grading or storage is done close to farms where such potatoes are grown and it is not the usual practice to haul ungraded potatoes for any great distance for these purposes. In some instances, however, potatoes move from storage in field run condition to graders at more distant points for preparation for market. It is impractical, as a matter of every day business operation, to require such potatoes which later are to be graded or prepared for market, to meet grade and size regulations applicable to table stock or other shipments. To require such movement of potatoes to be in compliance with grade and size regulations on table stock potatoes would impose an unreasonable hardship on producers in the proposed production area and would disrupt normal harvesting and marketing procedures. Such movement for grading or storage within the production area should be allowed upon the discretion of the committee under rules and regulations to be established by the Secretary. The committee and the Secretary should have authority, however, to determine that movement of potatoes for the purpose of grading or storage should be limited, if necessary, to certain portions of the production area. It does not appear reasonable that a handler should move potatoes from the Klamath Falls section of the production area to Portland for the purpose of grading or storage. However, it should be reasonable in many instances for a handler to move potatoes within a county, or within a usual growing section, such as the Williamette Valley, for grading or storage and authorization for such purposes should be allowed. Restrictions to such limitations should be authorized also. The committee, therefore, should be authorized to recommend, and the Secretary to effect, regulations or exemptions from regulations, or the modification or termination of regulations with respect to movement or transportation of potatoes within the production area generally or any portion thereof for grading or storage.

Shipments of pickouts and culls for livestock feed have been relieved from regulation under the present order. These shipments should be restricted to a reasonable marketing area. Under the proposed order such shipments should be limited to the production area generally, and when circumstances warrant to specified portions thereof to facilitate their handling for such purpose, because there are ready markets for these livestock feed potatoes within the proposed production area. Since such production area can utilize the available supply of such potatoes, it is practical and desirable to authorize restriction of their movement to localized livestock outlets as a means of effecting compliance with the terms and conditions of the proposed order.

(19) Provision should be made for inspection by the Federal-State Inspection Service, or by such other inspection service as the Secretary may approve, of shipments of potatoes grown in the production area defined in the proposed order during any period in which shipments of potatoes are regulated under the proposed order. Such inspection requirements should apply to all potatoes shipped under regulations issued under the proposed order, except when any such shipments are relieved from inspection requirements pursuant to § 959.53 or § 959.54 of such order, so as to assure compliance under the program.

Inspection of shipments subject to regulation establishes a means for providing the shipper, the buyer, the committee, the Secretary, and other interested parties with a means of determining whether a shipment or shipments of potatoes comply with the requirements of any particular grade, size, quality, or maturity regulation which may be in effect under the proposed order. Effective regulation of the handling of potatoes grown in the production area requires that the grade, size, quality and maturity of each shipment of such potatoes should be authoritatively established so that the administration of the proposed order shall be efficient and effective.

Copies of inspection certificates issued pursuant to the requirements of the proposed order should be supplied to the committee promptly so that it may properly discharge its administrative responsibilities under the program.

Provision should be made in the proposed order for authority to inspect potatoes not only by personnel of the Federal-State Inspection Service but also by personnel of such inspection service as the Secretary may designate so that sufficient flexibility for successful operation can be provided through appropriate inspection if Federal-State inspection is not available. The requirement that no handler shall ship potatoes unless each shipment is inspected by an authorized inspection service approved under the proposed order is reasonable and necessary for the proper administration of the program.

Responsibility for obtaining inspection should fall primarily on the handler who first handles such potatoes after they have been prepared for market so that each shipment of such potatoes shall be identified and certified with respect to its grade and size. The handler who so first handles potatoes should be required to obtain inspection and subsequent handlers may not handle potatoes unless a properly issued inspection certificate, valid under the terms of the proposed order, applies to each shipment. Each handler must bear responsibility for determining that each of his shipments is inspected. Such requirement is necessary so that the committee can obtain evidence in the form of inspection certificates which it needs to carry out its appropriate functions in determining if specific shipments have been inspected and if they otherwise meet requirements of the proposed order and regulations issued pursuant thereto.

Whenever any shipment of potatoes subject to the terms and provisions of the proposed order have been inspected and are later dumped from the containers in which they were inspected, such potatoes lose their identity insofar as the original inspection certificate issued for them is concerned. If any such lot of potatoes thereafter should be repacked, regraded, or resorted, such repacked, regraded, or resorted potatoes have a new identity, and any subsequent handling of such potatoes should comply with regulations issued under the proposed order. Therefore, inspection of such potatoes should be required as in the case of any other handling of potatoes. Such requirement is necessary to effectuate the declared policy of the act. Therefore the proposed order should provide that any person who handles potatoes grown in the production area after they have been repacked, regraded, or resorted shall not handle such potatoes unless they have been inspected except when exempted from such requirement under rules and regulations issued pursuant to proposed § 959.60 (b). Such inspection of repacked, regraded, or resorted potatoes is necessary so that the shipper thereof, as well as subsequent handlers, and the committee may determine if such shipments comply with the regulations then in effect and applicable thereto.

The committee should be authorized to recommend rules and regulations which, with the approval of the Secretary, will modify the inspection requirements on repacked, regraded, or resorted potatoes. The expanded production area includes several terminal markets. Some wholesalers in these markets repack a few sacks of potatoes in consumer size packages for the small independent store trade. The extension of the inspection requirement to the handling of such repacked, regraded, or resorted potatoes may place undue hardship on such repackers and also on the Federal-State Inspection Service. It may be desirable and practical to exempt such operations at times from the inspection requirements under rules and regulations recommended by the committee and approved by the Secretary, which could provide for such exemption by permitting minimum quantities to be reworked and handled without the additional inspection, or by relieving the inspection requirement in certain geographical areas of the production area. The proposed order should authorize the committee to recommend such rules and regulations which would modify, suspend, or terminate inspection requirements on the repacked, regraded, or resorted lots of potatoes.

The committee, with the approval of the Secretary, should be authorized to determine the length of time the inspection certificate may be valid insofar as the requirements of the proposed order are concerned. Such requirement is desirable and necessary especially with respect to warehouse or lot inspections which may be desirable to accommodate handlers and truckers.

(20) The continuation of rules and regulations effective under the present order which may be in operation at the time of issuance of the proposed order is necessary for the efficient continuation of the operation of the program. Rules and regulations relative to exemption certificates and safeguards, as well as regulations limiting shipments and providing for a budget of expenses and the levying of assessments have ben issued under the present order. Since there are no substantial changes in the provisions of the order authorizing these rules and regulations their continuation is practical and necessary for efficient operation and any lapse in such rules and regulations for technical reasons could result in undue administrative hardship on the industry, the committee and the Secretary.

(21) The provisions of the present order which remain essentially unchanged by the terms and conditions of the proposed order should be applied to the entire production area because such provisions are incidental to, and not inconsistent with section 8c (6) and (7) of the act, and they are necessary to effectuate the other provisions of the proposed order and to effectuate the declared policy of the act. These provisions include, among others, the miscellaneous provisions, §§ 959.70 through 959.91, which are an essential part of the present order, also common to other potato marketing orders, and they are essential to the operation of the proposed order. The other provisions of the present order remaining essentially the same in the proposed order are incorporated on the same basis. The record shows the desirability and necessity for doing so. These sections set forth certain definitions, rights, obligations, privileges, or procedures which are necessary and appropriate for the effective operation of the proposed order.

Ruling on proposed findings and conclusions. At the conclusion of the hearing, the Presiding Officer fixed March 3, 1955, as the latest day on which briefs from interested parties with respect to the testimony presented in evidence at the hearing and the findings and conclusions to be drawn therefrom must be received by the Hearing Clerk of this Department. No such brief was filed; hence no ruling is necessary.

General findings. Upon the basis of evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof it is found that:

(1) The marketing agreement, as hereby proposed to be amended, and the order, as amended and as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to potatoes produced in the production area, by establishing and maintaining such orderly marketing conditions therefor as will tend to establish, as prices to the producers thereof, parity prices and by protecting the interest of the consumer (i) by approaching the level of prices which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish by a gradual correction of the current level of prices at as rapid a rate as the Secretary deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets, and (ii) by authorizing no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to producers of such potatoes above the parity level, and (iii) by authorizing the establishment and maintenance of such minimum standards of quality and maturity, and such grading and inspection requirements as may be incidental thereto, as will tend to effectuate such orderly marketing of such potatoes as will be in the public interest;

(2) The marketing agreement, as hereby proposed to be amended, and the order, as amended and as hereby proposed to be amended, regulates the handling of potatoes grown in the production area in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which hearings have been held;

(3) The said marketing agreement, as hereby proposed to be amended, and the order, as amended and as hereby proposed to be amended, are limited in application to the smallest regional production area which is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act; and the issuance of the several orders applicable to subdivisions of the production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act;

(4) The said marketing agreement, as hereby proposed to be amended, and the order, as amended and as hereby proposed to be amended, prescribe, so far as practicable, such different terms, applicable to different parts of the production area, as are necessary to give due recognition to the differences in the production and marketing of potatoes grown in the production area; and

(5) All handling of potatoes grown in the production area is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or directly burdens, obstructs or affects such commerce.

Recommended amendment of the marketing agreement and order. The following proposed amendment of the marketing agreement and order, as amended, is recomended as the detailed means by which the aforesaid conclusions may be carried out:

DEFINITIONS

§ 959.1 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States or any officer or employee of the United States Department of Agriculture to whom authority has heretofore been delegated, or to whom authority may hereafter be delegated, to act in his stead.

§ 959.2 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 907, 1047).

§ 959.3 Person. "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any organized group or business unit.

§ 959.4 Production area. "Production area" means and includes Modoc and Siskiyou Counties in the State of California, and all counties, except Malheur, in the State of Oregon.

§ 959.5 Potatoes. "Potatoes" means all varieties of Irish potatoes grown within the aforesaid production area.

§ 959.6 Handler. "Handler" is synonymous with "shipper" and means any person (except a common or contract carrier of potatoes owned by another person) who ships potatoes.

§ 959.7 Handle. "Handle" or "ship" means to sell or transport potatoes within the production area or between the production area and any point outside thereof.

§ 959.8 Producer. "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of potatoes for market.

§ 959.9 Fiscal period. "Fiscal period" means the period beginning and ending on the dates approved by the Secretary pursuant to recommendations by the committee.

§ 959.10 Committee. "Committee" means the administrative committee, called the Oregon-California Potato Committee, established pursuant to § 959.25.

§ 959.11 Varieties. "Varieties" means and includes all classifications or subdivisions of Irish potatoes according to those definitive characteristics now or hereafter recognized by the United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 959.12 Seed potatoes. "Seed potatoes" means and includes all potatoes officially certified and tagged, marked or otherwise appropriately identified under the supervision of the official seed potato certifying agency of the State from which the potatoes are shipped, or other seed certification agencies which the Secretary may recognize.

§ 959.14 Pack. "Pack" means a unit of potatoes in any type of container and which falls within specific weight limits or within specific grade limits recommended by the committee and approved by the Secretary.

§ 959.15 Grade and size. "Grade" means any one of the officially established grades of potatoes, and "size" means any one of the officially established sizes of potatoes, as defined and set forth in:

(a) The United States Standards for Potatoes issued by the United States Department of Agriculture (§§ 51.1540 to 51.1559 of this title), or amendments thereto, or modifications thereof, or variations based thereon;

(b) United States Consumer Standards for Potatoes as issued by the United States Department of Agriculture (§§ 51.1575 to 51.1587 of this title), or amendments thereto, or modifications thereof, or variations based thereon; and

(c) Standards for potatoes issued by the State from which the potatoes are shipped, or amendments thereto, or modifications thereof, or variations based thereon.

§ 959.16 Grading. "Grading" is synonymous with "preparing for market" which means the sorting or separating of potatoes into grades and sizes for market purposes.

§ 959.17 Export. "Export" means shipment of potatoes beyond the boundaries of continental United States.

ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEE

§ 959.25 Establishment and membership. (a) The Oregon-California Potato Committee consisting of twelve members, of whom eight shall be producers and four shall be handlers, is hereby established. For each member of the committee there shall be an alternate who shall have the same qualifications as the member.

(b) An alternate member of the committee shall act in the place and stead of the member for whom he is an alternate during such member's absence. In the event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of a member his alternate shall act for him until a successor for such member is selected and has qualified.

§ 959.26 Procedure. (a) Eight members of the committee shall be necessary to constitute a quorum and eight concurring votes will be required to pass any motion or approve any committee action.

(b) The committee may provide for meeting by telephone, telegraph, or other means of communication and any vote cast at such meeting shall be confirmed promptly in writing: Provided, That if any assembled meeting is held, all votes shall be cast in person.

§ 959.27 Selection. (a) Persons selected as committee members or alternates to represent producers or handlers shall be producers or handlers, respectively, or officers or employees of a corporate producer or handler, respectively, in the district for which selected and shall be residents of such district.

(b) The Secretary shall select three producer members of the committee, with their respective alternates, from District No. 1, two producer members, with their alternates, from each of Districts No. 2 and No. 4, and one producer member with his alternate, from District No. 3. The Secretary shall also select one handler member of the committee, with his alternate, from each of Districts Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4.

(c) Any person selected by the Secretary as a committee member or as an alternate shall qualify by filing a written acceptance with the Secretary within ten days after being notified of such selection.

§ 959.28 Term of office. (a) The term of office of committee members and alternates shall be two years beginning July 1 and ending June 30. The terms of office of members and alternates shall be so determined that one-half of the total producer committee membership and one-half of the total handler committee membership shall terminate each June 30.

(b) Committee members and alternates shall serve during the term of office for which they are selected and have qualified, or during that portion thereof beginning on the date on which they qualify during the current term of office and continuing until the end thereof, and until their successors are selected and have qualified.

§ 959.29 Powers. The committee shall have the following powers:

(a) To administer the provisions of this subpart in accordance with its terms;

(b) To make rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions of this subpart;

(c) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violation of the provisions of this subpart; and

(d) To recommend to the Secretary amendments to this subpart.

§ 959.30 Duties. It shall be the duty of the committee:

(a) At the beginning of each fiscal period, to meet and organize, to select a chairman and such other officers as may be necessary, to select subcommittees of committee members, and to adopt such rules and regulations for the conduct of its business as it may deem advisable;

(b) To act as intermediary between the Secretary and any producer or handler;

(c) To furnish to the Secretary such available information as he may request;

(d) To appoint such employees, agents, and representatives as it may deem necessary and to determine the salaries and define the duties of each such person;

(e) To investigate, from time to time, and to assemble data on the growing, harvesting, shipping, and marketing conditions with respect to potatoes;

(f) To keep minutes, books, and records which clearly reflect all of the acts and transactions of the committee and such minutes, books, and records shall be subject to examination at any time by the Secretary or his authorized agent or representative;

(g) To make available to producers and handlers the committee voting record on recommended regulations and on other matters of policy;

(h) At the beginning of each fiscal period, to submit to the Secretary a budget of its expenses for such fiscal period, together with a report thereon;

(i) To cause the books of the committee to be audited by a competent accountant at least once each fiscal period, and at such other time as the committee may deem necessary or as the Secretary may request, and the report of such audit shall show the receipt and expenditure of funds collected pursuant to this subpart; and, a copy of each such report shall be made available at the principal office of the committee for inspection by producers and handlers;

(j) To consult, cooperate, and exchange information with other potato marketing committees and other individuals or agencies in connection with all proper committee activities and objectives under this subpart; and

(k) To establish, and pay the expenses of, advisory subcommittees for the purpose of consulting with Federal, State, and other appropriate agencies with respect to the establishment of marketing research and development projects pursuant to § 959.57.

§ 959.31 Expenses and compensation. Committee members and their respective alternates when acting on committee business shall be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred by them in the performance of their duties and in the exercise of their powers under this subpart, and shall receive compensation at a rate to be determined by the committee, which rate shall not exceed $10.00 for each day, or portion thereof, spent in attending meetings of the committee.

§ 959.32 Districts. (a) For the purpose of selecting committee members, the following districts of the production area are hereby initially established:

District No. 1. The Counties of Crook, Deschutes, and Jefferson in the State of Oregon;

District No. 2. The Counties of Klamath and Lake in the State of Oregon;

District No. 3. All remaining counties in the State of Oregon, with the exception of Malheur County; District No. 4. The Counties of Modoc and Siskiyou in the State of California.

(b) The Secretary, upon the recommendation of the committee, may reestablish districts within the production area and may reapportion committee membership among the various districts: Provided, That in recommending any such changes in districts or representation, the committee shall give consideration to (1) the relative importance of new areas of production, (2) changes in the relative position of existing districts with respect to production, (3) the geographic location of areas of production as they would affect the efficiency of administering this part, and (4) other relevant factors: Provided further, That there shall be no change in the total number of committee members or in the total number of districts.

§ 959.33 Nominations. The Secretary may select the members of the Oregon-California Potato Committee and their respective alternates from nominations which may be made in the following manner:

(a) Nominations for members and alternates of the committee may be submitted by producers or handlers, as the case may be, or groups thereof, on an elective basis or otherwise.

(b) In order to provide nominations for committee members and alternates:

(1) The committee shall hold or cause to be held prior to May 1 of each year, after the effective date of this subpart, a meeting or meetings of producers and of handlers, respectively, in each of the districts designated in § 959.32 in which the term of office of committee members, and their respective alternates, will commence the following July 1;

(2) In arranging for such meetings the committee may, if it deems desirable, utilize the services and facilities of existing organizations and agencies;

(3) At each such meeting at least two nominees shall be designated for each position as member and for each position as alternate member on the committee which is vacant, or which is to become vacant the following June 30;

(4) Nominations for committee members and alternate members shall be supplied to the Secretary in such manner and form as he may prescribe, not later than May 31 of each year;

(5) Only producers may participate in designating nominees for producer committee members and their alternates and only handlers may participate in designating nominees for handler committee members and their alternates;

(6) Each person who is both a handler and a producer may vote either as a handler or as a producer and may elect the group in which he votes; and

(7) Regardless of the number of districts in which a person handles or produces potatoes, each such person is entitled to cast only one vote on behalf of himself, his agents, subsidiaries, affiliates and representatives, in designating nominees for committee members and alternates: Provided, That in the event a person is engaged in handling or producing potatoes in more than one district, such person shall elect the district within which he may participate as aforesaid in designating nominees: Provided further, That an eligible voter's privilege of casting only one vote, as aforesaid, shall be construed to permit a voter to cast one vote for each position to be filled in the respective district in which he elects to vote.

(c) If nominations are not made within the time and in the manner specified by the Secretary pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, the Secretary may, without regard to nominations, select the committee members and alternates on the basis of the representation provided for in this subpart.

§ 959.34 Vacancies. To fill any vacancy occasioned by the failure of any person selected as a committee member or as an alternate to qualify, or in the event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of any qualified member or alternate, a successor for his unexpired term may be selected by the Secretary from nominations made in the manner specified in § 959.33, or the Secretary may select such committee member or alternate from previously unselected nominees on the current nominee list from the district involved. If the names of nominees to fill any such vacancy are not made available to the Secretary within 30 days after such vacancy occurs, the Secretary may fill such vacancy without regard to nominations, which selection shall be made on the basis of the representation provided for in this subpart.

EXPENSES AND ASSESSMENTS

§ 959.40 Expenses. The committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary may find are reasonable and likely to be incurred by it during each fiscal period for the maintenance and functioning of such committee and for such purposes as the Secretary, pursuant to this subpart, determines to be appropriate. Handlers shall share expenses on the basis of each fiscal period. Each handler's share of such expense shall be proportionate to the ratio between the total quantity of potatoes handled during a fiscal period by him as the first handler thereof and the total quantity of potatoes handled during such fiscal period by all handlers as first handlers thereof.

§ 959.41 Budget. At the beginning of each fiscal period and as may be necessary thereafter, the committee shall prepare an estimated budget of income and expenditures necessary for the administration of this part. The committee may recommend to the Secretary a rate or rates of assessment calculated to provide adequate funds to defray its proposed expenditures. The committee shall present such budget to the Secretary with an accompanying report showing the basis for its calculations.

§ 959.42 Assessments. (a) The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by the levying of assessments upon handlers as provided in this subpart. Each handler who first handles potatoes shall pay assessments to the committee upon demand, which assessments shall be in payment of such handler's pro rata share of the committee's expenses.

(b) Assessments shall be levied upon handlers at rates established by the Secretary. Such rates may be established upon the basis of the committee's recommendations and other available information. Such rates may be applied equitably to each pack or unit.

(c) At any time during or subsequent to a given fiscal period the committee may recommend the approval of an amended budget and an increase in the rate of assessment. Upon the basis of such recommendations, or other available information, the Secretary may approve an amended budget and increase the rate of assessment. Such increase shall be applicable to all potatoes which were regulated under this part and which were handled by the first handler thereof during such fiscal period.

§ 959.43 Accounting. (a) All funds received by the committee pursuant to the provisions of this subpart shall be used solely for the purposes specified in this part.

(b) The Secretary may at any time require the committee, its members and alternates, employees, agents, and all other persons to account for all receipts and disbursements, funds, property, or records for which they are responsible. Whenever any person ceases to be a member or alternate of the committee he shall account for all receipts, disbursements, funds, and property (including but not being limited to books and other records) pertaining to such committee's activities for which he is responsible and deliver all such property and funds in his hands to such successor, agency or person as may be designated by the Secretary, and shall execute such assignments and other instruments as may be necessary or appropriate to vest in the designated successor, agency or person the right to all such property and funds and all claims vested in such member or alternate.

(c) The committee may make recommendations to the Secretary for one or more of the members thereof, or any other person, to act as a trustee for holding records, funds, or any other committee property during periods when regulations are not in effect and, if the Secretary determines such action appropriate, he may direct that such person or persons shall act as trustee or trustees for the committee.

§ 959.44 Refunds. At the end of each fiscal period monies arising from the excess of assessments over expenses shall be accounted for as follows:

(a) Each handler entitled to a proportionate refund of the excess assessments at the end of a fiscal period shall be credited with such refund against the operation of the following fiscal period unless he demands payment thereof, in which event such proportionate refund shall be paid to him; or

(b) The Secretary, upon recommendation of the committee, may determine that it is appropriate for the maintenance and functioning of such committee that some of the funds remaining at the end of a fiscal period which are in excess of the expenses necessary for operation during such period may be carried over into following periods as a reserve for possible liquidation. Upon approval by the Secretary, such reserve may be used upon termination of this part to liquidate the affairs of the committee: Provided, That upon termination of this part any monies in the reserve for liquidation which are not required to defray the necessary expenses of liquidation shall to the extent practical be returned upon a pro rata basis to all persons from whom such funds were collected.

REGULATION

§ 959.50 Marketing policy—(a) Preparation. Prior to each marketing season the committee shall consider and prepare a proposed policy for the marketing of potatoes. In developing its marketing policy the committee shall investigate relevant supply and demand conditions for potatoes. In such investigations the committee shall give appropriate consideration to the following:

(1) Market prices for potatoes, including prices by grade, size, quality, and maturity in different packs, or any other shipping unit;

(2) Supply of potatoes by grade, size, quality, and maturity in the production area and in other production areas;

(3) The trend and level of consumer income;

(4) Establishing and maintaining orderly marketing conditions for potatoes;

(5) Orderly marketing of potatoes as will be in the public interest; and

(6) Other relevant factors.

(b) Reports. (1) The committee shall submit a report to the Secretary setting forth the aforesaid marketing policy and it shall notify producers and handlers of the contents of such report.

(2) In the event it becomes advisable to shift from such marketing policy because of changed supply and demand conditions, the committee shall prepare a new marketing policy in accordance with the manner previously outlined. The committee shall submit a report thereon to the Secretary and notify producers and handlers of the contents of such report on the revised or amended marketing policy.

§ 959.51 Recommendations for regulations. The committee shall recommend to the Secretary grade, size, quality, and maturity regulations, or amendments thereto, or modifications thereof, whenever it finds that such regulations as provided in § 959.52 will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. The committee also may recommend modification, suspension, or termination of any regulation, or amendments thereto, in order to facilitate the handling of potatoes for the purposes authorized in § 959.54. The committee may also recommend amendment, termination, or suspension of any regulation issued under this part.

§ 959.52 Issuance of grade, size, quality, and maturity regulations. (a) The Secretary shall limit the shipment of potatoes whenever he finds from the recommendations and information submitted by the committee, or from other available information, that such regulation would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. Such limitation may:

(1) Regulate in any or all portions of the production area, the handling of particular grades, sizes, qualities, or maturity of any or all varieties of table stock or of seed potatoes, or both, during any period; or

(2) Regulate the handling of particular grades, sizes, qualities, or maturity of potatoes differently, for different varities, for table stock potatoes, for seed potatoes, for different portions of the production area, for different packs, or for any combination of the foregoing, during any period; or

(3) Regulate the handling of potatoes by establishing, in terms of grades, sizes, or both, minimum standards of quality and maturity.

(b) The Secretary may amend any regulation issued under this subpart whenever he finds that such regulation would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. The Secretary may also terminate or suspend any regulation whenever he finds that such regulation obstructs or no longer tends to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(c) The Secretary shall notify the committee of any such regulation issued pursuant to this section and the committee shall give reasonable notice thereof to handlers.

§ 959.53 Minimum quantities. The committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may establish, for any or all portions of the production area, minimum quantities below which shipments will be free from regulations issued pursuant to §§ 959.40 to 959.60, inclusive.

§ 959.54 Handling for specified purposes. (a) The Secretary upon the basis of recommendations of the committee, or upon the basis of other available information, may modify, suspend, or terminate regulations issued pursuant to §§ 959.40 to 959.60, inclusive, in order to facilitate the handling of potatoes for the purposes specified below, whenever he finds that such actions tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. Adequate safeguards may be established pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section to prevent such shipments from entering channels of trade for other than the specified purposes:

(1) Shipments of potatoes for the purpose of having such potatoes graded or stored within the production area generally or within any specified portions thereof;

(2) Shipments of potatoes for export;

(3) Shipments of potatoes for distribution by relief agencies, or for consumption by charitable institutions;

(4) Shipments of potatoes for the purpose of having such potatoes manufactured or converted into specified products or by-products;

(5) Shipments of potatoes for livestock feed within the production area generally or any specified portions thereof; and

(6) For other specified purposes.

(b) Whenever the handling of seed potatoes is not subject to the same regulations as is the handling of table stock potatoes, issued pursuant to §§ 959.40 to 959.60, inclusive, the committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe adequate safeguards, pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, to prevent diversion of such shipments from seed potato channels.

(c) The committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe adequate safeguards, authorized by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, which safeguards may include requirements that:

(1) Handlers shall file applications with the committee to handle potatoes pursuant to this section;

(2) Handlers shall obtain Federal-State inspection provided by § 959.60 and pay the pro rata share of expenses provided by § 959.41 in connection with potatoes handled under the provisions of this section: Provided, That such inspection and payment of expenses may be required at different times than otherwise specified by the aforesaid sections; and

(3) (i) Handlers shall obtain Certificates of Privilege from the committee for potatoes to be handled under the provisions of this section. The committee, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe rules governing the issuance and the contents of such Certificates of Privilege.

(ii) The committee shall make monthly reports to the Secretary showing the number of applications for such certificates, the quantity of potatoes covered by such applications, the number of such applications denied and certificates granted, the quantity of potatoes handled under duly issued certificates, and such other information as may be requested by the Secretary. The committee may rescind or deny Certificates of Privilege to any handler if evidence is obtained that potatoes handled by him for the purposes stated in this section have been diverted from such purposes contrary to the provisions of this subpart.

(d) (1) The Secretary shall give prompt notice to the committee of any modification, suspension or termination of regulations pursuant to this section, or of any approval issued by him under the provisions of this section.

(2) The Secretary shall have the right to modify, change, alter, or rescind any safeguards prescribed and any certificates issued by the committee pursuant to the provisions of this section.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

§ 959.57 Research and development. The committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may provide for the establishment of marketing research and development projects designed to assist, improve, or promote the marketing, distribution, and consumption of potatoes.

INSPECTION AND CERTIFICATION

§ 959.60 Inspection and certification. (a) During any period in which the handling of potatoes is regulated pursuant to §§ 959.42, 959.52, or 959.54, or any combination thereof, no handler shall handle potatoes unless such potatoes are inspected by an authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service, or such other inspection service as the Secretary shall designate, and are covered by a valid inspection certificate, except when relieved from such requirements pursuant to § 959.53 or § 959.54 or both.

(b) Regrading, resorting, or repacking any lot of potatoes shall invalidate any prior inspection certificates insofar as the requirements of this section are concerned. No handler shall handle potatoes after they have been regraded, resorted, repacked, or in any way further prepared for market, unless such potatoes are inspected by an authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service, or such other inspection service as the Secretary shall designate: Provided, That such inspection requirements on regraded, resorted, or repacked potatoes may be modified, suspended, or terminated under rules and regulations recommended by the committee, and approved by the Secretary.

(c) Insofar as the requirements of this section are concerned, the length of time for which an inspection certificate is valid may be established by the committee with the approval of the Secretary.

(d) When potatoes are inspected in accordance with the requirements of this section, a copy of each inspection certificate issued shall be made available to the committee by the inspection service.

EXEMPTIONS

§ 959.65 Procedure. The committee may adopt, subject to approval of the Secretary, the procedures pursuant to which certificates of exemption will be issued to producers or handlers.

§ 959.66 Granting exemptions. (a) The committee may issue certificates of exemption to any producer who applies for such exemption and furnishes adequate evidence to the committee: (1) that by reason of a regulation issued pursuant to § 959.52 he will be prevented from handling as large a proportion of his production as the average proportion of production handled by all producers in said applicant's immediate production area; and (2) that the grade, size, or quality of the applicant's potatoes have been adversely affected by acts beyond the applicant's control and by acts beyond reasonable expectation. Each certificate shall permit the producer to handle the amount of potatoes specified thereon. Such certificates shall be transferred with such potatoes at time of shipment.

(b) The committee may issue certificates of exemption to any handler who applies for such exemption and furnishes adequate evidence to the committee: (1) That by reason of a regulation issued pursuant to § 959.52 he will be prevented from handling as large a proportion of his storage holdings of ungraded potatoes, acquired during or immediately following the digging season, as the average proportion of ungraded storage holdings handled by all handlers in said applicant's immediate shipping area; and (2) that the grade, size, or quality of the applicant's potatoes have been adversely affected by acts beyond the applicant's control and by acts beyond reasonable expectation. Each certificate shall permit the handler to handle the amount of potatoes specified thereon. Such certificate shall be transferred with such potatoes at time of shipment.

(c) The committee shall be permitted at any time to make a thorough investigation of any producer's or handler's claim pertaining to exemptions.

§ 959.67 Appeal. If any applicant for exemption certificates is dissatisfied with the determination by the committee with respect to his application, said applicant may file an appeal with the committee. Such an appeal must be taken promptly after the determination by the committee from which the appeal is taken. Any applicant filing an appeal shall furnish evidence satisfactory to the committee for a determination on the appeal. The committee shall thereupon reconsider the application, examine all available evidence, and make a final determination concerning the application. The committee shall notify the appellant of the final determination and shall furnish the Secretary with a copy of the appeal and a statement of considerations involved in making the final determination.

§ 959.68 Review, records, and reports of exemptions. (a) The Secretary shall have the right to modify, change, alter, or rescind any procedure and any exemptions granted pursuant to §§ 959.65, 959.66, 959.67, or any combination thereof.

(b) The committee shall maintain a record of all applications submitted for exemption certificates, a record of all exemption certificates issued and denied and the quantity of potatoes covered by such exemption certificates, a record of the amount of potatoes handled under exemption certificates, a record of appeals for reconsideration of applications, and such information as may be requested by the Secretary. Periodic reports on such records shall be compiled and issued by the committee upon request of the Secretary.

EFFECTIVE TIME AND TERMINATION

§ 959.70 Effective time. (a) The provisions of this subpart shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare above his signature attached to this subpart, and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways specified in this subpart.

(b) All rules and regulations issued by the Secretary pursuant to this part (Order No. 59, as amended), which are in effect immediately prior to the date of this amendment shall continue in effect under this subpart as originally issued, or subsequently modified, until such rules and regulations are changed, modified, or suspended in accordance with this subpart.

§ 959.7i Termination. (a) The Secretary may at any time terminate the provisions of this subpart by giving at least one day's notice by means of a press release or in any other manner which he may determine.

(b) The Secretary may terminate or suspend the operation of any or all of the provisions of this subpart whenever he finds that such provisions do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(c) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions of this subpart at the end of any fiscal period whenever he finds that such termination is favored by a majority of producers who, during the preceding fiscal period, have been engaged in the production for market of potatoes: Provided, That such majority has, during such period, produced for market more than fifty percent of the volume of such potatoes produced for market; but such termination shall be effective only if announced on or before June 30 of the then current fiscal period.

(d) The provisions of this subpart shall in any event terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing them cease to be in effect.

§ 959.72 Proceedings after termination. (a) Upon the termination of the provisions of this subpart, the then functioning members of the committee shall continue as trustees, for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of the committee, of all the funds and property then in the possession of or under control of the committee, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination. Action by said trusteeship shall require the concurrence of a majority of the said trustees.

(b) The said trustees shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; shall, from time to time, account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the committee and of the trustees, to such person as the Secretary may direct; and shall, upon request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title and right to all of the funds, property, and claims vested in the committee or the trustees pursuant to this subpart.

(c) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been transferred or delivered by the committee or its members, pursuant to this section, shall be subject to the same obligations imposed upon the members of the committee and upon the said trustees.

§ 959.73 Effect of termination or amendment. Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Secretary, the termination of this subpart or of any regulation issued pursuant to this subpart, or the issuance of any amendments to either thereof, shall not: (a) Affect or waive any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen or which may thereafter arise in connection with any provision of this subpart or any regulation issued under this subpart; (b) release or extinguish any violation of this subpart or of any regulation issued under this subpart; or (c) affect or impair any rights or remedies of the Secretary or of any other person with respect to any such violation.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 959.80 Reports. Upon the request of the committee, with approval of the Secretary, every handler shall furnish to the committee, in such manner and at such time as may be prescribed, such information as will enable the committee to exercise its powers and perform its duties pursuant to this subpart. The Secretary shall have the right to modify, change, or rescind any requests for reports pursuant to this section.

§ 959.81 Compliance. Except as provided in this subpart, no handler shall handle potatoes, the handling of which has been prohibited by the Secretary in accordance with provisions of this subpart, and no handler shall handle potatoes except in conformity to the provisions of this subpart.

§ 959.82 Right of the Secretary. The members of the committee (including successors and alternates), and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the committee, shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time. Each and every order, regulation, decision, determination or other act of the committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time. Upon such disapproval, the disapproved action of the said committee shall be deemed null and void, except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith prior to such disapproval by the Secretary.

§ 959.83 Duration of immunities. The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred upon any persons by virtue of this subpart shall cease upon the termination of this subpart, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this subpart.

§ 959.84 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any person, including any officer or employee of the Government, or name any agency in the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this subpart.

§ 959.85 Derogation. Nothing contained in this subpart is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States to exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise, or, in accordance with such powers, to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

§ 959.86 Personal liability. No member or alternate of the committee, nor any employee or agent thereof, shall be held personally responsible, either individually or jointly with others, in any way whatsoever to any handler or any person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate, or employee, except for acts of dishonesty.

§ 959.87 Separability. If any provision of this subpart is declared invalid, or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstance, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this subpart, or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing, shall not be affected thereby.

§ 959.88 Amendments. Amendments to this subpart may be proposed from time to time, by the committee or by the Secretary.

§ 959.89 Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts and when one counterpart is signed by the Secretary, all such counterparts shall constitute, when taken together, one and the same instrument as if all signatures were contained in one original.[1]

[1] Applicable only to the proposed marketing agreement.

§ 959.90 Additional parties. After the effective date of this agreement any handler who has not previously executed this agreement may become a party to this agreement if a counterpart of this agreement is executed by him and delivered to the Secretary. This agreement shall take effect as to such new contracting party at the time such counterpart is delivered to the Secretary, and the benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred by this agreement shall then be effective as to such new contracting party.[1]

§ 959.91 Order with marketing agreement. Each signatory handler favors and approves the issuance of an order, by the Secretary, regulating the handling of potatoes in the same manner as is provided for in this agreement; and each signatory handler hereby requests the Secretary to issue, pursuant to the act, such an order.[1]

[7 CFR Part 967]

[Docket No. AO 170-A9]

SOUTH BEND-LA PORTE, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVELY APPROVED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held in the Rose Room, Oliver Hotel, South Bend, Indiana, on June 13, 1955, at 10:00 a. m., c. d. t.

The hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to economic and marketing conditions which relate to the handling of milk for the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, marketing area and to the proposed amendments set forth herein below, or modifications thereof, to the tentative marketing agreement as heretofore approved by the Secretary of Agriculture and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area. The amendments proposed have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

The following amendments have been proposed:

By the Pure Milk Association:

1. Until January 1 next, make such temporary modification as may be necessary in the application of the supply-demand factor computed under § 967.51 (d).

2. In § 967.51 change the Class I price differential to provide for September, October, November, and December $1.30 per hundredweight and for all other months $1.10 per hundredweight.

3. In § 967.64 change base rules to include:

(a) For the 1955 base-making period, a producer will have until February 15 to notify the market administrator of his desire to relinquish base;

(b) After February 15, 1956, a producer for whom a base has been computed may not be allotted a new producer base;

(c) De-graded milk shall not be included in the computation of base milk during the base-making period nor shall such degraded milk be considered as base milk during the payment period of April through July; and

(d) Base shall be applied on the basis of daily deliveries except that recognition should be given to every other day deliveries when this practice has been established.

By the Dairy Division, Agricultural Marketing Service:

4. In § 967.44 (c) (1) delete the certification of utilization by nonhandlers.

5. Make such other changes as may be required to make the entire marketing agreement and order conform with any amendments thereto that may result from the hearing.

Copies of this notice of hearing and of the said order, as amended, may be procured from the Market Administrator, 407 Strauss Building, 809-11 S. Calhoun Street, Fort Wayne 2, Indiana, or from the Hearing Clerk, Room 112, Administration Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Dated: June 7, 1955.

[SEAL] ROY W. LENNARTSON,
Deputy Administrator.

[F. R. Doc. 55-4657; Filed, June 8, 1955; 8:56 a. m.]

[1] Applicable only to the proposed marketing agreement.

OREGON

NOTICE OF PROPOSED WITHDRAWAL AND RESERVATION OF LANDS

MAY 27, 1955.

The United States Fish and Wildlife Service has filed an application, Serial No. Oregon 04079, for the withdrawal of the lands described below, from all forms of appropriation under the public land laws, including the General Mining Laws but excluding the mineral leasing laws.

The applicant desires the land for access by the public to potential waterfowl hunting areas and for administration of the areas by the Oregon State Game Commission under a cooperative agreement provided for by the act of March 10, 1934, as amended by the act of August 14, 1946 (60 Stat. 1080; 16 U. S. C. 661-666c).

For a period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice, persons having cause may present their objections in writing to the undersigned official of the Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior.

If circumstances warrant it, a public hearing will be held at a convenient time and place, which will be announced.

The determination of the Secretary on the application will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. A separate notice will be sent to each interested party of record.

The lands involved in the application are:

T. 3 N., R. 20 E., W. M.,
Sec. 26: Lots 1, 2, and 3;
Sec. 28: Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4;
Sec. 32: Lots 2, 3, 4 and SW¼NE¼.
T. 3 N., R. 21 E., W. M.,
Sec. 10: Lots 1, 2, 3 and SE¼SE¼.
T. 3 N., R. 22 E., W. M.,
Sec. 4: NW¼;
Sec 6: All.
968.25 acres.

Grazing is the present use of the land, and it is not intended that the proposed withdrawal will restrict such use.

VIRGIL T. HEATH,
State Supervisor.

Area surveyed, 8,233.65 acres.
Plat of survey accepted February 1, 1955.

The primary purpose of these surveys was to accommodate the right of the State of Utah under Grant for Common Schools in the act of July 16, 1894 (28 Stat. 107).

It is presumed that the right of the State of Utah attached to sections 2, 16, 32, and 36 of the above described townships on the date of acceptance of plat of survey, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals. Therefore, preference rights of veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict, and others, as provided for by the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279-284) as amended, does not attach to these sections.

No application for any of the lands described in any of the other sections may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other non-mineral public land law unless the land has already been classified as valuable for such application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

At the hour and date specified above the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, or selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this notice shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279-284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this notice shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this notice, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this notice, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land Office, Salt Lake City, Utah, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Room 312 Federal Building, Salt Lake City, Utah.

WM. N. ANDERSEN,
State Supervisor.

DISASTER ASSISTANCE; DELINEATION AND CERTIFICATION OF CERTAIN COUNTIES IN DROUGHT AREAS

Pursuant to Public Law 875, 81st Congress (42 U. S. C. 1855 et seq.), the President determined on April 26, 1955 that a major disaster occasioned by drought existed in the State of Arizona.

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, Federal Civil Defense Administration (18 F. R. 4609; 19 F. R. 2148; 19 F. R. 5364), and for the purposes of section 2 (d) of Public Law 38, 81st Congress, as amended by Public Law 115, 83d Congress, and section 301 of Public Law 480, 83d Congress, certain counties in the State of Arizona were on April 27, 1955 (20 F. R. 3142), determined to be the areas affected by the major disaster by drought.

Pursuant to the aforesaid delegations, the delineation and certification of counties in the State of Arizona as above described, are herewith amended by adding the counties as set forth below on May 27, 1955 to the major disaster area in the State of Arizona:

ARIZONA

Cochise. Yuma.
Pinal.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 3d day of June 1955.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

AIRCRAFT ACCIDENT REPORT FORM CAB-454

NOTICE TO USERS

A new Form CAB-454 has been designed to be used in reporting all accidents to civil aircraft with a maximum gross takeoff weight in excess of 12,500 pounds; helicopters; and all Alaskan air carrier aircraft regardless of weight, as required by § 62.35 of the Civil Air Regulations. This form is to be used to report those accidents that occur on or after July 1, 1955.

Redesign of the Form CAB-454 was premised on the need for additional and more detailed information required to develop analytical and statistical data for use in the Board's accident investigation and prevention programs. Some items have been omitted on the new format, some revised, and others added to permit a more efficient report for use in the aviation safety work with which the Board is charged.

Upon receipt of the new forms, it is requested that all copies of the old Form CAB-454 be destroyed immediately. A supply of the new forms may be obtained from the Civil Aeronautics Board, Washington 25, D. C., or any of its Bureau of Safety Investigation field offices. The addresses of these field offices are:

HOUSING AND HOME FINANCE AGENCY

Public Housing Administration

ORGANIZATION STATEMENT

DESCRIPTION OF AGENCY AND PRINCIPAL PROGRAMS

1. Paragraph A to section I is amended to read as follows:

A. Creation and purpose. The Public Housing Administration was made a constituent agency of the Housing and Home Finance Agency by the President's Reorganization Plan 3 of 1947, effective July 27, 1947. The PHA is headed by a Public Housing Commissioner appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Two programs are administered by the PHA, the Low-Rent Public Housing Program which is a direct responsibility of the Public Housing Commissioner and the Liquidating Emergency Housing Program which consists mainly of war, defense, and veterans' housing activities delegated to the Public Housing Commissioner by the Housing and Home Finance Administrator. Historically, the PHA is a successor agency to the United States Housing Authority, which was created by the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U. S. C. 1401 et seq.) to administer the Low-Rent Public Housing Program established by that act. In 1942 the name of the agency was changed to the Federal Public Housing Authority. It continued under that name until 1947 when it was changed to the Public Housing Administration.

2. Paragraph B to section I is amended to read as follows:

B. Low-Rent Public Housing Program. The Low-Rent Public Housing Program is authorized by the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended, which authorizes Federal financial assistance to local communities "to remedy the unsafe and insanitary housing conditions and the acute shortage of decent, safe, and sanitary dwellings for families of low income * * *". Also included in this program are certain projects constructed under authority other than the Housing Act of 1937, as amended, and subsequently transferred to the Low-Rent Public Housing Program: Projects developed (in whole or in part) by the Public Works Administration before the passage of the act (42 U. S. C. 1404 (d); Executive Order 7732, 44 CFR, 1st ed., 201.11), and Farm Labor Camps and permanent war housing projects transferred under the terms of the Housing Act of 1950 (42 U. S. C. 1412 (f) and 1586, respectively).

3. Paragraph C to section I is amended to read as follows:

C. Liquidating Emergency Housing Program. The Liquidating Emergency Housing Program consists principally of (1) permanent and temporary housing accommodations built under the terms of the Lanham Act, as amended (42 U. S. C. 1521, et seq.), to provide housing for war workers and military personnel during World War II and (2) projects developed under Title III of the Defense Housing and Community Facilities and Services Act of 1951, as amended (42 U. S. C. 1592, et seq.), to provide temporary or mobile housing for defense workers and military personnel required in connection with national defense activities in critical defense housing areas. Veterans Reuse Housing and Subsistence-Homesteads and Greentowns are also included in this program. The PHA is responsible for the management and orderly disposition of the classes of housing mentioned above.

Date approved: June 1, 1955.

[SEAL] CHARLES E. SLUSSER,
Commissioner.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 22-1706]

ALLEGEMEINE ELEKTRICITÄTS-GESELLSCHAFT

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR EXEMPTION

JUNE 3, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that Allgemeine Elektricitäts-Gesellschaft ("AEG"), a corporation organized and existing under the laws of Germany, has filed an application pursuant to section 304 (d) of the Trust Indenture Act of 1939 for an order exempting from the provisions of sections 310 (a) (3), 310 (b) (1), 310 (b) (3) and 310 (b) (4) of the act, the 5¼ percent Debt Adjustment Bonds, Series A, due January 1, 1968, 4⅞ percent Debt Adjustment Bonds, Series B, due January 1, 1968, and 4½ percent Debt Adjustment Bonds, Series C, due January 1, 1968, to be issued by AEG under an Indenture to be dated as of January 1, 1953, between AEG and The First National City Bank of New York and Deutsche Waren-Treuhand-Aktiengesellschaft, as Trustees, in connection with AEG's offer of settlement to be made pursuant to Annex II of the London Agreement on German External Debts of February 27, 1953, between the Government of the Federal Republic of Germany, the United States of America and other countries.

Section 304 (d) of the act permits the Commission, on application by the issuer and after opportunity for hearing thereon, to enter an order exempting from any one or more provisions of the act, any security proposed to be issued by a person organized and existing under the laws of a foreign government if and to the extent it finds that compliance with such provision or provisions is not necessary in the public interest and for the protection of investors.

A. As to the request for exemption from section 310 (a) (3), to permit certain acts to be performed by the Co-Trustee, the application states as follows:

(1) AEG has outstanding four issues of debentures which have been in default for many years. The London Agreement provides, among other things, for the consensual settlement of foreign currency obligations of German corporate debtors by the refunding and extension of such obligations. AEG is, however, only liable for the repayment of debentures which may be validated pursuant to the Validation Law for German Foreign Currency Bonds of August 25, 1952. The terms of the offer negotiated by AEG for its outstanding obligations provide for the issuance by AEG of the above described three series of its Debt Adjustment Bonds, due January 1, 1968, in exchange for its outstanding debentures. Under the terms of AEG's proposed offer, AEG is obligated to secure the debentures, and upon the issuance thereof, the new bonds, by the registration of land charges, in favor of Deutsche Waren-Treuhand-Aktiengesellschaft, the Co-Trustee, on two plants of AEG, such land charges to be registered in amounts equal to the aggregate principal amount of bonds estimated to be issuable in exchange for all validly outstanding debentures.

(2) Although section 310 (a) (3) of the Trust Indenture Act of 1939 may require that title to the land charges securing the bonds be vested in the Trustee, compliance with this interpretation is neither necessary nor desirable in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

(3) Vesting title to the land charges securing the bonds in the Co-Trustee is essential to the orderly settlement and payment of AEG's obligations; the rights in the security of both the holders of bonds and of debentures are rights in German property, created under German mortgage law and to a large extent dependent upon the interpretation of the German Implementation Law; and such rights in the security should be adjudicated only by German courts.

(4) While vesting of title to the security in the Co-Trustee necessarily results in certain acts being performable by the Co-Trustee, the protection intended to be accorded to the bondholders by the Trust Indenture Act of 1939 is in no way impaired. All of the acts which are performable only by the Co-Trustee relate to the release of property, the reduction of the registered amount of liens and the disposition of release moneys and such action is, in each case, subject to ultimate control by the Trustee if such control is exercised within 30 days after notice is received of the proposed action.

B. As to the request for exemption from section 310 (b) (1), to permit the Co-Trustee to hold title to certain accounts receivable to secure certain loans to AEG, the application states as follows:

(1) The Co-Trustee is a party to a number of agreements with AEG pursuant to which the Co-trustee, acting as a Treuhander, holds title to accounts receivable and tangible personal property of AEG which have been conveyed to the Co-Trustee as collateral security for indebtedness of AEG to German banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions.

(2) Under the terms of the agreement, the Co-Trustee is in effect the agent of the banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions with power to collect accounts receivable, and to supervise the care and preservation of any such property which is permitted to remain in the possession of AEG.

(3) The Co-Trustee has no right, power, duty or obligation to enforce the indebtedness secured by any such agreement against any assets of AEG other than the specific accounts receivable or other tangible personal property conveyed to the CO-Trustee as collateral security for the particular indebtedness.

(4) The agreements between AEG and the Co-Trustee do not constitute an indenture and do not create any conflict of interest for the Co-Trustee and that it is not necessary in the public interest or for the protection of investors to treat the agreements as other indentures which disqualify the Co-Trustee under the provisions of section 310 (b) (1) of the act.

C. As to the request for exemption from section 310 (b) (3) and (4), to permit the Co-Trustee to serve notwithstanding an affiliation with underwriters for the issuer, the application states as follows:

(1) Fifty percent of the outstanding capital stock of the Co-Trustee is owned by Brinckmann, Wirtz & Co., a partnership which had a three percent participation in a syndicate which in 1954 underwrote DM 22,000,000 nominal value shares of capital stock of AEG.

(2) It is anticipated that Brinckmann, Wirtz & Co. will participate in future syndicates underwriting security issues of AEG.

(3) In addition, Rudolf Brinckmann, a partner in Brinckmann, Wirtz & Co., is a member of the Aufsichtsrat of the Co-Trustee.

(4) Although the respective relationships between the Co-Trustee and Brinckmann, Wirtz & Co. and Rudolf Brinckmann may fall within the provisions of section 310 (b) (3) and (4) of the act, it is neither necessary nor desirable in the public interest or for the protection of investors to hold that the Co-Trustee should be disqualified by reason of either such relationship, or by reason of any future participation by Brinckmann, Wirtz & Co. in any syndicate formed to underwrite security issues of AEG.

(5) Disqualification of the proposed Co-Trustee will make it practically impossible to obtain as Co-Trustee, any satisfactory organization or individual which is presently engaged in trust business and has any experience with foreign loans and trust indentures with respect thereto, since only a few German organizations have entered into this field, these being primarily the larger banks in Germany, all of which have relatively large participation in the syndicate which in 1954 underwrote AEG's capital stock and accordingly are subject to the same disqualification as the proposed Co-Trustee.

For a more detailed statement of the matters of fact and law asserted, all persons are referred to such application which is now on file in the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

Notice is further given that an order granting the application, in whole or in part and upon such conditions as the Commission may deem necessary or appropriate, may be issued by the Commission at any time after June 14, 1955, unless prior thereto a hearing is ordered by the Commission. Any interested person may, not later than June 13, 1955, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., submit to the Commission in writing his views or any additional facts bearing upon this application or the desirability of a hearing thereon, or request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C., and should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person submitting such information or requesting a hearing, the reasons for such request, and the issues of fact or law raised by the application which he desires to controvert.

By the Commission.

WISCONSIN ELECTRIC POWER CO.

ORDER GRANTING EXEMPTION AND DISMISSING PROCEEDING

JUNE 3, 1955.

Wisconsin Electric Power Company ("Wisconsin Electric"), a registered holding company, filed with this Commission on February 16, 1955, an application, pursuant to section 3 (a) (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), for an exemption for it and each of its subsidiary companies as such from all provisions of the act on the basis that it is predominantly a public-utility company whose operations as such do not extend beyond the State of Wisconsin, the State in which it is organized, and states contiguous thereto.

Due notice of the filing of said exemption application under section 3 (a) (2) of the act has been given and no hearing thereon has been ordered by or requested of the Commission. The Commission has examined the statements contained in said exemption application and has considered the full record with respect thereto. It appears to the Commission that the applicable standards of section 3 (a) (2) of the act are satisfied and the Commission deems that under the existing circumstances the granting of said exemption application will not be detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers.

The Commission, on August 15, 1950, instituted a proceeding in respect of Wisconsin Electric and its subsidiary companies, under section 11 (b) (1) of the act, for the purpose of determining whether the system's operations were in conformity with that section. Subsequently, public hearings were held thereon and adjourned subject to the call of the Hearing Officer. In view of its determination that Wisconsin Electric's exemption application should be granted, the Commission deems it appropriate to dismiss said proceeding pending under section 11 (b) (1) of the act.

It is therefore ordered, That said application of Wisconsin Electric for an exemption for it and its subsidiary companies, as such, pursuant to section 3 (a) (2) of the act be, and the same hereby is, granted.

It is further ordered, That said proceeding instituted under section 11 (b) (1) of the act with respect to Wisconsin Electric and its subsidiary companies be, and the same hereby is, dismissed.

It is further ordered, That this order shall become effective forthwith upon issuance.

By the Commission.

ARKANSAS-MISSOURI POWER CO.

ORDER GRANTING EXEMPTION

JUNE 3, 1955.

Arkansas-Missouri Power Company ("Applicant"), a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Arkansas, which is both a holding company and a public-utility company, has filed with this Commission an application for an order pursuant to section 3 (a) (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") exempting it as a holding company and its subsidiaries as such from all provisions of the act.

Applicant alleges that it is predominantly a public-utility company whose operations as such do not extend beyond the State of Arkansas, in which it is organized, and the contiguous State of Missouri. As an operating company it is engaged in rendering electric and natural gas utility service in parts of northeastern Arkansas and southeastern Missouri. Applicant is a holding company by reason of its ownership of all of the outstanding voting securities of Associated Natural Gas Company ("Associated"), a Delaware corporation, which is a public utility company engaged in purchasing, transmitting and distributing at retail natural gas in southeastern Missouri. Applicant is also engaged, through two wholly owned subsidiaries, in the manufacture and sale of ice. Such non-utility operations constitute a very small and diminishing percentage of Applicant's business.

Having acquired the aforesaid securities of Associated, Applicant on March 22, 1953, requested, under section 3 (a) (2) of the act, a temporary exemption for one year within which time it was contemplated that Associated would be merged into Applicant. The requested exemption was granted; but the contemplated merger has not been consummated, and Applicant now requests a permanent exemption under section 3 (a) (2) of the act, although it states that it still intends to merge Associated into itself.

Due notice of the filing of said application having been given and no hearing thereon having been ordered by or requested of the Commission; and the Commission finding, from the evidence submitted, that Applicant is predominantly a public-utility company whose operations as such do not extend beyond the State in which it is organized and States contiguous thereto, and that the applicable standards of section 3 (a) (2) of the act are satisfied; and deeming that under existing circumstances the granting of the application for exemption would not be detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors and consumers:

It is ordered, That the application for exemption pursuant to section 3 (a) (2) of the act be, and the same hereby is, granted, effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

MICHIGAN WISCONSIN PIPE LINE CO.

ORDER REGARDING ISSUANCE AND SALE OF BANK LOAN NOTES

JUNE 3, 1955.

Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company ("Michigan Wisconsin"), a nonutility subsidiary of American Natural Gas Company ("American Natural"), a registered holding company, has filed an application with this Commission pursuant to the provisions of the third sentence of section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") regarding the following described transaction.

Michigan Wisconsin proposes to enter into a credit agreement with four banks pursuant to which it will borrow, from time to time on and after July 1, 1955, sums aggregating up to $20,000,000 and to issue its notes maturing July 1, 1956 as evidence of such borrowings. The banks which are to be parties to the credit agreement and their respective commitments thereunder are as follows:

The First National City Bank of New York	$6,000,000
The Hanover Bank, New York	6,000,000
Mellon National Bank & Trust Co., Pittsburgh, Pa	6,000,000
National Bank of Detroit	2,000,000
Total	20,000,000

Said notes will bear interest at the prime interest rate prevailing at The First National City Bank of New York for commercial loans on the date of each borrowing. The initial borrowing will be made on July 1, 1955, and further borrowings may be made from time to time as required.

The credit agreement provides that the company shall pay as a commitment fee an amount equivalent to one-fourth of one percent per annum on the average daily unused balance of any amount not borrowed under the credit agreement from July 1, 1955 until the entire $20,000,000 shall have been taken down, except that the company may reduce the amount to be borrowed under the credit agreement at any time without penalty.

The credit agreement provides that the company shall have the right to prepay at any time without penalty, in amounts of $300,000 or multiples thereof, notes issued pursuant to the credit agreement, except that a prepayment premium of one-fourth of one percent per annum for the unexpired terms will apply in case of prepayment from the proceeds of borrowings from banks other than those participating in the credit agreement.

The proceeds from borrowings under the credit agreement will be applied, to the extent necessary, to the retirement of $12,500,000 of presently outstanding notes due July 1, 1955, and the balance to interim financing of necessary construction pending the development of a permanent financing program for the American Natural system and integration of Michigan Wisconsin's financing proposals with those of said system.

No State commission and no Federal regulatory agency, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over said transaction.

The fees and expenses to be paid in connection with said transaction are estimated by Michigan Wisconsin as follows:

Sidley, Austin, Burgess & Smith, legal counsel	$1,000
American Natural Gas Service Co. (at cost)	500
Miscellaneous	500
Total	2,000

Due notice of the filing of said application having been given in the manner prescribed by Rule U-23 under the act, and no hearing having been requested of, or ordered by, the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied, that the fees and expenses set forth above are not unreasonable, and that said application should be granted forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 promulgated under the act:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said application be, and the same hereby is, granted forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

AMERICAN RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT CORP., AND IONICS, INC.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR ORDER EXEMPTING TRANSACTION BETWEEN AFFILIATES

JUNE 3, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that American Research and Development Corporation ("Research"), Boston, Massachusetts, a registered closed-end, non-diversified investment company, and Ionics, Incorporated ("Ionics"), Cambridge, Massachusetts, an affiliate of Research, have filed an application pursuant to section 17 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("act") requesting an order exempting the transaction summarized below from the provisions of section 17 (a) of the act.

Ionics, a Massachusetts corporation organized in 1948, is engaged in the development, production and sale of ion-exchange membranes and electric membrane demineralizers used, among other things, to demineralize sea water and brackish waters. It also engages in research and development for itself and others in this field and in granular ion-exchange, metallurgy and other fields.

Ionics has outstanding $305,000 of 5 percent notes payable, due 1957 to 1959, which are owned by Research. Ionics also has outstanding 260,368 shares of common stock of which 199,568 shares or 76.6 percent is owned by Research and the balance by directors, officers and employees of Ionics.

The application proposes that in order to simplify Ionics' capital structure, the notes of Ionics in the amount of $305,000 owned by Research will be exchanged for 42,361 shares of common stock of Ionics, an exchange rate of $7.20 per share. The application states that this proposed exchange price is the same as the proceeds per share to Ionics which has been negotiated at arms'-length between Ionics and an underwriter for 150,000 additional shares of common stock of Ionics proposed to be offered publicly to raise additional working capital.

Because of the holding of common stock of Ionics by Research, the two companies are affiliated persons as defined in section 2 (a) (3) of the act. Section 17 (a) of the act prohibits, among other things, the sale of securities by an affiliated person to an investment company, subject to certain exceptions, unless the Commission, pursuant to section 17 (b) of the act, grants an exemption from the provisions of section 17 (a).

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 17, 1955, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application may be granted as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.

CENTRAL POWER AND LIGHT CO.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE REGARDING PROPOSAL TO BORROW FROM BANKS, ON SHORT-TERM NOTES

JUNE 2, 1955.

Central Power and Light Company ("Central"), a public-utility subsidiary of Central and South West Corporation, a registered holding company, has filed a declaration pursuant to sections 6 (a) and 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") regarding the following proposed transaction:

Central proposes to borrow from time to time not in excess of $9,000,000 from the banks and in the amounts shown below:

The Corpus Christi National Bank	$200,000
State National Bank of Corpus Christi	150,000
The First State Bank of Corpus Christi	100,000
Corpus Christi Bank and Trust Co.	200,000
Citizens State Bank of Corpus Christi	50,000
Union National Bank of Laredo	50,000
The Laredo National Bank	62,500
Victoria Bank & Trust Co.	250,000
The Victoria National Bank	250,000
The First National Bank of Chicago	7,687,500
Total	9,000,000

The borrowings are to be evidenced by promissory notes to be dated the dates of the respective borrowings, will mature on or before February 28, 1956, will bear interest at the rate of 3 percent per annum payable monthly, and are to be prepayable by the company at any time and without premium or penalty. It is contemplated that the first borrowing will be made on or about June 10, 1955. The proceeds from the borrowings will be used by Central to finance temporarily a portion of its construction expenditures during the nine months beginning June 1, 1955.

No commitment or other fees are to be paid by Central in connection with the proposed borrowings. The expenses, consisting primarily of telephone, incidental and miscellaneous expense, to be incurred in connection therewith, are estimated at not to exceed $300.

No Federal commission, other than this Commission, and no State commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transaction.

Notice of the filing of the declaration having been duly given in the manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated under the act, and no hearing having been requested, or ordered by the Commission; and

It appearing that the estimated expenses to be incurred are not unreasonable, that the proposed transaction conforms to the applicable provisions of the act and that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the request of Central that the declaration be permitted to become effective forthwith should be granted:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, that the declaration be, and it hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

Chapter I—Coast Guard, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter N—Explosives or Other Dangerous Articles or Substances and Combustible Liquids on Board Vessels

[CGFR 55-20]

PART 146—TRANSPORTATION OR STORAGE OF EXPLOSIVES OR OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES OR SUBSTANCES AND COMBUSTIBLE LIQUIDS ON BOARD VESSELS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS TO PART; MERCHANT MARINE COUNCIL PUBLIC HEARING

A notice regarding proposed changes in the navigation and vessel inspection rules and regulations was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER dated February 18, 1955 (20 F. R. 1055–1057), as Items I to IX, inclusive, on the Agenda to be considered by the Merchant Marine Council and a public hearing was held on March 22, 1955, at Washington, D. C. This document is the second of a series of documents covering the rules and regulations considered at this public hearing.

All the comments, views, and data submitted in connection with the items considered by the Merchant Marine Council at this public hearing have been very helpful to the Coast Guard and are very much appreciated. The amendments in this document are based on Item I in the Agenda and on two petitions received at this public hearing.

A petition from the E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Company, Wilmington, Delaware, requesting the amendment of Coast Guard regulations (46 CFR 146.20–23, 146.20–90, 146.22–15, and 146.22–100) governing the stowage of nitro carbo nitrate was presented to the Merchant Marine Council. This petition desired the regulations be amended in order that "nitro carbo nitrate may be loaded, transported, and stowed with high explosives except those classified as initiating explosives or detonating primers." The Bureau of Explosives and the National Cargo Bureau were consulted regarding this matter and offered no objections. By change order 13 effective May 12, 1954, the Interstate Commerce Commission revised the ICC regulations to permit handling and stowage of nitro carbo nitrate and high explosives together. On the basis of experience under the ICC regulations, it is felt that the hazards are not sufficient to warrant the continued restriction imposed by Coast Guard regulations. Therefore, the following amendments to the Dangerous Cargo Regulations are made in order to permit nitro carbo nitrate to be stowed with dynamite and commercial boosters.

Specifically the amendments are as follows:

a. 46 CFR 146.20–23 (a) is amended by adding a new sentence reading: "Dynamite and commercial boosters may be stowed in the same hold with nitro carbo nitrate."

b. 46 CFR 146.20–90 (chart) is amended by adding a footnote reading: "Nitro carbo nitrate may be stowed with dynamite and commercial boosters."

c. 46 CFR 146.22–15 (a) is amended by adding an exception reading: "Except nitro carbo nitrate may be stowed with dynamite and commercial boosters."

d. 46 CFR 146.22–100 for the item "nitro carbo nitrate" is amended by revising the requirements in the second column with respect to the cautions regarding stowage. This sentence is revised to read: "Stow separate from all combustible material, explosives (except dynamite and commercial boosters), or acids (white label), and away from chlorates."

A petition received from the Mathiasen's Tanker Industries, Inc., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, regarding the transportation of elemental phosphorus in bulk (46 CFR 146.22–35) was presented to the Merchant Marine Council. This petition requests permission to use a pressure system employing a hot water displacement method for the transfer of cargo from ship to shore. This system for handling bulk quantities of elemental phosphorus is presently permitted by the Interstate Commerce Commission in transferring elemental phosphorus in bulk from railroad tank cars to storage tanks. The Victor Chemical Works, Chicago, Illinois, as a prospective shipper of elemental phosphorus in bulk, joined in this petition at the public hearing. This system is an alternate method for the stowage and handling of elemental phosphorus in bulk. The advantages indicated for this alternate over the method presently allowed are as follows:

(1) The tanks are built to withstand 60 pounds per square inch pressure and, therefore, are not so susceptible to leaking as the gravity tanks presently permitted.

(2) Since phosphorus contracts considerably in cooling, the use of a vacuum relief valve may permit the intake of air into the cargo space. On the other hand the use of a pressure type tank permits the sealing of the tank so that continued contraction of the phosphorus during cooling only creates a slight vacuum and allows no entrance of air. In addition, the evaporation of the water cover does not occur.

(3) The cargo transfer from storage tank to the tank barge or vice versa is less hazardous because a positive water coverage of phosphorus in both the tank barge and the shore storage tank can be maintained at all times.

The problems regarding the transportation of elemental phosphorus in bulk have been under consideration for some time. In order to arrive at a fair solution to this problem, this matter was presented to a Joint MCA–API Coast Guard Advisory Panel for consideration and recommendations. This Panel has recommended favorable consideration be given to changes in 46 CFR 146.22–35 which will permit the use of pressure vessel type tanks and require such tanks to be discharged by the hot water displacement method. In view of the increased need for elemental phosphorus in bulk and the apparent reduction in hazards involved under the alternate method developed, this petition was received by the Merchant Marine Council and favorable consideration was recommended. Therefore, the amendment in this document to 46 CFR 146.22–35 revises paragraphs (b) (4), (c), (f), (g), (j), (k) (3), and (m) in order to permit this alternate method for transporting elemental phosphorus in bulk and to broaden the scope of the regulations.

The Merchant Marine Council has considered the petitions submitted and recommended that the requests be granted and that the regulations be revised accordingly. However, in order to allow any one who may desire to be heard further on the amendments respecting nitro carbo nitrate in 46 CFR 146.20–23 (a), 146.20–90 (chart), 146.22–15 (a), and 146.22–100, and elemental phosphorus in bulk in 46 CFR 146.22–35, which are based on the petitions received at a public hearing held March 22, 1955, comments, views, and data regarding these amendments may be submitted to the Commandant (CMC) on or before July 7, 1955, and a public hearing will be held by the Merchant Marine Council on Tuesday, July 12, 1955, at 9:30 a. m., in Room 4120, Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington 25, D. C.

The amendment to 46 CFR 146.04–5 adds the shipping names of new articles of commerce in the commodity list, as well as deletes or amends those names which are no longer applicable. 46 CFR 146.05–3 is revised by adding a new paragraph regarding mixed packing. 46 CFR 146.05–9 is revised to include new requirements for specification containers in outside containers.

The amendments to Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Explosives (46 CFR 146.20) include new definitions for certain Class A, Class B and Class C explosives (46 CFR 146.20–7, 146.20–9 and 146.20–11, respectively), and provide for the shipment by water of new explosives, use of additional shipping containers, marking requirements and editorial changes (46 CFR 146.20–100, 146.20–200 and 146.20–300).

The amendments to Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Inflammable Liquids (46 CFR 146.21) provide for the stowage of inflammable liquids "On deck" on vessels with machinery spaces aft carrying explosives (46 CFR 146.21–30); list inflammable liquids which may not be shipped as limited quantity shipments (46 CFR 146.21–65); include new shipping containers for certain inflammable liquids (46 CFR 146.21–100); and make certain necessary editorial changes.

The amendments to Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Inflammable Solids and Oxidizing Materials (46 CFR 146.22) provide for the shipment by water of new inflammable solids and oxidizing materials, use of additional shipping containers for certain items and "tween deck" stowage of Lauroyl Peroxide (46 CFR 146.22–100).

The amendments to Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Corrosive Liquids (46 CFR 146.23) list certain corrosive liquids not subject to exemption (46 CFR 146.23–30), and provide for water shipment of new corrosive liquids and the use of additional shipping containers (46 CFR 146.23–100).

The amendments to Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Compressed Gases (46 CFR 146.24) prescribe the type of cargo handling gear to be used for loading and unloading cylinders of compressed gas (46 CFR 146.24–25); new inspection requirements for anhydrous ammonia tanks (46 CFR 146.24–85) and additional shipping containers (46 CFR 146.24–100).

The amendments to Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Poisonous Articles (46 CFR 146.25) include editorial changes to 46 CFR 146.25–20, new requirements for exemption for radioactive materials (46 CFR 146.25–25) and additional shipping containers for Class A poisons, Class B poisons and radioactive materials (46 CFR 146.25–100, 146.25–200, 146.25–400).

The amendments to Subpart—Detailed Regulations Governing Hazardous Articles (46 CFR 146.27) provide for additional containers for Manganese dioxide, and editorial changes to the note regarding "Sulfur" (46 CFR 146.27–100).

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by Treasury Department Order No. 120, dated July 31, 1950 (15 F. R. 6521), and Treasury Department Order 167–14, dated November 26, 1954 (19 F. R. 8026), to promulgate regulations in accordance with the statutes cited with the regulations below, It is ordered, That:

(a) The amendments to 46 CFR 146.20–90, 146.20–23, 146.22–15, 146.22–100 (regarding nitro carbo nitrate) and 146.22–35 are prescribed and shall become effective 90 days after the date of publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and,

(b) All the other amendments to regulations (which are not covered by paragraph (a) above) are prescribed and shall become effective on the date of publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

SUBPART—LIST OF EXPLOSIVES OR OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES CONTAINING THE SHIPPING NAME OR DESCRIPTION OF ARTICLES SUBJECT TO THE REGULATIONS IN THIS SUBCHAPTER

SUBPART—SHIPPER'S REQUIREMENTS RE: PACKING, MARKING, LABELING, AND SHIPPING PAPERS

1. Section 146.05–3 is amended by adding a new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 146.05–3 Mixed packing. • • •

(c) The offering for transportation of any package or container of any material which will cause a dangerous evolution of heat or gas under conditions normally incident to transportation is prohibited.

2. Section 146.05–9 is revised to read as follows:

§ 146.05–9 Specification containers in outside containers. Outside specification shipping containers containing no explosives, acids or corrosive liquids except electrolyte, acid or alkaline corrosive battery fluid or electric storage batteries containing electrolyte, acid or alkaline corrosive battery fluid or fire extinguisher charges, may be shipped when tightly packed in strong outside fiberboard boxes or drums, wooden boxes, barrels or crates, metal barrels or drums, or other enclosures. The outside shipping container must be marked with the prescribed name of contents, and labeled as required by the regulations in this part. Containers required by the regulations in this part to be marked "This Side Up" or "This End Up" must be packed in the outside package with their filling holes up, and the outside package must be marked "This Side Up" or "This End Up". The outside container must also be marked "Inside Packages Comply with Prescribed Specifications" unless the specification markings on the inside packages are visible through openings in the outside package.

SUBPART—DETAILED REGULATIONS GOVERNING EXPLOSIVES

1. Section 146.20–7 is amended by changing the examples in paragraphs (a) and (b), adding a new sentence to subparagraph (g) (3), and adding a new paragraph (v) as follows:

§ 146.20–7 Class A explosives. Class A explosives are defined as:

Examples: Black powder and low explosives.

(b) Type 2. • • •

Examples: Commercial dynamite containing a liquid explosive ingredient.

• • • • • • •

(g) Type 7. • • •

(3) Detonating fuzes are used in the military service to detonate the high explosive bursting charges of projectiles, mines, bombs, torpedoes and grenades. In addition to a powerful detonator, they may contain several ounces of a high explosive, such as tetryl or dry nitrocellulose, all assembled in a heavy steel envelope. They may also contain a small amount of radioactive component.

• • • • • •

(v) Type 9. Propellant explosives, Class A, are solid chemicals or solid chemical mixtures which are designed to function by rapid combustion of successive layers, generally with little or no smoke. The combustion is controlled by composition, size, and form of grain. Propellant explosives, Class A, include some types of smokeless powder and some types of solid propellant explosives for jet thrust units, rockets or other devices. Any propellant explosive is Class A which detonates in any one out of five trials when tested in the packages in which it is offered for transportation. In conducting the test, one propellant container shall be surrounded by inert loaded containers of the same weight, including one inert container placed on top of the propellant container. The propellant shall be ignited by means of a commercial electric squib placed within 4 inches of the bottom of the container. The presence of a crater and the absence of flame shall be considered as evidence of detonation.

2. Section 146.20–9 is amended by changing paragraph (e) to read as follows:

§ 146.20–9 Class B explosives. • • •

(e) Propellant explosives, Class B, are solid chemicals or solid chemical mixtures which function by rapid combustion of successive layers, generally with little or no smoke. The combustion is controlled by composition, size, and form of grain. Any propellant explosive is Class B which fails to detonate in five trials when tested in the packages in which it is offered for shipment. In conducting the test, one propellant container shall be surrounded by inert loaded containers of the same weight, including one inert container placed on top of the propellant container. The propellant shall be ignited by means of a commercial electric squib placed within 4 inches of the bottom of the container. The presence of a crater and absence of flame shall be considered as evidences of detonation. Propellant explosives, Class B, include smokeless powder for small arms, smokeless powder for cannon, smokeless powder or solid propellant explosives for rockets, jet thrust units, or other devices. Black powder is not included in this classification and is defined in § 146.20–7 (a). Fire extinguisher charges containing not to exceed 50 grains of propellant explosives per unit are exempt from the regulations in this part.

3. Section 146.20–11 is amended by changing paragraphs (c) and (r) to read as follows:

(c) Cordeau detonant fuse is a fuse containing a core of pentaerythrite tetranitrate or cyclotrimethylene trinitramine not exceeding 160 grains per linear foot, overspun with tapes, yarns and plastics or waterproofing compounds. Wire countering is permissible.

• • • • • •

(r) Igniter cord consists of textile yarns and/or wire uniformly covered with a combustible chemical mixture, with or without additional textile or wire countering, waterproofing or finishing coating which, when ignited, burns externally at various rates according to design.

4. Section 146.20–23 is amended by changing paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 146.20–23 Stowage of explosives in magazines adjacent to other dangerous articles. (a) Magazines containing explosives that are required to be stowed in such magazines by the tables contained in §§ 146.20–100 to 146.20–300 inclusive, shall not be located in the same holds or holds adjacent to those in which inflammable liquids or inflammable solids or oxidizing materials are stowed, nor shall such magazines be located in holds below such substances stowed "On deck". Dynamite and commercial boosters may be stowed in the same hold with nitro carbo nitrate.

5. Section 146.20–90 is amended by changing the stowage and storage chart as follows:

a. At the intersection of horizontal and vertical columns 2 and 18, insert the footnote reference number "4".

b. At the end of the chart insert a new footnote to read as follows:

⁴ Nitro carbo nitrate may be stowed with dynamite and commercial boosters.

6. Section 146.20–100 Table A—Classification: Class A; dangerous explosives is amended as follows: Delete "High explosives (propellant explosives. Class A)" and all wording relating thereto in columns 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7.

7. Section 146.20–100 Table A—Classification: Class A; dangerous explosives is amended by adding new items (indicated by a dagger (†), and amending present items to read as follows:

Boosters (explosive). Bursters (explosive). Detonating fuzes with or without radioactive components. Supplementary charges (explosive).	Boosters and supplementary charges consist of a casing containing a high explosive and are used to increase the intensity of explosion of the detonator of a detonating fuze. Bursters consist of a casing containing a high explosive and are used to rupture a projectile or bomb to permit release of its contents. Detonating fuzes are used in the military service to detonate the high explosive bursting charges of projectiles, mines, bombs, torpedoes and grenades. In addition to a powerful detonator, they may contain several ounces of a high explosive such as tetryl or dry nitrocellulose, all assembled in a heavy steel envelope. They may also contain a small amount of radioactive component. Radiation on the surface of any detonating fuze having a radioactive component shall not exceed 100 milliroentgens per hour and the radiation at the surface of the outside shipping container shall not exceed 200 milliroentgens per hour. Do not stow detonating fuzes with any high explosives. Do not load at the same time that high explosives are being loaded. Each outside container shall be plainly marked "Detonating Fuzes—Handle Carefully—Do Not Store or Load With Any High Explosives", or "Detonating Fuzes, Radioactive—Handle Carefully—Do Not Store or Load With Any High Explosives", or "Boosters (Explosive) Handle Carefully", or "Bursters (Explosive)—Handle Carefully", or "Supplementary Charges Explosive—Handle Carefully" as the case may be.	No label required.	Stowage: Magazine. Outside containers: Strong tight wooden boxes, not over 100 lbs. gr. wt. for detonating fuzes. Not over 300 lbs. gr. wt. for boosters, bursters, and supplementary charges.	Not permitted.	Not permitted.	Not permitted.

SUBPART—DETAILED REGULATIONS GOVERNING INFLAMMABLE LIQUIDS

1. Section 146.21–30 is amended by changing the title and paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 146.21–30 Prohibited stowage. • • •

(b) Inflammable liquids in a quantity in excess of 1 ton shall not be stowed "on deck" in vessels carrying Class "A" Dangerous Explosives or Class "B" Less Dangerous Explosives unless:

(1) When carried "on deck" on vessels having machinery spaces amidship, the engine and boiler room spaces shall intervene between the holds which contain the explosives and the spaces over which the inflammable liquids are stowed.

(2) When carried "on deck" on vessels having machinery spaces aft, the bridge structural erections shall intervene between the holds which contain the explosives and the spaces over which the inflammable liquids are stowed. This stowage shall not be ultilized unless it provides a distance between the stowages of at least one complete hold space.

SUBPART—DETAILED REGULATIONS GOVERNING INFLAMMABLE SOLIDS AND OXIDIZING MATERIALS

1. Section 146.22-15 is amended by changing paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 146.22-15 Mixed stowages of oxidizing materials. • • •

(a) These substances shall not be stowed in the same compartment or hold in which explosives are stowed except nitro carbo nitrate may be stowed with dynamite and commercial boosters.

2. Section 146.22-35 is amended to read as follows:

§ 146.22-35 Elemental phosphorus in water in bulk—(a) General. Elemental phosphorus, white or yellow, in water may be carried in bulk on barges in conformity with the following provisions:

(1) Barges shall be constructed or altered to meet the rules of the American Bureau of Shipping and as required by this section.

(b) Types of cargo tanks. (1) Tanks in which the vessel's structure forms a part thereof may be employed, provided void spaces are located surrounding the tanks on the sides and bottom.

(2) Tanks independent of the hull either cylindrical or of rectangular design may be employed. The plating of such tanks shall be not less than 5/16 inch thick.

(3) The tanks shall be designed and tested to a head of 8 feet above the tank top or the highest level the lading may rise, whichever is the greater.

(4) When a water displacement method of discharge is used, pressure-vessel type cargo tanks, designed and tested in accordance with Subchapter F of this chapter shall be employed. Such tanks shall be designed for the maximum pressure to which they may be subjected when water pressure is used to discharge the cargo.

(c) Venting. Each cargo tank shall be fitted with an approved pressure-vacuum relief valve set to discharge at a pressure not exceeding 2 pounds per square inch. The discharge therefrom shall lead overboard above the waterline. When pressure vessel type tanks are used, each tank shall be fitted with a relief valve of suitable size.

(d) Installation. Adequate clearance shall be provided for the inspection and maintenance of independent cargo tanks, or such tanks shall be made moveable.

(e) Openings in tanks. Openings in tanks are prohibited below deck except for access openings used for inspection and maintenance of tanks. Manholes or access trunks shall be of not less than 20 inches diameter. Openings shall be fitted with bolted cover plates and gaskets resistant to the attack of phosphorus pent oxide.

(f) Outage. Sufficient outage shall be provided to prevent the tanks from being liquid full at any time, but in no case shall the outage be less than 1 percent. When pressure vessel type tanks are used outage need not be provided.

(g) Cargo discharging. Pumps shall be employed in the discharge of cargo except when pressure vessel type tanks are used, water displacement method may be employed. The use of compressed air to discharge cargo is prohibited.

(h) Cargo temperature. Cargo shall be loaded at a temperature not exceeding 140° F. and then be cooled to a temperature not exceeding 105° F. prior to movement of the barge.

(i) Heating coils. Coils in which steam or hot water is circulated to heat the cargo so that it may be pumped shall be located outside the cargo tanks.

(j) Void flooding. A fixed ballast piping system (including a power driven pump of ample capacity), or other means acceptable to the Commandant shall be installed so that any void space surrounding the fixed tanks may be flooded.

(k) General requirements. (1) All enclosed compartments containing independent cargo tanks and machinery spaces containing cargo pumps for handling liquid phosphorus shall be provided with effective means of ventilation.

(2) Cargo piping shall be of steel or wrought iron. Flanges and pipe fittings shall be of steel or malleable iron. Valves shall be of steel or bronze.

(3) Cargo lines shall be traced with steam piping and secured thereto by lagging to prevent solidification of cargo during transfer operations.

(4) A water hose shall be connected ready for immediate use and any spillage of phosphorus shall be immediately washed down.

(5) At least two fresh air masks or self-contained oxygen breathing apparatus shall be stowed on board the vessel at all times for use of personnel entering the tanks or adjacent spaces.

(6) Authorization from the Commandant, United States Coast Guard, shall be obtained to transport lading other than phosphorus in the cargo tanks.

(7) Mechanical ventilation of sufficient capacity to insure a change of air every three minutes shall be provided during the inspection and maintenance of the cargo tanks.

(8) During the time elemental phosphorus is laden in the tanks, the barge shall be under constant surveillance. A towing vessel engaged in transporting such barges shall not leave the barge unattended except when the barge is moored at a pier, wharf, dock or other terminal and then only if such facility is provided with watchman or guard service.

(9) The Interstate Commerce Commission standard "Dangerous" placard shall be displayed in four locations on the barge when elemental phosphorus is laden in the tanks. A placard shall be posted approximately amid ships on each side facing outboard, and a placard shall be posted at each end of the barge at about the end of the tanks facing outboard. After unloading and before a tank or tanks are cleaned, the placard shall be reversed to show the "Dangerous—Empty" legend.

(l) Electrical bonding. Independent cargo tanks shall be electrically grounded to the hull. The barge shall be electrically connected to the shore piping prior to connecting the cargo hose. This electrical connection shall be maintained until after the cargo hose has been disconnected and any spillage has been removed.

(m) Tests and retests. (1) Each gravity tank shall be tested before being put into service as prescribed in paragraph (b) (3) of this section. Tanks shall be retested, as prescribed, at intervals of ten years or less after the original test, and before being returned to service after any extensive repairs.

(2) Pressure vessel type cargo tanks shall be subjected to an internal examination biennially and to a hydrostatic test, equal to one and one half times the designed pressure, on the fourth year after installation and every fourth year thereafter.

3. Section 146.22-100 Table E—Classification: Inflammable solids and oxidizing materials is amended by adding new items (indicated by a dagger (†)), and amending present items to read as follows:

Lauroyl peroxide, dry	White, coarse powder; tasteless, faint pungent odor. Strong supporter of combustion. Readily ignited, burns rapidly. Insoluble in water. Do not stow with explosives, combustible materials, or acids (white label). Keep cool and dry.	Yellow	Stowage: "On deck protected." "On deck under cover." "Tween decks readily accessible." Outside containers: Wooden boxes, (ICC-15A, 15B) WIC, not over 100 lb. net wt. Fiber drums (ICC-21A, 21B) not over 100 lb. net wt. Fiberboard boxes (ICC-12B) WIC, not over 70 lb. gr. wt.	Stowage: "On deck under cover." Outside containers: Wooden boxes, (ICC-15A, 15B) WIC, not over 100 lb. net wt. Fiber drums (ICC-21A, 21B) not over 100 lb. net wt. Fiberboard boxes (ICC-12B) WIC, not over 70 lb. gr. wt.	Ferry stowage (AA) Outside containers: Wooden boxes, (ICC-15A, 15B) WIC, not over 100 lb. net wt. Fiber drums (ICC-21A, 21B) not over 100 lb. net wt. Fiberboard boxes(ICC-12B) WIC, not over 70 lb. gr. wt.	Ferry stowage (BB). Outside containers: Wooden boxes, (ICC-15A, 15B) WIC, not over 100 lb. net wt. Fiber drums (ICC-21A, 21B) not over 100 lb. net wt. Fiberboard boxes (ICC-12B) WIC, not over 70 lb. gr. wt.
Lithium aluminum hydride.	Light porus white powder. Decomposes to lithium hydride, aluminum metal and hydrogen above 190° C. without melting. Do not stow with explosives, inflammable liquids (red label) or acids (white label). Keep cool and dry.	Yellow	Stowage: "On deck protected." "On deck under cover." "Tween decks readily accessible." Outside containers: Wooden boxes (ICC-15A, 15B), with hermetically sealed metal inside containers not over 1 gal. cap., not over 250 lb. gr. wt. Metal drums (ICC-37D) STC, not over 6 gal. cap. Not more than 4 drums in one strong outside wooden box.	Not permitted	Not permitted	Not permitted.
Lithium hydride	Odorless, gray lumps or powder. Combustible, burns quietly. Evolves gas when in contact with moisture. The gas forms inflammable mixture with air, over a wide range. Do not stow with explosives, inflammable liquids (red label), or acids (white label). Keep cool and dry.	Yellow	Stowage: "On deck protected." "On deck under cover." "Tween decks readily accessible." Outside containers: Steel barrels or drums: (ICC-6A) not over 55 gal. cap. (ICC-5, 6B, 6C) not over 110 gal. cap.	Not permitted	Not permitted	Not permitted.
Lithium metal	Very light, soft metal. Burns with intense white flame. Reacts readily with moisture to evolve an inflammable gas. Do not stow with explosives, combustible materials, or acids (white label). Keep cool and dry.	Yellow	Metal drums (ICC-37D) STC, not over 6 gal. cap. Not more than 4 drums in one strong outside wooden box. Wooden boxes (ICC-15A, 15B) with hermetically sealed metal inside containers, not over 250 lb. gr. wt.
Lithium silicon	Black, shiny lumps, or powder with sharp irritating odor. Reacts readily with water to evolve an inflammable gas. Under certain conditions enough heat is generated to ignite the gas mixture in air. Do not stow with explosives, combustible materials, or acids (white label). Keep cool and dry.	Yellow	Lithium metal immersed in neutral oil may be accepted in: Wooden boxes (ICC-15A, 15B) WIMC or 37D, STC, not over 30 lb. net wt. Lithium metal in cartridges not exceeding 18 grams net weight each may be accepted in: Strong outside containers, not over 1 lb. net wt. of lithium metal. Lithium metal in cartridges containing more than 18 grams, but not more than 120 grams of lithium must be packed in: Wooden boxes (ICC-15A, 15B) WIMC, not over 75 lb. gr. wt.

Magnesium scrap (borings, clippings, sharings, sheets, or turnings).	Sharings, borings, turnings or other small pieces of metallic magnesium other than powder. Do not stow with inflammable liquids (red label) or acids (white label). Keep dry	Yellow	Stowage: "On deck protected." "On deck under cover." "Tween decks readily accessible." Outside containers: Tightly and securely closed metal barrels, wooden barrels, or metal pails. Magnesium scrap consisting of clippings, or sheets: Tightly closed boxcars. Tightly closed gondola cars. NOTE: Magnesium scrap consisting of clippings, or sheets in tightly and securely closed metal drums, wooden barrels, or wooden boxes is exempt from specification packaging, marking other than name of contents, and labeling requirements.	Not permitted	Not permitted	Not permitted.
Nitro Carbo nitrate	Composed principally of ammonium nitrate. Involved in a fire will greatly intensify the burning of all combustible material and under conditions of exposure to high temperatures (above 400° F.) rapid decomposition and ignition may occur. Will burn with explosive violence. Soluble in water. Stow separate from all combustible material, explosives (except dynamite and commercial boosters), or acids (white label) and away from chlorates.	No label required.
Phosphorus, white or yellow, in water. Shipping containers shall have marked thereon the gross, tare, and net weight of the package. NOTE: See § 146.22-35 for bulk shipments.	Almost colorless or yellowish semitransparent mass becoming somewhat darker or white and waxy in appearance with aging. Melting point 110° F. Fumes are poisonous and possess a strong garlic-like odor. White or yellow phosphorus will ignite spontaneously in air. In event of breakage, do not handle this substance with bare hands. Protect from freezing. Do not stow with explosives, inflammable liquids (red label), corrosive liquids (white label), nor with nitrates, chlorates, or permanganates. Stow away from living quarters and foodstuffs. Check gross weight of containers to be certain no leakage has occurred. Refuse leaking containers or ones showing signs of having leaked.	Yellow	Stowage: "On deck protected." "On deck in open." "On deck under cover." Outside containers—When packed in water: Steel barrels or drums: (ICC-5A, 6A, 6B) not over 30 gal. cap. Wooden boxes: (ICC-15A, 15B) with hermetically sealed metal cans or metal linings, not over 250 lb. gr. wt. Tank cars: (ICC-103, 103W) without bottom discharge outlet and with insulated covering.	Not permitted	Not permitted	Not permitted.

Potassium, metallic	Potassium metallic is an inflammable, soft, white metal, with a silvery luster on freshly cut surfaces. Reacts violently with water evolving hydrogen which ignites from the intense heat of the reaction; also violently and similarly decomposed by acids. Do not stow with combustible materials, explosives, acids (white label), inflammable liquids (red label), or oxidizing materials (yellow label). Do not overstow with other cargo. Keep dry.	Yellow	Stowage: "On deck protected." "On deck under cover." "Tween decks readily accessible." Outside containers: Steel barrels or drums: (ICC-6A) not over 55 gal. cap. (ICC-5, 6B, 6C) not over 110 gal. cap. Metal drums (ICC-37D) STC, not over 6 gal. cap. Not more than 4 drums in one strong outside wooden box. Wooden boxes (ICC-15A, 15B) with hermetically sealed metal inside containers not over 250 lb. gr. wt. NOTE: Potassium metallic immersed in neutral petroleum oil may also be accepted in: Wooden boxes (ICC-15A, 15B) with inside drum (ICC-37D) STC, not over 30 lb. net wt. or with inside glass containers each enclosed in a tin container, not over 250 lb. gr. wt.	Not permitted	Not permitted	Not permitted.

Sodium, metallic	Sodium, metallic is a light silver-white metal, lustrous when freshly cut. Burns with a yellow flame. Violently decomposes water forming sodium hydroxide and hydrogen which ignites spontaneously. Do not stow with combustible materials, explosives, acids (white label), inflammable liquids (red label), oxidizing materials (yellow label). Keep dry.	Yellow	Stowage: "On deck protected." "On deck under cover." "Tween decks readily accessible." Outside containers: Steel barrels or drums: (ICC-6A) not over 55 gal. cap. (ICC-5, 6B, 6C) not over 110 gal. cap. Metal drums (ICC-37D) STC, not over 6 gal. cap. Not more than 4 drums in one strong outside wooden box. Wooden boxes (ICC-15A, 15B) with hermetically sealed metal inside containers, not over 250 lb. gr. wt. Sodium, metallic which has been fused solid in the container may be accepted in: Steel barrels or drums (ICC-17E, 17H, 37D) STC, not over 55 gal. cap. Sodium, metallic immersed in neutral oil may also be accepted in: Wooden boxes (ICC-15A, 15B) WIMC (ICC-37D), not over 30 lb. net wt. or with glass inside containers each enclosed in a tin container, not over 250 lb. gr. wt. Tank cars (ICC-105A300, 105A-300W) the metallic sodium to be in a molten condition when loaded into the tank and allowed to solidify before car is accepted by carrier. Sodium metallic cylindrical or rectangular blocks not less than 6 in. in length and not less than 2 in. in diameter or any other dimension, may be accepted in: Metal drums (ICC-17H, 37D) STC, not over 30 lb. net wt. Wet nitrocellulose—20% water. Wet nitrocellulose, colloided, granular or flake—20% water. Material must be uniformly wet with at least 20 lb. of water to 80 lb. of dry material. Shipping containers must have marked thereon the gross, tare, and net weight of the package. For export shipment only, the shipping name "Collodion cotton wet with water" may be used when required by the country of destination.	An inflammable solid consisting of nitrated cotton. When wet with not less than 20% water, this substance is classified as an inflammable solid. When dry it is classified as a high explosive. Involved in a fire, it will give off nitrous fumes, deep orange in color, and extremely irritating and poisonous. Check gross weight of container to be certain no leakage has occurred. Refuse leaking containers or ones that show signs of having leaked. Outside containers must be marked "Wet nitrocellulose—20% water."†	Yellow	Stowage: "On deck protected."† "On deck in open." SUBPART—DETAILED REGULATIONS GOVERNING CORROSIVE LIQUIDS

§ 146.23–100 Table F—Classification: Corrosive liquids

Descriptive name of article	Characteristic properties, cautions, markings required	Label required	Required conditions for transportation
			Cargo vessel	Passenger vessel	Ferry vessel, passenger or vehicle	R. R. car ferry, passenger or vehicle
Acetyl chloride	A clear, colorless, fuming liquid. Gives off fumes which are extremely irritating to the eyes. Decomposes violently with water or alcohol with the evolution of hydrochloric acid fumes which are irritating and suffocating. Inflammable. Flashpoint 40° F. Boiling point 126° F. Do not stow adjacent to alcohol. Protect stowage from water. Protect from sparks and open flame. Keep cool.	White	Stowage: "On deck protected." "On deck under cover."† Outside containers: Carboys, boxed, glass, earthenware, clay, or stone (ICC-1A), not over 13 gal. cap. Carboys, boxed, glass (ICC-1D), not over 6½ gal. cap. Carboys in kegs, glass, earthenware, clay or stone (ICC-1C), not over 13 gal. cap. Carboys in plywood drums, glass (ICC-1E), not over 7 gal. cap. Carboys, boxed, glass, earthenware, clay or stone (ICC-1X) STC, for export only, not over 6 gal. cap. Steel barrels or drums (ICC-5A), not over 110 gal. cap. (ICC-17C) STC, not over 55 gal. cap. Nickel drums (ICC-5K), not over 110 gal. cap. Wooden barrels or kegs (ICC-11A, 11B) WIC, not over 200 lb. net wt. Wooden boxes (ICC-15A, 15B, 15C, 16A, 19A) WIC, not over 200 lb. gr. wt. Hydrochloric (muriatic) acid. NOTE: See § 146.23–50 for bulk shipments.	A corrosive, fuming liquid, varying from colorless to yellow. Gives off fumes which are irritating in contact with mucous membrane and in sufficient quantities will be suffocating. Will damage or destroy many articles by contact but does not cause fire. Will dissolve tin, iron, and steel with evolution of hydrogen gas. Noninflammable. Miscible with water. Shall not be accepted in unlined metal drums. Do not stow with sulfuric acid, nitric acid or chlorates. Do not stow over other cargo.	White	Stowage: "On deck protected." "On deck under cover." SUBPART—DETAILED REGULATIONS GOVERNING COMPRESSED GASES

1. Section 146.24–25 is amended by designating present material as paragraph (a), and adding a paragraph (b) to read s follows:

(b) The master or person in charge of the vessel shall ensure that the equipment used for loading or unloading compressed gases is adequate to prevent cylinders from falling during handling operations. Such equipment may be a tray with sideboards of sufficient height to prevent cylinders from falling off; tray with small mesh net; pallet with cylinders secured in place; or a bridle sling with a round turn at each end of load.

2. Section 146.24–85 is amended by deleting the present wording in paragraph (s) (1) and (2), and inserting the following in lieu thereof:

§ 146.24–85 Anhydrous ammonia in bulk. • • •

(s) Periodic inspections and tests. (1) Each cargo tank shall be subjected to an internal examination at least once in each 8 calendar years. Each lagged tank shall be subjected to an external inspection at least once in each 8 calendar years by having the jacket and lagging removed. An external examination of unlagged tanks and the visible parts of lagged tanks shall be made at each annual inspection.

(2) A hydrostatic test of 1½ times the allowable pressure as determined by the safety relief valve setting shall be made at any time that the inspector considers such hydrostatic test necessary to determine the condition of the tank. If the jacket and lagging are not removed during the hydrostatic tests prescribed in this paragraph, the tank shall hold the hydrostatic test pressure for at least 20 minutes without a pressure drop.

SUBPART—DETAILED REGULATIONS GOVERNING POISONOUS ARTICLES

1. Section 146.25–20 is amended by changing the heading to read as follows:

§ 146.25–20 Radioactive materials, Class D Poison. • • •

2. Section 146.25–25 is amended by adding a new sentence to paragraph (c) and a new paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§ 146.25–25 Exemptions for radioactive materials. • • •

(c) Radioactive materials, such as ores, residues, etc., of low activity, packed in strong tight containers, are exempt from specification packaging, marking other than name of contents, and labeling requirements for transportation on board vessels only if the gamma radiation or equivalent at any point in any space or area continuously occupied by passengers, crew, or shipments of animals, will not exceed 40 milliroentgens per 24 hours at any time during transportation. Except when handling is supervised by the Atomic Energy Commission, shipments must be loaded by consignor and unloaded by the consignee.

(d) Detonating fuzes with radioactive components as described in § 146.20–7 (g) (3) are exempt from the labeling requirement.

3. Section 146.25–100 Table H—Classification: Class A; extremely dangerous poisons is amended by changing the following item to read as follows:

Sulfur. Flowers of sulfur. Sulfur flower. Brimstone.	A mineral substance in the form of hard lumps or amorphous powder. Insoluble in water. Crude sulfur in bulk is dangerously inflammable and readily fusible by heat. Will ignite by friction. When burning gives off sulfur dioxide, a suffocating gas. Sulfur dust given off in loading crude sulfur in bulk forms an explosive mixture and may be ignited by static electricity, open flame or spark. Do not stow sulfur with carbon, charcoal, lampblack, gas, oils, fibers, other carriers of oxygen. In the presence of carbon, charcoal, lampblack, and other carbonaceous substances, fats and oils may produce spontaneous heating and ignition; with chlorates, phosphates, phosphorus and other oxygen carriers it may produce explosive mixtures. Outside barrels, boxes or bags shall be marked with the shipping name of the product as given herein or "Hazardous Article."	No label required	Stowage: "On deck in open." "On deck under cover." "Tween decks." "Under deck." Outside containers: Barrels. Boxes. Bags. Tight siftproof railroad freight cars. Vehicles loaded with sulfur in bulk may be transported provided the loading shows no sign of sifting of the sulfur. (See Note in columns 5, 6, and 7.)	Ferry stowage (AA).	Ferry stowage (BB).	Outside containers: Barrels. Boxes. Bags. Tight siftproof railroad freight cars. Vehicles loaded with sulfur in bulk may be transported provided the loading shows no sign of sifting of the sulfur.
• • •	• • •	• • •	• • •	• • •	• • •	• • •

NOTE: In the loading, handling and unloading of sulfur in bulk the following conditions shall be complied with:

(b) Holds shall be cleaned of all debris.

(c) Ceiling shall be made tight to prevent sulfur dust finding its way into the bilges; any chinking necessary in the way of tank tops or bilges shall be with non-combustible material.

(d) In order to minimize the amount of sulfur dust, ventilators serving the hold into which sulfur is being loaded or discharged shall be blanked off to prevent circulation of air.

(e) "No Smoking" signs shall be conspicuously displayed, and the officer in charge shall ensure that they are observed.

(f) An oxygen breathing apparatus, or proper gas mask, shall be made readily available.

(g) A fire hose, preferably supplied with fresh water from a shore supply source, shall be available at each batch through which sulfur is being worked.

(h) Upon completion of loading, the sulfur shall be leveled off and the sulfur dust deposited during the process of loading shall be completely removed and shall be cared for by sweeping or washing it down. This applies to the decks and to the overhead structure within the holds.

(i) After unloading, all residue of sulfur or sulfur dust shall be thoroughly cleaned out of cargo holds before loading other cargo therein.

(k) When sulfur is loaded by metal chute method, provision shall be made for proper grounding of the chute, using flexible cable to prevent static discharge.

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

Correction

In Federal Register Document 55-3576, appearing at page 2947 of the issue for Tuesday, May 3, 1955, the reference in § 975.73 (c) to "§ 975.81" should read "§ 975.81 (b)".

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Administration, Department of Commerce

[Amdt. 56]

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF CIVIL AIRWAYS

ALTERATIONS

The civil airway alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Panel, and are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety. Compliance with the notice procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to public interest and therefore is not required.

Part 600 is amended as follows:

1. Section 600.109 is amended to read:

3. Section 600.6016 VOR civil airway No. 16 (Los Angeles, Calif., to Boston, Mass.) is amended by changing the portion between the Phoenix, Ariz., omnirange station and the Columbus, N. Mex., omnirange station to read: "Phoenix, Ariz., omnirange station; intersection of the Phoenix omnirange 160° True and the Tucson omnirange 315° True radials; Tucson, Ariz., omnirange station; Cochise, Ariz., omnirange station, including a south alternate via the intersection of the Tucson omnirange 121° True and the Cochise omnirange 257° True radials; Columbus, N. Mex., omnirange station;".

4. Section 600.6019 VOR civil airway No. 19 (El Paso, Tex., to Great Falls, Mont.) is amended by deleting the following words: "From the Denver Colo., omnirange station via the Cheyenne, Wyo., omnirange station, including an east alternate;" and substituting in lieu thereof the following words: "From the Denver, Colo., omnirange station via the Cheyenne, Wyo., omnirange station, including an east alternate via the intersection of the Denver omnirange 014° True and the Cheyenne omnirange 131° True radials;".

5. Section 600.6023 VOR civil airway No. 23 (San Diego, Calif., to Bellingham, Wash.) is amended by changing the portion between the Fresno, Calif., omnirange station; Modesto, Calif., omnirange station, including an east alternate via the intersection of the Fresno omnirange 328° True and the Modesto omnirange 117° True radials; Sacramento, Calif., omnirange station;".

6. Section 600.6026 is amended by changing the caption to read: "VOR civil airway No. 26 (Cherokee, Wyo., to Cleveland, Ohio)" and by adding a new first paragraph to read: "From the Cherokee, Wyo., omnirange station to the Casper, Wyo., omnirange station."

7. Section 600.6032 is amended to read:

8. Section 600.6066 VOR civil airway No. 66 (San Diego, Calif., to Midland, Tex.) is amended by changing the portion between the Gila Bend, Ariz., omnirange station and the Douglas, Ariz., omnirange station to read: "Gila Bend, Ariz., omnirange station; Tucson, Ariz., omnirange station, including a north alternate via the intersection of the Gila Bend omnirange 100° True and the Tucson omnirange 315° True radials; Douglas, Ariz., omnirange station;".

9. Section 600.6185 is added to read:

§ 600.6185 VOR civil airway No. 185 (Augusta, Ga., to Knoxville, Tenn.). From the Augusta, Ga., omnirange station via the Spartanburg, S. C., omnirange station; Asheville, N. C., omnirange station; intersection of the Asheville omnirange 300° True and the Knoxville omnirange 069° True radials; to the Knoxville, Tenn., omnirange station, including an east alternate from the Asheville omnirange station to the Knoxville omnirange station via the intersection of the Asheville omnirange 329° True and the Knoxville omnirange 069° True radials.

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e. s. t. June 16, 1955.

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, AND REPORTING POINTS

ALTERATIONS

The control area, control zone and reporting point alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Panel, and are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to public interest and therefore is not required.

Part 601 is amended as follows:

1. Section 601.1003 Control area extension (Beaumont, Tex.) is revoked.

2. Section 601.1006 is amended to read:

§ 601.1006 Control area extension (Lake Charles, La.). All that airspace within a 40-mile radius of the Lake Charles, La., radio range station excluding the portion which overlaps the Houston (Beaumont-Palacios-Houston) Control area extension.

3. Section 601.1105 is amended to read:

4. Section 601.1343 is amended to read:

5. Section 601.1371 Control area extension (Umiat, Alaska) is revoked.

6. Section 601.1372 Control area extension (Point Barrow, Alaska) is revoked.

7. Section 601.1984 Five mile radius zones is amended by deleting the following:

Montgomery, Ala.: Dannelly Field.
Point Barrow, Alaska: Point Barrow Airport.
Umiat, Alaska: Umiat Airport.

8. Section 601.2078 is added to read:

§ 601.2078 Edenton, N. C. control zone. Within a 5-mile radius of the Edenton Navy Auxiliary Landing Field and within 2 miles either side of a line bearing 184° True from the Edenton NALF to a point 12 miles south, excluding the portions which overlap the Albemarle Sound Restricted Area (R–1) and the Albemarle Sound Caution Area (C–10).

9. Section 601.2086 is amended to read:

§ 601.2086 Chicago, Ill., control zone. Within a 6-mile radius of the Chicago-Midway Airport; within 2 miles either side of the southeast and northwest courses of the Chicago radio range extending from the intersection of the southeast course of the radio range with the east course of the Harvey, Ill., radio range to the intersection of the northwest course of the radio range with the northeast course of the Joliet, Ill., radio range excluding the portion which overlaps the O'Hare International Airport control zone; within 2 miles either side of the front and back courses of the Chicago-Midway ILS localizer extending from the intersection of the localizer back course with the east course of the Harvey, Ill., radio range to a point 12 miles northwest of the Chicago-Midway outer marker on the localizer front course, excluding the portion which overlaps the O'Hare International Airport control zone; within 2 miles either side of the 007° True, 124° True and 223° True radials of the Chicago-Midway terminal omnirange station extending from the terminal omnirange station to points 12 miles north, southeast and southwest.

10. Section 601.2104 is amended to read:

§ 601.2104 Huntington, W. Va., control zone. Within a 5-mile radius of the Huntington Airport, Chesapeake, Ohio; within a 5-mile radius of the Tri-State Airport, Huntington, W. Va.; within 2 miles either side of a line bearing 253° True extending from the Huntington nondirectional radio beacon to a point 10 miles west, and within 2 miles either side of a line bearing 15° True extending from the nondirectional radio beacon to a point 10 miles north.

11. Section 601.2156 Miami, Fla., control zone is amended by adding the following portion to present control zone: "and within 2 miles either side of the back course of the Miami ILS localizer extending from the localizer to a point 10 miles east."

12. Section 601.2159 is amended to read:

§ 601.2159 Montgomery, Ala., control zone. Within a 5-mile radius of Dannelly Field; within a 5-mile radius of Maxwell Air Force Base; within 2 miles either side of the north and west courses of the Maxwell AFB radio range extending from the radio range station to points 10 miles north and west of the station; within 2 miles either side of a line bearing 276° True from Dannelly Field through the Dannelly ILS outer marker to a point 5 miles west of the outer marker, and within 2 miles either side of the 321° True and 141° True radials of the Montgomery omnirange extending from the Dannelly Field control zone to a point 5 miles southeast of the omnirange station.

13. Section 601.2270 Enid, Okla., control zone is amended by adding the following portion to present control zone: "and within 2 miles either side of a line bearing 315° True from the Vance Air Force Base extending from the Air Force Base to a point 10 miles northwest of the Enid omnirange station."

14. Section 601.2331 is amended to read:

15. Section 601.4109 is amended to read:

§ 601.4109 Amber civil airway No. 9 (Charleston, S. C., to Norfolk, Va.). Myrtle Beach, N. C., nondirectional radio beacon; Wilmington, N. C., nondirectional radio beacon; New Bern, N. C., nondirectional radio beacon; Williamston, N. C., VHF VAR radio range station; the intersection of the north course of the Williamston, N. C., VHF VAR radio range and the southwest course of the Norfolk, Va., radio range.

16. Section 601.6023 is amended to read:

§ 601.6023 VOR civil airway No. 23 control areas (San Diego, Calif., to Bellingham, Wash.). All of VOR civil airway No. 23 including an east and a west alternate.

17. Section 601.6026 is amended to read:

§ 601.6026 VOR civil airway No. 26 control areas (Cherokee, Wyo., to Cleveland, Ohio). All of VOR civil airway No. 26, including north and south alternates.

18. Section 601.6032 is amended to read:

§ 601.6032 VOR civil airway No. 32 control areas (Battle Mountain, Nev., to Fort Bridger, Wyo.). All of VOR civil airway No. 32, including a north alternate.

19. Section 601.6066 is amended to read:

§ 601.6066 VOR civil airway No. 66 control areas (San Diego, Calif., to Midland, Tex.). All of VOR civil airway No. 66, including north alternates.

20. Section 601.6185 is added to read:

§ 601.6185 VOR civil airway No. 185 control areas (Augusta, Ga., to Knoxville, Tenn.). All of VOR civil airway No. 185, including an east alternate.

21. Section 601.7001 Domestic VOR reporting points is amended by adding the following compulsory reporting points:

Carleton, Mich., omnirange station.
Joliet, Ill., omnirange station.
Peotone, Ill., omnirange station.
Polo, Illinois, omnirange station.
Salem, Mich., omnirange station.
Williamsport, Pa., omnirange station.

And by deleting the following reporting points:

Loop Intersection: The intersection of the Napersville, Ill., omnirange 064° True and the Chicago Heights, Ill., omnirange 345° True radials.

Williamsport Intersection: The intersection of the Philipsburg, Pa., omnirange 071° True and the Selinsgrove, Pa., omnirange 011° True radials.

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e. s. t. June 16, 1955.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

PART 3—STATEMENTS OF GENERAL POLICY OR INTERPRETATION

PESTICIDE CHEMICALS; DATE ON WHICH STATUTE BECOMES FULLY EFFECTIVE

Under the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 408, 701, 52 Stat. 1055, 68 Stat. 511; 21 U. S. C. 348, 371) and pursuant to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act (sec. 3, 60 Stat. 237, 238; 5 U. S. C. 1002), the following statement of policy is issued:

§ 3.40 Pesticide chemicals; date on which statute becomes full effective. (a) The pesticide chemicals amendment to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (68 Stat. 511) is scheduled to become fully effective on July 22, 1955. However, the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare may extend this date on a product-by-product basis for a time not to exceed 12 months on a finding that conditions exist that necessitate the extension of such additional period. After the amendment becomes fully effective, a raw agricultural commodity in interstate commerce may bear residues of a poisonous pesticide chemical only if:

(1) Under the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act a tolerance has been established for residues of the pesticide chemical, or it has been exempted from the requirement of a tolerance; and

(2) If a tolerance has been established, the residues are within the tolerance level.

Numerous tolerances for residues of pesticide chemicals—and some exemptions from the requirement of a tolerance—have been established. However, tolerances or exemptions have not been established for some pesticide chemicals that are employed in agriculture, and it is not possible at this time to determine whether tolerances will be established for them before the end of the current growing season. Some of these pesticides have been recommended by certain State officials for use on crops throughout the 1955 growing season. Agriculturists, pesticide manufacturers and distributors, and food-law enforcement officials need to know the status of these pesticides under the amendment prior to July 22, 1955, so that they will know whether the pesticides should be employed throughout the 1955 growing season.

(b) The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare is prepared to consider requests for an extension of the effective date of the law for specific pesticides. The following criteria, among others, will be used in evaluating and acting upon such requests:

(1) There should not be an extension of the effective date of the amendment for uses of pesticide chemicals for which tolerances have already been established.

(2) The effective date of the amendment should be extended for a pesticide chemical only upon a finding, based on a study of the available facts about the chemical and its toxicity, that the interests of public health will not be jeopardized by the extension.

(3) There should be evidence about the amounts of residues which remain in or on food from use of a pesticide chemical and about its chronic toxicity before an extension is granted.

(4) Extension should not be granted for a pesticide chemical which causes alarming symptoms in test animals (cancer or blood disorders, for example) in any dosage, unless experimental data show a level of feeding to test animals that is safe.

(5) Where a tolerance has been set for residues of a pesticide chemical on one or more raw agricultural commodities under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, and the other criteria of this statement of policy are met, the effective date may be extended for other uses of the pesticide chemical.

(6) Extension should be granted only for uses of a pesticide chemical registered with the Department of Agriculture under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act of 1947 (61 Stat. 163; 7 U. S. C. 135) prior to the 1955 growing season (prior to May 1, 1955).

(7) Extension should be granted only to the end of the 1955 growing season, because longer extensions would result in confusion during the 1956 growing season. The principal growing season in the United States ends by October 31.

(8) Notice of the decisions of the Department on requests for extensions will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(c) Each request for an extension should be addressed to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs and should give:

(1) The name and chemical composition of the pesticide chemical for which extension is requested.

(2) A list of uses for which extension is requested and evidence that these uses were registered under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act prior to May 1, 1955.

(3) Information about the amounts of residues that are expected to remain on raw agricultural commodities from these uses.

(4) Available information which indicates that these residues will not jeopardize the public health.

(5) A statement of the reason(s) a tolerance or exemption from the requirement of a tolerance has not been requested.

(d) In order that decisions on requests for extensions may be published before July 22, 1955, requests and supporting data should be received by June 27, 1955.

(e) Use during the 1955 growing season of a pesticide chemical for which extension is granted may yield a raw agricultural commodity which bears residues of the chemical. In such case, the raw agricultural commodity will not be considered adulterated within the meaning of the act even though it is marketed after the growing season, provided the commodity bearing such residues would have been legal in interstate commerce during the 1955 growing season.

(f) The Department believes that extensions beyond October 31, 1955, would lead to confusion in 1956. It recommends that States prepare spray schedules for the 1956 growing season which direct (1) pesticide uses that leave no residues at time of harvest or (2) the use only of pesticides for which tolerances have been established or exemptions granted under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

Dated: June 3, 1955.

Secretary.

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter I—Coast Guard, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter J—Procurement

[CGFR 55–21]

PART 116—PROCEDURES FOR PURCHASING

PART 118—CONTRACTS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

A new section designated § 116.01–148 prescribes special conditions to be included in contracts for laundry and dry cleaning services.

The amendment to § 116.01–160 broadens the category of items which may be procured by service station delivery on credit cards.

A new section designated § 116.03–60 sets forth competition requirements in small purchase procedures.

The amendment to § 118.02–5 is editorial in nature to clarify requirements of existing procedure.

The amendment to § 118.02–18 requires all units assigning purchase and delivery order numbers to maintain order record books.

Two new sections designated §§ 118.04–30 and 118.04–31 prescribe instructions for the termination of Coast Guard contracts for default and convenience of the Government. Section 116.01–10 has been amended to include a cross-reference to the new § 118.04–30.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by Treasury Department Order No. 120, dated July 31, 1950 (15 F. R. 6521), the following amendments are prescribed:

1. Section 116.01–10 Performance and default under Coast Guard contracts is amended by adding the following footnote at the end of the section: "(See § 118.04–30 of this subchapter.)"

2. Part 116 is amended by adding a new § 116.01–148 reading as follows:

§ 116.01–148 Laundry and dry cleaning services. Invitations for bids or proposals and contracts for the laundry or dry cleaning of Government-owned property shall contain provisions for inspection of the contractor's services, count of articles, loss or damage, and storage and handling, as follows:

(a) Inspection of contractor's services. (1) The Government reserves the right to inspect the services rendered and to return articles determined to have been unsatisfactorily serviced for further servicing at no additional cost to the Government. If public necessity requires the use of services not conforming to specifications, they may be accepted and payment therefor shall be made at a proper reduction in price.

(2) The Government reserves the right to inspect the establishment of the Contractor and to make preliminary inspection of the services rendered at that point. However, final inspection and acceptance of the services rendered will be made when the serviced articles are returned.

(b) Count of articles. The Contractor shall be liable for the return of the number of articles furnished for service under this contract in accordance with the count of the activity ordering the Contractor's services, unless a joint count shall be made by the Contractor and the Government activity at the time of delivery to the Contractor, in which event the number agreed upon at such joint count shall control.

(c) Loss or damage. (1) The Contractor agrees to indemnify the Government for any Government-owned property delivered to the Contractor for servicing under the terms of this contract which (i) cannot be located for return to the Government activity making such delivery or (ii) is damaged and cannot in the opinion of the ordering activity, and/or the Contractor, be satisfactorily repaired. In either of the above events, the Contractor agrees to pay to the Government the original cost of such items as determined by the ordering activity: Provided, That, when in the judgment of the ordering activity, credit should be allowed for depreciation in the value of the property at the time of such loss or damage, the ordering activity and the Contractor shall determine the amount of the allowable credit. If the ordering activity and the Contractor fail to agree upon the amounts of allowable credit, the dispute shall be referred to the Contracting Officer for determination as provided in the Clause hereof entitled "Disputes."

(2) In case of damage to any article of such property which in the opinion of the ordering activity and the Contractor can be satisfactorily repaired, the Contractor agrees to repair the same at the Contractor's expense in a manner satisfactory to the ordering activity.

(d) Storage and handling. During the time Government-owned property is in the place of business of the Contractor, it shall be stored so as to be raised at least for (4) inches from the floor. The Contractor warrants that all articles to be laundered or dry cleaned under this contract will be segregated in the Contractor's place of business and handled separately from any other work in process, and that hospital, sick bay, or dispensary laundry and dry cleaning articles will be handled separately from other articles.

3. Section 116.01–160 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (c) to read as follows:

§ 116.01–160 Service station purchases on credit cards—(a) General. District commanders and commanding officers of Headquarters units may authorize the purchase of gasoline, lubricants, and other incidental supplies and services set out in paragraph (c) of this section, for service station delivery to Coast Guard motor vehicles. Normally, such purchases will be accomplished through the use of credit cards in accordance with the General Provisions for Service Station Deliveries, Classes 7 and 14, Federal Supply Schedule, applicable to the General Services Administration in which the district or Headquarters unit is located. Service station deliveries may be obtained on Standard Form 44 (Purchase Order-Invoice-Voucher) in lieu of credit cards when that form is used as a medium for posting cost data to Form CG–2956 (Report of Operation of Vehicle), or when credit cards are not available. (See § 118.02–13 of this subchapter re use of Standard Form 44.)

* * * * *

(c) Use of credit cards. Group commanders, commanding officers, officers in charge, or individuals to whom credit cards are issued shall be responsible for their safekeeping and proper use. Drivers shall be required to insure that vehicles dispatched on trips off a Coast Guard reservation are serviced and filled with gasoline before departure, when refueling and servicing facilities are available aboard the unit. Credit card purchase will be made only from authorized representatives of the oil company on which the card is issued.

(1) Authorized purchases. Credit cards will be used only for the following items when necessary to accomplish an assigned mission:

(i) Gasoline, regular grade, except that premium grade gasoline may be purchased when its use has been authorized by the district commander or commanding officer of a Headquarters unit.

(ii) Lubricating oil, premium and regular grades.

(iii) Lubricating service, including transmission shots.

(iv) Alcohol and other antifreeze products.

(v) Battery service.

(vi) Tire and tube repairs.

(vii) Cleaning of air or other filters.

(viii) Emergency replacement of burned-out light bulbs and broken spark plugs.

(ix) Washing, whenever the over-all cost of returning a vehicle (not domiciled on a Coast Guard unit or other place where adequate Government-owned car washing facilities are available) to the support unit exceeds the cost of obtaining like service through the use of a credit card.

Credit cards may not be used to obtain parking space, tires, tubes, batteries, automobile accessories, or repairs other than those known in the automobile trade as "road repairs."

(2) Substantiation of purchases. All purchases made with a credit card will be substantiated by a copy of the service station delivery ticket, showing the following information:

(i) Credit card number.

(ii) Date of purchase.

(iii) Name and address of service station.

(iv) License number of the vehicle serviced.

(v) Name, rank/rate, and station of purchaser.

(vi) Itemization of the items purchased by grade (i. e., premium or regular gasoline, etc.), quantity, unit price, and total amount charged.

(vii) Speedometer reading of vehicle serviced.

A signed copy of the service station delivery ticket shall be mailed or delivered to the district commander (f) or the commanding officer of the Headquarters unit promptly after each purchase. For prolonged trips, self-addressed envelopes may be provided for this purpose.

4. Part 116 is amended by adding a new § 116.03–60 reading as folows:

§ 116.03–60 Competition under small purchase procedures. Reasonable solicitation of quotations from qualified sources of supply shall be secured in order to assure that the procurement is made to the advantage of the Government, price and other factors considered, including the administrative cost of the purchase. Generally, solicitation shall be limited to three suppliers or the number of suppliers in the local trade area, whichever is less. Where the prices are considered to be reasonable, small purchases not exceeding $100 may be accomplished without securing competition, but such purchases shall be distributed equitably over a period of time among qualified suppliers. Solicitation of quotations will generally be effected orally. Written solicitation will be used only in such circumstances as where (a) the suppliers are located outside the local are, (b) special specifications are involved, or (c) a large number of items are included in a single proposed procurement. Notification to unsuccessful suppliers is not required.

5. Section 118.02–5 is amended to read as follows:

§ 118.02–5 Amendments to contracts. Amendments to contracts shall be issued in the form of a "change order" or a "supplemental agreement," prepared in accordance with § 118.01–19. Change orders and supplemental agreements must be signed by the contracting officer who executed the basic contract (or his duly appointed successor) and will be given the same distribution as the basic contract.

6. Section 118.02–18 is amended by adding a new paragraph (c) reading as follows:

§ 118.02–18 Numbering of purchase and delivery orders. * * *

(c) Order record books. All units assigning numbers to purchase and delivery orders shall maintain an order record book, or "log," briefly summarizing purchase transactions and providing a reference to the order files. Normally, the order record will be kept in ink in a bound book with columns provided for (1) the order number, (2) date of the order, (3) source of supply, (4) description of the items ordered (in general terms, such as "milk," "deck stores," etc.), and (5) remarks. However, the record may be maintained by typewriter on locally prepared forms similar to the contract register prescribed in § 118.01–15. Additional columns may be provided commensurate with local requirements. Unnumebered contracts (i. e., those contracts which do not require a "Tcg" number in accordance with § 118.01–17) and requisitions may be assigned "order" numbers from the same series maintained for purchase and delivery orders.

7. Part 118 is amended by adding a center note and a new § 118.04–30 reading as follows:

TERMINATION OF CONTRACTS

§ 118.04–30 Cancellation for default—(a) Scope. This section prescribes methods, policies, and procedures for handling the termination of Coast Guard contracts resulting from the defaults of contractors. It does not apply to Federal Supply Schedule contracts. Section 116.01–12 of this subchapter sets forth default procedures to be followed when unsatisfactory services or supplies are rendered by Federal Supply Schedule contractors.

(b) Conditions leading to default. If a contractor (1) fails to make delivery of the supplies or to perform the services within the time specified in the contract, or (2) fails to perform any provision of the contract other than the delivery schedules, or (3) so fails to make progress as to endanger performance of his contract in accordance with the terms thereof, he may be said to be in default. Defaults may be excusable or nonexcusable. Defaults are excusable when they arise out of the causes set forth in Clause 11 (b) of Standard Form 32 (11/49), General Provisions (Supply Contract), or Clause 5 (c) of Standard Form 23A (3/53), General Provisions (Construction Contracts).

(c) Policy. It is the policy of the Coast Guard to utilize default cancellation procedure when a contractor has not complied with the terms of the contract and as a result of such failure cannot deliver the supplies and services called for under the contract in a manner and within the time such supplies and services are needed. The policy of the Coast Guard is not to use default cancellation as a punitive measure but to use it as a method to insure the contractor's adherence to his contractual obligations and to protect the Government from losses which it may sustain as a result of the contractor's failure to comply with his contract obligations.

(d) Authority to terminate for default. Coast Guard contracts may be terminated for default by field contracting officers only after the Commandant (FS) has (1) reviewed all facts and circumstances connected with the case, (2) obtained a legal review of the case to ascertain the existence of an actionable default and the advisability of terminating the contract for default, and (3) authorized the contracting officer to proceed with the default cancellation, pursuant to § 116.01–10 of this subchapter.

(e) Initial action by contracting officer. Contracting officers are responsible for initiating action pertaining to possible default cancellation of contracts. In determining the course of action required, the contracting officer must conduct a thorough review of the contract, including facts and circumstances surrounding the contract; the specific failure of the contractor; the contractor's excuses, if any, for such failures; and applicable administrative and contract instructions. He may invite the contractor to discuss the matter orally at a conference.

(1) Points to be considered. Whenever a contractor is delinquent as to any substantive provisions of the contract, the following points must be taken into consideration by the contracting officer:

(i) Whether the contractor is entitled to, and consideration exists for, an extension of the delivery schedule by change order.

(ii) Whether or not the contractor's delays are presently known to be excusable.

(iii) Whether a failure to act would waive the delivery schedule in the contract and leave the Government with no firm date within which the contractor is required to perform.

(iv) The availability to the supplies or services from other sources.

(v) The period of time required to obtain supplies or services from other sources as compared with the time delivery could be obtained from the delinquent contractor and the urgency of the need for the supplies or services.

(vi) The degree of essentiality of the contractor in the Government procurement program and the effect of a default cancellation upon the contractor's capability as a supplier under other Government contracts.

(vii) Whether there were any changes in the supplies or services under contract or other action on the part of the Government which might have contributed to the cause or failure to perform.

(viii) The possibility of the collection of liquidated damages (if provided for in the contract).

(ix) Whether it appears that the contractor submitted an unrealistic delivery schedule to obtain an advantage over competitors.

(2) Default notice to contractor. Upon finding that a contractor's delinquency merits his being warned of possible default action, the contracting officer shall issue a "notice of default" to the contractor in letter form (via registered mail, return receipt requested). The notice will state that the Government is considering cancellation for default by reason of the contractor's failure to comply with the delivery schedule, failure to make progress so as to endanger performance, or failure to comply with other contractual provisions (whichever is applicable). The contractor will be requested to submit his reasons, within a period of 10 days (or such longer time as the contracting officer shall deem reasonable under the circumstances) following receipt of the notice, as to why the contract should not be terminated for default. The notice should also call the contractor's attention to the penalties that may be invoked if the contract is cancelled for default. Prior to release, each "notice of default" originated by a field contracting officer shall be coordinated with the cognizant divisions, sections, and/or offices of the district or the Headquarters unit. A copy of the notice will be furnished the contractor's sureties, assignees, or guarantors, if any.

(f) Secondary action by contracting officer. Upon receipt of the contractor's reply to the "notice of default" which was dispatched in accordance with paragraph (e) (2) of this section, the contracting officer shall evaluate the contractor's excuses for his failure to perform, the contractor's promised efforts to cure the delinquency, and the current status of production. If the evaluation so justifies, the contracting officer may waive the contractor's delinquency and authorize continuance of the contract, subject to appropriate corrective and remedial action on the part of the contractor. However, in the absence of a reply from the contractor to the "notice of default," or upon an unsatisfactory evaluation of the contractor's excuses and promises submitted in reply to the notice, the contracting officer will furnish the Commandant (FS) a complete report of all facts and circumstances connected with the case, including the following:

(1) A copy of the contract and all change orders and supplemental agreements thereto.

(2) A copy of the "notice of default" with proof of service (i. e., delivery receipt signed by the contractor or his representative).

(3) Copies of all pertinent correspondence.

(4) Method of selection of source used at the time of placing the contract and why the contractor was selected.

(5) Deliveries and payments that have been made under the contract; the contract provisions relative to time and place of performance; the facts and surrounding circumstances constituting the contractor's default and the contracting officer's endeavors to discover and evaluate the contractor's excuses, if any.

(6) Excuses, if any, relied upon and alleged by the contractor and the contracting officer's opinion as to veracity, weight, adequacy, and merit of such excuses; current need for the supplies or services called for and the sources which would be considered to furnish the supplies or services as to which the contractor has defaulted with statement as to reliability of such source or sources.

(7) Presence or lack of sureties, guarantors, or others secondarily liable, giving their names and addresses.

(8) If the contract contains a "Termination for the Convenience of the Government" clause, a statement whether funds are available to support a termination settlement in the event the contract is not cancelled for default but instead results in a convenience termination. (See § 118.04–31.)

(9) A request for determination by the Commandant as to whether or not there is a legal basis for default cancellation of the contract.

(g) Action by the Commandant. Upon receipt of the contracting officer's report, submitted in accordance with paragraph (h) of this section, the Commandant (FS) will obtain a legal review of the case to ascertain the existence of an actionable default and the advisability of terminating the contract for default. The contracting officer will be informed of the results of the legal review and furnished such advisory instructions as may be required for proper disposition of the case.

(h) Termination action by the contracting officer. Upon receipt of the results of the legal review of the case and advisory instructions from the Commandant (FS), the contracting officer must, when default has been recommended, make a determination on his own judgment whether to complete the contract by supplemental agreement with the contractor or his surety, or to cancel the contract pursuant to the "Default" clause.

(1) Completion of contract by supplemental agreement—(i) Agreement with the contractor. In the event that default occurred in the contract by reason of nonexcusable delay, which resulted in actual damages to the Government, and the contracting officer deems it to be in the best interests of the Government to permit the contractor to complete performance of the contract, a supplemental agreement may be entered into providing for completion of performance notwithstanding such default, if the contractor assumes liability for the actual damages. The surety, if any, should either be a party to the supplemental agreement or he should execute and deliver to the contracting officer, simultaneously with the execution of a supplemental agreement with the contractor, a written consent extending the terms of any performance bond to cover such supplemental agreement. The agreement should distinctly state that the Government's rights to accrued damages are not thereby waived.

(ii) Agreement with the surety. If a performance bond has been filed in connection with the contract, or otherwise, and the action outlined in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph is not deemed to be in the best interests of the Government, an agreement may be entered into with the surety, providing for completion of performance of the contract upon the same terms and conditions as the original contract, less actual damages resulting from delay, and further providing for payment directly to the surety. Such agreement should clearly state that all rights against the contractor and the surety are reserved so far as the surety does not cure the defaults of the contractor. The contractor will be furnished promptly with a findings of fact as indicated in subparagraph (2) (ii) of this paragraph.

(2) Termination pursuant to default clause—(i) General. Where the contractor and/or his surety elect not to complete performance of the contract after being afforded an opportunity to do so (see subparagraph (1) of this paragraph), or when the contracting officer deems it to be in the best interests of the Government to terminate the contract following default thereof, and the default consists of failure on the part of the contractor to make delivery of the supplies or to perform the services within the time specified in the contract or any extension thereof, the procedure set forth in subdivisions (ii) through (iv) of this subparagraph will be followed.

(ii) Termination notice. The contractor will be served with a written "notice of termination" (via registered mail, return receipt requested), which will include the following: Reference to contract number, date, and portion of contract as to which his right to proceed is terminated; that his right to proceed further with performance under the contract is thereby terminated; a specific description of the acts or omissions constituting the default; that the supplies, services, or construction required by the contract will be procured in the open market against his account, and that he will be held liable for any excess costs; that the Government reserves all rights and remedies provided by law or under the contract, in addition to charging excess costs (where liquidated damages are provided for, substitute a reference thereto); that the notice constitutes a findings of fact pursuant to the "Disputes" clause of the contract, from which he has the right of appeal as specified therein (see § 118.04–26).

(iii) Distribution of termination notice. The same distribution will be made of the "notice of termination" as was made of the contractual documents. In addition thereto, a copy will be furnished directly to the authorized certifying officer designated to effect settlement of the contractor's account.

(iv) Service of termination notice. Notice of termination of a contract must be furnished to the contractor within a reasonable time after the default occurs, or after efforts to arrange for compliance with the terms of the contract have resulted in failure. This requirement is necessary in order to fulfill the Government's obligation to mitigate damages.

(3) Charges against contractor's account — (i) Repurchase provisions. Where the supplies or services are still required after termination, they will be purchased from other contractors or Government facilities as soon as possible after termination, of supplies and services similar to those called for in the initial contract, at as reasonable a price as practicable, considering the quantity and quality required by the Government and the time within which the supplies or services are required; in construction contracts, the work will be let according to the same plans and specifications to such other responsible contractor who offers the lowest price or it will be completed by Government plant and hired labor. Excess costs will be charged to the account of the defaulting contractor.

(ii) Computation of charges by contracting officer. If repurchase will not be effected, the contracting officer must compute actual damages (or liquidated damages, when provided for in the contract), and make a written demand upon the contractor for the amount thereof. If repurchase is effected, the contracting officer will compute the excess costs and actual damages (or liquidated damages, when provided for in the contract), and make a written demand upon the contractor for the total amount. All checks, money orders, or funds in any other form received from the contractor will be promptly delivered to the collection clerk of the district or the Headquarters unit for deposit in accordance with established procedure. (See subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph.)

(iii) Limitation on amount chargeable against contractor. A purchase or purchases against the account of a defaulting contractor must not exceed the quantity originally ordered, with consideration given to the "Variation" clause, if any, in the contract, and must be secured if practicable on the same unit basis, such as each, dozen, pound. This does not preclude the Government from entering into one contract with the completing contractor which includes additional needed supplies, provided that the excess costs to be charged against the account of the defaulting contractor are determined as provided in the preceding sentence. In any event, actual damages (or liquidating damages, if provided for in the contract), resulting from delay, may be assessed in addition to excess costs.

8. Part 118 is amended by adding a new § 118.04–31 reading as follows:

§ 118.04–31 Termination for convenience—(a) Scope. This section deals with (1) the authority of contracting officers to terminate in whole or in part contracts for the convenience of the Government, (2) the issuance of termination notices and the contracting officer's duties thereafter, (3) general procedures for the settlement of terminated contracts, and (4) settlement agreements.

(b) Termination clause. A "Termination for the Convenience of the Government" clause must be included in any contract under which the right to terminate for the convenience of the Government is to be reserved. Contracts which do not contain a termination for the convenience of the Government may be amended to include such a clause.

(c) Authority of contracting officer. The authority of the contracting officer to terminate a contract for the convenience of the Government and to enter into a settlement agreement is set forth in the termination clause. Legal opinions and advisory instructions shall be obtained from the Commandant (FS), when required. Requests for such opinions or instructions shall be accompanied by a complete statement of facts surrounding the case, including a copy of the contract and all change orders or supplemental agreements thereto. Termination actions by field contracting officers must be coordinated with the cognizant divisions, sections, and/or offices of the district or the Headquarters unit.

(d) Partial termination. Claims arising out of the partial termination of a contract shall be processed in the same manner as claims arising out of a complete termination.

(e) Notice of termination. Contracts subject to termination for convenience shall be terminated by a written "notice of terminations" to the contractor (via registered mail, return receipt requested), stating (1) that the contract is being terminated for the convenience of the Government under the provisions of the termination for convenience clause thereof, (2) the effective date of termination, (3) the extent of termination and, if a partial termination, the portion of the contract to be continued, and (4) any special instructions. A copy of the notice shall be sent to any known assignee, guarantor, or surety of the contractor.

(f) Duties of contracting officer after notice of termination. In general, the duties of a contracting officer are (1) to take such steps as are required of him by the termination clause in the contract; (2) to direct and supervise the steps required to be taken by the prime contractor; (3) to examine carefully, or cause to be examined carefully, the settlement proposals of the prime contractor and of its subcontractors; (4) to promptly negotiate settlement with the contractor, or failing to negotiate full settlement after due and diligent effort, to properly settle by determination those portions of the claim for which settlement could not be negotiated; (5) to enter into a settlement agreement with the prime contractor in the form of an amendment to the contract; and (6) effect a financial settlement under such amendment or determination.

(g) Settlement agreements. Where a settlement has been agreed upon with respect to the terminated portion of a contract, the agreement shall be evidenced by an amendment to the contract. If no costs have been incurred by the contractor in respect of the terminated portion of the contract, or if the contractor is willing to waive the costs incurred by him, and no amounts are due to the Government under the contract, a no-cost settlement agreement shall be executed with the contractor.

(h) Partial settlements. Ordinarily, the contracting officer should not attempt to make partial settlements covering particular items of the prime contractor's proposal during the course of negotiations. However, when a contracting officer cannot promptly effect a complete settlement of rights and liabilities under the terminated contract, a partial settlement may be entered into, provided (1) the issues on which agreement has been reached are clearly severable from other issues, and (2) such agreement will not prejudice the interests of the Government or the contractor in disposing of the unsettled part of the claim.

(i) Settlement by determination. To the extent that the contractor and the contracting officer are unable to agree upon the settlement of a terminated contract, the contracting officer shall determine the amount due and advise the contractor thereof. If the contractor desires, he may appeal the contracting officer's determination under the "Disputes" clause. (See § 118.04–26.)

(j) Fraud or other criminal conduct. Whenever the contracting officer has reason to suspect fraud or other criminal conduct in connection with the settlement of a terminated contract under this section, he shall discontinue all further negotiations with the contractor and shall report the facts of the case to the Commandant (FS) for action in accordance with § 116.02–47 (e) of this subchapter.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Wage and Hour Division

[29 CFR Part 526]

CITRUS FRUIT INDUSTRY IN FLORIDA

PETITION FOR REVOCATION OF SEASONAL INDUSTRY DETERMINATIONS

In the matter of the petition for revocation of the exemption for citrus fruit operations in Florida under section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division published in the December 24, 1953, issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER (18 F. R. 8705) a notice that a petition had been filed by the Florida Council of Citrus Workers' Unions asking for revocation of the seasonal industry determinations under section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act which apply to the handling, packing, storing, preparing in their raw or natural state, first processing or canning of perishable or seasonal fresh fruits or vegetables (5 F. R. 3167) and to the dehydration of citrus pulp and waste in the States of Florida and Texas (8 F. R. 3811), to the extent that they apply to citrus fruit operations in Florida.

Subsequent to the above notice a public hearing on this petition was held at Tampa, Florida, on May 11, 12, and 13, 1954, before Mr. Harry Weiss, an authorized representative of the Administrator, who was authorized to receive evidence and hear arguments for the purpose of determining—

1. Whether the handling, packing, storing, preparing in their raw or natural state, first processing or canning of citrus fruit in the State of Florida, or any of these operations separately, constitute a branch or branches of an industry separable from the industry performing such operations on perishable or seasonal fresh fruits or vegetables generally;

2. Whether such citrus operations in Florida, if separable from operations on other fresh fruits and vegetables, constitute a branch or branches of an industry separable from citrus operations in other parts of the United States;

3. Whether operations performed on any particular kind of citrus fruit constitute a branch of an industry separable from operations performed on other kinds;

4. Whether the dehydrating of citrus pulp in the State of Florida is separable from the dehydrating operations in Texas;

5. Whether the handling, packing, storing, preparing in their raw or natural state, first processing or canning of citrus fruit, or any particular kind of citrus fruit, or the dehydration of citrus pulp and waste, or any one or more of these operations in the State of Florida, if separable as an industry or as a branch or branches of an industry, are of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act and Part 526, as amended.

Following such hearing, the representative of the Administrator duly made his findings of fact and determined as follows:

1. The handling, packing, storing, preparing in their raw or natural state, first processing and canning of citrus fruit in Florida do not constitute a branch or branches of an industry separable from the industry performing these operations on fresh fruits and vegetables generally.

2. Operations on any particular kind of Florida citrus fruit are not separable as an industry branch from operations performed on other kinds.

3. The evidence is insufficient to justify a reversal of the previous finding that the packing of fruit is separable from canning and first processing.

4. The evidence supports the conclusion that the handling, packing, storing, preparing in their raw or natural state, first processing and canning of citrus fruit in Florida is properly a part of the fresh fruit and vegetable industry that has been determined to be of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3) of the act and Part 526 of the regulations issued thereunder. Accordingly, these operations on Florida citrus fruit remain within the exemption.

5. If considered as constituting branches of the industry separable from the branches performing the operations on fresh fruits and vegetables generally, the packing of fresh citrus fruit in Florida would qualify as seasonal in nature under the act and the regulations, but first processing and canning would not.

6. The dehydration of citrus pulp and waste in Florida may (a) be considered separately from Texas operations at this time, and (b) is not an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3) of the act and the regulations. Accordingly, the determination of March 25, 1943 (8 F. R. 3811), that the dehydration of citrus pulp and waste in Florida and Texas is of a seasonal nature, is revoked insofar as it applies to operations in Florida.

The petition is denied in part and granted in part in accordance with the above findings.

The aforesaid findings and determination were duly filed in the Office of the Administrator on May 25, 1955, at the National Office of the Wage and Hour Division, U. S. Department of Labor Building, Fourteenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington 25, D. C., and are available for examination by all interested parties.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to §§ 526.8 and 526.9 of the regulations that any person aggrieved by the said finding may, within 15 days after the date this notice appears in the FEDERAL REGISTER, either make application to the authorized representative at the National Office of the Wage and Hour Division for reconsideration of his finding, or file a petition with the Office of the Administrator requesting review of the action of the said representative upon the record of the hearing. Such application or petition shall set forth the grounds upon which the application for reconsideration or petition for review is based.

If no application for reconsideration or petition for review is filed within the 15 days, the findings and determination of the authorized representative of the Administrator will become final, and the revocation with respect to the dehydration of the citrus pulp and waste will become effective 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, as provided in § 526.10 of the regulations.

Signed at Washington, D. C. this 6th day of June 1955.

STUART ROTHMAN,
Solicitor of Labor.

1. Pursuant to authority under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1060, as amended, 29 U. S. C., and Sup. 201 et seq.), the Secretary of Labor hereby appoints and convenes Special Industry Committees Nos. 17-A, 17-B, 17-C, 17-D and 17-E for Puerto Rico.

Special Industry Committee No. 17-A, appointed to investigate conditions in and recommend minimum wages for the silk, rayon, and nylon underwear division, and the miscellaneous division, of the needlework and fabricated textile products industry in Puerto Rico, is composed of the following representatives:

For the public: Jaime Benitez, Chairman, Rio Piedras, P. R.; David W. Louisell, Minneapolis, Minn.

For the employees: Miguel Garriga, San Juan, P. R.; Lazare Teper, New York, N. Y.

For the employers: Anthony P. Alfino, Washington, D. C.; Gloria E. Domenech, Mayaguez, P. R.

Special Industry Committee No. 17-B, appointed to investigate conditions in and recommend minimum wages for the alcoholic beverage and industrial alcohol industry in Puerto Rico, is composed of the following representatives:

For the public: Jaime Benitez, Chairman, Rio Piedras, P. R.; David W. Louisell, Minneapolis, Minn.

For the employees: Miguel Garriga, San Juan, P. R.; Paul Jennings, Newark, N. J.

For the employers: Anthony P. Alfino, Washington, D. C.; Jose M. Garcia, San Juan, P. R.

Special Industry Committee No. 17-C, appointed to investigate conditions in and recommend minimum wages for the food and related products industries in Puerto Rico, is composed of the following representatives:

For the public: Jaime Benitez, Chairman, Rio Piedras, P. R.; David W. Louisell, Minneapolis, Minn.

For the employees: Miguel Garriga, San Juan, P. R.; Paul Jennings, Newark, N. J.

For the employers: Anthony P. Alfino, Washington, D. C.; Norman E. Parkhurst, Bayamon, P. R.

Special Industry Committee No. 17-D, appointed to investigate conditions in and recommend minimum wages for the tobacco industry in Puerto Rico, is composed of the following representatives:

For the public: Jaime Benitez, Chairman, Rio Piedras, P. R.; David Louisell, Minneapolis, Minn.

For the employees: Miguel Garriga, San Juan, P. R.; Bert R. Seidman, Washington, D. C.

For the employers: Anthony P. Alfino, Washington, D. C.; Belarmino Suarez, Caguas, P. R.

Special Industry Committee No. 17-E, appointed to investigate conditions in and recommend minimum wages for the telephone division, the radio and television broadcasting division, and the gas utility division of the communications, utilities, and miscellaneous transportation industries in Puerto Rico, is composed of the following representatives:

For the public: Jaime Benitez, Chairman, Rio Piedras, P. R.; David Louisell, Minneapolis, Minn.

For the employees: Miguel Garriga, San Juan, P. R.; Bert R. Seidman, Washington, D. C.

2. Special Industry Committees Nos. 17-A, 17-B, 17-C, 17-D and 17-E are herein created in accordance with the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder (Title 29, Chapter V, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 511). Special Industry Committee No. 17-A shall meet beginning on July 11, 1955 at 10:00 a. m. in Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½, Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce,

Puerto Rico, to investigate conditions in the silk, rayon, and nylon underwear division, and the miscellaneous division, of the needlework and fabricated textile products industry in Puerto Rico. Immediately thereafter, Special Industry Committee No. 17–B will meet to investigate conditions in the alcoholic beverage and industrial alcohol industry in Puerto Rico; immediately thereafter, Special Industry Committee No. 17–C will meet to investigate conditions in the food and related products industries in Puerto Rico; immediately thereafter, Industry Committee No. 17–D will meet to investigate conditions in the tobacco industry in Puerto Rico; and immediately thereafter Special Industry Committee No. 17–E will meet to investigate conditions in the telephone division, the radio and television broadcasting division, and the gas utility division of the communications, utilities, and miscellaneous transportation industries in Puerto Rico. Upon the completion of their investigations, each industry committee shall recommend to the Office of the Administrator a minimum wage rate or rates for employees in the industry in Puerto Rico who, within the meaning of the said act, are "engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce" excepting employees exempt by virtue of the provisions of section 13 (a) and employees coming within the provisions of section 14. Minimum wage rates recommended by each Committee shall be the highest rates (not in excess of 75 cents per hour) which it determines will not substantially curtail employment in such industries and will not give any industry in Puerto Rico a competitive advantage over any industry in the United States outside of Puerto Rico.

3. For the purpose of this order these industries are defined as follows:

The silk, rayon, and nylon underwear division, and the miscellaneous division, of the needlework and fabricated textile products industry.[1] These divisions are defined as follows:

(a) Silk, rayon, and nylon underwear division. The manufacture, from any fabric containing a mixture of cotton and other fibers, of women's, misses', and girls' underwear and nightwear, including, but not by way of limitation, slips, nightgowns, negligees, panties, step-ins, pajamas, and similar articles.

(b) Miscellaneous division. The manufacture of all products included in the needlework and fabricated textile products industry, as defined, which are not included in any of the other divisions of the industry.[2]

In addition to the above defined divisions, the needlework and fabricated textile products industry includes the following divisions, not to be considered by Committee No. 17:

Art linen and needlepoint division.
Blouse, dress, and neckwear division.
Children's and dolls' wear division.
Corde and bonnaz embroidery and corde handbag division.
Cotton underwear and infants' underwear division.
Crochet beading, bullion embroidery, machine embroidered lace, insignia, and chevron division.
Crocheted hats and infants' bootee division.
Crocheted slipper division.
Dungarees, slacks, and related products division.
Fabric glove division.
Handkerchief and square scarf division.
Hat body division.
Infants' wear division.
Knit glove division.
Leather glove division.
Sweater and bathing suit division.

Alcoholic beverage and industrial alcohol industry. The manufacture, including, but without limitation, the distilling, rectifying, blending, or bottling of rum, gin, whiskey, brandy, cordials, liqueurs, wines, ale, beer and similar malt beverages with or without alcohol, and other alcoholic beverages; industrial alcohol, such as ethyl alcohol, butyl alcohol, and acetone; anti-freeze; and any related by-products resulting from the manufacture of any of the foregoing products.

Food and related products industries. The canning, preserving (including freezing, drying, dehydrating, curing, pickling, and similar processes), or other manufacturing or processing, and the packaging in conjunction therewith, of foods, ice, and non-alcoholic beverages, including, but without limitation, meat animals and meat animal products; poultry and poultry products; milk and dairy products; fish and seafood products; fruits or vegetables, and fruit or vegetable products; grains and grain products; bakery products; confectionery and related products; and miscellaneous foods and food products.

The handling, grading, packing, or preparing in their raw or natural state of fresh vegetables, fresh fruits, or nuts, and the gathering of wild plant or animal life.

Provided, however, That the definition shall not include any product or activity included in the sugar manufacturing industry or the chemical, petroleum, and related products industries, as defined in the wage orders for those industries in Puerto Rico, or in the alcoholic beverage and industrial alcohol industry, as defined herein.

Tobacco industry. The processing of leaf tobacco including, but without limitation, the grading, fermenting, stemming, chopping, packing, storing, drying, and handling of tobacco prior to use in the manufacture of cigars or other finished tobacco products; the manufacture of cigarettes, cigars, cheroots, and little cigars, including the stemming of cigar wrappers or binders by a cigar manufacturer; and the manufacture of snuff, chewing tobacco, and smoking tobacco.

The telephone division, the radio and television broadcasting division, and the gas utility division of the communications, utilities, and miscellaneous industries[3]—(a) Telephone division. This division consists of the industry carried on by any telephone system of communication.

(b) Radio and television broadcasting division. This division consists of the industry carried on by any concern engaged in radio or television broadcasting.

(c) Gas utility division. This division consists of the industry carried on by any concern engaged in the production or distribution of gas.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of June 1955.

ARTHUR LARSON,
Acting Secretary of Labor.

[F. R. Doc. 55–4646; Filed, June 9, 1955; 8:52 a. m.]

[1] The needlework and fabricated textiles industry in Puerto Rico is defined as follows: The manufacture from any material of all apparel and apparel furnishings and accessories made by the knitting, crocheting, cutting, sewing, embroidering, or other processes; the manufacture of all textile products and the manufacture of like articles in which a synthetic material in sheet form is the basic component: Provided, however, That the definition shall not cover products or activities included in the following industries in Puerto Rico as defined in the wage orders for such industries: The artificial flower industry, the button, buckle, and jewelry industry, the corsets, brassieres, and allied garments industry, the handicraft products industry, the hosiery industry, the hooked rug industry, the men's and boys' clothing and related products industry, the shoe manufacturing and allied industries, and the textile and textile products industry. This definition includes, but without limitation, handkerchiefs, scarves and mufflers; gloves; women's, misses', girls' and infants' outerwear, underwear, and nightwear; handbags (except handbags made by hand out of raffia, maguey, straw or similar materials); household art linens; needlepoint; embroideries and trimmings; curtains, draperies, and bedspreads; and miscellaneous fabricated textile products.

[2] This division includes, but without limitation, the manufacture of fur coats and other fur garments, accessories and trimmings.

[3] The industry carried on by any wire or radio system of communication or by messenger service; by any concern engaged in the production and distribution of gas, electricity, or steam; the distribution of water or the operation of sanitation facilities; and by any concern engaged in transportation by air, rail, pipeline, motor vehicle, or other means, or in related activities including stevedoring, consolidating, forwarding, crating and boxing: Provided, however, That the definition shall not include any activity included in the definitions of the wage orders applicable in Puerto Rico for the railroad, railway express, and property motor transport industry, the shipping industry, the sugar manufacturing industry, or any other industries in Puerto Rico for which wage orders have been issued.

HANDLING OF MILK IN DUBUQUE, IOWA, MILK MARKETING AREA

SUPPLEMENTAL NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Notice is hereby given that the hearing originally scheduled to be held in Dubuque, Iowa, on April 21, 1955 (20 F. R. 2060), and subsequently postponed to June 16, 1955 (20 F. R. 2733), is hereby further postponed until June 29, 1955, to begin at 10:00 a. m., c. s. t., in the Federal Building, Dubuque, Iowa, and that in addition to the proposed amendments set forth in the original notice of hearing (20 F. R. 2060), evidence will also be received with respect to the additional provisions specified in the proposals listed below or to appropriate modifications thereof.

Additional amendments to the order (No. 12), as amended, were proposed as follows:

Proposed by the Beatrice Foods Company:

17. Section 912.1 (1), "Other source milk", shall be amended to exclude milk received from a handler regulated under another Federal milk marketing order.

18. Section 912.4 (g) shall be amended so as to allocate milk received from a handler regulated under another Federal milk marketing order to the same classification that the other handler accounted for such milk under the other Federal milk marketing order. In other words, the milk should be accounted for in the same class under both orders.

19. Amend §§ 912.3 (a) and 912.4 (a), (b), (d), (e), (f) and (g) and any other section necessary to allow for change of producer milk for other source milk which is used for Class I sales in the marketing area for the exchange of producer milk for other source milk.

Copies of this supplemental notice of hearing may be procured from the Market Administrator, 307 Federal Building, P. O. Box 756, Dubuque, Iowa, or from the Hearing Clerk, Room 112, Administration Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Dated: June 7, 1955.

DRUGS EXEMPTED FROM PRESCRIPTION-DISPENSING REQUIREMENTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

1. Notice is given that the Commissioner of Food and Drugs, in accordance with the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 503 (b) (3), 701 (a); 65 Stat. 649, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U. S. C. 353 (b) (3), 371 (a)) and the authority delegated to him by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by 21 CFR 1.108 (c) (19 F. R. 7347) hereby offers an opportunity to all interested persons to submit their views in writing to the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D. C., within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, on the proposed regulation set forth below exempting certain drugs from prescription-dispensing requirements and transferring them to over-the-counter sale:

§ 130.1 Exemption for certain drugs limited by new-drug applications to prescription sale. (a) The prescription-dispensing requirements of section 503 (b) (1) (C) of the act are not necessary for the protection of the public health with respect to the following drugs subject to new-drug applications:

(3) Isoamylhydrocupreine and zolamine hydrochloride (N, N-dimethyl-N'-2-thiazolyl-N'-ρ-methoxybenzyl-ethylenediamine hydrochloride) preparations meeting all the following conditions:

(i) The isoamylhydrocupreine and zolamine hydrochloride are prepared in dosage form suitable for self-medication as rectal suppositories or as an ointment and containing no drug limited to prescription sale under the provisions of section 503 (b) (1) of the act.

(ii) The isoamylhydrocupreine, zolamine hydrochloride, and all other components of the preparation meet their professed standards of identity, strength, quality, and purity.

(iii) If the preparation is a new drug, an application pursuant to section 505 (b) of the act is effective for it.

(iv) The preparation contains not more than 0.25 percent of isoamylhydrocupreine and 1.0 percent of zolamine hydrochloride.

(v) If the preparation is in suppository form, it contains not more than 5.0 milligrams of isoamylhydrocupreine and not more than 20.0 milligrams of zolamine hydrochloride per suppository.

(vi) The preparation is labeled with adequate directions for use in the temporary relief of local pain and itching associated with hemorrhoids.

(vii) The directions provide for the use of not more than two suppositories or two applications of ointment in a 24-hour period.

(viii) The labeling bears, in juxtaposition with the dosage recommendations, a clear warning statement against use of the preparation without medical supervision in case of rectal bleeding, as this may indicate serious disease.

2. Coincident with the promulgation of the proposed regulation set forth above, the regulations contained in paragraph (f) of § 1.108 of this chapter will be transferred to Part 130—Drugs Exempted From Prescription-Dispensing Requirements of Section 503 (b) (1) (C) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. No change in the text of the regulations is contemplated, but they will be renumbered as follows:

a. Paragraph (f) will be redesignated as § 130.1 and the paragraph heading becomes the section heading. The context of the introduction to paragraph (f) will be designated as paragraph (a). The numbering of subparagraphs (1) and (2) will remain the same.

b. A notation will be made at the beginning of § 1.108 that the material originally issued as § 1.108 (f) has been transferred to Part 130.

Part 130 of Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulations will carry a notation that the general regulations covering exemptions from prescription requirements will be found in 21 CFR 1.108.

Dated: June 3, 1955.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. E–6629]

CALIFORNIA ELECTRIC POWER CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

JUNE 3, 1955.

Take notice that on June 2, 1955, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission, pursuant to section 204 of the Federal Power Act, by California Electric Power Company (Applicant), a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware and doing business in the States of California and Nevada, with its principal business office at Riverside, California, seeking an order authorizing the issuance to the City of Riverside, California, of fifteen promissory notes in the aggregate principal amount of $7,300,000, bearing interest at the rate of 4 percent per annum, to mature on demand, but not later than five years from date of issue; and the issuance of promissory notes to the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association in an amount not to exceed $8,000,000 bearing interest at rates not less than 3¼ percent nor more than 3¾ percent per annum to be issued on various dates and to mature within twelve months of date of issue. Applicant has offered to purchase from the City of Riverside, a municipal electric distribution system, owned and operated by said City, and proposes to issue to said City in payment of the "base purchase price" its promissory notes mentioned above. It is expected that the electors of the City, voting at a special election to be called prior to August 31, 1955, will either accept or reject Applicant's offer. The notes which Applicant proposes to issue to the Bank will be for monies borrowed for the primary purpose of providing funds to discharge upon demand the notes issued to the City of Riverside. The original depreciated cost as of December 31, 1954, of the properties to be acquired from the City of Riverside is stated in the application to be $5,116,416. The application also states the fair value of these properties is $7,300,000; all as more fully appears in the application on file with the Commission.

Any person desiring to be heard, or to make any protest with reference to said application should, on or before the 24th day of June 1955, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

[Docket Nos. G–3894, G–8668, G–8880]

ATLANTIC REFINING CO. AND WESTERN NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

JUNE 3, 1955.

Take notice that The Atlantic Refining Company (Atlantic) and Western Natural Gas Company (Western), both independent producers, the former a Pennsylvania corporation with its principal place of business with respect to natural-gas operations in Dallas, Texas, and the latter a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in Houston, Texas, filed applications for certificates of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the related acts or operations hereinafter described. Atlantic's application in Docket No. G–3894 was filed October 1, 1954, its application in Docket No. G–8668 was filed March 25, 1955, and Western's application in Docket No. G–8880 was filed May 10, 1955.

Atlantic's application in Docket No. G–3894 requests authorization, among other things, to sell natural gas produced from 3 wells located on acreage in the Jennie Bell Field, DeWitt County, Texas, to Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation (Texas Eastern) at an initial base price of 10.2 cents per Mcf under the terms of two, separate 20-year contracts. In Docket No. G–8668 Atlantic proposes to sell all the gas produced by the 3 wells under one of the two contracts dated November 25, 1953, thereby cancelling deliveries from 2 of the wells made under a supplement to the older contract dated February 26, 1954. All material terms and conditions will remain the same and the contract volume is 1,500 Mcf a day.

Western's application recites that subsequent to June 7, 1954, it exercised an option to acquire a 50 percent interest in the above-mentioned 3 wells, requests the necessary certificate authorization, and otherwise requests authorization paralleling that requested by Atlantic with which it is a contracting party for the sale to Texas Eastern.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice, that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on June 24, 1955, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented in the applications as set forth above: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a noncontested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 21st day of June 1955. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

E. B. MCMURTRY

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

JUNE 6, 1955.

Take notice that E. B. McMurtry (Applicant), an individual whose address is Box 1936, Wichita, Kansas, filed on April 28, 1955, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing Applicant to render service as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant proposes to sell natural gas produced from the Greenwood Field, Morton County, Kansas to Colorado Interstate Gas Company, at 12 cents per Mcf, for transportation in interstate commerce for resale.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on June 30, 1955, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. ALGONQUIN GAS TRANSMISSION CO. AND TENNESSEE GAS TRANSMISSION CO.

JUNE 6, 1955.

Take notice that on May 9, 1955, Algonquin Gas Transmission Company (Algonquin), a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business at 25 Faneuil Hall Square, Boston, Massachusetts, and Tennessee Gas Transmission Company (Tennessee), a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business in the Commerce Building, Houston, Texas, filed a joint application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the exchange of natural gas between them and the construction and operation of facilities required to effect the exchange.

Tennessee proposes to establish a new delivery point on its 16-inch transmission pipeline with Hartford Gas Company (Hartford) for delivery of the natural gas for the account of Algonquin. Concurrently, Algonquin would return equivalent volumes of gas to Tennessee at established interconnections of their facilities at Southington, Connecticut, or at Ashland, Massachusetts, or another mutually acceptable point. The proposed exchange would not increase the maximum daily quantity of natural gas which Algonquin is now obligated to make available to Hartford under previous Commission authorization. Maximum deliveries by Tennessee to Hartford for the account of Algonquin are estimated at 204 Mcf per hour (at 14.73 psia).

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before June 27, 1955. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

A. W. GREGG

ORDER SUSPENDING PROPOSED CHANGES IN RATES

A. W. Gregg (Applicant), on May 4, 1955, tendered for filing proposed changes in presently effective rate schedules for sales subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed changes, which constitute increased rates and charges, are contained in the following designated filings which are proposed to become effective on the dates shown:

Description	Purchaser	Rate schedule designation	Effective date [1]
Notice of change, dated May 3, 1955.	Trunkline Gas Co.	Supplement No. 1 to applicant's FPC gas rate schedule No. 1.	June 4, 1955
Contract, dated Mar. 22, 1955.	do	Supplement No. 1 to supplement No. 1 to applicant's FPC gas rate schedule No. 1.	Do.

[1] The stated effective date is the first day after expiration of the required 30 days' notice, or the effective date proposed by applicant if later.

Supplement No. 1 to Applicant's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 includes a general increase in the rates for gas sold in addition to increases proposed for reimbursement of the Texas gas production tax and a periodic increase in rates for gas sold.

The increased rates and charges proposed in the aforesaid filings have not been shown to be justified, and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the said proposed changes, and that the above-designated Supplement No. 1 to Applicant's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 insofar only as this designated supplement pertains to a general increase in rates for gas sold, as distinct from the tax and periodic increases in rates for gas sold, and that Supplement No. 1 to Supplement No. 1 to Applicant's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 be suspended as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority contained in sections 4 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's general rules and regulations (18 CFR Chapter I), a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by notice from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of said proposed changes in rates and charges; and, pending such hearing and decision thereon, the above-designated Supplement No. 1 to Applicant's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 insofar only as this designated supplement pertains to a general increase in rates for gas sold, as distinct from the proposed tax and periodic increases in rates for gas sold, and the above-designated Supplement No. 1 to Supplement No. 1 to Applicant's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 be and the same hereby are suspended and the use thereof deferred until August 4, 1955, and until such further time as they are made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(B) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)).

Adopted: June 3, 1955.

Issued: June 3, 1955.

[Rev. S. O. 562, Taylor's I. C. C. Order 51]

ST. LOUIS-SAN FRANCISCO RAILWAY CO.

REROUTING OR DIVERSION OF TRAFFIC

In the opinion of Charles W. Taylor, Agent, the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company, due to bridge out of service between Vernon, Texas, and Snyder, Oklahoma, is unable to transport traffic routed over its line between these points.

It is ordered, That:

(a) Rerouting traffic. The St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company is hereby authorized to reroute or divert traffic moving over its line between Vernon, Texas, and Snyder, Oklahoma, due to bridge out of service, over any available route to expedite the movement.

(b) Concurrence of receiving roads to be obtained. The railroad desiring to divert or reroute traffic under this order shall confer with the proper transportation officer of the railroad or railroads to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, and shall receive the concurrence of such other railroads before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers. Each carrier rerouting cars in accordance with this order shall notify each shipper at the time each car is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided under this order.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic by said Agent is deemed to be due to carrier's disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said Agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipment on the shipments as originally routed.

(e) In executing the directions of the Commission and of such Agent provided for in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements, or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to such traffic; divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, those voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be those hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(f) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., June 4, 1955.

(g) Expiration date. This order shall expire at 11:59 p. m., June 25, 1955, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled.

It is further ordered, That this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., June 4, 1955.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

FREDERICK W. BERENS SALES, INC.

ORDER FOR PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of June 1955.

In the matter of Frederick W. Berens Sales, Inc., 1520 K Street NW., Washington 5, D. C.

I. The Commission's public official files disclose that Frederick W. Berens Sales, Inc., a Delaware corporation, hereinafter referred to as registrant, is registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

II. The Records Officer of the Commission has filed with the Commission a statement, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof,[1] stating that registrant did not file with the Commission reports of his financial condition during the calendar years 1953 and 1954, as required by section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted thereunder.

III. The information reported to the Commission by its Records Officer as set forth in Paragraph II hereof tends, if true, to show that registrant violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted under said section.

IV. The Commission, having considered the aforesaid information, deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors that proceedings be instituted to determine:

(a) Whether the statement referred to in Paragraph II hereof is true;

(b) Whether registrant has wilfully violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted under said section;

(c) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, it is in the public interest to revoke registration of registrant; and

(d) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pending final determination, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to suspend the registration of registrant.

V. It is ordered, That registrant be given an opportunity for hearing as set forth in Paragraph IV hereof on the 7th day of July 1955, at the main office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, located at 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., before a Hearing Examiner to be designated by the Commission. On such date the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 193, North Building, will advise the parties and the Hearing Examiner as to the room in which such hearing will be held. The Commission will consider any motion with respect to a change of place of said hearing if said motion is filed with the Secretary of the Commission on or before June 23, 1955. Upon completion of any such hearing in this matter the Hearing Examiner shall prepare a recommended decision pursuant to Rule IX of the rules of practice unless such decision is waived.

It is further ordered, That in the event registrant does not appear personally or through a representative at the time and place herein set or as otherwise ordered, the Hearing Room Clerk shall file with the Records Officer of the Commission a written statement to that effect and thereupon the Commission will take the record under advisement for decision.

This order and notice shall be served on registrant personally or by registered mail forthwith, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than fifteen (15) days prior to July 7, 1955.

In the absence of an appropriate waiver, no officer or employee of the Commission engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions in this or any factually related proceeding will be permitted to participate or advise in the decision upon the matter except as witness or counsel in proceedings held pursuant to notice. Since this proceeding is not "rule making" within the meaning of section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, it is not deemed to be subject to the provisions of the section delaying the effective date of any final Commission action.

By the Commission.

NELSON AND COMBS, INC.

ORDER FOR PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of Nelson and Combs, Inc., 1326 U Street NW., Washington, D. C.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of June 1955.

I. The Commission's official files disclose that Nelson and Combs, Inc., a Delaware corporation, hereinafter referred to as registrant, is registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

II. The Records Officer of the Commission has filed with the Commission a statement, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof,[1] stating that registrant did not file with the Commission reports of his financial condition during the calendar year 1954, as required by section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted thereunder.

III. The information reported to the Commission by its Records Officer as set forth in Paragraph II hereof tends, if true, to show that registrant violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted under said section.

IV. The Commission, having considered the aforesaid information, deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors that proceedings be instituted to determine:

(a) Whether the statement referred to in Paragraph II hereof is true;

(b) Whether registrant has wilfully violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted under said section;

(c) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, it is in the public interest to revoke registration of registrant; and

(d) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pending final determination, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to suspend the registration of registrant.

V. It is ordered, That registrant be given an opportunity for hearing as set forth in Paragraph IV hereof on the 8th day of July 1955, at the main office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, located at 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., before a Hearing Examiner to be designated by the Commission. On such date the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 193, North Building, will advise the parties and the Hearing Examiner as to the room in which such hearing will be held. The Commission will consider any motion with respect to a change of place of said hearing if said motion is filed with the Secretary of the Commission on or before June 24, 1955. Upon completion of any such hearing in this matter the Hearing Examiner shall prepare a recommended decision pursuant to Rule IX of the rules of practice unless such decision is waived.

It is further ordered, That in the event registrant does not appear personally or through a representative at the time and place herein set or as otherwise ordered, the Hearing Room Clerk shall file with the Records Officer of the Commission a written statement to that effect and thereupon the Commission will take the record under advisement for decision.

INVESTMENT TRUST LECTURE BUREAU

ORDER FOR PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of June 1955.

In the matter of Robert B. Edwards, doing business as Investment Trust Lecture Bureau, 730 Fourteenth Street NW., Washington 5, D. C.

I. The Commission's public official files disclose that Robert B. Edwards, doing business as Investment Trust Lecture Bureau, a sole proprietor, hereinafter referred to as registrant, is registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

II. The Records Officer of the Commission has filed with the Commission a statement, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof,[1] stating that registrant did not file with the Commission reports of his financial condition during the calendar years 1953 and 1954, as required by section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted thereunder.

III. The information reported to the Commission by its Records Officer as set forth in Paragraph II hereof tends, if true, to show that registrant violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted under said section.

IV. The Commission, having considered the aforesaid information, deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors that proceedings be instituted to determine:

(a) Whether the statement referred to in Paragraph II hereof is true;

(b) Whether registrant has willfully violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A–5 adopted under said section;

(c) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, it is in the public interest to revoke registration of registrant; and

(d) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pending final determination, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to suspend the registration of registrant.

V. It is ordered, That registrant be given an opportunity for hearing as set forth in Paragraph IV hereof on the 8th day of July 1955, at the main office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, located at 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., before a Hearing Examiner to be designated by the Commission. On such date the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 193, North Building, will advise the parties and the Hearing Examiner as to the room in which such hearing will be held. The Commission will consider any motion with respect to a change of place of said hearing if said motion is filed with the Secretary of the Commission on or before June 24, 1955. Upon completion of any such hearing in this matter the Hearing Examiner shall prepare a recommended decision pursuant to Rule IX of the Rules of Practice unless such decision is waived.

It is further ordered, That in the event registrant does not appear personally or through a representative at the time and place herein set or as otherwise ordered, the Hearing Room Clerk shall file with the Records Officer of the Commission a written statement to that effect and thereupon the Commission will take the record under advisement for decision.

This order and notice shall be served on registrant personally or by registered mail forthwith, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than fifteen (15) days prior to July 8, 1955.

In the absence of an appropriate waiver, no officer or employee of the Commission engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions in this or any factually related proceeding will be permitted to participate or advise in the decision upon the matter except as witness or counsel in proceedings held pursuant to notice. Since this proceeding is not "rule making" within the meaning of section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, it is not deemed to be subject to the provisions of the section delaying the effective date of any final Commission action.

421.259 Storage and track-loading payments.
421.260 Maturity and satisfaction.
421.261 Support rates.
421.262 CSS commodity offices.

AUTHORITY: §§ 421.251 to 421.262 issued under sec. 4, 62 Stat. 1070, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 714b. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 62 Stat. 1072, secs. 101, 401, 63 Stat. 1051; 15 U. S. C. 714c, 7 U. S. C. 1421, 1441.

§ 421.251 Applicable sections of 1953 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, and Supplements 1, 2, and 3, Corn. The following sections of the 1953 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, as amended, and Supplements 1, 2, and 3, Corn, as amended, published in 18 F. R. 1960, 3705, 5359, 6983, 19 F. R. 1149, 1595, 2712, 5591, 6809, and 20 F. R. 3584, shall be applicable to the 1953 Corn Extended Reseal Loan Program: § 421.1 Administration; § 421.5 Approved lending agencies; § 421.8 Liens; § 421.10 Set-offs; § 421.70 Interest rate; § 421.13 Safeguarding the commodity; § 421.14 Insurance on farm-storage loans; § 421.15 Loss or damage to the commodity; § 421.16 Personal liability of the producer; § 421.17 Release of the commodity under loan; § 421.19 Foreclosure; § 421.20 Purchase of notes; § 421.55 Determination of quantity; § 421.56 Determination of quality; § 421.64 Eligible producer. Other sections of 1953 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, as amended, and Supplements 1, 2, and 3, Corn, as amended, shall be applicable to the extent indicated in this subpart.

§ 421.252 Availability—(a) Area and scope. The extended reseal program will be available in all counties where 1953-crop corn is under reseal loan except in designated angoumois moth areas: Provided, however, That the program will be available only where ASC State committees determine that there may be a shortage of storage space and that the corn can be safely stored on the farm for the period of the extended reseal loan. This program provides, under certain circumstances, for the extension of 1953-crop corn farm-storage reseal loans. Neither warehouse-storage loans nor purchase agreements will be available to producers under this program.

(b) Time and source. The producer who has a reseal loan and who desires to extend such loan must make application to the county committee which approved his reseal loan before the final date for delivery specified in the delivery instructions issued to him by the county committee.

§ 421.253 Eligible corn—(a) Requirements of eligibility. The corn (1) must be in farm storage presently under a reseal loan; (2) must meet the requirements set forth in § 421.53 (a), (b), (c) and (e) of 1953 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supplement 1, Corn; and (3) must grade No. 3 or better, or No. 4 on the factor of test weight only, but otherwise No. 3 or better, and must contain not in excess of 15.5 percent moisture in the case of ear corn nor in excess of 13.5 percent moisture in the case of shelled corn.

(b) Inspection. If a producer makes application to extend his reseal loan, the commodity loan inspector shall, with the producer, reinspect the corn and the farm-storage structure in which the corn is stored. If recommended by either the commodity loan inspector or the producer, a sample of the corn shall be taken and submitted for grade analysis.

§ 421.254 Approved storage. Corn covered by any extended reseal loans must be stored in structures which meet the requirements for farm-storage loans as provided in § 421.6 (a). Consent for storage for any loans extended must be obtained by the producer for the period ending September 30, 1956, if the structure is owned or controlled by someone other than the producer, or if the lease expires prior to September 30, 1956.

§ 421.255 Approved forms. (a) The approved forms, which together with the provisions of this subpart govern the rights and responsibilities of the producer, shall consist of a Producer's Note and Supplemental Loan Agreement, Commodity Loan Form A, secured by a Commodity Chattel Mortgage on Commodity Loan Form AA, and such other forms and documents as may be prescribed by CCC. Notes and chattel mortgages must have State and documentary revenue stamps affixed thereto where required by law. Loan documents executed by an administrator, executor or trustee will be acceptable only where legally valid.

(b) Where required by State law, a new producer's note and chattel mortgage shall be completed when a reseal loan is extended.

§ 421.256 Quantity eligible for extended reseal. The quantity of corn eligible for an extended reseal loan will be the quantity shown on the original note and chattel mortgage, less any quantity delivered or redeemed.

§ 421.257 Service charges. When a reseal loan is extended, the producer will not be required to pay an additional service charge.

§ 421.258 Transfer of producer's equity. The producer shall not transfer either his remaining interest in or his right to redeem the corn mortgaged as security for an extended reseal loan under this program. A producer who wishes to liquidate all or part of his loan by contracting for the sale of the corn must obtain written prior approval of the county committee on Commodity Loan Form 12 to remove the corn from storage when the proceeds of the sale are needed to repay all or any part of the loan. Any such approval shall be subject to the terms and conditions set out in Commodity Loan Form 12, copies of which may be obtained by producers or prospective purchasers at the office of the county committee.

§ 421.259 Storage and track-loading payments—(a) Storage payment for 1954–55 storage period. (1) A producer who extends his farm-storage reseal loan will at the time of extension of the reseal loan receive a payment for earned storage during the reseal loan period. This payment will be computed at the rate of 15 cents per bushel on the quantity of corn held in farm storage for the full reseal period, ending July 31, 1955. The reseal storage payment will be disbursed to the producer by the ASC county committee.

(2) Upon delivery of the 1953-crop corn to CCC, the actual quantity of corn held in farm storage under the extended reseal loan program will be determined by weighing. The storage payment previously made to the producer at the time the reseal loan was extended, covering the 1954–55 storage period, will then be recomputed on the basis of the actual quantity determined to have been covered by the extended reseal loan. Any amount due the producer for such storage on the quantity delivered in excess of the quantity stated in the extended reseal loan documents will be regarded as an additional credit in effecting settlement with the producer. The amount of any overpayment which is determined to have been made to the producer at the time the reseal loan was extended shall be collected from the producer.

(b) Storage payment for 1955–56 storage period. A storage payment for the 1955–56 extended reseal storage period will be made as follows:

(1) Storage payment for full reseal period. A storage payment computed at the rate of 15 cents per bushel will be made to the producer on the quantity involved if he (i) redeems corn from the loan on or after July 31, 1956, (ii) delivers corn to CCC on or after July 31, 1956, or (iii) delivers corn to CCC prior to July 31, 1956, pursuant to demand by CCC for repayment of the loan solely for the convenience of CCC, if the corn was not damaged or otherwise impaired due to negligence on the part of the producer.

(2) Prorated storage payment. A prorated storage payment computed at the rate of 0.00049 per bushel a day, but not to exceed 15 cents per bushel, according to the length of time the quantity of corn was in store after September 30, 1955, will be made to the producer (i) in the case of loss assumed by CCC under the provisions of the loan program, (ii) in the case of corn redeemed from the loan prior to July 31, 1956, and (iii) in the case of corn delivered to CCC prior to July 31, 1956, pursuant to its demand and not solely for the convenience of CCC, or upon request of the producer and with the approval of CCC: Provided, however, That no storage payment will be made with respect to corn so delivered which is damaged or otherwise impaired due to negligence on the part of the producer. In the case of losses assumed by CCC, the period for computing the storage payment shall end on the date of the loss; and in the case of redemptions, on the date of repayment.

(3) In no case will any storage payment be made where the producer has made any false representation in the loan documents or in obtaining the loan, or where the commodity has been abandoned, or where there has been conversion on the part of the producer.

(c) Track-loading payment. A track-loading payment of 3 cents per bushel will be made to the producer on corn delivered to CCC, in accordance with instructions of the county committee, on track at a country point.

§ 421.260 Maturity and satisfaction. Extended reseal loans will mature on demand but not later than July 31, 1956. The producer must pay off his loan, plus interest, on or before maturity or deliver the mortgaged corn in accordance with the instructions of the county committee. If the producer desires to deliver the corn he should, prior to maturity, give the county committee notice in writing of his intention to do so. The producer may, however, pay off his loan and redeem his corn at any time prior to delivery of the corn to CCC or removal of the corn by CCC. Credit will be given at the applicable settlement value according to grade and/or quality for the total quantity eligible for delivery. Delivery of corn will be accepted only from bin(s) in which the corn under extended reseal loan is stored. The provisions of § 421.18 (a), (c), (e) and (f) and of § 421.60 (a) shall be applicable thereto.

§ 421.261 Support rates. (a) The support rate for an extended reseal loan shall remain the same as for the original loan.

(b) Any discounts or premiums established for variation in classification and quality as shown in § 421.58 (b), shall be applicable in determining the settlement value.

§ 421.262 CSS commodity offices. The CSS commodity offices and the areas served by them are shown below:

[1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supp. 1, Corn]

PART 421—GRAINS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

SUBPART—1955 CROP CORN LOAN AND PURCHASE AGREEMENT PROGRAM

A price support program has been announced for the 1955 crop of corn. The 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1 (20 F. R. 3017), issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and containing the regulations of a general nature with respect to price support operations for grains and other commodities produced in 1955, is supplemented as follows:

Sec.
421.1136 Purpose.
421.1137 Availability of price support.
421.1138 Eligible corn.
421.1139 Warehouse receipts.
421.1140 Determination of quantity.
421.1141 Determination of quality.
421.1142 Maturity of loans and delivery.
421.1143 Determination of support rates.
421.1144 Warehouse charges.
421.1145 Settlement.

AUTHORITY: §§ 421.1136 to 421.1145 issued under sec. 4, 62 Stat. 1070, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 714b. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 62 Stat. 1072, secs. 101, 401, 63 Stat. 1051, 1054; 15 U. S. C. 714c, 7 U. S. C. 1441, 1421.

§ 421.1136 Purpose. Sections 421.1136 to 421.1145 state additional specific requirements which, together with the general regulations contained in the 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1 (§§ 421.1001 to 421.1021), apply to loans and purchase agreements under the 1955-Crop Corn Price Support Program.

§ 421.1137 Availability of price support—(a) Method of support. Price support will be made available through farm-storage and warehouse-storage loans and through purchase agreements.

(b) Area. Farm-storage and warehouse-storage loans and purchase agreements will be available wherever corn is grown in the continental United States, except that farm-storage loans will not be available in areas where the State committee determines that corn cannot be safely stored on the farm.

(c) Where to apply. Application for price support should be made at the office of the county committee which keeps the farm-program records for the farm.

(d) When to apply. Loans and purchase agreements will be available from the time of harvest through May 31, 1956: Provided, That in areas where it is determined by the State committee that producers may not be, or are not, in a position to store corn safely for the full storage period because of infestation by angoumois moths or other insects, adverse climatic conditions, or other factors affecting the safe storage of corn, the final date of availability for loans and purchase agreements shall be such earlier date as may be determined by the State committee. The State committee shall notify producers in the area through public announcement sufficiently in advance of such date in order to allow producers a reasonable period of time in which to place their corn under loans or purchase agreements. The applicable documents must be signed by the producer and delivered to the county committee not later than the final date of availability for loans and purchase agreements in the area. Applicable documents include the Producer's Note and Loan Agreement for warehouse-storage loans, the Producer's Note and Supplemental Loan Agreement and the Commodity Chattel Mortgage for farm-storage loans, and the Purchase Agreement for purchase agreements.

(e) Eligible producer. An eligible producer shall be an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate, trust, or other business enterprise, or legal entity, and wherever applicable, a State, political subdivision of a State, or any agency thereof producing corn in 1955 as a landowner, landlord, tenant, or sharecropper: Provided, That a producer shall not be an eligible producer unless he is in compliance with the regulations pertaining to corn acreage allotments for the 1955 crops as determined in accordance with 1955 C. C. C. Corn Bulletin A, and any amendments thereto.

§ 421.1138 Eligible corn. In addition to meeting the eligibility requirements of 1955 C. C. C. Corn Bulletin A, the corn, when placed under loan or delivered under a purchase agreement, must meet the following requirements:

(a) The corn must be of the classes Yellow Corn (Class I), White Corn (Class II), or Mixed Corn (Class III) and must have been produced in the continental United States in 1955 by an eligible producer.

(b) The corn must be ear or shelled corn: Provided, That ear corn must be shelled before delivery is made in liquidation of a loan or under a purchase agreement. If the corn is not shelled prior to delivery, the cost of shelling on or after delivery shall be for the account of the producer.

(c) (1) The beneficial interest in the corn must be in the person tendering the corn for loan or for delivery under a purchase agreement, and must always have been in him, or must have been in him and a former producer whom he succeeded before the corn was harvested.

(2) To meet the requirements of succession to a former producer, the rights responsibilities and interest of the former producer with respect to the farming unit on which the corn was produced shall have been substantially assumed by the person claiming succession. Mere purchase of the crop prior to harvest, without acquisition of any additional interest in the farming unit, shall not constitute succession. The county committee shall determine whether the requirements with respect to succession have been met.

(d) Corn placed under loan must, except for moisture content, grade No. 3 or better, or No. 4 on the factor of test weight only, but otherwise No. 3 or better, and must meet the following requirements: For ear corn placed under a farm-storage loan, the moisture content must not exceed 20.5 percent if the corn is tested for loan from time of harvest through February, 1956; 19.0 percent if tested for loan during March, 1956; 17.5 percent if tested for loan during April, 1956; and 15.5 percent if tested for loan during May, 1956. For corn placed under a warehouse-storage loan, and for shelled corn placed under a farm-storage loan, the moisture content must not exceed 13.5 percent irrespective of when the corn is tested for loan.

(e) Corn placed under loan must not grade "weevily."

(f) Corn delivered under a purchase agreement must grade No. 3 or better, or No. 4 on the factor of test weight only but otherwise No. 3 or better. Corn delivered from farm storage under a purchase agreement must not contain in excess of 17.5 percent moisture. Corn placed in warehouse storage prior to issuance of delivery instructions and represented by warehouse receipts tendered to CCC under a purchase agreement must not contain in excess of 13.5 percent moisture and must not grade "weevily."

§ 421.1139 Warehouse receipts. Warehouse receipts, representing corn in approved warehouse storage to be placed under loan or delivered under a purchase agreement, must meet the requirements of this section:

(a) Warehouse receipts must be issued in the name of the producer, must be properly endorsed in blank so as to vest title in the holder, and must be receipts issued by a warehouse approved by CCC under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement which indicate that the corn is insured, or must be receipts issued on warehouses operated by Eastern common carriers under tariffs approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission for which custodian agreements are in effect.

(b) Each warehouse receipt, or the warehouseman's supplemental certificate (in duplicate), properly identified with the warehouse receipt, must show: (1) Gross weight or bushels, (2) class, (3) grade, (4) test weight, (5) moisture, and (6) any other grading factor(s), when such factor(s), and not test weight or moisture, determine the grade. In areas where licensed inspectors are not available at terminal and subterminal warehouses, CCC will accept inspection certificates based on representative samples which have been forwarded to and graded by a licensed grain inspector.

(c) In the case of warehouse receipts issued for corn delivered by rail or barge, CCC will accept inbound weight and inspection certificates properly identified with the corn covered thereby in lieu of the information required by paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) A separate warehouse receipt must be submitted for each grade and class of corn.

(e) The warehouse receipt may be subject to liens for warehouse charges only to the extent indicated in § 421.1144.

§ 421.1140 Determination of quantity. (a) The quantity of corn placed under farm-storage loan may be determined either by weight or by measurement. The quantity of corn placed under a warehouse-storage loan or delivered under a farm-storage loan or under a purchase agreement shall be determined by weight.

(b) When determined by measurement, a bushel of ear corn shall be 2.5 cubic feet of ear corn testing not more than 15.5 percent in moisture content. An adjustment in the number of bushels of ear corn will be made for moisture content in excess of 15.5 percent in accordance with the following schedule:

Moisture content (percent):	Adjustment factor (percent)
15.6 to 16.5, both inclusive	98
16.6 to 17.5, both inclusive	96
17.6 to 18.5, both inclusive	94
18.6 to 19.5, both inclusive	92
19.6 to 20.5, both inclusive	90
Above 20.5	No loan

(c) A bushel of shelled corn, when determined by measurement, shall be 1.25 cubic feet of shelled corn testing not more than 13.5 percent in moisture content.

(d) In determining the quantity of sacked corn by weight, a deduction of ¾ of a pound for each sack will be made.

(e) Since dockage is not a grade factor in the case of corn, the quantity of corn will be determined without reference to dockage.

§ 421.1141 Determination of quality. The class, grade, grading factors, and all other quality factors shall be determined in accordance with the method set forth in the Official Grain Standards of the United States for Corn, whether or not such determinations are made on the basis of an official inspection.

§ 421.1142 Maturity of loans and delivery. (a) Loans mature on demand but not later than July 31, 1956.

(b) Corn may be delivered under purchase agreement and in satisfaction of farm-storage loans after maturity in accordance with § 421.1018, 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1.

(c) In areas where it is determined by the State committee that some producers may not be in a position to store corn safely for the full storage period (for reasons set forth in § 421.1137 (d)), the State committee may establish an earlier delivery period prior to maturity (in addition to the regular delivery period) during which producers may voluntarily deliver corn in farm storage under loans and purchase agreements. Such earlier delivery period, if established, shall begin at least 30 days after the final date of availability established by the State committee, and not before April 1, 1956. CCC will accept deliveries of corn during such early delivery period, provided the producer notifies the county committee of his intention to deliver at least 10 days prior to the first day of the delivery period.

(d) If the State committee determines that producers in any area are not in a position to safely store corn for the full storage period (for reasons set forth in § 421.1137 (d)), all farm-storage loans in such area shall be called promptly by the State committee, and producers who elect to make deliveries from farm storage under purchase agreements shall be required to do so during the delivery period for loans. Such earlier delivery period, if established, shall begin at least 30 days after the final date of availability of loans and purchase agreements established by the State committee, and not before April 1, 1956.

(e) Corn under farm-storage loan may be delivered before maturity, upon prior approval of the county committee, for any of the reasons stated in § 421.1018 (a) (1) of the 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, or if the corn is threatened with damage by flood or other conditions which are beyond the control of the producer.

§ 421.1143 Determination of support rates. Basic county support rates, and the schedule of premiums and discounts, for corn will be set forth in 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supplement 2, Corn. Both warehouse-storage and farm-storage loans will be made on the basis of the rate established for the county in which the corn is produced.

§ 421.1144 Warehouse charges. (a) Warehouse receipts and the corn represented thereby stored in approved warehouses operating under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement may be subject to liens for warehouse handling and storage charges at not to exceed the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement rates from the date the corn is deposited in the warehouse for storage.

(b) Where the date of deposit (the date of the warehouse receipt if the date of deposit is not shown) on warehouse receipts representing corn stored in warehouses operating under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement is on or before July 31, 1956, there shall be deducted in computing the amount of the loan or purchase price the storage charges per bushel as shown in the following table unless written evidence has been submitted with the warehouse receipt that all warehouse charges, except receiving and loading out charges, have been prepaid through the maturity date, July 31, 1956.

Date of deposit (all dates inclusive):	Amount of deduction (cents per bushel)
Prior to Aug. 27, 1955	15
Aug. 27 to Sept. 25	14
Sept. 26 to Oct. 25	13
Oct. 26 to Nov. 24	12
Nov. 25 to Dec. 24	11
Dec. 25, 1955 to Jan. 13, 1956	10
Jan. 14 to Feb. 2	9
Feb. 3 to Feb. 22	8
Feb. 23 to Mar. 13	7
Mar. 14 to Apr. 2	6
Apr. 3 to Apr. 22	5
Apr. 23 to May 12	4
May 13 to June 1	3
June 2 to June 21	2
June 22 to July 31	1

(c) Warehouse receipts and the corn represented thereby stored in approved warehouses operated by Eastern common carriers may be subject to liens for warehouse elevation (receiving and delivering) and storage charges from the date of deposit at rates approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission. There shall be deducted in computing the amount of the loan or purchase price the amount of the approved tariff rate for storage (not including elevation) which will accumulate from the date of deposit through July 31, 1956, unless written evidence has been submitted with the warehouse receipt that the storage charges have been prepaid. The county office shall request the CSS commodity office to determine the amount of such charges. Where the producer presents evidence showing that elevation charges have been prepaid, the amount of the storage charges to be deducted shall be reduced by the amount of the elevation charges prepaid by the producer.

§ 421.1145 Settlement—(a) Settlement value. (1) In the case of corn delivered to CCC under farm-storage loans grading No. 3, or better, or No. 4 on the factor of test weight only but otherwise grading No. 3, or better, settlement shall be made at the applicable support rate determined in accordance with § 421.1018 (f), of the 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1. The support rate shall be for the grade and quality of the total quantity of corn eligible for delivery subject to premiums and discounts shown in the "Schedule of Premiums and Discounts" in 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supplement 2, Corn. If, upon delivery, the corn under farm-storage loan grades sour or heating, or otherwise does not meet the requirements set forth in the "Schedule of Premiums and Discounts," or is of a grade and/or quality for which no support rate has been established, the settlement value shall be computed at the support rate established for the grade and/or quality of the corn placed under loan, less the difference, if any, at the time of delivery, between the market price of the grade and/or quality (except for the factor of moisture) placed under loan and the market price of the corn delivered, as determined by CCC: Provided, however, That if such corn is sold by CCC in order to determine its market price the settlement value shall not be less than such sales price.

(2) In the case of eligible corn delivered at CCC under purchase agreement, settlement shall be made at the applicable support rate determined in accordance with § 421.1018 (f), of the 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1 (20 F. R. 3017), subject to premiums and discounts shown in the "Schedule of Premiums and Discounts" in 1955 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supplement 2, Corn.

(b) Storage deduction for early delivery. Whenever farm-stored corn under loan or purchase agreement is delivered to CCC before July 31, 1956, a deduction for storage shall be made in accordance with the schedule of deductions for warehouse charges (§ 421.1144), except that no such deduction shall be made if such early delivery is made because the loan is called solely for the convenience of CCC, or if it is determined by CCC at the time of delivery that the corn will be sold rather than stored, or if CCC requires early delivery on an area basis.

(c) Refund of prepaid handling charges. In case a warehouseman charges the producer for the receiving or the receiving and loading out charges on corn under loan or purchase agreement stored in warehouses under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement, the producer shall, upon delivery of the corn to CCC, be reimbursed or given credit by the county office for such prepaid charges in an amount not to exceed the charges authorized under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement, provided, the producer furnishes to the county committee written evidence signed by the warehouseman that such charges have been paid.

(d) Track loading. A track-loading payment of 3 cents per bushel shall be made to the producer on corn delivered to CCC on track at a country point.

Issued this 7th day of June 1955.

AUTHORITY: §§ 725.630 to 725.662 issued under sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66; 7 U. S. C. 1375. Interpret or apply 52 Stat. 38, 47, 48, 65, 66, as amended, 7 U. S. C. 1301, 1313, 1314, 1315, 1372, 1373, 1374, 1375.

GENERAL

§ 725.630 Basis and purpose. Sections 725.630 to 725.662 are issued pursuant to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, and govern the issuance of marketing cards, the identification of tobacco, the collection and refund of penalties, and the records and reports incident thereto on the marketing of Burley and flue-cured tobacco during the 1955-56 marketing year. Prior to preparing §§ 725.630 to 725.662, public notice (20 F. R. 2988) of their formulation was given in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003). The data, views and recommendations pertaining to §§ 725.630 to 725.662, which were submitted have been duly considered within the limits permitted by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended. Since county committees are now determining the acreage of tobacco on farms so that farmers may know as soon as possible whether there is excess tobacco available for marketing from the farm, it is hereby determined that compliance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act with respect to the effective date is contrary to the public interest. Sections 725.630 to 725.662 shall therefore become effective upon filing with the Director, Division of Federal Register.

§ 725.631 Definitions. As used in §§ 725.630 to 725.662, and in all instructions, forms, and documents in connection therewith, the words and phrases defined in this section shall have the meanings herein assigned to them unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires.

(a) "Act" means the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

(b) "Carry-over" tobacco means, with respect to a farm, tobacco produced prior to the beginning of the calendar year 1955, which has not been marketed or which has not been disposed of under § 725.645.

(c) Committees:

(1) "Community committee" means the persons elected within a community as the community committee pursuant to regulations governing the selection and functions of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county and community committees.

(2) "County committee" means the persons elected within a county as the county committee pursuant to regulations governing the selection and functions of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county and community committees.

(3) "State committee" means the persons in a State designated by the Secretary as the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State committee.

(d) "County office manager" means the person employed by the county committee to execute the policies of the county committee and be responsible for the day-to-day operations of the ASC county office, or the person acting in such capacity.

(e) "Dealer" or "buyer" means a person who engages to any extent in the business of acquiring tobacco from producers without regard to whether such person is registered as a dealer with the Internal Revenue Service.

(f) "Deputy Administrator" means the Deputy Administrator or the Acting Deputy Administrator for Production Adjustment, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

(g) "Director" means Director or Acting Director, Tobacco Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

(h) "Farm" means all adjacent or nearby farm land under the same ownership which is operated by one person, including also:

(1) Any other adjacent or nearby farm land which the county committee determines is operated by the same person as part of the same unit with respect to the rotation of crops and with workstock, farm machinery, and labor substantially separate from that for any other land; and

(2) Any field-rented tract (whether operated by the same or another person) which, together with any other land included in the farm, constitutes a unit with respect to the rotation of crops.

(i) "Field assistant" means any duly authorized employee of the United States Department of Agriculture, and any duly authorized employee of an ASC county office whose duties involve the preparation and handling of records and reports pertaining to tobacco marketing quotas.

(j) "Floor sweepings" means scraps, leaves, or bundles of tobacco, generally of inferior quality, which accumulate on the warehouse floor and which not being subject to identification with any particular lot of tobacco are gathered up by the warehouseman for sale. Floor sweepings shall not include tobacco defined as "pick-ups".

(k) "Leaf account tobacco" means all tobacco purchased by or for a warehouseman and "leaf account" shall include the records required to be kept and copies of the reports required to be made under §§ 725.630 to 725.662 relating to tobacco purchased by or for a warehouseman and resales of such tobacco.

(l) "Market" means the disposition in raw or processed form of tobacco by voluntary or involuntary sale, barter, or exchange, or by gift inter vivos. "Marketing" and "marketed" shall have corresponding meanings to the term "market".

(m) "Nonwarehouse sale" means any first marketing of farm tobacco other than by sale at public auction through a warehouse in the regular course of business.

(n) "Operator" means the person who is in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations on the entire farm.

(o) "Person" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate or trust, or other business enterprise or other legal entity, and wherever applicable, a State, a political subdivision of a State or any agency thereof.

(p) "Pick-ups" means (1) "Pick-ups (a)," any tobacco sorted and reclaimed from leaves or bundles which have fallen to the warehouse floor in the usual course of business or (2) "Pick-ups (b)," any tobacco previously purchased at auction but not delivered to the buyer because of rejection by the buyer, lost ticket, or any other reason, and which is not turned back to a dealer other than the warehouseman and shall include tobacco delivered to the buyer but returned by the buyer to the warehouseman, and which is not turned back to a dealer other than the warehouseman.

(q) "Producer" means a person who, as owner, landlord, tenant, sharecropper, or laborer is entitled to share in the tobacco available for marketing from the farm or in the proceeds thereof.

(r) "Pound" means that amount of tobacco which, if weighed in its unstemmed form and in the condition in which it is usually marketed by producers, would equal one pound standard weight.

(s) "Resale" means the disposition by sale, barter, exchange, or gift inter vivos, of tobacco which has been marketed previously.

(t) "Sale day" means the period at the end of which the warehouseman bills to buyers the tobacco so purchased during such period.

(u) "Scrap tobacco" means the residue which accumulates in the course of preparing flue-cured tobacco for market, consisting chiefly of portions of tobacco leaves and leaves of poor quality.

(v) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States or any officer or employee of the Department to whom authority has been delegated, or to whom authority may hereafter be delegated, to act in his stead.

(w) "State administrative officer" means the person employed by the State committee to execute the policies of the State committee and be responsible for the day-to-day operations of the ASC State office, or the person acting in such capacity.

(x) "Suspended sale" means any first marketing of farm tobacco at a warehouse sale for which a memorandum of sale is not issued by the end of the sale day on which such marketing occurred.

(y) "Tobacco" means Burley tobacco, type 31, or flue-cured tobacco types 11, 12, 13, and 14, as classified in Service and Regulatory Announcement No. 118 (Part 30 of this title) of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, or both, as indicated by the context.

(1) Any tobacco that has the same characteristics and corresponding qualities, colors, and lengths as either Burley or flue-cured tobacco shall be considered respectively either Burley or flue-cured tobacco regardless of any factors of historical or geographical nature which cannot be determined by examination of the tobacco.

(2) For the purpose of discovering and identifying all tobacco subject to marketing quotas the term "tobacco" with respect to any farm located in an area in which any kind of tobacco subject to marketing quotas is normally produced, shall include all acreage of tobacco on the farm. The acreage of each kind of tobacco shall be determined by the county committee on the basis of seeding, cultivating, curing, and marketing practices commonly known to the area. The production of the acreage of each kind of tobacco so determined shall be considered to be tobacco of the kind available for marketing until such time as the operator of the farm furnishes to the county committee satisfactory proof that a part or all of the production of such acreage has been classified pursuant to Part 29, of this title when marketed, as a different kind of tobacco. Any amount of tobacco so classified as a different kind shall be converted to acres on the basis of the average yield per acre of the entire acreage of tobacco grown on the farm in 1955 for the purpose of determining the harvested acreage of such kind of tobacco produced on the farm.

(z) "Tobacco available for marketing" means all tobacco produced on the farm in the calendar year 1955 plus any carryover tobacco, less any tobacco disposed of in accordance with § 725.645.

(aa) "Tobacco subject to marketing quotas" means:

(1) Any Burley tobacco marketed during the period, October 1, 1955, to September 30, 1956, inclusive, and any Burley tobacco produced in the calendar year 1955 and marketed prior to October 1, 1955.

(2) Any flue-cured tobacco marketed during the period July 1, 1955, to June 30, 1956, inclusive, and any flue-cured tobacco produced in the calendar year 1955 and marketed prior to July 1, 1955.

(bb) "Trucker" means a person who engages to any extent in the business of trucking or hauling tobacco for producers to a point where it may be marketed or otherwise disposed of in the form and in the condition in which it is usually marketed by producers.

(cc) "Warehouseman" means a person who engages to any extent in the business of holding sales of tobacco at public auction at a warehouse.

(dd) "Warehouse sale" means a marketing of tobacco by a sale at public auction through a warehouse in the regular course of business, and shall include all lots or baskets of tobacco marketed in sequence at a given time.

§ 725.632 Instructions and forms. The Director shall cause to be prepared and issued such forms as are necessary, and shall cause to be prepared such instructions with respect to internal management as are necessary, for carrying out the regulations in this part. The forms and instructions shall be approved by, and the instructions shall be issued by, the Deputy Administrator.

§ 725.633 Extent of calculations and rule of fractions.—(a) The acreage of tobacco harvested on a farm in 1955 shall be expressed in hundredths and fractions of less than one hundredth of an acre shall be dropped. For example, 1.550, 1.555, or 1.559 acres would be 1.55 acres.

(b) The percentage of excess tobacco available for marketing from a farm, hereinafter referred to as the "percent excess," shall be expressed in tenths and fractions of less than one-tenth shall be dropped. For example, 12.59 percent would be 12.5 percent.

(c) The amount of penalty per pound upon marketings of tobacco subject to penalty, hereinafter referred to as the "converted rate of penalty," shall be expressed in tenths of a cent and fractions of less than a tenth shall be dropped, except that if the resulting converted rate of penalty is less than a tenth of a cent, it shall be expressed in hundredths and fractions of less than a hundredth shall be dropped. For example, 3.68 cents per pound would be 3.6 cents and 0.068 cent per pound would be 0.06 cent.

IDENTIFICATION AND LOCATION OF FARMS AND DETERMINATION OF ACREAGE

§ 725.634 Identification and location of farms. (a) Each farm as operated for the 1955 crop of tobacco shall be identified by a farm serial number assigned by the county office manager and all records pertaining to marketing quotas for the 1955 crop of tobacco shall be identified by such number.

(b) A farm shall be regarded as located in the county in which the principal dwelling is situated, or if there is no dwelling thereon it shall be regarded as located in the county in which the major portion of the farm is located.

§ 725.635 Determination of tobacco acreage—(a) County committees. For the purpose of ascertaining with respect to each farm whether there is excess tobacco of the 1955 crop available for marketing, the county committee shall determine the acreage of tobacco on each farm in the county for which a 1955 tobacco acreage allotment has been established and on any other farms in the county on which the county committee has reason to believe tobacco was planted. The county committee's determination shall be based upon a measurement of the acreage made by identification of fields or parts of fields by use of a map, aerial photography, or by means of a steel or metallic tape or chain, or rod and chain, or by use of a measurement wheel when authorized by the Deputy Administrator, or by a combination of one or more of these methods. Such measurement shall be made by an employee of the county committee who has been designated as a reporter and determined by the County office manager to be qualified to carry out the duties of a reporter. The reporter shall visit each farm assigned to him for measurement and enter thereon if such entry will facilitate measurement.

(b) Farm operators. The farm operator or his representative or any producer, at the reporter's request for such information or assistance, shall designate all fields on the farm being utilized for growing tobacco and may assist in measuring the farm, the acreage of cropland in the farm, or the acreage of tobacco being grown on the farm.

(c) Harvested acreage of tobacco. The acreage of tobacco determined or as redetermined for a farm by the county committee pursuant to this section shall be the harvested acreage of tobacco for the farm for the purpose of issuing the correct marketing card for the farm as provided in § 725.638 unless the farm operator furnishes to the county committee satisfactory proof that a portion of the acreage planted will not be harvested or that a representative portion of the production of the acreage harvested will be disposed of other than by marketing.

(d) Acreage not determined. If the farm operator prevents the county committee or its representative from obtaining information necessary to determine the correct acreage of tobacco on a farm, in addition to any other liability which might be imposed upon the operator, all acreage of tobacco on the farm shall be deemed to be in excess of the farm acreage allotment.

(e) Prior measurements. Measurements made prior to the effective date of this section, and in accordance with procedures then in effect may be utilized where pertinent for the purpose of ascertaining with respect to any farm the 1955 tobacco acreage and the tobacco acreage in excess of the 1955 farm tobacco acreage allotment.

FARM MARKETING QUOTAS AND MARKETING CARDS

§ 725.636 Amount of farm marketing quota. (a) The marketing quota for a farm shall be the actual production of tobacco on the farm acreage allotment, as established for the farm in accordance with §§ 725.611 to 725.629, 1023 (Burley and Flue-55)–1, Burley and Flue-cured Tobacco Marketing Quota Regulations, 1955–56 Marketing Year, as amended (19 F. R. 3549, 19 F. R. 7151, 20 F. R. 2299). The actual production of the farm acreage allotment shall be the average yield per acre of the entire acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in 1955 times the farm acreage allotment.

(b) The excess tobacco on any farm shall be (1) that quantity of tobacco which is equal to the average yield per acre of the entire acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in 1955 times the number of acres harvested in excess of the farm acreage allotment plus (2) any excess carry-over of tobacco.

§ 725.637 Transfer of farm marketing quota. There shall be no transfer of farm marketing quotas except as provided in §§ 725.620 and 725.626 of the Burley and flue-cured tobacco marketing quota regulations for determining acreage allotments and normal yields, 1955–56 marketing year.

§ 725.638 Issuance of marketing cards. (a) A marketing card shall be issued for each farm having tobacco available for marketing. Subject to the approval of the county office manager or the State administrative officer as provided in § 725.639 two or more marketing cards may be issued for any farm. Upon the return to the ASC issuing office of the marketing card after all of the memoranda of sale have been issued therefrom and before the marketing of tobacco from the farm has been completed, a new marketing card of the same kind, bearing the same name, information and identification as the used card shall be issued for the farm. A new marketing card of the same kind shall be issued to replace a card which has been determined by the issuing officer to have been lost, destroyed or stolen.

(b) Within Quota Marketing Card (MQ–76—Tobacco). A Within Quota Marketing Card authorizing price support loans and the marketing without penalty of any tobacco available for marketing shall be issued for a farm under the following conditions:

(1) If the harvested acreage of tobacco for the farm in 1955 is not in excess of the farm acreage allotment therefor and any excess carry-over tobacco can be marketed without penalty under the provisions of § 725.644 (b) except that if more than one kind of tobacco is produced on a farm in 1955 a "zero percent" excess marketing card (ineligible for price support loans) shall be issued for each kind of tobacco for which the harvested acreage is not in excess of the farm acreage allotment if the harvested acreage of any kind on the farm is in excess of the farm acreage allotment.

(2) If all excess tobacco produced on a farm is disposed of in accordance with § 725.645 (b) except that if: (i) For any farm, the operator or any producer fails to file with the county ASC office a written request (with a deposit to cover the cost as estimated by the county committee) to dispose of excess tobacco or for a remeasurement of the tobacco acreage within seven (7) days in the case of flue-cured tobacco and in the case of Burley tobacco grown in the State of Virginia and ten (10) days in the case of Burley tobacco grown in States other than Virginia from the date of mailing to the farm operator a Notice of Tobacco Acreage in Excess of Allotment, Form CSS–595—Tobacco, a "zero percent" excess marketing card (ineligible for price support loans) shall be issued for each kind of tobacco subject to marketing quotas on the farm; or (ii) for any farm for which the tobacco acreage has been redetermined by the county committee pursuant to a request filed under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, if the operator or any producer fails to file with the county ASC office a written request (with a deposit to cover the cost as estimated by the county committee) to dispose of excess tobacco within seven (7) days in the case of flue-cured tobacco and in the case of Burley tobacco grown in the State of Virginia and ten (10) days in the case of Burley tobacco grown in states other than Virginia from the date of mailing to the farm operator a Final Notice of Tobacco Acreage in Excess of Allotment, Form CSS–595–X—Tobacco, a "zero percent" excess marketing card (ineligible for price support loans) shall be issued for each kind of tobacco subject to marketing quotas on the farm, unless the county committee with the approval of a representative of the State committee determines that the failure to file such written request was due to circumstances beyond the control of the farm operator or producer and that he could not have been reasonably expected to comply with the provisions of subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph, whichever is applicable.

(3) If the tobacco was grown for experimental purposes only on land owned or leased by a publicly owned agricultural experiment station and is produced at public expense by employees of the experiment station, or if the tobacco was produced by farmers pursuant to an agreement with a publicly owned experiment station whereby the experiment station bears the costs and risks incident to the production of the tobacco and the proceeds from the crop inure to the benefit of the experiment station: Provided, That such agreement is approved by the State committee prior to the issuance of a marketing card for the farm. Prior to the approval of any agreement between farmers and publicly owned experiment station for the production of tobacco for experimental purposes, the State committee shall cause to be made such investigation as may be necessary to determine that each of the following conditions has been met:

(i) The tobacco is grown for experimental purposes only.

(ii) The experiment could not be carried out satisfactorily with tobacco grown on other lands owned or leased by the experiment station and produced at public expense by employees of the experiment station.

(iii) The size of the acreage (plot) covered by the agreement is necessary for carrying on the experiment.

(iv) The experiment station bears the costs and risks incident to the production of tobacco.

(v) Payment to the farmer is consistent with prevailing rates for labor, workstock, machinery, equipment, and land rentals.

(vi) The proceeds from the tobacco inure to the experiment station.

(c) Excess Marketing Card (MQ–77—Tobacco). An Excess Marketing Card (ineligible for price support loans) showing the extent to which marketings of tobacco from a farm are subject to penalty shall be issued unless a within quota marketing card is required to be issued for the farm under paragraph (b) of this section, or a "zero percent" excess marketing card is required to be issued for the estimated amount of tobacco produced on a farm less the excess amount of representative tobacco placed in storage under bond in accordance with § 725.645 (a), except that if the farm operator prevents the county committee or its representative from obtaining information necessary to the issuance of the correct marketing card, an excess marketing card shall be issued showing that all tobacco from the farm is subject to the rate of penalty set forth in § 725.647.

§ 725.639 Persons authorized to issue marketing cards. (a) The State administrative officer shall be the issuing officer of all marketing cards issued for the purpose of identifying tobacco grown for experimental purposes pursuant to the provision of § 725.638 (b) (3).

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section the county office manager shall be the issuing officer of marketing cards for farms in the county.

(c) The issuing officer shall sign marketing cards for farms in the county, but he may designate not more than three persons to sign his name in issuing marketing cards: Provided, That each such person shall place his initials immediately beneath the name of the issuing officer as written by him on the card.

§ 725.640 Rights of producers in marketing cards. Each producer having a share in the tobacco available for marketing from a farm shall be entitled to the use of the marketing card issued for the farm for marketing his proportionate share.

§ 725.641 Successors in interest. Any person who succeeds in whole or in part to the share of a producer in the tobacco available for marketing from a farm shall, to the extent of such succession, have the same rights as the producer to the use of the marketing card for the farm.

§ 725.642 Invalid cards. (a) A marketing card shall be invalid if:

(1) It is not issued or delivered in the form and manner prescribed;

(2) Entries are omitted or incorrect;

(3) It is lost, destroyed, stolen, or becomes illegible; or

(4) Any erasure or alteration has been made, and not properly initialed.

(b) In the event any marketing card becomes invalid (other than by loss, destruction, or theft, or by omission, alteration or incorrect entry which cannot be corrected by a field assistant), the farm operator, or the person having the card in his possession, shall return it to the ASC office at which it was issued.

(c) If any entry is not made on a marketing card as required, either through omission or incorrect entry, and the proper entry is made and initialed by a field assistant, then such card shall become valid.

§ 725.643 Report of misuse of marketing card. Any information which causes a field assistant, a member of a State, county, or community committee, or an employee of an ASC State or county office, to believe that any tobacco which actually was produced on one farm has been or is being marketed under the marketing card issued for another farm shall be reported immediately by such person to the ASC county or State office.

MARKETING OR OTHER DISPOSITION OF TOBACCO AND PENALTIES

§ 725.644 Extent to which marketings from a farm are subject to penalty. (a) Marketings of tobacco from a farm having no carry-over tobacco available for marketing shall be subject to penalty by the percent excess determined as follows: Divide the acreage of tobacco harvested in excess of the farm acreage allotment and not disposed of under § 725.645 by the total acreage of tobacco harvested from the farm.

(b) Marketings of tobacco from a farm having carry-over tobacco available for marketing shall be subject to penalty by the percent excess determined as follows:

(1) Determine the number of "carry-over" acres by dividing the number of pounds of carry-over tobacco from the prior years by the normal yield for the farm for that year.

(2) Determine the number of "within quota carry-over acres" by multiplying the "carry-over acres" (subparagraph (1) of this paragraph) by the "percent within quota" (i. e. 100 percent minus the percent excess) for the year in which the carry-over tobacco was produced, except that if the excess portion of the carry-over tobacco is disposed of under § 725.645, the "percent within quota" shall be 100.

(3) Determine the "total acres" of tobacco by adding the "carry-over acres" (subparagraph (1) of this paragraph) and the acreage of tobacco harvested in the current year.

(4) Determine the "excess acres" by subtracting from the "total acres" (subparagraph (3) of this paragraph) the sum of the 1955 allotment and the "within quota carry-over acres" (subparagraph (2) of this paragraph).

(5) Determine the percent excess by dividing the "total acres" into the "excess acres" (subparagraph (4) of this paragraph).

(6) Those persons having an interest in the carry-over tobacco for a farm shall be liable for the payment of any penalty due thereon.

(c) For the purpose of determining the penalty due on each marketing by a producer of tobacco subject to penalty, the converted rate of penalty per pound shall be determined by multiplying the applicable rate of penalty by the percent excess obtained under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section. The memorandum of sale issued to identify each such marketing shall show the amount of penalty due.

§ 725.645 Disposition of excess tobacco. The farm operator may elect to give satisfactory proof of disposition of excess tobacco prior to the marketing of any tobacco from the farm by either of the following methods:

(a) (1) By storage of the excess tobacco, the tobacco so stored to be representative of the entire 1955 crop produced on the farm and posting of a bond approved by the county committee and the State committee in the penal sum of twice the rate of penalty per pound set forth in § 725.647, times the quantity of excess tobacco stored. Penalty at the applicable full rate per pound on marketings of excess tobacco shall become due upon the removal from storage of the excess tobacco, except that an amount of such tobacco in storage equal to the normal production of the acreage by which the 1956 harvested acreage plus any acreage added with respect to any excess carry-over tobacco for the farm pursuant to § 725.644 (b) is less than the 1956 allotment may be removed from storage and marketed penalty free.

(2) If the 1955 harvested acreage is less than the 1955 allotment an amount of any tobacco from the farm which was placed under storage for a prior marketing year equal to the normal production of the acreage by which the 1955 harvested acreage plus any acreage added with respect to any excess carry-over tobacco for the farm pursuant to § 725.644 (b) is less than the 1955 allotment may be marketed penalty free.

(b) By furnishing to the county committee satisfactory proof that excess tobacco representative of the entire crop will not be marketed.

§ 725.646 Identification of marketings. Each marketing of tobacco from a farm shall be identified by an executed memorandum of sale from the 1955 marketing card (MQ–76—Tobacco or MQ–77—Tobacco) issued for the farm on which the tobacco was produced. In addition, in the case of nonwarehouse sales each marketing shall also be identified by an executed bill of nonwarehouse sale (reverse side of memorandum of sale).

(a) Memorandum of sale. (1) If a memorandum of sale is not executed to identify a warehouse sale of producer's tobacco by the end of the sale day on which the tobacco was marketed, the marketing shall be a suspended sale, and, unless a memorandum identifying the tobacco so marketed is executed on or before the last warehouse sale day of the marketing season, or within four weeks after the date of marketing, whichever comes first, the marketing shall be identified by MQ–82—Tobacco, Sale Without Marketing Card, as a marketing of excess tobacco. The memorandum of sale or MQ–82—Tobacco shall be executed only by a field assistant or other representative of the State administrative officer with the following exceptions:

(i) A warehouseman, or his representative, who has been authorized on MQ–78—Tobacco, may issue a memorandum of sale to identify a warehouse sale if a field assistant is not available at the warehouse when the marketing card is presented. Each memorandum of sale issued by a warehouseman to cover a warehouse sale shall be presented promptly by him to the field assistant for verification with the warehouse records.

(ii) In the case of flue-cured tobacco only, a dealer, or his authorized representative, operating a receiving point for scrap tobacco at a redrying plant (and other regular receiving points operated by such dealer or his agent or employees) or at an auction warehouse, who keeps records showing the information specified in § 725.654, and who has been authorized on MQ–78—Tobacco, may issue a memorandum of sale covering a purchase of scrap tobacco only if the bill of nonwarehouse sale has been executed.

(2) The authorization on MQ–78—Tobacco to issue memoranda of sale may be withdrawn by the State administrative officer from any warehouseman or dealer if such action is determined to be necessary in order to properly enforce the provisions of §§ 725.630 to 725.662. The authorization shall terminate upon receipt of written notice setting forth the reason therefor.

(3) Each excess memorandum of sale issued by a field assistant shall be verified by a warehouseman or dealer (or his representative) to determine whether the amount of penalty shown to be due has been correctly computed and such warehouseman or dealer shall not be relieved of any liability with respect to the amount of penalty due because of any error which may occur in executing the memorandum of sale.

(b) Bill of nonwarehouse sale. (1) Each nonwarehouse sale shall be identified by a bill of nonwarehouse sale completely executed by the buyer and the farm operator.

(2) The word "scrap" shall be plainly written on any bill of nonwarehouse sale or memorandum of sale executed to cover scrap tobacco, and all such bills of nonwarehouse sale shall be delivered to a person at a scrap receiving point who is authorized to issue memoranda of sale.

(3) Each bill of nonwarehouse sale covering any marketing except scrap tobacco shall be presented to a field assistant for the issuance of a memorandum of sale and for recording in MQ–79—Tobacco.

§ 725.647 Rate of penalty. Marketings of each kind of excess tobacco from a farm shall be subject to a penalty per pound equal to seventy-five (75) percent of the average market price for the kind of tobacco for the 1954–55 marketing year as determined by the Crop Reporting Board, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture. The rate of penalty per pound shall be calculated to the nearest whole cent.

(a) Average market price. The average market price as determined by the Crop Reporting Board, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, for the 1954–55 marketing year was 49.8 cents per pound in the case of Burley tobacco, and 52.7 cents per pound in the case of flue-cured tobacco.

(b) Rate of penalty per pound. The penalty per pound upon marketings of excess tobacco subject to marketing quotas during the 1955–56 marketing year shall be thirty-seven (37) cents per pound in the case of Burley tobacco, and forty (40) cents per pounds in the case of flue-cured tobacco.

(c) Proportional rate of penalty. With respect to tobacco marketed from farms having excess tobacco available for marketing, the penalty shall be paid upon that percentage of each lot of tobacco marketed which the tobacco available for marketing in excess of the farm quota is of the total amount of tobacco available for marketing from the farm, as determined under § 725.644.

§ 725.648 Persons to pay penalty. The persons to pay the penalty due on any marketing of tobacco subject to penalty shall be determined as follows:

(a) Warehouse sale. The penalty due on marketings by a producer through a warehouse shall be paid by the warehouseman who may deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the price paid to the producer.

(b) Nonwarehouse sale. The penalty due on tobacco purchased directly from a producer other than at public auction through a warehouse shall be paid by the purchaser of the tobacco who may deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the price paid to the producer.

(c) Marketings through an agent. The penalty due on marketings by a producer through an agent who is not a warehouseman shall be paid by the agent who may deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the price paid to the producer.

(d) Marketings outside the United States. The penalty due on marketings by a producer directly to any person outside the United States shall be paid by the producer.

§ 725.649 Marketings deemed to be excess tobacco. Any marketing of tobacco under any one of the following conditions shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco:

(a) Warehouse sale. Any warehouse sale of tobacco by a producer which is not identified by a valid memorandum of sale on or before the last warehouse sale day of the marketing season or within four weeks following the date of marketing whichever comes first, shall be identified by a MQ–82—Tobacco, and shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the warehouseman.

(b) Nonwarehouse sale. Any nonwarehouse sale which (1) is not identified by a valid bill of nonwarehouse sale (reverse side of memorandum of sale) and (2) is not also identified by a valid memorandum of sale and recorded in MQ–79—Tobacco within one week following the date of purchase, or if purchased prior to the opening of the local auction markets, is not identified by a valid memorandum of sale and recorded in MQ–79—Tobacco within one week following the first sale day of the local auction markets, shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the purchaser of such tobacco.

(c) Leaf account tobacco. The part or all of any marketing by a warehouseman which such warehouseman represents to be a leaf account resale but which when added to prior leaf account resales, as reported under §§ 725.630 to 725.662, is in excess of prior leaf account purchases shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco unless and until such warehouseman furnishes proof acceptable to the State committee showing that such marketing is not a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the warehouseman.

(d) Dealer's tobacco. The part or all of any marketing of tobacco by a dealer which such dealer represents to be a resale but which when added to prior resales by such dealer is in excess of the total of his prior purchases as reported on MQ–79—Tobacco shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco unless and until such dealer furnishes proof acceptable to the State committee showing that such marketing is not a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the dealer.

(e) Marketings not reported. Any resale of tobacco which under §§ 725.630 to 725.662 is required to be reported by a warehouseman or dealer but which is not so reported within the time and in the manner required by §§ 725.630 to 725.662 shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco unless and until such warehouseman or dealer furnishes a report of such resale which is acceptable to the State administrative officer. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the warehouseman or dealer who fails to make the report as required.

(f) Marketings falsely identified. If any marketing of tobacco by a person other than the producer thereof is identified by a marketing card other than the marketing card issued for the farm on which such tobacco was produced, such marketing shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco and the penalty thereon shall be paid by such person.

(g) Producer marketings. (1) If any producer falsely identifies or fails to account for the disposition of any tobacco produced on a farm, an amount of tobacco equal to the normal yield of the number of acres harvested in 1955 in excess of the farm acreage allotment shall be deemed to have been a marketing of excess tobacco from such farm. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the producer. The filing of a report by a producer under § 725.652 (c) which the State committee finds to be incomplete or incorrect shall constitute a failure to account for the disposition of tobacco produced on the farm.

(2) If, after part or all of the tobacco produced on a farm has been marketed, the county committee determines that the harvested acreage for the farm was more than that shown by the prior determination any penalty due on the basis of the harvested acreage as redetermined by the county committee pursuant to § 725.635 shall be paid by the producer.

§ 725.650 Payment of penalty. (a) Penalties shall become due at the time the tobacco is marketed, except in the case of tobacco removed from storage as provided in § 725.645 (a). Penalty shall be paid by remitting the amount thereof to the ASC State office not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco became subject to penalty. A draft, money order, or check drawn payable to the Treasurer of the United States may be used to pay any penalty, but any such draft or check shall be received subject to payment at par.

(b) If the penalty due on any warehouse sale of tobacco by a producer as determined under §§ 725.630 to 725.662 is in excess of the net proceeds of such sale (gross amount for all lots included in the sale less usual warehouse charges), the amount of the net proceeds accompanied by a copy of the warehouse bill covering such sale may be remitted as the full penalty due. Usual warehouse charges shall not include (1) advances to producers, (2) charges for hauling, or (3) any other charges not usually incurred by producers in marketing tobacco through an auction warehouse.

(c) Nonwarehouse sales, including sales of scrap tobacco, shall be subject to the converted rate of penalty for the farm on which the tobacco was produced without regard to the net proceeds of the sale.

§ 725.651 Request for return of penalty. Any producer of tobacco after the marketing of all tobacco available for marketing from the farm and any other person who bore the burden of the payment of any penalty may request the return of the amount of such penalty which is in excess of the amount required under §§ 725.630 to 725.662 to be paid. Such request shall be filed with the ASC county office within two (2) years after the payment of the penalty.

RECORDS AND REPORTS

§ 725.652 Producer's records and reports—(a) Report of tobacco acreage. The farm operator or his representative shall file a report with the ASC County Office or a representative of the County Committee on Form CSS–578, Report of 1955 Acreage, showing all fields of tobacco on the farm in 1955. If any producer on a farm files or aids or acquiesces in the filing of any false report with respect to the acreage of tobacco grown on the farm, the allotment next established for such farm shall be reduced as provided in Burley and Flue-cured Tobacco Marketing Quota Regulations for Determining Acreage Allotments and Normal Yields, 1956–57 Marketing Year.

(b) Report on marketing card. The operator of each farm on which tobacco is produced in 1955 shall return to the ASC county office each marketing card issued for the farm whenever marketings from the farm are completed and in no event later than 30 days after the close of the tobacco auction markets for the locality in which the farm is located. Failure to return the marketing card within fifteen (15) days after written notice by the county office manager shall constitute failure to account for disposition of tobacco marketed from the farm, and in the event that a satisfactory account of such disposition is not furnished otherwise, the allotment next established for such farm shall be reduced as provided in Burley and flue-cured tobacco marketing quota regulations for determining acreage allotments and normal yields, 1956–57 marketing year.

(c) Report of disposition. In addition to any other reports which may be required under §§ 725.630 to 725.662, the operator of each farm or any other person having an interest in the tobacco grown on the farm (even though the harvested acreage does not exceed the acreage allotment or even though no allotment was established for the farm) shall upon written request by registered mail from the State administrative officer within fifteen (15) days after the deposit of such request in the United States mails, addressed to such person at his last known address, furnish the Secretary a written report of the disposition made of all tobacco produced on the farm by sending the same to the ASC State office showing, as to the farm at the time of filing said report, (1) the number of acres of tobacco harvested and the total production of tobacco, (2) the amount of tobacco on hand and its location, and (3) as to each lot of tobacco marketed, the name and address of the warehouseman, dealer, or other person to or through whom such tobacco was marketed and the number of pounds marketed, the gross price, and the date of the marketing. Failure to file the report as requested or the filing of a report which is found by the State committee to be incomplete or incorrect shall constitute failure of the producer to account for disposition of tobacco produced on the farm and the allotment next established for such farm shall be reduced as provided in the Burley and flue-cured tobacco marketing quota regulations for determining acreage allotments and normal yields, 1956–57 marketing year.

§ 725.653 Warehouseman's records and reports—(a) Record of marketing. (1) Each warehouseman shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the ASC State office with respect to each warehouse sale of tobacco made at his warehouse the following information.

(i) The name of the operator of the farm on which the tobacco was produced and the name of the seller in the case of a sale by a producer, and in the case of a resale the name of the seller.

(ii) Date of sale.

(iii) Number of pounds sold.

(iv) Gross sale price.

(v) Amount of any penalty and the amount of any deduction on account of penalty from the price paid the producer(s); and in addition with respect to each individual basket or lot of tobacco constituting the warehouse sale the following information:

(vi) Name of purchaser.

(vii) Number of pounds sold.

(viii) Gross sale price.

Records of all purchases and resales of tobacco by the warehouseman shall be maintained to show a separate account for:

(a) Nonwarehouse sales by farmers of tobacco purchased by or on behalf of the warehouseman.

(b) Purchases and resales for the warehouse leaf account.

(c) Resales of floor sweepings.

(d) Resales of pick-ups, with respect to both subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph as defined in § 725.631 (p).

(2) Any warehouseman or any other person who grades tobacco for farmers shall maintain records which will enable him to furnish the ASC State office the name of the farm operator and the approximate amount of scrap tobacco obtained from the grading of tobacco from each farm.

(3) In the case of resales for dealers the name of the dealer making each resale shall be shown on the warehouse records to that the individual lots of tobacco sold by the dealer can be identified.

(b) Identification of sale on check register. The serial number of the memorandum of sale issued to identify each warehouse sale by a producer or the number of the warehouse bill(s) covering each such sale shall be recorded on the check register or check stub for the check written with respect to such sale of tobacco.

(c) Memorandum of sale and bill of nonwarehouse sale. A record in the form of a valid memorandum of sale or a MQ–82—Tobacco, Sale Without Marketing Card, shall be obtained by a warehouseman to cover each marketing of tobacco from a farm through the warehouse and each nonwarehouse sale of tobacco purchased by or for the warehouseman. For a nonwarehouse sale of tobacco purchased by or for a warehouseman, no memorandum of sale shall be issued unless the bill of nonwarehouse sale on the reverse side of the memorandum is executed. Any warehouseman who obtains possession of any scrap tobacco in the course of grading tobacco from any farm shall obtain a memorandum of sale to cover the amount of such scrap.

(d) Suspended sale record. Any warehouse bills covering farm tobacco for which memoranda of sale have not been issued at the end of the sale day shall be presented to a field assistant who shall stamp such bills "Suspended," write thereon the serial number of the suspended sale, and record the bills on MQ–83—Tobacco, Field Assistant's Report: Provided, That if a field assistant is not available, the warehouseman may stamp such bills "Suspended," and deliver them to a field assistant when one is available.

(e) Warehouse entries on dealer's record. Each warehouseman shall record on MQ–79—Tobacco the total purchases and resales made by each dealer or other warehouseman during each sale day at the warehouse and enter his initials in the space provided. If any tobacco resold by the dealer is tobacco bought by him from a crop produced prior to 1955 the entry on MQ–79—Tobacco shall clearly show such fact.

(f) Record and report of purchases and resales. Each warehouseman shall keep a record and make reports on MQ–79—Tobacco, Dealer's Record, showing:

(1) All purchases of tobacco directly from producers other than at public auction through a warehouse (nonwarehouse sales).

(2) All purchases and resales of tobacco at public auction through warehouses other than his own.

(3) All purchases of tobacco from dealers other than warehousemen and resales of tobacco to dealers other than warehousemen.

(g) Season report of warehouse business. Each warehouseman shall furnish the ASC State office not later than thirty (30) days following the last sale day of the marketing season a report on MQ–80—Tobacco, Auction Warehouse Report showing (1) for each dealer or buyer, as originally billed, the total pounds and gross amount of tobacco purchased and resold on the warehouse floor; (2) the total pounds and gross amount of "loan tobacco" billed to any association; (3) the total pounds and gross amount of all leaf account tobacco purchased and resold and of all pick-ups (§ 725.631 (p) (1) or (2)), or floor sweepings sold by the warehouseman at public auction over his own warehouse floor; (4) the pounds and estimated value of all tobacco on hand at the time of filing the report and whether such tobacco represents leaf account tobacco, pick-ups (§ 725.631 (p) (1) or (2)), or floor sweepings; (5) the total pounds and gross amount of all tobacco purchased directly from farmers other than at public auction through a warehouse; and (6) the total pounds and gross amount of all purchases over other warehouse floors or from dealers other than warehousemen and all resales over other warehouse floors or to dealers other than warehousemen.

(h) Report of penalties. Each warehouseman shall make reports on MQ–81—Tobacco, Report of Penalties, showing for each sale of tobacco subject to penalty (1) the name of the farm operator; (2) the memorandum number; (3) the name of the county in which the farm is located; (4) the farm serial number; (5) the number of pounds sold; (6) the applicable converted rate of penalty; and (7) the amount of penalty due on each such sale. MQ–81—Tobacco shall be prepared for each week and forwarded together with remittance of the penalty due as shown thereon to the ASC State office not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco became subject to penalty.

(i) Report of resales. Each warehouseman shall make reports on MQ–86—Tobacco, Report of Resales, showing for each resale of tobacco at auction on the warehouse floor (1) the warehouse bill number; (2) the name on the warehouse bill; (3) the name of the seller, or in the case of a resale for the warehouse, whether such resale represents leaf account tobacco, pickups, or floor sweepings; (4) the registration number and State of the person making the resale; (5) the number of pounds sold; and (6) the gross amount for the sale. MQ–86—Tobacco shall be prepared for each sale day and forwarded to the ASC State office not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco was resold.

(j) Additional records and reports by warehousemen. Each warehouseman shall keep such records and furnish such reports to the ASC State office, in addition to the foregoing, as the State Administrative Officer may find necessary to insure the proper identification of the marketings of tobacco and the collection of penalties due thereon as provided in §§ 725.630 to 725.662.

§ 725.654 Dealer's records and reports. Each dealer, except as provided in § 725.655, shall keep the records and make the reports as provided by this section.

(a) Report of dealer's name, address and registration number. Each dealer shall properly execute and the field assistant shall detach and forward to the ASC State office "Receipt for Dealer's Record" contained in MQ–79—Tobacco which is issued to the dealer.

(b) Record and report of purchases and resales. Each dealer shall keep a record and make reports on MQ–79—Tobacco, Dealer's Record, showing all purchases and resales of tobacco made by or for the dealer and, in the event of resale of tobacco bought from a crop produced prior to 1955, the fact that such tobacco was bought by him and carried over from a crop produced prior to 1955.

(c) Report of penalties. Each dealer shall make a report on MQ–81—Tobacco, Report of Penalties, showing for each purchase, other than by warehouse sale, of tobacco subject to penalty (1) the name of the farm operator; (2) the memorandum number; (3) the name of the county in which the farm is located; (4) the farm serial number; (5) the number of pounds purchased; (6) the applicable converted rate of penalty; and (7) the amount of penalty due on each such purchase. MQ–81—Tobacco shall be prepared for each week and forwarded together with remittance of the penalty due as shown thereon to the ASC State office not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco became subject to penalty.

(d) Memorandum of sale and bill of nonwarehouse sale. A bill of nonwarehouse sale and a memorandum of sale from the 1955 marketing card issued for the farm on which the tobacco was produced shall be obtain by a dealer to cover each purchase of tobacco directly from a producer other than at auction through a warehouse. No memorandum of sale shall be issued identifying such purchase unless the bill of nonwarehouse sale on the reverse side of the memorandum of sale has been executed.

(e) Record and report of scrap tobacco. Each dealer operating a receiving point for scrap tobacco who has been authorized on MQ–78—Tobacco to issue memoranda of sale shall keep a record and make reports on MQ–79—Tobacco showing all tobacco received. Such reports shall be accompanied by memoranda of sale and bills of nonwarehouse sale with respect to all tobacco covered by the reports.

(f) Additional records. (1) Each dealer shall keep such records in addition to the foregoing as will enable him to furnish the ASC State office with respect to each lot of tobacco purchased by him the following information:

(i) The name of the warehouse through which the tobacco was purchased in the case of a warehouse sale; the name of the operator of the farm on which the tobacco was produced and the name of the seller in the case of a nonwarehouse sale; and the name of the seller in the case of purchases directly from warehousemen or other dealers.

(ii) Date of purchase.

(iii) Number of pounds purchased.

(iv) Gross purchase price.

(v) Amount of any penalty and the amount of any deduction on account of penalty from the price paid the producer(s); and with respect to each lot of tobacco sold by him the following information:

(vi) Name of the warehouse through which the tobacco was sold in the case of a warehouse sale, and the name of the purchaser if other than a warehouse sale.

(vii) Date of sale.

(viii) Number of pounds sold.

(x) In the event of a resale of tobacco bought by him and carried over from a crop produced prior to 1955 the fact that such tobacco was so bought and carried over.

(2) All reports shall be forwarded to the ASC State office not later than the end of the week following the calendar week covered by the reports.

§ 725.655 Dealers exempt from regular records and reports. Any dealer or buyer who does not purchase or otherwise acquire tobacco except at warehouse sales, or directly from dealers other than warehousemen, and who does not resell in the form in which tobacco ordinarily is sold by farmers more than 10 percent of such tobacco so purchased by him shall not be subject to the provisions of § 725.654: Provided, however, That any such dealer or buyer who purchases tobacco at nonwarehouse sale, or from a warehouseman other than at warehouse sale shall be subject to the provisions of § 725.654 with respect to such purchases. Each such dealer or buyer shall make such reports to the State Administrative Officer, in addition to the foregoing, as he may find necessary to enforce § 725.630 to 725.662.

§ 725.656 Records and reports of truckers and persons redrying, prizing or stemming tobacco. (a) Each person engaged to any extent in the business of trucking or hauling tobacco for producers to a point where it may be marketed or otherwise disposed of in the form and in the condition in which it is usually marketed by producers shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the ASC State office a report with respect to each lot of tobacco received by him showing (1) the name and address of the producer, (2) the date of receipt of the tobacco, (3) the number of pounds received and (4) the name and address of the person to whom it was delivered.

(b) Each person engaged to any extent in the business of redrying, (prizing or stemming tobacco for producers shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the Director a report showing (1) the information required above for truckers, and in addition, (2) the purpose for which the tobacco was received, (3) the amount of advance made by him on the tobacco, and (4) the disposition of the tobacco.

§ 725.657 Separate records and reports from persons engaged in more than one business. Any person who is required to keep any record or make any report as a warehouseman, dealer, trucker, or as a person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing or stemming tobacco for producers, and who is engaged in more than one such business, shall keep such records as will enable him to make separate reports for each such business in which he is engaged to the same extent for each such business as if he were engaged to the same extent for each such business as if he were engaged in no other business.

§ 725.658 Failure to keep records or make reports. Any warehouseman, dealer, trucker, or person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing, or stemming tobacco for producers, who fails to make any report or keep any record as required under §§ 725.630 to 725.662, or who makes any false report or record, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500; and any tobacco warehouseman or dealer who fails to remedy such violation by making a complete and accurate report or keeping a complete and accurate record as required under §§ 725.630 to 725.662 within fifteen days after notice to him of such violation shall be subject to an additional fine of $100 for each ten thousand pounds of tobacco, or fraction thereof, bought or sold by him after the date of such violation: Provided, That such fine shall not exceed $5,000; and notice of such violation shall be served upon the tobacco warehouseman or dealer by mailing the same to him by registered mail or by posting the same at an established place of business operated by him, or both. Notice of any violation by a warehouseman, dealer or trucker shall be given by the State Administrative Officer and notice of violation by a person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing or stemming tobacco for producers shall be given by the Director.

§ 725.659 Additional records and reports to Director. Any warehouseman, dealer, trucker, or person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing or stemming tobacco for producers shall, in addition to any records required to be kept or any reports required to be made, under §§ 725.630 to 725.662, keep such records and make such reports to the Director as he may find necessary to enforce §§ 725.630 to 725.662.

§ 725.660 Examination of records and reports. For the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept, or of obtaining information required to be furnished in any report but not so furnished, any warehouseman, dealer, trucker, or person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing or stemming tobacco for producers shall make available for examination upon written request by the State administrative officer or Director, such books, papers, records, accounts, cancelled checks, correspondence, contracts, documents, and memoranda as the State administrative officer or Director has reason to believe are relevant and are within the control of such person.

§ 725.661 Length of time records and reports are to be kept. Records required to be kept and copies of the reports required to be made by any person under §§ 725.630 to 725.662 for the 1955–56 marketing year shall be kept by him until June 30, 1958, in the case of fluecured tobacco and September 30, 1958, in the case of Burley tobacco. Records shall be kept for such longer period of time as may be requested in writing by the State administrative officer or the Director.

§ 725.662 Information confidential. All data reported to or acquired by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of §§ 725.630 to 725.662 shall be kept confidential by all officers and employees of the United States Department of Agriculture and by all members of county and community committees and all ASC county office employees and only such data so reported or acquired as the Deputy Administrator deems relevant shall be disclosed by them and then only in a suit or administrative hearing under Title III of the act.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of these regulations have been approved by and subsequent reporting requirements will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 7th day of June 1955. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

Chapter VIII—Commodity Stabilization Service (Sugar), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter I—Determination of Prices

[Sugar Determination 871.8]

PART 871—SUGAR BEETS

FAIR AND REASONABLE PRICES; 1955 CROP

Pursuant to the provisions of section 301 (c) (2) of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended (herein referred to as "act"), after investigation, and due consideration of evidence presented at the several public hearings held in October 1954 (for Southern Oregon, California, Southwestern Arizona, and Western Nevada), and during November and December 1954 (for States other than those regions), the following determination is hereby issued:

§ 871.8 Fair and reasonable prices for the 1955 crop of sugar beets. A producer of sugar beets who is also a processor of sugar beets (referred to in this part as "processor") shall have paid, or contracted to pay, for sugar beets of the 1955 crop grown by other producers and processed by him in accordance with the following requirements:

(a) Purchase agreements. (1) The price for sugar beets in regions other than Imperial Valley, California shall be not less than that provided in the 1955-crop sugar beet purchase contract between the processor and producers; (2) the price for sugar beets in Imperial Valley, California, shall be not less than that provided in the 1955-crop sugar beet purchase contract which may be negotiated between the processor and producers, unless the Secretary gives public notice prior to December 31, 1955, that such price is found not to be fair and reasonable or the price for sugar beets in Imperial Valley, California is otherwise determined by an amendment to this determination.

(b) Subterfuge. The processor shall not reduce returns to producers below those determined herein through any subterfuge or device whatsoever.

STATEMENT OF BASES AND CONSIDERATIONS

(a) General. The foregoing determination establishes fair and reasonable prices to be paid for sugar beets of the 1955 crop by a producer who processes sugar beets grown by other producers. It establishes the minimum requirements with respect to prices for sugar beets which must be met as one of the conditions for payment under the act.

(b) Requirements of the act. Section 301 (c) (2) of the act provides that the producer on the farm who is also, directly or indirectly, a processor of sugar beets or sugarcane, as may be determined by the Secretary, shall have paid, or contracted to pay under either purchase or toll agreements, for any sugar beets or sugarcane grown by other producers and processed by him at rates not less than those that may be determined by the Secretary to be fair and reasonable after investigation and due notice and opportunity for public hearing.

(c) 1955 fair price determination. The 1955 price determination provides that in regions other than Imperial Valley, California, a processor shall be deemed to have complied with the fair price provisions of the act if he has paid or contracted to pay prices for sugar beets not less than those provided in his 1955 crop purchase contract with producers. The price for 1955 crop sugar beets in Imperial Valley, California, shall be that provided in purchase contracts which may be negotiated by the processor and producers unless such prices are deemed to be inequitable or a contract is not negotiated.

At the public hearings neither producers nor processors made recommendations specifically with respect to fair and reasonable prices for sugar beets because contract negotiations between the parties either had not started or were not completed. One producer stated that the group of growers he represented questioned whether the methods used by the processor for determining top tare and sucrose content were equitable under present mechanical harvesting conditions. He asked the Department to investigate those matters inasmuch as they affected the prices received by producers for sugar beets.

Consideration has been given to the terms of purchase contracts recently negotiated by producers and processors, to production, price, and cost conditions likely to prevail for the 1955 crop and to other pertinent economic factors. The scales of payment for sugar beets under the 1955 crop purchase contracts are the same as those provided for the 1954 crop contracts. Changes have been made in some contracts which increase the price of seed and reduce feright allowances to producers of sugar beets. The effect of such changes in contracts, all of which have been negotiated by producers and processors, is to reduce to a nominal extent the average total returns to producers. Nevertheless, analysis of the contracts indicates that the prices payable thereunder for sugar beets of the 1955 crop are fair and reasonable at sugar prices around the current level of 8.55 cents per pound, seaboard basis, refined cane sugar. Purchase contracts for the Imperial Valley (California) for the 1955 crop (to be planted in the fall of 1955 and harvested in 1956) have not been negotiated and therefore were not available for examination. Customarily, contracts covering the purchase of sugar beets in this region are negotiated annually and submitted to the Department about September. Upon receipt of these contracts they will also be analyzed to determine whether the terms and conditions provide for an equitable sharing relationship. If the contracts are found to be fair and reasonable, no amendment to this determination will be required. However, if any of the contracts do not provide for an equitable sharing of returns, or no contract is negotiated, an amendment to this determination will be issued.

Accordingly, I hereby find and conclude that the foregoing price determination will effectuate the price provisions of the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Valencia Orange Reg. 39]

PART 922—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

LIMITATION OF HANDLING

§ 922.339 Valencia Orange Regulation 39—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to Order No. 22 (19 F. R. 1741), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective March 31, 1954, under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The Valencia Orange Administrative Committee held an open meeting on June 9, 1955, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for Valencia oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such Valencia oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 12, 1955, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 19, 1955, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: 127,050 boxes;

(ii) District 2: 358,050 boxes;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) Valencia oranges handled pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to any size restrictions applicable thereto which have heretofore been issued on the handling of such oranges and which are effective during the period specified herein.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "boxes," "District 1," "District 2," and "District 3," shall have the same meaning as when used in said order.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

[Elberta Peach Order 1]

REGULATIONS OF SHIPMENTS

§ 936.503 Elberta Peach Order 1—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 36, as amended (7 CFR Part 936), regulating the handling of fresh Bartlett pears, plums, and Elberta peaches grown in the State of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Elberta Peach Commodity Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of Elberta peaches, pursuant to the provisions of § 936.41 of the amended marketing agreement and order, in accordance with the minimum standards of quality and maturity set forth in paragraph (b) (1) of this section, will tend to effectuate such orderly marketing of Elberta peaches as will be in the public interest, and the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than June 12, 1955. A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, such peaches must await the development of the crop and adequate information thereon was not available to the Elberta Peach Commodity Committee until May 19, 1955; recommendation as to the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such peaches was made at the meeting of said committee on May 19, 1955, after consideration of all available information relative to the supply and demand conditions for such peaches, at which time the recommendation and supporting information was submitted to the Department; necessary supplemental data for consideration in connection with the specification of the provisions of this section were not available until June 2, 1955; shipments of the current crop of such peaches are expected to begin on or about June 25, 1955, and this section should be applicable to all shipments of such peaches in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 12, 1955, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., November 1, 1955, no shipper shall ship:

(i) Any package or container of Elberta peaches unless such peaches meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 1 Grade: Provided, That (a) with respect to ripe Elberta peaches, the requirements of the U. S. No. 1 Grade regarding freedom from damage, other than serious damage, caused by bruises need not be met; and (b) with respect to peaches which are of a size not smaller than the size known commercially as size 55 (as size 55 is defined more specifically in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph), a tolerance of 5 percent for defects not causing serious damage is allowed in addition to the tolerances provided for such U. S. No. 1 Grade;

(ii) Any package or container of Elberta peaches unless at least 85 percent, by count, of such peaches are well matured (as such term is defined in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph);

(iii) Any package or container of Elberta peaches containing more than one peach which is immature: Provided, That no lot of packages or containers of Elberta peaches may be shipped if more than one-half of one percent, by count, of the peaches in the lot are immature; or

(iv) Any package or container of Elberta peaches containing peaches which are of a size smaller than a size that will pack 78 peaches of the size known commercially as size 75 (as size 75 is defined more specifically in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph) in a No. 12B California peach box in accordance with the requirements prescribed for a standard pack: Provided, That, for the purpose of determining whether ripe Elberta peaches meet the said minimum size, such peaches may be fairly tightly packed rather than tightly packed, as prescribed for such standard pack.

(2) Peaches which are "well matured" means peaches which, at the time of picking; (i) are not hard; (ii) have shoulders and sutures well filled out; (iii) when ring cut, have flesh that separates from the pit readily and cleanly, and is red colored next to the pit; and (iv) have skin and flesh yellowish green to yellow in color. "Peaches which are not hard" yield to moderate pressure at least slightly at the suture and tip and at least very slightly elsewhere.

(3) As used in this section, the size of Elberta peaches known commercially as size 75 is defined more specifically as being the size that will pack the aforesaid California peach box in accordance with the aforesaid standard pack specifications with two tiers each having three rows of six peaches and three rows of seven peaches with not more than 10 percent, by count, of such peaches small enough to pass through, without using pressure, a rigid ring of inside diameter of 2¼ inches.

(4) As used in this section, the size of Elberta peaches known commercially as size 55 is defined more specifically as being the size that will pack the aforesaid California peach box in accordance with the aforesaid standard pack specifications with two tiers, one tier having two rows of five peaches each and three rows of six peaches each and the other tier having two rows of six peaches each and three rows of five peaches each with not more than 10 percent, by count, of such peaches small enough to pass through, without using pressure, a rigid ring of inside diameter of 2¾ inches.

(5) Section 936.143 of the rules and regulations, as amended (§ 936.100 et seq.) sets forth the requirements with respect to the inspection and certification of shipments of Elberta peaches. Such section also prescribes the conditions which must be met if any shipment is to be made without prior inspection and certification. Notwithstanding that shipments may be made without inspection and certification, each shipper shall comply with all grade and size regulations applicable to the respective shipment.

(6) Terms used in the amended marketing agreement and order shall, when used in this section, have the same meaning as given to the respective term in said amended marketing agreement and order; the terms "U. S. No. 1 Grade," "bruises," "defects," "damage," "serious damage," "standard pack," "tightly packed," "fairly tightly packed" shall have the same meaning as when used in the United States Standards for peaches (§§ 51.1210 to 51.1223 of this title); the term "No. 12B California peach box" shall have the same meaning as set forth in section 828.25 of the Agricultural Code of California.

[Lemon Reg. 593]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATIONS OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.700 Lemon Regulation 593—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 19 F. R. 7175; 20 F. R. 2913), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on June 8, 1955, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 12, 1955, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 19, 1955, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 625 carloads;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) As used in this section, "handled," "carloads," "District 1," "District 2," and "District 3" shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Regs. No. SR-406A]

PART 4b—AIRPLANE AIRWORTHINESS; TRANSPORT CATEGORIES

PART 40—SCHEDULED INTERSTATE AIR CARRIER CERTIFICATION AND OPERATION RULES

PART 41—CERTIFICATION AND OPERATION RULES FOR SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER OPERATIONS OUTSIDE THE CONTINENTAL LIMITS OF THE UNITED STATES

PART 42—IRREGULAR AIR CARRIER AND OFF-ROUTE RULES

SPECIAL CIVIL AIR REGULATION; APPLICATION OF TRANSPORT CATEGORY PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS TO C-46 TYPE AIRPLANES

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 7th day of June 1955.

On June 30, 1954, the Civil Aeronautics Board adopted Special Civil Air Regulation SR-406, effective July 1, 1954, (19 F. R. 4106) which provides the basis for the modification and operation of C-46 type airplanes in passenger service. Since the adoption of SR-406, the Board has found that certain amendments to that regulation, of a substantive and clarifying nature, are necessary.

By October 1, 1955, the C-46 is required to be so modified as to comply with all of the requirements of Part 4b, effective July 20, 1950, except the flight requirements of §§ 4b.100 through 4b.190 and the birdproof windshield requirements of § 4b.352. However, in order to assure a sufficiency high minimum level of safety of C-46 airplanes in passenger service, this regulation amends the provisions of SR-406 to require compliance by October 1, 1955, with more modern powerplant fire protection requirements which, subsequent to July 20, 1950, were incorporated into Part 4b of the Civil Air Regulations by amendment.

On and after April 1, 1956, the C-46 is required to meet the performance operating limitations applicable to transport category airplanes. Although SR-406 contained an alternative which permitted the use of a drift-down procedure in lieu of literal compliance with the transport category one-engine-inoperative en route performance operating limitation, this has been deleted from this regulation since the Board has adopted amendments to Parts 40, 41, and 42 of the Civil Air Regulations which make substantially the same drift-down provisions available for all transport category airplanes.

Pending the coming into force on April 1, 1956, of the transport category performance operating limitations with respect to C-46 airplanes, this regulation permits the C-46 to be used in passenger service under the same provisions which were originally contained in Special Civil Air Regulation SR-391 and later incorporated in SR-406. These provisions are the current basis for the establishment of C-46 weights and are continued in this regulation to permit sufficient time for full compliance with all other provisions contained herein. They may be used, however, only by operators who have made a showing to the Administrator that genuine arrangements for such modifications have been initiated.

In SR-406, the Administrator was given certain discretionary authority in applying the requirements of Subparts C, D, and E of Part 4b where strict compliance with these provisions was extremely difficult of accomplishment and would not contribute materially to the objective sought. This provision has been extended to include, along with the aforementioned subparts, §§ 4b.130 through 4b.190 of Subpart B and Subpart F of Part 4b. In exercising this discretion, it is intended that the Administrator will examine the service history of the C-46 and authorize deviation from these rules in instances in which a satisfactory level of safety has in fact been demonstrated.

In addition, certain changes to provisions of SR-406 are included in this regulation which are of a clarifying nature. Among the clarifications is the addition of § 4b.116 which identifies one of the conditions in which the propeller of the inoperative engine may be assumed to be in the feathered position if the airplane is equipped with either an approved automatic indication or an automatic feathering system. It is intended that performance credit for an automatic indication system be determined on the same basis as it is for an automatic feathering system, assuming that the manual feathering button is actuated immediately upon indication of the engine failure.

Since the adoption of SR-406, a number of inquiries have been received concerning future regulatory action by the Board which would affect the C-46 airplane in cargo operations. The Board is currently conducting a study of the overall problem of rules for airplanes in cargo operations. This study primarily concerns airplane operating weights and it is expected to include the C-46 as well as other cargo airplanes. Until this study is completed, the Board considers that no increases in the presently approved maximum weights for C-46 airplanes in cargo service should be authorized unless such increases are approved by showing compliance with all of the provisions of this Special Civil Air Regulation.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this regulation and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby makes and promulgates the following Special Civil Air Regulation, effective June 7, 1955:

1. Contrary provisions of the Civil Air Regulations notwithstanding (in particular the provisions of § 42.15 (b), C-46 airplanes may be used in passenger operations conducted under Part 42 of the Civil Air Regulations. Such airplanes shall be operated in accordance with § 42.15 (a) and the provisions of this special regulation.

2. C-46 type airplanes when used for the carriage of passengers for remuneration or hire in accordance with paragraph 4 of this regulation shall not be operated at weights exceeding those which it is demonstrated to the Administrator will allow compliance with the performance requirements of Part 4b, except that in determining the maximum take-off weight, such weight shall be limited only to a value at which the airplane has a rate of climb equal to 0.035 $V_{S_1}^2$ in the take-off configuration at sea level with the landing gear retracted but with the propeller of the inoperative engine feathered rather than windmilling.

3. Provisionally, pending a determination by the Administrator of the weights at which C-46 airplanes will meet the standards prescribed by paragraph 2 of this regulation, the maximum take-off weight of such airplanes, when used in the manner herein referred to, shall not exceed 44,300 pounds: Provided, That in the case of C-46 airplanes equipped with Hamilton Standard propellers with blades Model Number 6491A-9 or approved equivalent which have been clipped in accordance with specifications approved by the Administrator, such provisional maximum weight shall be increased by 1,000 pounds until such time as the Administrator shall have determined by suitable tests another value to correspond to the additional efficiency obtainable by the use of such propellers, and thereafter by such other value.

4. The Administrator of Civil Aeronautics shall authorize continued operation of C-46 airplanes in passenger service in accordance with paragraphs 2 and 3 of this regulation until April 1, 1956, if he finds that the applicant for such authorization has made and continues to make genuine efforts to arrange for and accomplish compliance with paragraph 5 of this regulation.

5. On and after October 1, 1955, C-46 airplanes in passenger service shall comply with the provisions of Part 4b as in effect on July 20, 1950, except as otherwise provided hereinafter:

a. Upon application by an air carrier filed prior to October 1, 1955, the Administrator may further authorize such air carrier to operate without full compliance with the requirements of paragraph 5 where the Administrator finds that the air carrier has made a diligent effort to meet these requirements by October 1, 1955, and that the air carrier has shown that it will comply with such requirements at the earliest possible time.

b. The provisions of §§ 4b.0 through 4b.19 of Part 4b, effective May 18, 1954, shall be complied with.

c. The provisions of §§ 4b.100 through 4b.190 need not be complied with.

d. The birdproof windshield requirements of § 4b.352 need not be complied with.

e. The provisions of §§ 4b.480 through 4b.490 effective May 16, 1953, shall be complied with in lieu of §§ 4b.480 through 4b.489 effective July 20, 1950, with the exception of § 4b.484 (a) (1) which shall be applicable as effective July 20, 1950, and § 4b.487 (e) which has no counterpart in the 1950 regulations.

6. On and after April 1, 1956, C-46 airplanes in passenger service shall be recertificated in the transport category in accordance with paragraph 5 of this regulation, and shall comply with the provisions of §§ 4b.100 through 4b.190 with the following exception: In determining the takeoff path in accordance with § 4b.116 and the one-engine-inoperative climb in accordance with § 4b.120 (a) and (b), the propeller of the inoperative engine may be assumed to be feathered if there is installed either an approved means for automatically indicating when the particular engine has failed or an approved means for automatically feathering the propeller of the inoperative engine.

7. In applying the provisions of paragraphs 5 and 6 of this regulation, where literal compliance with the requirements of §§ 4b.130 through 4b.190 of Subpart B and Subparts C, D, E, and F of Part 4b is extremely difficult to accomplish, and where the Administrator finds that service experience with the C-46 type airplane so justifies, the Administrator may authorize deviations from specific details of these requirements, taking into account the effect of design changes.

8. On or after April 1, 1956, C-46 airplanes in passenger service shall be operated in accordance with the performance operating limitations applicable to transport category airplanes.

9. C-46 airplanes which comply with the provisions of paragraphs 5 and 6 of this regulation may be used in passenger operations conducted under the provisions of Parts 40 and 41 provided they are operated in accordance with paragraph 8.

10. This Special Civil Air Regulation supersedes Special Civil Air Regulation SR-406.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply secs. 601, 603, 604, 52 Stat. 1007, 1009, 1010, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551, 553, 554)

[Policy Statement 1]

PART 399—STATEMENTS OF GENERAL POLICY

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of May 1955.

Section 3 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act requires every agency to state separately and publish currently in the FEDERAL REGISTER its statements of general policy. The purpose of this regulation is to provide a standardized form and procedure for carrying out this requirement and for codifying any future statements of policy which may be issued.

In a certain sense every decision of the Board in its quasi-judicial capacity represents a statement of policy. Similarly, the promulgation of a regulation under its quasi-legislative authority may be the only express manifestation of a policy. It would be impractical to restate each of the policies so enunciated and print them separately in this part, and indeed such a procedure would be contrary to the intent of Congress as expressed in the Administrative Procedure Act, since in the one case that act specifically excludes from this requirement rules addressed to and served upon named persons in accordance with law, and in the other, the policy is embedded in and inseparable from a general substantive rule. Thus, policies which have been expressed wholly in connection with the taking of a decision or through the enactment of a substantive or procedural rule will not be restated as statements of policy in this part.

In addition to the foregoing, the Board's basic policies have already been laid down for it by the Congress in the Civil Aeronautics Act. Not only have the Board's authority, powers and duties been set forth at length in that act, but the general policies which it must follow have been prescribed in section 2. A repetition or restatement of these policies is therefore unnecessary. Moreover, the Board's power to prescribe policy is limited by the necessity for complete compatability between its general policies and the policies laid down in the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938. In this connection it should be noted that a statement of policy issued by the Board is merely an agency rule under the Administrative Procedure Act, and as such cannot contravene or override statute, including the statement of policy contained in the Civil Aeronautics Act. Consequently, if as a result of its consideration in any given case, the Board finds that the statement of policy set down in the Civil Aeronautics Act runs counter to any statement of policy published in this part, the latter must obviously give way to the former.

Part 399 has been divided into two subparts, Subpart A dealing with the applicability, arrangement, and effect of the policy statements, which are included in Subpart B. It should be noted that no attempt has been made to arrange the policy statements in any order other than chronological. Each new policy statement issued hereunder by the Board will receive the next consecutive number in sequence. Except for deletions of policy statements no longer in effect, no attempt will be made as a general rule to amend any policy statement, but a new policy statement will be issued bearing a new number, and the old one which it supersedes will be repealed.

Since this rule relates only to statements of policy, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary, and the regulation may be made effective upon less than 30 days' notice.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby enacts Part 399 of its regulations, effective May 25, 1955, to read as follows:

Subpart A—Applicability, Arrangement, and Effect of Policy Statements

Sec.
399.0 Applicability of part.
399.1 Exclusions.
399.2 Statements in other Board documents.
399.3 Arrangement.

Subpart B—Statements of Policy

399.10 Airworthiness revisions to be on annual basis.
399.11 Promulgation of airworthiness requirements.
399.12 Transatlantic charter policy.
399.13 Temporary mail rates involving subsidy.
399.14 Rate policy applicable to nonsubsidized carriers.
399.15 Rate policy applicable to subsidized carriers.
399.16 Local-service carrier certificates to indicate nature of operations specifically.
399.17 Issuance of foreign air carrier permits for Canadian transborder operations in small aircraft.
399.18 Unfair and deceptive practices of ticket agents.
399.19 Domestic coach policy.
399.20 Negotiation by air carriers for landing rights in foreign countries.
399.21 Standard provisions in foreign air carrier permits.
399.22 Air carrier reporting delinquencies.
399.23 Post-capitalization and amortization of expenses.
399.24 Exceptions for rate-making purposes.
399.25 Confidential treatment of preliminary year-end reports.
399.26 Investigation of accidents involving foreign aircraft.
399.27 Procedures for permanent certification of local service carriers (added June 1, 1955).

AUTHORITY: §§ 399.1 to 399.27 issued under sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425.

SUBPART A—APPLICABILITY, ARRANGEMENT, AND EFFECT OF POLICY STATEMENTS

§ 399.0 Applicability of part. Except as provided in § 399.1, all general statements of policy of the Board, both substantive and administrative in nature will, to the extent such policies affect the public, be published in this part and will be followed by the Board until rescinded or their stated expiration date, whichever shall first occur.

§ 399.1 Exclusions. The following types of policies will not be included in this part:

(a) Policies relating solely to the internal management of the Board;

(b) Policies requiring secrecy in the public interest, or the interest of national defense;

(c) Policies which are repetitive or duplicative of § 2 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended;

(d) Policies the complete expression of which is found in a procedural or substantive rule of the Board, or in any opinion, decision, order, certificate, permit, exemption, rule, regulation or waiver of the Board;

(e) Expressions of hope, admonition, or encouragement to industry to follow a certain course of action.

(f) Positions on legislative items and other matters which are outside the scope of the Board's current statutory powers and duties.

§ 399.2 Statements in other Board documents. No statement contained in any Board opinion, decision, order, certificate, permit, exemption, or waiver, shall be considered a statement of policy within the meaning of this part, even though such statements may constitute a precedent in future cases or declare future policy to be followed in like cases. Similarly, a denial by the Board of relief sought, and statements of the Board's reasons for failure to issue a rule upon which rule-making proceedings have been commenced shall not be considered to be statements of policy except to the extent that it is specifically stated that such denial or failure is based upon a policy thereafter to be followed.

§ 399.3 Arrangement. All policies which are subject to inclusion in this part, and in effect on the effective date of this part, are included in Subpart B of this part, chronologically arranged in the order of their adoption. Future policies will be issued as statements of policies, and will be assigned the next consecutive number in sequence. Except in the case of policies which cease to be applicable by reason of the expiration of the period of effectiveness specifically stated therein, policies will be rescinded by a subsequent statement of policy when the earlier policy is amended or ceases to apply.

§ 399.4 Nature and effect of policy statements. Policy statements published in this part will remain in effect and be observed by the Board until rescinded or repealed, or in the case of a policy of specified duration, until the expiration date, if not sooner rescinded or repealed. Changes in policy may be made without advance notice to the public and will become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Moreover, should it appear to the Board in its consideration of any matter before it that the application of a published policy as set forth in this part would run counter to an express provision of law or policy enunciated by Congress in the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, such published policy shall not be applicable to such matter.

SUBPART B—STATEMENTS OF POLICY

§ 399.10 Airworthiness revisions to be on annual basis. It is the policy of the Board that, except for rules of an emergency nature the immediate adoption of which is necessary in the interest of safety, airworthiness rules and revisions to the airworthiness parts will be on an annual basis. The cycle will commence on or about the first of January in each year through the issuance of a general release by the Board's Bureau of Safety Regulation, requesting comments and specific proposals for deletions, additions, or amendments to any of the airworthiness parts. In the spring of each year the Board's staff will conduct a study of all the comments and proposals received, together with its own proposals and those received from the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics. All proposals will be assembled in the form of a tentative agenda for an annual airworthiness meeting of all concerned. A second release will be circulated to the public, announcing the annual meeting and presenting the agenda. Thereafter, the meeting with all interested persons will be held usually during the month of September, and will cover, in most cases, a period of several days. Thereafter, all items which are considered necessary and sufficiently developed for regulatory action will be published in the form of a notice of proposed rulemaking, setting forth specific proposed amendments to the Civil Air Regulations. Comments thereafter received as a result of the publication of the proposed annual revision will be given careful consideration and will be adopted and made generally effective by January 1.

§ 399.11 Promulgation of airworthiness requirements. It is the policy of the Board, in promulgating Civil Air Regulations dealing with airworthiness requirements for aircraft and components, to follow the principles set forth hereafter in this section.

(a) The technical rules in the airworthiness regulations should confine themselves to material which has been substantiated as being essential to safety.

(b) The administrative rules in the airworthiness regulations should be minimized in scope to the extent commensurate with their effect on safety.

(c) The individual provisions in the airworthiness regulations should not impede new design development, should reflect the latest state of the art, and should require only such techniques and equipment as are available and proven reliable.

(d) The airworthiness regulations should not include rules to attain safety objectives which can be attained more effectively by means other than regulations.

(e) If an accident or other service experience with a certain aircraft, or component type suggests a change in the airworthiness regulations, caution should be exercised in making the new rule applicable to all aircraft or component types, lest it be inappropriate for general application.

(f) Detail design practices which have been generally adopted by the industry should not for that reason alone be included in the airworthiness regulations.

(g) Changes in the airworthiness regulations should be promulgated only periodically through a procedure such as the annual review, except in those instances where safety considerations dictate urgency of implementation.

§ 399.12 Transatlantic charter policy. It is the policy of the Board, applicable to the 1955 summer season, not to grant broad or general exemptions for transatlantic charter operations, but to consider only exemption applications filed by air carriers covering specific proposed charter movements. The basis on which such charter applications will be granted has been liberalized over past practice, and all such applications which conform to the conditions set forth in the Board's Opinion dated May 20, 1955, in Docket No. 7099 will be processed and decided in accordance with the standards set forth in such opinion. All exemption orders issued will be made subject to the terms, conditions and limitations therein expressed.

§ 399.13 Temporary mail rates involving subsidy. It is the policy of the Board to fix temporary mail rates involving subsidy at a level designed to provide only such amounts as are deemed necessary for operations prior to the establishment of a final rate but in no case less than the service mail rate. In most cases, this objective may be attained by providing an amount of mail pay equivalent to the breakeven need—i. e., the excess of operating expenses over nonmail revenues.

§ 399.14 Rate policy applicable to nonsubsidized carriers. It is the policy of the Board that rate levels should reflect cyclical needs, rather than the needs of any particular year. In examining mail or commercial rate proposals, the Board will consider not only the conditions prevailing at the time the proposals are advanced, but also the future prospects and the abnormal earnings of prior years. Accordingly, if earnings should fall markedly after a period during which they have been at high levels, the carriers will be expected to absorb such losses without resort to mail or commercial rate adjustments, unless it can be demonstrated that such earnings are below the level necessary to provide a fair return over a reasonably extended period which includes the good years as well as the bad.

§ 399.15 Rate policy applicable to subsidized carriers. It is the policy of the Board to permit subsidized carriers maximum freedom to experiment, in interstate and overseas air transportation, with commercial rate changes for the purpose of maximizing revenues and thereby minimizing subsidy requirements, provided that resulting rates are not otherwise unreasonable.

§ 399.16 Local-service carrier certificates to indicate nature of operations specifically. It is the policy of the Board to include a provision in the certificates of all local air service carriers to make it clear that their operations are definitely local air transportation, as distinguished from the service rendered by scheduled trunkline air carriers. The language which will be so included is as follows:

> This certificate is issued pursuant to a determination of policy by the Civil Aeronautics Board that in the discharge of its obligation to encourage and develop air transportation under the Civil Aeronautics Act, as amended, it is in the public interest to establish certain air carriers who will be primarily engaged in short-haul air transportation as distinguished from the service rendered by trunkline air carriers. In accepting the certificate the holder acknowledges and agrees that the primary purpose of the certificate is to authorize it and require it to offer short-haul air transportation service of the character described above.

§ 399.17 Issuance of foreign air carrier permits for Canadian transborder operations in small aircraft. It is the policy of the Board, in accordance with a reciprocal understanding with the Air Transport Board of Canada, published March 13, 1952, to facilitate so far as possible under existing law the issuance of foreign air carrier permits to Canadian operators of small aircraft for irregular transborder operations in common carriage. Authorizations granted under this procedure will be only for service of a casual, occasional, and infrequent nature and will be limited to three years' duration. Where requested, permission will customarily be granted, if statutory standards are met, to serve more than one point in the United States on the same flight, provided that no cabotage traffic is carried.

§ 399.18 Unfair and deceptive practices of ticket agents. It is the policy of the Board to regard any of the following enumerated practices (among others) by a ticket agent as an unfair or deceptive practice or unfair method of competition:

(a) Misrepresentations[1] which may induce members of the public to believe that the ticket agent is an air carrier.

(b) Using or displaying or permitting or suffering to be used or displayed the name, trade name, slogan or any abbreviation thereof, of the ticket agent, in advertisements, on or in places of business, or on aircraft in connection with the name of an air carrier with whom it does business, in such manner that it may mislead or confuse the traveling public with respect to the agency status of the ticket agent.

(c) Misrepresentations as to the quality or kind of service, type or size of aircraft, time of departure or arrival, points served, route to be flown, stops to be made, or total trip-time from point of departure to destination.

(d) Misrepresentation as to qualifications of pilots or safety record or certification of pilots, aircraft, or air carriers.

(e) Misrepresentations that passengers are directly insured when they are not so insured; for example, where the only insurance in force is that protecting the air carrier in event of liability.

(f) Misrepresentations as to fares and charges for air transportation or services in connection therewith.

(g) Misrepresentation that special discounts or reductions are available, when such discounts or reductions are not specified in the lawful tariffs of the air carrier which is to perform the transportation.

(h) Advertising or otherwise offering for sale or selling air transportation or services in connection therewith at less than the rates, fares and charges specified in the currently effective tariffs of the air carrier or air carriers who are engaged to performed such air transportation or services, or offering or giving rebates or other concessions thereon, or assisting, suffering or permitting persons to obtain such air transportation or services at less than such lawful rates, fares and charges.

(i) Misrepresentations that special priorities for reservations are available when such special considerations are not in fact granted to members of the public generally.

(j) Selling air transportation to persons on a reservation or charter basis for a specified space, flight or time, or representing that such definite reservation or charter is or will be available or has been arranged, without a binding commitment with an air carrier for the furnishing of such definite reservation or charter as represented or sold.

(k) Selling or issuing tickets or other documents to passengers to be exchanged or used for air transportation knowing or having reason to know or believe that such tickets or other documents will not be or cannot be legally honored by air carriers for air transportation.

(l) Failing or refusing to make proper refunds promptly when service cannot be performed as contracted or representing that such refunds are obtainable only at some other point thus depriving persons of the immediate use of the money to arrange other transportation, or forcing them to suffer unnecessary inconveniences and delays or requiring them to accept transportation at higher cost, or under less desirable circumstances, or on less desirable aircraft than that represented at the time of sale.

(m) Misrepresentations regarding the handling, forwarding or routing of baggage or other property, or the loss or tracing thereof, or failing or refusing to honor proper claims for loss or damage to baggage or other property.

§ 399.19 Domestic coach policy. It is the policy of the Board to encourage regular coach service by the certificated air carriers as one means of achieving the maximum development of civil aviation in the United States through placing air travel within the economic reach of the great majority of the traveling public. For the purpose of this policy, coach operations will be divided into two main classes: Off-peak services and high density services.

(a) Off-peak services are reduced fare services which have as their primary objective the additional utilization of available equipment and facilities with flights departing at such times—particularly during the night hours—as would make their operation in first class service uneconomic because of the inconvenience of the departure time.

(b) High density services are reduced fare services which are conducted, without restriction as to flight departure time, in aircraft specifically equipped for and assigned to such service and having the applicable minimum seating capacity set forth below:

DC–4	64
DC–6	72
DC–6B	76
Constellation 049 to 749	79
Constellation 1049	88

NOTE: Maximum seating density is governed by the Civil Air Regulations.

(c) Food service. No free food service except for coffee or similar beverages will be permitted on either off-peak or high density service.

(d) Fare differentials: Both high density and off-peak services will be subject to a fare ceiling of 75 percent of the corresponding first class fare.

§ 399.20 Negotiation by air carriers for landing rights in foreign countries. (a) It is the policy of the Board (jointly with the Department of State) that, as a general rule, landing rights abroad for American air carriers will be acquired through U. S. Government negotiation with foreign governments rather than by direct negotiation between a carrier and a foreign government.

(b) It is corollary to the foregoing policy that no United States air carrier may avail itself of representations by one foreign government to further its interest with another foreign government, especially with respect to landing rights, except insofar as such representations have been specifically authorized by the United States Government.

§ 399.21 Standard provisions in foreign air carrier permits. It is the policy of the Board to include provisions in the permits issued to foreign air carriers to provide:

(a) That the permit shall be subject to all applicable provisions of any agreement affecting international air transportation now in effect or which may become effective during the period of the agreement entered into by the U. S. and the foreign government concerned;

(b) That in accepting the permit, the holder waives any right it may possess to assert any defense of sovereign immunity from suit in an action based on claims arising out of its operation.

§ 399.22 Air carrier reporting delinquencies. It is the policy of the Board to permit, under the Uniform System of Accounts prescribed by the Board, extensions of time for filing reports upon receipt of a written request setting forth good and sufficient reason to justify granting the requested extension, provided such request is submitted sufficiently in advance of the due date to permit proper consideration and communication to the carrier of the action taken. It is the policy of the Board that, in the absence of extensions in report filing dates, petitions for increased mail rates filed by carriers whose periodic reports are in arrears will not be processed until all overdue reports are filed.

§ 399.23 Post-capitalization and amortization of expenses. It is the policy of the Board for accounting and reporting purposes to adhere strictly to the principle that costs once charged to expense within one fiscal year shall not be reversed and capitalized in a subsequent fiscal year for amortization against operations of future periods.

§ 399.24 Exceptions for rate-making purposes. It is the policy of the Board to permit retroactive accounting adjustments where necessary to conform books with adjustments required by the Board for rate-making purposes.

§ 399.25 Confidential treatment of preliminary year-end reports. It is the policy of the Board to accord confidential treatment to preliminary year-end carrier reports upon request of individual carriers, with the proviso that such confidential treatment will be accorded the preliminary reports only until final reports are filed or until the date such reports are due, whichever occurs first.

§ 399.26 Investigation of accidents involving foreign aircraft. It is the policy of the Board, in the case of accidents to aircraft of foreign air carriers that occur in this country, to investigate to the extent necessary to furnish the foreign government a full report of all facts, conditions, and circumstances, as well as the probable cause. This may or may not require a public hearing.

[1] The word "misrepresentation" used in this section includes any statement or representation made in advertising or made orally to members of the public which is false, fraudulent, deceptive or misleading, or which has the tendency or capacity to deceive or mislead.

§ 399.27 Procedures for permanent certification of local service carriers (added June 1, 1955). It is the policy of the Board, in implementing legislation relative to the permanent certification of the local service carriers (Public Law 38, 84th Congress) to apply the following procedures:

(a) These proceedings will be limited to the issues inherent in the grant of permanent certificates to the carriers and the determination of those intermediate points to be certificated on a temporary basis. Each local service air carrier must file an application under the new statute. Following the filing of such an application, the Board proposes to issue show cause orders indicating those stations which, on the basis of its preliminary judgment, warrant permanent certification, and those other stations which, because of their more marginal traffic record are tentatively believed to warrant temporary rather than permanent certification.

(b) The Board intends to rely largely on an industry-wide traffic standard, which will tend to assure equitable treatment among the cities involved. After analysis of the latest available data, the Board has concluded that an average of five or more passengers enplaned per day (approximately 300 per month on and off per station) should provide a reasonable basis for initial selection of the group of intermediate stations for permanent certification. In the absence of further evidence, those stations enplaning fewer than five per day would receive temporary designation. While the Board does not intend to restrict the right of any party to submit relevant evidentiary material, the Board believes that the record in the proceedings covering those points identified for permanent certification could be limited, largely, if not entirely, to stipulated data. Additional evidence, therefore, might be necessary only as to those points tentatively identified for temporary certification, thus speeding the issuance of the permanent certificates. In regard to the latter group of stations the Board wishes to emphasize that no station which is eligible for either permanent or temporary certification will lose service as a result of these proceedings. Further, although any city listed in the show cause order as warranting temporary certification may, of course, submit evidence in support of permanent authorization, such a presentation is not essential at this time. Such cities will be afforded an opportunity to demonstrate their ability to generate a sufficient volume of traffic to warrant a continuation of scheduled service and to make a further presentation in a later proceeding.

(c) The permanent certificate proceedings will be scheduled for processing in the order in which the carriers' existing temporary certificates expire. They will be given priority over other local service cases.

(d) Under this schedule the permanent certificate proceedings covering Southwest Airways and Trans-Texas Airways will be among the first to be handled. It is not contemplated that show cause orders will be necessary for these two carriers, since there are formal proceedings now near completion concerned with the temporary or permanent renewal of these carriers' routes as well as certain route amendment proposals. It is presently hoped that the decisions in these two cases will be issued concurrently with decisions on permanent certification for Southwest and Trans-Texas.

(e) Because of the restriction of the issues to those largely non-controversial in nature, and in order to assure the most efficient use of available staff essential to the most rapid processing of these cases, public hearings in the permanent certificate proceedings will be held in Washington.

(f) Although consideration of proposed route extensions and modifications of local service routes must necessarily be delayed somewhat in order to give priority to the permanent certificate applications, the Board plans to consider such proposals as soon as possible in appropriate individual or consolidated proceedings.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[Docket 5722]

PART 13—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

WHITAKER CABLE CORP.

Subpart—Discriminating in price under section 2, Clayton Act, as amended—Price discrimination under 2 (a): § 13.725 Cumulative quantity discounts and schedules; § 13.755 Pooling orders of chain stores and buying groups. In connection with the sale for replacement purposes of automotive cable products and related items in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Clayton Act, discriminating in the price of such products of like grade and quality: (1) By selling to any one purchaser at net prices higher than the net prices charged to any other purchaser who, in fact, competes with the purchaser paying the higher price in the resale and distribution of respondent's products; and (2) by selling to any indirect purchaser at net prices higher than the net prices charged any other direct or indirect purchaser who, in fact, competes with the purchaser paying the higher price in the resale and distribution of respondent's products; prohibited.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 721; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 2, 49 Stat. 1526; 15 U. S. C. 13) [Cease and desist order, Whitaker Cable Corporation, North Kansas City, Mo., Docket 5722, April 29, 1955.]

This proceeding was heard by Earl J. Kolb, hearing examiner, upon the complaint of the Commission which charged respondent with discriminating in price between different purchasers of its products in violation of subsection (a) of section 2 of the Clayton Act, as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act, upon respondent's answer thereto, hearings at which testimony and other evidence, duly recorded and filed in the office of the Commission, in support of and in opposition to, the allegations of the complaint were introduced before said hearing examiner, theretofore duly designated by the Commission.

Thereafter the proceeding regularly came on for final consideration by said hearing examiner on the complaint, answer thereto, testimony and other evidence, and proposed findings as to the facts and conclusions presented by counsel, and said hearing examiner, having duly considered the record in the matter, made his initial decision, comprising certain findings as to the facts,[1] conclusions drawn therefrom,[1] and order to cease and desist.

Thereafter, following appeals from said initial decision of the hearing examiner by counsel supporting the complaint and by respondent, in which respondent excepted to numerous specific findings and conclusions of fact and law in the initial decision, as well as to certain conduct and rulings of the hearing examiner and to the hearing examiner's failure to make certain findings, and in which the appeal of counsel supporting the complaint related only to a certain finding of the hearing examiner with regard to the effect of a contractual relationship between respondent and Willard Storage Battery Company and its customers, as not such as to constitute Willard's customers as purchasers from respondent within the meaning of the act, the matter was disposed of by the Commission's "Final Order," dated April 29, 1955, following the opinion and decision of the Commission in the matter, as follows:

Counsel supporting the complaint and respondent Whitaker Cable Corporation having respectively filed on March 19, 1954, and April 30, 1954, their cross-appeals from the initial decision of the hearing examiner in this proceeding; and the matter having been heard by the Commission on briefs and oral argument; and the Commission having rendered its decision denying the appeals and affirming the initial decision:

It is ordered, That respondent Whitaker Cable Corporation shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order contained in said initial decision.

The order to cease and desist in said initial decision, thus made the decision of the Commission, is as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent Whitaker Cable Corporation, a corporation, and its officers, representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the sale for replacement purposes of automotive cable products and related items in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Clayton Act, do forthwith cease and desist from discriminating in the price of such products of like grade and quality—

1. By selling to any one purchaser at net prices higher than the net prices charged to any other purchaser who, in fact, competes with the purchaser paying the higher price in the resale and distribution of respondent's products.

2. By selling to any indirect purchaser at net prices higher than the net prices charged any other direct or indirect purchaser who, in fact, competes with the purchaser paying the higher price in the resale and distribution of respondent's products.

Issued: April 29, 1955.

Respondent Moog Industries, Inc., having filed on July 13, 1954, its appeal from the initial decision of the hearing examiner in this proceeding; and the matter having been heard by the Commission on briefs and oral argument; and the Commission having rendered its decision denying the appeal and affirming the initial decision:

It is ordered, That respondent Moog Industries, Inc., shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order contained in said initial decision.

PART 13—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

E. EDELMANN & CO.

Subpart—Discriminating in price under section 2, Clayton Act, as amended—Price discrimination under 2 (a): § 13.700 Arbitrary functional discounts; § 13.755 Pooling orders of chain stores and buying groups; § 13.770 Quantity rebates or discounts. In or in connection with the sale of automotive products in commerce, and on the part of respondent corporation, and its officers, representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, discriminating, directly or indirectly, in the price of said automotive products of like grade and quality, by selling to any direct or indirect purchaser at net prices higher than the net prices charged any other purchaser, direct or indirect, competing in fact in the resale and distribution of said products; prohibited.

This proceeding was heard by Frank Hier, hearing examiner, upon the complaint of the Commission which charged respondent with discriminating in price between its customers competitively engaged in the resale of respondent's automotive products, with the result that the effect might be substantially to lessen competition and tend to create a monopoly in the line of commerce in which respondent and its competitors were engaged and in the line of commerce in which respondent's customers and its competitors' customers were engaged, and also to injure, destroy, or prevent competition with respondent, with the favored customers, or with the customers of either of them; in violation of section 2 of the Clayton Act; and upon respondent's amended answer which admitted that it sold its products in interstate commerce, that it had competitors, that its customers competed in the resale of such products with purchasers from its competitors, and that it sold its products to different purchasers at different prices, but denied the effects alleged of such sales and affirmatively alleged that any price differences at which it sold were made in good faith to meet an equally low price of a competitor.

Thereafter, following various proceedings, including the reception of testimony and other evidence, and the making by said hearing examiner of his initial decision, comprising certain findings as to the facts[1] and conclusions,[1] and order to cease and desist; appeal from said initial decision by counsel supporting the complaint, in which counsel urged that the decision below should have ruled differently with respect to certain evidence presented by respondent in the course of its defense; appeal by counsel for respondent in which it was contended that the rulings that respondent's pricing practices had been in violation of law, were erroneous in their entirety; and the rendering by the Commission of its opinion and decision, the matter was disposed of by the Commission's "Final Order", dated April 29, 1955, as follows:

Counsel supporting the complaint and respondent E. Edelmann & Company, having respectively filed on May 28, 1954, and June 1, 1954, their cross appeals from the initial decision of the hearing examiner in this proceeding; and the matter having been heard by the Commission on briefs and oral argument; and the Commission having rendered its decision denying the appeal of counsel supporting the complaint and granting in part and denying in part the appeal of respondent and affirming the initial decision as modified:

It is ordered, That the order contained in the initial decision be, and it hereby is, modified (1) by adding the words "and its officers, representatives, agents and employees" immediately following the words "E. Edelmann & Company, a corporation," and (2) by striking from such order the words "for replacement purposes."

It is further ordered, That the respondent E. Edelmann & Company shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order contained in the initial decision as modified.

The order to cease and desist in said initial decision, thus made the decision of the Commission subject to the aforesaid modifications, is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent E. Edelmann & Company, a corporation,[2] directly or through any corporate or other device, in or in connection with the sale, for replacement purposes, of automotive products in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Clayton Act as amended, do forthwith cease and desist from discriminating, directly or indirectly, in the price of said automotive products of like grade and quality, by selling to any direct or indirect purchaser at net prices higher than the net prices charged any other purchaser, direct or indirect, competing in fact in the resale and distribution of said products.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE, 1954

Chapter I—Internal Revenue Service, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter A—Income Tax

[T. D. 6134]

REGULATIONS PRESCRIBED UNDER SECTIONS 452 AND 462 OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF 1954

On January 22, 1955, a notice of proposed rule making with respect to sections 452 and 462 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (20 F. R. 515). After consideration of such relevant suggestions as were presented by interested persons regarding the proposals, it was determined that no change should be made in the proposed regulations. Accordingly, the proposed regulations so published are hereby adopted as set forth below.

[SEAL] T. COLEMAN ANDREWS,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Approved: June 8, 1955.

G. M. HUMPHREY,
Secretary of the Treasury.

PART 1—INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1953

The following regulations are hereby promulgated under sections 452 and 462 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954:

§ 1.452 Statutory provisions; prepaid income.

SEC. 452. Prepaid income—(a) Prepaid income to be earned over short or indefinite period—(1) Short period. In the case of any prepaid income to which this section applies, if the liability described in subsection (e) (2) is (at the time the income is received) to end before the first day of the sixth taxable year after the taxable year in which such income is received, then such income shall be included in gross income for the taxable year in which received, and for each of the 5 succeeding taxable years, to the extent proper under the method of accounting used under section 446 in computing taxable income for such year. If the liability does not in fact end before the first day of such sixth taxable year, such income shall be included in gross income for the taxable years specified in the preceding sentence except that with the consent of the Secretary or his delegate it shall be included in gross income in such proportions, and for such taxable years, as are specified in such consent.

(2) Indefinite period. In the case of any prepaid income to which this section applies, if the liability described in subsection (e) (2) is (at the time the income is received) of indefinite duration, then such income shall be included in gross income for the taxable year in which received and for each of the 5 succeeding taxable years, consistently with the principles prescribed in paragraph (1) and subsection (b), under regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate. With the consent of the Secretary or his delegate the prepaid income shall be included in gross income in such proportions, and for such taxable years, as are specified in such consent.

(b) Prepaid income to be earned over long period. In the case of any prepaid income to which this section applies, if the liability described in subsection (e) (2) is (at the time the income is received) to end after the close of the fifth taxable year after the taxable year in which such income is received, then—

(1) One-sixth of the prepaid income shall be included in gross income for the taxable year in which received, and one-sixth shall be included in gross income for each of the 5 succeeding taxable years; except that

(2) With the consent of the Secretary or his delegate, the prepaid income shall be included in gross income in such proportions, and for such taxable years, as are specified in such consent.

(c) Where taxpayer's liability ceases. In the case of any prepaid income to which this section applies—

(1) If the liability described in subsection (e) (2) ends, then so much of such income as was not includible in gross income under subsections (a) and (b) for preceding taxable years shall be included in gross income for the taxable year in which the liability ends.

(2) If the taxpayer dies or ceases to exist, then so much of such income as was not includible in gross income under subsections (a) and (b) for preceding taxable years shall be included in gross income for the taxable year in which such death, or such cessation of existence, occurs.

(d) Prepaid income to which this section applies—(1) Election of benefits. This section shall apply to prepaid income if and only if the taxpayer makes an election under this section with respect to the trade or business in connection with which such income is received. The election shall be made in such manner as the Secretary or his delegate may by regulations prescribe. No election may be made with respect to a trade or business if in computing taxable income the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting is used with respect to such trade or business.

(2) Scope of election. An election made under this section shall apply to all prepaid income received in connection with the trade or business with respect to which the taxpayer has made the election; except that the taxpayer may, to the extent permitted under regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate, include in gross income for the taxable year of receipt the entire amount of any prepaid income if the liability from which it arose is to end within 12 months after the date of receipt. An election made under this section shall not apply to any prepaid income received before the first taxable year for which the election is made.

(3) When election may be made—(A) Without consent. A taxpayer may, without the consent of the Secretary or his delegate, make an election under this section for his first taxable year (i) which begins after December 31, 1953, and ends after the date on which this title is enacted, and (ii) in which he receives prepaid income in the trade or business. Such an election shall be made not later than the time prescribed by this subtitle for filing the return for such year (including extensions thereof).

(B) With consent. A taxpayer may, with the consent of the Secretary or his delegate, make an election under this section at any time.

(e) Definitions. For purposes of this section—

(1) Prepaid income. The term "prepaid income" means any amount (includible in gross income) which is received in connection with, and is directly attributable to, a liability which extends beyond the close of the taxable year in which such amount is received. Such term does not include any income treated as gain from the sale or other disposition of a capital asset.

(2) Liability to render services, etc. The term "liability" means a liability to render services, furnish goods or other property, or allow the use of property.

(3) Receipt of prepaid income. Prepaid income shall be treated as received during the taxable year for which it is includible in gross income under section 451 (without regard to this section).

§ 1.452-1 Prepaid income in general. (a) Prepaid income, regardless of the method of accounting used by the taxpayer, is generally includible in gross income by the taxpayer at the time of receipt if it is subject to his free and unrestricted use. However, in the case of a taxpayer who uses a method of accounting other than the cash receipts and disbursements method in computing taxable income, section 452 permits the taxpayer to elect a method of accounting for prepaid income under which portions of prepaid income received in the taxable year shall be deferred to subsequent taxable years. The general purpose of section 452 is to bring tax accounting more closely into harmony with generally accepted accounting principles; it is not intended to permit, for tax purposes, deferrals of income not properly deferred under the taxpayer's method of accounting.

(b) Section 446 provides that taxable income shall be computed under the method of accounting on the basis of which the taxpayer regularly computes his income in keeping his books. Section 452 provides a specific method of accounting and, accordingly, the books of the taxpayer must be kept in accordance with such method if taxable income is to be computed under the method so elected. No election under section 452 may be made unless the prepaid income is deferred on the regular books of account which are used in computing the taxpayer's income and on the basis of which the taxpayer prepares his financial statements (such as reports to creditors, stockholders, etc.). If a taxpayer closes such books for the taxable year without making the necessary entries thereon to record such deferral, and issues his financial statements on the basis of the books as so closed, any such entries made thereafter will not be deemed to meet the requirements of the preceding sentence with respect to such taxable year; however, this rule is not applicable in the case of a taxpayer who has closed his books and issued financial statements for the taxable year before January 24, 1955, if he makes the necessary entries before making the election under section 452 (d) (3) (A) and § 1.452-7 (b). In the case of a taxpayer (such as a regulated public utility defined in section 1503 (c)) which is required by the rules of a governmental agency to maintain its books in accordance with a method of accounting different from that permitted by section 452, the method of accounting permitted by section 452 may be reflected in auxiliary records which shall be kept with, and reconciled with, the taxpayer's regular books. The deferral of prepaid income must be reflected on the books for a period not shorter than that prescribed for tax purposes. This is not to be construed as preventing the taxpayer from deferring prepaid income on his books, where proper, over a period longer than the period prescribed by section 452.

(c) For applicable definitions, see section 452 (e) and § 1.452-8.

§ 1.452-2 Prepaid income to be earned over short period. (a) If prepaid income is attributable to a liability which will end before the first day of the sixth taxable year after the taxable year in which it is received, the income is deemed for purposes of section 452 to be "short-period prepaid income". Such income shall be included in gross income, to the extent properly allocable under the taxpayer's method of accounting, in the taxable year in which received and in each of the succeeding taxable years (not exceeding five) over which the liability may extend. The amount properly allocable to each of such taxable years shall be determined in the light of all the facts and circumstances involved, including the taxpayer's experience with such liabilities.

(b) Short-period prepaid income need not be allocated equally over the period, nor must any portion necessarily be included in the taxable year of receipt. A proper allocation under this section requires that such income be included in gross income as the liability to which the income relates is discharged or as it is deemed to be discharged on the basis of the taxpayer's experience. (Where experience is the basis for allocation, the taxpayer must follow the rules provided in § 1.452-3 (b).) For example, if the rent for the fifth year under a five-year lease is paid at the beginning of the lease and the taxpayer-lessor has elected the benefits of section 452, and if the fifth year of the lease falls within two taxable years of the taxpayer, such rent shall be allocated to each of such two taxable years to the extent that the fifth year of the lease falls within each such taxable year. On the other hand, if the rent for the entire five years is received in advance, such rent shall be allocated to the taxable years covered by the lease. The preceding sentence may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. Taxpayer A, using the accrual method, whose taxable year is a calendar year, leases a building to B for a period of 48 months commencing on February 1, 1955, for a total rent of $48,000 paid on December 1, 1954. Assuming that A has elected the benefits of section 452, rent from the lease shall be included in gross income as follows:

Taxable year:	Amount included in gross income
1955	$11,000
1956	12,000
1957	12,000
1958	12,000
1959	1,000
Total	48,000

No part of the short-period prepaid rent is includible in gross income for the year 1954 since no part of the liability was discharged in that year.

(c) The determination of the period over which the liability extends is to be made on the basis of the facts known at the time the income is received. In order to treat prepaid income as short-period prepaid income, the taxpayer must be able to ascertain at the time of receipt of such income that the liability will end before the first day of the sixth taxable year after the taxable year in which the income is received.

(d) If subsequent events extend the period of liability, but it is not extended beyond the last day of the fifth taxable year following the taxable year of receipt of the prepaid income, the portion of the prepaid income not previously includible in gross income shall be allocated, in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, over the period remaining between the time the subsequent events become known and the expiration of the liability as changed.

(e) If subsequent events extend the period of liability beyond the close of the fifth taxable year following the taxable year of receipt of the prepaid income, the portion of the prepaid income not previously includible in gross income shall be allocated ratably over the period between the time the extended liability becomes known and the close of such fifth taxable year.

(f) If subsequent events shorten the period of liability, the portion of the prepaid income not previously includible in gross income shall be included in gross income for the taxable year in which the subsequent events occur if the liability does not extend beyond that taxable year. If the liability does extend beyond that taxable year, such portion shall be included in gross income over the period remaining between the time the subsequent events become known and the expiration of the liability as changed, in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(g) In the case of a change in the period of the liability described in paragraph (e) of this section, a taxpayer may request permission from the Commissioner to allocate the amount of prepaid income not previously includible in gross income in some manner other than that provided in such paragraph. The consent of the Commissioner shall be requested in accordance with § 1.452-5. Ordinarily, permission will not be granted to reallocate amounts properly includible in gross income for taxable years prior to the taxable year in which the change in the period of the liability occurs.

(h) For the purposes of the allocation under this section, the taxpayer may consider each transaction separately or may aggregate similar transactions during the taxable year in any reasonable manner provided the method of aggregation is consistently followed.

§ 1.452–3 Prepaid income to be earned over indefinite period. (a) Prepaid income attributable to a liability, which on the basis of the facts known at the time such income is received extends over an indefinite period, shall be included in gross income in accordance with the provisions of this section. An example of prepaid income of this type is an amount received by a retail store for gift certificates which may be redeemed for merchandise at any time. There is to be included in gross income for the taxable year of receipt of an item of prepaid income described in this section and in gross income for each succeeding taxable year (not more than 5 years and not necessarily ratably) that portion of such prepaid income with respect to which the experience of the taxpayer indicates the liability will be discharged during each such taxable year. The remainder of the prepaid income must be accounted for one-sixth in the taxable year of receipt and one-sixth in each of the five succeeding taxable years.

(b) The allocation of income to be earned over an indefinite period shall be based upon the taxpayer's own experience, if adequate for a reasonable allocation. Ordinarily, the most recent six years of experience with this kind of prepaid income will be considered adequate for the purposes of this paragraph. However, if the taxpayer's experience is not adequate, he may use the experience of other taxpayers engaged in a similar trade or business if he establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that such experience is representative of the taxpayer's business. In such case, if the taxpayer attaches to his return a complete statement of the experience relied upon, he may use such experience in computing taxable income on his return, subject to approval by the Commissioner upon subsequent examination of the return.

(c) The following example illustrates the provisions of this section:

Example:

Sale of service coupons	$1,000
Experience indicates that the coupons will be presented in payment for services as follows:
50 percent in the year of sale	$500
9 percent in the 1st succeeding year	90
5 percent in the 2nd succeeding year	50
3 percent in the 3rd succeeding year	30
2 percent in the 4th succeeding year	20
1 percent in the 5th succeeding year	10
Total	700
Amount to be accounted for during the first six years on the basis of experience	$700
Amount subject to pro rata allocation over the six year period	300
Allocated to each year, one-sixth of $300	50

Thus, the amount of income from the sale of service coupons to be included in gross income for the taxable year of sale is $500 plus $50, or $550, and for the first succeeding year is $90 plus $50, or $140, etc. However, if any portion of the amount received represents payment for coupons which the experience of the taxpayer indicates will never be presented for redemption, such portion may not be deferred beyond the taxable year in which the amount was received and shall be included in gross income for such taxable year. For example, if sales of coupons had been $1,100 instead of $1,000 and experience indicated that $100 of such amount would never be presented for redemption, the income from the sale of service coupons to be included in gross income for the taxable year of sale would be $500 plus $50 plus $100, or $650.

(d) For the purposes of the allocation under this section, the taxpayer may consider each transaction separately or may aggregate similar transactions during the taxable year in any reasonable manner provided the method of aggregation is consistently followed. It will be necessary for the taxpayer to evaluate annually his past experience in arriving at the proper allocation of prepaid income received during that taxable year.

(e) A taxpayer may not defer prepaid income relating to a liability of indefinite duration beyond the fifth taxable year after the taxable year of receipt unless he secures the consent of the Commissioner. A request for such consent shall be submitted in accordance with the provisions of § 1.452–5.

§ 1.452–4 Prepaid income to be earned over long period. (a) Prepaid income attributable to a liability which, based upon the facts known at the time the income is received, will end after the close of the fifth taxable year following the taxable year in which such income is received shall be regarded as "long-period prepaid income". One-sixth of such income shall be included in gross income for the taxable year of receipt and one-sixth for each of the five succeeding taxable years unless the Commissioner consents to a different treatment. (See § 1.452–5.) For example, assume that the taxpayer, reporting taxable income on a calendar year basis, receives in the first year of a 10-year lease commencing on January 1, the first and the last year's rent. The annual rental is $6,000; the amount received in the first year is $12,000, of which only the $6,000 allocable to the 10th year's rent is prepaid income. The 10th year's rent shall be allocated $1,000 to each of the first six years of the lease, and taking into account the $6,000 rent for each such year, there will be a total of $7,000 included in income for each of the first six years. In each of the seventh, eighth, and ninth years only the $6,000 rent for such year shall be taken into income. Since the tenth year's rent was included in income for the first six years, it is not to be included in income for the tenth year.

(b) One-sixth of the amount of long-period prepaid income shall be included in gross income for the taxable year of receipt. For example, if a taxpayer on the accrual method, on a calendar year basis receives a rental payment of $60,000 on December 1, 1954, covering full payment on a six-year lease commencing on January 1, 1955, $10,000 of such income is allocable to 1954, the taxable year of receipt, and a like amount to each of the five succeeding taxable years.

(c) Whether amounts received are short-period prepaid income or long-period prepaid income shall be determined by reference to the periods to which such amounts relate. For example, if, in connection with a ten-year lease beginning January 1, 1955, the rent for the fourth and sixth years is received in 1954, the amount of the rent for the fourth year is short-period prepaid income and the amount of the rent for the sixth year is long-period prepaid income. However, if in such example the lease were to begin on January 1, 1957, the rent for the fourth year would also be long period prepaid income since the fourth year would fall more than five years after 1954, the year of receipt.

§ 1.452–5 Manner of obtaining consent for different treatment of prepaid income. A taxpayer may, with the consent of the Commissioner, include prepaid income in gross income in such proportions, and for such taxable years, as are specified in the consent. The request for consent, in the case of prepaid income to which section 452 (a) (2) or 452 (b) applies, shall be made to the Commissioner not later than 30 days after the close of the taxable year in which such prepaid income is received. In the case of a request for consent described in section 452 (a) (1), the request shall be made to the Commissioner not later than 30 days after the close of the taxable year in which the change in the period of the liability became known. However, if the period prescribed above for the filing of the request expires less than 90 days after the promulgation of these regulations under section 452, the taxpayer may file the request for consent not later than 90 days after the promulgation of such regulations. The request shall contain both a detailed recital of the circumstances upon which the taxpayer bases his request for a method of allocation different from that provided in these regulations under section 452 and all the information necessary for the Commissioner to determine whether the proposed method of allocation would be proper and, if so, to what taxable years and in what amounts such allocations should be made. The request for consent should be directed to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C. Such permission will be granted by the Commissioner only in cases where it is shown to his satisfaction that a different method of treating prepaid income is proper.

§ 1.452–6 Treatment of prepaid income where taxpayer's liability ceases. If the liability of the taxpayer ends, then so much of the prepaid income as was not includible in gross income for preceding taxable years shall be included in the gross income of the taxpayer for the taxable year in which the liability ends. See section 381 (c) (7) for rules applicable to the treatment of prepaid income in the case of certain corporate acquisitions. If an individual taxpayer dies or a taxpayer other than an individual goes out of existence, the amount deferred under section 452 and not previously includible in his gross income shall, not withstanding the provisions of section 451 (b), be included in his gross income for the taxable year in which such event occurs. Similarly, when a partnership terminates such amount shall be included in gross income for the year of termination of the partnership.

§ 1.452–7 Election of benefits—(a) In general. (1) An election under section 452 shall be applicable to all prepaid income (of the trade or business for which the election is made) which is received in the taxable year of the election and all subsequent taxable years. Such election shall not apply to any prepaid income received before the taxable year for which the election is made, even though the amounts will not be earned until after such year. The taxpayer may elect to include in his gross income for the taxable year of receipt all prepaid income with respect to which the liability is to end within 12 months of its receipt, if he files a statement to that effect at the time he makes his election under section 452. In such a case this treatment shall be consistently followed.

(2) An election under section 452 shall be binding for the taxable year for which made and all subsequent taxable years unless the consent of the Commissioner is obtained to change such method of treating prepaid income. See section 446 and the regulations thereunder.

(3) No election shall be permitted with respect to a trade or business if the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting is used in computing taxable income or if such method is used, under a combination of methods, in reporting items of gross income for such trade or business for income tax purposes.

(4) If the taxpayer clearly evidences a bona fide intent to comply with the provisions of section 452 and the regulations thereunder, his election under that section will not be invalidated by:

(i) His failure to take certain items of prepaid income into account in accordance with the provisions of section 452 and these regulations;

(ii) His failure correctly to allocate prepaid income in accordance with such provisions; or

(iii) His improper deferral of items to which section 452 does not apply.

(b) Manner of making election not requiring consent. The election under section 452 may be made without the consent of the Commissioner if made for the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1953 and ending after August 16, 1954 in which there is received prepaid income of the particular trade or business for which the election is made. The election must be made not later than the time prescribed by law for filing the return for such taxable year (including extensions thereof). The election shall be made in a statement attached to the taxpayer's return for the first taxable year to which the election is applicable. The statement shall contain the information required by paragraph (d) of this section.

(c) Election requiring consent. (1) If a taxpayer does not elect under paragraph (b) of this section he may elect the benefits of section 452 for his second taxable year beginning after December 31, 1953, and ending after August 16, 1954, provided that on or before June 30, 1955, he notifies the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., of his intention to make such election. The notification shall state that the taxpayer has not elected the benefits of section 452 for his first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1953, and ending after August 16, 1954, but desires to elect the benefits of such section for the next succeeding taxable year. The notification shall be in triplicate, shall identify the trade or business to which the election is to apply, shall show the name and address of the taxpayer and the district in which the return of the taxpayer is to be filed. In such a case the taxpayer's notification will be treated as an election to have the benefits of section 452 apply to such taxable year and to all subsequent taxable years. A copy of the notification will be stamped with the approval of the Commissioner and returned to the taxpayer. Such copy, together with a statement containing the information required by paragraph (d) of this section shall be attached to the return for the first taxable year to which the election applies.

(2) In the event that a taxpayer does not make an election under paragraph (b) of this section or subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, he may, at a later date, elect the benefits of the provisions of section 452 only if he obtains the consent of the Commissioner. In such a case, a written request for consent shall be made to the Commissioner not later than 90 days after the beginning of the first taxable year for which the election is applicable or 90 days after the date of promulgation of the regulations under section 452, whichever is later. Such request shall contain the information required by paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Information required. The statement or request filed under paragraph (b) or (c) of this section shall set forth the following:

(1) The name and description of each trade or business for which the election is to apply;

(2) A declaration that the election is intended to apply to all prepaid income of the trade or business;

(3) The method of accounting used by the taxpayer in such trade or business;

(4) A description of each type of prepaid income of such trade or business, the proposed method of allocation, and the basis therefor;

(5) Whether a previous election under the provisions of section 452 has been made for such trade or business and, if so, for what taxable years such election was in effect; and

(6) The name and description of each trade or business, if any, for which the election does not apply.

§ 1.452–8 Definitions—(a) Prepaid income. The term "prepaid income" means any amount (includible in gross income) which is received in connection with, and is directly attributable to, a liability which extends beyond the close of the taxable year in which such amount is received. However, amounts which represent receipts for goods or services or for the use of property to have been provided or furnished during or prior to the taxable year of receipt are not prepaid income. The term may include, for example, amounts received in advance for rents and warehouse fees and amounts received from the sale of tickets, car tokens, subscriptions, club dues, and service coupons and contracts. Such term does not include any income treated as a gain from the sale or other disposition of a capital asset.

(b) Liability. The term "liability" means a liability to render services, furnish goods or other property, or allow the use of property. For example, an appliance service contract is a liability to render services for the purposes of section 452 if the contract is a separate transaction for which a charge is made and which is entered into at the option of the purchaser. The term does not include a liability under a warranty the consideration for which is, in effect, included in the selling price of a product.

(c) Receipt of prepaid income. For the purposes of section 452, prepaid income shall be treated as received during the taxable year for which it would be includible in gross income under section 451 and the regulations thereunder (determined without regard to section 452).

SEC. 462. Reserves for estimated expenses, etc.—(a) General rule. In computing taxable income for the taxable year, there shall be taken into account (in the discretion of the Secretary or his delegate) a reasonable addition to each reserve for estimated expenses to which this section applies.

(b) Adjustments where reserve becomes excessive. If it is determined that the amount of any reserve for estimated expenses to which this section applies is (as of the close of the taxable year) excessive, then (under regulations prescribed by the Secretary or his delegate) such excess shall be taken into account in computing taxable income for the taxable year.

(c) Estimated expenses to which this section applies—(1) Election of benefits. This section shall apply to estimated expenses if and only if the taxpayer makes an election under this section with respect to the trade or business to which such expenses are attributable. The election shall be made in such manner as the Secretary or his delegate may by regulations prescribe. No election may be made with respect to a trade or business if in computing taxable income the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting is used with respect to such trade or business.

(2) Scope of election. An election made under this section shall apply to all estimated expenses attributable to the trade or business.

(3) When election may be made—(A) Without consent. A taxpayer may, without the consent of the Secretary or his delegate, make an election under this section for his first taxable year (1) which begins after December 31, 1953, and ends after the date on which this title is enacted, and (II) for which there are estimated expenses attributable to the trade or business. Such an election shall be made not later than the time prescribed by law for filing the return for such year (including extensions thereof).

(B) With consent. A taxpayer may, with the consent of the Secretary or his delegate, make an election under this section at any time.

(d) Estimated expense defined—(1) General rule. For purposes of this section, the term "estimated expense" means a deduction allowable by this subtitle—

(A) Part or all of which would (but for this section) be required to be taken into account for a subsequent taxable year;

(B) Which is attributable to the income of the taxable year or prior taxable years for which an election under this section is in effect; and

(C) Which the Secretary or his delegate is satisfied can be estimated with reasonable accuracy.

(2) Exceptions. The term "estimated expense" does not include—

(A) Any deduction attributable to income taken into account in computing taxable income for taxable years preceding the first taxable year for which the election is made;

(B) Any deduction attributable to prepaid income to which section 452 applies by reason of an election made under such section by the taxpayer; or

(C) Any deduction allowable under section 166 (relating to bad debts).

(e) Special rule for deductions attributable to period before election. Any deduction attributable to income taken into account in computing taxable income for taxable years preceding the first taxable year for which the election is made shall be allowable in the same manner and to the same extent as if this section had not been enacted.

§ 1.462–1 Reserves for estimated expenses—(a) In general. (1) Ordinarily, in computing taxable income expenses are not deductible for a taxable year prior to the taxable year in which paid or incurred, or paid or accrued, depending upon the taxpayer's method of accounting. However, section 462 permits a taxpayer, in the discretion of the Commissioner, to deduct a reasonable addition to a reserve for certain expenses (designated as estimated expenses), which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, can be estimated with reasonable accuracy. The general purpose of section 462 is to bring tax accounting more closely into harmony with generally accepted accounting principles; it is not intended to permit taxpayers to deduct an addition to a reserve for estimated expenses in any taxable year unless such treatment would be proper for such year under the taxpayer's method of accounting. The election under section 462 may be made with respect to any trade or business of the taxpayer provided that the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting is not used in computing the taxable income of such trade or business, and the election shall apply to all estimated expenses of such trade or business.

(2) Section 446 provides that taxable income shall be computed under the method of accounting on the basis of which the taxpayer regularly computes his income in keeping his books. Section 462 provides a specific method of accounting and, accordingly, the books of the taxpayer must be kept in accordance with such method if taxable income is to be computed under the method so elected. In computing taxable income, no amount shall be taken into account with respect to estimated expenses under section 462 unless a reserve therefor has been established and is properly recorded on the regular books of account which are used in computing the taxpayer's income and on the basis of which the taxpayer prepares his financial statements (such as reports to creditors, stockholders, etc.). If a taxpayer closes such books for the taxable year without making the necessary entries thereon to establish and record the reserve, and issues his financial statements on the basis of the books as so closed, any such entries made thereafter will not be deemed to meet the requirements of the preceding sentence with respect to such taxable year; however, this rule is not applicable in the case of a taxpayer who has closed his books and issued financial statements for the taxable year before January 24, 1955, if he makes the necessary entries before making the election under section 462 (c) (3) (A) and § 1.462–4 (a). In the case of a taxpayer (such as a regulated public utility defined in section 1503 (c)) which is required by the rules of a governmental agency to maintain its books in accordance with a method of accounting different from that permitted by section 462, the method of accounting permitted by section 462 may be reflected in auxiliary records which shall be kept with, and reconciled with, the taxpayer's regular books.

(3) For applicable definitions, see section 462 (d) and § 1.462–5.

(b) Reasonable additions. (1) Whether an addition to a reserve for estimated expenses is reasonable shall be determined in each particular case in the light of the pertinent facts known at the close of the taxable year. Among such pertinent facts to be considered is the experience of the taxpayer. However, in cases where the taxpayer has no such experience or his experience is inadequate, the experience of a taxpayer or group of taxpayers in a similar trade or business operating under similar conditions may be used if the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that such experience is representative of the taxpayer's business. In case actual expenses prove to be more or less than those estimated in arriving at an addition to the reserve for prior years, the amount of the excess or inadequacy in the existing reserve shall be reflected in the determination of a reasonable addition for the current taxable year.

(2) A taxpayer claiming deductions on account of additions to reserves for estimated expenses shall, with respect to each reserve for estimated expenses, attach to his tax return for the taxable year a statement disclosing a summary of his experience with respect to such expenses for the taxable year and the four preceding taxable years. Ordinarily, the taxpayer's experience for such a period will be an acceptable basis for computing the addition to the reserve. If, however, the taxpayer's experience does not extend over such period, the statement should disclose that fact and give a summary of the taxpayer's experience with respect to such expenses. This statement shall include the following information for the taxable year and each of such preceding taxable years: (i) A description of each expense, (ii) taxable income (loss), (iii) the amount added to the reserve, (iv) the amount charged against the reserve, (v) the balance in the reserve as of the end of the taxable year, (vi) the amount deducted from income for such expenses in taxable years in which a reserve was not maintained, and (vii) the name and amount of the item to which the experience ratio is applied in determining the amount of the reasonable addition, such as credit sales, net sales, gross income, etc.

(3) The following example will serve to illustrate the provisions of this paragraph:

Example. A taxpayer, using an accrual method of accounting, who sells appliances subject to a warranty, elects to deduct additions to a reserve for expenses which he estimates will be necessary to fulfill his obligation under the warranty on appliances sold during 1954. The taxpayer has not, prior to the election, maintained such a reserve on his books. The statement attached to his return showa:

APPLIANCE WARRANTY EXPENSES

Taxable year	Net sales	Taxable income	Addition to reserve	Charges to reserve	Balance in the reserve	Actual expenses
1950	$100,000	$15,000	-------	-------	-------	$900
1951	110,000	16,000	-------	-------	-------	1,100
1952	125,000	18,000	-------	-------	-------	1,450
1953	150,000	17,000	-------	-------	-------	1,550
1954	165,000	20,000	[1] $1,650	[2] $700	$950	{ [2] 700 / [3] 800
Totals	650,000	-------	-------	-------	-------	6,500

[1] Since the total of actual expenses for the most recent five years' experience amounts to 1 percent of the most recent five years' net sales, a reasonable addition to the reserve for 1954 would be 1 percent of $165,000 or $1,650. The amount deductible in 1954 is $2,450, composed of the addition to the reserve of $1,650 plus $800 actual expense attributable to sales of years prior to 1954 (allowable without regard to this section).
[2] Actual expense applicable to 1954 sales.
[3] Applicable to sales of years prior to 1954.

While in this example net sales have been used as a basis upon which the addition to the reserve is calculated, it should be understood that other items may be applicable under other circumstances and therefore such items should be substituted where appropriate.

(4) If the taxpayer has no experience with this type of expense, the statement shall include a complete description of the basis used in computing the addition to the reserve. In any event, the addition to the reserve is subject to the approval of the Commissioner upon subsequent examination of the return.

(5) In any case, the statement and accompanying data shall set forth for the taxable year such information as is necessary in order to establish clearly that (i) the reserve is one for which an addition is allowable under section 462 in computing taxable income, (ii) the amount of the addition is reasonable, and (iii) the amount of the reserve at the end of the taxable year is not excessive. The reserves to which section 462 applies shall be segregated from any reserves which may have been established by the taxpayer for taxable years prior to the taxable year for which the election under that section is exercised.

§ 1.462–2 Adjustments where reserve becomes excessive. In any case in which a reserve for estimated expenses as of the close of any taxable year is determined to be excessive, such excess shall be taken into account in computing the taxable income for the taxable year for which such determination is made. For example, if for the taxable year ending December 31, 1956, it is determined by the Commissioner that a reserve (including a claimed addition for the year 1956) is excessive, such excess shall be taken into account in computing taxable income for the year 1956. In any case in which it is determined that a particular reserve for estimated expenses is no longer necessary, the amount of the reserve as of the close of the taxable year for which such determination is made shall be taken into account in computing the taxable income for such year. Similarly, in any case in which the use of reserves for estimated expenses is discontinued, the balance of each such reserve shall be included in taxable income for the year of change.

§ 1.462–3 Election of benefits. (a) The election referred to in § 1.462–1 shall apply to all estimated expenses attributable to the trade or business to which the election is applicable both for the taxable year for which the election is made and for all subsequent taxable years unless a change to a different method is authorized by the Commissioner under the provisions of section 446. However, the election does not apply to any estimated expenses which are attributable to prepaid income deferred at the close of the taxable year under the provisions of section 452. If the taxpayer is engaged in more than one trade or business, he may make a separate election with respect to each such trade or business.

(b) In no event shall an election under section 462 be applicable in the computation of taxable income for any taxable year preceding the taxable year for which such election is made. Such an election cannot be made for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1954, or ending before August 17, 1954.

(c) No election shall be permitted with respect to a trade or business if the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting is used in computing taxable income or if, under a combination of methods, the cash receipts and disbursements method is used in reporting items other than items of gross income for income tax purposes for such trade or business.

(d) If the taxpayer clearly evidences a bona fide intent to comply with the provisions of section 462 and the regulations thereunder, his election under that section will not be invalidated by:

(i) His failure to take into account certain estimated expenses in establishing his reserve;

(ii) His failure correctly to determine the amount of any such reserve or additions thereto; or

(iii) His establishment of a reserve for an expense to which section 462 does not apply.

§ 1.462–4 Time and manner of making election—(a) Without consent. The election under section 462 may be made without the consent of the Commissioner if made for the first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1953, and ending after August 16, 1954, in which there are estimated expenses of the particular trade or business for which the election is made. The election must be made not later than the time prescribed by law for filing the return for such taxable year (including extensions thereof). The election shall be made in a statement attached to the taxpayer's return for the first taxable year to which the election is applicable. Such statement shall contain the information required by paragraph (c) of this section.

(b) With consent. (1) If a taxpayer does not make the election under paragraph (a) he may elect the benefits of section 462 for his second taxable year beginning after December 31, 1953, and ending after August 16, 1954, provided that on or before June 30, 1955, he notifies the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., of his intention to make such election. The notification shall state that the taxpayer has not elected the benefits of section 462 for his first taxable year beginning after December 31, 1953, and ending after August 16, 1954, but desires to elect the benefits of such section for the next succeeding taxable year. The notification shall be in triplicate, shall identify the trade or business to which the election is to apply, shall show the name and address of the taxpayer and the district in which the return of the taxpayer is to be filed. In such a case the taxpayer's notification will be treated as an election to have the benefits of section 462 apply to such taxable year and to all subsequent taxable years. A copy of the notification will be stamped with the approval of the Commissioner and returned to the taxpayer. Such copy, together with a statement containing the information required by paragraph (c) of this section, shall be attached to the return for the first taxable year to which the election applies.

(2) In the event that a taxpayer does not make an election under paragraph (a) of this section or subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, he may, at a later date, elect the benefits of the provisions of section 462 only if he obtains the consent of the Commissioner. In such a case, a written request for consent shall be made to the Commissioner not later than 90 days after the beginning of the first taxable year for which the election is applicable or 90 days after the date of promulgation of the regulations under section 462, whichever is later. Such request shall contain the information set forth in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Information required. The statement or request filed under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section shall set forth the following:

(1) The name and description of each trade or business to which the election is to apply;

(2) A declaration that the election is intended to apply to all estimated expenses of the trade or business;

(3) The method of accounting used by the taxpayer in such trade or business;

(4) A description of each type of estimated expenses of such trade or business;

(5) Whether a previous election under the provisions of section 462 has been made for such trade or business and, if so, for what taxable years such election was in effect; and

(6) The name and description of each trade or business, if any, to which the election does not apply.

§ 1.462–5 Estimated expense defined—(a) General rule. For purposes of section 462 (a) (which provides that there shall be taken into account in the discretion of the Secretary or his delegate a reasonable addition to each reserve for estimated expenses to which section 462 applies), the term "estimated expense" means a deduction which:

(1) Is allowable in computing taxable income;

(2) Is attributable to income of the taxable year or of prior taxable years for which an election under section 462 is in effect;

(3) In the opinion of the Commissioner can be estimated with reasonable accuracy; and

(4) Is a deduction, a part or all of which would be required, except for section 462, to be taken into account for a subsequent taxable year.

(b) Exceptions. The term "estimated expense" does not include any deduction which is:

(1) Attributable to income taken into account in computing taxable income for taxable years preceding the first taxable year for which the election is made;

(2) Attributable to income deferred as of the close of the taxable year under section 452; or

(3) Allowable under section 166 relating to bad debts.

(c) Rules for application of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. (1) Estimated expenses are those which are attributable to a transaction or undertaking in the taxable year or a prior taxable year under which:

(i) Income is realized which is includible in income for the taxable year or a prior taxable year; and

(ii) The taxpayer is under a liability to perform service, furnish goods, supply property, or assume obligations, which necessitate the making of expenditures by the taxpayer during a subsequent taxable year.

(2) Expenses attributable to income of future years are not expenses for which an addition to a reserve under section 462 is allowable. An expenditure to be made in a year subsequent to the taxable year is not attributable to the income of the taxable year or prior taxable years merely because it is incurred in order to restore operating or productive capacity which has been diminished by the operations of the taxable year or prior taxable years.

(3) The following examples illustrate the application of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section: If the taxpayer, as an incentive or inducement to employment, offers vacations for faithful service, amounts to be expended for such purpose may be estimated expenses within the meaning of section 462. Likewise, if the taxpayer, in order to promote sales or to encourage prompt payment for articles sold, agrees to keep the product sold in repair for subsequent years or offers cash discounts, amounts set aside for these purposes may constitute estimated expenses. However, that term does not include expenses for maintenance and repairs unless the taxpayer is under a liability to make repairs or incur maintenance expenses in a subsequent taxable year as a condition to the realization of income in the taxable year. For example, if, as a condition to obtaining machinery under a rental contract, the taxpayer is required to make certain periodic repairs in subsequent taxable years, an addition to a reserve to meet the costs thereof may be estimated expenses within the meaning of section 462. Further, the cost of repairs to delivery equipment used to fulfill an obligation under the taxpayer's warranty agreement to keep a product in repair or in service may be treated as an estimated expense. On the other hand, estimated costs of repairs and maintenance to the taxpayer's property may not be considered estimated expenses to which the provisions of section 462 apply unless such costs are undertaken pursuant to a liability to another person as a condition to the realization of income.

(4) Reserves created for general undetermined contingencies, for indefinite possible future losses, for expenses and losses not reasonably related to the income of the taxable year or prior taxable years, or for expenses and losses that are being contested or are in litigation, cannot ordinarily be estimated with reasonable accuracy and may not be the basis for additions to reserves for estimated expenses. With respect to items involving related reserves, only one deduction against taxable income will be allowed. Section 462 does not have the effect of converting into deductible expenses amounts which would not otherwise be deductible in computing taxable income for subsequent taxable years. The provisions of section 462 have no application with respect to the renegotiation or price redetermination of contracts.

(5) Section 462 is not applicable to any item of deduction for which the Code provides a specific method of reporting such as deductions referred to in—

(i) Section 404, relating to contributions of an employer to an employee's trust or annuity plan and compensation under a deferred payment plan,

(ii) Section 461 (c), relating to accrual of real property taxes,

(iii) Section 174, relating to research and experimental expenditures,

(iv) Section 175, relating to soil and water conservation expenditures,

(v) Section 615, relating to exploration expenditures, and

(vi) Section 616, relating to development expenditures.

(6) Examples of expenses which ordinarily meet the requirements of this section are cash discounts, product warranties, sales returns and allowances, freight allowances, quantity discounts, vacation pay, and self-insurance by common carriers for liability for cargo damages. Examples of expenses which ordinarily do not meet the requirements of this section are inventory adjustments, self-insurance for losses of the taxpayer's own property, franchise and other taxes levied for a period subsequent to the taxable year, and fees for professional services not yet rendered.

§ 1.462–6 Special rule for deductions attributable to period before election. Any deduction attributable to income taken into account in computing taxable income for taxable years preceding the first taxable year for which the election is made shall be allowable in the same manner, and to the same extent, as if section 462 had not been enacted. For example, merchandise returned in 1954, attributable to sales made in 1953 (the year prior to the election), will be taken into account in 1954 as returned sales, even though for 1954 the taxpayer has elected to deduct a reasonable addition to reserves for estimated expenses. See example in § 1.462–1 (b) (3).

§ 1.462–7 Examples. The following examples illustrate the provisions of the regulations under section 462:

Example (1). A taxpayer who has elected the benefits of section 462 sells air-conditioning units which he guarantees for one year. Taxpayer's experience indicates that the average cost per unit of fulfilling the guarantee is as follows:

Material and parts	$8
Labor	12
Operating overhead	4
Total	24

For each unit sold $24.00 shall be credited to the reserve account. As expenses are actually incurred, the reserve shall be charged with the amount of these expenses. In no event will a double deduction be permitted. At the close of each taxable year the reserve shall be adjusted to reflect changes in the actual cost experience of the taxpayer.

Example (2). A calendar year taxpayer who has elected the benefits of section 462 estimates from past experience that 1 percent of all sales will be returned for credit and that one-half of the returns applicable to any month's sales will be returned during that month and one-half during the following month. Gross sales for the month of December 1954 totaled $1,000,000. Cost of December's sales amount to $700,000. A reasonable addition to a reserve for sales returns as of December 31, 1954, is calculated as follows:

Gross sales for December	$1,000,000
Cost of sales for December	700,000
Gross profit for December	300,000
Reasonable addition (1 percent of ½ of $300,000)	1,500

Example (3). A taxpayer, engaged in the business of transporting property for hire, has elected the benefits of section 462 for the taxable year 1954, and has established a proper reserve for claims for property damaged while in transit. The reserve for property damage claims at the beginning of the taxable year 1955 carries a credit balance of $15,000. His experience shows that 1 percent of his gross revenues will be paid out to meet claims for property damaged while in transit. For the taxable year 1955 he has gross revenue of $2,000,000. A reasonable addition to this reserve for the taxable year 1955 is 1 percent of $2,000,000 or $20,000. An analysis of the reserve for the year 1955 is as follows:

Balance in reserve at beginning of year	$15,000
Claims paid during the year	17,000
Excess of charges over credits	(2,000)
Current year's addition allowed as deduction	20,000
Balance at end of year	18,000

PART 204—DANGER ZONE REGULATIONS

HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

Pursuant to the provisions of section 7 of the River and Harbor Act of August 8, 1917 (40 Stat. 266; 33 U. S. C. 1) and Chapter XIX of the Army Appropriations Act of July 9, 1918 (40 Stat. 892; 33 U. S. C. 3), § 204.223 is hereby prescribed establishing and governing the use and navigation of danger zones in waters of the Pacific Ocean surrounding Kula Rock and Kahoolawe Island, and adjacent to Oahu and Molokai Islands, Territory of Hawaii, as follows:

§ 204.223 Pacific Ocean, Hawaiian Islands; danger zones—(a) Danger zones—(1) Low level aerial radar target off Kahuku Point, Island of Oahu, T. H. The waters within a circular area with radius of three (3) miles having its center at latitude 21°43′00″, longitude 157°56′30″.

(2) Low level aerial bombing target north of Laau Point Island of Molokai, T. H. Beginning at the shore at approximately latitude 21°8′37″, longitude 157°17′35″; thence to latitude 21°09′34″, longitude 157°20′29″; thence to latitude 21°10′40″, longitude 157°20′04″; thence to latitude 21°09′35″, longitude 157°16′48″; thence along the shore to the point of beginning.

(3) High and low level aerial bombing target surrounding Mokuhooniki Rock, Island of Molokai, T. H. The waters within a circular area with a radius of one and one-half (1½) miles having its center on Mokuhooniki Rock at latitude 21°08′10″, longitude 156°42′20″.

(4) Aerial bombing and strafing target surrounding Kaula Rock, T. H. The waters within a circular area with a radius of three (3) miles having its center on Kaula Rock at latitude 21°39′30″, longitude 160°32′30″.

(5) Aerial bombing target and naval shore bombardment area, Kahoolawe Island, T. H. The waters adjacent to Kahoolawe Island within the area encompassed by the following coordinates beginning at latitude 20°37′30″, longitude 156°32′48″; thence to latitude 20°34′48″, longitude 156°30′24″; thence to latitude 20°28′54″, longitude 156°30′-30″; thence to latitude 20°28′06″, longitude 156°41′48″; thence to latitude 20°30′30″, longitude 156°44′12″; thence to latitude 20°33′12″, longitude 156°44′-30″; thence to latitude 20°37′30″, longitude 156°36′24″; thence to the beginning coordinates.

(b) The regulations. (1) No vessel or other craft shall enter or remain in any of the areas at any time except as authorized by the enforcing agency or as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(2) The low level aerial bombing target north of Laau Point, Island of Molokai, T. H. is released for the use of surface craft during the periods beginning at midnight before Saturday and ending at midnight after Sunday, and similarly from midnight before to midnight after, Independence Day, Labor Day, Veteran's Day, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Washington's Birthday, and Memorial Day.

(c) Enforcing agency. The regulations in this section shall be enforced by the Commandant, Fourteenth Naval District, and such agencies as he may designate.

PART 210—PROCUREMENT ACTIVITIES OF THE CORPS OF ENGINEERS

CLAIMS AND APPEALS BOARD

Section 210.4 is rescinded and the following substituted therefor:

§ 210.4 Rules of the Corps of Engineers Claims and Appeals Board. The following rules are promulgated by the Corps of Engineers Claim and Appeals Board, Office of the Chief of Engineers, for the guidance of contractors having contracts with the Corps of Engineers, and others concerned.

(a) Rule 1, Appeals, how taken. An appeal by a contractor, from a decision of a contracting officer, may be effected by any writing which (1) expresses a present desire to appeal, (2) is signed by—or authoritatively on behalf of—the contractor and (3) is delivered to the contracting officer or his representative, or to the appellate authority, within the time prescribed by the contract. If the contracting officer's decision is transmitted to the contractor by mail and an appeal is taken by mail, a "delivery" of the appeal will be considered as having been made on the date the same is mailed as evidenced by the postmark on the envelope. It is the desire of the Board, although not required, that the appeal identify the contract, the decision from which the appeal is taken, the contractual provisions or the drawings concerned in the dispute, the nature of the dispute and the relief so requested by the appellant. Specific facts and argument in support of the appeal, complete in reasonable detail, should be either included in the appeal or otherwise promptly submitted to the Board.

(b) Rule 2, Transmittal of record. Upon receipt of an appeal the contracting officer will compile and transmit to the Board, as promptly as good administration will permit, a copy of all documents pertinent to the appeal.

(c) Rule 3, Appellant may supplement record. Prior to action by the Board to dispose of the case the appellant may file (in quadruplicate) directly with the Board or with the contracting officer for transmittal to the Board any documents pertinent to the appeal.

(d) Rule 4, Inspection of records. The appeal file will be available for inspection by the appellant at the office of the Board or at the office of the contracting officer. Prior to arrangements for inspection of the file should be made with the Recorder of the Board or the contracting officer as the case may be.

(e) Rule 5, Clearance of appellant's legal counsel or other representative. The appellant may be represented by legal counsel or by any other duly authorized person. Each and every representative of the appellant will be required to conform with SR 600–785–1

(§ 583.1 of this title) dealing with conflicts in interests and representative activities before an agency of the Department of the Army.

(f) Rule 6, Hearings and nature thereof. (1) The appellant, if he so desires, will be accorded a full and complete hearing at which he may offer the testimony of witnesses and confront and cross examine the witnesses for the Government. Hearings will be as informal as may be reasonably allowable and appropriate under all the circumstances. The contractor and contracting officer or their representatives may offer at a hearing such evidence or argument as they deem appropriate, subject however to the exercise of reasonable discretion by the presiding member, in supervising the extent and manner of presentation of such evidence and argument. Letters or copies thereof, affidavits, or other evidence, not ordinarily admissible under the generally accepted rules of evidence, may be received in evidence in the discretion of the presiding member. The weight to be attached to evidence presented in any particular form will be determined by the Board in the exercise of reasonable discretion under all the circumstances of the particular case. The parties may, by stipulation in writing filed with the Board, agree upon the facts or any portion thereof involved in the appeal, and the stipulation may be regarded and used in evidence at the hearing; the parties may also stipulate the testimony that would be given by a witness if the witness were present. The Board may, however, in such cases, require additional evidence.

(2) Also, in the discretion of the Board, if the appellant does not desire a hearing, he will be accorded a conference with one or more members of the Board. Such a conference is not for the purpose of introducing any new matter into the record but may be utilized by an appellant to explain or argue matters of record. If any new matter is introduced at such a conference, consideration of the appeal will be deferred until the contracting officer has been apprised thereof and has had an opportunity to reply. The contracting officer or his representative will be afforded the right to be present at such conference.

(g) Rule 7, Submission without a hearing. At the option of appellant the case may be submitted to and decided by the Board on the basis of the record supplemented as desired by either party by briefs or memoranda. Unless advised to the contrary within 15 days after notification of docketing, the Board will proceed with the case as submitted.

(h) Rule 8, Hearing, where held. Hearings will be held at the office of the Board unless it is otherwise ordered by the Board. The Board will consider a request for a hearing at another location if compelling reasons are timely presented.

(i) Rule 9, Notice of hearing. The appellant and the contracting officer will be given at least 15 days' notice of the time and place of hearing. Continuances will not be granted except upon written request and for good cause.

(j) Rule 10, Absence of parties or counsel. The unexcused absence of a party or his authorized representative at the time and place set for the hearing will not be the occasion for delay. In such event the hearing will proceed and the case will be regarded as submitted by the absent party.

(k) Rule 11, Depositions, procedure for taking—(1) Reason for taking. A deposition may be taken and read, whenever in the discretion of the Board or the presiding member it appears that the ends of justice will be served thereby.

(2) (i) Before whom taken. Depositions to be read in evidence before the Board or any Division thereof may be taken before and authenticated by any officer, military or civil, authorized by the laws of the United States or by the laws of the place where the deposition is taken, to administer oaths.

(ii) Form and return of deposition to Board. Each deposition should show the docket number and the caption of the proceeding, the place and date of taking, the name of the witness, and the party by whom called. The officer taking a deposition should enclose the original deposition and exhibits, in a sealed packet, with postage or other transportation prepaid, and forward the same to the Corps of Engineers Claims and Appeals Board.

(3) Notice to take. When either party desires to take a deposition, unless the parties shall stipulate as to the time when and place where the deposition is to be taken and the name of the officer before whom it is to be taken and the name and address of the witness, such party should give to the opposite party at least 15 days' notice of the time when and the place where such deposition will be taken and the name and address and official title of the officer before whom it is proposed to take the deposition, as well as the name of the witness. A deposition may be taken either upon written interrogatories or upon oral examination, as may be specified in the notice. If the deposition is to be taken upon written interrogatories, copies thereof should accompany the notice to take depositions. If the opposite party desires to submit cross interrogatories, the cross-interrogatories should be served upon the party giving the notice within 10 days from the receipt of the notice to take the deposition.

(4) (i) Deposition not considered until offered. Testimony taken by deposition will not be considered until offered and received in evidence.

(ii) Introduction of deposition by opposite party. A deposition taken by one party may be introduced by the opposite party, but the whole deposition must be offered unless otherwise stipulated by the parties or directed by the Board.

(l) Rule 12, Examination of witnesses. Witnesses before the Board or a designated member thereof will be examined orally, unless the facts are stipulated or the Board or designated member thereof shall otherwise order. The testimony of a witness is subject to the provisions of Title 18 U. S. C., secs. 287, 1001; and any other provisions of law imposing penalties for knowingly making false representations in connection with claims against the United States or in any matter within the jurisdiction of any department or agency thereof.

(m) Rule 13, Copies of papers. When books, records, papers, or documents have been received in evidence, a copy thereof or of such part thereof as may be material or relevant may be substituted therefor.

(n) Rule 14, Withdrawal of exhibits. After a decision has become final, the Board may, upon request, permit the withdrawal of original exhibits, or any part thereof, by the party entitled thereto.

(o) Rule 15, Briefs. All briefs will be filed within 20 days after conclusion of the hearing, or within such other period of time as may be allowed by the Board.

(p) Rule 16, Transcript of proceedings. Testimony and argument at hearings will be reported verbatim, unless the Board otherwise orders. Transcripts of the proceedings will be supplied to the parties at such rates as may be fixed by contract between the Board and the reporter. If the proceedings are reported by an employee of the Government, the contractor may receive transcripts upon payment to the Government at the same rates as those set by the independent reporter under contract to the Board.

(q) Rule 17, Findings and decisions. Findings and decisions of the Board will be made in writing, and authenticated copies thereof will be forwarded simultaneously to both parties. The rules of the Board and all final opinions and orders issued by the Board in the determination of cases shall be available to public inspection at the offices of the Board in Washington, D. C.

(r) Rule 18, Motions for rehearing. A motion for rehearing or reconsideration, if filed by either party, will set forth specifically the ground or grounds relied upon to sustain the motion, and will be filed within 20 days from the date of the receipt of a copy of the decision of the Board by the party filing the motion.

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

Chapter I—Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior

Appendix C—Public Land Orders

[Public Land Order 1158]

ALASKA

PARTIALLY REVOKING EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 792 OF MAY 4, 1908

By virtue of the authority vested in the President and pursuant to Executive Order No. 10355 of May 26, 1952, it is ordered as follows:

Executive Order No. 792 of May 4, 1908, reserving certain lands in Alaska, for use of the Signal Corps, U. S. Army, which was modified by Executive Order No. 7127 of August 6, 1935, is hereby revoked so far is it refers to lands in the U. S. Survey No. 1457 and No. 2285 at Salcha, Alaska. The area described contains 202.938 acres.

The lands shall not become subject to the initiation of any rights or to any disposition under the public land laws until it is so provided by an order of classification to be issued by an authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management opening the lands to application under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609; 43 U. S. C. sec. 682a), as amended, with a ninety-one day preference-right period for filing such applications by veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended.

FRED G. AANDAHL,
Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

[Public Land Order 1162]

WYOMING

AMENDING PUBLIC LAND ORDER NO. 1077 OF FEBRUARY 25, 1955, WHICH REVOKED CERTAIN EXECUTIVE ORDERS

Public Land Order No. 1077 of February 25, 1955, appearing as Federal Register Document 55–1809 (20 F. R. 1311) of the issue of March 3, 1955, is hereby amended:

(1) By adding the following lands to the list of lands in paragraph three of Public Land Order No. 1077 which were included in the revocation made by that order:

SIXTH PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN

T. 41 N., R. 116 W.,
Sec. 30, E½NE¼;
Sec. 33, SW¼SW¼.
T. 42 N., R. 116 W.,
Sec. 32, lot 8;
Sec. 34, lot 7.

The tracts described contain 183.70 acres.

(2) And by deleting the E½NW¼ sec. 30, T. 41 N., R. 116 W., from paragraph three of the order.

The lands in sec. 33, T. 41 N., R. 116 W., are included in Phosphate Reserve No. 18 by Executive order of July 9, 1913, and in the Teton National Forest by the act of August 16, 1916.

No application for the released lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other nonmineral public-land law unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon the consideration of an application. Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of the released lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall become subject to application, petition, and selection, subject to valid existing rights, the provisions of existing withdrawals, the requirements of applicable laws, and the 91-day preference-right filing period for veterans and others entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended.

Veterans preference-right applications under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, may be filed on or before 10:00 a. m., on the 35th day after the date of this order, and those covering the same lands shall be treated as though simultaneously filed at that time. Applications filed under the act after that time and during the succeeding 91 days shall be considered in the order of filing. Applications by the general public under the public-land laws, filed on or before 10:00 a. m., on the 126th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though simultaneously filed at that time, where the applications are for the same lands; otherwise, priority of filing shall govern.

Inquiries, regarding the lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Cheyenne, Wyoming.

FRED G. AANDAHL,
Acting Secretary of the Interior.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Wage and Hour Division

[29 CFR Part 545]

HOMEWORKERS IN NEEDLEWORK AND FABRICATED TEXTILE PRODUCTS INDUSTRY IN PUERTO RICO

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237), that the Office of the Administrator, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, U. S. Department of Labor, proposes to amend the Regulations contained in this Part to read as hereinafter set forth. Prior to the final adoption of the regulations, as amended, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Office of the Administrator, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C., within thirty days from publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The regulations, as amended, are to be issued pursuant to authority under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1060, as amended 29 U. S. C. 201 et seq.), Reorganization Plan No. 6 of 1950 (U. S. C. 611), General Order No. 45–A (15 F. R. 3290), and, the position of the Administrator being presently vacant, General Order No. 85 (20 F. R. 2066).

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 3d day of June 1955.

STUART ROTHMAN,
Solicitor of Labor.

AUTHORITY: §§ 545.1 to 545.13 issued under sec. 3 (f), 54 Stat. 616, as amended; secs. 6 and 11, 52 Stat. 1062, 1066; 29 U. S. C. 206, 211.

§ 545.1 Applicability. The provisions of this part shall apply to persons engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in activities relating to homeworkers in the needlework and fabricated textile products industry in Puerto Rico as defined in Part 655 of this chapter.[1]

§ 545.2 Definitions. (a) The meaning of the terms "person", "employer", "employee", "goods", and "production", as used in this part, is the same as in the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended.

(b) "Homeworker", as used in this part, means any employee employed or suffered or permitted to perform homework for an employer.

(c) "Homework", as used in this part, means the production by any person in or about a home, apartment, tenement, or room in a residential establishment, of goods for an employer who suffers or permits such production, regardless of the source (whether obtained from an employer or elsewhere) of the materials used by the homeworker in such production; provided that such work is not performed under the constant and direct supervision of an employer or of a responsible supervisor and under such conditions that accurate records of hours worked are maintained or can readily be maintained.

(d) "Contractor" means any employer in Puerto Rico who contracts for the performance of work on goods to which a person other than the contractor holds title.

(e) "Prime contractor" means any contractor in Puerto Rico who contracts directly with the person holding title to the goods.

(f) "Subcontractor" means any contractor in Puerto Rico other than a prime contractor.

(g) "Manufacturer" means any employer in Puerto Rico other than a contractor, who is engaged in processing goods.

(h) "Operation" means any work or any process performed on or with goods other than the distribution of goods to or collection of goods from homeworkers.

[1] Persons engaged in activities relating to homeworkers in other industries in Puerto Rico are subject to Part 681 of this chapter.

§ 545.3 Filing and notification requirements. (a) Every prime contractor or manufacturer, prior to the distribution of work, directly or through a subcontractor or agent, to any homeworker, or prior to the commencement of work by a homeworker in cases where the homeworker purchases the raw materials, shall file with the Wage and Hour Division in Puerto Rico the following: A clear and legible stamped copy of each design, if any, and in the absence of such design, a finished sample, of the goods to be distributed, or to be produced by the homeworker; a description in writing of each operation to be performed by the homeworker, whether or not part of a design; the full piece rate schedule designation, if any,[2] and the corresponding piece rate to be paid for each such operation; the total piece rate for the finished unit or part of unit; and the style number or name, if any, of the goods upon which such operations are to be performed. In the absence of a style number or name, the prime contractor or manufacturer shall file any other identification number or name by which the goods are known.

(b) No change shall be made by a prime contractor or manufacturer in any style or identification number or name filed as required by this section, or in the operations to be performed thereunder, unless prior written notification of such change is given to the Wage and Hour Division in Puerto Rico.

(c) Any design, sample, piece rate, style or other identification number or name, or description of operation, filed under this section shall be valid, for the purposes of the regulations in this part, for a period of three years, commencing on the date it is received by the Wage and Hour Division in Puerto Rico. After the expiration of this period, no goods covered thereby shall be distributed to homeworkers unless a new notification and filing, as required by paragraph (a) of this section, has been previously made by the prime contractor or manufacturer.

(d) No prime contractor or manufacturer shall distribute work to homeworkers under a firm name other than the one under which such work has been filed with the Wage and Hour Division in Puerto Rico pursuant to the requirements of this section.

(e) Any design or sample filed under the provisions of this section may be retained by the Wage and Hour Division for the period deemed necessary for enforcement of the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

§ 545.4 Preparation of goods for delivery. Where homework is distributed through a subcontractor, each prime contractor or manufacturer for whom such distribution is made shall make up into lots any goods to be so distributed, each lot to comprise goods on which the same operations are to be performed.

[2] See § 545.13 for the schedule of piece rates prescribed in accordance with § 545.9. As an example of how to state the piece rate schedule designation, if "plain scallops" are to be made on articles in the "Infants' Wear Division", the full piece rate schedule designation would be "Operation 74, Col. 3".

§ 545.5 Delivery and collection of goods. Homework shall in each instance be distributed to and collected from the individual homeworker who is to perform or has performed the work on it, and no other person may act for or on behalf of any homeworker in this connection.

§ 545.6 Payment for work. When a prime contractor or manufacturer receives completed homework directly from an individual homeworker, payment shall be made to such homeworker immediately. When, however, such completed homework is received through a subcontractor, payment shall be made to the subcontractor immediately upon receipt, and the subcontractor shall pay the homeworker who performed the work within seven days from the date on which the subcontractor was paid. Payment shall be made to each homeworker at rates not less than those required under §§ 545.9 and 545.10, and in accordance with the requirements of sections 6 and 7 of the act. In addition, where costs are incurred by a homeworker for equipment, material, or other items, such as fuel and electricity, as a result of homework, the prime contractor or manufacturer for whom such homework was performed shall, either directly or through a subcontractor, reimburse the homeworker for such costs, to the extent necessary to provide compensation for the labor performed at least commensurate with the piece rates required by §§ 545.9 and 545.10.

§ 545.7 Records to be kept. (a) Every prime contractor or manufacturer shall make and have available at his principal Puerto Rican office for a period of not less than three years a record of the following information: [3]

(1) The name and address of each firm situated outside the Island of Puerto Rico, if any, from whom the goods upon which homework is to be performed were received.

(2) The name and address of each subcontractor, if any, to whom each lot of goods was delivered for delivery to homeworkers, together with the number of the permit issued to such subcontrac-

[3] Although responsibility for making the record is placed upon the prime contractor or manufacturer, the actual work of doing so may be performed by supervisory or clerical employees, agents, subcontractors, or other persons acting in his behalf.

No particular order or form of records is prescribed by the regulations contained in this part. The prime contractor or manufacturer may keep his own record system, so long as he keeps all the required information available in understandable form.

The records must be kept in the principal Puerto Rican office of the prime contractor or manufacturer. Where it is not possible for a record of one or more of the items to be made in the first instance at the principal office of the prime contractor or manufacturer, at his direction the record of such items may be made away from that office by a subcontractor, agent, employee, or other person acting in his behalf. In such event, however, the records shall be delivered to the principal Puerto Rican office of the prime contractor or manufacturer as soon as practicable after the making of such entries, and shall there be preserved and be available for inspection.

tor by the Department of Labor of Puerto Rico.

(3) The date or dates upon which each lot of goods was delivered to and returned by a subcontractor, if any, together with a description of such goods, the net amount paid as commission and the rate of commission on such goods.

(4) The name and address of each homeworker, and the date of birth of each homeworker under 19, to whom the goods in each lot were delivered or from whom goods were purchased.

(5) The date or dates upon which the goods in each lot were delivered to and collected from each homeworker or upon which goods were purchased from each homeworker.

(6) The style number or name or, if none, the identification number or name used in lieu thereof, the description of, and amount of goods in each lot or the amount of goods purchased from each homeworker, the operations to be performed or performed thereon, the piece rates to be paid or paid, the gross amount due each homeworker for the operations performed upon the goods, social security deductions from that amount, the costs, if any, incurred by the homeworker for equipment, material or other items such as electricity or fuel, as a result of the homework, the amount actually paid the homeworker and the date of payment.

(b) At the time work is given out to or received or purchased from a homeworker, as the case may be, every prime contractor or manufacturer shall enter the following information in the handbook (to be obtained by the prime contractor or manufacturer from the Wage and Hour Division and supplied by him to each homeworker) which shall be kept by the homeworker until the handbook is completed (that is, no space remains for additional entries) or the homeworker's services are terminated, at which time it shall be returned to the prime contractor or manufacturer who shall retain it for a period of two years subsequent to the last entry therein: [4]

(1) The date or dates upon which the goods in each lot were delivered to and collected from the homeworker or upon which goods were purchased from the homeworker.

(2) The style number or name, or, if none, the identification number or name used in lieu thereof, the description of, and amount of goods in each lot or the amount of goods purchased from each homeworker, the operations to be performed or performed thereon, the piece rates to be paid or paid, the gross amount due each homeworker for the operations performed upon the goods, social security deductions from that amount, the costs, if any, incurred by the homeworker for equipment, material, or other items such as electricity or fuel as a result of homework, the amount actually paid the homeworker, and the date of payment.

(3) The signature of the person acting in behalf of the prime contractor or manufacturer.

(c) No prime contractor or manufacturer shall employ any homeworker for more than 40 hours in any workweek unless, in addition to the records which he is required to keep pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, such prime contractor or manufacturer makes and keeps available at his principal Puerto Rican office and enters in the handbook of each such homeworker a record of the following information: [4]

(1) The hours worked by the homeworker on the goods in each lot.

(2) The total hours worked each week.

(3) The wages paid the homeworker each week at regular piece rates.

(4) The extra amount paid to the homeworker for hours worked in excess of 40 in each week.

(d) Every employer who makes retroactive payment of wages or compensation under the supervision of the Administrator pursuant to section 16 (c) of the act, shall:

(1) Record and preserve, as an entry on his payroll or other pay records, the amount of such payment to each employee, the period covered by such payment, and the date of payment.

(2) Prepare a report of each such payment on the receipt form provided or authorized by the Wage and Hour Division, and (i) preserve a copy as part of his records, (ii) deliver a copy to the employee, and (iii) file the original, which shall evidence payment by the employer and receipt by the employee, with the Administrator or his authorized representative within 10 days after payment is made.

§ 545.8 Reporting names of subcontractors, agents, or other homework distributors. Every prime contractor or manufacturer shall report to the office of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, (a) the names and addresses of all persons engaged or used as subcontractors, as that term is defined in this part, or as agents or supervisors in charge of any branch office, and (b) the permit numbers issued to such persons by the Department of Labor of Puerto Rico.

§ 545.9 Minimum piece rates prescribed by the Administrator. Pursuant to the provisions of section 6 (a) (2) of the act, each homeworker shall be paid in lieu of the applicable hourly rate established by the wage order for the needlework and fabricated textile products industry, not less than the piece rates prescribed in § 545.13 for the operations described therein.

§ 545.10 Piece rates adopted by employers. (a) Pursuant to the provisions of section 6 (a) (2) of the act, in the event that a homeworker performs an operation for which no minimum piece rate has been prescribed by regulation or order of the Administrator or his authorized representative, he shall be paid a piece rate adopted by the prime contractor or manufacturer which shall yield to homeworkers of ordinary skill, under prevalent operating conditions and with equipment ordinarily found in homes, an amount not less than the applicable minimum hourly wage rate established by wage order.[5] This piece rate must be the result of production time studies conducted in Puerto Rico with a representative group of homeworkers. Such piece rate shall be lawful only if it actually satisfies the requirements of this section, and such a rate shall remain in effect only until such time as the Administrator or his authorized representative, by regulation or order, establishes a minimum piece rate for the operations.

(b) Piece rates adopted under this section shall be filed with the Wage and Hour Division in Puerto Rico, accompanied by a record of the time tests showing a full description of the operation tested, the date of the test, measures taken to insure a representative sample of homeworkers, the starting and stopping time of each worker tested together with the number of units produced in that time, the total number of workers tested, the total number of hours worked, and the total number of units produced.

§ 545.11 Penalties. Section 15 of the act makes it unlawful for any person to violate the provisions of this part and subjects any such person to the penalties provided in section 16 and section 17 of the act.

§ 545.12 Petition for amendment of regulations. Any person wishing a revision of any of the terms of this part may submit in writing to the Administrator or his authorized representative a petition setting forth the changes desired and the reasons for proposing them. If, upon inspection of the petition, the Administrator or his authorized representative believes that reasonable cause for amendment of this part is set forth, the Administrator or his authorized representative will, unless it is impracticable, unnecessary or contrary to the public interest to do so, either schedule a hearing with due notice to interested parties, or will make other provision for affording interested parties an opportunity to present their views, either in support of or in opposition to the proposed changes.

[4] Although responsibility for supplying the handbook to the homeworker and recording information therein is placed upon the prime contractor or manufacturer, the actual work of doing so may be performed by supervisory or clerical employees, agents, subcontractors, or other persons acting in his behalf.

[5] See Part 655 of this chapter for the minimum hourly wage rates currently applicable for the various divisions and classifications of the needlework and fabricated textile products industry in Puerto Rico. The minimum hourly rates applicable to the manufacture of hooked rugs are provided in the wage order for the hooked rug industry in Puerto Rico (Part 684 of this chapter). Homeworkers in the hooked rug industry are governed by Part 681 of this chapter.

[2] These piece rates have been set on the basis of O. N. T. thread No. 5, corded, which averages 28 stitches per inch of solid cord. If corded threads are used, which are not so thick, the rate should be increased in proportion to the increase in the number of stitches per inch. If corded thread No. 11 is used, 15 percent must be added to the piece rates established for thread No. 5.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 907]

[Docket No. AO 212-A10]

HANDLING OF MILK IN MILWAUKEE, WIS., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVELY APPROVED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held in the Colonial Room, Wisconsin Hotel, 720 North Third Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, at 10:30 a. m., c. s. t., June 15, 1955.

The hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to economic and marketing conditions which relate to the handling of milk for the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, marketing area and to the proposed amendments set forth herein below, or modifications thereof, to the tentative marketing agreement as heretofore approved by the Secretary of Agriculture and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area. The amendments proposed have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

The following amendments have been proposed:

By Milwaukee Cooperative Milk Producers:

1. Amend paragraph (a) of § 907.51 Class I milk to read:

(a) The price for Class I milk shall be the basic formula price plus the following amounts as indicated: July through December, inclusive, $1.06; and January through June, inclusive, $0.86; Provided, That such Class I price differential shall be increased or decreased, respectively, 3 cents for each full percent that the current supply-demand ratio computed pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section is greater or less than 72 percent, but shall not be increased or decreased more than 24 cents due to the supply-demand ratio.

2. Amend paragraph (e) of § 907.51 Automatic price adjustment to read:

(e) On or before the last day of each month the market administrator shall make the following computations based upon the combined reported receipts and utilization of handlers under the Milwaukee order and of handlers as defined in the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, as computed by the market administrator under the latter order;

(1) Determine the total receipts of Grade A milk from all producers (including receipts from own farm production) for the most recent 12-month period,

(2) Determine the total pounds of Grade A milk actually utilized in Class I milk and Class II milk products during the most recent 12-month period and subtract therefrom the amount of Class II milk represented by frozen cream and plastic cream moving into storage during such 12-month period, and

(3) Divide the amount obtained in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph by the amount obtained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and round to the nearest full percent, which resulting percentage shall be known as the "current supply-demand ratio."

By Pure Milk Products Cooperative:

3. Amend § 907.51 (a) to provide for a Class I differential of $0.96 per hundredweight over the basic formula price for each delivery period during the year.

4. Amend § 907.51 so as to modify the supply-demand adjustor provision as it affects Class I and Class II price differentials.

By Milwaukee Cooperative Milk Producers:

5. Amend paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 907.60 Computation of base for each producer to read:

(a) Divide the total pounds of milk received by a handler(s) from each producer during the months of September through December, 1955, and during the months of August through November in subsequent years immediately preceding by the number of days, not to be less than seventy-five, of such producer's delivery in such period, and increase the resulting amount by ten percent (10%); Provided, That any producer for whom a base has been allotted shall have the option upon notice in writing to the market administrator given before the end of April in any year, to relinquish his base for such year and to be allotted a base equal to 70 percent of his average daily deliveries during the month involved; and

(b) Any producer entering the market following twelve or more consecutive months without producer status shall have his milk deliveries priced according to the proviso in paragraph (a) of this section; or upon notifying the market administrator prior to qualifying as a producer, he may elect to have a base computed in the manner provided in paragraph (a) of this section with respect to his deliveries of milk to any fluid milk plant, receiving station, or nonfluid plant, such deliveries to be subject to verification by the market administrator: Provided, That this paragraph shall not be construed to conflict with § 907.61 (a) or (b).

By Blochowiak Dairy Company; Heinemann Kewaskum Dairy; Borden Company Milwaukee Milk Division; Luick Dairy Company; Gehl's Guernsey Farms, Inc.; and Hawthorn-Mellody Farms Dairy of Wisconsin:

6. Change the base-making period in § 907.60 (a) from the months of September through December to August through November.

7a. Delete from § 907.60 (a) the following: "the following applicable percentage: (1) for April through June of 1952, forty percent (40%); (2) for April through June of 1953, thirty percent (30%); and (3) for each April through June thereafter twenty percent (20%)."

b. Add the following: "the following applicable percentage: (1) for April through June of 1956, fifteen percent (15%); (2) for April through June of 1957, ten percent (10%); (3) for April through June of 1958, five percent (5%); and (4) no increase thereafter."

8. Change the date for electing the hardship provision in § 907.60 (a) from the end of April to the end of January.

9. Change the hardship provision in § 907.60 (a) from 80 percent of deliveries in the month involved to 60 percent of deliveries in the month involved.

By the Dairy Division, Agricultural Marketing Service:

10. Delete the following words in parentheses from § 907.30 (d): "(except Class III milk and Class IV milk products disposed of in the form in which received without further processing by the handler)."

11. Delete paragraph § 907.32 (b).

12. Delete the words "receipt of" following the word "all" in § 907.33 (a).

13. Delete § 907.41 (d) (3) and substitute therefor the following: "(3) actual shrinkage, but in an amount not to exceed one-half percent of the total pounds of butterfat received directly from producers, plus two percent of the total pounds of butterfat in bulk milk, skim milk, and cream in fluid form received at a handler's plant from all sources which were not disposed of in bulk to a plant of another handler."

14. In conjunction with change in § 907.41 (d), delete also § 907.46 (f) (6) and substitute therefor the following:

(6) Determine the maximum number of pounds of butterfat shrinkage in Class IV milk by multiplying by two percent the pounds of butterfat in bulk milk, skim milk, or cream in fluid form received at a handler's plant from producers, other handlers and other sources which were not disposed of in bulk to other handlers, and adding such amount to the result obtained by multiplying by ½ percent the pounds of butterfat received directly from producers: Provided, That the pounds determined pursuant to this subparagraph shall be zero if records of utilization satisfactory to the market administrator are not available.

15. Delete from § 907.43 the following words "without regard to" and substitute a comma and the words "regardless of."

16. Clarify language for application of § 907.44 (b) and its relation to other provisions of the order, especially to § 907.45 (b).

17. Delete from § 907.45 (a) the words "including a producer-handler"; and delete also the word "writing" and substitute therefor the word "reports"; and delete also the words "on or before the 7th day"; and delete from the proviso the word "any" and substitute therefore the words "such other".

18. Delete from § 907.45 (b) (1) the following language: "on or before the 7th day after the end of the month within which such transaction occurred."

19. Delete from § 907.45 (b) (2) the word "and" at the end of the sentence.

20. Delete from § 907.45 (b) (3) the following words "as Class I milk if milk or skim milk or as Class II if cream" and substitute therefore the following: "in such other classes as contain butterfat for use to establish equivalent amounts of milk;"

21. Add subparagraph (4) to § 907.45 (b) as follows:

(4) "The nonfluid milk plant is located within the State of Wisconsin or in an area outside of Wisconsin not more than 150 miles from the marketing area."

22. Delete § 907.47 (a) and substitute therefore the following:

(a) Subtract from the pounds of Class IV milk the 3.5 percent milk equivalent of inventory variation prorated to other source milk, and subtract the lesser pounds of the following two items: (1) the pounds of shrinkage prorated to other source milk pursuant to § 907.42, or (2) the maximum number of pounds of shrinkage determined for other source milk in § 907.46 (f) (6);

23. Insert in § 907.47 (b) after the words "producer milk" within parenthesis the following "and other handlers' milk"; and insert the word "and" between the words "Class III milk" and "Class II milk"; then delete the words "and Class I milk", and substitute a comma for a colon following the word "received", and insert the following: "and then subtract from Class I the pounds of milk equivalent of the remaining butterfat pounds in such other source milk computed at the average test of Class I milk."

24. In § 907.50 insert the word "and" between the letters "(a)" and "(b)" and delete "and (c)" from the introductory sentence, and add to the sentence the following: "adjusted to the nearest full cent."

25. Present paragraph § 907.50 (c) should be labeled § 907.50 (b).

26. Delete the following from the proviso in § 907.51 (c) concerning the price of Class III milk: "the market administrator shall include in the computation of such average the prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid, or to be paid, for the current month for milk containing 3.5 percent butterfat received during such month at the following listed manufacturing plants for which prices are reported to the United States Department of Agriculture or to the market administrators:

Companies and Location

Armour & Co., Stoughton, Wis.
United Milk Products Co., Johnson Creek, Wis."

and substitute therefore the following: "the price for Class III milk shall be the basic formula price determined in accordance with § 907.50 (a)."

27. In § 907.51 (d) on the price of Class IV milk, substitute "b" for "c" in the section number shown as § 907.50 (c); and substitute a period for a comma at this place; and delete the following: "except for the months of April, May and June of 1954, deduct 10 cents from the price computed pursuant to § 907.50 (c)."

28. Review § 907.61 Base rules.

29. Make such other changes as may be required to make the entire marketing agreement and order conform with any amendments thereto that may result from this hearing.

Copies of this notice of hearing and of the said order, as amended, may be procured from the Market Administrator, 956 North 12th Street, Milwaukee 3, Wisconsin, or from the Hearing Clerk, Room 112, Administration Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Dated: June 8, 1955.

FLUE-CURED TOBACCO

NOTICE OF DETERMINATIONS TO BE MADE WITH RESPECT TO MARKETING QUOTA FOR FLUE-CURED TOBACCO FOR 1956–57 MARKETING YEAR

Pursuant to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, the Secretary of Agriculture is preparing to proclaim a national marketing quota for flue-cured tobacco for the 1956–57 marketing year.

The act (7 U. S. C. 1312 (a)) provides that the Secretary shall proclaim a national marketing quota for each marketing year for each kind of tobacco for which a national marketing quota was proclaimed for the immediately preceding marketing year. A national marketing quota for flue-cured tobacco for the 1955–56 marketing year was proclaimed on November 26, 1954 (19 F. R. 7929).

The act (7 U. S. C. 1312 (a)) provides that the Secretary shall also determine and specify in such proclamation the amount of the national marketing quota in terms of the total quantity of tobacco which may be marketed, which will make available during such marketing year a supply of tobacco equal to the reserve supply level. The act provides further that the amount of the 1956–57 national marketing quota may, not later than March 1, 1956, be increased by not more than 20 per centum if the Secretary determines that such increase is necessary in order to meet market demands or to avoid undue restriction of marketings in adjusting the total supply to the reserve supply level. The act (7 U. S. C. 1301 (b)) defines the "total supply" of tobacco for any marketing year as the carry-over at the beginning of the marketing year (July 1, 1955, in the case of flue-cured tobacco), plus the estimated production in the United States during the calendar year in which such marketing year begins. "Reserve supply level" is defined as the normal supply plus five per centum thereof. "Normal supply" is defined as a normal year's domestic consumption and exports, plus 175 per centum of a normal year's domestic consumption, and 65 per centum of a normal year's exports. A "normal year's domestic consumption" is defined as the yearly average quantity produced in the United States and consumed in the United States during the ten marketing years immediately preceding the marketing year in which such consumption is determined, adjusted for current trends in such consumption. A "normal year's exports" is defined as the yearly average quantity produced in the United States which was exported from the United States during the ten marketing years immediately preceding the marketing year in which such exports are determined, adjusted for the current trends in such exports.

The act (7 U. S. C. 1312 (b)) provides that within 30 days after a national marketing quota is proclaimed for the 1956–57 marketing year the Secretary shall conduct a referendum of farmers who are engaged in the production of the 1955 crop of flue-cured tobacco to determine whether such farmers are in favor of or opposed to such quota. If more than one-third of the farmers voting in the referendum oppose such quota, the quota shall not be effective thereafter. The Secretary is also required to submit to such farmers the question of whether they favor marketing quotas for a period of three years beginning with the 1956–57 marketing year. If two-thirds of the farmers voting on this question favor quotas for such three-year period, the Secretary is required to proclaim marketing quotas for such period.

In making the determination as to the amount of the national marketing quota for flue-cured tobacco for the 1956–57 marketing year, consideration will be given to any data, views, and recommendations pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Director, Tobacco Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. All submissions must be postmarked not later than ten days after the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER in order to be considered.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 7th day of June 1955.

[SEAL] PRESTON RICHARDS,
Acting Administrator.

PEANUTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED PROCLAMATION WITH RESPECT TO 1956 NATIONAL MARKETING QUOTA AND APPORTIONMENT OF NATIONAL ACREAGE ALLOTMENT AND DEVELOPMENT OF REGULATIONS FOR ESTABLISHING FARM ALLOTMENTS

Pursuant to Title III of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1301–1393 and Sups.), the Secretary of Agriculture is required by section 358 (a) thereof to proclaim, between July 1 and December 1 of each calendar year, the amount of the national marketing quota for peanuts for the crop produced in the next succeeding calendar year. The amount of such quota is the total quantity of peanuts which will make available for marketing a supply of peanuts from the crop with respect to which the quota is proclaimed equal to the average quantity of peanuts harvested for nuts during the five years immediately preceding the year in which such quota is proclaimed, adjusted for current trends and prospective demand conditions.

Section 358 (a) of the act further provides that the national marketing quota for peanuts shall be converted to a national acreage allotment by dividing such quota by the normal yield per acre of peanuts for the United States determined by the Secretary on the basis of the average yield per acre of peanuts in the five years preceding the year in which the quota is proclaimed, with such adjustment as may be found necessary to correct for trends in yields and for abnormal conditions of production affecting yields.

Section 358 (a) of the act further provides that the national marketing quota established for any year subsequent to 1941 shall be a quantity of peanuts sufficient to provide a national acreage allotment of not less than that established for the crop produced in the calendar year 1941, which was 1,610,000 acres.

Section 358 (c) (1) of the act provides that for any year subsequent to 1951, the national acreage allotment for that year, less the acreage to be allotted to new farms under section 358 (f) of the act, shall be apportioned among the States on the basis of their share of the national acreage allotment for the most recent year in which such apportionment was made. Pursuant to this provision of the act, the national acreage allotment for the 1956 crop of peanuts will be apportioned to States on the basis of their shares of the 1955 national acreage allotment.

In addition to the foregoing determinations to be made with respect to the 1956 crop of peanuts, the Secretary has under consideration the formulation of regulations which will provide the procedures for apportioning the 1956 State peanut acreage allotment to farms, or to counties and farms; for establishing allotments for farms on which peanuts were not produced in 1953, 1954, and 1955, but on which peanuts are to be produced in 1956; and for determining farm normal yields per acre for peanuts. It is expected that the regulations for the 1956 crop of peanuts will be substantially the same as the regulations for the 1955 crop (19 F. R. 6134).

Prior to proclaiming the national marketing quota, establishing the national acreage allotment, apportioning the national acreage allotment among the States, formulating regulations governing the apportionment of State acreage allotments to farms or to counties and farms, determining the percentage of the national acreage allotment to be reserved for new farms and formulating regulations governing the apportionment of such acreage among new farms, and determining farm normal yields for peanuts, consideration will be given to any data, views, and recommendations relating thereto which are submitted in writing to the Director, Oils and Peanut Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. Any data, views, and recommendations relating to the question of whether the State acreage allotment should be apportioned to the counties in the State as provided in section 358 (e) of the act, should be submitted in writing direct to the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, whose address may be obtained from any County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office in the State. All written submissions must be postmarked not later than 30 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 7th day of June 1955.

[SEAL] PRESTON RICHARDS,
Acting Administrator.

AMERICAN FIRE AND CASUALTY CO., ORLANDO, FLA.

TERMINATION OF AUTHORITY TO QUALIFY AS SURETY ON FEDERAL BONDS

JUNE 7, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that the Certificate of Authority issued by the Secretary of the Treasury to the American Fire and Casualty Company, Orlando, Florida, under the provisions of the act of Congress approved July 30, 1947 (6 U. S. C. secs. 6–13), to qualify as sole surety on recognizances, stipulations, bonds and undertakings permitted or required by the laws of the United States, terminated as of April 30, 1955.

The American Fire and Casualty Company received its initial authority from the Secretary of the Treasury to do business with the United States on May 19, 1954, and remained continuously so qualified until April 30, 1955.

The company requested permission from the Treasury to retire voluntarily from the execution of any new business in favor of the United States.

In order that there may be a coordinated record showing the status of outstanding bonds of this company as of this date in favor of the United States, bond-approving officers are requested, upon the receipt of this circular, to examine carefully the records of their offices and report promptly to the Surety Bonds Branch, Bureau of Accounts, Treasury Department, all outstanding bonds accepted by them and executed by the American Fire and Casualty Company as surety or co-surety on which the liability of the company has not terminated.

It is also requested that the Surety Bonds Branch be advised as expeditiously as possible as to all facts, in detail, relating to any existing claim, or with respect to the occurrence of any event or the existence of any circumstance which may hereafter result in a claim against the American Fire and Casualty Company.

In furnishing the above information bond-approving officers will please give the name of the principal on the bond, the date and penalty of the bond, and with respect to claims, the nature of the claim, the circumstances out of which it arose, and its status at the time of the report.

Bond-approving officers and other agents of the Government charged with the duty of taking bonds, recognizances, stipulations or undertakings should proceed immediately to secure new bonds, where necessary, with acceptable sureties, in lieu of bonds executed by the American Fire and Casualty Company.

[Commissioner Delegation Order 4]

ASSISTANT COMMISSIONER (INSPECTION) ET AL.

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY TO ISSUE SUMMONSES AND TO EXAMINE BOOKS, RECORDS AND WITNESSES

Pursuant to the authority vested in me as Commissioner of Internal Revenue, it is hereby ordered:

1. The following officers and employees of the Internal Revenue Service are authorized to exercise the authority provided by section 7602 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, including the authority (1) to examine books, papers, records, or other data; (2) to summon persons to appear and produce books, papers, records, or other data and give testimony under oath; and (3) to take testimony under oath of a person concerned:

(a) Assistant Commissioner (Inspection).

(b) Regional Commissioners and District Directors of Internal Revenue.

(c) Assistant Regional Commissioners (Intelligence); Executive Assistants to Assistant Regional Commissioners (Intelligence); Chiefs, Review and Conference Staff, Intelligence Division; and Reviewer Conferees, Intelligence Division.

(d) Assistant Regional Commissioners (Alcohol and Tobacco Tax).

(e) Officers and employees of the respective divisions of the Internal Revenue Service designated as follows:

(1) Collection Division. Chiefs of the Collection Divisions, Chiefs of the Delinquent Accounts and Returns Branches, and Group Supervisors.

(2) Audit Division. Chiefs of Divisions and Branches, Group Supervisors, all Internal Revenue Agents, and Estate Tax Examiners.

(3) Intelligence Division. Chiefs, Assistant Chiefs, Group Supervisors and all Special Agents.

(4) Inspection. Director, Internal Security Division; Assistant Directors, Internal Security Division; Regional Inspectors; and all Inspectors.

The authority to summon persons delegated by this paragraph may not be redelegated.

2. Each of the officers and employees referred to in paragraph 1 of this order may designate any other employee of the Internal Revenue Service as the individual before whom a person summoned pursuant to section 7602 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 shall appear. Any such other employee of the Internal Revenue Service, when so designated in a summons, is authorized to take testimony under oath of the person summoned and to receive and examine books, papers, records, or other data produced in compliance with the summons.

3. The Assistant Commissioner (Inspection), each Regional Commissioner and each District Director of Internal Revenue is authorized to redelegate to any employee of the Internal Revenue Service within his jurisdiction the authority provided by section 7602 (1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 to examine books, papers, records, or other data.

4. This order supersedes Commissioner's Reorganization Order No. 6 dated May 15, 1952 (17 F. R. 4587). All other delegations of authority to officers or employees of the Internal Revenue Service are superseded to the extent that they are inconsistent with any of the provisions of this order.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 812–933]

REM-CRU TITANIUM, INC.

NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATION REQUESTING ORDER EXEMPTING CERTAIN TRANSACTIONS BETWEEN AFFILIATES

JUNE 7, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that Rem-Cru Titanium, Inc. ("Applicant"), which is indirectly controlled by Christiana Securities Corporation ("Christiana"), a registered closed-end, non-diversified investment company, which in turn is controlled by Delaware Realty and Investment Company ("Realty"), also a registered closed-end, non-diversified investment company, has filed an application pursuant to section 17 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("act") for an order exempting from the prohibitions contained in section 17 (a) of the act the transaction described below whereby Applicant proposes to purchase from Crucible Steel Company of America ("Vendor"), of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, a New Jersey corporation, for $461,500 certain tracts of land, with the buildings and improvements located thereon (hereinafter referred to as "the Property"), which Applicant desires to acquire to provide facilities for the production and sale of titanium products.

Realty owns approximately thirty-three percent of the outstanding common stock of Christiana. Christiana owns with full power to vote, approximately twenty-seven percent of the outstanding common stock of E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, which in turn owns approximately sixty percent of the outstanding voting securities of Remington Arms Company, Inc. The latter and the Vendor each own fifty percent of the outstanding Common stock (the only class of stock) of Applicant. Accordingly Vendor is an affiliated person of Applicant and the latter is presumed to be controlled by the registered investment companies, Realty and Christiana.

The Property contains approximately ten acres of land, buildings in which Applicant is presently conducting certain industrial operations, and much of the machinery and equipment therein. The Vendor has used The Property since its acquisition for cold drawing of steel and in the past few years part of it has been leased to Applicant for melting of titanium.

The Property was acquired by the Vender at a total cost of $493,105. The Vendor acquired part of the land in 1912 for a price of $6,415; and in 1948 it purchased the remaining land, the buildings and equipment at a cost of $486,690. At December 31, 1954, the Vendor carried the property on its books at a gross value of $493,105.

The purchase price of $461,500 for the Property was arrived at in extended negotiations between representatives of Remington Arms Company, Inc., Vendor and Applicant.

Section 17 (a) of the act prohibits an affiliated person of a registered investment company, including an affiliate of such a person, from selling any security or other property to such registered company or to any company controlled by such registered company, subject to certain exceptions, unless the Commission upon application pursuant to section 17 (b) of the act, grants an exemption from the provisions of section 17 (a) of the act and finds that the terms of the proposed transaction, including the consideration, are reasonable and fair and do not involve overreaching on the part of anyone concerned, that the proposed transaction is consistent with the policy of each registered investment company concerned, as recited in its registration statement and reports filed under the act and is consistent with the general purposes of the act.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 22, 1955, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application may be granted as provided in Rule N–5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

ALLEN E. BEERS CO.

ORDER FOR PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of Allen E. Beers Company, Western Savings Fund Building, Broad and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia 7, Pennsylvania.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 7th day of June 1955.

I. The Commission's public official files disclose that Allen E. Beers Company, a partnership, hereinafter referred to as registrant, is registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

II. The Records Officer of the Commission has filed with the Commission a statement, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof,[1] stating that registrant did not file with the Commission reports of his financial condition during the calendar year 1954, as required by section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X–17A–5 adopted thereunder.

[1] Filed as part of original document.

III. The information reported to the Commission by its Records Officer as set forth in Paragraph II hereof tends, if true, to show that registrant violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X–17A–5 adopted under said section.

IV. The Commission, having considered the aforesaid information, deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors that proceedings be instituted to determine:

(a) Whether the statement referred to in Paragraph II hereof is true;

(b) Whether registrant has wilfully violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X–17A–5 adopted under said section;

(c) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, it is in the public interest to revoke registration of registrant; and

(d) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pending final determination, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to suspend the registration of registrant.

V. It is ordered, That registrant be given an opportunity for hearing as set forth in Paragraph IV hereof on the 11th day of July 1955, at the main office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, located at 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., before a Hearing Examiner to be designated by the Commission. On such date the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 193, North Building, will advise the parties and the Hearing Examiner as to the room in which such hearing will be held. The Commission will consider any motion with respect to a change of place of said hearing if said motion is filed with the Secretary of the Commission on or before June 27, 1955. Upon completion of any such hearing in this matter the Hearing Examiner shall prepare a recommended decision pursuant to Rule IX of the Rules of Practice unless such decision is waived.

It is further ordered, That in the event registrant does not appear personally or through a representative at the time and place herein set or as otherwise ordered, the Hearing Room Clerk shall file with the Records Officer of the Commission a written statement to that effect and thereupon the Commission will take the record under advisement for decision.

This order and notice shall be served on registrant personally or by registered mail forthwith, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than fifteen (15) days prior to July 11, 1955.

In the absence of an appropriate waiver, no officer or employee of the Commission engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions in this or any factually related proceeding will be permitted to participate or advise in the decision upon the matter except as witness or counsel in proceedings held pursuant to notice. Since this proceeding is not "rule making" within the meaning of section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, it is not deemed to be subject to the provisions of the section delaying the effective date of any final Commission action.

WINNER AND MYERS

ORDER FOR PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of Winner and Myers, 218 E. Water Street, Lock Haven, Pennsylvania.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 7th day of June 1955.

I. The Commission's public official files disclose that Winner and Myers, a partnership, hereinafter referred to as registrant, is registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

II. The Records Officer of the Commission has filed with the Commission a statement, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof,[1] stating that registrant did not file with the Commission reports of his financial condition during the calendar year 1954, as required by section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted thereunder.

III. The information reported to the Commission by its Records Officer as set forth in Paragraph II hereof tends, if true, to show that registrant violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted under said section .

IV. The Commission, having considered the aforesaid information, deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors that proceedings be instituted to determine:

(a) Whether the statement referred to in Paragraph II hereof is true;

(b) Whether registrant has wilfully violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted under said section;

(c) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, it is in the public interest to revoke registration of registrant; and

(d) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pending final determination, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to suspend the registration of registrant.

V. It is ordered, That registrant be given an opportunity for hearing as set forth in Paragraph IV hereof on the 11th day of July 1955, at the main office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, located at 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., before a Hearing Examiner to be designated by the Commission. On such date the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 193, North Building, will advise the parties and the Hearing Examiner as to the room in which such hearing will be held. The Commission will consider any motion with respect to a change of place of said hearing if said motion is filed with the Secretary of the Commission on or before June 27, 1955. Upon completion of any such hearing in this matter the Hearing Examiner shall prepare a recommended decision pursuant to Rule IX of the rules of practice unless such decision is waived.

It is further ordered, That in the event registrant does not appear personally or through a representative at the time and place herein set or as otherwise ordered, the Hearing Room Clerk shall file with the Records Officer of the Commission a written statement to that effect and thereupon the Commission will take the record under advisement for decision.

This order and notice shall be served on registrant personally or by registered mail forthwith, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than fifteen (15) days prior to July 11, 1955.

In the absence of an appropriate waiver, no officer or employee of the Commission engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions in this or any factually related proceeding will be permitted to participate or advise in the decision upon the matter except as witness or counsel in proceedings held pursuant to notice. Since this proceeding is not "rule making" within the meaning of section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, it is not deemed to be subject to the provisions of the section delaying the effective date of any final Commission action.

By the Commission.

ELECTRIC BOND AND SHARE CO.

ORDER APPROVING PROPOSED ACQUISITION OF SECURITIES THROUGH STABILIZATION TRANSACTIONS IN CONNECTION WITH SALE OF PORTFOLIO SECURITIES

JUNE 2, 1955.

Electric Bond and Share Company ("Bond and Share"), a registered holding company, has filed, pursuant to Rule U-44 (c) promulgated under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), a notice of intention to sell, through a rights offering to its common stockholders, and without underwriting, 525,036 shares of the common stock of United Gas Corporation ("United Gas") as a step in the consummation of a plan heretofore approved by the Commission under section 11 (e) of the act.

Bond and Share has also filed an application, pursuant to sections 9 (a) (1) and 10 of the act, in connection with the proposed rights offering, for approval of its proposed acquisition of not to exceed 52,500 additional shares of United Gas common stock and of its proposed purchase and sale of rights to purchase United Gas common stock for stabilization purposes. The acquisitions of United Gas common stock are to be made by purchases on the New York Stock Exchange at a price (exclusive of commissions) not in excess of the last preceding sale price of such stock. Such purchases and sales of stock and rights may commence on the day on which "when issued" trading in such rights commences on the American Stock Exchange; and no purchases or sales are to be made subsequent to the expiration of the period for exercising such rights. Any shares of United Gas common stock acquired through such stabilization transactions will be subsequently disposed of by Bond and Share as part of the shares required to be disposed of under the Plan.

The only fees and expenses to be paid in connection with the stabilizing operations proposed by Bond and Share are (a) regular brokerage commissions charged for similar transactions on the New York Stock Exchange and the American Stock Exchange and (b) fees of $500 and expenses of $25 of Bond and Share's counsel for services in connection with the carrying out of such operations, including the processing of the present application.

Notice of the filing of the application in respect of the proposed acquisition of not in excess of 52,500 additional shares of United Gas common stock and of the proposed purchase and sale of rights to purchase United Gas common stock, for stabilization purposes, having been duly issued in the manner provided by Rule U-23 promulgated under the act; and no hearing having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and

The Commission finding with respect to the proposed acquisition of not in excess of 52,500 additional shares of United Gas common stock and the proposed purchase and sale of rights to purchase United Gas common stock that the applicable standards of the act are satisfied, and that the fees and expenses, if they do not exceed the amounts estimated, are not unreasonable, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to grant the application:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that the application of Bond and Share for approval of its acquisition of not to exceed 52,500 additional shares of United Gas common stock and of the purchase and sale of rights to purchase United Gas common stock, for stabilization purposes, be, and it hereby is, granted effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

NEWMONT MINING CORP.

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING ON APPLICATION FOR ORDER DECLARING THAT COMPANY IS NOT AN INVESTMENT COMPANY

JUNE 8, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that Newmont Mining Corporation ("Newmont"), a registered management investment company, has filed an application and an amendment thereto, pursuant to section 3 (b) (2) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("act"), for an order declaring it to be engaged primarily in a business or businesses other than that of investing, reinvesting, owning, holding, or trading in securities.

The application states that Newmont was organized in Delaware in 1921 to engage in and carry on the business of exploration, development, financing and operation of non-ferrous mines and petroleum in the mining and oil regions throughout the world. The applicant states that it has been engaged in such business ever since its organization.

Newmont registered under the act as an investment company in 1942. Its registration statement sets forth that its policy is to engage actively in the business of exploring for and financing of mines and mining properties which are generally thereafter owned, developed and operated by other corporations either already in existence or organized by the applicant, and to invest funds not required for that purpose in marketable stock of mining corporations, pending such time as such funds may become needed for the acquisition and financing of new mining properties.

In pursuance of the purposes for which it was organized and in line with its stated policy, Newmont states that it has expanded its ownership of mining and oil corporations, either wholly-owned or controlled by the applicant to the extent that it is no longer properly classified as an investment company under the Investment Company Act.

Newmont states that it does not hold itself out as being primarily engaged in investing, reinvesting, owning, holding, or trading in securities. On the contrary, Newmont represents that it is primarily engaged directly or through companies which are controlled in fact by ownership of over 25 percent of the voting stock, and in some instances, by management contract, in the business of exploration, acquisition, financing, development, and operation of mining properties.

The application states that nearly all of the time of Newmont's employees is devoted almost exclusively to the business of mining exploration, development, equipment, and operation of mines and petroleum and the disposal of the products therefrom. Newmont has established a reputation as a mine-finder, and mining prospects from most of the mining regions of the free world are brought to its attention and literally hundreds of such properties are given at least office consideration each year. Newmont maintains a staff of specialized and experienced engineers and geologists who devote their entire time to the business of mining exploration, development and operation, including the management of producing properties. Field work is continuously being conducted either directly or through subsidiaries in most of the mining regions of the world.

The application states further that through the operation of controlled companies Newmont actually conducts wide-spread mining operations which constitute the major portion of its activities. Some eight thousand employees of companies controlled and directed by the applicant produced in 1954 over 41,000 tons of metallic copper, 58,000 tons of lead, 39,000 tons of zinc, 57,000 ounces of gold, 1,300,000 ounces of silver, and 460,000 barrels of oil. The control and conduct of these operations, combined with widespread exploration activities, require the greater proportion of the time and efforts of the officers and employees of Newmont.

Section 3 (a) (3) of the act defines an investment company as one which is engaged or proposes to engage in the business of investing, reinvesting, owning, holding, or trading in securities, and owns or proposes to acquire investment securities having a value exceeding 40 percent of the value of the company's total assets (exclusive of Government securities and cash items) on an unconsolidated basis. For purposes of this section, "investment securities" are defined as including all securities except Government securities, securities issued by employees' securities companies, and securities issued by majority-owned subsidiaries which are not investment companies.

Section (3) (b) (2) of the act provides that, notwithstanding section 3 (a) (3), the term "investment company" does not include a person whom the Commission upon application finds and by order declares to be primarily engaged in a business or businesses other than that of investing, reinvesting, owning, holding, or trading in securities either directly or through majority-owned subsidiaries or through controlled companies conducting similar types of businesses.

Newmont is an investment company in accordance with the statistical definition of section 3 (a) (3) of the act. At December 31, 1954, Newmont's total assets (exclusive of Government securities and cash items) had a value of $201,900,121. The value of securities of majority-owned subsidiaries of Newmont was $74,146,765 or approximately 37 percent of total assets. Investment securities had a value of $127,469,398 or approximately 63 percent of total assets. Included in the latter figure are securities of companies which Newmont controls but in which it does not have a majority interest, such securities having a value of $18,592,582 or approximately 9 percent of Newmont's total assets. Thus, the total value of majority-owned and controlled securities at December 31, 1954, was equal to $92,739,347 or approximately 46 percent of Newmont's total assets. Newmont points out that its investments in controlled companies would be increased substantially if and when it converts into common stock its holdings of $8,000,000 of convertible debentures of Sherritt Gordon Mines, Ltd. Such conversion would increase to 38.1 percent Newmont's present ownership of 13.8 percent of the common stock of this company, which is developing important nickel deposits in Canada. If all of the securities owned by Newmont in this company were classified as investments in controlled companies at December 31, 1954, the total of securities of majority owned or controlled companies would be increased to $107,633,709, or 53.3 percent.

Newmont's total income in 1954, exclusive of realized capital gains, was $10,088,893, of which $6,403,196 or 63.5 percent came from investments in controlled companies, $3,571,318 or 35.4 percent from investment in non-controlled companies, and $114,379 or 1.1 percent from other sources. Newmont also realized $2,867,297 in capital gains from the sale of investment securities in 1954, and including this amount in total income, 49.4 percent of its income was derived from controlled companies, 49.7 percent from non-controlled companies, and .9 percent from other sources.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors that a hearing be held with respect to the application pursuant to section 3 (b) (2);

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 40 (a) of said act, that a hearing on the aforesaid application under the applicable provisions of the act and of the rules of the Commission thereunder be held on the 23d day of June 1955, at 10:00 a. m., in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At such time the Hearing Room Clerk will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. Any person desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in this proceeding is directed to file with the Secretary of the Commission his application as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice, on or before the date provided in that rule setting forth any issues of law or facts which he desires to controvert or any additional issues which he deems raised by this Notice and Order or by such application.

It is further ordered, That Edward C. Johnson, or any officer or officers of the Commission, designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at said hearing. The officer so designated is hereby authorized to exercise all the powers granted to the Commission under sections 41 and 42 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Division of Corporate Regulation having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the application, and that upon the basis thereof the following matters and questions are presented for consideration, without prejudice to its specifying additional matters and questions upon further examination:

(1) Whether Newmont is primarily engaged in the business of exploring for, developing, operating, and financing mining and petroleum properties either directly or through majority-owned subsidiaries, or through controlled companies conducting similar types of businesses, or whether it is primarily engaged in the business of investing, reinvesting, owning, holding, or trading in securities.

(2) Whether, pursuant to the terms of section 8 (f) of the act, an order should be issued declaring that Newmont has ceased to be an investment company and that its registration as such shall cease to be in effect and whether it is necessary for the protection of investors that any appropriate conditions should be provided in such order.

It is further ordered, That at the aforesaid hearing attention be given to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall give notice of the aforesaid hearing by mailing a copy of this notice and order by registered mail to Newmont, and that notice to all persons shall be given by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and that a general release of this Commission in respect of this notice and order be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases.

It is further ordered, That Newmont shall give notice of this hearing to all its stockholders (insofar as the identity of such security holders is known or available to it) by mailing to each of said persons a copy of this notice and order to his last known address at least 13 days prior to the date set for said hearing.

By the Commission.

Assistant Secretary.

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

[Declaration of Disaster Area 47]

ARKANSAS

DECLARATION OF DISASTER AREA

Whereas, it has been reported that beginning on or about May 26, 1955, because of the disastrous effects of tornado and excessive rainfall, damage resulted to residences and business property located in certain areas in the State of Arkansas; and

Whereas, the Small Business Administration has investigated and has received other reports of investigations of conditions in the areas affected; and

Whereas, after reading and evaluating reports of such conditions, I find that the conditions in such areas constitute a catastrophe within the purview of the Small Business Act of 1953;

Now, therefore, as Administrator of the Small Business Administration, I hereby determine that:

1. Applications for disaster loans under the provisions of section 207 (b) of the Small Business Act of 1953 may be received and considered by the Offices below indicated from persons or firms whose property situated in the following counties (including any areas adjacent to the counties below named) suffered damage or other destruction as a result of the catastrophe above referred to:

Counties of: Garland, Perry, Pulaski; Small Business Administration Regional Office, 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas. Small Business Administration Branch Office, U. S. O. Building, 217 Main Street, Little Rock, Ark.

2. Special field offices to receive such applications will not be established at this time.

3. Applications for disaster loans under the authority of this order will not be accepted subsequent to December 31, 1955.

Dated: June 6, 1955.

Subchapter B—Prohibitions of Imported Commodities

PART 1067—AVOCADOS

AVOCADO REGULATION NO. 2

§ 1067.2 Avocado Regulation No. 2. (a) On and after the effective time of this section, the importation into the United States of any avocados is prohibited unless:

(1) The individual fruit in each lot of such avocados weigh at least 14 ounces: Provided, That not to exceed 10 percent, by count, of the individual fruit in each lot may weigh less than 14 ounces but not less than 12 ounces, and not to exceed double such tolerance percentage shall be permitted for an individual container in a lot if the entire lot is within the tolerance;

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, any person may import any lot of avocados if (i) the exterior seed coat of the individual fruit is of a brown color characteristic of a mature avocado, or (ii) such avocados, when mature, normally change color to any shade of red or purple and any portion of the skin of the individual fruit has changed to the color normal for that fruit when mature; and

(3) Each such importation is made in conformance with the general regulations (Part 1060 of this subchapter; 19 F. R. 7707, 8012) applicable to the importation of listed commodities and the requirements of this section.

(b) Inspection by the Federal or Federal-State Inspection Service, or such other governmental inspection service as may be designated or approved by the Administrator, with appropriate evidence thereof in the form of an official inspection certificate, issued by the respective service, applicable to the particular shipment of avocados, is required on all imports of avocados pursuant to § 1060.3 of this subchapter.

(c) Inspection certificates shall cover only the quantity of avocados that is being imported at a particular port of entry by a particular importer.

(d) The inspections performed, and certificates issued, by the Federal or Federal-State Inspection Service shall be in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Department governing the inspection and certification of fresh fruits, vegetables, and other products (Part 51 of this title). The cost of any inspection and certification shall be borne by the applicant therefor.

(e) Each inspection certificate issued with respect to any avocados to be imported into the United States shall set forth, among other things:

(1) The date and place of inspection;

(2) The name of the shipper, or applicant;

(3) The name of the importer (consignee);

(4) The commodity inspected;

(5) The quantity of the commodity covered by the certificate;

(6) The principal identifying marks on the containers;

(7) The railroad car initials and number, the truck and trailer license number, the name of the vessel, or other identification of the shipment; and

(8) The following statement, if the facts warrant: Meets U. S. import requirements under section 8e of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, any importation of avocados which, in the aggregate, does not exceed 55 pounds may be imported without regard to the restrictions specified in this section.

(g) It is hereby determined, on the basis of the information currently available, that the requirements set forth in this section are comparable to the maturity regulation now in effect for avocados grown in South Florida, which regulation was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of May 17, 1955 (§ 969.306 of this chapter; 20 F. R. 3427).

It is hereby found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to postpone the effective time of this regulation beyond that hereinafter specified (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because (a) maturity regulations governing the ship-

PART 4—VESSELS IN FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC TRADES

WAIVER OF COASTWISE TOWING LAWS

JUNE 8, 1955.

Upon the written recommendation of the Deputy Secretary of Defense in the interest of national defense and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the act of December 27, 1950 (64 Stat. 1120), and revised Treasury Department Order No. 165 (T. D. 53654), I hereby waive compliance with section 316, title 46, United States Code, to the extent necessary to permit the use of the Canadian tug "Radel" in towing a barge now operated by the Badgett Mine Stripping Corporation on one voyage to commence on or about June 9, 1955, from Ogdensburg, New York, to the Badgett construction site in the International Rapids Section on the St. Lawrence River.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter V—Department of the Army

Subchapter B—Claims and Accounts

PART 536—CLAIMS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES

CLAIMS OF MILITARY PERSONNEL AND CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES FOR PROPERTY DAMAGED, LOST, DESTROYED, CAPTURED, OR ABANDONED INCIDENT TO THEIR SERVICE

Section 536.27 is amended by changing various paragraphs and subparagraphs to read as follows:

§ 536.27 Claims of military personnel and civilian employees for property damaged, lost, destroyed, captured, or abandoned incident to their service. • • •

(b) Claims payable. • • •

(2) Examples. • • •

(ii) Transportation losses. Where property, including baggage checked or in personal custody, is damaged, lost, or destroyed incident to transportation by a carrier, an agent or agency of the Government, or private conveyance:

(a) When shipped under orders; or

(b) In connection with travel under orders; or

(c) In connection with travel in performance of military duty with or without troops.

• • • • • •

(f) Statute of limitations. • • •

(2) Subject to the foregoing, every claim under this section should be presented as soon as possible after discovery of the damage or loss. Immediate action by the claimant will facilitate processing of the claim and reduce the time required to complete action. Delay by the claimant increases the difficulty of perfecting his claim because essential witnesses may be transferred or documents may be lost. Moreover, in a case involving transportation loss or damage, failure of a claimant to make demand on a carrier within 9 months may result in a reduction of the award on the claim.

• • • • • •

(h) Demand on carrier. When it appears that damage to, or loss or destruction of, property has occurred under circumstances in which a carrier is responsible, the claimant will, within 9 months after delivery or the date on which delivery should reasonably have been made, and prior to presenting a claim under this section, make demand in writing upon the last carrier known or believed to have handled the shipment for reimbursement for such damage, loss, or destruction. If more than one bill of lading or contract was issued, a separate demand will be made upon the last carrier under each bill of lading or contract. No such demand is required when it appears that the damage, loss or destruction resulted from improper packing, storage or other cause not within the control of a carrier. The claimant may present a claim under this section at any time after making demand on the carrier. A copy of the demand, and one of any reply, will be presented with a claim. The claimant should accept any amount offered in settlement by the carrier. Any such amount must be deducted from the amount otherwise payable under this section. The claimant will thereafter promptly notify the claims officer of any action by the carrier, including settlement or denial of liability.

• • • • • •

(j) Demand on insurer. When the property damaged, lost, destroyed, captured, or abandoned was insured in whole or in part, the claimant will, within the time prescribed in the insurance policy and prior to presenting a claim under this section, make demand in writing upon the insurer for reimbursement under the terms and conditions of the policy. The claimant may present a claim under this section at any time after making demand on the insurer. A copy of the demand, and one of any reply, will be presented with the claim. The claimant may accept any amount offered in settlement by the insurer. Any such amount must be deducted from the amount otherwise payable under this section. The claimant will thereafter promptly notify the claims officer of any action by the insurer, including settlement or denial of liability.

• • • • • •

(m) Proration of recovery from insurer. When the amount recovered or recoverable by the claimant from an insurer is less than the total loss, the amount so recovered or recoverable will be prorated between the amount approved and the amount disapproved.

(n) Proration in event of excess weight. [Revoked.]

(q) Claims—(1) Form to be used. • • •

(iv) That the damage, loss, destruction, capture, or abandonment was or was not covered by insurance and, if it was, that timely demand was made on the insurer or that demand was not made for stated reasons.

(v) In cases involving a carrier, that demand was made on the carrier.

• • • • • •

(2) Evidence to be submitted by claimant. • • •

(ii) If the claim is asserted under paragraph (b) (2) (ii) of this section (transportation losses):

• • • • • •

(c) Copy of demand on carrier or insurer, or both, when required.

• • • • • •

(e) A statement, in cases where property was turned over to a quartermaster, transportation officer, supply officer, or contract packer, setting forth the following information:

• • • • • •

(7) [Revoked.]

• • • • • •

(10) The names of disinterested witnesses, including the quartermaster, transportation officer, or supply officer, if available, as to the condition of the property when received or delivered, or as to handling or storage.

(11) [Revoked.]
(12) [Revoked.]
(13) [Revoked.]

AUTHORITY: §§ 861.1 to 861.14 issued under sec. 251, 66 Stat. 495, 50 U. S. C. 1002. Interpret or apply secs. 101–259, 601–603, 66 Stat. 481–498, 501; 50 U. S. C. 901–1010, 1091–1093. Other statutory provisions interpreted or applied are cited to text.

DERIVATION: AFR 45–5, April 21, 1955.

GENERAL

§ 861.1 Purpose. Sections 861.1 to 861.14 outlines the personnel composition of the Air Force Reserve. It states the policy, standards, and procedures pertaining to the assignment, reassignment, and retention of airmen, warrant officers, and commissioned officers who are not on extended active duty. The Reserve components of the Air Force provide trained units and qualified individuals to be available for active duty in the Air Force in time of war or national emergency and at such other times as the national security may require. These units and individuals are necessary to meet the requirements of the Air Force in excess of those of the Regular components thereof, during and after the period needed to procure and train additional trained units and qualified individuals to achieve the planned mobilization.

§ 861.2 Definitions. The following terms used in §§ 861.1 to 861.14 are defined:

(a) Extended active duty. Any tour of active duty performed by an individual, and entered into with the original expectation of serving for an indefinite or stated period of time. Tours under the provisions of §§ 861.1151 to 861.1177 are not considered to be extended active duty. Extended active duty may be defined further as the only tour in which strength accountability changes from the Air Force Reserve to the active establishment.

(b) Active military service. Full-time duty with the active establishment, either on extended active duty, or on active duty for training. The terms "active military service" and "active duty" are synonymous.

(c) Active duty for training. Full-time duty with the active establishment for training. Tours accomplished under §§ 861.1151 to 861.1177 are included in this definition.

(d) Inactive duty training. Unit training assemblies, instruction, duty, appropriate duties, or equivalent training, including hazardous duty, which are performed with or without pay by a member of the Air Force Reserve not on active duty for training. Inactive duty training includes duties performed in connection with training, administration, and maintenance activities of the unit of assignment or for study through the United States Air Force Extension Course Institute. Points will be awarded as provided in §§ 861.31 to 861.36.

(e) Competent authority. Any authority designated by the Chief of Staff, USAF.

(f) Active status. All Reservists except those on the Inactive Status List of the Standby Reserve and those in the Retired Reserve. To retain an active status, a person must accrue during his retention year, at least 30 points including the 15 gratuitous points awarded to him for Reserve membership. Waivers of this minimum annual requirement will not be permitted after June 30, 1955. Obligated Reservists, however, will be retained in an active status during the period of their obligated service.

(g) Retention year. A period of 12 consecutive months of active status for which points are computed.

(1) For a person who initially assumed military status on or before July 1, 1949, and has not been removed from an active status and/or has no break in military status since that date, the retention year for computation of points will begin on July 1 of each year and end on June 30 of the following year until he is removed from an active status.

(2) For a person who initially assumes military status, and/or who resumes military status after a break in service, or who is returned to an active status, after July 1, 1949, the retention year for computation of points will begin on the date of his appointment, enlistment, or return to an active status and will include a period of 12 consecutive months.

(h) Obligated Reserve service. The period of time that a person must remain in the Air Force Reserve as required by sections 4d (1), (2), and (3), and 6d (1), Selective Service Act of 1948 (62 Stat. 604; 50 U. S. C. App. 454 (d) and 456 (c)) as amended by act June 19, 1951 (62 Stat. 604; 50 U. S. C. App. 451–473), or as may otherwise be required by law. Reserve and service obligations apply only to male personnel and are described in §§ 864.31 to 864.43 of this subchapter. Members of the Air Force Reserve possessing such a Reserve or service obligation may be referred to as "obligated Reservists."

(i) Participation requirements. The minimum training which a Reservist must accomplish to maintain status in a particular program element. Regulations, applicable to each program element, set forth these requirements. In addition to specific participation requirements for program elements, each Reservist to be eligible for assignment must:

(1) Meet age-in-grade requirements.

(2) Be professionally qualified (maintain a level of proficiency sufficient to make sure that duty is satisfactorily performed in the appropriate Air Force Specialty.

(3) Be physically qualified for extended active duty.

(j) Reserve of the Air Force. The common Federal status possessed by members of the Air Force Reserve and the Air National Guard of the United States. This term will not be used to identify a component or organization of the Air Force. As used in §§ 861.1 to 861.14 the terms "Reserve" and "Reserve of the Air Force" are synonymous.

§ 861.3 Composition of Air Force Reserve. The Air Force Reserve includes all Reserves of the Air Force except those who are members of the Air National Guard of the United States.

(a) Air Force Reserve units may be designated as Ready Reserve units in which case the assigned members must be Ready Reservists. Undesignated units may be manned by either Ready or Standby Reservists.

(b) Each Air Force Reservist has a personal status as a Ready Reservist, a Standby Reservist, or a Retired Reservist.

(1) Ready Reservists may be ordered to extended active duty involuntarily in time of war, national emergency declared by Congress or proclaimed by the President, or when otherwise authorized by law.

(2) Standby Reservists may be ordered to extended active duty involuntarily only in time of war, national emergency declared by Congress, or when otherwise authorized by law. Qualified Standby Reservists unable to earn the points required to maintain active status may be placed on the Inactive Status List.

(i) The Inactive Status List is composed of Air Force Reserve Officers, warrant officers, and airmen who having completed any obligated Reserve service required of them by law or regulation, are unable to participate in prescribed training, but whose retention as Reserves of the Air Force is determined to be in the best interest of the Air Force.

(ii) While on the Inactive Status List, Reservists are not eligible for inactive duty training, active duty training, promotion, or the award of points.

(iii) Inactive Status List Reservists may be ordered to extended active duty involuntarily only after it has been determined that, within their military specialty, no qualified Ready or Standby Reservists, not on the Inactive Status List, are available for active duty.

(3) Retired Reservists are those persons whose names have been placed on the United States Air Force Reserve Retired List. They may be ordered to extended active duty involuntarily when it is determined that no qualified Ready or Standby Reservists are available, but only in time of war or national emergency declared by Congress or when otherwise authorized by law. Members of the Retired Reserve are not eligible for inactive duty training, active duty training, promotion, or the award of points.

§ 861.4 Training categories. The active status portion of the Air Force Reserve is divided into Training Categories A, B–1, B–2, C, D, E, F, and G. This division is based upon the annual training participation and the type of training authorized and/or required of units or training program elements and the individuals assigned thereto. In addition to being designated Ready or Standby, each Reservist will be assigned to a program element within one of the training categories. There are no program elements or training categories within the Inactive Status List of the Standby Reserve. An Availability Classification Code determined in accordance with current directives applies to each training category. To be eligible for assignment within the Reserve training program, a Reservist must possess or accept an Availability Classification Code indicating equal or earlier availability than that specified for the Training category concerned.

(a) Program element. The program elements within each training category, and the applicable Availability Classification Codes, are indicated in subparagraphs (1) through (8) of this paragraph. Both Ready and Standby Reservists may be assigned to any program element, except that Reservists must already possess or must accept, Ready Reserve status to be assigned to a unit or to a position designated Ready.

(1) Training Category A; Availability Classification Code I. Reservists assigned to combat wings and units, combat support wings and units and flying training wings and units.

(2) Training Category B–1; Availability Classification Code I. Reservists in an inactive duty training pay status enrolled in specialized training courses and assigned to Air Reserve Units.

(3) Training Category B–2; Availability Classification Code III. Reservists in a nonpay status enrolled in specialized training courses and assigned to Air Reserve Units.

(4) Training Category C; Availability Classification Code I. Reservists assigned to a Mobilization Assignment Reserve Section.

(5) Training Category D; Availability Classification Code III. Reservists assigned to Air Reserve Units in a nonpay status and participating in general training, or assigned to a Mobilization Designation Reserve Section.

(6) Training Category E; Availability Classification Code III. Applies only when program elements are established.

(7) Training Category F; Availability Classification Code IV. Reservists assigned to the Nonaffiliated Reserve Section.

(8) Training Category G; Any Availability Classification Code. Obligated Reservists assigned to the Ineligible Reserve Section.

(b) Criteria for membership within training categories and program elements. Training categories A, B–1, B–2, C, D, E, and F will be composed of persons who are physically and professionally qualified for active duty and who fulfill existing skill, age, and grade requirements and participation standards. In addition, the specified criteria, as outlined in subparagraphs (1) through (4) of this paragraph for each training category, must be fulfilled.

(1) Categories A, B–1, and C. The Availability Classification Code must not exceed code I (1 through 3 months).

(2) Categories B–2, D, and E. The Availability Classification Code must not exceed code III (7 through 12 months).

(3) Category F. Reservists possessing Availability Classification Code AA, I, II, III, or IV who are not assigned to program elements of training category A, B–1, B–2, C, D, or E, will be retained in the Nonaffiliated Reserve Section as long as they accrue at least 30 points annually. Persons enlisted or appointed for membership in the Air Force Reserve, Reservists released from extended active duty, and persons transferred to the Air Force Reserve (except Regular retired airmen) will be assigned to the Nonaffiliated Reserve Section. Regular Air Force airmen retired with more than 20 but less than 30 years of active service and who are transferred to the Air Force Reserve will be assigned direct to the Inactive Status List of the Standby Reserve from which they may be reassigned if they elect to participate in an active training program. If qualified and available, individuals may be reassigned at any time from the Nonaffiliated Reserve Section direct to a position vacancy in training program elements of training category A, B–1, B–2, C, D, or E. Nonaffiliated Reservists who fail to meet minimum annual retention requirements will be notified of that fact. Those who possess a Reserve or service obligation under Universal Military Training and Service Act will be reassigned to the Ineligible Reserve Section. Unobligated Reservists not eligible for retired Reserve status who fail to accrue 30 points during their retention year are subject to separation action unless they are qualified for and are selected for assignment to Inactive Status List.

(4) Category G. Any Reservist who fails to meet the minimum participation standards during any retention year, and who possesses a Reserve or service obligation under Universal Military Training and Service Act, will be reassigned to the Ineligible Reserve Section. While in such status, a Reservist may not participate in any training programs or point-gaining activities. He will, however, continue to receive the gratuitous 15 points a year.

NOTE: Individuals now assigned to the Ineligible Reserve Section (category G), who do not possess a Reserve or service obligation under the Universal Military Training and Service Act, will be reassigned at their request to a program element of any higher training category in which a suitable vacancy exists. Unobligated ineligible Reservists not requesting reassignment will be subject to separation or assignment to the Inactive Status List of the Standby Reserve unless they are qualified for and request placement on the Reserve Retired List. On and after January 1, 1955, only those Reservists who have a remaining period of obligated service may be assigned to or retained in the Ineligible Reserve Section.

(i) Reservists assigned for the first time to the Ineligible Reserve Section may be reassigned at any time direct to a training program element of training category A, B–1, B–2, C, or D if they volunteer, and are selected, for a position vacancy. Individuals residing in isolated areas where unit training is not reasonably available may also be reassigned to the Nonaffiliated Reserve Section (training category F) if they have indicated desire to participate actively in Reserve training, including the United States Air Force Extension Course Program. Ineligible Reservists who have a remaining period of obligated Reserve service, and who do not qualify for and request reassignment within another training category, will be retained in the Ineligible Reserve Section until completion of their obligated Reserve service, at which time they will be considered for separation.

(ii) Obligated Reservists who have for the second time been assigned to the Ineligible Reserve Section, are ineligible for voluntary reassignment within another training category.

(iii) Ineligible Reservists whose continued retention as Reserve of the Air Force is determined to be in the best interest of the Air Force, after completing the required period of obligated Reserve service, may be placed on the Inactive Status List, except that Ready Reservists must be qualified for Standby Status.

§ 861.5 Qualifications for Ready Reserve status.—(a) General. All persons of the Air Force Reserve who do not qualify for Standby Reserve status (see § 861.6) or for Retired Reserve status (see § 861.8) will retain Ready Reserve status subject to the provisions of this section. All individuals commissioned, appointed, or enlisted as Reserves of the Air Force and those persons transferred to the Air Force Reserve (except Retired Regular Air Force airmen), will assume Ready Reserve status and will retain such status until they qualify, apply, and are redesignated Standby Reservists or Retired Reservists.

(b) Assignment. A Ready Reservist who qualifies for, but does not elect, Standby status will be relieved of assignment to any unit or position which requires Ready Reserve status, unless he agrees in writing to retain Ready status. A Standby Reservist may, at any time, agree to accept Ready Reserve status to qualify for an assignment to a specific Ready Reserve unit or position vacancy. Acceptance of Ready Reserve status and/or an agreement to retain a Ready Reserve status and assignment includes acceptance of liability for involuntary extended active duty common to all Ready Reservists.

(c) Agreements. All agreements will be accomplished in the manner prescribed in §§ 861.1 to 861.14 applying to the training program element concerned. They will include a specified period of time which will be for at least 2 but not more than 5 years. Agreements will become effective on the date signed, or upon the date of assignment, whichever is later, and may be renewed at any time during the last 90 days of the specified period. The Ready Reserve agreements of persons released from assignments which require agreements will be canceled in orders affecting reassignment.

(d) Eligibility. An Air Force Reserve commissioned officer who has failed to accept an indefinite term appointment is not eligible for a Ready Reserve assignment. An officer currently holding a Ready Reserve assignment who declines an indefinite term appointment will be released from such assignment when less than 2 years remain in his current 5-year appointment. An officer who does not possess an indefinite term appointment may be assigned to or retained in other than a Ready Reserve position until his commission or appointment expires.

§ 861.6 Qualifications for Standby Reserve status. (a) Air Force Reservists are eligible for elective Standby Reserve status who:

(1) Had 12 months of active military service between December 7, 1941 and September 2, 1945, and who, subsequent to June 25, 1950, served on active duty for at least 12 months; or

(2) Have completed at least 8 years of service as a member of a Reserve component since September 2, 1945; or

(3) Have completed a total of 5 years of active military service.

(b) Any individual who has served on extended active duty may qualify for elective Standby status if he has satisfactorily participated in any accredited training program for a period which, added to his period of active duty, totals at least 5 years. In determining eligibility, satisfactory participation will include:

(1) Any period on or after January 1, 1953, during which the individual satisfactorily participated in a Reserve training program element in a Ready Reserve status.

(2) Any period between July 1, 1949 and January 1, 1953, during which the individual was assigned to, or enrolled in, any Reserve training program element (including the United States Air Force Extension Course Program) and fulfilled the minimum participation requirements prescribed therefor.

(3) All Reserve service completed prior to July 1, 1949.

§ 861.7 Inactive Status List. The Inactive Status List will consist of selected Standby Reservists who have completed all Reserve service required of them by law or regulation, who are unable to participate in prescribed Reserve training, but whose retention as Reserves of the Air Force is considered to be in the best interest of the Air Force.

(a) Criteria for membership in Inactive Status List. Except for individuals who were retired as airmen after completion of more than 20 years of active Federal service, normally no one will be reassigned to, or retained in, the Inactive Status List who does not possess the minimum professional qualifications of a designated Air Force Specialty which will be required for utilization in a future mobilization. The limited number of individuals possessing the desired qualifications will be selected by the Continental Air Command. That headquarters will issue or direct the issuance of orders in each individual case. Consideration will be given to those who apply for such status and to Reservists who would otherwise be considered for separation because of failure to participate in point-gaining activities to the minimum extent required. Selected individuals who are unable to achieve these minimum participation standards may be reassigned to the Inactive Status List whether or not they have requested such status. The following individuals may be considered and assigned:

(1) Standby Reservists with a designated Air Force Specialty who are unable to participate in training after completing required Reserve service who:

(i) Request such status; or

(ii) Have not requested such status but are subject to separation by reason of failure to participate.

(2) Retired airmen regardless of their request who, after accruing at least 20 years of active service, were placed in the Air Force Reserve until completion of 30 years of active and retired service will be assigned to the Inactive Status List unless they elect to participate actively in their airmen status in Reserve training programs. (See section 4, Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act of 1945 (59 Stat. 539; 10 U. S. C. 948).) They may not be assigned to the Retired Reserve until required Reserve airmen service is completed.

(3) Air Force Reserve commissioned officers who are retired as Regular Air Force warrant officers or Air Force Reserve commissioned officers and warrant officers who are retired as Regular Air Force airmen will be placed on the Inactive Status List in their officer status unless they elect placement as officers on the Reserve Retired List or termination of their commissioned or warrant officer status. These individuals may, while assigned to the Inactive Status List or the Retired Reserve List, participate in their officer status in Reserve training programs on an unassigned basis.

(4) Individuals (other than retired warrant officers or airmen described in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph) who are qualified for retired Reserve status by reason of service will normally not be placed on the Inactive Status List. They will be subject to separation unless assignment to the Retired Reserve is requested.

(b) Retention on Inactive Status List. No individual except those who were retired as airmen after 20 years of active Federal service will be retained on the Inactive Status List after it has been determined that his further retention as a Reserve of the Air Force would be of no benefit to the Air Force. Whenever, during any review of his records, it is determined that an individual is no longer proficient in his specialty, or that his specialty is no longer considered for use in a future mobilization, he will be subject to separation action. A Reservist on the Inactive Status List may at any time be reassigned direct to a suitable position vacancy in a program element of training categories A, B–1, B–2, C, or D provided that he is qualified for and requests such assignment.

§ 861.8 Retired Reserve. Membership in the Retired Reserve is confined to those individuals whose names have been placed on the United States Air Force Reserve Retired List. There are no retention standards for members of the Retired Reserve. Placement on the list does not carry with it any entitlement for pay, but does require military status. A retired Reservist may be recalled to duty in time of war or national emergency declared by Congress. Except for those individuals whose names have been placed on the retired list by reason of physical disability, a person may not again be redesignated as a Ready or Standby Reservist. A person placed on the list because of medical disqualifications and who was not paid severance pay may request reassignment from the Retired Reserve. He must submit conclusive, proof, in the form of a completed medical examination together with a statement outlining the reasons for original medical disqualification, to the Air Adjutant General, Headquarters United States Air Force. Upon review and approval by the Surgeon General, United States Air Force, and after correction of appropriate records, the individual will be assigned to the Non-affiliated Air Reserve of the Continental Air Command where he will be redesignated a Ready Reservist (or Standby Reservist if qualified, and he so elects). Since placement on the Reserve Retired List requires Reserve of the Air Force status, Regular Air Force commissioned officers, warrant officers, and airmen now or hereafter discharged or retired are not eligible. However, Regular warrant officers and airmen who have also held appointment as non-Regular commissioned officers or non-Regular warrant officers may be eligible in their officer or warrant officer status. Persons eligible under paragraphs (a) through (d) of this section, who are not currently appointed or enlisted as Reserves of the Air Force, will be so appointed or enlisted prior to placement on the United States Air Force Reserve Retired List.

(a) Individuals meeting one of the following criteria, may upon application, be placed on the United States Air Force Reserve Retired List and assigned to the Retired Reserve:

(1) Retired or granted retirement pay under title II and III, Army and Air Force Vitalization and Retirement Equalization Act of 1948 (62 Stat. 1081; 10 U. S. C. 580).

(2) Retired for physical disability, either temporarily or permanently, pursuant to title IV, Career Compensation Act of 1949 (63 Stat. 816; 37 U. S. C. 271–285), or act April 3, 1939 (53 Stat. 557; 10 U. S. C. 456).

(3) Discharge for disability with severance pay under title IV, Career Compensation Act of 1949. (Secs. 401-415, 63 Stat. 816–825, as amended 37 U. S. C. 271–285).

(4) Found medically disqualified for active duty as a result of a service-connected disability.

(5) Completed a total of 20 years of honorable service in any component of the Armed Forces or in any Armed Force without component.

(6) Eligible for retirement under section 302, title III, Army and Air Force Vitalization and Retirement Equalization Act of 1948 (62 Stat. 1087; 10 U. S. C. 1036a). This means persons who have completed 20 years or more satisfactory Federal service, but have not yet attained the age of 60.

(7) Completed 8 years of satisfactory Federal service (as outlined in section 302 (b) Army and Air Force Vitalization and Retirement Equalization Act of 1948), (62 Stat. 1087, 10 U. S. C. 1036 (a)), and are:

(i) 60 years of age or over; or

(ii) 37 years of age or over and medically disqualified for active duty by reason of medical disability which is not the result of misconduct or willful neglect, and was not incurred during a period of unauthorized absence.

(8) Completed 8 years of satisfactory Federal service (as outlined in section 306 (b), Army and Air Force Vitalization and Retirement Equalization Act of 1948 (62 Stat. 1089; 10 U. S. C. 1036e)) and is 37 years of age or over; has served on active duty for at least 6 months during a period of war or national emergency; and has rendered extraordinary service to the Air Force or other agencies of the Federal government which was of such nature as to warrant special recognition.

(b) Applications from members of the Air Force Reserve, below the grade of brigadier general, will be submitted through channels to the Commander, Air Reserve Records Center (ConAC), 3800 York Street, Denver 5, Colorado. If the applicant is eligible, the Commander, Air Reserve Records Center (except as noted in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph), will recommend approval and forward the application, together with the master personnel record, to the Air Adjutant General, Headquarters United States Air Force, Attention: Military Personnel Records Division, Washington 25, D. C. Applications from individuals who are not currently members of the Air Force Reserve but who are otherwise qualified for placement on the Reserve Retired List will be forwarded direct to the Air Adjutant General, Headquarters United States Air Force, Attention: Military Personnel Records Division, Washington 25, D. C.

(1) Upon final approval by the Air Adjutant General, a Department of the Air Force Reserve order will be issued accomplishing placement on the Reserve Retired List and assignment to the Retired Reserve. Copies of the order will be sent to the Commander, Air Reserve Records Center, and to the applicant.

(2) Applications disapproved by either the Commander, Air Reserve Records Center, or the Air Adjutant General, Headquarters United States Air Force will be returned to the applicant through channels with reasons for disapproval.

(c) Applications from general officers who are members of the Air Force Reserve will be forwarded by the individuals direct to the Deputy Chief of Staff, Personnel, Headquarters United States Air Force, Attention: General Officers' Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

(d) Placement on the Reserve Retired List will be in the highest grade in which the individual satisfactorily served or for which eligible by law. Individuals claiming placement on the Reserve Retired List in a higher grade than that presently held as a Reserve of the Air Force must submit properly authenticated documents such as letter of appointment, promotion order, or active duty orders, attesting to their eligibility for the higher grade.

(e) Because of the relatively few persons who can be considered to qualify under paragraph (a) (8) of this section, applications submitted thereunder will be indorsed by the Commander, Air Reserve Records Center, to the Commander, Continental Air Command, for review. In the event that an individual is found qualified, the application will then be indorsed to the Air Adjutant General, Headquarters United States Air Force, who will refer the application to the Secretary of the Air Force Personnel Council for final decision. All applications disapproved by the Commander, Continental Air Command, or at Headquarters United States Air Force will be returned through channels to the applicant advising the individual that he does not meet the highly selected eligibility criteria established for those individuals who have accrued relatively short periods of active and/or Reserve service.

§ 861.9 Credit for active and inactive duty participation. Points are awarded for active duty performed in any grade or status and for inactive duty training in accordance with the provisions of §§ 861.31 to 861.36.

(a) Minimum participation standards are prescribed in regulations appropriate to the program element of assignment. The commander of the unit of assignment will determine whether minimum participation requirements have been met. He will indicate reassignment action as appropriate.

(b) Gratuitous points granted under the Army and Air Force Vitalization and Retirement Equalization Act of 1948 will be counted for all purposes. However, gratuitous points will not be counted in computing relative date of rank upon entry on extended active duty for any year in which the Reservist has failed to accrue sufficient points for a year of satisfactory Federal service as defined in section 302b, Army and Air Force Vitalization and Retirement Equalization Act of 1948 (secs. 301–313, 62 Stat. 1084–1091; 10 U. S. C. 1036, 1036a–i).

(c) Air Force Reserve commissioned officers serving on active duty either as airmen or warrant officers, and Air Force Reserve warrant officers serving on active duty as airmen may participate in a nonpay status as Reserve commissioned officers or warrant officers, as appropriate, in Air Reserve Units (training categories B–2 and D) on an assigned basis. Additional points for such training cannot be credited to them since points are accumulated for active duty in any grade or status. They are not eligible for short or special tours of active duty for training and may not be given training designations. Air Force Reserve commissioned and warrant officers who are serving on extended active duty as such, even though serving in a higher or lower temporary grade accrue a point for each day of active duty.

§ 861.10 Minimum participation requirements. (a) Failure to meet participation requirements prescribed for the unit or individual training program to which assigned will result in relief from such assignment. A Reservist so relieved may be reassigned to a unit or individual training program of lesser participation requirements, if qualified and if he so requests, provided further that he is eligible to retain an active status. Individuals qualified for retention will be reassigned to the Nonaffiliated Reserve Section unless selected for assignment to a more active program element. Nonaffiliated Reservists who fail to meet participation requirements (which are identical to those required for retention of active status) will be subject to separation, except that obligated Reservists will be reassigned to the Ineligible Reserve Section.

(b) All Reservists in an active status must accrue a minimum of 30 points during each retention year regardless of the program element of assignment, except those individuals in the Ineligible Reserve Section. Waivers of minimum retention requirements which are now in effect will terminate on June 30, 1955.

(c) Commissioned and warrant officers subject to separation or reassignment to an inactive status for failure to meet minimum retention standards but who have been credited or entitled to be credited with 18 or more years of satisfactory service for retired pay purposes under title III, Army and Air Force Vitalization and Retirement Equalization Act of 1948 (62 Stat. 1081; 10 U. S. C. 580) will not be separated or transferred for this reason without their consent.

(1) A commissioned or warrant officer with more than 18 but less than 19 years of satisfactory service, will be retained in an active status until he acquires 20 years of satisfactory service or until 3 years after the date he would normally have been transferred or discharged, whichever is earlier, provided that the maximum ages indicated in § 861.11 (a) and (f) are not exceeded.

(2) A commissioned or warrant officer with more than 19 but less than 20 years of satisfactory service will be retained in an active status until he acquires 20 years of satisfactory service or until 2 years after the date he would normally have been transferred or discharged, whichever is earlier, provided that the maximum ages indicated in § 861.11 (a) and (f) are not exceeded.

(d) Selective assignees are not required to participate in Reserve training of their units, and are not permitted to participate in active duty training nor inactive duty training for pay.

§ 861.11 Maximum ages. (a) There is no maximum age for airmen in the Air Force Reserve, nor does any age-in-grade criteria apply to Air Force Reserve airmen. Commissioned and warrant officers may be retained in the Nonaffiliated Reserve Section, the Ineligible Reserve Section and on the Inactive Status List of the Standby Reserve until, but not after, they reach the following maximum ages. Unless they are qualified and apply for Retired Reserve status, they will be separated upon the date they become:

(1) Age of 62 for major generals and male warrant officers.

(2) Age of 60 for all male commissioned officers below the grade of major general and all female commissioned officers other than nurses and women medical specialists.

(3) Age of 55 for nurses and female medical specialists serving in a grade above captain. However, such an officer in the grade of captain whose name is on a recommended list will be treated as if she were in a grade above captain.

(4) Age of 50 for nurses and female medical specialists below the grade of major.

(5) Age of 55 for all female warrant officers.

(b) No commissioned or warrant officer may be assigned to or retained in training categories A, B–1, B–2, C, D and E, except as provided in paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of this section after exceeding the maximum age applicable to his particular grade:

(1) Major General—61.
(2) Brigadier General—59.
(3) Colonel—57.
(4) Lieutenant Colonel—52.
(5) Major—47.
(6) Captain—41.
(7) Lieutenant—35.
(8) Warrant Officer (All Grades)—59.

Colonels who reach the age of 58 while assigned to a Reserve unit or while occupying a mobilization assignment or designation position will not be reassigned solely because of age, but may continue in such an assignment until reaching age 60 if otherwise qualified.

(c) Maximum age-in-grade provisions established for commissioned officers may be waived for successive 1-year periods for officers currently assigned to program elements of training categories A, B–1, B–2, C, D, or E, until they have had an opportunity to qualify for and be considered for promotion. No waiver may be granted or will remain in effect after an officer has been reassigned from his program element of assignment or has reached the age of 60. No waiver will be granted or will remain in effect after an individual has passed the established maximum age-in-grade for the next higher grade except as provided in paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section. All requests for waivers will be fully justified and are subject to approval by the major air command of assignment, or by the Continental Air Command numbered air force. In addition, requests for successive waivers will indicate the reasons for the officer's failure to be considered for promotion during the previous waiver period. Copies of all waivers granted will be furnished the Commander, Air Reserve Records Center, for file in the individual's master personnel record.

(d) For commissioned officers assigned to program elements in training categories A, B–1, B–2, C, D, and E, waivers may be granted to those individuals over age for the next higher grade provided that they meet all the following qualifications:

(1) Assigned to a position vacancy calling for a higher grade.

(2) Eligible to be recommended and considered for promotion.

(3) Considered qualified for promotion and so recommended by the authority responsible for recommending the individual for promotion. Waivers will be valid for 1 year and may not be renewed.

(e) Commissioned officers currently assigned in nonpay status to Air Reserve units (training category B–2 or D) who are over age for the next higher grade but do not meet the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section, may be retained if the following conditions are met:

(1) In the opinion of the unit commander, and higher headquarters, the best interest of the Air Force will be served by the individual's retention.

(2) The request for waiver is personally indorsed by the major commander or his deputy (in the case of individuals assigned to Continental Air Command, by the numbered air force commander or his deputy).

(3) The Deputy for Personnel, Continental Air Command, personally reviews and approves the request.

(f) A male warrant officer, who upon attaining the age of 62, has completed less than 20 years of satisfactory Federal service for retirement with pay under title III, Army and Air Force Vitalization and Retirement Equalization Act of 1948 (62 Stat. 1081; 10 U. S. C. 580), may be retained in an active status, until he completes 20 years of satisfactory Federal service, but may not be retained after reaching the age of 64. Female warrant officers may be retained in an active status after attaining the age of 55 in order that they may complete 20 years of satisfactory Federal service but not after they attain the age of 60.

§ 861.12 Assignments with Air Force Reserve. Assignment and reassignment within or between units or program elements, and assignments to or from the Inactive Status List of the Standby Reserve, will be made by Air Force Reserve orders. The designation of individual Ready, Standby, or Retired status will be shown in all orders pertaining to each individual. Redesignation of the individual's status will be accomplished by Air Force Reserve orders whenever the individual accepts, or ceases to hold, Ready, Standby or Retired status. In addition, changes between training categories, whether or not a change in unit of assignment is concurrently effected, must be accomplished by Air Force Reserve orders.

(a) Individuals of the Ready or Standby Reserve who are determined by appropriate authority to be permanently physically disqualified for active military service or for active military service with waiver may request Retired Reserve status. Any such individual who is not qualified for Retired Reserve status is subject to separation action.

(b) Redesignation of Ready Reservists will be made when the individual requests such a redesignation and is qualified for:

(1) Standby Reserve status in accordance with § 861.6; or

(2) Retired Reserve status in accordance with § 861.8.

(c) Redesignation of Ready Reservists may be accomplished regardless of the individual's desire when the individual:

(1) Has failed to participate satisfactorily in an active training program.

(2) Is qualified for Standby status but has failed to request such status.

(d) Redesignation of Standby Reservists will be accomplished when the individual meets any of the following requirements:

(1) Is qualified for and requests assignment to a program element available only to members of the Ready Reserve.

(2) At any time the individual is qualified for and requests Retired Reserve status.

(e) Reassignment from the Inactive Status List of the Standby Reserve may be made only when the individual:

(1) Is qualified for and requests Retired Reserve status, or

(2) Is qualified for, requests, and is selected for an existing vacancy in an active program element of training category A, B–1, B–2, C or D. Individuals residing in isolated areas where unit training is not reasonably available may also be reassigned to the Nonaffiliated Reserve Section if they indicate a sincere intention and a desire to participate actively in Reserve training, including participation in the United States Air Force Extension Course Program. An individual who has for the second time been assigned to the Inactive Status List for failure to maintain participation standards may not again be reassigned to an active program element.

(f) Reassignments within and between units or program elements of the Air Force Reserve will be effected when necessary to fill existing vacancies. Qualified and available Reservists who indicate their willingness to fulfill the training standards and requirements of such assignments will be selected. Obligated Reservists may be selected and assigned to fill vacancies in certain training program elements without their consent. Mandatory reassignments will be accomplished promptly when it has been determined that an individual no longer meets the established age-in-grade criteria, physical or professional standards, or participation requirements established for the program element to which he is assigned.

(g) Air Force Reserve commissioned officers who are retired as Regular Air Force warrant officers or Air Force Reserve commissioned officers and warrant officers who are retired as Regular Air Force airmen may, at any time, be designated Standby Reservists for assignment in their officer grade to the Inactive Status List of the Standby Reserve. Such an assignment will be subject to the provision that retention on the list may not be terminated except on request of the individual and then only in the event he requests placement on the Reserve Retired List or termination of his officer status. Assignment of these individuals to the Inactive Status List is mandatory unless they request placement on the Reserve Retired List.

§ 861.13 Miscellaneous assignment requirements. (a) Rated officers should be assigned to nonrated position vacancies for which they volunteer and are otherwise qualified. This does not include assignments within those career fields (for example, Judge Advocate General) in which rated officers may not be assigned.

(b) Women's Air Force Reserve personnel either commissioned, appointed, or enlisted may be assigned to any position in any training program element for which they may be otherwise qualified, with the exception of assignments to the tactical (combat) group headquarters or tactical (combat) squadrons of Reserve combat wings, or assignments to command positions in Reserve units other than WAF units.

(c) In accordance with the Reserve Officer Personnel Act of 1954 (68 Stat. 1147), effective July 1, 1957, individuals in the grade of major general, brigadier, general, or colonel whose names are not on a recommended list for promotion and who complete 35, 30, and 30 total years of service, respectively, will, 30 days thereafter or on the 5th anniversary of the date of their appointment in the grade in which serving, whichever is later, be:

(1) Transferred, if qualified, to the Retired Reserve upon their application; or

(2) Discharged.

An officer whose name is on a recommended list to major general or brigadier general will be treated as though serving in the grade to which recommended.

(d) In accordance with the Reserve Officer Personnel Act of 1954, (68 Stat. 1147) an individual in the grade of first lieutenant, captain, major, and each lieutenant colonel whose name is not on a recommended list for promotion, will 30 days after completion of 28 total years of service, be:

(1) Transferred, if qualified, to the Retired Reserve upon their application, or

(2) Discharged.

An officer whose name is on a recommended list to colonel will be treated as though serving in that grade.

(e) In accordance with the Reserve Officer Personnel Act of 1954, (68 Stat. 1147) each Reserve officer (WAF) who is in the grade below lieutenant colonel, will, 30 days after completion of 25 total years of service, be:

(1) Transferred, if qualified, to the Retired Reserve upon their application, or

(2) Discharged.

An officer in the grade of major, whose name is on a recommended list for promotion, will be treated as though serving in the grade of lieutenant colonel.

(f) When a reserve officer is appointed to the grade of major general or brigadier general to fill a specific vacancy or position and ceases to occupy that position, he will, within 30 days thereafter, unless assigned to fill a comparable position of the same or higher grade:

(1) Be transferred in grade to the Inactive Status List if qualified; or

(2) Be transferred in grade to the Retired Reserve if qualified and he applies therefor; or

(3) Be discharged. If qualified he will, upon application, be appointed as a Reserve officer in the grade held by him as a Reserve officer immediately prior to his appointment in a general officer grade.

(g) When overages occur through the operation of the promotion system in any unit organized under T/O or non-T/O, or when individuals are promoted to grades above those authorized in Reserve Forces non-T/O space and grade authorization vouchers, the unit commander is authorized to retain such overages for a period not to exceed 60 days after the date that the overages occurred. The unit commander is authorized to issue the necessary orders to reassign the personnel concerned to the Nonaffiliated Reserve Section (ConAC) or to a new assignment in another Reserve unit if qualified and is accepted therefor.

§ 861.14 Administration of Air Force Reserve. The Continental Air Command will administer the various programs of the Air Force Reserve. It will administer all personnel assigned to the Nonaffiliated Reserve Section of the Continental Air Command and all individuals assigned to the Ineligible Reserve Section and to the Inactive Status List of the Standby Reserve. Continental Air Command will provide, from Air Force Reserve resources, replacements for, or assignments to vacancies in other major commands as required. Military personnel records of reserve officers will be maintained in accordance with current regulations and other directives issued by Headquarters United States Air Force. The administration of all general officers will be monitored by Headquarters United States Air Force and all requests for assignment and/or retention of general officers will be forwarded to the Deputy Chief of Staff Personnel, Headquarters United States Air Force Attention: General Officers Branch, Washington 25, D. C. Direct correspondence between major commands pertaining to the assignments and administration of individuals and maintenance of Air Force Reserve record is authorized.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Docket No. 11313; FCC 55-667]

[Rules Amdt. 3-48]

PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

TELEVISION BROADCAST STATIONS; TABLE OF ASSIGNMENTS

In the matter of amendment of § 3.606 Table of assignments, rules governing television broadcast stations; Docket No. 11313.

1. The Commission has before it for consideration its Notice of Proposed Rule Making (FCC 55-355) issued in this proceeding on March 24, 1955, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 30, 1955 (20 F. R. 1991) proposing to assign Channel 16 to Pittsburg-Antioch, California, in response to a petition filed by Capital City TV Corporation, permittee of Station KCCC-TV on Channel 40 in Sacramento, California.

2. The petitioner suggested that the proposed assignment could be made by two alternative methods as follows:

City	Channel No.
	Present	Proposed
(a) Pittsburgh-Antioch, Calif.	None	16
Red Bluff, Calif.	16	15
Santa Cruz, Calif.	16	56
(b) Pittsburgh-Antioch, Calif.	None	16
Red Bluff, Calif.	16	15
Santa Cruz, Calif.	16	28
Salinas-Monterey, Calif.	8+, 35	8+, 31+

3. No comments opposing the proposed amendments have been filed. Capital City filed a comment in support of the proposal.

4. In support of the requested amendment, petitioner urges that the communities of Pittsburg and Antioch have a combined population of 23,814 persons; that no assignments have been made to these communities although smaller cities in California do have channels assigned by the Table; that the proposed assignments can be accomplished in conformity with the Commission's rules; that no applications have been filed for the assignments that would be affected by petitioner's request; and that petitioner proposes to file an application for a television station at Pittsburg-Antioch in the event Channel 16 is assigned.

5. The Commission is of the view that the amendments proposed by Capital City serve the public interest since they would make available a television assignment to a community presently without one and would effect a fair and equitable distribution of available facilities. Petitioner requests that Channel 16 be assigned to Pittsburg and Antioch in combination. Pittsburg has a population of approximately 12,000 persons and Antioch has a population of approximately 11,000 persons. The communities are about 5 miles apart, and a channel assigned to one would be available to the other under our Rules. We are therefore of the view that the assignment should be made to Pittsburg rather than to Pittsburg and Antioch in combination.

6. Petitioner suggests two methods for accommodating the assignment of Channel 16 to Pittsburg. Plan (a) would involve changes in two other communities, while Plan (b) would involve three communities. However, Plan (b) would assign Channel 28 to Santa Cruz, California, in conflict with an application for modification of construction permit (BMPCT-3100) filed by KTRB Broadcasting, Inc. to move the site of Station KTRB-TV on Channel 14 at Modesto to Mt. Oso. The Commission in a Report and Order issued August 16, 1954 (FCC 54-1043, Docket No. 11093) substituted Channel 55 for Channel 28 in Salinas-Monterey in order to permit Station KTRB-TV to utilize Mt. Oso as a site. Plan (b) would preclude the use of this site in view of the substandard distance between Santa Cruz and Mt. Oso for channels 14 removed (sound image). We believe, therefore, that the Plan (a) is to be preferred.

7. Authority for the adoption of the amendments is contained in sections 4 (i), 301, 303 (c), (d), (f), (r), and 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

8. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That effective July 15, 1955, the Table of Assignments contained in § 3.606 rules governing television broadcast stations, is amended, in so far as the cities named are concerned, as follows:

City:	Channel No.
California:
Pittsburg	16
Red Bluff	15
Santa Cruz	56

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies secs. 301, 303, 307, 48 Stat. 1081, 1082, 1084; 47 U. S. C. 301, 303, 307)

Adopted: June 8, 1955.

Released: June 9, 1955.

PART 7—STATIONS ON LAND IN THE MARITIME SERVICES

PART 8—STATIONS ON SHIPBOARD IN THE MARITIME SERVICES

REPLACEMENT OF ONE FREQUENCY AND DELETION OF CONDITION ATTACHED TO ANOTHER FREQUENCY

In the matter of amendment of Parts 7 and 8 of the rules to delete the frequency 2572 kc for ship use at Mobile, Alabama, and to make the frequency 2430 kc available as a replacement therefor; amendment of Part 7 to delete at San Francisco-Eureka, California the non-interference condition attached to the coast frequency 2450 kc with respect to the police service in New York; Docket No. 11359.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 8th day of June 1955;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned matters;

It appearing that in accordance with the requirements of section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, notice of proposed rule making in this matter which made provision for the submission of written comments by interested parties was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 12, 1955 (20 F. R. 2382), and that the period for the filing of comments has now expired; and

It further appearing that Mobile Marine Radio, licensee of WLO at Mobile, Alabama, and American Waterways Operators, Inc., filed comments in support of the Commission's proposal to delete the frequency 2572 kc for ship use at Mobile and to make the frequency 2430 kc available as a replacement therefor; and

It further appearing that in its comments, Mobile Marine Radio stated that it was able and willing to provide service to ships transmitting to its coast station on both the old frequency 2572 kc and the new frequency 2430 kc during a reasonable overlap period until all ships had effected the necessary changeover; and

It further appearing that in view of the foregoing and since the convenience of the ship stations will be served, the rule amendments herein ordered provide an overlap period rather than a simultaneous changeover as proposed; and

It further appearing that no comments were received regarding the proposal to delete at San Francisco-Eureka, California, the non-interference condition attached to the coast frequency 2450 kc with respect to the police service in New York, and, it is finalized herein as proposed; and

It further appearing that the public interest, convenience and necessity will be served by the amendments herein ordered, the authority for which is contained in sections 303 (c) (f) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

It is ordered, That effective July 15, 1955, Parts 7 and 8 of the Commission's rules are amended as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082 as amended; 47 U. S. C. 303)

Released: June 9, 1955.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] MARY JANE MORRIS,
Secretary.

A. Part 7 is amended as follows:

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 58]

GRADING, INSPECTION, SAMPLING, GRADE LABELING AND SUPERVISION OF PACKAGING OF BUTTER, CHEESE AND OTHER MANUFACTURED OR PROCESSED DAIRY PRODUCTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance, as hereinafter proposed, of an amendment to the regulations governing the grading, inspection, sampling, grade labeling and supervision of packaging of butter, cheese and other manufactured or processed dairy products (7 CFR Part 58) issued pursuant to the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.). The proposed amendment provides for revisions of the following sections: § 58.11 has been redesignated as § 58.12 and amended to more specifically indicate conditions when application for grading service may be rejected. Additions have been made to § 58.52 to include specific time limit for packaging cheese and dry milk with grade or other official identification. A new heading "Violations" has been substituted for "Miscellaneous." Section 58.58 under this heading has been changed from "Fraud or misrepresentation" to "Debarment of service." Additions have been made to this section to more clearly indicate practices that would involve violation of these regulations. The heading "Miscellaneous" has been redesignated to include former §§ 58.60, 58.61, 58.63, 58.64, and 58.62, a new section, entitled "Other applicable regulations." The amendment also provides for minor revisions, additions or redesignations of §§ 58.2, 58.4, 58.6, 58.7, 58.8, 58.9, 58.10, 58.12, 58.13, 58.14, 58.15, 58.16, 58.17, 58.23, 58.30, 58.32, 58.50, 58.51, 58.53, 58.57, 58.60, 58.61, 58.63, and 58.64.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with this proposed amendment should file the same in triplicate with the Chief of the Inspection and Grading

Branch, Dairy Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 2977, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposed amendment is as follows:

1. Wherever the word "Administration" occurs in this part substitute the word "Service".

2. Change § 58.2 to read as follows:

§ 58.2 Terms defined. For the purpose of the regulations in this part, unless the context otherwise requires, the following terms shall be construed, respectively, as follows:

(a) "Act" means the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.), or any other act of Congress conferring like authority.

(b) "Administrator" means the Administrator of the Agricultural Marketing Service of the Department, or any other officer or employee of the Department to whom there has heretofore been delegated, or to whom there may hereafter be delegated by the Administrator, the authority to act in his stead.

(c) "Applicant" means an interested party who requests any grading service, appeal grading, or regrading with respect to any product.

(d) "Approved laboratory" means one in which the entire facilities and equipment have been approved by the Administrator as being adequate to perform the necessary official tests, in accordance with the rules and regulations.

(e) "Approved plant" means one or more buildings, or parts thereof, comprising a single plant in which the facilities and methods of operation therein have been approved by the Administrator as suitable and adequate for operation under grading or inspection service and in which grading or inspection is carried on in accordance with the regulations in this part and any applicable instructions or specifications issued hereunder.

(f) "Area supervisor" means any employee of the Department in charge of dairy grading and inspection service in a designated geographical area.

(g) "Class" means any subdivision of a product based on essential physical characteristics that differentiate between major groups of the same kind or method of processing.

(h) "Condition" means any condition (including, but not being limited to, the state of preservation, cleanliness, soundness, wholesomeness, or fitness for human food) of any product which affects its merchantability.

(i) "Department" means the United States Department of Agriculture.

(j) "Grader" means any employee of the Department authorized by the Secretary, or any other person to whom a license has been issued by the Secretary, to investigate and certify, in accordance with the act and this part, to shippers of products and other interested parties the class, quality, quantity, and condition of such products.

(k) "Grading or grading service" means: (1) The act of determining, according to the regulations in this part, the class, quality, quantity or condition of any product by examining each unit thereof or a representative sample drawn by a grader or sampler; (2) the act of issuing a grading certificate with respect thereto; (3) the act of identifying, when requested by the applicant, any graded product by means of official identification pursuant to the act and this part; (4) any regrading or any appeal grading of a previously graded product; and (5) inspection including plant survey, processing, manufacturing, packaging, repackaging, condition, or quality control in any approved plant.

(l) "Grading certificate" means an official serially numbered, printed or written form bearing the Department seal issued and signed by a grader, pursuant to the act and this part, relative to the class, quality, quantity, or condition of the products.

(m) "Inspector" means any employee of the Department authorized by the Secretary, or any other person to whom a license has been issued by the Secretary, to inspect and certify quality, quantity, and condition of products, supervise the operation in an approved plant and perform plant surveys.

(n) "Interested party" means any person financially interested in a transaction involving any grading, appeal grading, or regrading of any product.

(o) "National Supervisor" means (1) the officer in charge of dairy inspection and grading service of the Agricultural Marketing Service and (2) such other employee of the Service as may be designated by him.

(p) "Office of grading" means the office of any grader, sampler, or inspector.

(q) "Official identification" means the symbol represented by a stamp, label, seal, mark, or other device approved by the Administrator, affixed to any product or to any container thereof, stating that the product was graded or inspected and indicating the class, quality, grade, or condition of such product.

(r) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business, trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(s) "Product or products" means butter, cheese (whether natural or processed), milk, cream, milk products (whether dried, evaporated, stabilized or condensed), ice cream, dry whey, dry buttermilk, and such other perishable dairy products as the Secretary may hereafter designate. Such term shall also include any food product which is prepared or manufactured from any of the aforesaid products if such products constitute at least 50 percent, by weight, excluding fats other than milk fats, of all the ingredients used in the preparation or manufacture of such food product.

(t) "Quality" means the inherent properties of any product which determine its relative degree of excellence.

(u) "Regulations" means the provisions of this part.

(v) "Sampler" means any employee of the Department authorized by the Secretary, or any other person to whom a license has been issued by the Secretary, to draw samples of products for grading by a grader or for laboratory analysis under the act and this part.

(w) "Sampling" means the act of taking samples of any product for grading, laboratory analysis, or keeping quality test.

(x) "Sampling report" means a statement, either written or printed, issued by a sampler, identifying samples taken by him for grading, laboratory analysis, or keeping quality.

(y) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture or any other officer or employee of the Department to whom there has heretofore been delegated, or to whom there may hereafter be delegated, the authority to act in his stead.

(z) "Service" means Agricultural Marketing Service of the Department.

(aa) "Supervisor of packaging" means any employee of the Department authorized by the Secretary, or any other person to whom a license has been issued by the Secretary, to supervise the packaging and official identification of product, or any repackaging of bulk product.

3. Change § 58.4 to read as follows:

§ 58.4 Basis of grading service. Grading service shall be performed in accordance with methods and procedures approved by the Administrator and this part and shall be for class, quality, quantity, and condition or any single factor or combination thereof. Grading service with respect to determining quality of products shall be on the basis of United States standards for grades, or federal specifications, or specifications as defined in a specific purchase contract. The supervision of processing, manufacturing, packaging, or repackaging of products shall be in accordance with applicable specifications and instructions as may be approved or issued by the Administrator.

4. Change § 58.6 to read as follows:

§ 58.6 Supervision. All grading, inspection and sampling service shall be subject to supervision by the area supervisor or national supervisor or such other employee of the service as may be designated by him. Whenever the immediate supervisor of a grader, inspector, or sampler has evidence that such employee incorrectly graded, inspected or sampled a product, such supervisor shall immediately make a regrading, reinspection or resampling of the product and cause to be issued a grading certificate or sampling report which shall supersede the previous grading certificate or sampling report.

5. Change § 58.7 to read as follows:

§ 58.7 Who may obtain grading, inspection and sampling service—(a) On fee basis. An application for grading, inspection, or sampling service may be made by any interested person, including, but not being limited to, the United States, any State, county, municipality, or common carrier, or any authorized agent of the foregoing.

(b) On resident basis. Application for grading service on a resident basis to be performed in an approved plant shall be made in writing on forms approved by the Administrator and filed with the Administrator.

6. Change § 58.10 to read as follows:

§ 58.10 Filing of application. An application for grading, inspection, or sampling of a specified lot of any product shall be regarded as filed only when made pursuant to this part.

7. Change § 58.11 to read as follows:

§ 58.11 Granting of application. An application may be granted (a) on fee basis when facilities and conditions are satisfactory for conduct of the grading, inspection or sampling service, and (b) on resident basis when the plant is surveyed and approved for grading, inspection or sampling service.

8. Change § 58.12 to read as follows:

§ 58.12 When application may be rejected. An application for grading, inspection or sampling service may be rejected by the Administrator (a) whenever the applicant fails to meet the requirements of the regulations prescribing the conditions under which the service is made available; (b) whenever the product is owned by or located on the premises of a person currently denied the benefits of the act; (c) where an individual holding office or a responsible position with or having a substantial financial interest or share with the applicant is currently denied the benefits of the act or was responsible in whole or in part for the current denial of the benefits of the act to any person; (d) when he determines that the application is an attempt on the part of a person currently denied the benefits of the act to obtain grading, inspection or sampling service; (e) when he determines that the product was produced from unwholesome raw material or was produced under insanitary or otherwise unsatisfactory conditions; (f) when it is determined that the product is of illegal composition or is lacking in stability; (g) delinquent payment of fees over 60 days; or (h) non-compliance with the act or regulations in this part or instructions issued hereunder. When an application is rejected, the applicant shall be notified in writing by the area supervisor or his designated representative the reason or reasons for the rejection.

9. Redesignate § 58.12 to § 58.13.

10. Redesignate § 58.13 to § 58.14.

11. Redesignate § 58.14 to § 58.15 and change to read as follows:

§ 58.15 Accessibility and condition of product. (a) Each product for which grading, inspection or sampling service is requested shall be so conditioned and placed as to permit a proper determination of the class, quality, quantity, or condition of such product. The room or area where the service is to be performed shall be clean and sanitary, free from foreign odors and shall be provided with adequate lighting, ventilation and temperature control.

(b) The applicant shall be entirely responsible for furnishing sample packages that are truly representative of the class, quality, quantity and condition of the lot and each unit thereof. When there is any indication that the samples furnished are not truly representative additional samples shall be made available for verification.

12. Redesignate § 58.15 to § 58.16.

13. Change § 58.17 by adding a new sentence at the end thereof to read as follows: "The Service shall not be liable for damages occurring through acts of commission or omission in administration of this part."

14. Delete the word "superior" in § 58.23 (c) and substitute the word "supervisor" therefor.

15. Change § 58.30 to read as follows:

§ 58.30 Application for regrading of a graded product. An application for the regrading of any previously graded product may be made at any time by any interested party; and such application shall clearly indicate the reasons for requesting the regrading. The provisions of the regulations relative to grading service shall apply to regrading service.

16. Insert the word "quantity" after the word "quality" in the first sentence of § 58.32.

17. Change § 58.50 to read as follows:

§ 58.50 Approval and form of official identification. (a) Any grade label, inspection mark, or packaging material which is to be used as official identification shall be used only in such manner as the Administrator may prescribe; and such label, inspection mark, and packaging material shall be of such form and contain such information as the Administrator may require. No grade label, inspection mark, or packaging material may be used in the identification of any graded or inspected product unless finished copies or samples of such grade label, inspection mark, and packaging material have been approved by the Administrator.

(b) Inspection or grade mark permitted to be used to officially identify packages containing dairy products which are inspected or graded pursuant to this part shall be contained in a shield in the form and design indicated in figures 1, 2, 3 and 4 of this section or such other form or design as may be approved by the Administrator.

Design illustrated in figure 1 is used for graded product under U. S. D. A. inspection. Designs illustrated in figures 2 and 3 are used for graded products processed and packed under U. S. D. A. quality control service. Design illustrated in figure 4 is used for inspected product (when U. S. standards for grades not established) processed and packed under U. S. D. A. quality control service. The grade or inspection identification shall be printed on the carton, or on the wrapper, or on both, and preferably on one of the main panels of the carton or wrapper. The shield identification should be not less than one inch by one inch in size, except that the size may be reduced to ¾ inch by ¾ inch when the product is packed in less than one-pound units.

(c) Labelling and official identification under this part shall be limited to U. S. Grade B or higher, or to an equivalent standard of quality for U. S. name grades or numerical score grades or when U. S. Standards for grades of a product have not been established.

18. Delete the word "continuous" in the first sentence of § 58.51 and add a new paragraph (c) to said section to read as follows:

(c) With respect to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the date of grading or date of inspection may be shown in form of a code provided such code is made available to and approved by the Administrator.

19. Change to § 58.52 to read as follows:

§ 58.52 Time limit for packaging graded butter, cheese, dry milk solids or other dairy products with grade or other official identification label. Any lot of butter which is graded for packaging with grade or other official identification shall be packaged within ten days immediately following the date of grading and any lot of cheese or dry milk shall be packaged within 30 days immediately following date of grading provided the product is properly stored during the ten or thirty day period. If the product is moved to another location a regrading or a reinspection shall be required.

20. Place the heading, "Prerequisites to Packaging Products With Grade Identification Labels" prior to § 58.53 instead of prior to § 58.54.

21. Change § 58.53 by adding a new sentence at the end thereof to read as follows: "The supervisor of packaging shall have jurisdiction over the use and handling of all packaging material bearing any official identification."

22. Change § 58.56 to read as follows:

§ 58.56 Incubation of butter samples to determine keeping quality. (a) Samples of butter may be taken by a grader, pursuant to the instructions of the Administrator, from any lot of butter which is submitted for grading and packaging with grade identification labels, for the purpose of determining, by subsequent examination, whether such butter possesses satisfactory keeping quality, as determined by the grader in accordance with such standards as the Administrator may prescribe.

(b) Samples of butter may be taken by a grader for keeping quality tests pursuant to the instructions of the Administrator, from any lot of butter submitted for grading prior to issuance of the grading certificate.

23. Change § 58.57 to read as follows:

§ 58.57 Butter of known unsatisfactory keeping quality shall not be eligible for packaging with grade identification labels. (a) Any butter produced in a creamery whose production of butter, within 30 days prior to current grading, has shown unsatisfactory keeping quality, as evidenced by the keeping quality test pursuant to § 58.56, shall not be packaged with any grade identification label until it is determined by the grader, that such butter possesses satisfactory keeping quality.

(b) All manufacturing or processing plants supplying product, directly or indirectly, for packaging with official identification shall be subject to survey and inspection. Product shall not be eligible for grading and official identification if productd in a plant which, on inspection, shows insanitary or otherwise unsatisfactory operating conditions.

24. Delete the heading "Miscellaneous" and substitute therefor the heading "Violations".

25. Change § 58.58 to read as follows:

§ 58.58 Debarment of Service. (a) The following acts or practices may be deemed sufficient cause for the debarment of any person by the Administrator from any or all benefits of the act after opportunity for hearing has been accorded him; and pending investigation and hearing the Administrator may direct, without hearing, that such person shall be denied the benefits of the act.

(1) Fraud or misrepresentation. Any wilful misrepresentation or deceptive or fraudulent practice or act found to be made or committed by any person in connection with;

(i) The making or filing of any application for any grading service, inspection service, or sampling service, appeal, or regrading service;

(ii) The making of the product accessible for grading, inspection, or sampling;

(iii) The use of any grading certificate or inspection certificate issued pursuant to the regulations in this part or the use of any official stamp, label, or identification;

(iv) The use of the terms, "United States," or "U. S.," "Officially graded," "Officially inspected," "Federal-State graded," or "Government graded," or terms of similar import in the labeling or advertising of any product without stating in conjunction therewith the official U. S. grade of the product; or

(v) The use of any of the aforesaid terms or an official stamp, label, or identification in the labeling or advertising of any product that has not been graded pursuant to this part.

(2) Use of facsimile form. The use of a facsimile form which simulates in whole or in part any official identificaton for the purpose of purporting to evidence the U. S. grade of any product; or the unauthorized use of a facsimile form which simulates in whole or in part any official grading or inspection certificate, stamp, label, or other identification for the purpose of purporting to evidence a grade or other official inspection mark; and

(3) Mislabeling. The use of any words, numerals, letters, or facsimile form which simulates in whole or in part any identification purporting to be a grade when such product does not comply with any recognized standards in general use for such grade, and such activity may be deemed sufficient cause for debarring such person from any or all benefits of the act.

(4) Wilful violation of the regulations. Wilful violation of the regulations in this part or instructions issued by the Administrator.

(5) Interfering with a grader, inspector, or sampler. Any interference with or obstruction of any grader, inspector, or sampler in the performance of his duties by intimidation, threat, bribery, assault, or any other improper means.

(b) Whenever the Administrator has reason to believe that any person, or his employee, agent, or representative has wilfully, flagrantly or repeatedly committed any of the acts or practices specified in paragraph (a) of this section, he may without hearing direct that the benefits of the act be denied such person pending investigation and hearing and shall give notice thereof by registered mail. A written petition for reconsideration of such interim denial may be filed with the Administrator by any person so denied the benefits of the act if postmarked or delivered within 10 days after notice of the interim denial. Such petition shall state specifically the errors alleged to have been made by the Administrator in denying the benefits of the act pending investigation and hearing. Within 20 days following the receipt of such a petition for reconsideration, the Administrator shall reinstate the benefits of the act or notify the petitioner by registered mail of the reasons for continued interim denial.

26. Place the heading "Miscellaneous" prior to § 58.59 instead of prior to § 58.58.

27. Redesignate §§ 58.60, 58.61, 58.63 and 58.64 as §§ 58.59, 58.60, 58.61 and 58.63, respectively.

28. Insert a new § 58.62 to read as follows:

§ 58.62 Other applicable regulations. Compliance with the regulations in this part shall not excuse failure to comply with any other Federal, or any State, or municipal applicable laws or regulations.

HANDLING OF ANTI-HOG-CHOLERA SERUM AND HOG-CHOLERA VIRUS

APPROVAL OF BUDGET AND FIXING OF RATE OF ASSESSMENT FOR CALENDAR YEAR 1955

Consideration is being given to the approval of a budget of expenses of the Control Agency established under the marketing agreement and the marketing order (9 CFR 131.1 et seq.), regulating the handling of anti-hog-cholera serum and hog-cholera virus, and the fixing of the rate of assessment to be paid by handlers, for the calendar year 1955, as follows:

(1) The expenses which will necessarily be incurred by the Control Agency, established pursuant to the provisions of the marketing agreement and of the marketing order, for the maintenance and functioning of said Agency during the calendar year 1955, will amount to $31,965.00 under the recommendation of the Control Agency, from which shall be deducted the unexpended balance of $2,098.65 on hand with said Control Agency on January 1, 1955, from assessments collected during the calendar year 1954, leaving a balance of $29,866.35 to be collected during the calendar year 1955, and (2) of the amount of $29,866.35 to be collected during the calendar year 1955, the sum of $23,773.61 shall be assessed against handlers who are manufacturers, and $6,092.74 shall be assessed against handlers who, as distributors, market their products principally through veterinarians or other channels. The pro rata share of the expenses of the Control Agency to be paid for the calendar year 1955 by each handler who is a manufacturer shall be $12.71 for each ten thousand dollars or fraction thereof of serum and virus sold by such handler during the calendar year 1954 and the pro rata share of such expenses to be paid for the calendar year 1955 by each handler who, as a distributor, markets his products principally through veterinarians or other channels shall be $25.00 for the first ten thousand dollars or fraction thereof and $2.81 for each additional ten thousand dollars or fraction thereof of serum and virus sold by such handler. Such assessments shall be paid by each respective handler in accordance with the applicable provisions of the marketing agreement and order.

Terms. As used herein, the terms "handler", "manufacturer", "distributor", and "serum" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such term in said marketing agreement and marketing order.

Interested parties may obtain copies of the budget mentioned herein from the Executive Secretary of the Control Agency, 512 V. F. W. Building, Kansas City 11, Missouri.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments in connection with the aforesaid consideration shall file the same with the Hearing Clerk, Room 112, Building A, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 10th day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. All documents shall be filed in quadruplicate.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR Part 3]

[Docket Nos. 11238, 11333, 11334, 11335, 11336; FCC 55-668]

TELEVISION BROADCAST STATIONS; TABLE OF ASSIGNMENTS

ORDER SCHEDULING ORAL ARGUMENT

1. On March 31, 1955, the Commission instituted rule-making proceedings to consider the deintermixture of commercial VHF and UHF television channels in the Peoria, Illinois (Docket No. 11333); Evansville, Indiana (Docket No. 11334); Madison, Wisconsin (Docket No. 11335), and Hartford, Connecticut (Docket No. 11336) areas. On April 21, 1955, the Commission also instituted a proceeding to consider deintermixture in the Albany-Schenectady-Troy, New York, area (Docket No. 11238). In the notices of rule making in these matters the Commission stated that subsequent to the filing of written comments, oral argument would be heard before the Commission en banc. The time for filing comments and replies to comments in these proceedings has now run.

2. In accordance with the Commission's notices of rule making, oral argument will be heard in the above-entitled deintermixture proceedings before the Commission en banc on June 27 and 28, 1955, commencing at 10:00 a. m., on June 27th, in Room 6121, New Post Office Building, Washington, D. C.

3. All parties who have heretofore filed timely written comments in the proceedings may participate in the oral argument. All parties eligible to participate in the oral argument and who intend to do so, should notify the Commission in writing on or before June 15, 1955.

4. The Commission will subsequently schedule a conference of those parties who intend to participate in the oral argument in order to arrange for the allocation of time and to schedule the order of argument. In light of the large number of parties in these proceedings, the Commission expects that the participants in the oral argument will make suitable arrangements for sharing time.

5. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That oral argument will be heard before the Commission en banc in the above-entitled matters on June 27 and 28, 1955.

Adopted: June 8, 1955.

Released: June 9, 1955.

TELEVISION BROADCAST STATIONS; TABLE OF ASSIGNMENTS

ORDER EXTENDING TIME FOR FILING REPLY COMMENTS

1. The Commission has before it for consideration a petition of Jacksonville Journal Company for additional time to file reply comments in the above-entitled proceeding.

2. On April 14, 1955, the Commission issued a Notice of Proposed Rule Making in the above-entitled proceeding concerning the assignment of television Channel 10 to a community in Florida. Original comments were required to be filed in the proceeding by May 31, 1955, with reply comments due June 10, 1955.

3. The Jacksonville Journal Company states that it is investigating the possibility of working out a solution to a conflict between the two parties in the proceeding and that an additional period of two weeks will be necessary to complete its study. Petitioner states that Suncoast Cities Broadcasting Corporation, the other moving party in the proceeding, has consented to the extension of time and that Telrad, Inc., one of the parties who filed comments in opposition to its proposal, will interpose no objection to the extension.

4. The Commission believes that the petitioner has established good cause for an extension of time for filing reply comments in this proceeding and that such extension will serve the public interest, convenience and necessity.

5. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That the time for filing reply comments in the above-entitled proceeding is extended from June 10, 1955, to June 24, 1955.

Adopted: June 8, 1955.

Released: June 9, 1955.

LAKE CARRIERS' ASSOCIATION

SUPPLEMENTAL ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

In the matter of petition of the Lake Carriers' Association for repeal of § 8.301 (b) of the Commission's rules; Docket No. 11406.

1. Under authority of section 303 (a) (b) (c) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. Section 8.301 (b) of the rules, in effect, prohibits the assignment of certain business and operational frequencies in the band 152–162 Mc to applicants who are not themselves engaged in the operation of the vessel upon which the ship station would be located. This rule was adopted by the Commission on June 30, 1954, following rule making proceedings in Docket No. 10904 in which the Lake Carriers' Association, as well as six other parties, participated. Various objections were raised at that time but the Commission rejected all the objections esentially on the basis that in the absence of a rule precluding third persons from becoming the licensees of the business and operational frequencies concerned, there apparently would have to be a "reconsideration of the allocation and a new determination of how these frequencies might best be employed in the public interest".

3. Among the various frequencies which are available in the maritime mobile service in the band 152–162 Mc, the application of § 8.301 (b) precludes primarily the following frequencies from assignment to third persons: 156.4 Mc, 156.5 Mc and 156.9 Mc. Other frequencies may be involved depending upon particular circumstances or areas.

4. The Lake Carriers' Association in its instant petition points out that approximately one year's experience with the rule has shown that its fears regarding the inhibiting effect of the rule upon the full development of a Great Lakes VHF system had been justified. Thus it states as follows: "There are approximately 100 vessels on the Great Lakes equipped with 8-channel VHF sets. However, these vessels are licensed for the use of only seven channels. • • • With limited exceptions, the eighth channel, namely 156.5 Mc, is not in use on these vessels nor is it likely to be provided for on the ships to be equipped with 8-channel VHF sets this season unless the present rule is repealed."

Apparently the Association believes that the failure to utilize the frequency results because, by reason of the provisions of § 8.301 (b), in order to secure an authorization a "complicated and cumbersome dual licensing procedure" must be followed. This occurs because for most Great Lakes large vessels "the licenses for all other channels • • • are held by communication companies serving the Great Lakes". It points out that complications result from dual licensing since more than one call sign would be used by the same ship for communication in the same frequency band. It further points out that the requirements of Part 7 of the Commission's rules which regulate the licensing of limited coast stations provide adequate assurance that "the Commission's intent with respect to the prevention of third party communications on business and operational channels" will be carried out. A copy of the Lake Carriers' petition is available upon request from the Commission's offices at Washington, D. C.

5. Comments are requested with respect to the issues raised by the Lake

Carriers' petition. It is particularly desirable that comments be made by interested persons operating in maritime areas of the United States other than the Great Lakes such as the sea coasts (including the Gulf of Mexico) and the rivers. Such comments should include information as to experience with application of § 8.301 (b) in each of such areas. All comments should refer to the Commission's Report and Order in Docket No. 10904 which sets forth the basis upon which the Commission finalized the rule now sought to be repealed and comments should be made in the light thereof. Copies of this Report and Order may be obtained upon request from the Commission's offices at Washington, D. C.

6. Interested persons may file with the Commission on or before July 15, 1955, their written statements or briefs in support of, or opposition to, the proposal of the Lake Carriers' Association. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments or briefs may be filed within 5 days from the last day for filing the original comments or briefs. The Commission will consider all comments, briefs and statements before taking final action. The petition of the Lake Carriers' Association will be placed in the instant Docket as a comment.

7. In accordance with § 1.764 of the Commission's rules, an original and fourteen copies of all statements, briefs or comments should be furnished to the Commission.

Adopted: June 8, 1955.

Released: June 9, 1955.

[File No. 468]

BRICK AND STRUCTURAL CLAY TILE AND ALLIED PRODUCTS INDUSTRY

NOTICE OF HEARING AND OF OPPORTUNITY TO PRESENT VIEWS, SUGGESTIONS, OR OBJECTIONS ON PROPOSED TRADE PRACTICE RULES

Opportunity is hereby extended by the Federal Trade Commission to any and all persons, partnerships, corporations, organizations, or other parties, including farm, labor, and consumer groups, affected by or having an interest in the proposed trade practice rules for the Brick and Structural Clay Tile and Allied Products Industry, comprising a proposed revision, extension, and consolidation of the rules for the Common Brick, Face Brick, and Structural Clay Tile Industries as promulgated by the Commission in 1931 (16 CFR Parts 25, 32, and 47, respectively), to present to the Commission their views concerning said rules, including such pertinent information, suggestions, or objections as they may desire to submit, and to be heard in the premises. For this purpose copies of the proposed rules may be obtained upon request to the Commission. Such views, information, suggestions, or objections may be submitted by letter, memorandum, brief, or other communication, to be filed with the Commission not later than July 14, 1955. Opportunity to be heard orally will be afforded at the hearing beginning at 10 a. m., d. s. t., July 14, 1955, in Room 332, Federal Trade Commission Building, Pennsylvania Avenue at Sixth Street NW., Washington, D. C., to any such persons, partnerships, corporations, organizations, or other parties, who desire to appear and be heard. After due consideration of all matters presented in writing or orally, the Commission will proceed to final action on the proposed rules.

The industry is engaged in the manufacture, sale, and distribution of all kinds and types of building units and materials which are, or are represented, directly or indirectly, as being brick or structural tile.

These proceedings were instituted pursuant to an industry application and are directed to the elimination and prevention of such acts and practices as are deemed violative of statutes administered by the Federal Trade Commission.

Issued: June 9, 1955.

By direction of the Commission.

Maritime Administration

ESSENTIALITY AND UNITED STATES FLAG SERVICE REQUIREMENTS OF TRADE ROUTE No. 27

NOTICE OF CONCLUSIONS AND DETERMINATIONS OF MARITIME ADMINISTRATOR

Notice is hereby given that on June 3, 1955, the Maritime Administrator, acting pursuant to section 211 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, found and determined the essentiality and United States flag service requirements of the following United States foreign trade route, and, in accordance with his action of October 29, 1954, ordered that his conclusions and determinations with respect to said route be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER:

Trade Route No. 27—U. S. Pacific/Australia-New Zealand. Between U. S. Pacific ports and ports in Australia, New Zealand, New Guinea, and South Sea Islands.

1. The above-described Trade Route No. 27 is reaffirmed as an essential United States foreign trade route with no change in the United States and foreign areas heretofore served.

2. It is determined that the United States flag sailing requirements are between one and two sailings per month with combination (passenger-cargo) ships and approximately one sailing per month with cargo ships.

3. It is further determined that (a) suitable combination ships require accommodations for not less than 350 passengers each, adequate dry cargo and reefer space, service speed of not less than 20 knots, and that two such vessels would provide adequate coverage for the present; and (b) the C-2 type vessels now operated on Trade Route No. 27 are suitable for operation thereon and four such ships are required to serve the route adequately under present circumstances. Replacement freighters should be somewhat superior in speed and carrying capacity.

Any person, firm or corporation having any interest in the foregoing who desires to offer comments and views thereon, should submit same in writing to the Secretary, Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., within fifteen (15) days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The Maritime Administrator will consider these comments and views and take such action with respect thereto as in his discretion he deems warranted.

Dated: June 8, 1955.

By order of the Maritime Administrator.

Office of the Secretary

[Department Order 70, Amdt.]

CLAIMS UNDER THE FEDERAL TORT CLAIMS ACT

APRIL 11, 1955.

The material appearing in 13 F. R. 6621 is superseded by the following:

SECTION 1. Purpose. The purpose of this order is to delegate authority to settle claims for personal injury or property damage under the Federal Tort Claims Act (28 U. S. C. 2671–80) and to establish procedures for the adjudication of such claims.

SEC. 2. Provisions of law. .01 28 U. S. C., section 2672, provides:

(a) The head of each Federal agency, or his designee for the purpose, acting on behalf of the United States, may consider, ascertain, adjust, determine, and settle any claim for money damages of $1,000 or less against the United States accruing on and after January 1, 1945, for injury or loss of property or personal injury or death caused by the negligent or wrongful act or omission of any employee of the Government while acting within the scope of his office or employment, under circumstances where the United States, if a private person, would be liable to the claimant in accordance with the law of the place where the act or omission occurred.

(b) Subject to the provisions of this title relating to civil actions on tort claims against the United States, any such award or determination shall be final and conclusive on all officers of the government, except when procured by means of fraud.

(c) Any award made pursuant to this section, and any award, compromise, or settlement made by the Attorney General pursuant to section 2677 of this title, shall be paid by the head of the federal agency concerned out of appropriations available to such agency.

(d) The acceptance by the claimant of any such award, compromise, or settlement shall be final and conclusive on the claimant, and shall constitute a complete release of any claim against the United States and against the employee of the government whose act or omission gave rise to the claim by reason of the same subject matter.

.02 Under Title 28, section 2401 (b), it is provided in part that a claim not exceeding $1,000 must be presented in writing within two years after the claim accrues.

.03 Title 28, section 2678, of the act provides in part as follows: "* * * the head of the Federal agency or his designee making an award pursuant to section 2672 of this title * * * may, as a part of such judgment, award, or settlement, determine and allow reasonable attorney fees, which, if the recovery is $500 or more, shall not exceed 10 per centum of the amount recovered under section 2672 of this title, * * * to be paid out of but not in addition to the amount of judgment, award, or settlement recovered, to the attorneys representing the claimant."

SEC. 3. Delegation of authority for adjudication and settlement of claims. .01 The head of each primary organization unit is hereby authorized to exercise with respect to claims authorized to be considered, ascertained, adjusted, determined, and settled under section 2672 of Title 28, in accordance with sections 4 and 5 below, all authority vested in the Secretary of Commerce by said section 2672. The General Counsel of the Department of Commerce is authorized to exercise such authority with respect to claims arising out of the wrongful acts or omissions of any employees of the constituent units of the Office of the Secretary.

.02 The adjudication and settlement of any claim by the head of the primary organization unit concerned or by the General Counsel constitutes final action in the case insofar as the Department of Commerce is concerned and no further review in the Department may be obtained.

SEC. 4. Procedure for making claims. .01 Claims may be filed with the head of the primary organization unit involved or in any of its field offices, or with the General Counsel where a constituent unit of the Office of the Secretary is involved.

.02 A claim may be filed by the individual or firm sustaining injury or damages in his or its own right or by an attorney.

.03 Claims shall be filed in the form of a detailed statement of the facts in each case. File in each claim should include the following:

(1) A statement of the employee involved and supported by statements of any witnesses.

(2) In cases of damage to personal property, if the property has been or can be economically repaired, an itemized estimate of the cost of repair or, if payment has been made, an itemized receipt of such payment. If the property is not economically repairable, a statement as to the depreciation in value due to the damage, or if the property is lost or destroyed, a statement as to the value at the time of such loss or destruction.

(3) In cases of personal injury, doctors' bills, hospital bills, nursing bills, bills covering dental or optical services, a statement establishing the amount of time and compensation lost by reason of the accident, a statement from the attending physician showing the extent of the injuries and the treatment thereof, and any supporting statements.

This evidence should be supported by any other documentary evidence that will be helpful in adjudicating the claims.

SEC. 5. Adjudication and settlement of claims. .01 Upon receipt of a claim the date of receipt shall be made a matter of record. After recording, the claim will be forwarded to the person designated by the head of the primary organization unit or the General Counsel, as the case may be, to initially examine claims. The person so designated will review the evidence and recommend disposition to be made, including amount of award, if any, and attorneys' fees. When deemed necessary, additional evidence or investigation of the facts in any given case may be requested. Claims involving unusual or novel questions of law may be submitted to the General Counsel of the Department for consideration and recommendation.

.02 The head of the primary organization unit or the General Counsel, as the case may be, shall make the determination as to whether or not an award shall be made in each case, and, if an award is to be made, the amount of the award, and the amount to be allowed for attorneys' fees.

SEC. 6. Payment of claims. When an award is made, the head of the primary organization unit, or the General Counsel, as the case may be, will transmit the file on the case to the appropriate fiscal office for payment out of funds appropriated, or to be appropriated, for the purpose. Prior to the payment of any claim which is administratively settled, there shall be obtained from the claimant or claimants a release stating that the award or settlement is final and conclusive and constitutes a complete release by the claimant of any claim against the United States and against the employee of the Government arising out of the circumstances which resulted in the claim.

SEC. 7. Annual report. In order to enable the Secretary to make the annual report to Congress required by section 2673 of Title 28 U. S. C., the head of each primary organization unit shall submit to the Office of Budget and Management by August 15 of each year a report covering the preceding fiscal year and showing, with respect to each claim settled, the name of each claimant, the amount claimed, and the amount of any award, and including a brief description of the claim.

Effective date: April 11, 1955.

[SEAL] SINCLAIR WEEKS,
Secretary of Commerce.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Land Management

ALASKA

SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION ORDER NO. 99

JUNE 7, 1955.

By virtue of the authority contained in the act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609; 43 U. S. C. 682a) as amended and pursuant to delegation of authority contained in section 1.9 (o), Order No. 541 of April 21, 1954, Bureau of Land Management, it is ordered as follows:

1. Subject to valid existing rights, the public lands hereinafter described, which are situated in the Anchorage, Alaska, Land District, are hereby classified as chiefly valuable for residence and for business site purposes, as hereinafter indicated for lease and sale under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, supra:

ANCHORAGE AREA—CHUGIAK SMALL TRACT UNIT

SEWARD MERIDIAN

For Lease and Sale; For Residence Sites

T. 15 N., R. 1 W.,
Section 30: Lots 8–14 incl., 17–28 incl., 31, 32, 33, Lots 35, 38, 40, 41, 42, 45, 46, 47, 51, 52, Lots 53, 56, 57, 62–66 incl., 69–72 incl., Lots 76, 77, 78, 81, 82, 83.

Comprising 50 tracts, aggregating 123.09 acres.

For Lease and Sale; For Business or Residence Sites

T. 15 N., R. 1 W.,
Section 30: Lots 48 and 49, Lot 50, Lot 58, Lot 61, Lot 73, Lots 74 and 75, Lot 84.

Comprising 7 tracts aggregating 18.75 acres.

2. The classification of the above-described lands segregates them from all appropriations, including locations under the mining laws, except as to applications under the Small Tract Act and applications under the mineral leasing laws.

3. The subject lands are located between mileposts 17 and 18 on the northwest side of the Glenn Highway in the Chugiak area. Approximately one-fourth of these lots abut the right-of-way of the Glenn Highway. Whereas there are no secondary roads now serving the lots that do not border on the Highway, all lots are located within three-eighths of a mile of the Highway and access should not represent a major obstacle. The lands are characterized by rolling hills and ridges typical of a glaciated area. The soil profile generally consists of a thin layer of soil underlain by sand or gravel. Very few of the tracts contain any low wet land. The majority of the land has been classified by the Soil Conservation Service as Class IV, or land which is considered to be fairly good land suitable only for occasional cultivation because of slope factors. The major portion of the area is covered with a stand of large birch trees intermingled with spruce. The area is well situated in regard to utilities and public services. The main distribution line of the Matanuska Electric Association already serves some consumers in Section 30. The Chugiak Grade School is located approximately two miles from the small tract area and school bus service along the Glenn Highway is presently being operated for both the Chugiak School and the High School in Anchorage. A number of stores and other services are located in the near vicinity along the Glenn Highway. Other services and facilities are available in Mountain View and Anchorage.

4. The individual tracts vary in size from 1.19 to 3.40 acres. The supplemental plat of survey showing the location of each tract can be secured for $1.00 from the Area Cadastral Engineering Office, Bureau of Land Management, Juneau, Alaska. Brochures which describe the area and contain sketch maps of the platting of the small tracts can be obtained free of charge from the Manager, Anchorage Land Office, Anchorage, Alaska. The appraised values of the tracts vary from $860 to $340 per tract as shown below. Easements, 50 feet in width, for road purposes will be reserved as shown below.

[1] Lots marked thus are classified for either business or residential sites.

5. Leases will be issued for a term of two years and will contain an option to purchase in accordance with 43 CFR 257.13 (Circular 1899). Lessees who comply with the general terms and conditions of their leases will be permitted to purchase their tracts at the prices listed above at any time during the term of their leases providing that they have either (a) constructed the improvements specified in paragraph 6 or (b) filed a copy of an agreement in accordance with 43 CFR 257.13 (d). Leases will not be renewable unless failure to construct the required improvements is justified under the circumstances and nonrenewal would work an extreme hardship on the lessee.

6. To maintain their rights under their leases, lessees will be required to either (a) construct substantial improvements on their lands or (b) file a copy of an agreement with their neighbors binding them to construct substantial improvements on their lands. Such improvements must conform with health, sanitation, and construction requirements of local ordinances and must, for residential sites, meet at least the following minimum standards. The home must be insulated and be suitable for year-around occupancy, be on a permanent foundation, contain at least 192 square feet of floor space (outside measure), and contain a minimum of one door and one window. The home must be built in a workmanlike manner out of attractive materials properly finished. Adequate disposal and sanitary facilities must be installed.

7. Beginning at 10:00 a. m. on June 22, 1955, the lands will be open to filing of drawing-entry cards (Form 4–775) only by persons entitled to veterans' preference. In brief, persons entitled to such preference are (a) honorably discharged veterans who served in the armed forces of the United States for a period of at least 90 days after September 15, 1940, (b) surviving spouse or minor orphan children of such veterans through a legally authorized representative, and (c) with the consent of the veteran, the spouse of living veterans. The 90-day requirement does not apply to veterans who were discharged on account of wounds or disability incurred in the line of duty or the surviving spouse or minor children of veterans killed in the line of duty. Drawing-entry cards (Form 4–775) are available upon request from the Manager, Anchorage Land Office, Anchorage, Alaska.

Drawing-entry cards will be accepted if filled out in compliance with the instructions on the form and submitted to the above named official prior to 10:00 a. m. on July 13, 1955. A drawing will be held on that date to select the successful entrants who will be sent copies of the lease form, Form 4–776, with instructions as to their execution and return and as to payment of fees and rentals. All entrants will be notified of the results of the drawing.

For a period of 91 days or until the close of business on October 11, 1955, any tracts remaining unappropriated will be subject to filing in the order received by qualified veteran applicants. Such filings will be executed upon the lease form, Form 4–776.

During the 21 day period extending between 10:00 a. m. on September 21, 1955 and October 12, 1955, drawing-entry cards will be accepted from the general public on any unappropriated parcels of the subject land, however, during this 21 day period veteran priority rights still prevail. A drawing will be held at 10:00 a. m. on October 12, 1955 to select successful entrants, after which the unappropriated portions of the subject land will be open to application under this classification in order of filing. All entrants will be notified of the results of the drawing and successful entrants will be sent copies of the lease form with instructions as to their execution.

The filing of the lease form, Form 4–776, must be accompanied by a filing fee of $10.00 plus the advance rental specified above. The advance rental is determined as being a sum which amounts to 1/20th of the appraised value of the land for each of two years under lease. The advance rental for any unexpired full lease year, if any, subsequent to the filing of the application to purchase, will be subtracted from the sale price of the land as shown above. Failure to transmit the filing fee and the advance rental with the application will render the application invalid. Advance rentals will be returned to unsuccessful applicants. All filing fees will be retained by the United States.

8. All valid applications filed prior to April 15, 1953, will be granted the preference right provided for by 43 CFR 257.5 (a).

LOWELL M. PUCKETT,
Area Administrator.

[Docket Nos. 11272, 11273; FCC 55M–515]

TENNESSEE VALLEY BROADCASTING CO. (WAGC) AND E. WEAKS McKINNEY-SMITH

ORDER AFTER PREHEARING CONFERENCE

In re applications of Gordon W. Gambill, Hubert M. Martin, Humphrey B. Heywood & R. T. Russell d/b as Tennessee Valley Broadcasting Co. (WAGC), Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, Docket No. 11272, File No. BP–9106; E. Weaks McKinney-Smith, Paducah, Kentucky, Docket No. 11273, File No. BP–9268; for construction permits.

1. Pursuant to the Hearing Examiner's order of May 10, 1955, and §§ 1.841 and 1.813, a prehearing conference was held on June 7, 1955. It was stated at the outset that WAGC, which appears in the caption, would file a petition to dismiss, and accordingly it need not be further considered. The case will no longer involve competitive applicants, but only McKinney-Smith's application and respondent WQXR.

2. The transcript of the prehearing conference is incorporated by reference.

3. There is pending before the Commission a motion by McKinney-Smith, filed on March 7, 1955, to enlarge or change the issues. McKinney-Smith will supplement this pleading to determine whether present issue No. 5 (the section 307 (b) issue) is now applicable.

4. Applicant will file his written case exhibits on June 24, 1955. A further conference will be held on June 30, 1955. It is now contemplated that the hearing will begin, as scheduled, on July 6, 1955.

So ordered, This 8th day of June 1955.

EL MUNDO, INC., ET AL.

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re applications of El Mundo, Inc., Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, Docket No. 11287, File No. BPCT–1892; Ponce De Leon Broadcasting Company, Inc., of P. R., Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, Docket No. 11288, File No. BPCT–1906; Supreme Broadcasting Company, Inc., Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, Docket No. 11289, File No. BPCT–1911; for construction permits for new television broadcast stations.

The Hearing Examiner having under consideration a motion filed on June 6, 1955, on behalf of Ponce De Leon Broadcasting Company, Inc., of P. R., requesting that the hearing in the above-entitled proceeding, now scheduled to be held in Washington, D. C., on June 10, 1955, be continued until July 29, 1955, and that a pre-hearing conference be scheduled for July 1, 1955; and

It appearing, that the Supreme Broadcasting Company, Inc., by a letter dated June 2, 1955, has advised the Commission of its intention to withdraw from the instant proceeding; and

It further appearing, that counsel for El Mundo, Inc., and the Broadcast Bureau of this Commission, the only other parties to this proceeding, have stated that they have no objection to a grant of the motion under consideration:

It is ordered, This 8th day of June 1955, that the above motion be, and it is hereby, granted; that the hearing in the above-entitled proceeding is hereby postponed until 10:00 a. m., Friday, July 29, 1955, in the offices of this Commission; and that the first pre-hearing conference in the said proceeding, under §§ 1.813 and 1.841 of the Commission's rules, as amended, is scheduled to be held in the offices of this Commission, at Washington, D. C., at 10:00 a. m., on Friday, July 1, 1955.

CHECKER CAB CO.

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In the matter of Patrick O'Connell d/b as Checker Cab Co., Oroville, California; order to show cause why the license for Taxicab Radio Station KMA 937 should not be revoked.

The Hearing Examiner having under consideration a motion filed May 26, 1955, on behalf of the Chief, Safety & Special Radio Services Bureau, Federal Communications Commission requesting the continuance of the above-entitled proceeding now scheduled for June 27, 1955, to September 26, 1955; and

It appearing that the reason for the requested continuance arises out of the fact that service by registered mail had not been accomplished and that efforts were being made to make actual service upon the licensee; and

It appearing that good cause for a continuance of hearing has been shown and no opposition thereto has been filed;

It is ordered, This the 8th day of June 1955 that the motion for the continuance of the hearing is granted and the hearing is continued from June 27, 1955, to September 26, 1955, beginning at 10:00 a. m., in the offices of the Commission, Washington, D. C.

LOUIS C. BENNETT

ORDER DESIGNATING MATTER FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In the matter of Louis C. Bennett, New Smyrna Beach, Florida; suspension of restricted radiotelephone operator permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 8th day of June 1955;

The Commission having under consideration the suspension of the restricted radiotelephone operator license (No. RP–7–19719) issued to Louis C. Bennett; and

It appearing that acting in accordance with the provisions of section 303 (m) (2) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-named party filed with the Commission within the time provided therefor an application requesting a hearing on the Commission's order dated January 27, 1955, suspending for a period of three months his restricted radiotelephone operator permit; and

It further appearing that under the provisions of section 303 (m) (2) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said permittee is entitled to a hearing in this matter and that upon the filing of a timely written application therefor, the Commission's order of suspension is held in abeyance until the conclusion of the proceeding in this matter:

It is ordered, That the matter of the suspension of the restricted radiotelephone operator permit of Louis C. Bennett is hereby designated for hearing in Fort Myers, Florida, at 10:00 a. m., on the 28th day of June 1955 upon the following issues:

1. To determine whether Louis C. Bennett wilfully violated § 8.364 of the Commission's rules in that he failed to identify radio transmissions, by assigned call letters at beginning and end of each exchange of communications on 2738 kc while operating the radiotelephone station on board the vessel "Peggy and Patsy" (WD–8855) on various occasions.

2. In the light of the evidence adduced in the preceding issue to determine whether the terms of the original order of suspension should be made final, rescinded, or modified.

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order be transmitted by registered mail, return receipt requested, to Louis C. Bennett and that he notify the Commission in writing within 10 days after the receipt of this order that he will appear in person or by counsel at said hearing.

Released: June 9, 1955.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 1–256]

ATLANTIC GULF & WEST INDIES STEAMSHIP LINES

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO STRIKE FROM LISTING AND REGISTRATION, AND OF OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING

JUNE 8, 1955.

New York Stock Exchange has made application, pursuant to section 12 (d) of the the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-12D2–1 (b) promulgated thereunder, to strike the above-named security from listing and registration thereon.

The reasons alleged in the application for striking this security from listing and registration include the following:

Some 145,016 of the outstanding 150,000 shares have been deposited as of May 23, 1955, pursuant to an offer dated February 18, 1955, by the New York & Cuba Mail Steamship Corporation, to purchase the stock at $23 per share.

The remaining 4,984 shares are insufficient, in the opinion of the applicant, for further dealings on the Exchange.

Dealings thereon have been suspended as of the opening of the trading session on May 24, 1955.

Upon receipt of a request, on or before June 24, 1955, from any interested person for a hearing in regard to terms to be imposed upon the delisting of this security, the Commission will determine whether to set the matter down for hearing. Such request should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person requesting the hearing and the position he proposes to take at the hearing with respect to imposition of terms. In addition, any interested person may submit his views or any additional facts bearing on this application by means of a letter addressed to the Secretary of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. If no one requests a hearing on this matter, this application will be determined by order of the Commission on the basis of the facts stated in the application and other information contained in the official file of the Commission pertaining to the matter.

By the Commission.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

JUNE 7, 1955.

Take notice that Hope Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a West Virginia Corporation with its principal place of business in Clarksburg, West Virginia, filed on April 21, 1955, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing Applicant to construct and operate a 180 horsepower engine and compressor unit at its Lee Station, Jackson County, West Virginia, as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant was authorized in Docket No. G–567 to construct and operate a 1,000 horsepower engine and four low-stage compressors, comprising its Lee Station, for the purpose of taking gas from the Jackson County producing area.

Applicant states that the presently existing facilities are also being used to relay gas from the Cornwell Station to Parkersburg, West Virginia, in order to make gas available for peak demands at Parkersburg several days of the winter months. This necessitates shutting in the Jackson County producing area during that period. Such operation, Applicant submits, will increase each year as the Parkersburg market continues to grow. Applicant contends that, as a result of decline in production in the area, the existing facilities, when pumping field gas, are only partially loaded, thereby causing low engine efficiency and high operating cost.

Applicant states that the facilities proposed in the instant application will enable it to:

(1) Operate the 180 horsepower unit throughout the year to pump field gas produced in the Jackson County area and permit the existing facilities to be operated for the sole purpose of relaying gas from the Cornwell Station to Parkersburg;

(2) Attain greater engine efficiency at Lee Station and increase the supply of gas to Parkersburg on cold days.

The estimated cost of the proposed facilities of $39,000 will be paid for from cash on hand.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on June 29, 1955, at 9:30 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before June 23, 1955. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

[Docket No. G–8783]

HOPE NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND DATE OF HEARING

JUNE 7, 1955.

Take notice that Hope Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a West Virginia Corporation with its principal place of business in Clarksburg, West Virginia, filed on April 21, 1955, an application, pursuant to section 7 (b) of the Natural Gas Act for authority to abandon facilities as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully represented in the application which is on file with the Commission and open for public inspection.

Applicant has two compressor units totaling 1770 horsepower in its Camden Station and 540 horsepower at its Turner Station. Applicant proposes to abandon the Camden Station completely and one 180 horsepower unit in the Turner Station. The abandoned facilities will be returned to the warehouse or sold for junk.

Applicant states that abandonment of such facilities is required because:

(1) Local gas supplies pumped by these units are nearly exhausted.

(2) The small quantity of remaining gas can be handled by other existing facilities.

(3) The abandonment will eliminate operating and maintenance cost on these facilities and will not result in any curtailment of service.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on June 29, 1955, at 9:40 a. m., e. d. s. t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved in and issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30 (c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before June 23, 1955. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

ATLANTIC REFINING CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF APPLICATIONS

JUNE 8, 1955.

In the matters of The Atlantic Refining Company, Docket No. G–8809, The California Company, Docket No. G–8810, Union Oil Company of California, Docket No. G–8811, Texas Gas Transmission Corporation, Docket No. G–8828.

Take notice that there have been filed with the Federal Power Commission, applications as hereinafter specified:

Applicant	Address	Date filed	Docket No.
The Atlantic Refining Co	Philadelphia, Pa	April 27, 1955	G–8809
The California Co	New Orleans, La	do	G–8810
Union Oil Company of California	Los Angeles, Calif	do	G–8811
Texas Gas Transportation Corp	Owensboro	April 29, 1955	G–8828

Each for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of certain facilities and the sale of natural gas as hereinafter described, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, all as more fully described in the respective applications now on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The Atlantic Refining Company, The California Company, and Union Oil Company of California in their respective applications propose to sell natural gas produced from the East Lake Palourde Field, Assumption Parish, Louisiana, to Texas Gas Transmission Corporation for transportation in interstate commerce for resale.

Texas Gas Transmission Corporation (Texas Gas) proposes:

(1) To increase firm deliveries to The Ohio Fuel Gas Company (Ohio Fuel) by 35,000 Mcf per day, and, simultaneously therewith, discontinue interruptible deliveries under Texas Gas' IS–4 rate schedule; and

(2) To serve the increased firm requirements for the 1957–58 winter of the customers of Texas Gas other than Ohio Fuel, in the amount of 73,598 Mcf.

Texas Gas requests authority to construct and operate the necessary facilities to render the additional service above-described. These proposed facilities are:

(1) Approximately 32.48 miles of 30-inch pipe;

(2) Approximately 9.08 miles of 26-inch pipe;

(3) Approximately 111.83 miles of 20-inch pipe;

(4) Approximately 0.76 mile of 16-inch pipe;

(5) Approximately 28.88 miles of 12-inch pipe;

(6) Approximately 15.14 miles of 8-inch pipe;

(7) 20,270 compressor horsepower; and

(8) Two check meter stations and one regulator station.

The total overall cost of the proposed facilities is estimated to be $19,969,000. Texas Gas proposes to finance the proposed facilities and other construction through the sale of $18,000,000 of 3.9 Percent Series Debentures and $20,000,000 of 3¾ Percent Series First Mortgage Pipe Line Bonds.

Each Applicant has requested that its respective application be heard under the shortened procedure provided by § 1.32 (b) (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Commission in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of its rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.10) on or before June 28, 1955.

UNITED STATES TARIFF COMMISSION

POCKET PENCIL SHARPENERS

INVESTIGATION INSTITUTED

On June 6, 1955, the Tariff Commission received advice from the Treasury Department that pocket pencil sharpeners from the firm of Karl Zech, Forcheim, West Germany, are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than their fair value. Accordingly, the Tariff Commission has instituted an investigation under section 201 (a) of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended, to determine whether an industry in the United States is being or is likely to be injured, or is prevented from being established, by reason of the importation of such merchandise into the United States.

As of this time, the Commission has not ordered a public hearing in this investigation. In accordance with § 208.4 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (19 CFR, 1954 Supp., 208.4) any interested party who believes that a public hearing should be held in this investigation may, within 15 days after the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of this notice of investigation, submit a request in writing to the Secretary, United States Tariff Commission, Washington 25, D. C., that a public hearing be held, stating the reasons for such request.

Any interested party may submit to the Commission a written statement of information pertinent to the subject matter of this investigation. If a public hearing is held in this investigaton such statement may be presented in lieu of appearance at such hearing. Fifteen clear copies of such statement should be submitted, and information which is desired to be submitted in confidence should be on separate pages clearly marked "Submitted in confidence".

Issued: June 9, 1955.

By order of the United States Tariff Commission this 8th day June 1955.

[SEAL] DONN N. BENT,
Secretary.

Subchapter E—Account Servicing

[FHA Instruction 451.4]

PART 366—PAYMENT-IN-FULL

SUBPART A—DIRECT FARM OWNERSHIP, OTHER REAL ESTATE, AND FARM HOUSING ACCOUNTS

The title to Subpart A is revised to read as set forth above and Subpart A, Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (20 F. R. 321), is revised to incorporate reference to servicing for other real estate accounts and to read as follows:

Sec.
366.1 General.
366.2 Authorization.
366.3 Determining balance to be collected.
366.4 Delivery of satisfactions, notes and other documents.
366.5 Property insurance.

AUTHORITY: §§ 366.1 to 366.5 issued under sec. 41 (1), 60 Stat. 1066, sec. 510 (g), 63 Stat. 438; 7 U. S. C. 1015 (1), 42 U. S. C. 1480 (g). Interpret or apply secs. 3 (b) (6), 41 (h), 60 Stat. 1074, 1066, sec. 510 (d), 63 Stat. 437; 7 U. S. C. 1003 (b) (6), 1015 (h), 42 U. S. C. 1480 (d).

§ 366.1 General. Sections 366.1 to 366.5 set forth the authorizations, policies, and procedures for processing final payments on direct Farm Ownership, Other Real Estate, and Farm Housing accounts which are paid in full at any time after loan closing. In every case where a loan has been closed, including those where the entire principal of the loan is refunded before any of it has been previously disbursed from the supervised bank account, the borrower will be required to pay interest from the date of the note to the date final payment is received by the County Supervisor.

§ 366.2 Authorization. (a) The County Supervisor is authorized to accept final payment on a direct Farm Ownership, Other Real Estate, or Farm Housing account (except direct Farm Ownership accounts repaid in less than five years by sale of the farm when profit making seems to be the only significant motive for the sale) and to execute the necessary releases and satisfactions in connection with the indebtedness. When a borrower who has not had his loan five years proposes to sell his farm and pay the Farm Ownership loan in full, and profit making seems to be the only significant motive for the sale, the County Supervisor will advise the State Director of the circumstances. The State Director is authorized to approve or disapprove the transaction and will inform the County Supervisor of the action to be taken.

(b) The State Director, with the assistance of the representative of the Office of the General Counsel, will issue a State Instruction which will instruct County Supervisors regarding the release or satisfaction of Farm Ownership, Other Real Estate, and Farm Housing mortgages when the loan is paid in full.

§ 366.3 Determining balance to be collected. (a) When a borrower has indicated his desire to pay his direct Farm Ownership, Other Real Estate, or Farm Housing account in full, the County Supervisor will prepare and forward to the Finance Office Form FHA–995, "Request for Certified Statement of Account," in order to obtain the unpaid balance of principal and interest on the borrower's account and the daily rate of accrual of interest.

(b) Upon receipt of Form FHA–835, "Certified Statement of Account," from the Finance Office, the County Supervisor will notify the borrower that he is prepared to accept final payment.

§ 366.4 Delivery of satisfactions, notes, and other documents. Usually, the County Supervisor will transmit the final payment to the Finance Office with a request for the return of the promissory note for delivery to the borrower; however, if circumstances require delivery of the note at the time final payment is received by the County Supervisor, he will request the Finance Office to forward the note along with the statement of account on Form FHA–835.

(a) Delivery of documents after notes stamped "paid-in-full" are received from the Finance Office: The Finance Office, upon receipt of Form FHA–144, "Summary of Remittances," covering the remittance which paid the account in full, will forward to the County Office the note stamped with a paid-in-full legend, provided the final payment as received from the borrower was in the form of currency and coin, U. S. Treasury check, cashier's or certified check, bank draft, or money order. If the final payment was in the form of an uncertified check drawn on a personal account, the note will be held in the Finance Office for 15 days after the remittance has been deposited in the Deposit Fund Account, before being forwarded to the County Office. Upon receipt of the note, the County Supervisor will deliver the stamped note(s), any property insurance policies, and the original mortgage to the borrower. The original satisfaction executed in accordance with the State Instruction will be delivered to the borrower for recording if desired.

(b) Delivery of documents at the time final payment is made: If the circumstances require the delivery of the promissory note and the satisfaction of the Farm Ownership, Other Real Estate, or Farm Housing mortgage at the time final payment is made, the County Supervisor will prepare the satisfaction, mark the original note with a paid-in-full legend, and will deliver the original note, the original satisfaction, any insurance policies, and the original mortgage to the borrower only upon receipt of full payment of the unpaid balance of principal and interest, computed as of the date final payment is received, and only when such payment is made in the form of currency and coin, U. S. Treasury Check, cashier's, or certified check, bank draft, or money order.

(c) If state law requires recording or filing of the satisfaction by the mortgagee, two executed copies of the satisfaction will be prepared and the additional copy will be recorded or filed by the County Supervisor with the proper recording official.

§ 366.5 Property insurance. The County Supervisor will advise the borrower regarding the manner in which property insurance will be canceled or release of mortgage interest executed.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter I—Agricultural Marketing Service (Standards, Inspections, Marketing Practices), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter C—Regulations and Standards Under the Farm Products Inspection Act

PART 56—GRADING AND INSPECTION OF SHELL EGGS AND UNITED STATES STANDARDS, GRADES, AND WEIGHT CLASSES FOR SHELL EGGS

SUSPENSION OF EFFECTIVE DATE OF CERTAIN PROVISIONS

The regulations governing the grading and inspection of shell eggs and United States standards, grades and weight classes for shell eggs (7 CFR Part 56) were revised and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 1 and 4, 1955 (20 F. R. 667, 757). Most of the provisions of the revised regulations became effective on March 1, 1955. However, the changes which were made in the weight classes for shell eggs were not to become effective until January 1, 1956. Since the issuance of the revised regulations and their wide distribution to members of the trade and other interested persons, the Department has received from producers, handlers and other interested persons, many additional views and arguments with respect to the adverse effect such changes in the weight classes for shell eggs might have on the industry as a whole. Further, some segments of the industry, who formerly favored the changes and submitted views in support thereof, subsequently have reconsidered the matter and have submitted additional information opposing such changes.

In view of the additional information submitted by many segments of the industry, further study and consideration of these provisions should be made. Therefore, the dates set forth in §§ 56.218 (c), 56.223 (b), and 56.228 (b) of the aforesaid regulations, on which changes in weight classes were to become effective, are hereby suspended. This action is taken pursuant to authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.).

It is hereby found that it would be impractical, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to engage in public rule making procedures with respect to this suspension or to postpone the effective date thereof until thirty (30) days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER for the reasons that (1) the changes in the weight classes are not now in effect and will not require any preparation on the part of industry; (2) the additional information received indicates that it would be in the public interest to give this matter further study; and (3) the industry should be advised of this suspension as soon as possible in order that it may plan for future contractual obligations.

Therefore, good cause exists for making this suspension effective upon its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 205, 60 Stat. 1090; 7 U. S. C. 1624)

Issued this 10th day of June 1955, to become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Deputy Administrator,
Agricultural Marketing Service.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 931—MILK IN CEDAR RAPIDS-IOWA CITY, IOWA MARKETING AREA

ORDER TERMINATING CERTAIN PROVISION OF ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act" and of the order, as amended (7 CFR Part 931), regulating the handling of milk in the Cedar Rapids-Iowa City, Iowa marketing area, hereinafter referred to as the "order" it is hereby found and determined that:

a. In § 931.50 (c) (2) of the order the provision "in barrels" as it appears in each of two places does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

b. Notice of proposed rule making and public procedure thereon in connection with the issuance hereof is impracticable, unnecessary and contrary to the public interest, in that (1) the information on which this action is based did not become available in sufficient time for such compliance; (2) the issuance of this termination order effective as set forth below is necessary to reflect current marketing conditions and facilitate, promote and maintain the orderly marketing of milk produced for the said marketing area; (3) on April 8, 1955, the Market News Service of the Department of Agriculture stopped reporting Chicago price quotations for spray and roller process nonfat dry milk solids for human consumption in drums and barrels. This was done because too few sales were being made in drums and barrels to report such prices. Most price quotations now relate to sales in bags and this series is being continued by the Market News Service.

It is therefore ordered, That in § 931.50 (c) (2) the provision "in barrels" as it appears in each of two places be and hereby is terminated effective immediately.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of June 1955.

PART 956—MILK IN THE SIOUX FALLS-MITCHELL, SOUTH DAKOTA, MARKETING AREA

ORDER SUSPENDING CERTAIN PROVISIONS

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act", and of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Sioux Falls-Mitchell, South Dakota, marketing area, it is hereby found and determined that the provisions of § 956.61 (c) and (d) of the order, do no longer tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

It is hereby found and determined that notice of proposed rule making and public procedure thereon in connection with the issuance hereof is impracticable, unnecessary and contrary to the public interest, in that (1) the information upon which this action is based did not become available in sufficient time for such compliance; (2) the issuance of this suspension order effective as set forth below; is necessary to reflect current marketing conditions and to facilitate, promote and maintain the orderly marketing of milk produced for the said marketing area; and (3) this action will affect only the seasonality of returns to producers and will in no way affect the obligations of handlers subject to the order. The changes caused by this suspension order do not require of persons affected any preparation prior to its effective date.

It is therefore ordered, That the following provisions of the order be and are hereby suspended: § 956.61 (c) and (d).

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of June 1955, to be effective June 10, 1955.

PART 969—AVOCADOS GROWN IN SOUTH FLORIDA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER REGULATING HANDLING

§ 969.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations made in connection with the issuance of this order; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900; 19 F. R. 57), a public hearing was held at Homestead (Modello), Florida, on February 28, 1955, upon proposed amendments to Marketing Agreement No. 121 and Order No. 69 (7 CFR Part 969; 19 F. R. 3439) regulating the handling of avocados grown in South Florida. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The said order as hereby amended regulates the handling of avocados grown in South Florida in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activities specified in, the amended marketing agreement and order upon which hearings have been held;

(3) The said order as hereby amended prescribes, so far as practicable, such different terms applicable to different parts of the production area, as are necessary to give due recognition to differences in the production and marketing of the avocados covered thereby;

(4) The said order as hereby amended is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area which is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act; and the issuance of several orders applicable to subdivisions of the production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act; and

(5) All handling of avocados which are grown in the production area is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined on the basis hereinafter indicated that good cause exists for making the provisions of this order effective not later than the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and that it would be contrary to the public interest to postpone such effective date until 30 days after publication (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.). The 1955-56 marketing season for avocados will begin shortly after the first of June. To be of maximum benefits during this season, it is necessary that the provisions of these amendments be made effective as soon as possible. One of the amendments extends the production area to two additional counties and it is particularly desirable that this amendment be made effective before avocados start moving in volume from this area. Likewise it is desirable that the provision for regulating containers to be made effective as early as possible in the season so that shippers may be advised of containers in which avocados shall be permitted to be shipped and act accordingly in placing orders for such containers. The provisions of this order are well known to handlers. The public hearing in connection therewith was held at Homestead (Modello), Florida on February 28, 1955, and the recommended decision and the final decision were published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 19, 1955 (20 F. R. 2587) and May 13, 1955 (20 F. R. 3259) respectively. Copies of the regulatory provisions of this order were made available to all known interested parties, and compliance with such provisions will not require advance preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed prior to the effective date of regulation pursuant hereto.

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that:

(1) The agreement amending the marketing agreement regulating the handling of avocados grown in Florida, upon which the aforesaid public hearing was held, has been executed by handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the avocados covered by this order) who, during the period April 1, 1954, through March 31, 1955, handled not less than 50 percent of the volume of avocados covered by this order;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the aforesaid order, is favored or approved by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of its approval and who, during the determined representative period (April 1, 1954, through March 31, 1955), were engaged, within the production area specified in this order, in the production of avocados for market; such producers having also produced for market at least two-thirds of the volume of avocados represented in such referendum.

It is therefore ordered, That, on and after the effective date hereof, all handling of avocados grown in the production area shall be in conformity to, and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order as hereby amended as follows:

1. Immediately preceding the closing of the parenthesis at the end of § 969.2 Act insert the following: "; 68 Stat. 906, 1047".

2. Revise § 969.4 Production area to read as follows:

§ 969.4 Production area. "Production area" means the counties of Brevard, Orange, Lake, Polk, Hillsborough, and Pinellas in the State of Florida, and all of the counties of that State situated south of such counties.

3. Delete from the first sentence of § 969.10 Handle the words "in the continental United States and Canada."

4. Add, after § 969.42 Accounting the following new section; preceded by a main heading entitled "Research and Development":

§ 969.45 Marketing research and development. The committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may establish or provide for the establishment of marketing research and development projects designed to assist, improve, or promote the marketing, distribution, and consumption of avocados. The expense of such projects shall be paid from funds collected pursuant to § 969.41.

5. Delete the word "and" appearing at the end of subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) of § 969.51 Issuance of regulations and insert the word "and" at the end of subparagraph (2) of such section after changing the period to a semicolon.

6. Add, after subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of § 969.51 Issuance of regulations the following new subparagraph:

(3) Fix the size, capacity, weight, dimensions, or pack of the container or containers which may be used in the packaging, and the transportation, sale, shipment or other handling of avocados.

7. Delete paragraph (c) from § 969.55 Avocados not subject to regulation and redesignate paragraphs (d) and (e) as paragraphs (c) and (d), respectively.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of June 1955, to become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[Avocado Order 8]

PART 969—AVOCADOS GROWN IN SOUTH FLORIDA

MATURITY REGULATION

§ 969.308 Avocado Order 8—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 69 (Part 969; 19 F. R. 3439) regulating the handling of avocados grown in South Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Avocado Administrative Committee, established under the aforesaid marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of avocados, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this regulation until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than June 16, 1955. A reasonable determination as to the time of maturity of avocados must await the development of the crop thereof, and adequate information thereon was not available to the Avocado Administrative Committee until June 7, 1955; determinations as to the time of maturity of the varieties of avocados covered by this section were made at the meeting of said committee on June 7, 1955, after consideration of all available information relative to the time of bloom and growing conditions for such avocados, at which time the recommendations and supporting information for maturity regulation was submitted to the Department; such meeting was held to consider recommendation for such regulation after giving due notice thereof, and interested parties were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section are identical with the aforesaid recommendations of the committee and information concerning such provisions has been disseminated among the handlers of avocados; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) After the effective time of this section no handler shall handle any variety of avocados listed in column 1 of the following table prior to 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., of the date listed for the respective variety in column 2 of such table;

(2) During the period from 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., of the date listed for the respective variety in column 4 of such table and 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., of the date listed for the respective variety in column 6 of such table, no handler shall handle any avocados unless the individual fruit weighs at least the ounces specified for the respective variety in column 3 of such table;

(3) During the period from 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., of the date listed for the respective variety in column 4 of such table and 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., of the date listed for the respective variety in column 6 of such table, no handler shall handle any avocados unless the individual fruit weighs at least the ounces specified for the respective variety in column 5 of such table;

(4) During the period from 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., of the date listed for the respective variety in column 6 of such table and 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., of the date listed for the respective variety in column 8 of such table, no handler shall handle any avocados unless the individual fruit weighs at least the ounces specified for the respective variety in column 7 of such table;

(5) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraphs (1) through (4) of this paragraph regarding the minimum weight for individual fruit, up to 10 percent, by count, of the individual fruit contained in each lot may weigh not to exceed two ounces less than the applicable specified weight for the particular variety in column 3, 5, or 7 of such table, such tolerance to be on a lot basis but not to exceed double such tolerance percentage shall be permitted for an individual container in a lot, and in addition, when minimum diameters are specified for a variety in such table, any avocados of that variety in a lot may weigh not to exceed two ounces less than the applicable weight specified for such variety in column 3, 5, or 7 of such table provided they measure at least the applicable diameter so specified for that variety;

(6) During the period from 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., November 14, 1955, and 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., December 5, 1955, no handler shall handle any Lula variety of avocados unless the individual fruit weighs at least nine ounces: Provided, That (i) up to 10 percent, by count, of the individual fruit contained in each lot may weigh less than nine ounces but not less than seven ounces, but not more than double such tolerance percentage shall be permitted for any individual container in such lot; and (ii) the remainder of the avocados in such lot may weigh less than nine ounces but not less than seven ounces if such avocados also measure at least three inches in diameter;

(7) The provisions of paragraph (b) (2) and (3) of § 969.306 (Avocado Order 6; 20 F. R. 3427) shall not apply to the varieties of avocados named in the foregoing table; and

(8) As used in this section, the term "diameter" means the largest measurement at a right angle to a straight line running from the stem to the blossom end of the fruit.

(c) Effective time. The provisions of this section shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., June 16, 1955.

PART 974—MILK IN THE COLUMBUS, OHIO, MARKETING AREA

ORDER TERMINATING CERTAIN PROVISIONS

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act" and of the order, as amended (7 CFR Part 974), regulating the handling of milk in the Columbus, Ohio, marketing area, hereinafter referred to as the "order" it is hereby found and determined that:

a. In §§ 974.50 (a) (2) and 974.54 (a) of the order the provision "in barrels" does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

b. Notice of proposed rule making and public procedure thereon in connection with the issuance hereof is impracticable, unnecessary and contrary to the public interest, in that (1) the information on which this action is based did not become available in sufficient time for such compliance; (2) the issuance of this termination order effective as set forth below is necessary to reflect current marketing conditions and facilitate, promote and maintain the orderly marketing of milk produced for the said marketing area; (3) on April 8, 1955, the Market News Service of the Department of Agriculture stopped reporting Chicago price quotations for spray and roller process nonfat dry milk solids for human consumption in drums and barrels. This was done because too few sales were being made in drums and barrels to report such prices. Most price quotations now relate to sales in bags and this series is being continued by the Market News Service.

It is therefore ordered, That in §§ 974.50 (b) (2) and 974.54 (a) the provision "in barrels" be and hereby is terminated effective immediately.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of June 1955.

[SEAL] TRUE D. MORSE,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1001.0 to 1001.71 issued under sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c.

§ 1001.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, effective thereunder (7 CFR Part 900; 19 F. R. 57), a public hearing was held at Homestead (Modello), Florida, from March 1 to March 3, 1955, both dates inclusive, upon a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed marketing order regulating the handling of limes grown in Florida. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing, and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The said order regulates the handling of limes grown in the designated production area in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activities specified in, the proposed marketing agreement and order upon which a hearing has been held;

(3) The said order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area that is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act, and the issuance of several orders applicable to subdivisions of such production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act;

(4) There are no differences in the production and marketing of limes grown in the production area covered by the said order that make necessary different terms and provisions applicable to different parts of such area; and

(5) All handling of limes grown in the production area, as defined herein, is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined on the basis hereinafter indicated that good cause exists for making the provisions of this part effective not later than the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and that it would be contrary to the public interest to postpone such effective date until 30 days after publication (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.). As soon as practical after such effective time, it will be necessary to establish the Florida Lime Administrative Committee, the agency charged with the administration of this program, and for the Committee and the Secretary to initiate various actions of both organizational and regulatory natures, including the formulation and promulgation of rules and regulations under the program, which should be completed as soon as practicable after the beginning of the harvesting and marketing season. Volume shipments of Florida limes normally begin during June. The time during which such actions will be concluded should be such that handlers will receive such notice thereof as will enable them reasonably and adequately to prepare for operations under the program. The provisions of the order are well known to the handlers of limes, since the public hearing in connection with the entire order was concluded March 3, 1955, and the recommended decision and final decision was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 19, 1955 (20 F. R. 2590, 2893), and May 13, 1955 (20 F. R. 3261), respectively. Copies of the regulatory provisions of this part were made available to all known interested parties, and compliance with such provisions will not require advance preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed prior to the effective date of regulation pursuant hereto.

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that:

(1) The marketing agreement regulating the handling of limes grown in Florida, upon which the aforesaid public hearing was held, has been executed by handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the limes covered by this order) who, during the period April 1, 1954, through March 31, 1955, handled not less than 50 percent of the volume of limes covered by this order;

(2) The issuance of this order is favored or approved by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of its approval and who, during the determined representative period (April 1, 1954, through March 31, 1955), were engaged, within the production area specified in this order, in the production of limes for market; such producers having also produced for market at least two-thirds of the volume of limes represented in such referendum.

It is therefore ordered, That, on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of limes grown in the said production area shall be in conformity to, and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order; and the terms and conditions of said order are as follows:

DEFINITIONS

§ 1001.1 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, or any officer or employee of the Department to whom authority has heretofore been delegated, or to whom authority may hereafter be delegated, to act in his stead.

§ 1001.2 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047).

§ 1001.3 Person. "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association or any other business unit.

§ 1001.4 Production area. "Production area" means all of the State of Florida, except the area west of the Suwannee River.

§ 1001.5 Limes. "Limes" means all varieties and clones of acid limes, grown in the production area, classified botanically as Citrus Aurantifolia (Christm.) Swingle, and includes the group known as true limes (also known as Mexican, West Indian, and Key limes and by other synonyms) and the group known as large fruited or Persian limes (including Tahiti, Bearss, and similar varieties).

§ 1001.6 Fiscal year. "Fiscal year" means the twelve-month period ending March 31 of each year.

§ 1001.7 Committee. "Committee" means the Florida Lime Administrative Committee established pursuant to § 1001.20.

§ 1001.8 Grower. "Grower" is synonymous with producer and means any person who produces limes for market and who has a proprietory interest therein.

§ 1001.9 Handler. "Handler" is synonymous with shipper and means any person (except a common or contract carrier transporting limes owned by another person) who handles limes or causes limes to be handled.

§ 1001.10 Handle. "Handle" means to sell, consign, deliver, or transport limes within the production area or between the production area and any point outside thereof: Provided, That such term shall not include: (a) The sale or delivery of limes to a handler, registered as such with the committee in accordance with such rules and regulations as it may prescribe with the approval of the Secretary, who has facilities within the production area for preparing limes for market; (b) the delivery of limes to such a handler solely for the purpose of having such limes prepared for market; or (c) the transportation of limes by a handler, so registered with the committee, from the grove to his packing facilities within the production area for the purpose of having such limes prepared for market. In the event a grower sells his limes to a handler who is not so registered with the committee, such grower shall be the first handler of such limes.

§ 1001.11 District. "District" means the applicable one of the following described subdivisions of the production area, or such other subdivisions as may be prescribed pursuant to § 1001.29 (n):

(a) "District 1" shall include Dade and Monroe counties.

(b) "District 2" shall include all of the production area except Dade and Monroe counties.

ADMINISTRATIVE BODY

§ 1001.20 Establishment and membership. There is hereby established a Florida Lime Administrative Committee consisting of nine members, each of whom shall have an alternate who shall have the same qualifications as the member for whom he is an alternate. Five of the members and their respective alternates shall be growers who shall not be handlers or employees of handlers. Four of the members and their respective alternates shall be handlers or employees of handlers. The five members of the committee who shall be growers and who shall not be handlers, or employees of handlers, are hereinafter referred to as "grower" members of the committee; and the four members who shall be handlers, or employees of handlers, are hereinafter referred to as "handler" members of the committee. Four of the five grower members shall be producers of limes in District 1, and one grower member shall be a producer of limes in District 2. Three of the four handler members shall be handlers, or employees of handlers, of limes in District 1, and one handler member shall be a handler, or an employee of a handler, of limes in District 2.

§ 1001.21 Term of office. The term of office of each member and alternate member of the committee shall begin April 1, and shall terminate March 31 of the following year. Members and alternate members shall serve in such capacities for the portion of the term of office for which they are selected and qualify and until their respective successors are selected and have qualified. The consecutive terms of office of members shall be limited to three terms.

§ 1001.22 Nomination.—(a) Initial members. Nominations for each of the five initial grower members and four initial handler members of the committee, together with nominations for the initial alternate members for each position, may be submitted to the Secretary by individual growers and handlers. Such nominations may be made by means of group meetings of the growers and handlers concerned in each district. Such nominations, if made, shall be filed with the Secretary no later than the effective date hereof. In the event nominations for initial members and alternate members of the committee are not filed pursuant to, and within the time specified in, this section, the Secretary may select such initial members and alternate members without regard to nominations, but selections shall be on the basis of the representation provided for in § 1001.20.

(b) Successor members. (1) The committee shall hold or cause to be held, not later than February 15 of each year, a meeting or meetings of growers and handlers in each district for the purpose of designating nominees for successor members and alternate members of the committee. At each such meeting a chairman and a secretary shall be selected by the growers and handlers eligible to participate therein. The chairman shall announce at the meeting the number of votes cast for each person nominated for member or alternate member and shall submit promptly to the committee a complete report concerning such meeting. The committee shall, in turn, promptly submit a copy of each such report to the Secretary.

(2) Only growers who are present at such nomination meetings, or who reside outside the production area and are represented at such nomination meetings by duly authorized agents, shall participate in the nomination and election of nominees for grower members and their alternates. Each grower shall be entitled to cast only one vote for each nominee to be elected in the district in which he produces limes. No grower shall participate in the election of nominees in more than one district in any one fiscal year.

(3) Only handlers who are present at such nomination meetings, or represented at such meetings by duly authorized agents, shall participate in the nomination and election of nominees for handler members and their alternates. Each handler shall be entitled to cast only one vote for each nominee to be elected in the district in which he handles limes, which vote shall be weighted by the volume of limes shipped by such handler during the then current fiscal year. No handler shall participate in the election of nominees in more than one district in any one fiscal year.

§ 1001.23 Selection. From the nominations made pursuant to § 1001.22, or from other qualified persons, the Secretary shall select the five grower members of the committee, the four handler members of the committee, and an alternate for each such member.

§ 1001.24 Failure to nominate. If nominations are not made within the time and in the manner prescribed in § 1001.22, the Secretary may, without regard to nominations, select the members and alternate members of the committee on the basis of the representation provided for in § 1001.20.

§ 1001.25 Acceptance. Any person selected by the Secretary as a member or as an alternate member of the committee shall qualify by filing a written acceptance with the Secretary within ten days after being notified of such selection.

§ 1001.26 Vacancies. To fill any vacancy occasioned by the failure of any person selected as a member or as an alternate member of the committee to qualify, or in the event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of any member or alternate member of the committee, a successor for the unexpired term of such member or alternate member of the committee shall be nominated and selected in the manner specified in §§ 1001.22 and 1001.23. If the names of nominees to fill any such vacancy are not made available to the Secretary within fifteen days after such vacancy occurs, the Secretary may fill such vacancy without regard to nominations, which selection shall be made on the basis of representation provided for in § 1001.20.

§ 1001.27 Alternate members. An alternate member of the committee, during the absence or at the request of the member for whom he is an alternate, shall act in the place and stead of such member. In the event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of a member, his alternate shall act for him until a successor for such member is selected and has qualified.

§ 1001.28 Powers. The committee shall have the following powers:

(a) To administer the provisions of this part in accordance with its terms;

(b) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations of the provisions of this part;

(c) To make and adopt rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions of this part; and

(d) To recommend to the Secretary amendments to this part.

§ 1001.29 Duties. The committee shall have, among others, the following duties:

(a) To select a chairman and such other officers as may be necessary, and to define the duties of such officers;

(b) To appoint such employees, agents, and representatives as it may deem necessary, and to determine the compensation and to define the duties of each;

(c) To submit to the Secretary as soon as practicable after the beginning of each fiscal year a budget for such fiscal year, including a report in explanation of the items appearing therein and a recommendation as to the rate of assessment for such fiscal year;

(d) To keep minutes, books, and records which will reflect all of the acts and transactions of the committee and which shall be subject to examination by the Secretary;

(e) To prepare periodic statements of the financial operations of the committee and to make copies of each such statement available to growers and handlers for examination at the office of the committee;

(f) To cause its books to be audited by a certified public accountant at least once each fiscal year, and at such other times as the Secretary may request;

(g) To act as intermediary between the Secretary and any grower or handler;

(h) To investigate and assemble data on the growing, handling, and marketing conditions with respect to limes;

(i) To submit to the Secretary such available information as he may request;

(j) To notify, as provided in this part, producers and handlers of all meetings of the committee to consider recommendations for regulation;

(k) To give the Secretary the same notice of meetings of the committee as is given to its members;

(l) To consult with such representatives of growers or groups of growers as may be deemed necessary and to pay the travel expenses incurred by such representatives in attending committee meetings at the request of the committee: Provided, That the committee shall not pay the travel expenses of more than three such representatives in connection with any one meeting of the committee;

(m) To investigate compliance with the provisions of this part; and

(n) With the approval of the Secretary, to redefine the districts into which the production area is divided, and to reapportion the representation of any district on the committee: Provided, That any such changes shall reflect, insofar as practicable, shifts in lime production within the districts and the production area.

§ 1001.30 Procedure. (a) Six members of the committee, or alternates acting for members, shall constitute a quorum and any action of the committee shall require at least five concurring votes: Provided, That at least one handler member shall approve the action.

(b) The committee may vote by telegraph, telephone, or other means of communication, and any votes so cast shall be confirmed promptly in writing: Provided, That if an assembled meeting is held, all votes shall be cast in person.

§ 1001.31 Expenses and compensation. The members of the committee, and their respective alternates when acting as members, shall be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred by them in the performance of their duties under this part and shall also receive compensation, as determined by the committee, which shall not exceed $10.00 per day or portion thereof spent in performing such duties.

§ 1001.32 Annual report. The committee shall, prior to March 31 of each fiscal year, prepare and mail an annual report to the Secretary and to each handler and grower who requests a copy of the report. This annual report shall contain at least: (a) A complete review of the regulatory operations during the fiscal year; (b) an appraisal of the effect of such regulatory operations upon the lime industry; and (c) any recommendations for changes in the program.

EXPENSES AND ASSESSMENTS

§ 1001.40 Expenses. The committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds are reasonable and may be necessary to enable the committee to exercise its powers and perform its duties in accordance with the provisions of this part during each fiscal year. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by the levying of assessments as provided for in § 1001.41.

§ 1001.41 Assessments. (a) Each person who first handles limes shall, with respect to the limes so handled by him, pay to the committee upon demand such person's pro rata share of the expenses which the Secretary finds will be incurred by the committee during each fiscal year. Each such person's share of such expenses shall be equal to the ratio between the total quantity of limes handled by him as the first handler thereof during the applicable fiscal year and the total quantity of limes so handled by all persons during the same fiscal year. The payment of assessments for the maintenance and functioning of the committee may be required under this part throughout the period it is in effect irrespective of whether particular provisions thereof are suspended or become inoperative.

(b) The Secretary shall fix the rate of assessment to be paid by each such person. At any time during or after the fiscal year, the Secretary may increase the rate of assessment in order to secure sufficient funds to cover any finding by the Secretary relative to the expense which may be incurred: Provided, That, in no case, shall the rate of assessment exceed 10 cents per bushel, or equivalent quantity, of limes. Such increase shall be applied to all limes handled during the applicable fiscal year. In order to provide funds for the administration of the provisions of this part, the committee may accept the payment of assessments in advance, and may borrow money in any amount not to exceed 10 percent of the estimated expenses set forth in its budget for the then current fiscal year.

§ 1001.42 Accounting. (a) If, at the end of a fiscal year, the assessments collected are in excess of the expenses incurred, each person entitled to a proportionate refund of the excess assessment shall be credited with such refund against the operations of the following fiscal year. Any handler may demand payment of such a refund, and the refund shall be paid to him: Provided, That any sum paid by a person in excess of his pro rata share of the expenses during any fiscal year may be applied by the committee at the end of such fiscal year to any outstanding obligations due the committee from such person.

(b) All funds received by the committee pursuant to the provisions of this part shall be used solely for the purposes specified in this part, and shall be accounted for in the manner provided in this part. The Secretary may, at any time, require the committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements.

RESEARCH

§ 1001.45 Marketing research and development. The committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may establish or provide for the establishment of marketing research and development projects designed to assist, improve, or promote the marketing, distribution, and consumption of limes. The expense of such projects shall be paid from funds collected pursuant to § 1001.41.

REGULATIONS

§ 1001.50 Marketing policy. Each season prior to making any recommendations pursuant to § 1001.51, the committee shall submit to the Secretary a report setting forth its marketing policy for the ensuing season. Such marketing policy report shall contain information relative to (a) the estimated total production of limes within the production area; (b) the expected general quality and size of limes in the production area and in other areas, including foreign competing areas; (c) the expected demand conditions for limes in different market outlets; (d) the expected shipments of limes produced in the production area and in other areas, including foreign competing areas; (e) supplies of competing commodities; (f) trend and level of consumer income; (g) other factors having a bearing on the marketing of limes; and (h) the type of regulations expected to be recommended during the season. In the event it becomes advisable, because of changes in the supply and demand situation for limes, to modify substantially such marketing policy, the committee shall submit to the Secretary a revised marketing policy report setting forth the information prescribed in this section. The committee shall publicly announce the contents of each marketing policy report and copies thereof shall be maintained in the offices of the committee where they shall be available for examination by growers and handlers.

§ 1001.51 Recommendations for regulation. (a) Whenever the committee deems it advisable to regulate the handling of any variety or varieties of limes in the manner provided in § 1001.52, it shall so recommend to the Secretary.

(b) In arriving at its recommendations for regulation pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the committee shall give consideration to current information with respect to the factors affecting the supply and demand for limes during the period or periods when it is proposed that such regulation should be made effective. With each such recommendation for regulation, the committee shall submit to the Secretary the data and information on which such recommendation is predicated, and such other available information as the Secretary may request.

(c) All meetings of the committee held for the purpose of formulating recommendations for regulations shall be open to growers and handlers. The committee shall give notice of such meetings to growers and handlers by mailing such notice to each grower and handler who has filed his address with the committee and requested such notice.

§ 1001.52 Issuance of regulations. (a) The Secretary shall regulate, in the manner specified in this section, the handling of limes whenever he finds, from the recommendations and information submitted by the committee or from other available information, that such regulations will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. Such regulations may:

(1) Prohibit, during any specified period or periods, the handling of any variety or varieties of limes which do not meet such grade, size, and quality (including internal quality and juice content) standards as shall be prescribed;

(2) Prescribe minimum standards of quality for any variety or varieties of limes and limit the handling thereof to those meeting such minimum standards; and

(3) Fix the size, capacity, weight, dimensions, or pack of the container or containers which may be used in the packaging, and the transportation, sale, shipment, or other handling of limes.

(b) The committee shall be informed immediately of any such regulations issued by the Secretary and the committee shall promptly give notice thereof to growers and handlers.

§ 1001.53 Modification, suspension, or termination of regulations. (a) In the event the committee at any time finds that, by reason of changed conditions, any regulations issued pursuant to § 1001.52 should be modified, suspended, or terminated, it shall so recommend to the Secretary.

(b) Whenever the Secretary finds, from the recommendations and information submitted by the committee or from other available information, that a regulation should be modified, suspended, or terminated with respect to any or all shipments of limes in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall modify, suspend, or terminate such regulation. If the Secretary finds that a regulation obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall suspend or terminate such regulation. On the same basis and in like manner the Secretary may terminate any such modification or suspension.

§ 1001.54 Exemption certificate. In the event the handling of limes is regulated pursuant to § 1001.52, the committee shall issue one or more exemption certificates to any person who furnishes evidence satisfactory to the committee that, by reason of conditions beyond his control, he will be prevented, because of such regulation, from having as large a proportion of a particular variety of his limes handled as the average proportion of all such limes which may be handled. Such exemption certificates shall authorize the person to whom the certificates are issued to handle, or have handled, a percentage of his crop of the particular variety of limes equal to the percentage determined as aforesaid. The committee shall adopt, with the approval of the Secretary, procedural rules by which such exemption certificates will be issued and the limes covered thereunder may be handled. Exemption certificates shall be transferred to the handler of the limes covered by such certificates at the time the limes are delivered to such handler.

§ 1001.55 Inspection and certification. Whenever the handling of any variety of limes is regulated pursuant to § 1001.52, each handler who handles limes shall, prior thereto, cause each lot of limes handled to be inspected by the Federal-State Inspection Service and certified by it as meeting the applicable requirements of such regulation: Provided, That such inspection and certification shall be required when the limes previously have been so inspected and certified only if such limes have been regraded, resorted, or repackaged after the prior inspection and certification. Promptly thereafter, each such handler shall submit, or cause to be submitted, to the committee a copy of the certificate of inspection with respect to such handling.

§ 1001.56 Limes not subject to regulations. Except as otherwise provided in this section, any person may, without regard to the provisions of §§ 1001.41, 1001.52, and 1001.55, and the regulations issued thereunder, handle limes (a) for consumption by charitable institutions; (b) for distribution by relief agencies; (c) for commercial processing into products; or (d) in such minimum quantities or types of shipments, or for such specified purposes as the committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe. The committee shall, with the approval of the Secretary, prescribe such rules, regulations, and safeguards as it may deem necessary to prevent limes handled under the provisions of this section from entering channels of trade for other than the specific purposes authorized by this section. Such rules, regulations, and safeguards may include the requirements that handlers shall file applications with the committee for authorization to handle limes pursuant to this section, and that such applications be accompanied by a certification by the intended purchaser or receiver that the limes will not be used for any purpose not authorized by this section.

REPORTS

§ 1001.60 Reports. (a) Each handler shall furnish to the committee, at such times and for such periods as the committee may designate, certified reports covering, to the extent necessary for the committee to perform its functions, the following: (1) The quantities of each variety of limes he received; (2) a complete record of the quantities disposed of by him, segregated as to varieties and as to the respective quantities subject to regulation and not subject to regulation; (3) the date of each such disposition and the identification of the carrier transporting such fruit; (4) identification of the inspection certificates and the exemption certificates, if any, pursuant to which the fruit was handled, together with the destination of each such exempted disposition, and of all fruit handled pursuant to § 1001.56; and (5) the quantity of each variety held by him at the end of the period.

(b) Upon request of the committee, made with the approval of the Secretary, each handler shall furnish to the committee, in such manner and at such times as it may prescribe, such other information as may be necessary to enable the committee to perform its duties under this part.

(c) Each handler shall maintain for at least two succeeding fiscal years, such records of the limes received and disposed of by him as may be necessary to verify the reports he submits to the committee pursuant to this section.

(d) All reports and records submitted by handlers pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be received by, and at all times be in custody of, one or more designated employees of the committee. No such employee shall disclose to any person, other than the Secretary upon request therefor, data or information obtained or extracted from such reports and records which might affect the trade position, financial condition, or business operation of the particular handler from whom received: Provided, That such data and information may be combined, and made available to any person, in the form of general reports in which the identities of the individual handler furnishing the information is not disclosed and may be revealed to any extent necessary to effect compliance with the provisions of this part and the regulations issued thereunder.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 1001.61 Compliance. Except as provided in this part, no person shall handle limes, the shipment of which has been prohibited by the Secretary in accordance with the provisions of this part; and no person shall handle limes except in conformity with the provisions of this part and the regulations issued under this part.

§ 1001.62 Right of the Secretary. The members of the committee (including successors and alternates), and any agents, employees, or representatives thereof, shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time. Each and every regulation, decision, determination, or other act of the committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time. Upon such disapproval, the disapproved action of the committee shall be deemed null and void, except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in accordance therewith prior to such disapproval by the Secretary.

§ 1001.63 Effective time. The provisions of this part, and of any amendment thereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare above his signature to this part, and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways specified in § 1001.64.

§ 1001.64 Termination. (a) The Secretary may at any time terminate the provisions of this part by giving at least one day's notice by means of a press release or in any other manner in which he may determine.

(b) The Secretary shall terminate or suspend the operation of any and all of the provisions of this part whenever he finds that such provisions do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(c) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions of this part at the end of any fiscal year whenever he finds that continuance is not favored by the majority of producers who, during a representative period determined by the Secretary, were engaged in the production of limes for market: Provided, That such termination is announced on or before March 15 of the then current fiscal year. The Secretary shall, as soon as practicable after the close of the fiscal year ending March 31, 1957, conduct a referendum of producers and a poll of handlers to determine whether the continuation of this part is favored by them. Producers entitled to vote in such referendum shall be those who, during the fiscal year ending March 31, 1957, were engaged in producing limes for market and the poll shall be confined to handlers who handled limes in that same fiscal year. If it develops from said referendum and poll that (1) less than two-thirds of the producers, by number or volume of production represented in said referendum, favor the continuance of this part, or (2) handlers representing more than one-half the volume of limes handled favor termination of this part, the Secretary shall thereupon terminate this part.

(d) The provisions of this part shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing them cease to be in effect.

§ 1001.65 Proceedings after termination. (a) Upon the termination of the provisions of this part, the committee shall, for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of the committee, continue as trustees of all the funds and property then in its possession, or under its control, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination.

(b) The said trustees shall (1) continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; (2) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the committee and of the trustees, to such persons as the Secretary may direct; and (3) upon the request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person, full title and right to all of the funds, property, and claims vested in the committee or the trustees pursuant thereto.

(c) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been transferred or delivered, pursuant to this section, shall be subject to the same obligation imposed upon the committee and upon the trustees.

§ 1001.66 Effect of termination or amendment. Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Secretary, the termination of this part or of any regulation issued pursuant to this part, or the issuance of any amendment to either thereof, shall not (a) affect or waive any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen or which may thereafter arise in connection with any provision of this part or any regulation issued under this part, or (b) release or extinguish any violation of this part or of any regulation issued under this part, or (c) affect or impair any rights or remedies of the Secretary or of any other person with respect to any such violation.

§ 1001.67 Duration of immunities. The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred upon any person by virtue of this part shall cease upon its termination, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this part.

§ 1001.68 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States, or name any agency or division in the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

§ 1001.69 Derogation. Nothing contained in this part is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States (a) to exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise, or (b) in accordance with such powers, to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

§ 1001.70 Personal liability. No member or alternate member of the committee and no employee or agent of the committee shall be held personally responsible, either individually or jointly with others, in any way whatsoever, to any person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate, employee, or agent, except for acts of dishonesty, willful misconduct, or gross negligence.

§ 1001.71 Separability. If any provision of this part is declared invalid or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstance, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this part or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing shall not be affected thereby.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of June 1955, to become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[SEAL] TRUE D. MORSE,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Supp. 5]

PART 1—CERTIFICATION, IDENTIFICATION, AND MARKETING OF AIRCRAFT AND RELATED PRODUCTS

QUALITY CONTROL

The purpose of this revision is to liberalize the CAA policy relative to the weighing of aircraft for the purpose of finding the average empty weight and c. g. § 1.34–1 (h) (2) (i) and (ii), published in 19 F. R. 7078, on October 30, 1954, provided that all aircraft have identical equipment installed when weighed. The following revision to § 1.34–1 (h) (2) (i) and (ii) allows the manufacturer to have nonidentical equipment installed in the aircraft when weighed, provided appropriate adjustments are made to conform to the "standard equipment" configuration.

Section 1.34–1 (h) (2) (i) and (ii) is amended as follows:

§ 1.34–1 Quality control (CAA policies which apply to § 1.34). • • •

(h) Standard empty weight and c. g. for production aircraft. • • •

(i) Actually weigh and determine the empty c. g. of ten aircraft of a particular model as a means of establishing an average empty weight and empty c. g. Each aircraft of the model need not have identical equipment installed at time of weighing, provided the manufacturer selects a "standard" equipment configuration, and the weight and arm of the nonstandard equipment items are determined. In order to compute the correct average weight and c. g. for such a model, appropriate corrections to the weight and balance data for individual aircraft should be made, where necessary, to make such data correspond to the "standard" equipment configuration.

(ii) Subsequently, with respect to production aircraft, at least each tenth aircraft should actually be weighed for the purpose of determining that the initially established empty weight and empty c. g. are being maintained. If this weighing indicates a variation in empty weight which is in excess of 1 percent of the initially established weight, or a variation in the empty c. g. which exceeds one-half of 1 percent of the MAC, a new average weight should be established in accordance with procedures followed in establishing the initial average empty weight and c. g. conditions.

This supplement shall become effective July 15, 1955.

Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

PART 42—IRREGULAR AIR CARRIER AND OFF-ROUTE RULES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The following miscellaneous amendments are made to Part 42:

(1) Section 42.32–1 is changed from an interpretation to a policy and revised to provide irregular air carriers and commercial operators with more flexibility and wider option in meeting the airframe housing requirements of § 42.32 (a) when performing their own maintenance functions. This section formerly authorized work docks to be used where climatic conditions permitted; the section now authorizes the use of work docks appropriate to the climatic conditions which prevail at a particular maintenance base.

(2) Section 42.55–1 is not applicable since the amendments to § 42.55 (b) on December 10, 1954, and is therefore deleted.

(3) A new § 42.55–3 is added, which establishes the policy under which the Administrator will authorize irregular air carriers and commercial operators weather minimums down to the lowest minimums prescribed in Part 609 for IFR takeoffs and landings at regularly used airports, such as a main operations base.

(4) The speeds to which the Convair Model 28–5ACF and PBY–5A are accelerated, listed in the Takeoff Limitations Table of § 42.80–4, are corrected to coincide with the speeds indicated in figure 1 of this section. Since this change is minor in nature and imposes no additional burden on any person, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary.

The following amendments are hereby adopted.

1. Section 42.32–1 is revised to read as follows:

§ 42.32–1 Facilities for the proper inspection, maintenance, overhaul, and repair (CAA policies which apply to § 42.32). (a) The facilities required in § 42.32 (a) of this subchapter include housing, work space, equipment, supplies, materials, tools, parts, and aircraft components in sufficient quantity and quality to assure that the needed inspection, maintenance, overhaul, and repair of the air carrier's or commercial operator's aircraft (including airframes, powerplants, propellers, and appliances) can be satisfactorily performed at all times by either the air carrier, or commercial operator, or persons with whom arrangements have been made for the performance of such functions.

(b) Sections 52.21–1 through 52.21–3 and §§ 52.30–1 through 52.36–1 of this subchapter, outline housing, facilities, equipment and materials which constitute criteria that may be used to determine the minimum facilities required by § 42.32 (a) insofar as applicable and appropriate to the air carrier's aircraft and maintenance system: Provided, That a work dock may be used for the performance of airframe maintenance in lieu of a permanent hangar, if such work dock is appropriate for the proper performance of such maintenance under the climatic conditions which prevail at the particular maintenance location. When necessary, the entire airframe or portion thereof on which work is being performed should be enclosed so as to exclude rain, snow, dust, and provide reasonable protection to workers from the extremes of temperature which might impair the work being performed.

(c) When an air carrier contracts to perform inspection, maintenance, overhaul and repair on aircraft of other air carriers, the minimum facilities required by § 42.32 (a) are considered to be the same as required for a certificated repair station performing identical functions.

2. Section 42.55–1 is hereby deleted.

3. Section 42.55–3 is adopted to read as follows:

§ 42.55–3 IFR takeoff and landing minimums (CAA policies which apply to § 42.55 (b)). (a) The basic IFR takeoff minimums and landing minimums for each type of instrument approach procedure are prescribed in the operations specifications issued to an air carrier or commercial operator under the authority of this part. Frequently, these minimums are higher than those published in Part 609 of this title. However, by application to the local CAA Aviation Safety Agent having certificate responsibility, minimums down to the lowest minimums prescribed in Part 609 of this title for a particular airport may be authorized if such airport is regularly used by an air carrier or commercial operator (e. g., main operations base). To obtain such authorization, the air carrier or commercial operator will be required to demonstrate that its pilot training program and overall operating proficiency is adequate for the use of lower minimums. Such lower minimums, when approved, will be applicable only to those pilots-in-command who (1) have served as a pilot or as an observer member of the crew on the flight deck during operations conducted into the particular airport within the previous twelve months, (2) have been checked in accordance with § 42.44–2 of this subchapter on the type of facility for which the lower minimums are authorized, and (3) have been so certificated by a company check pilot as being qualified to operate at the lower minimums.

4. Section 42.80–4, table 1, the parenthetical portions of paragraphs (a) and (b) is corrected to read, "(Distance to accelerate to 95 miles per hour TIAS (28–5ACF), 91 miles per hour TIAS (PBY–5A), and stop, with zero wind and zero gradient.)"

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply secs. 601, 604, 605, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended, 1010, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551, 554, 555)

This supplement shall become effective June 30, 1955.

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF CIVIL AIRWAYS

ALTERATION

The civil airway alteration appearing hereinafter has been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Panel, and is adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety. Compliance with the notice procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to public interest and therefore is not required.

Part 600 is amended as follows:

1. Section 600.645 is amended to read:

§ 600.645 Blue civil airway No. 45 (Greenfield, Mass., to Newport, Vt.). From the intersection of the north course of the Westfield, Mass., radio range and the southwest course of the Concord, N. H., radio range via the Keene, N. H., nondirectional radio beacon to the Lebanon, N. H., nondirectional radio beacon. From the Montpelier, Vt., radio range station via the intersection of the northeast course of the Montpelier, Vt., radio range and a line bearing 180° True from the Newport, Vt., nondirectional radio beacon to the Newport, Vt., nondirectional radio beacon excluding the portion which lies outside of the continental limits of the United States.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interprets or applies sec. 302, 52 Stat. 985, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 452)

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e. s. t., June 15, 1955.

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, AND REPORTING POINTS

ALTERATIONS

The control area and reporting point alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Panel, and are adopted to become effective when indicated in order to promote safety. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to public interest and therefore is not required.

Part 601 is amended as follows:

1. Section 601.645 is amended to read:

§ 601.645 Blue civil airway No. 45 control areas (Greenfield, Mass., to Newport, Vt.). All of Blue civil airway No. 45.

2. Section 601.1046 Control area extension (Montpelier, Vt.) is revoked.

3. Section 601.4645 is amended to read:

§ 601.4645 Blue civil airway No. 45 (Greenfield, Mass., to Newport, Vt.). No reporting point designation.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interprets or applies sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1107, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551)

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e. s. t., June 15, 1955.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter V—Department of the Army

Subchapter C—Military Education

PART 542—SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Sections 542.2, 542.3 and 542.5 (a) are revised to read as follows:

§ 542.2 Educational institutions. (a) The schools and colleges referred to in the act of Congress cited in § 542.1 include those educational institutions, public or private, having not less than 100 physically fit male students above the age of 14 years and which do not maintain units of ROTC. Each school within a multiple school unit must meet this enrollment requirement in order to be eligible to participate in this program.

(b) In order to avail themselves of the privileges prescribed by the regulations of this part the institutions concerned must agree to the following:

(1) To provide the course of military instructions prescribed or approved by the Department of the Army.

(2) That any student who enters upon the prescribed course of military training will be required to continue the training for the remainder of that academic year, as a prerequisite for graduation or promotion from that year's course, unless excused therefrom by the head of the institution, upon the recommendation of the professor of military science and tactics.

(3) To allot and require an average of not less than 3 hours a week per school year to the prescribed course of military training.

§ 542.3 Application. (a) When an educational institution which is not receiving Government assistance under the provisions of the act of Congress cited in § 542.1, desires to receive such assistance, the authorities of the institution will submit an application in substantially the following form to the army commander:

(Place) ----------

(Date) ----------

Subject: Military Training Under Section 55c, National Defense Act, as amended.

To: Commanding General, ---------- Army.

1. The ----------, of (Governing body)

(Name of institution)

located at ----------, desires to participate in the military training program authorized under section 55c, National Defense Act, as amended.

2. Number of physically fit male students above the age of 14 years enrolled at the institution: ----------.

3. Military training (will) (will not) be required of all eligible students.

4. Number of such students who will participate in the prescribed military training: ----------.

5. The authorities of the institution agree to allot and require an average of not less than 3 hours a week per school year to the course of military training prescribed by the Secretary of the Army.

6. They further agree that when any student enters upon such course of military training it shall, as regards such student, be a prerequisite for graduation or promotion for that academic year unless such student is excused from this training by the head of the institution, upon recommendation of the professor of military science and tactics.

7. The authorities of the institution agree to provide an instructor who is qualified to teach the course of military training prescribed by the Secretary of the Army, and who is acceptable to the Department of the Army. It is understood that if credit for the 55c training toward completion of the senior division ROTC is desired, the professor of military science and tactics must be a retired or Reserve Officer of the Army not on active duty.

8. The authorities of the institution will provide suitable storage facilities for all Government property issued to the institution and will take such measures as are necessary to properly care for the same; they will cause to be executed, on a blank form to be furnished by the army commander, a bond in the value of the Government property (plus 15 percent) to be issued, for the care and safekeeping thereof and for its return when required.

Signature ----------
(Head of institution)

(b) Upon receipt of the application, the army commander will have inspection of the institution accomplished to determine whether the requirements for the establishment of a 55c unit are fulfilled. The application, together with report of such inspection, and comments and recommendations of the army commander regarding approval or disapproval of application, will be submitted to The Adjutant General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C., ATTN: AGPB–O. Upon approval of the application by the Department of the Army, requisitions for appropriate equipment will be made by the institution on DA Form 445 (Requisition), and will be forwarded to the army commander for approval. After the value of the property to be issued to the institution has been determined, a bond in the sum of not less than 15 percent in excess of the value of all Government property to be issued will be furnished by the institution to the army commander. Upon receipt of the bond, the army commander will forward the requisitions to appropriate distribution depots for supply action. All expenses incident to the supply units established under the provisions of the regulations of this part will be borne from ROTC funds allocated to the heads of technical services, and army commanders when appropriate.

§ 542.5 Personnel—(a) Instructors. The institution will provide instructors to conduct the military training program. The professor of military science and tactics must be a retired or Reserve officer of the Army not on active duty, if credit toward completion of the senior division ROTC is desired. The name and qualifications of the individual selected for professor of military science and tactics, with detailed history of military experience will be submitted through the army commander to The Adjutant General, Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C., ATTN: AGPB–O, for approval, after the establishment of a unit has been authorized. Training as provided by the regulations of this part will not be conducted until assignment of the professor of military science and tactics has been approved.

AUTHORITY: §§ 804.301 to 804.304 issued under R. S. 161, sec. 202, 61 Stat. 500, as amended; 5 U. S. C. 22, 171a.

DERIVATION: AFR 11–23, June 3, 1955.

§ 804.301 Purpose. Sections 804.301 to 804.304 announce the Air Force policy governing admission of labor union representatives to Air Force installations.

§ 804.302 Policy. (a) Air Force policy is to cooperate with authorized labor union representatives by granting them admission to Air Force installations when they are engaged in legitimate union business.

(b) The admission of labor union representatives to Air Force installations will be governed by the following:

(1) Where union agents desire to enter an installation to conduct union business during working hours, the base commander may authorize such visits: Provided, That the entry of the agents does not violate applicable safety and security regulations and, that their entry, presence, or activities will not interfere with base operations or the progress of work.

(2) Where construction on Air Force installations is administered by a construction agent of the Air Force, such as the Corps of Engineers, United States Army, commanders should notify the construction agent of the proposed visit and the purpose thereof. They should also determine whether the proposed visit will interfere with the work progress.

§ 804.303 Procedures on admission to unclassified areas. Permission to enter an Air Force installation may be granted by the commander to labor union representatives to:

(a) Discuss with the commander those policy matters which relate to employees who are engaged in work on the installation and who are members of the union represented by the visitor.

(b) Visit contractors, contractor representatives, or union stewards to discuss and review conditions of employment, grievances, and related matters within the terms of the collective bargaining agreements involving employees.

(c) Visit individual employees of contractors, provided that discussion and review of matters within the collective bargaining process cannot otherwise be accomplished.

§ 804.304 Limitations. (a) Approval of visits to labor representatives should include the limitations and restrictions applicable to visitors. In addition, notification should specify that permission to visit an Air Force activity does not include the right to hold meetings, collect dues, make speeches, or distribute inciting or provocative material.

(b) Organizing activities carried on during work hours are considered to be disruptive; therefore, visits will not be authorized for this purpose.

(c) Nothing contained in these sections should be interpreted as requiring that permanent passes be issued to labor representatives to conduct union business.

(d) The provisions of Part 805 of this chapter govern admission to classified areas.

[SEAL] E. E. TORO,
Colonel, U. S. Air Force,
Air Adjutant General.

TITLE 36—PARKS, FORESTS, AND MEMORIALS

Chapter I—National Park Service, Department of the Interior

PART 20—SPECIAL REGULATIONS

EVERGLADES NATIONAL PARK; LESSEE UNDER A MINING LEASE

Section 20.45 Everglades National Park, is amended by adding a new paragraph (l), reading as follows:

(l) Lessee under a mining lease. A lessee under a mining lease which was granted by the State of Florida prior to the enactment of the act of October 10, 1949 (63 Stat. 733), and which is still in force, being an operator having the right to prospect or explore for, develop, produce, or remove oil, gas, or other minerals, shall comply with the regulations contained in paragraph (j) (4), (5), and (6) of this section.

(Sec. 3, 39 Stat. 535, as amended; 16 U. S. C. 3)

Issued this 16th day of May 1955.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 987]

HANDLING OF MILK IN CENTRAL MISSISSIPPI MARKETING AREA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND PROPOSED ORDER AMENDING ORDER

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was conducted at Jackson, Mississippi, on May 9, 1955, pursuant to notice thereof issued May 3, 1955 (20 F. R. 3028).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, the Deputy Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, on May 23, 1955, filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision and opportunity to file written exceptions thereto was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 26, 1955.

The material issues, findings and conclusions, and general findings of the recommended decision (20 F. R. 3686; Doc. 55–4281) are hereby approved and adopted by this decision as if set forth in full herein.

Ruling on exceptions. Within the period reserved for the filing of exceptions by interested parties, no exceptions to the recommended decision were received.

Determination of representative period. The month of April 1955, is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of an order amending the order regulating the handling of milk in the Central Mississippi marketing area in the manner set forth in the attached amending order is approved or favored by producers who during such period were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area specified in such order.

Marketing agreement and order. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled respectively, "Marketing Agreement Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Central Mississippi Marketing Area", and "Order Amending the Order Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Central Mississippi Marketing Area", which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions. These documents shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

It is hereby ordered, That this decision, except the attached marketing agreement be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the attached order which will be published with this decision.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of June 1955.

[SEAL] TRUE D. MORSE,
Acting Secretary.

Order[1] Amending the Order Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Central Mississippi Marketing Area

§ 987.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act") (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900) a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Central Mississippi marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act:

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which hearings have been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Central Mississippi marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order as hereby amended, and the aforesaid order is hereby amended as follows:

1. Amend § 987.8 to read as follows:

§ 987.8 Supply plant. "Supply plant" means (a) any plant other than a distributing plant from which Grade A milk, skim milk or cream is shipped during the month to a distributing plant in any of the months of January through July, or (b) any plant other than a distributing plant from which not less than 50 percent of the Grade A milk received from dairy farmers during the month is shipped in such month as milk, skim milk or cream to distributing plants during the months of August through December.

2. Add the following as § 987.31–(c):

(c) Each handler who receives producer milk for which payment is to be made to a cooperative association pursuant to § 987.90 (e) shall report to such cooperative association with respect to each such producer as follows:

(1) On or before the 20th day of each month the total pounds of milk received during the first 15 days of the month,

(2) On or before the 10th day after the end of each month:

(i) The daily and total pounds of milk received during the month with separate totals for base and excess milk for the months of March through July, and the average butterfat test thereof; and

(ii) The amount or rate and nature of any deductions.

3. Delete § 987.44 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) As follows if transferred in the form of products designated as Class I milk in § 987.41 (a) (1) to the fluid milk plant of another handler, except a producer-handler, unless utilization as Class II milk is claimed by both handlers in their reports submitted for the month to the market administrator pursuant to § 987.30, subject in any event to the conditions set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph:

(1) As Class I milk, if transferred from a distributing plant to a fluid milk plant or from a supply plant to a supply plant;

(2) Pro rata to the amounts of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, remaining in each class in the plant(s) of the transferee handler after subtraction pursuant to § 987.46 (a) (4) and the corresponding step of (b) of any skim milk or butterfat classified pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, if transferred from a supply plant to a distributing plant;

(3) (i) In no event shall the skim milk or butterfat assigned to Class II milk exceed the amount thereof remaining in Class II milk in the plant(s) of the transferee handlers after subtraction of other source milk pursuant to § 987.46 and any additional amounts of such skim milk or butterfat shall be classified as Class I milk; and

(ii) If either or both handlers have other source milk during the month, the skim milk or butterfat so transferred shall be classified at both plants so as to allocate the greatest possible Class I milk utilization to producer milk of both handlers.

4. Add the following as § 987.90 (e):

(e) In lieu of payments pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section each handler shall make payment to a cooperative association which has filed a written request for such payment with such handler and with respect to producers for whose milk the market administrator determines that such cooperative association is authorized to collect payment, as follows:

(1) On or before the 26th day of each month, an amount equal to not less than the Class II price for the preceding month multiplied by the hundredweight of milk received during the first 15 days of the month from such producers, and

(2) On or before the 13th day after the end of each month an amount equal to not less than the applicable uniform price(s) pursuant to §§ 987.71 and 987.72, multiplied by the hundredweight of milk received from such producers to which each such price is applicable, subject to the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 987.91 and the location differential computed pursuant to § 987.92, less payment made such cooperative association pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and proper deductions authorized in writing by such producers or such cooperative associations.

5. Add the following as § 987.90 (f):

(f) On or before the 13th day after the end of the month each handler shall pay to each cooperative association which is also a handler for milk received from it not less than the value of such milk as classified pursuant to § 987.44 (a) at the applicable respective class

[1] This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

prices, including charges and differentials prescribed by the order.

Order of the Secretary Directing That a Referendum Be Conducted Among the Producers Supplying Milk to the Central Mississippi Marketing Area; Determination of a Representative Period; and Designation of an Agent To Conduct Such Referendum

Pursuant to section 8c (19) of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 608c (19)), it is hereby directed that a referendum be conducted among the producers (as defined in the order regulating the handling of milk in the Central Mississippi marketing area), who, during the month of April 1955, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area specified in the aforesaid order to determine whether such producers favor the issuance of an order amending the order, which is filed simultaneously herewith.

The month of April 1955 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the conduct of such referendum.

E. Hickman Greene is hereby designated agent of the Secretary to conduct such referendum in accordance with the procedure for conducting of referenda to determine producer approval of milk marketing orders as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 10, 1950 (15 F. R. 5177), such referendum to be completed on or before the 12th day from the date this referendum order is issued.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of June 1955.

CIGAR-FILLER TOBACCO, AND CIGAR-FILLER AND BINDER TOBACCO

NOTICE OF FORMULATION OF REGULATIONS RELATING TO ESTABLISHMENT OF FARM ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS AND NORMAL YIELDS FOR 1956-57 MARKETING YEAR

Pursuant to the authority contained in the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1301, 1312, 1313), the Secretary of Agriculture is preparing to formulate regulations governing the establishment of farm acreage allotments and normal yields for the 1956 crop of (a) cigar-filler (type 41) tobacco and (b) cigar-filler and binder (types 42-44, 51-55, inclusive) tobacco. The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, includes types 42-44 and 51-55 in the definition of cigar-filler and cigar-binder tobacco, and only type 41 in the definition of cigar-filler tobacco.

Cigar-filler and binder (types 42-44, 51-55, inclusive) tobacco growers favored marketing quotas for the 1954-55, 1955-56, and 1956-57 marketing years (18 F. R. 8474). The applicability of the regulations to be issued for cigar-filler (type 41) tobacco will be contingent upon the proclamation of a national marketing quota for such kind of tobacco for the 1956-57 marketing year pursuant to section 312 of the act (7 U. S. C. 1312), and upon approval of quotas by growers voting in a referendum.

It is contemplated that the respective regulations for these two kinds of tobacco will be substantially the same as those issued with respect to the 1955 crops (19 F. R. 3543 and 19 F. R. 3547), except as stated below.

1. The 1956 base acreage of cigar-filler and binder (types 42-44, 51-55) tobacco for a farm will be the 1955 allotment given a weight of four and the 1955 harvested acreage a weight of one: Provided, That (a) for this purpose the 1955 harvested acreage shall be considered to be the smaller of the 1955 harvested acreage or the 1955 allotment and (b) if the 1955 harvested acreage is as much as 80 percent of the 1955 allotment, the 1955 allotment shall be the 1956 base acreage for the farm. If tobacco was harvested in any of the years 1951-55 on a farm for which no 1955 tobacco acreage allotment was determined, the 1956 base acreage for the farm will be determined by the community and county committees without any consideration of the acreage of tobacco harvested in 1955, on the basis of land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco; crop rotation practices; and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco, but such 1956 base acreage shall not exceed 25 percent of the allotments for similar old farms.

2. The 1956 base acreage for cigar-filler (type 41) tobacco will be the largest of (1) the average acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in the five years 1951-55 except that if such five-year average is in excess of the three-year 1953-55 average, it shall be reduced to the larger of such three-year average or 50 percent of the five-year average; (2) 80 percent of the average acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in the past three years 1953-55; or (3) 45 percent of the acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in 1955: Provided, That (1) the acreage of tobacco harvested on a farm in 1955 shall be considered to be the smaller of the 1955 farm tobacco acreage allotment determined for the farm or the acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in 1955, or (2) if tobacco was harvested in 1955 for the first time since 1950 on a farm for which no 1955 allotment was determined, the 1956 base acreage will be determined by the community and county committees without any consideration of the acreage of tobacco harvested in 1955, on the basis of land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco; crop rotation practices; and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco, but such 1956 base acreage shall not exceed 25 percent of the allotments for similar old farms.

3. The provision whereby farm base acreages can be increased or decreased by community and county committees would be changed to provide that the total of the base acreages after such increases and decreases have been made shall not exceed the total before such increases and decreases have been made. The 1955-56 regulations permitted such total, after the increases and decreases, to be two percent higher than before such increases and decreases.

4. 1956 farm acreage allotments would be determined in acres and hundredths of an acre. The rule of fractions would be to round upward fractions of more than five-thousandths and round downward fractions of five-thousandths or less (i. e., 0.0050 would be 0.00 and 0.0051 would be 0.01).

5. A provision would be included pursuant to Public Law 21, 84th Congress, that the farm operator or his representative shall file a report with the county committee or its representative on Form CSS-578, Report of 1955 Acreage, showing all fields of cigar-filler and binder (types 42-44, 51-55) tobacco on the farm in 1955; and if any producer on the farm files, or aids or acquiesces in the filing of, any false report with respect to the acreage of tobacco grown on the farm in 1955, the acreage allotment for the farm shall be reduced, except that if each producer establishes to the satisfaction of the county and State committees that the filing, or aiding or acquiescing in the filing of, the false report was unintentional on his part and that he could not reasonably have been expected to know that the report was false, reduction will not be required if the report is corrected and payment of all additional penalty is made.

6. In keeping with item 5, a definition of the term "producer" would be added to mean a person who, as owner, landlord, tenant, share-cropper, or laborer is entitled to share in the tobacco available for marketing from the farm or in the proceeds thereof.

7. The yield per acre data for determining farm normal yields for cigar-filler (type 41) tobacco would be the yields obtained on the farm during such of the years 1946-54 for which data are available, and for cigar-filler and binder (types 42-44, 51-55) tobacco would be the yields obtained on the farm during the years 1950-54.

8. The acreage for adjusting old farm tobacco acreage allotments would be limited to (a) two percent (or, if recommended by the ASC State Committee and approved by the Administrator, Commodity Stabilization Service, four percent) of the total acreage allotted to all farms in the State for the 1955-56 marketing year in the case of cigar-filler and binder (types 42-44, 51-55) tobacco, and (b) two percent of the 1956 State acreage allotment in the case of cigar-filler (type 41) tobacco. These percentages are the same as for 1955.

9. The farm operator would be required to live on and obtain 50 percent or more of his livelihood from the farm covered by the application for a new farm tobacco acreage allotment.

10. The proviso in paragraph (a) of §§ 723.683 and 723.623 would be changed to provide a maximum acreage allotment for a new farm of 25 percent instead of 75 percent of the allotments for old farms that are similar to the new farm.

11. A provision would be included to provide that a new farm allotment shall not be approved for any farm which was part of another farm during the past five years for which an old farm allotment was established. Also, a new farm allotment shall not be determined for a farm not operated by the owner thereof.

12. The acreage available for allotments to farms on which tobacco will be grown in 1956 for the first time since 1950 would be limited to one percent of the 1956 national marketing quota.

13. The proviso in paragraph (a) of §§ 723.681 and 723.621 dealing with the division of farms would be changed to read as follows: "Provided, That with the recommendation of the county committee and approval of the State committee and with the written agreement of all interested persons, the tobacco acreage allotment (preliminary allotment in case of cigar-filler, type 41, tobacco) determined for a tract under the provisions of this paragraph may be increased or decreased by not more than the larger of one-hundredth acre or 10 percent of the 1956 allotment (preliminary allotment in case of cigar-filler type 41 tobacco) determined for the entire farm with corresponding increases or decreases made in the allotment (preliminary allotment in case of cigar-filler type 41 tobacco) apportioned to the other tract or tracts."

Prior to the final adoption and issuance of the regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, and recommendations pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Director, Tobacco Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. All submissions must be postmarked not later than 10 days from the date this notice is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER in order to be considered.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 9th day of June 1955.

[7 CFR Part 727]

MARYLAND TOBACCO

NOTICE OF FORMULATION OF REGULATIONS RELATING TO ESTABLISHMENT OF FARM ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS AND NORMAL YIELDS FOR 1956-57 MARKETING YEAR

Pursuant to the authority contained in the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1301, 1312, 1313), the Secretary of Agriculture is preparing to formulate regulations governing the establishment of farm acreage allotments and normal yields for the 1956 crop of Maryland (type 32) tobacco.

Subsection (a) of section 312 of the act (7 U. S. C. 1312) requires the Secretary to proclaim a national marketing quota for each marketing year for each kind of tobacco for which a national marketing quota was proclaimed for the immediately preceding marketing year. A marketing quota was proclaimed for Maryland tobacco for the 1955-56 marketing year.

The applicability of the regulations to be issued for Maryland tobacco will be contingent upon the proclamation of a national marketing quota for Maryland tobacco pursuant to section 312 of the act (7 U. S. C. 1312), and upon approval of such quota by growers voting in a referendum.

It is proposed that the regulations be substantially the same as those for the 1955-56 marketing year (19 F. R. 3556) with the following exceptions:

1. The 1956 preliminary allotment for an old farm would be the largest of (a) the average acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm during the years 1951-55, (b) 90 percent of the average acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm during the years 1953-55, or (c) 50 percent of the acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in 1955: Provided, That (1) the acreage of tobacco harvested on a farm in 1955 shall be considereed to be the smaller of the 1955 farm tobacco acreage allotment determined for the farm or the acreage of tobacco harvested in 1955 on the farm, or (2) if tobacco was harvested in 1955 for the first time since 1950 on a farm for which no 1955 Maryland tobacco acreage allotment was determined, the 1956 preliminary allotment will be determined by the community and county committees, without any consideration of the acreage of tobacco harvested in 1955, on the basis of land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco, crop rotation practices, and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco, but such 1956 preliminary allotment shall not exceed 25 percent of the allotments for similar old farms.

2. The acreage to be made available for adjustments of old farm allotments by county and community committees would be limited to three and three-fourths percent of the State acreage allotment.

3. 1956 farm tobacco acreage allotments will be determined in acres and hundredths of an acre. The rule of fractions would be to round upward fractions of more than five-thousandths and round downward fractions of five-thousandths or less (i. e., 0.0050 would be 0.00, and 0.0051 would be 0.01).

4. A provision would be included pursuant to Public Law 21, 84th Congress, that the farm operator or his representative shall file a report with the county committee or its representative on Form CSS-578, Report of 1955 Acreage, showing all fields of tobacco on the farm in 1955; if any producer on the farm files, or aids or acquiesces in the filing of, any false report with respect to the acreage of tobacco grown on the farm in 1955, the acreage allotment for the farm shall be reduced, except that if each producer establishes to the satisfaction of the county and State committees that the filing, or aiding or acquiescing in the filing of, the false report was unintentional on his part and that he could not reasonably have been expected to know that the report was false, reduction will not be required if the report is corrected and payment of all additional penalty is made.

5. In keeping with item 4, a definition of the term "producer" would be added to mean a person who, as owner, landlord, tenant, sharecropper, or laborer is entitled to share in the tobacco available for marketing from the farm or in the proceeds thereof.

6. Farm normal yields per acre would be determined on the basis of the yields on the farm for such of the years 1946-54 for which data are available.

7. The acreage available for allotments to farms on which no tobacco was harvested during the years 1951-55 would be limited to one-fourth of one percent of the national marketing quota.

8. The proviso in paragraph (a) of § 727.621 dealing with divisions of farms would be changed to read as follows: "Provided, That with the recommendation of the county committee and approval of the State committee and with the written agreement of all interested persons, the preliminary tobacco acreage allotment determined for a tract under the provisions of this paragraph may be increased or decreased by not more than the larger of one-hundredth acre or 10 percent of the 1956 preliminary acreage allotment determined for the entire farm with corresponding increases or decreases made in the preliminary acreage allotment apportioned to the other tract or tracts."

9. The 1953 harvested acreage on a farm would be the acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in 1953: Provided, That if the 1953 acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm was as much as 75 percent and not more than 100 percent of the 1953 allotment for the farm, the 1953 harvested acreage shall be considered to be equal to the 1953 farm acreage allotment: Provided further, That if the 1953 allotment for the farm was increased under the proviso in § 727.418 of the Maryland tobacco marketing quota regulations for the 1953-54 marketing year, the 1953 harvested acreage will be (a) the adjusted harvested acreage determined pursuant to § 727.616 (b) of the Maryland tobacco marketing quota regulations for the 1954-55 marketing year, or, if larger, (b) the 1953 allotment if the 1953 harvested acreage was not less than 75 percent of the 1953 allotment.

10. The proviso in § 727.623 would be changed to provide a maximum acreage allotment for a new farm of 25 percent instead of 50 percent of the allotments for old farms that are similar to the new farm.

11. A provision would be included to provide that a new farm allotment shall not be approved for any farm which was part of another farm during the past five years for which an old farm allotment was established. Also, a new farm allotment shall not be determined for a farm not operated by the owner thereof. The farm operator would be required to live on and obtain 50 percent or more of his livelihood from the farm covered by the application for a new farm acreage allotment.

Prior to the final adoption and issuance of the regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views and recommendations pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Director, Tobacco Division, Commodity Stabilization Service, Washington 25, D. C. All submissions must be postmarked not later than 10 days from the date this notice is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER in order to be considered.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 9th day of June 1955.

Bureau of Foreign Commerce

[Case 196]

LES FILS DE BASILE OBEGI ET AL.

ORDER DENYING EXPORT PRIVILEGES

In the matter of Les Fils de Basile Obegi, Raymond Obegi, Maurice Obegi, Khan Ghoumrok, P. O. Box 277, Aleppo, Syria and Jean B. Maghamez, Khan Villegrosse, Aleppo, Syria; Respondents; Case No. 196.

The respondents, Les Fils de Basile Obegi, Raymond Obegi, Maurice Obegi, and Jean B. Maghamez, having been charged by the Director of the Investigation Staff of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Department of Commerce, with having violated the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, and regulations promulgated thereunder, in that, as alleged (a) they knowingly made and caused to be made false representations and certifications to, and concealed material facts from, the Office of International Trade, now the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, and (b) they diverted 100 Jeeps to a country other than those named as the place of ultimate destination in an export license authorizing the exportation of said Jeeps from the United States; and the charging letter having been duly served on the respondents who failed to appear in this proceeding, failed to answer and did not demand a hearing, the evidence in this proceeding was presented to the Compliance Commissioner in accordance with § 382.4 of the export control regulations (15 CFR 382.4). Respondents' export privileges have been temporarily suspended since December 1953. The Compliance Commissioner has filed his report herein and made his recommendation.

Having carefully considered the whole record, the report and the recommendation, and having found (a) that in July 1953, the respondents Raymond Obegi, Maurice Obegi, Les Fils de Basile Obegi, and Jean B. Maghamez did make false representations and certifications to the U. S. exporter and to the Office of International Trade to the effect that said Jean B. Maghamez was the ultimate consignee for said Jeeps and intended to resell them only for use in Syria and Lebanon, (b) that the respondents Raymond Obegi, Maurice Obegi, and Les Fils de Basile Obegi did at that time conceal from the exporter and from the Office of International Trade their intention to divert said Jeeps to Rumania; and (c) that in November 1953, the respondents Raymond Obegi, Maurice Obegi, and Les Fils de Basile Obegi, with knowledge of their prior representations, and that the export license authorizing the exportation of said Jeeps from the United States restricted their ultimate sale to persons in Syria and Lebanon, and with knowledge that any diversion from said places was in violation of the export regulations, did nevertheless divert said Jeeps and transship them to Rumania; the undersigned Director, Office of Export Supply, does therefore conclude that the respondents have violated the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, and regulations promulgated thereunder.

The Compliance Commissioner, when making his recommendation, took into consideration the fact that the result of the acts committed by respondents was the diversion of a large quantity of strategic commodities to a Soviet Bloc country, Rumania. He has also stated as his opinion that Maghamez was an unwitting tool of the Obegi respondents, but that in order to warn other persons resident in foreign lands that certificates made for use before the Bureau of Foreign Commerce must contain true statements of fact and that the language deficiencies of such persons will not excuse them from the making of false statements alleged to have been made without knowledge or understanding of the content of import thereof, remedial action should be taken against Maghamez as well as the Obegi respondents. The recommendation of the Compliance Commissioner is adopted and, having concluded that the provisions hereinafter set forth are fair, reasonable and necessary to achieve effective enforcement of the law: It is now ordered:

I. All the respondents herein, their successors or assigns, officers, directors, representatives, agents and employees, are hereby denied all privileges of participating, directly or indirectly, in any manner, form, or capacity, in an exportation of any commodity or technical data from the United States to any foreign destination. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing denial, participation in an exportation shall be deemed to include and prohibit the respondents' participation (a) as a party or as a representative of a party to any validated export license application, (b) in the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control document, (c) in the receiving, ordering, buying, selling, using, or disposing in any foreign country of any commodities in whole or in part exported or to be exported from the United States, and (d) in the financing, forwarding, transporting, processing, or other servicing of exports from the United States.

II. Such denial of export privileges shall apply not only to the respondents herein and the other persons or firms within the scope of Part I hereof, but shall apply and extend also to any other person, firm, corporation, or other business organization with which the respondents, or any of them, may be now or hereafter related by ownership, control, position of responsibility, or other connection in the conduct of trade which may involve exports from the United States or services connected therewith.

III. This order shall be effective upon the date hereof, and as to respondents Raymond Obegi, Maurice Obegi and Les Fils de Basile Obegi, shall extend for the entire period in which exports from the United States shall be controlled, and as to respondent Jean B. Maghamez shall extend for a period of six months from the date hereof.

IV. No person, firm, corporation, or other business organization, whether in the United States or elsewhere, and whether or not engaged in trade relating to exports from the United States, shall, without prior disclosure of the facts to, and specific authorization from, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, directly or indirectly, in any manner, form or capacity, (a) apply for, obtain, transfer, or use any license, shipper's export declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to an exportation of commodities from the United States, or (b) order, receive, buy, use, process, dispose of, finance, transport, forward, store, or otherwise service or participate in an exportation from the United States, with respect to which any of the respondents herein or any person or firm included within the scope of Parts I and II hereof have any interest or participation of any kind or nature, direct or indirect.

Dated: June 9, 1955.

Director, Office of Export Supply.

[Case 197]

WILLYS-OVERLAND EXPORT CORP. ET AL.

ORDER DENYING EXPORT PRIVILEGES

In the matter of Willys-Overland Export Corporation, Jacque H. Passino, Roger Wolfers, Toledo, Ohio, Eastern Distributors & Forwarders Corporation, Frances E. McGuire, 745 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York; Respondents; Case No. 197.

Willys-Overland Export Corporation, Jacque H. Passino, Roger Wolfers, Eastern Distributors & Forwarders Corporation, and Frances E. McGuire, were charged by the Director of the Investigation Staff, Bureau of Foreign Commerce, with having violated the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, and regulations promulgated thereunder. These companies and their named officials allegedly participated in a sale by Willys of 100 Jeeps to a New York merchant exporter for shipment by the exporter to Les Fils de Basile Obegi and Jean B. Maghamez of Aleppo, Syria, even though Willys' Syrian distributor had informed them that he understood Obegi intended the Jeeps for reexport to, as he suspected, Rumania. They allegedly failed to disclose this information to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce or the exporter, and instead permitted the transaction to go forward to completion. On arrival of the Jeeps at Beirut, Lebanon, they were diverted by Obegi to Rumania. On these grounds Willys, Eastern, and their named officials were charged with "causing" the exporter's non-disclosure of the true destination of the Jeeps in his export control documents, "causing" the Jeeps to be diverted, and engaging in "unethical activity" and "demonstrating that they did not possess the integrity and ethical standards" required by the export control regulations.

The Willys and Eastern respondents appeared separately and were represented by respective counsel, and following discussions with officials of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce pursuant to § 382.10 of the export control regulations (15 CFR 382.10), the said respondents, by agreement with the Director, Investigation Staff, proposed that a consent order, substantially in the form of Parts I, II, III, and IV hereof, be entered against them.

Respondents, in consenting to the issuance of such order, admitted that the occurrences recited in the charging letter did take place. To the extent that they were charged with knowledge of various matters, they admitted only that they should have known such matters. They denied that their actions or failure to act resulted from wilfulness, claiming rather that they negligently failed to realize that the export regulations required them to notify the exporter and the Bureau of Foreign Commerce of the information which they had disregarded as mere "suspicion".

The charging letter, respondents' admissions, and their proposals, together with supplemental evidentiary data, were presented to the Compliance Commissioner. The Compliance Commissioner, having carefully reviewed all of such materials, approved such proposals and reported the facts of the case to the undersigned Director, Office of Export Supply.

In his report, the Compliance Commissioner found the following facts and made the following conclusions:

Willys and Eastern are both experienced United States exporters. Eastern is the United States representative for various Middle East companies which import commodities from the United States, and as such Eastern represents the Willys' distributor for Syria.

At the time of the events in this case, Roger Wolfers was manager, Europe-Africa-Middle East Division of Willys, and Jacque H. Passino was a Willys vice-president. Frances E. McGuire was director of Eastern and the employee responsible for handling the Willys account, including the Jeep transaction involved in this case. Wolfers was the Willys official directly involved in the transaction and Passino, as Wolfers' superior, was consulted on certain material aspects.

In June 1953, a New York export company (unrelated to respondents) approached Willys to supply 100 Jeeps to fill an order which the exporter received from Obegi. During the sale negotiations between Willys and Eastern and the exporting company, both Willys and Eastern were informed by the Willys' distributor for Syria that it had been approached independently by Obegi to buy the Jeeps directly from the distributor, but that from its inquiries the distributor understood Obegi was buying the Jeeps for reexport, and it suspected they were for Rumania. Willys told its distributor, to Eastern's knowledge, not to deal further with Obegi because of the possible Iron Curtain destination.

However, Willys' and Eastern's negotiations with the exporter continued, ending in Willys' sale and delivery, with Eastern's knowledge and consent, of 100 Jeeps to the exporter for shipment to Obegi. At no time did Willys and Eastern disclose to the exporter or to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce the information they had received from the Syrian distributor, although they should have known that such information was material to the exporter's license application and the Bureau of Foreign Commerce's favorable consideration thereof. Willys and Eastern were aware that Obegi and Maghamez had represented to the exporter and to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce that Syria and Lebanon were the ultimate destination of the Jeeps, and that the Bureau of Foreign Commerce had licensed their export only to such destination.

The 100 Jeeps were exported from New York in September 1953, marked for entry into the Free Zone, Beirut, Lebanon, in transit for Syria. They arrived in Beirut in October. Obegi promptly transshipped them to Rumania. (Obegi and Maghamez are the subjects of a separate order issued this day for their unlawful acts in this transaction.) From investigation it appears that the exporter was not aware of Obegi's intention to transship the Jeeps.

The Compliance Commissioner concluded that although Willys and Eastern Distributors made no representations to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, did not execute any export control documents, and did not transship the Jeeps, they wrongfully failed to notify the exporter or the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, or both, of the information in their possession concerning the possible Soviet bloc destination of the Jeeps, in the face of their other knowledge concerning the represented ultimate destination. He further concluded that by reason of the foregoing, and their subsequent participation in the sale of the Jeeps to the exporter for export to the persons who falsely represented the ultimate use and destination of the vehicles to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce and unlawfully transshipped them, Willys and Eastern (a) knowingly concealed material facts and caused false representations as to ultimate destination to be made by the exporter on the latter's license application, shipper's export declaration and bill of lading, (b) with the aforesaid knowledge supplied the means whereby and wherewith the unlawful diversion to an unlicensed destination could occur, and thereby caused such diversion, and (c) were deficient in the integrity and ethical standards required by the export regulations.

Now, after reading the record herein and giving careful consideration to the proposals and the report and recommendation of the Compliance Commissioner, and taking into consideration among other things (a) that the respondents erroneously assumed that the execution of the ultimate consignee statement and the issuance of the export license relieved them of the responsibility of reporting to the exporter and to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce the information in their possession, (b) that this is a case of first impression in which persons not directly made parties to license applications have been charged with the duty to disclose information of the nature involved herein, (c) that the respondents have a prior good record of compliance with export controls, (d) that actual suspension of export privileges to Willys would halt the production of vehicles for United States and friendly foreign country military uses and would not be consistent with the national interest, and (e) that the respondents have promptly revised their office procedures and staff instructions so as to minimize the possibility of future export control violation; and, being of the opinion that the proposed order is fair and necessary to achieve effective enforcement of the law: It is hereby ordered, That:

I. The below named respondents, and each of them, are hereby denied all privileges of participating directly or indirectly in any manner or capacity in an exportation of any commodities from the United States to any foreign destination. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing, participation in an exportation is deemed to include and prohibit respondents' participation (a) as a party or as a representative of a party to any export license application, (b) in the preparation or filing of any export license application or document to be submitted therewith, (c) in the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control document, (d) in the receiving in any foreign country of any exportation from the United States, and (e) in the financing, forwarding, transporting, or other servicing of exports from the United States.

II. Such denial of export privileges shall be in effect from the date of this order, as to Willys-Overland Export Corporation and Eastern Distributors and Forwarders Corporation for a period of two months, as to Roger Wolfers for a period of six months, as to Frances E. McGuire for a period of four months, and as to Jacque H. Passino for a period of two months. However, with respect to respondents Willys-Overland Export Corporation and Eastern Distributors and Forwarders Corporation, the aforesaid two months' denial of export privileges shall be entirely held in abeyance for a period of six months from the date of this order, provided that each of said respondents, and the persons and companies related to each of them under Part III hereof, during said six-month period comply fully with and do not knowingly violate any of the terms of this order or any of the laws and regulations relating to export control. In the event of such violation, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce may summarily and without notice to the person or company responsible for such violation, at such time as it shall determine that such violation has occurred, issue a supplemental order which shall deny to said person or company all export privileges for the two-month period or any part of it which has been held in abeyance, without thereby limiting the Bureau of Foreign Commerce from taking such other and further action based on such violation as it shall deem warranted. In the event that such supplemental order is issued, the respondent named therein shall have the right to a hearing and appeal therefrom as provided in the export control regulations.

III. Such denial of export privileges shall extend not only to the respondents named herein, and each of them, but shall apply and extend also to any other person, firm, corporation, or business organization with which they, or any of them, may be now or hereafter related by ownership or control in the conduct of trade involving exports from the United States or services connected therewith.

IV. No person, firm, corporation, or other business organization shall, without prior disclosure to, and specific authorization from, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, directly or indirectly in any manner or capacity, (a) apply for, obtain, or use any license, shipper's export declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to any such prohibited exportation of commodities from the United States, or (b) order, receive, buy, use, dispose of, finance, transport, forward, or otherwise service or participate in, an exportation from the United States, or in a reexportation of any commodity exported from the United States, with respect to which a respondent subject to this order, or related companies and persons covered by Part III above, have any interest or participation of any kind or nature, direct or indirect.

Dated: June 9, 1955.

Director,

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Office of the Secretary

CALIFORNIA

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING TO CALIFORNIA DEPARTMENT OF EMPLOYMENT

Whereas, on the 27th day of December 1935 the Unemployment Reserves Act of the State of California (Chapter 352, Laws of 1935), now known and cited as the Unemployment Insurance Code, was heretofore approved by the Social Security Board pursuant to the provisions of section 903 (a) of the Social Security Act, now section 3304 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code: and

Whereas, section 3304 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code provides that:

(c) Certification. On December 31 of each taxable year the Secretary of Labor shall certify to the Secretary [of the Treasury] each State whose law he has previously approved, except that he shall not certify any State which, after reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing to the State agency, the Secretary of Labor finds has amended its law so that it no longer contains the provisions specified in subsection (a) or has with respect to such taxable year failed to comply substantially with any such provision and such finding has become effective. Such finding shall become effective on the 90th day after the governor of the State has been notified thereof, unless the State has before such 90th day so amended its law that it will comply substantially with the Secretary of Labor's interpretation of the provision of subsection (a), in which event such finding shall not become effective. No finding of a failure to comply substantially with the provision in State law specified in paragraph (5) of subsection (a) shall be based on an application or interpretation of State law with respect to which further administrative or judicial review is provided for under the laws of the State.

Whereas, the California District Court of Appeal (petition for hearing denied by the California Supreme Court) in its decision in the cases of Robert E. Barber, et al., appellants, vs. California Employment Stabilization Commission et al., respondents, and Harold Crouse et al., appellants, vs. California Employment Stabilization Commission et al., respondents (278 P. 2d 762), has interpreted the California Unemployment Insurance Code to permit the denial of unemployment compensation benefits to individuals who were not at the time the dispute began working for any member of the employer association which had entered into collective bargaining agreements with the unions of which the claimants were members. The denial was based principally on the ground that work for any member of the association was "his work" for any union member within the meaning of the California trade disputes disqualification (section 1262), and not "new work" within the meaning of the California labor standards provision (section 1259) corresponding to section 3304 (a) (5) of the Internal Revenue Code; and

Whereas, as a result of said interpretation of the California Unemployment Insurance Code it appears that the State of California may be failing to comply substantially with the requirements of section 3304 (a) (5) of the Internal Revenue Code;

Now, therefore, pursuant to the provisions of section 3304 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code, notice is hereby given that an opportunity for hearing will be provided to the State of California, to wit, the California Department of Employment, beginning at ten o'clock on the morning of the 20th day of July 1955, in court room No. 261, 2d floor, United States Court House and Post Office Building, 7th and Mission Streets, San Francisco, California, on the question of whether the State of California has failed to comply substantailly with the requirements of section 3304 (a) (5) of the Internal Revenue Code, particularly subparagraph (A) of said section, and upon the basis of the evidence and legal arguments adduced at said hearing it will be determined whether or not the State of California may be certified to the Secretary of the Treasury, as provided in section 3304 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code.

The hearing will be conducted in accordance with the following rules, subject, however, to such subsequent modifications by the Presiding Officer (the Secretary of Labor or his authorized representative) as are deemed appropriate.

1. The Secretary of Labor will appoint a hearing examiner to preside over the hearing.

2. The parties of record shall be the State of California and the United States Department of Labor.

3. Participation by any person other than the parties of record shall be limited to oral argument as provided in paragraph 12 below and to the filing of written briefs on the issues within the time allowed in paragraph 13 below.

4. The hearing shall be stenographically recorded and a transcript made which will be available to any person, at prescribed rates.

5. At the discretion of the hearing examiner, the hearing may be conducted from day to day or adjourned until a later date, or to a different place by announcement thereof at the hearing, or by other appropriate notice.

6. At any stage of the hearing the hearing examiner may call for further evidence upon any matter. After the record has been closed no further evidence shall be taken except at the request of the Secretary of Labor, unless provision has been made at the hearing for the later receipt of such evidence. In the event that the Secretary shall cause the hearing to be reopened for the purpose of receiving further evidence, due and reasonable notice of the time and place fixed for such taking of testimony shall be given to all parties of record.

7. Evidence presented is not required to be under oath or affirmation.

8. Except as otherwise permitted by the hearing examiner written documents or exhibits submitted personally at the hearing must be offered in evidence by a person who is prepared to testify as to the authenticity and trustworthiness thereof, and who shall, at the time of offering the documentary exhibit, make a brief statement as to the contents and manner of preparation thereof.

9. Written statements, documents, proposals, and briefs shall be tendered in quadruplicate.

10. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling. However, it shall be the policy to exclude irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious evidence.

11. The hearing examiner shall, upon request, permit any party of record to conduct such cross examination of any witness as may be required for a full and true disclosure of the facts and to object to the admission or exclusion of evidence. Objections to the admission or exclusion of evidence shall be stated briefly with the reasons relied on. Such objections shall become a part of the record but this record shall not include argument thereon except as ordered by the hearing examiner.

12. After all testimony has been taken and all evidence has been received the hearing examiner may, upon request, permit any party of record or any other interested person to present oral argument upon the matters in issue. Any interested person other than a party of record who wishes to present oral argument shall file in the Office of the Chief Hearing Examiner, Room 4414, Department of Labor, Fourteenth Street and Constitution Avenue, Washington 25, D. C., on or before July 11, 1955, a written or telegraphic request setting forth his name and the persons or groups, if any, whom he represents; the argument of any such person shall be limited to forty-five (45) minutes. All oral arguments shall be transcribed and made a part of the record.

13. Any brief on the issues herein shall be filed no later than seven (7) days prior to the date the hearing begins. Supplemental briefs may be filed no later than ten (10) days after the transcript of the hearing is available. All briefs shall be filed in the Office of the Chief Hearing Examiner.

14. Proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law together with supporting reasons therefor may be submitted by any party of record within fifteen (15) days following the close of the hearing to the Office of the Chief Hearing Examiner.

15. All written statements, documents, proposals and briefs shall be served upon the parties of record.

16. After the time for the filing of briefs, proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law, the hearing examiner shall prepare a recommended decision containing findings of fact and conclusions of law. This recommended decision shall be served upon the parties of record who may, within ten (10) days from the date of its receipt, file in the Office of the Chief Hearing Examiner a statement in writing setting forth any exceptions they may have to such decision together with supporting reasons therefor.

17. After the time for filing exceptions to the hearing examiner's recommended decision, the hearing examiner shall certify to the Secretary of Labor the entire record of the proceedings together with his recommended decision. The Secretary shall then render his decision in the matter.

ARTHUR LARSON,
Acting Secretary of Labor.

GENERAL STATEMENT

SECTION 1.1 Creation and authority. The Civil Aeronautics Board, as distinguished from the Civil Aeronautics Administration, is an independent agency composed of five Members, appointed by the President with the confirmation of the Senate. The President annually designates one of the Members as Chairman and another as Vice-Chairman. The Board, established effective June 30, 1940, pursuant to Reorganization Plans III and IV, exercises the functions of rule making (including the prescription of rules, regulations, and standards), adjudication, and investigation as prescribed in the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

SEC. 1.2 Purpose and mission. The Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938 sets forth the basic principles which guide the Board and prescribes the authority pursuant to which it discharges its responsibilities. The mission of the Board is to foster and encourage the development of an air transportation system which will be adequate for the present and future needs of the foreign and domestic commerce of the United States, the postal service and the national defense; to preserve the inherent advantages of air transportation, and to regard as in the public interest competition to the extent necessary to assure the sound development of an air transportation system adjusted to the national needs; and to regulate air commerce in such manner as to best promote its development and safety.

SEC. 1.3 Functions. In general, the Board performs four chief functions: (1) Regulation of the economic aspects of United States air carrier operation, both domestic and international; (2) promulgation of safety standards in the form of Civil Air Regulations; (3) investigation and analysis of aircraft accidents; (4) co-operation and assistance in the establishment and development of international and domestic air transportation. These functions are briefly described in the following paragraphs:

(a) Economic regulation. The Board grants or denies "certificates of public convenience and necessity" to American flag carriers for both domestic and international operation and "permits" to foreign carriers; prescribes or approves rates and rate practices of air carriers and determines mail rate compensation; fosters the safe and expeditious transportation of mail and seeks to ensure that reasonable and adequate service to the public is rendered by air carriers, without unjust discriminations, undue preferences or advantages, or unfair or destructive competitive practices; approves or disapproves business relationships between air carriers, including contracts, agreements, interlocking relationships, consolidations, mergers, and acquisitions of control and issues appropriate regulations for the purpose of carrying out these functions. The Board investigates upon complaint or upon its own initiative anything done or omitted to be done by any person or group in contravention of the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act; and takes appropriate action to enforce the act.

(b) Safety regulation. The Board prescribes safety rules and regulations, including standards for the issuance of airman certificates, aircraft type, production and airworthiness certificates, and air carrier operating certificates; and has the power to suspend or revoke such certificates.

(c) Accident investigation and analysis. The Board prescribes rules of notification and report of accidents involving civil aircraft; reviews reports of all accidents and determines, after investigation to the extent required, the probable cause of all accidents. Formal reports by the Board are made public when deemed to be in the public interest. The Board conducts special studies and research, establishing basic causative and statistical factors and prepares air safety bulletins for the purpose of reducing the number of aircraft accidents and preventing their recurrence.

(d) Development of international civil aviation. The Board consults with and assists the State Department in the negotiation of agreements with foreign governments for the establishment or development of air transportation, air navigation, air routes and services; keeps informed with respect to operations of foreign air lines and foreign aviation policies. The Board provides information for and co-ordinates with the International Civil Aviation Organization in the development of all international safety and operational standards. The Board contributes to the expense and personnel requirements of the Air Coordinating Committee; provides information and advice in the Committee's examination of aviation problems and in its recommendations establishing the United States viewpoint on international and domestic aviation.

SEC. 1.4 Offices. The central office of the Board is located in the Department of Commerce Building, Fourteenth Street between Constitution Avenue and E Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. All meetings of the Board, unless otherwise directed by the Board, are held at the above address. The Board's field offices are located in Alaska and principal cities of the country. The location of these offices is set forth in sections 12.1, 12.2, and 12.3.

OFFICES OF MEMBERS

SEC. 2.1 Functions of the Board. The five Members of the Board, appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate for six-year terms, are charged with carrying out the duties and responsibilities devolving upon the Board under the law. Action initiated pursuant to the Board's own initiative or by any document authorized or required to be filed with the Board originates in or is referred to the appropriate organizational unit for study and recommendation to the Board in accordance with the description of functions outlined hereinafter. In cases other than those in which action is taken pursuant to a final delegation of authority, or in which the responsibility is that of the Chairman (see section 2.2 below), final action is taken by the Board. (See Public Notice PN 8 for statements of final delegations of authority.) The staff of the Board is organized into the following major organizational components:

(a) Bureau of Hearing Examiners.
(b) Bureau of Air Operations.
(c) Bureau of Safety Regulation.
(d) Bureau of Safety Investigation.
(e) Office of Carrier Accounts and Statistics.
(f) Office of the General Counsel.
(g) Office of Compliance.
(h) Office of Public Information.
(i) Office of Administration.

SEC. 2.2 Functions of the Chairman. (a) In addition to his duties as a Member of the Board, the Chairman serves as presiding officer at meetings of the Board, determines the order in which day-to-day matters will receive attention of the Board, and by virtue of his role as chairman, is called upon to act as spokesman for the Board before committees of Congress. In the absence or disability of the Chairman, the foregoing duties are exercised by the Vice-Chairman.

(b) Pursuant to Reorganization Plan 13 of 1950, the Chairman is responsible for the executive and administrative functions of the Board, including functions with respect to the appointment and supervision of personnel, the distribution of business among such personnel and among major organizational components of the Board, and the use and expenditure of funds.

(c) Under the terms of Reorganization Plan 13, the Chairman, in exercising the functions enumerated above, is limited by (1) the general policies of the Board and by such regulatory decisions, findings and determinations as the Board may by law be authorized to make; (2) the requirement that the appointment by the Chairman of the heads of major organizational components under the Board shall be subject to the approval of the Board, provided that personnel employed regularly and full time in the immediate offices of Members of the Board other than the Chairman shall not be affected by the provisions of Reorganization Plan 13; (3) and the reservation to the Board of its functions with respect to revising budget estimates and with respect to determining upon the distribution of appropriated funds according to major program purposes.

SEC. 2.3 Functions of the Executive Director. The Executive Director, acting for, and under general delegation of authority from, the Chairman and the Board, serves as General Manager of the Board with responsibility for planning, supervising and co-ordinating the activities of the staff.

BUREAU OF HEARING EXAMINERS

SEC. 3.1 Chief Examiner. The Chief Examiner supervises the Bureau of Hearing Examiners, which is responsible for the conduct and disposition of all formal proceedings before the Board arising under Titles IV, VI, and X, and section 1002 of the act. The Bureau of Hearing Examiners consists of the following organizational components:

(a) Economic Proceedings Division.
(b) Safety Enforcement Proceedings Division.
(c) Docket Section.

SEC. 3.2 Economic Proceedings Division. The Economic Proceedings Division conducts all formal proceedings before the Board arising under Title IV of the Act; schedules the time and place of such hearings; supervises prehearing conferences; and prepares recommendations (except in those economic proceedings for the determination of passenger, cargo, and mail rates) to the Chief Examiner or the Board respecting the disposition of such matters as require action by the Chief Examiner or the Board.

SEC. 3.3 Safety Enforcement Proceedings Division. The Safety Enforcement Proceedings Division conducts and disposes of all formal proceedings under sections 602 through 609 of the act, regarding the issuance, amendment, suspension, and revocation of the various types of airman certificates, airworthiness certificates, air carrier operating certificates, production certificates, air navigation facility certificates and air agency certificates; prepares recommendations to the Chief Examiner or the Board respecting the dispositions of such matters as require action by the Chief Examiner or the Board; and prepares final decisions pursuant to instructions from the Board.

SEC. 3.4 Docket Section. The Docket Section receives, dockets, and maintains all documents in formal proceedings before the Board, makes official service of notices, orders, rules, reports, and decisions upon all interested persons; examines all filings for compliance with Procedural Regulations, advises and assists the public in preparing documents in accordance with the Procedural Regulations; and issues periodic statements and reports respecting the status of all formal proceedings.

BUREAU OF AIR OPERATIONS

SEC. 4.1 Director. The Director supervises the Bureau of Air Operations, which is responsible for interpretation of economic data and advice involving regulatory policy, and for advice regarding procedure to be followed in the economic regulation of domestic, overseas, and international air transportation. The Bureau of Air Operations consists of the following organizational components:

(a) Foreign Air Division.
(b) Routes and Carrier Relations Division.
(c) Rates Division.
(d) Alaska Liaison Office.

SEC. 4.2 Foreign Air Division. The Foreign Air Division advises on the formulation of positions to be taken by the United States on international civil aviation matters involving economic foreign policy; serves as liaison between the Board and the Department of State; provides representation, when so designated, in connection with international conferences and bilateral or multilateral relations with foreign countries. In the discharge of these duties the Foreign Air Division analyzes economic data bearing on the problems to be dealt with.

SEC. 4.3 Routes and Carrier Relations Division. The Routes and Carrier Relations Division is concerned with the legal and economic aspects of matters arising under sections 401, 402, 404, 405 (e), 416, and 1002 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, and section 6 (b) of the Air Commerce Act, as amended, relating to the authorization of routes and other services required to meet the objectives of the act, whether by issuance of certificate of public convenience and necessity, foreign air permit or exemption order, and relating to the route patterns and services required to provide such services, and relating to all carrier relationships matters arising under sections 401 (i), 402 (h), 407 (a), 407 (b), 407 (c), 408, 409, 411, 412, 1002 (i), and 1102 of the Act. The Routes and Carrier Relations Division develops for consideration by the Board statements of policy and program objectives, and recommends or takes action, where authority has been delegated, with respect to specific matters pending before the Board.

SEC. 4.4 Rates Division. The Rates Division is concerned with the economic and legal aspects of matters relating to determination of mail rates pursuant to section 406 of the act, determination of commercial rates pursuant to sections 403, 404, and 1002 of the act and the commercial rate aspects of International Air Transport Association resolutions. With respect to these matters, the Rates Division prepares for consideration of, and adoption by, the Board statements of policy and of program objectives and recommends or takes action where authority has been delegated with respect to specific cases pending before the Board.

SEC. 4.5 Alaska Liaison Office. The Alaska Liaison Office is concerned with the administration of the Act and the Economic Regulations as they relate to matters affecting pilot-owners and to tariff and service matters affecting Alaskan air carriers; advising the Board and the Bureau Director on Alaskan air transportation problems; and conferring with the Alaskan air carriers, government and civic bodies and with users of air transportation in Alaska.

SEC. 4.6 Bureau Counsel. An attorney from the Bureau of Air Operations is designated as Bureau Counsel to present the Bureau's position in formal proceedings before the Board arising under the Civil Aeronautics Act, as amended.

BUREAU OF SAFETY REGULATION

SEC. 5.1 Director. The Director supervises the Bureau of Safety Regulation, which is responsible for developing and recommending to the Board the adoption of new or revised Civil Air Regulations; making appropriate recommendations to the Board regarding international activities as reflected by the operation of the International Civil Aviation Organization; and making appropriate recommendations to the Board in regard to those matters considered by the Air Co-ordinating Committee and requiring Board action. The Bureau of Safety Regulation consists of the following organizational components:

(a) Air Carrier Division.
(b) Airworthiness Division.
(c) General Rules Division.

SEC. 5.2 Air Carrier Division. The air Carrier Division analyzes the need for and develops technical findings and recommendations governing the preparation of new regulations and amendments to existing regulations prescribing the minimum safety standards with respect to air carrier operations involving the certification of air carrier airmen, aircraft operational procedures, inspection and overhaul of aircraft, engines, propellers, and appliances, and air traffic rules; conducts technical research of transport-type aircraft, equipment, and operations, and studies current technological developments and aviation practices as a basis for formulating safety standards; and advises and assists the Board and other organizational units of the Board on any matter involving safety regulation of air carrier operations.

SEC. 5.3 Airworthiness Division. The Airworthiness Division analyzes the need for and develops technical findings and recommendations governing the preparation of new regulations and amendments to existing regulations prescribing the minimum design and performance safety standards for airworthiness certification of aircraft, engines, propellers, and appliances; conducts technical research of the airworthiness aspects of aircraft, equipment, and operations, and studies current technological developments and aviation practices as a basis for formulating safety standards; and advises and assists the Board and its organizational components on problems of an engineering nature.

SEC. 5.4 General Rules Division. The General Rules Division analyzes the need for and develops technical findings and recommendations governing the preparation of new regulations or amendments to existing regulations prescribing minimum safety standards which have general application to all phases of civil aviation such as: The certification of pilots (student, private, and commercial), mechanics, control tower operators, and parachute riggers, aircraft operational procedures, inspection and overhaul of aircraft, engines, propellers, and appliances, air traffic rules, airmen schools and repair stations, and the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles; conducts technical research of nontransport-type aircraft, equipment, and operations, and studies current technological developments and aviation practices as a basis for formulating safety standards; and advises and assists the Board and its organizational components on matters relating to the general safety problems of operations, utilization of equipment, certification of airmen and air agencies.

SEC. 5.5 Activities common to all divisions. Each division, within its own area of specialization, participates in the development of related international standards as prescribed by the International Civil Aviation Organization and modifies United States standards and practices as may be necessary to conform to the international standards; represents the United States at meetings of the Technical Divisions of the International Civil Aviation Organization, Air Navigation Commission and at other meetings concerned with matters falling within the field of interest of the Board and within the technical competence of the Bureau of Safety Regulation and analyzes the results of these meetings and co-ordinates standards and recommends practices adopted by the International Civil Aviation Organization with the Civil Air Regulations; prepares the United States position on matters with which the Air Coordinating Committee is concerned and in which the Board has a primary interest and assists other divisions of the Air Co-ordinating Committee in preparation of the United States position on matters in which the Board has a secondary or indirect interest; and continually examines manuals and other related materials implementing the Civil Air Regulations to ensure their proper interpretation and application.

BUREAU OF SAFETY INVESTIGATION

SEC. 6.1 Director. The Director supervises the Bureau of Safety Investigation, which is responsible for investigation and analysis of aircraft accidents. The Bureau of Safety Investigation consists of the following organizational components:

(a) Investigation Division.
(b) Hearing and Reports Division.
(c) Technical Division.
(d) Analysis Division.

SEC. 6.2 Investigation Division. The Investigation Division directs and assists in the investigation of aircraft accidents to determine their probable cause, and develops current techniques for such investigations. It makes recommendations as to the need for, and participates in, public and special inquiries; makes recommendations to prevent recurring accidents; develops educational material in various specialized phases of air safety; and conducts research and special studies relating to hazards potentially capable of resulting in serious accidents.

SEC. 6.21 Investigation Field Service. The field service of the Investigation Division investigates accidents and hazardous conditions involving civil aircraft of United States registry, and accidents to foreign civil aircraft occurring within the United States; reports facts and derives conclusions with respect to probable causes of such accidents; co-ordinates research with other interested governmental agencies and industry representatives regarding such accidents; and participates in the conferences thereon and as members of the Board of Inquiry at subsequent public inquiries.

SEC. 6.3 Hearing and Reports Division. The Hearing and Reports Division arranges for and conducts public and special accident inquiries in order to ascertain the facts, conditions, circumstances, and probable cause of accidents involving aircraft; prepares all evidence, takes depositions, administers oaths and issues subpenas for witnesses and documents incident to such inquiries; prepares and presents to the Board for adoption preliminary statements of fact and formal accident investigation reports; and arranges for the reproduction of exhibits and factual documents of accident investigation for parties of interest.

SEC. 6.4 Technical Division. The Technical Division directs the investigation of the technical aspects of aircraft accidents, including necessary tests, involving the engineering problems of aerodynamics, aircraft structure, applicable meteorological factors, powerplants, propellers, electrical, radio and electronic instruments and related equipment; assists in conduct of public hearings and in the preparation of the technical portion of reports of accidents, assembles technical data relating to aircraft accidents and aeronautical hazards, prepares technical analysis of aircraft accidents; makes recommendations on technical problems to eliminate aeronautical hazards; and represents the Board at conferences held to obtain action on technical aviation matters.

SEC. 6.5 Analysis Division. The Analysis Division classifies and analyzes all reports of accidents involving aircraft in order to establish their basic casual and statistical factors; makes statistical analysis of civil aircraft accidents to isolate elements requiring corrective action and to determine accident trends; compiles statistical and analytical reports for the information of the Board and the public; and edits and issues safety bulletins and accident reports.

OFFICE OF CARRIER ACCOUNTS AND STATISTICS

SEC. 7.1 Chief. The Chief supervises the Office of Carrier Accounts and Statistics, which is responsible for recommending economic regulations related to the general accounting and statistical programs and participating with the General Counsel in the formulation of such regulations; for approving all accounting and statistical data prepared for release as an official Board publication; for representing the Board at interdepartmental, industry and international conferences at the direction of the Board; for insuring effective co-ordination with other Offices and Bureaus; and for the administrative and technical direction of the functions of the Office. The Office of Carrier Accounts and Statistics consists of the following organizational components:

(a) Systems and Reports Division.
(b) Audits Division.
(c) Research and Statistics Division.

SEC. 7.2 Systems and Reports Division. The Systems and Reports Division recommends uniform systems of accounts and a uniform system of periodic financial, operational and accounting reports, and necessary revisions thereof for all air carriers; drafts instructions and letters of interpretations; recommends modifications or waiver of uniform requirements; examines reports filed by air carriers for adherence to reporting requirements; prepares recurrent reports of operational and financial data; prepares special reports to meet stipulated requirements; provides expert advice and assistance on accounting matters; and maintains liaison with accounting personnel in private, public and government practice.

SEC. 7.3 Audits Division. The Audits Division conducts field examinations of carrier accounts and records to insure adherence to the accounting and reporting requirements; collects data requested by other organizational units of the Board requiring access to carrier records; maintains close liaison with the Office of Compliance, reporting all significant violations of the accounting and reporting requirements to that Office for direct enforcement action; refers to other appropriate components for information and action, data indicating possible violations of the Act or of the Economic Regulations and any other data of interest or value; provides expert advice and assistance on auditing matters; and maintains liaison with auditing persons in industry and other Federal agencies.

SEC. 7.4 Research and Statistics Division. The Research and Statistics Division conducts comprehensive economic surveys and studies related to the development and regulation of civil air transport; develops instructions for the conduct of periodic traffic surveys and other research projects and supervises the technical performance of such projects; prepares statistical indices and develops techniques for forecasting economic trends; comments on prospectuses relating to the issuance of securities by air carriers when so requested; provides expert advice and assitance on accounting and statistical matters; provides cartographic and mechanical drafting services; and maintains liaison with industry and government accounting and statistical officers.

OFFICE OF THE GENERAL COUNSEL

SEC. 8.1 General Counsel. The General Counsel supervises the Office of the General Counsel which is responsible for providing the Board and the staff with advice in connection with the legal aspects of economic and safety regulatory activities; personally represents the Board in litigation, negotiations, and conferences (including international) which involve legal considerations and where the proceedings present complex, novel or significant matters; and serves on governmental (e. g., Air Co-ordinating Committee) and international (e. g., International Civil Aviation Organization) committees. The Office of the General Counsel consists of the following organizational components:

(a) International and Rules Division.
(b) Litigation and Research Division.
(c) Opinion-Writing Division.

SEC. 8.2 International and Rules Division. The International and Rules Division participates in the drafting, negotiation, modification and interpretation of international agreements relating to civil aviation and renders legal advisory service in connection therewith; maintains liaison with other units of the Board, other Federal agencies and state aviation authorities on legal aspects of the Board's program; provides representation on various committees, such as ICAO Legal Committee and the Legal Division of the Air Co-ordinating Committee; co-ordinates formulation of the Board's legislative program; drafts testimony and statements for use by the Board Members or staff members for hearings before Congressional committees; presents testimony at hearings upon proposed legislation; examines legislative proposals of interest to the Board and prepares legislative reports thereon to the Congress and the Board; drafts proposed legislation and reports to the Board on the status of legislative activity; prepares, reviews, interprets economic, safety and procedural regulations and amendments thereto, and insures that the proper procedural steps are followed in the promulgation thereof; and provides legal advice and assistance on administrative matters and on matters relating to defense mobilization.

SEC. 8.3 Litigation and Research Division. The Litigation and Research Division represents the Board, in collaboration with the Department of Justice, in court actions to which the Board is a party, or is interested, in order to sustain action previously taken by the Board, including preparation of the record, drafting of all necessary briefs, motions and other documents and argument of the case before the court; and performs legal research for and renders legal opinions based thereon on matters of general interests or applicability.

SEC. 8.4 Opinion-Writing Division. The Opinion-Writing Division drafts opinions, orders, certificates and permits in all cases other than safety proceedings where the issues, substantive or procedural, warrant formal expression by the Board, in accordance with instructions of the Board; and recommends to the Board appropriate action on petitions for reconsideration of a previously prepared order and with respect to other motions or petitions filed at any time after the Examiner's report is filed.

OFFICE OF COMPLIANCE

SEC. 9.1 Office of Compliance. The Office of Compliance is responsible for the development and execution of a program designed to obtain observance of the economic provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, and of all economic orders, regulations and other requirements promulgated by the Board. The Office of Compliance initiates and conducts investigations of alleged violations; seeks to obtain voluntary compliance by informal action; negotiates, where appropriate, formal stipulations and other consent agreements to cease and desist from illegal practices or recommends the issuance of an appropriate Board order; seeks adjustment of informal complaints; presents evidence and argument in formal economic enforcement proceedings; institutes and prosecutes civil and criminal actions; and maintains liaison with other government agencies in connection with enforcement activities.

OFFICE OF PUBLIC INFORMATION

SEC. 10.1 Office of Public Information. The Office of Public Information is responsible for dissemination of information to the public and the press, including preparation and initial distribution of news releases, periodic reports and general information relating to the Board's activities, and serves as the primary channel through which general inquiries from the public or press are handled.

OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATION

SEC. 11.1 Organization. The Secretary of the Board also serves as Director of the Office of Administration, which consists of the following organizational components:

(a) Minutes Section.
(b) Budget and Fiscal Section.
(c) Management Section.
(d) Personnel Section.
(e) General Services Section.
(f) Publications Section.
(g) Library.

SEC. 11.2 Documentation. The Secretary is responsible for recording all formal actions of the Board; the processing, including review as to accuracy, form and content, of all documents evidencing such action; and for authenticating Board records for any official purpose. Pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, the Secretary has legal custody of records and documents as specified therein.

SEC. 11.3 Administrative Functions. As Director, Office of Administration, the Secretary is responsible for providing budget, fiscal, management, personnel and other administrative services to the Board and the staff which include: (a) Developing the Board's annual budget estimates for "Salaries and Expenses" as well as estimates of appropriations for "Payments to Air Carriers" and the justification of these estimates before the Bureau of the Budget and the Appropriations Committees of Congress; (b) developing the Board's annual fiscal plan for utilizing its appropriation for "Salaries and Expenses" and maintaining a system for administrative control of expenditures to conform with such plan and the requirements of law and of regulations; (c) disbursement of, and accounting for, subsidy payments to air carriers in accordance with the provisions of Reorganization Plan 10 of 1953, which involves, among other things, review and processing of the carriers' monthly billings; (d) appraisal of and recommendations concerning the organization of the Board, distribution of functions, operating procedures and management techniques and maintenance of a Manual setting forth current organization, methods and administrative practices; (e) recommending and administering personnel policies and programs and insuring that the same comply with the law and regulations and, pursuant to delegation of authority, taking final action on individual personnel matters; (f) provision for space, equipment, supplies, communications, reproduction and other resources and facilities.

MOTOR CARRIER APPLICATIONS

JUNE 10, 1955.

Protests, consisting of an original and two copies, to the granting of an application must be filed with the Commission within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER and a copy of such protest served on the applicant. Each protest must clearly state the name and street number, city and state address of each protestant on behalf of whom the protest is filed (49 CFR 1.240 and 1.241). Failure to seasonably file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding unless an oral hearing is held. In addition to other requirements of Rule 40 of the general rules of practice of the Commission (49 CFR 1.40), protests shall include a request for a public hearing, if one is desired, and shall specify with particularity the facts, matters and things, relied upon, but shall not include issues or allegations phrased generally. Protests containing general allegations may be rejected. Requests for an oral hearing must be supported by an explanation as to why the evidence cannot be submitted in the forms of affidavits. Any interested person, not a protestant, desiring to receive notice of the time and place of any hearing, prehearing conference, taking of depositions, or other proceedings shall notify the Commission by letter or telegram within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Except when circumstances require immediate action, an application for approval, under section 210a (b) of the act, of the temporary operation of motor carrier properties sought to be acquired in an application under section 5 (a) will not be disposed of sooner than 10 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. If a protest is received prior to action being taken, it will be considered.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 812–935]

UNITED STATES & FOREIGN SECURITIES CORP. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATIONS FOR ORDER EXEMPTING TRANSACTIONS BETWEEN AFFILIATES INCIDENT TO MERGER

JUNE 9, 1955.

In the matter of United States & Foreign Securities Corporation, United States & International Securities Corporation, and Devon Securities Corporation; File No. 812–935.

Notice is hereby given that United States & Foreign Securities Corporation ("Foreign"), United States & International Securities Corporation ("International"), and Devon Securities Corporation ("Devon"), registered closed-end investment companies, have filed a joint application pursuant to section 17 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("act") for an order exempting certain transactions pursuant to a merger of said companies and Dunwalke Securities Corporation ("Dunwalke"), a non-registered investment company, from the provisions of section 17 (a) of the act.

Dunwalke owns approximately 17 percent of the outstanding stock of Foreign, which owns approximately 80 percent of the outstanding common stock of International, which in turn owns all of the outstanding stock of Devon. Apart from cash of approximately $3,250,000 Dunwalke's only asset is its holdings of 164,737 shares of common stock of Foreign. Except for International, which has a bank loan and 175,500 common stock warrants outstanding, all of the companies involved have only one class of common stock outstanding.

Pursuant to Articles and Agreement of Merger ("Agreement"), it is proposed to merge International, Devon and Dunwalke into Foreign, the surviving company, by converting shares of the former companies into shares of the latter company. Foreign proposes to increase its authorized common stock from 1,000,000 shares to 3,500,000 shares and issue to its own stockholders three shares of new common stock for each of its presently outstanding 985,000 common shares. In the merger Foreign will issue one new share of its common stock for each two shares of publicly held common stock of International, and Devon, being wholly-owned by International, will be collapsed into the latter company. The common stock holders of Dunwalke will receive, in the merger, one share of new common stock of Foreign for each share of common stock of Dunwalke held, the shares of new common stock of Foreign being available for such distribution through the exchange by Dunwalke of its holdings of 164,737 shares of old common stock of Foreign for new common stock of Foreign on a 1 for 3 basis and the purchase of additional shares of new common stock of Foreign by Dunwalke for cash.

On the basis of the above exchange and sale Foreign will have outstanding, upon completion of the merger, 3,310,815 shares of new common stock, distributed as follows:

3 new shares for each 820,263 old shares of publicly held common stock of Foreign	2,460,789
3 new shares for each 164,737 old shares of common stock of Foreign held by Dunwalke	494,211
½ new share for each 496,890 shares of publicly held common stock of International	248,445
New shares issued for cash of Dunwalke	107,370
	3,310,815

The conversion ratios of the common stocks of Foreign and International have been determined upon the basis of relative adjusted net asset values at April 30, 1955, with securities for which market quotations are readily available being valued at the market value at April 29, 1955, and other securities at their estimated fair values, as determined by the boards of directors. Cash, receivables and liabilities were taken into account at face value. Such adjusted net asset values also reflect distributions prior to the merger of undistributed ordinary net income and realized capital gains since January 1, 1955, an allowance equivalent to federal capital gains tax on unrealized appreciation of investments and an adjustment for outstanding warrants to purchase common stock of International. The adjusted net assets per share as of April 30, 1955, was $90.64 for Foreign and $15.11 for International. After giving effect to the conversion ratios, the adjusted net assets value per new share of Foreign amounted to $30.21 as of April 30, 1955. On this basis it was determined that Dunwalke would receive 107,372 shares of new Foreign common stock for its cash of $3,250,000.

The 175,500 presently outstanding warrants of International, which expire in 1959 and 1960, entitle each holder to purchase one share of International common stock at $85.00 per share. The merger agreement provides that the warrants of International will continue to be outstanding for the same period after the merger, but will represent the right to purchase stock of the continuing corporation, Foreign, at $50 per share, 2 warrants being required for the purchase of each such share. Foreign will reserve 87,750 shares of new common stock for such purpose.

It is recited in the application that Foreign and International have been advised by counsel that in their opinion as a result of the merger no taxable gain or loss will be realized by assenting stockholders, while stockholders who dissent and are paid the value of their shares will have gain or loss recognized for tax purposes.

Applicants declare that the merger is in the best interests of the stockholders of the respective corporations. It is pointed out that the boards of directors and officers of Foreign, International, and Devon are identical and that their portfolio assets are also similar in nature, therefore no useful purpose would be served by the continuation of these companies as separate entities; and it is contended the merger will simplify administration and reduce expenses.

Generally speaking, section 17 (a) of the act prohibits an affiliated person of a registered investment company or any affiliated persons of such a person, from selling to, or purchasing from such registered investment company or any company controlled by such registered investment company, any securities or property, subject to certain exceptions, unless the Commission upon application pursuant to section 17 (b) grants an exemption from the provisions of section 17 (a) after finding that the terms of the proposed transaction, including the consideration to be paid, are reasonable and fair and do not involve overreaching on the part of any person concerned, that the proposed transaction is consistent with the policy of each registered investment company concerned, as recited in its registration statement and reports filed under the act and is consistent with the general purposes of the act. Since International and Devon are affiliates of Foreign, the proposed transfer of assets from International and Devon to Foreign is subject to the provisions of section 17 (a) of the act.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 23, 1955, at 5:30 p. m., submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application may be granted as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.

Assistant Secretary.

RELIANCE ELECTRIC & ENGINEERING CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO WITHDRAW FROM LISTING AND REGISTRATION, AND OF OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING

JUNE 9, 1955.

In the matter of the Reliance Electric & Engineering Co., Common Stock, $5 Par Value; File No. 1-2791.

The above-named issuer, pursuant to section 12 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-12D2-1 (b) promulgated thereunder, has made application to withdraw the specified security from listing and registration on the Midwest Stock Exchange.

The reasons alleged in the application for withdrawing this security from listing and registration include the following:

There have been only a few isolated transactions in this stock on the Midwest Stock Exchange in recent years and the shares have been allocated to the inactive post without a specialist.

The stock remains listed and actively traded on the American Stock Exchange.

The Midwest Stock Exchange has waived the voting requirements of its delisting rule.

Upon receipt of a request, on or before June 30, 1955, from any interested person for a hearing in regard to terms to be imposed upon the delisting of this security, the Commission will determine whether to set the matter down for hearing. Such request should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person requesting the hearing and the position he proposes to take at the hearing with respect to imposition of terms. In addition, any interested person may submit his views or any additional facts bearing on this application by means of a letter addressed to the Secretary of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. If no one requests a hearing on this matter, this application will be determined by order of the Commission on the basis of the facts stated in the application and other information contained in the official file of the Commission pertaining to the matter.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] NELLYE A. THORSEN,
Assistant Secretary.

concerning the recent identical amendments to the definitions of "savings deposit" in paragraph (e) of § 204.1 and paragraph (e) of § 217.1 of this subchapter, effective May 16, 1955 (20 F. R. 3305).

The question was whether such amendments would permit a bank that maintained for its customer a "savings deposit" evidenced by a written receipt or agreement although not by a pass book, to pay a check against such a deposit drawn by the depositor payable to a third party, where the depositor was required by the deposit agreement to give 30 days' advance written notice of withdrawal. The Board replied that it would not be permissible for the bank to pay the check and continue to classify the account as a "savings deposit".

The amendments in question require that withdrawals may be made "only through payment to the depositor himself but not to any other person whether or not acting for the depositor". Although the footnotes to the amendments state that "Payment may be made to the depositor over the counter, through the mails or otherwise", in the situation presented by the inquiry payment would not be made "to the depositor", but rather to a third party. The footnotes merely explain that the depositor would not necessarily have to go to the bank in person to make a withdrawal. For example, it would be permissible for the bank to make payment to the depositor by mailing him a check, or it would be permissible for the depositor to send a messenger to the bank and for the bank to deliver to the messenger a check payable to the depositor.

Whether the particular deposit agreement is one with respect to which the bank merely reserves the right to require 30 days' advance written notice of withdrawal or is one which specifically requires 30 days' advance written notice of withdrawal, payment in the manner contemplated by the inquiry would not be in conformity with the amendments in question.

PART 20—RETENTION PREFERENCE REGULATIONS FOR USE IN REDUCTION IN FORCE

COMPILATION OF RETENTION REGISTERS

Effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, § 20.4 (d) (1) is amended to read as follows:

§ 20.4 Order of selection. * * *

(d) Retention Register—(1) Compilation. When two or more competing employees are in a competitive level which is to be affected by a reduction in force, the retention records of such employees shall be brought up to date and a retention register shall be compiled. All employees in positions in the particular competitive level, whether in duty, leave, or furlough status, excluding only those absent in the military service with reemployment rights, shall be entered on the register in the order of tenure groups and subgroups, and according to retention credits in any subgroup when there are two or more. One (1) retention credit shall be given for each full year of Federal Government service, and four (4) retention credits shall be given for an "outstanding" performance rating. Two (2) retention credits shall be given for a rating representing a level of performance between "Satisfactory" and "Outstanding" where the agency's performance rating plan provides for a fourth performance rating level. If any employees serving under temporary appointments specifically limited to one (1) year or less are assigned to positions in the competitive level, their names and the expiration dates of their appointments shall be entered below the space provided for employees in tenure groups on the register. Likewise, if there are any employees serving in positions in the competitive level under any kind of appointments, with current official performance ratings of "Unsatisfactory," their names shall be entered on the register below the names of temporary employees.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 721; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Standard Sewing Equipment Corporation et al., New York, N. Y., Docket 5888, May 2, 1955]

In the Matter of Standard Sewing Equipment Corporation, a Corporation, and William J. Hackett and Harry Kron, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

This proceeding was heard by Frank Hier, hearing examiner, upon the complaint of the Commission which charged respondents with unfair methods of competition and unfair and deceptive acts and practices in commerce, in violation of the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act, respondents' answer, and hearings at which testimony and other evidence, duly recorded in the office of the Commission, in support of and in opposition to the allegations of said complaint, were introduced before said hearing examiner, theretofore duly designated by the Commission.

Thereafter the proceeding regularly came on for final consideration by said hearing examiner on the complaint, the answer thereto, testimony and other evidence, proposed findings as to the facts and conclusions presented by counsel; and said hearing examiner, having duly considered the record in the matter and having found that the proceeding was in the interest of the public, made his initial decision comprising certain findings as to the facts, conclusions drawn therefrom, and order, including order to cease and desist and order of dismissal as to any issues raised by the complaint other than those to which said order to cease and desist related.

Thereafter, following respondents' appeal from said initial decision, and the opinion and decision of the Commission in which said appeal was granted in part and denied in part, the matter was disposed of by the Commission's "Final Order", dated May 2, 1955, as follows:

Respondents, Standard Sewing Equipment Corporation, a corporation, and William J. Hackett and Harry Kron, individually and as officers of said corporation, having filed on April 12, 1954, their appeal from the initial decision of the hearing examiner in this proceeding; and the matter having been heard by the Commission on briefs and oral argument; and the Commission having rendered its decision granting in part and denying in part said appeal:

It is ordered, That the order contained in the aforesaid initial decision, be, and it hereby is, modified to read as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondents, Standard Sewing Equipment Corporation, a corporation, and William J. Hackett and Harry Kron, individually and as officers of said corporation, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of sewing machine heads or sewing machines in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Offering for sale, selling or distributing foreign-made sewing machine heads or sewing machines of which foreign-made heads are a part, without clearly and conspicuously disclosing on the heads the country of origin thereof, in such manner that it cannot readily be hidden or obliterated.

2. Using the word "Universal," or any simulation thereof, as a brand or trade name to designate, describe or refer to their sewing machine heads or sewing machines of which the heads are a part, unless there appears in connection therewith, in legible and clearly visible marking, the name of the corporate respondent "Standard Sewing Equipment Corporation."

It is further ordered, That with respect to any issue raised by the complaint other than those to which this order relates, the complaint be, and the same hereby is, dismissed.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the above provisions.

It is further ordered, That the initial decision of the hearing examiner, as modified herein, be, and it hereby is, affirmed.

Issued: May 2, 1955.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

[Ex Parte 179]

PART 91—LOCOMOTIVE INSPECTION

INSPECTION AND TESTING OF MULTIPLE UNIT EQUIPMENT; MODIFICATION OF EFFECTIVE DATE

Upon consideration of the record in the above-entitled proceeding, and for good cause appearing:

It is ordered, That the orders of May 18, 1954, August 9, 1954, and November 30, 1954, be, and they are hereby, modified by further postponing the effective date of the rules and instructions for the inspection and testing of electrically operated units designed to carry freight and/or passengers, operated by a single set of controls, from July 1, 1955, to September 1, 1955, and by substituting September 1, 1955, for September 1, 1954, wherever it appears in the said order of May 18, 1954, as amended, without change otherwise; and

It is further ordered, That notice of this order shall be given to the general public by posting a copy thereof in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing a copy with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

(Sec. 5, 36 Stat. 914, as amended; 45 U. S. C. 28)

Dated at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of June A. D. 1955.

§ 509.101 Introductory. The income tax convention between the United States and the Swiss Confederation, signed May 24, 1951, and proclaimed by the President of the United States on October 1, 1951, subject to the understanding expressed in the protocol of exchange, hereinafter referred to as the convention, provides as follows, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951:

ARTICLE I

(1) The taxes referred to in this Convention are:

(a) In the case of the United States of America: The Federal income taxes, including surtaxes and excess profits taxes.

(b) In the case of The Swiss Confederation: The federal, cantonal and communal taxes on income (total income, earned income, income from property, industrial and commercial profits, etc.).

(2) The present Convention shall also apply to any other income or profits tax of a substantially similar character imposed by either contracting State subsequently to the date of signature of the present Convention.

ARTICLE II

(1) As used in this Convention:

(a) The term "United States" means the United States of America, and when used in a geographical sense means the States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

(b) The term "Switzerland" means The Swiss Confederation.

(c) The term "permanent establishment" means a branch, office, factory, workshop, warehouse or other fixed place of business, but does not include the casual and temporary use of merely storage facilities, nor does it include an agency unless the agent has and habitually exercises a general authority to negotiate and conclude contracts on behalf of an enterprise or has a stock of merchandise from which he regularly fills orders on its behalf. An enterprise of one of the contracting States shall not be deemed to have a permanent establishment in the other State merely because it carries on business dealings in such other State through a commission agent, broker or custodian or other independent agent acting in the ordinary course of his business as such. The fact that an enterprise of one of the contracting States maintains in the other State a fixed place of business exclusively for the purchase of goods or merchandise shall not of itself constitute such fixed place of business a permanent establishment of such enterprise. The fact that a corporation of one contracting State has a subsidiary corporation which is a corporation of the other State or which is engaged in trade or business in the other State shall not of itself constitute that subsidiary corporation a permanent establishment of its parent corporation. The maintenance within the territory of one of the contracting States by an enterprise of the other contracting State of a warehouse for convenience of delivery and not for purposes of display shall not of itself constitute a permanent establishment within that territory even though offers of purchase have been obtained by an agent of the enterprise in that territory and transmitted by him to the enterprise for acceptance.

(d) The term "enterprise of one of the contracting States" means, as the case may be, "United States enterprise" or "Swiss enterprise".

(e) The term "United States enterprise" means an industrial or commercial enterprise or undertaking carried on in the United States by a resident (including an individual, fiduciary and partnership) of the United States or by a United States corporation or other entity; the term "United States corporation or other entity" means a corporation or other entity created or organized under the law of the United States or of any State or Territory of the United States.

(f) The term "Swiss enterprise" means an industrial or commercial enterprise or undertaking carried on in Switzerland by an individual resident in Switzerland or by a Swiss corporation or other entity; the term "Swiss corporation or other entity" means a corporation or institution or foundation having juridical personality, or a partnership (association "en nom collectif" or "en commandite"), or other association without juridical personality, created or organized under Swiss laws.

(g) The term "competent authorities" means, in the case of the United States, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue as authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury; and in the case of Switzerland, the Director of the Federal Tax Administration as authorized by the Federal Department of Finances and Customs.

(h) The term "industrial or commercial profits" includes manufacturing, mercantile, mining, financial and insurance profits, but does not include income in the form of dividends, interest, rents or royalties, or remuneration for personal services: Provided, however, that such excepted items of income shall, subject to the provisions of this Convention, be taxed separately or together with industrial or commercial profits in accordance with the laws of the contracting States.

(2) In the application of the provisions of the present Convention by one of the contracting States any term not otherwise defined shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the meaning which such term has under its own tax laws.

ARTICLE III

(1) (a) A Swiss enterprise shall not be subject to taxation by the United States in respect of its industrial and commercial profits unless it is engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein. If it is so engaged the United States may impose its tax upon the entire income of such enterprise from sources within the United States.

(b) A United States enterprise shall not be subject to taxation by Switzerland in respect of its industrial and commercial profits except as to such profits allocable to its permanent establishment situated in Switzerland.

(2) No account shall be taken in determining the tax in one of the contracting States of the mere purchase of merchandise therein by an enterprise of the other State.

(3) Where an enterprise of one of the contracting States is engaged in trade or business in the territory of the other contracting State through a permanent establishment situated therein, there shall be attributed to such permanent establishment the industrial or commercial profits which it might be expected to derive if it were an independent enterprise engaged in the same or similar activities under the same or similar conditions and dealing at arm's length with the enterprise of which it is a permanent establishment.

(4) In the determination of the industrial or commercial profits of the permanent establishment there shall be allowed as deductions all expenses which are reasonably applicable to the permanent establishment, including executive and general administrative expenses so applicable.

(5) The competent authorities of the two contracting States may lay down rules by agreement for the apportionment of industrial and commercial profits.

ARTICLE IV

Where an enterprise of one of the contracting States, by reason of its participation in the management or the financial structure of an enterprise of the other contracting State, makes with or imposes on the latter, in their commercial or financial relations, conditions different from those which would be made with an independent enterprise, any profits which would normally have accrued to one of the enterprises, but by reason of those conditions have not so accrued, may be included in the profits of that enterprise and taxed accordingly.

ARTICLE V

Income which an enterprise of one of the contracting States derives from the operation of ships or aircraft registered in that State shall be taxable only in the State in which such ships or aircraft are registered.

ARTICLE VI

(1) The rate of tax imposed by one of the contracting States upon dividends derived from sources within such State by a resident or corporation or other entity of the other contracting State not having a permanent establishment in the former State shall not exceed 15 percent: Provided, however, that this paragraph shall have no application to Swiss tax in the case of dividends derived from Switzerland by a Swiss citizen (who is not also a citizen of the United States) resident in the United States.

(2) It is agreed, however, that such rate of tax shall not exceed five percent if the shareholder is a corporation controlling, directly or indirectly, at least 95 percent of the entire voting power in the corporation paying the dividend, and if not more than 25 percent of the gross income of such paying corporation is derived from interest and dividends, other than interest and dividends received from its own subsidiary corporations. Such reduction of the rate to five percent shall not apply if the relationship of the two corporations has been arranged or is maintained primarily with the intention of securing such reduced rate.

(3) Switzerland may collect its tax without regard to paragraphs (1) and (2) of this Article but will make refund of the tax so collected in excess of the tax computed at the reduced rates provided in such paragraphs.

ARTICLE VII

(1) The rate of tax imposed by one of the contracting States on interest on bonds, securities, notes, debentures or on any other form of indebtedness (including mortgages or bonds secured by real property) derived from sources within such contracting State by a resident or corporation or other entity of the other contracting State not having a permanent establishment in the former State shall not exceed five percent: Provided, however, that this paragraph shall have no application to Swiss tax in the case of interest derived from Switzerland by a Swiss citizen (who is not also a citizen of the United States) resident in the United States.

(2) Switzerland may collect its tax without regard to paragraph (1) of this Article but will make refund of the tax so collected in excess of the tax computed at the reduced rate provided in such paragraph.

ARTICLE VIII

Royalties and other amounts derived, as consideration for the right to use copyrights, artistic and scientific works, patents, designs, plans, secret processes and formulae, trademarks, and other like property and rights (including rentals and like payments in respect to motion picture films or for the use of industrial, commercial or scientific equipment), from sources within one of the contracting States by a resident or corporation or other entity of the other contracting State not having a permanent establishment in the former State shall be exempt from taxation in such former State.

ARTICLE IX

(1) Income from real property (including gains derived from the sale or exchange of such property but not including interest from mortgages or bonds secured by real property) and royalties in respect of the operation of mines, quarries, or other natural resources, shall be taxable only in the contracting State in which such property, mines, quarries, or other natural resources are situated.

(2) A resident or corporation or other entity of one of the contracting States deriving any such income from such property within the other contracting State may, for any taxable year, elect to be subject to the tax of such other contracting State, on a net basis, as if such resident or corporation or entity were engaged in trade or business within such other contracting State through a permanent establishment therein during such taxable year.

ARTICLE X

(1) An individual resident of Switzerland shall be exempt from United States tax upon compensation for labor or personal services performed in the United States (including the practice of the liberal professions and rendition of services as director) if he is temporarily present in the United States for a period or periods not exceeding a total of 183 days during the taxable year and either of the following conditions is met:

(a) His compensation is received for such labor or personal services performed as an employee of, or under contract with, a resident or corporation or other entity of Switzerland, or

(b) His compensation received for such labor or personal services does not exceed $10,000.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) of this Article shall apply mutatis mutandis, to an individual resident of the United States with respect to compensation for such labor or personal services performed in Switzerland.

(3) The provisions of this Article shall have no application to the income to which Article XI (1) relates.

(4) The provisions of paragraph (1) (a) of this Article shall not apply to the compensation, profits, emoluments or other remuneration of public entertainers such as stage, motion picture or radio artists, musicians and athletes.

ARTICLE XI

(1) (a) Wages, salaries and similar compensation, and pensions paid by the United States or by the political subdivisions or territories thereof to an individual (other than a Swiss citizen who is not also a citizen of the United States) shall be exempt from Swiss tax.

(b) Wages, salaries and similar compensation and pensions paid by Switzerland or by any agency or instrumentality thereof or by any political subdivisions or other public authorities thereof to an individual (other than a United States citizen who is not also a citizen of Switzerland) shall be exempt from United States tax.

(2) Private pensions and life annuities derived from within one of the contracting States and paid to individuals residing in the other contracting State shall be exempt from taxation in the former State.

(3) The term "pensions", as used in this Article, means periodic payments made in consideration for services rendered or by way of compensation for injuries received.

(4) The term "life annuities" as used in this Article, means a stated sum payable periodically at stated times during life, or during a specified number of years, under an obligation to make the payments in return for adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

ARTICLE XII

A professor or teacher, a resident of one of the contracting States, who temporarily visits the other contracting State for the purpose of teaching for a period not exceeding two years at a university, college, school or other educational institution in the other contracting State, shall be exempted in such other contracting State from tax on his remuneration for such teaching for such period.

ARTICLE XIII

A student or apprentice, a resident of one of the contracting States, who temporarily visits the other contracting State exclusively for the purposes of study or for acquiring business or technical experience shall not be taxable in the latter State in respect of remittances received by him from abroad for the purposes of his maintenance or studies.

ARTICLE XIV

(1) Dividends and interest paid by a corporation other than a United States domestic corporation shall be exempt from United States tax where the recipient is a nonresident alien as to the United States resident in Switzerland or a Swiss corporation, not having a permanent establishment in the United States.

(2) Dividends and interest paid by a corporation other than a Swiss corporation shall be exempt from Swiss tax where the recipient is a resident or corporation of the United States, not having a permanent establishment in Switzerland.

ARTICLE XV

(1) It is agreed that double taxation shall be avoided in the following manner:

(a) The United States in determining its taxes specified in Article I of this Convention in the case of its citizens, residents or corporations may, regardless of any other provision of this Convention, include in the basis upon which such taxes are imposed all items of income taxable under the revenue laws of the United States as if this Convention had not come into effect. The United States shall, however, subject to the provisions of section 131, Internal Revenue Code, as in effect on the date of the entry into force of this Convention, deduct from its taxes the amount of Swiss taxes specified in Article I of this Convention. It is agreed that by virtue of the provisions of subparagraph (b) of this paragraph, Switzerland satisfies the similar credit requirement set forth in section 131 (a) (3), Internal Revenue Code.

(b) Switzerland, in determining its taxes specified in Article I of this Convention in the case of its residents, corporations or other entities, shall exclude from the basis upon which such taxes are imposed such items of income as are dealt with in this Convention, derived from the United States and not exempt from, and not entitled to the reduced rate of, United States tax under this Convention; but in the case of a citizen of the United States resident in Switzerland there shall be excluded all items of income derived from the United States. Switzerland, however, reserves the right to take into account in the determination of the rate of its taxes also the income excluded as provided in this paragraph.

(2) The provisions of this Article shall not be construed to deny the exemptions from United States tax or Swiss tax, as the case may be, granted by Article XI (1) of this Convention.

ARTICLE XVI

(1) The competent authorities of the contracting States shall exchange such information (being information available under the respective taxation laws of the contracting States) as is necessary for carrying out the provisions of the present Convention or for the prevention of fraud or the like in relation to the taxes which are the subject of the present Convention. Any information so exchanged shall be treated as secret and shall not be disclosed to any person other than those concerned with the assessment and collection of the taxes which are the subject of the present Convention. No information shall be exchanged which would disclose any trade, business, industrial or professional secret or any trade process.

(2) Each of the contracting States may collect such taxes imposed by the other contracting State as though such taxes were the taxes of the former State as will ensure that the exemption or reduced rate of tax granted under Articles VI, VII, VIII and XI (2) of the present Convention by such other State shall not be enjoyed by persons not entitled to such benefits.

(3) In no case shall the provisions of this Article be construed so as to impose upon either of the contracting States the obligation to carry out administrative measures at variance with the regulations and practice of either contracting State or which would be contrary to its sovereignty, security or public policy or to supply particulars which are not procurable under its own legislation or that of the State making application.

ARTICLE XVII

(1) Where a taxpayer shows proof that the action of the tax authorities of the contracting States has resulted, or will result, in double taxation contrary to the provisions of the present Convention, he shall be entitled to present the facts to the State of which he is a citizen or a resident, or, if the taxpayer is a corporation or other entity, to the State in which it is created or organized. Should the taxpayer's claim be deemed worthy of consideration, the competent authority of such State shall undertake to come to an agreement with the competent authority of the other State with a view to equitable avoidance of the double taxation in question.

(2) Should any difficulty or doubt arise as to the interpretation or application of the present Convention, or its relationship to Conventions between one of the contracting States and any other State, the competent authorities of the contracting States may settle the question by mutual agreement.

ARTICLE XVIII

(1) The provisions of this Convention shall not be construed to deny or affect in any manner the right of diplomatic and consular offices to other or additional exemptions now enjoyed or which may hereafter be granted to such officers.

(2) The provisions of the present Convention shall not be construed to restrict in any manner any exemption, deduction, credit or other allowance now or hereafter accorded by the laws of one of the contracting States in the determination of the tax imposed by such State.

(3) The citizens of one of the contracting States shall not, while resident in the other contracting State, be subjected therein to other or more burdensome taxes than are the citizens of such other contracting State residing in its territory. The term "citizens" as used in this Article includes all legal persons, partnerships and associations created or organized under the laws in force in the respective contracting States. In this Article the word "taxes" means taxes of every kind or description, whether Federal, State, cantonal, municipal or communal.

ARTICLE XIX

(1) The competent authorities of the two contracting States may prescribe regulations necessary to carry into effect the present Convention within the respective States.

(2) The competent authorities of the two contracting States may communicate with each other directly for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this Convention.

ARTICLE XX

(1) The present Convention shall be ratified and the instruments of ratification shall be exchanged at Berne as soon as possible. It shall have effect for the taxable years beginning on or after the first day of January of the year in which such exchange takes place: Provided, however, that if such exchange takes place on or after October 1 of such year, Article VI (except paragraph (2) thereof) and Article VII of the Convention shall have effect only for taxable years beginning on or after the first day of January of the year immediately following the year in which such exchange takes place.

(2) The present Convention shall continue effective for a period of five years beginning with the calendar year in which the exchange of the instruments of ratification takes place and indefinitely after that period, but may be terminated by either of the contracting States at the end of the five-year period or at any time thereafter, provided that at least six months' prior notice of termination has been given and, in such event, the present Convention shall cease to be effective for the taxable years beginning on or after the first day of January next following the expiration of the six-month period.

For the President of the United States of America:

[SEAL] DEAN ACHESON.

For the Swiss Federal Council:

[SEAL] CHARLES BRUGGMANN.

PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES DATED OCTOBER 1, 1951

* * * * * *

And whereas the Senate of the United States of America, by their resolution of September 17, 1951, two-thirds of the Senators present concurring therein, did advise and consent to the ratification of the aforesaid convention, subject to a reservation, as follows:

"The Government of the United States of America does not accept paragraph (4) of Article X of the Convention, relating to the profits or remuneration of public entertainers."

And whereas the text of the aforesaid reservation was communicated by the Government of the United States of America to the Government of the Swiss Confederation and the aforesaid reservation was accepted by the Government of the Swiss Confederation;

And whereas the aforesaid convention was duly ratified by the President of the United States of America on September 20, 1951, in pursuance of the aforesaid advice and consent of the Senate and subject to the aforesaid reservation, and the aforesaid convention was duly ratified on the part of the Swiss Confederation;

And whereas the respective instruments of ratification of the aforesaid convention were duly exchanged at Bern on September 27, 1951, and a protocol of exchange of instruments of ratification, in the English and French languages, was signed at that place and on that date by the respective Plenipotentiaries of the United States of America and the Swiss Confederation, the said protocol containing a statement that it is understood by the two Governments that the convention aforesaid, upon entry into force in accordance with its provisions, is modified in accordance with the aforesaid reservation, so that, in effect, paragraph (4) of Article X of the convention is deemed to be deleted;

And whereas, so far as appertains to an exchange of instruments of ratification prior to October 1 of any year, it is provided in Article XX of the aforesaid convention that upon the exchange of instruments of ratification the convention shall have effect for the taxable years beginning or [sic] or after the first day of January of the year in which such exchange takes place;

Now, therefore, be it known that I, Harry S. Truman, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and make public the aforesaid convention to the end that the said convention and each and every article and clause thereof, subject to the aforesaid reservation, may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States of America and by the citizens of the United States of America and all other persons subject to the jurisdiction thereof.

§ 509.102 Applicable provisions of law—(a) General. The Internal Revenue Code of 1954 provides in part as follows:

SUBTITLE A—INCOME TAXES

* * * * *

SEC. 894. Income exempt under treaty. Income of any kind, to the extent required by any treaty obligation of the United States, shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from taxation under this subtitle.

* * * * *

SUBTITLE F—PROCEDURE AND ADMINISTRATION

* * * * *

SEC. 7805. Rules and regulations—(a) Authorization. Except where such authority is expressly given by this title to any person other than an officer or employee of the Treasury Department, the Secretary or his delegate shall prescribe all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this title, including all rules and regulations as may be necessary by reason of any alteration of law in relation to internal revenue.

(b) Retroactivity of regulations or rulings. The Secretary or his delegate may prescribe the extent, if any, to which any ruling or regulation, relating to the internal revenue laws, shall be applied without retroactive effect.

* * * * *

(b) Internal Revenue Code of 1939. Any reference in this part to any provision of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 shall, where applicable, be deemed also to refer to the corresponding provision of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939.

(c) Effective date of regulations. Pursuant to sections 894 and 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, Article XIX of the convention, and other provisions of the internal revenue laws, this part is hereby prescribed effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951. All regulations inconsistent herewith are modified accordingly.

§ 509.103 Scope of the convention—(a) Purposes of convention. The primary purposes of the convention, to be accomplished on a reciprocal basis, are to avoid double taxation upon certain items of income derived from sources in one country by residents or corporations or other entities of the other country and to provide for administrative cooperation between the competent tax authorities of the two countries looking to the avoidance of double taxation and the prevention of fiscal evasion.

(b) Exemption from United States tax. The following items of income from sources within the United States are exempt from United States tax for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951, subject to the respective articles of the convention:

(1) Industrial and commercial profits of a Swiss enterprise having no permanent establishment in the United States (Article III);

(2) Income derived by a Swiss enterprise from the operation of ships or aircraft registered in Switzerland (Article V);

(3) Patent and copyright royalties, and other like amounts, including motion picture film rentals, derived by a nonresident alien who is a resident of Switzerland, or by a Swiss corporation or other entity, if such alien, corporation, or other entity has no permanent establishment in the United States (Article VIII);

(4) Compensation, subject to certain limitations, for personal services performed in the United States by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland (Article X);

(5) Compensation and pensions paid by Switzerland to an alien individual, and to a citizen of Switzerland who is also a citizen of the United States, including such items as are from sources without the United States (Article XI);

(6) Private pensions and life annuities paid to a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland (Article XI);

(7) Remuneration derived from certain teaching in the United States by a professor or teacher who is a nonresident alien residing in Switzerland (Article XII); and

(8) Dividends and interest paid by a foreign corporation to a nonresident alien who is a resident of Switzerland, or to a Swiss corporation, if such alien or corporation has no permanent establishment in the United States (Article XIV).

(c) Students or apprentices. Remittances received from abroad for the purpose of maintenance or studies by a student or apprentice, a nonresident alien residing in Switzerland, who is temporarily present in the United States under specified circumstances are also exempt from United States tax (Article XIII).

(d) Reduced rates of United States tax. Dividends and interest derived from sources within the United States by a nonresident alien who is a resident of Switzerland, or by a Swiss corporation or other entity, are subject to United States tax at reduced rates, if such alien, corporation, or other entity has no permanent establishment in the United States (Articles VI and VII).

(e) Withholding regulations. For regulations pertaining to the release of excess tax withheld, and to exemption from, or reduction in the rate of, withholding of United States tax at source, in the case of dividends, interest, patent and copyright royalties, film rentals, private pensions, and life annuities, received from sources within the United States by a nonresident alien who is a resident of Switzerland, or by a Swiss corporation or other entity, see 26 CFR (1939) 7.300 through 7.309 (Treasury Decision 5867, approved November 21, 1951).

(f) Other provisions. Except as otherwise expressly provided by the convention, the United States tax liability of a nonresident alien who is a resident of Switzerland, or of a Swiss corporation or other entity, is determined in accordance with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 relating to nonresident alien individuals and foreign corporations.

(g) Foreign tax credit. Any citizen of Switzerland who is a resident of the United States is liable to United States tax as though the convention had not come into effect; however, such alien resident of the United States is entitled, in accordance with Article XV and subject to section 901 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, to a credit against the United States tax for the Swiss tax, if any, and is also entitled to the benefits of Article XV (2) and Article XVIII. Moreover, a citizen of the United States, even though resident in Switzerland, or a domestic corporation, even though engaged in trade or business in Switzerland through a permanent establishment situated therein, is liable to United States tax as though the convention had not come into effect but is likewise entitled, subject to section 901 of the Code, to a credit against the United States tax for the Swiss tax.

(h) Swiss partnerships—(1) General. Whether an individual, corporation, or other entity, a member of a partnership created or organized under Swiss laws, is subject to United States tax upon such person's distributive share of the income of such partnership depends upon both the status of the partnership and the status of such member.

(2) Citizen partner. A citizen or resident of the United States, or a domestic corporation, is subject to United States tax upon such person's distributive share of the income of such partnership as though the convention had not come into effect (but subject to the provisions of § 509.118) even though other members, by reason of benefits granted by the convention, are not subject to United States tax upon their distributive share of such income.

(3) Noncitizen partner. In any case in which income is derived from sources within the United States by a partnership created or organized under Swiss laws, any member of such partnership who has a permanent establishment in the United States or who is either a nonresident alien not a resident of Switzerland or is a foreign corporation which is not Swiss is not entitled, with respect to such member's distributive share of such income, to any benefit granted by the convention solely to nonresident aliens residing in Switzerland, or to Swiss corporations or other entities, having no permanent establishment in the United States. Conversely, any member of such partnership who individually complies with the requirements for obtaining any such benefit will be entitled thereto with respect to such member's distributive share of such income. A member of a Swiss partnership which has a permanent establishment in the United States shall likewise be considered to have a permanent establishment in the United States.

§ 509.104 Definitions—(a) General. Any term defined in the convention or this part shall have the meaning so assigned to it; any term not so defined shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the meaning which such term has under the internal revenue laws of the United States.

(b) Specific terms. As used in this part:

(1) United States tax. The term "United States tax" means the Federal income taxes, including surtaxes and excess profits taxes, and any other income or profits tax of a substantially similar character imposed by the United States after May 24, 1951.

(2) Swiss tax. The term "Swiss tax" means the federal, cantonal, and communal taxes on income—that is, on total income, earned income, income from property, industrial and commercial profits, etc.—and any other income or profits tax of a substantially similar character imposed by Switzerland after May 24, 1951.

(3) United States. The term "United States" means the United States of America; and, when used in a geographical sense, means the States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

(4) Switzerland. The term "Switzerland" means the Swiss Confederation.

(5) Permanent establishment—(i) Fixed place of business. The term "permanent establishment" means an office, factory, workshop, warehouse, branch, or other fixed place of business, but does not include the casual and temporary use of merely storage facilities. It implies the active conduct of a business enterprise. The mere ownership, for example, of timberlands or a warehouse in the United States by a Swiss enterprise does not mean that such enterprise, in the absence of any business activity therein, has a permanent establishment in the United States. Moreover, the maintenance within the United States by a Swiss enterprise of a warehouse for convenience of delivery, and not for purposes of display, does not of itself constitute a permanent establishment in the United States, even though offers of purchase have been obtained by an agent therein of the Swiss enterprise and transmitted by him to the Swiss enterprise for acceptance. The fact that a Swiss enterprise maintains in the United States an office or other fixed place of business used exclusively for the purchase for such enterprise of goods or merchandise shall not of itself constitute such fixed place of business a permanent establishment of such enterprise.

(ii) Subsidiary corporation. The fact that a Swiss corporation has a domestic subsidiary corporation, or a foreign subsidiary corporation which is engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein, does not of itself constitute either subsidiary corporation the United States permanent establishment of the Swiss parent corporation.

(iii) Agency. A Swiss enterprise which has an agency in the United States does not thereby have a permanent establishment in the United States, unless the agent has, and habitually exercises, a general authority to negotiate and conclude contracts on behalf of such enterprise or unless he has a stock of merchandise from which he regularly fills orders on its behalf. If the enterprise has an agent in the United States who has power to contract on its behalf, but only at fixed prices and under conditions determined by such principal, it does not thereby necessarily have a permanent establishment in the United States. The mere fact that an agent of a Swiss enterprise—assuming he has no general authority to negotiate and conclude contracts on behalf of his principal—maintains samples, or occasionally fills orders from incidental stocks of goods maintained, in the United States does not of itself mean that such enterprise has a permanent establishment in the United States. The mere fact that salesmen, employees of a Swiss enterprise, promote the sale of their employer's products in the United States or that a Swiss enterprise transacts business in the United States by means of mail order activities does not mean that such enterprise has a permanent establishment in the United States. A Swiss enterprise shall not be deemed to have a permanent establishment in the United States merely because it carries on business dealings in the United States through a commission agent, broker, custodian, or other independent agent, acting in the ordinary course of his business as such.

(6) Enterprise. The term "enterprise" means any commercial or industrial undertaking carried on by any person, for example, by an individual, partnership, or corporation. It includes such activities as manufacturing, merchandising, mining, processing, banking, and insuring. It does not include the rendition of personal services. Hence, a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland and who performs personal services is not, merely by reason of such services, engaged in a Swiss enterprise within the meaning of the convention; consequently, his liability to United States tax is not determined under Article III of the convention, if he has not otherwise carried on a Swiss enterprise.

(7) Swiss enterprise. The term "Swiss enterprise" means an enterprise carried on in Switzerland by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland, or by a Swiss corporation or other entity. Thus, an enterprise carried on wholly outside Switzerland by a Swiss corporation is not a Swiss enterprise within the meaning of the convention.

(8) Swiss corporation or other entity. The term "Swiss corporation or other entity" means a corporation or institution or foundation having juridical personality, or a partnership (association "en nom collectif" or "en commandite"), or other association without juridical personality, created or organized under Swiss laws.

(9) United States enterprise. The term "United States enterprise" means an enterprise carried on in the United States by a resident of the United States (including an individual, fiduciary, and partnership) or by a United States corporation or other entity.

(10) United States corporation or other entity. The term "United States corporation or other entity" means a corporation or other entity created or organized under the law of the United States or of any State or Territory of the United States.

(11) Industrial and commercial profits. The term "industrial and commercial profits" means profits arising from industrial, commercial, mercantile, manufacturing, and like activities of a Swiss enterprise, including mining, financial, and insurance profits. It does not include income in the form of dividends, interest, rents, royalties, or remuneration for personal services. In determining the industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States of a Swiss enterprise, no profits shall be deemed to arise from the mere purchase of goods or merchandise within the United States by such enterprise. Moreover, in determining such profits of the United States permanent establishment of such enterprise, there shall be allowed as deductions all expenses which are reasonably applicable to the permanent establishment, including executive and general administrative expenses so applicable. See sections 861 through 864, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and the regulations thereunder.

(12) Commissioner. The term "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or his authorized representative.

(13) Director of the Federal Tax Administration. The term "Director of the Federal Tax Administration" means the Director of the Federal Tax Administration (Direktor der eidgenoessischen Steuerverwaltung) of Switzerland.

§ 509.105 Scope of the convention with respect to determination of "industrial and commercial profits"—(a) General. (1) Article III of the convention adopts the principle that an enterprise of one of the contracting States shall not be taxable by the other contracting State upon its industrial and commercial profits unless it is engaged in trade or business in the latter State through a permanent establishment situated therein. Accordingly, a Swiss enterprise is subject to United States tax upon its industrial and commercial profits, to the extent of such profits from sources within the United States, only if it is engaged in trade or business in the United States at some time during the taxable year through a permanent establishment situated therein.

(2) From the standpoint of the United States tax the article has application only to a Swiss enterprise and its industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States. Thus, a nonresident alien individual who is a citizen of Switzerland, or a Swiss corporation or other entity, carrying on an enterprise which is not Swiss, is subject to tax on such income of such enterprise pursuant to section 871 (c) or section 882 (a), Internal Revenue Code of 1954, if such alien, corporation, or other entity has engaged in trade or business in the United States at any time during the taxable year, even though not to the extent of having a permanent establishment therein at any time within such year.

(b) No United States permanent establishment. A Swiss enterprise is not subject to United States tax upon its industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States, nor shall such profits be included in gross income, if it has not at any time during the taxable year engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein. For example, if during the taxable year an enterprise carried on in Switzerland by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland, or by a Swiss corporation, were to sell merchandise, such as watches, dairy products, or liqueurs, in the United States through a commission agent or broker in the United States acting in the ordinary course of his business as such agent or broker, the profits arising from such sale would not be included in gross income and would be exempt from United States tax under Article III of the convention. Similarly, if during the taxable year such enterprise were to secure orders in the United States for such merchandise through its sales agents whose sole function in the United States is sales promotion, the orders being transmitted to Switzerland for acceptance, then the profits arising from such sales would not be included in gross income and would be exempt from United States tax.

(c) United States permanent establishment—(1) General. A Swiss enterprise is subject to United States tax upon its industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States to the same extent as are nonresident aliens or foreign corporations which are subject to tax pursuant to section 871 (c) or section 882 (a), Internal Revenue Code of 1954, if such enterprise has at any time during the taxable year engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein. If it is so engaged, it is subject to United States tax upon its entire income from sources within the United States except to the extent otherwise exempt from United States tax.

(2) Allocation of profits. In the determination of the income taxable to such enterprise for purposes of the United States tax, all industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States shall be deemed to be allocable to the permanent establishment in the United States. Hence, if a Swiss enterprise which has a permanent establishment in the United States at some time during the taxable year were to sell in the United States, through a commission agent therein acting in the ordinary course of his business as such, merchandise which has been produced in Switzerland, the profits arising from such sale would be allocable to the permanent establishment to the extent they are derived from sources within the United States, even though the sale is made independently of the permanent establishment.

(3) Independent basis. The industrial and commercial profits of the permanent establishment in the United States shall be determined as if the establishment were an independent enterprise engaged in the same or similar activities under the same or similar conditions and dealat arm's length, or on an independent basis, with the enterprise of which it is a permanent establishment.

§ 509.106 Control of a United States enterprise by a Swiss enterprise. In effect, Article IV of the convention provides that, if a Swiss enterprise by reason of its control of a United States enterprise imposes on the latter enterprise conditions different from those which would result from normal business relations between independent enterprises, the accounts between the enterprises shall be adjusted in order to ascertain the true taxable income of each enterprise. The purpose is to place the controlled United States enterprise on a tax parity with an uncontrolled United States enterprise by determining, according to the standard of an uncontrolled enterprise, the true taxable income from the property and business of the controlled enterprise. The basic objective of the article is that, if the accounting records do not truly reflect the taxable income from the property and business of the United States enterprise, the Commissioner shall intervene and, by making such distributions, apportionments, or allocations as he may deem necessary of gross income, deductions, credits, or allowances, or of any item or element affecting taxable income, between the United States enterprise and the Swiss enterprise by which it is controlled or directed, shall determine the true taxable income of the United States enterprise. The provisions of section 482 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and the regulations thereunder, shall, insofar as applicable, be followed in the determination of the taxable income of the United States enterprise.

§ 509.107 Income from operation of ships or aircraft. Under Article V of the convention so much of the income from sources within the United States of a Swiss enterprise as consists of earnings derived from the operation of ships or aircraft documented or registered in Switzerland shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax, even though at some time during the taxable year such enterprise has engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein.

§ 509.108 Dividends—(a) General. (1) The rate of United States tax imposed by the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 upon dividends derived from sources within the United States by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland, or by a Swiss corporation or other entity, shall not exceed 15 percent under the provisions of Article VI of the convention, if such alien, corporation, or other entity at no time during the taxable year in which such dividends are derived has a permanent establishment in the United States.

(2) If, for example, a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland performs personal services within the United States during the taxable year, but has at no time during such year a permanent establishment within the United States, he is entitled to the reduced rate of tax with respect to dividends derived in that year from United States sources, as provided in Article VI of the convention, even though under the provisions of section 871 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 he has engaged in trade or business within the United States during such year by reason of his having performed personal services therein.

(b) Dividends paid by related corporation. The rate of United States tax imposed by the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 upon dividends derived from sources within the United States by a Swiss corporation shall not exceed 5 percent under the provisions of Article VI (2) of the convention if:

(1) The Swiss corporation is a shareholder which controls, directly or indirectly, at the time the dividend is paid 95 percent or more of the entire voting power in the corporation paying the dividend;

(2) Not more than 25 percent of the gross income of the paying corporation for the three-year period immediately preceding the taxable year in which the dividend is paid consists of dividends and interest (other than dividends and interest received by such paying corporation from its own subsidiary corporations, if any);

(3) The relationship between the paying corporation and the Swiss corporation has not been arranged or maintained primarily with the intention of securing the reduced rate of 5 percent; and

(4) The Swiss corporation at no time during the taxable year in which such dividends are derived has a permanent establishment in the United States.

§ 509.109 Interest. The rate of United States tax imposed by the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 upon interest on bonds, securities, notes, debentures, or on any other form of indebtedness, including interest on obligations of the United States, obligations of instrumentalities of the United States, and mortgages and bonds secured by real property, which is derived from sources within the United States by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland, or by a Swiss corporation or other entity, shall not exceed 5 percent under the provisions of Article VII of the convention, if such alien, corporation, or other entity at no time during the taxable year in which such interest is derived has a permanent establishment in the United States.

§ 509.110 Patent and copyright royalties and film rentals. Royalties and other amounts representing consideration for the right to use copyrights, artistic and scientific works, patents, designs, plans, secret processes and formulae, trademarks, and other like property and rights, including rentals and like payments in respect to motion picture films or for the use of industrial, commercial, or scientific equipment, which are derived from sources within the United States by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland, or by a Swiss corporation or other entity, are exempt from United States tax under the provisions of Article VIII of the convention if such alien, corporation, or other entity at no time during the taxable year in which such items of income are derived has a permanent establishment in the United States.

§ 509.111 Real property income and natural resource royalties—(a) General. Income of whatever nature derived by a nonresident alien who is a resident of Switzerland, or by a Swiss corporation or other entity, from real property situated in the United States, including gains derived from the sale or exchange of such property, rentals from such property, and royalties in respect of the operation of mines, quarries, or other natural resources situated in the United States, is not exempt from United States tax by the convention. Such items of income are subject to taxation under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 generally applicable to the taxation of nonresident alien individuals and foreign corporations. See Article IX of the convention. Interest derived from mortgages and bonds secured by real property does not constitute income from real property for purposes of this section but is subject to the provisions applicable to interest generally. See § 509.109.

(b) Net basis—(1) General. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, a nonresident alien who is a resident of Switzerland, or a Swiss corporation or other entity, who during the taxable year derives from sources within the United States any income from real property as described in such paragraph may elect for such taxable year to be subject to United States tax on a net basis as though such alien, corporation, or other entity were engaged in trade or business in the United States during such year through a permanent establishment situated therein.

(2) Manner of electing. Such nonresident alien (including an individual, fiduciary, and member of a partnership) shall signify his election to be subject to tax on such a basis by filing Form 1040B clearly marked at the top of the first page thereof as follows: "Return of Resident of Switzerland Electing to File on a Net Basis Pursuant to Article IX of Swiss Income Tax Convention". Such corporation shall signify its election to be subject to tax on such a basis by filing Form 1120 clearly marked at the top of the first page thereof as follows: "Return of Nonresident Swiss Corporation Electing to File on a Net Basis Pursuant to Article IX of Swiss Income Tax Convention". The election so signified shall be irrevocable for the taxable year for which such election is made. All income from sources within the United States, including gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets or of other property, shall be disclosed on the return so filed. See sections 871 and 882 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and the regulations thereunder.

§ 509.112 Compensation for labor or personal services—(a) Exemption from tax. Under Article X of the convention compensation received by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland for labor or personal services, including the practice of the liberal professions and the rendition of services as a director, performed in the United States shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax in either of the following situations:

(1) Swiss employer. Where such individual is temporarily present in the United States for a period or periods not exceeding in the aggregate a total of 183 days during a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1951, any compensation received by him (irrespective of when received, if received in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951) for such labor or personal services performed in the United States during such year as an employee of, or under contract with, a nonresident alien (including a nonresident alien individual and fiduciary) who is a resident of Switzerland, or a Swiss corporation or other entity, whether or not such alien, corporation, or other entity is engaged in trade or business within the United States, shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax.

(2) Other employers. Where such individual is temporarily present in the United States for a period or periods not exceeding in the aggregate a total of 183 days during a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1951, any compensation received by him (irrespective of when received, if received in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951) for such labor or personal services performed in the United States during such year shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax if such compensation does not exceed $10,000 in the aggregate. Thus, if a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland performs personal services in the United States during the taxable year as an employee of a domestic corporation for which he receives compensation of $15,000 in the aggregate, none of such compensation shall be exempt from United States tax even though such individual is present in the United States during such year for a period or periods not exceeding a total of 183 days, since the aggregate compensation received is in excess of $10,000.

(b) Definitions. For purposes of this section, the term "compensation for labor or personal services" shall include, but shall not be limited to, the compensation, profits, emoluments, or other remuneration of public entertainers, such as, stage, motion picture, television, or radio artists, musicians, and athletes. For the allocation or segregation as between sources within, and sources without, the United States in the case of compensation for labor or personal services, see sections 861 through 864, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and the regulations thereunder.

§ 509.113 Government wages, salaries, and pensions—(a) General. Under Article XI of the convention any wage, salary, or similar compensation, or any pension, paid by Switzerland or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or by any political subdivisions or other public authorities of Switzerland, to any alien individual (whether or not a resident of the United States) or to any individual who occupies the dual status of a citizen of the United States and a citizen of Switzerland shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax, even though at some time during the taxable year such individual has engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein.

(b) Definition. As used in this section, the term "pensions" means periodic payments made in consideration for services rendered or by way of compensation for injuries received. Under Article XV (2) of the convention the exclusion from gross income, and exemption from United States tax, provided by this section shall not be denied despite the provisions of Article XV. See § 509.118.

(c) Cross reference. For the taxation generally of compensation of alien employees of foreign governments and the consequences of executing and filing the waiver provided for in section 247 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, see section 893 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and the regulations thereunder.

§ 509.114 Private pensions and life annuities—(a) General. Private pensions and life annuities derived from sources within the United States and paid to a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Switzerland shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax, in accordance with Article XI of the convention, even though at some time during the taxable year such individual has engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the term "pensions" means periodic payments made in consideration for services rendered or by way of compensation for injuries received; and the term "life annuities" means a stated sum payable periodically at stated times during life, or during a specified number of years, under an obligation to make the payments in return for adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

§ 509.115 Visiting professors or teachers—(a) General. Pursuant to Article XII of the convention, a professor or teacher, a nonresident alien who is a resident of Switzerland, who temporarily visits the United States for the purpose of teaching for a period not exceeding two years at any university, college, school, or other educational institution situated within the United States shall, for a period not exceeding two years from the date of his initial arrival in the United States, be exempt from United States tax with respect to his remuneration earned in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951, for such teaching during such period not in excess of two years.

(b) More than two years. The exemption granted by Article XII is applicable to remuneration earned during such part of the individual's visit as does not exceed two years from the date of arrival even though the total period of his presence in the United States may extend beyond two years, provided that during such entire period he may be considered to be temporarily visiting the United States.

(c) Residence. Such exemption shall not apply to the remuneration of an alien who is a resident of the United States or who is not a resident of Switzerland.

(d) Nonresidence presumed. An individual who otherwise qualifies for the exemption from United States tax granted by Article XII shall, for a period of not more than two years immediately succeeding the date of his arrival within the United States for the purpose of such teaching, be deemed to have the tax status of a nonresident alien in the absence of proof of his intention to remain indefinitely in the United States. See section 871 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and the regulations thereunder.

§ 509.116 Students or apprentices—(a) General. Under Article XIII of the convention, a student or apprentice, a nonresident alien who is a resident of Switzerland, who temporarily visits the United States exclusively for the purposes of study or for acquiring business or technical experience shall not include in gross income, and shall be exempt from United States tax with respect to, amounts derived by him in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951, and received during such years from without the United States as remittances for the purposes of his maintenance or studies.

(b) Residence. The exemption shall not apply to remittances received by an alien who is a resident of the United States or who is not a resident of Switzerland.

§ 509.117 Dividends and interest paid by a foreign corporation—(a) General—(1) Dividends. A dividend paid by a foreign corporation constitutes, in whole or in part, income from sources within the United States and is subject to tax by the United States when received by a nonresident alien individual or other foreign corporation, if 50 percent or more of the gross income of the paying corporation for the statutory period was derived from sources within the United States. See section 861 (a) (2) (B), section 872 (a), and section 882 (b), Internal Revenue Code of 1954; and the regulations thereunder.

(2) Interest. Interest on bonds, notes, and other interest-bearing obligations of resident foreign corporations constitutes, in its entirety, income from sources within the United States and is subject to tax by the United States when received by a nonresident alien individual or other foreign corporation, if 20 percent or more of the gross income of the paying corporation for the statutory period was derived from sources within the United States. See section 861 (a) (1) (B), section 872 (a), and section 882 (b), Internal Revenue Code of 1954; and the regulations thereunder.

(b) Exemption from United States tax. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, Article XIV (1) of the convention provides that dividends and interest paid by any foreign corporation and derived by a nonresident alien who is a resident of Switzerland, or by a Swiss corporation, shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax if such alien or corporation at no time during the taxable year in which such items of income are derived has a permanent establishment in the United States. The exemption so provided shall apply even though the corporation paying the dividends or interest is a resident foreign corporation at the time of payment and without regard to the percentage of its gross income from sources within the United States.

§ 509.118 Credit against United States tax for Swiss tax—(a) General—(1) Taxable as though no convention. Notwithstanding any other provision of the convention the United States, in determining the United States tax of a citizen or resident of the United States, or of a domestic corporation, may, under Article XV (1) (a) of the convention, include in the basis upon which such tax is imposed all items of income taxable under the revenue laws of the United States, as though the convention had not come into effect. For example, despite the exemption from United States tax granted by Article VIII of the convention with respect to a copyright royalty derived from sources within the United States by a resident of Switzerland, such royalty shall be included in gross income and is subject to United States tax when so derived by a resident of Switzerland who is a citizen of the United States, even though such resident has no permanent establishment in the United States.

(2) Exception. Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the exclusion from gross income, and exemption from United States tax, granted by Article XI (1) of the convention with respect to wages, salaries, and similar compensation, and pensions, paid by Switzerland or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or by any political subdivisions or other public authorities of Switzerland, shall not be denied despite the provisions of Article XV (1) (a). See Article XV (2) of the convention.

(b) Application of credit—(1) General. For the purpose of mitigating double taxation, Article XV (1) (a) of the convention provides that a citizen or resident of the United States, or a domestic corporation, deriving income from sources within Switzerland shall be entitled to a credit against the United States tax for the amount of Swiss tax paid or accrued during the taxable year. Such credit shall be made in accordance with the benefits and limitations of sections 901 through 905, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, relating to the foreign tax credit.

(2) Similar credit requirement. (i) Article XV (1) (a) further provides that, by virtue of the provisions of Article XV (1) (b) of the convention, relating to the exclusion from basis for computing the Swiss tax, Switzerland satisfies the similar credit requirement set forth in section 901 (b) (3), Internal Revenue Code of 1954, relating to alien residents of the United States, etc.

(ii) This provision of Article XV (1) (a) shall be taken to mean that, solely by reason of the exclusion granted by it under Article XV (1) (b) and without reference to concessions otherwise made by such country, Switzerland satisfies the similar credit requirement only with respect to taxes paid to Switzerland, and not with respect to taxes paid to another foreign country. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed, however, to prevent Switzerland from otherwise satisfying the similar credit requirement, in accordance with section 901 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and the regulations thereunder, with respect to taxes paid to another foreign country. Thus, if pursuant to a convention between Switzerland and another foreign country, Switzerland were to exempt from its income taxes the income received from sources within such other foreign country by a United States citizen residing in Switzerland, then Switzerland would, in accordance with such regulations under section 901, satisfy the similar credit requirement of section 901 (b) (3) with respect to income taxes paid to such other country by a Swiss citizen residing in the United States.

§ 509.119 Exchange of information—(a) General. (1) By Article XVI of the convention the United States and Switzerland adopt the principle of exchange of such information as is necessary for carrying out the provisions of the convention, preventing fraud, or detecting practices which are aimed at the reduction of the revenues of either country, but not including information which would be contrary to public policy or which would disclose any trade, business, industrial, or professional secret or any trade process.

(2) The information and correspondence relative to exchange of information may be transmitted directly by the Commissioner to the Director of the Federal Tax Administration.

(b) Return of information by withholding agents. (1) To facilitate compliance with Article XVI of the convention, every United States withholding agent shall make and file in duplicate with the District Director of Internal Revenue, Baltimore 2, Maryland, an information return on Form 1042 Supplement, with respect to persons having addresses in Switzerland, which shall be filed for the calendar year 1955 and subsequent calendar years. This return shall be filed simultaneously with Form 1042.

(2) There shall be reported on such Form 1042 Supplement all items of fixed or determinable annual or periodical income (and amounts described in section 402 (a) (2), section 631 (b) and (c), and section 1235 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, which are considered to be gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets) derived from sources within the United States and paid to nonresident aliens (including nonresident alien individuals, fiduciaries, and partnerships) and to nonresident foreign corporations, whose addresses at the time of payment were in Switzerland, including such items of income upon which, in accordance with the withholding regulations under the convention, no withholding of United States tax is required; except that any of such items which constitute interest in respect of which Form 1001–S or substitute Form 1001–S has been filed in duplicate with the withholding agent is not required to be reported on such Form 1042 Supplement.

(c) Information to be furnished in ordinary course. In compliance with the provisions of Article XVI of the convention the Commissioner will transmit to the Director of the Federal Tax Administration, as soon as practicable after the close of the calendar year 1955 and of each subsequent calendar year during which the convention is in effect, the following information relating to such preceding calendar year:

(1) The duplicate copy of each available Form 1042 Supplement filed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section; and

(2) The duplicate copy of each available ownership certificate, Form 1001–S, and substitute Form 1001–S, filed pursuant to the withholding regulations under the convention, in connection with coupon bond interest.

(d) Information in specific cases. Under the provisions and limitations of Article XVI of the convention and upon request of the Director of the Federal Tax Administration, the Commissioner shall furnish to the Director information available to, or obtainable by, the Commissioner relative to the tax liability of any person under the revenue laws of Switzerland in any case in which such information is necessary for carrying out the provisions of the convention or for the prevention of fraud or the like in relation to the taxes which are the subject of the convention.

§ 509.120 Double taxation claims—(a) General. Under Article XVII of the convention, where the taxpayer shows proof that the action of the tax authorities of the United States or Switzerland has resulted, or will result, in double taxation contrary to the provisions of the convention, he is entitled to present the facts to the country of which he is a citizen; or, if he is not a citizen of either country, to the country of which he is a resident; or, if the taxpayer is a corporation or other entity, to the country in which it is created or organized. The article provides that, should the taxpayer's claim be deemed worthy of consideration, the competent authority of the country to which the facts are presented shall undertake to come to an agreement with the competent authority of the other country with a view to equitable avoidance of the double taxation in question.

(b) Manner of filing claim. Such a claim on behalf of a United States citizen, corporation, or other entity, or on behalf of a resident of the United States who is not a Swiss citizen, shall be filed with the Commissioner. The claim shall be set up in the form of a letter addressed to "The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C." and shall show fully all facts and law on the basis of which the claimant alleges that such double taxation has resulted or will result. If the Commissioner determines that there is an appropriate basis for the claim under the convention, he shall take up the matter with the Director of the Federal Tax Administration with a view to arranging an agreement of the character contemplated by Article XVII.

§ 509.121 Beneficiaries of an estate or trust—(a) Qualified beneficiary. If he otherwise satisfies the requirements of the respective articles concerned, a nonresident alien who is a resident of Switzerland and who is a beneficiary of an estate or trust shall be entitled to the exemption from, or reduction in the rate of, United States tax granted by Articles VI, VII, VIII, and XIV of the convention with respect to dividends, interest, and royalties and other like amounts, to the extent that (1) any amount paid, credited, or required to be distributed by such estate or trust to such beneficiary is deemed to consist of such items and (2) such items would, without regard to the convention, be includible in his gross income.

(b) Amounts otherwise includible in gross income of beneficiary. For the determination of amounts which, without regard to the convention, are includible in the gross income of the beneficiary, see subchapter J of chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and the regulations thereunder.

General Regulations Under Income Tax Convention Between United States and Kingdom of Norway

Notice of Proposed Rule Making

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in duplicate to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C., within the period of 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the Federal Register. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; 26 U. S. C. 7805) and Article XXI of the income tax convention between the United States and the Kingdom of Norway which was proclaimed by the President of the United States on December 13, 1951.

[SEAL] T. Coleman Andrews,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

§ 510.101 Introductory. The income tax convention between the United States and the Kingdom of Norway, signed June 13, 1949, and proclaimed by the President of the United States on December 13, 1951, subject to the understanding expressed in the protocol of exchange, hereinafter referred to as the convention, provides as follows, effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951:

Article I

(1) The taxes referred to in this Convention are:

(a) In the case of the United States of America: The Federal income tax, including surtaxes.

(b) In the case of Norway: The national and the communal income taxes, including the old age pension tax, the war pension tax, the tax on bank deposits and the seamen's tax.

(2) The present Convention shall also apply to any other income taxes of a substantially similar character imposed by either contracting State subsequently to the date of signature of the present Convention.

Article II

(1) As used in this convention:

(a) The term "United States" means the United States of America, and when used in a geographical sense includes only the States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

(b) The term "Norway" means the Kingdom of Norway; the provisions of the Convention shall not, however, extend to Svalbard and Jan Mayen, nor do they apply to the Norwegian dependencies outside Europe.

(c) The term "permanent establishment" means a branch office, factory, workshop, warehouse or other fixed place of business, but does not include the casual and temporary use of merely storage facilities, nor does it include an agency unless the agent has and exercises a general authority to negotiate and conclude contracts on behalf of an enterprise or has a stock of merchandise from which he regularly fills orders on its behalf. An enterprise of one of the contracting States shall not be deemed to have a permanent establishment in the other State merely because it carries on business dealings in such other State through a bona fide commission agent, broker or custodian acting in the ordinary course of his business as such. The fact that an enterprise of one of the contracting States maintains in the other State a fixed place of business exclusively for the purchase of goods or merchandise shall not of itself constitute such fixed place of business a permanent establishment of such enterprise. The fact that a corporation of one contracting State has a subsidiary corporation which is a corporation of the other State or which is engaged in trade or business in the other State shall not of itself constitute that subsidiary corporation a permanent establishment of its parent corporation.

(d) The term "enterprise of one of the contracting States" means, as the case may be, "United States enterprise" or "Norwegian enterprise".

(e) The term "enterprise" includes every form of undertaking whether carried on by an individual, partnership, corporation, or any other entity.

(f) The term "United States enterprise" means an enterprise carried on in the United States by a resident of the United States or by a United States corporation or other entity; the term "United States corporation or other entity" means a partnership, corporation or other entity created or organized in the United States or under the law of the United States or of any State or Territory of the United States.

(g) The term "Norwegian enterprise" means an enterprise carried on in Norway by a resident of Norway or by a Norwegian corporation or other entity; the term "Norwegian corporation or other entity" means a partnership, corporation or other entity created or organized in Norway or under Norwegian laws.

(h) The term "competent authorities" means, in the case of the United States, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or his authorized representative; and in the case of Norway, the Ministry of Finance and Customs.

(2) In the application of the provisions of the present Convention by one of the contracting States any term not otherwise defined shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the meaning which such term has under its own tax laws.

ARTICLE III

(1) An enterprise of one of the contracting States shall not be subject to taxation in the other contracting State in respect of its industrial and commercial profits unless it is engaged in trade or business in such other State through a permanent establishment situated therein. If it is so engaged such other State may impose its tax upon such profits of the enterprise from sources within such other State.

(2) In determining the industrial or commercial profits from sources within the territory of one of the contracting States of an enterprise of the other contracting State, no profits shall be deemed to arise from the mere purchase of goods or merchandise within the territory of the former contracting State by such enterprise.

(3) Where an enterprise of one of the contracting States is engaged in trade or business in the territory of the other contracting State through a permanent establishment situated therein, there shall be attributed to such permanent establishment the industrial or commercial profits which it might be expected to derive if it were an independent enterprise engaged in the same or similar activities under the same or similar conditions and dealing at arm's length with the enterprise of which it is a permanent establishment and the profits so attributed shall, subject to the law of such other contracting State, be deemed to be income from sources within the territory of such other contracting State.

(4) The competent authorities of the two contracting States may lay down rules by agreement for the apportionment of industrial and commercial profits.

ARTICLE IV

Where an enterprise of one of the contracting States, by reason of its participation in the management or the financial structure of an enterprise of the other contracting State, makes with or imposes on the latter, in their commercial or financial relations, conditions different from those which would be made with an independent enterprise, any profits which would normally have accrued to one of the enterprises, but by reason of those conditions have not so accrued, may be included in the profits of that enterprise and taxed accordingly.

ARTICLE V

(1) Income which an enterprise of one of the contracting States derives from the operation of ships or aircraft shall be exempt from taxation in the other contracting State.

(2) The provisions of this Article shall be deemed to suspend the arrangement between the United States and Norway providing for relief from double income taxation on shipping profits, effected by exchanges of notes dated November 26, 1924, January 23, 1925, and March 24, 1925.

ARTICLE VI

Interest on bonds, securities, notes, debentures, or on any other form of indebtedness derived from sources within one of the contracting States by a resident or corporation or other entity of the other contracting State not having a permanent establishment in the former State shall be exempt from taxation in such former State.

ARTICLE VII

Royalties and other amounts derived, as consideration for the right to use copyrights, artistic and scientific works, patents, designs, secret processes and formulas, trade-marks and other like property (including rentals and like payments in respect of motion picture films), from sources within one of the contracting States by a resident or corporation or other entity of the other contracting State not having a permanent establishment in the former State shall be exempt from taxation in such former State: Provided, That each of the contracting States reserves the right according to the principles of Article IV to deny a deduction to the payor thereof for such royalty or any portion thereof as is not considered by the revenue authorities of such State to be reasonable consideration for the right to use the property referred to in this Article.

ARTICLE VIII

(1) Income from real property (not including interest derived from mortgages and bonds secured by real property) and royalties in respect of the operation of mines, quarries, or other natural resources, shall be taxable only in the contracting State in which such property, mines, quarries, or other natural resources are situated.

(2) A resident or corporation of one of the contracting States deriving any such income from sources within the other contracting State may, for any taxable year, elect to be subject to the tax of such other contracting State, on a net basis, as if such resident or corporation were engaged in trade or business within such other contracting State through a permanent establishment therein during such taxable year.

ARTICLE IX

Gains derived from the sale or exchange of real property shall be taxable only in the contracting State in which such property is situated.

ARTICLE X

(1) A resident of Norway shall be exempt from United States tax upon compensation for labor or personal services (including the practice of the liberal and artistic professions) if he is temporarily present in the United States for a period or periods not exceeding a total of 183 days during the taxable year and either of the following conditions is met:

(a) His compensation is received for labor or personal services performed as an employee, or under contract with, a resident, or corporation or other entity of Norway, or

(b) His compensation received for labor or personal services does not exceed $10,000.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) of this Article shall apply mutatis mutandis, to a resident of the United States with respect to compensation for such labor or personal services performed in Norway.

(3) The provisions of paragraphs (1) and (2) of this Article shall have application to directors' fees representing reasonable compensation for services rendered whether or not the recipient of such fees has been present at any time during the taxable year in the contracting State from which payment of such fees has been made.

(4) The provisions of this Article shall have no application to the income to which Article XI (1) relates.

ARTICLE XI

(1) (a) Wages, salaries and similar compensation, and pensions paid by the United States or by the political subdivisions or territories thereof to an individual (other than a Norwegian citizen who is not also a citizen of the United States) shall be exempt from Norwegian tax.

(b) Wages, salaries and similar compensation, and pensions paid either directly by, or from funds or institutions created by, Norway or Norwegian communities or counties (fylker) to an individual (other than a United States citizen who is not also a citizen of Norway) shall be exempt from United States tax.

(2) Private pensions and life annuities derived from within one of the contracting States and paid to individuals residing in the other contracting State shall be exempt from taxation in the former State.

(3) The term "pensions", as used in this Article, means periodic payments made in consideration for services rendered or by way of compensation for injuries received.

(4) The term "life annuities" as used in this Article means a stated sum payable periodically at stated times during life, or during a specified number of years, under an obligation to make the payments in return for adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

ARTICLE XII

A professor or teacher, a resident of one of the contracting States, who temporarily visits the other contracting State for the purpose of teaching for a period not exceeding two years at a university, college, school or other educational institution in the other contracting State, shall be exempted in such other contracting State from tax on his remuneration for such teaching for such period.

ARTICLE XIII

A student or apprentice, a resident of one of the contracting States, who temporarily visits the other contracting State exclusively for the purposes of study or for acquiring business or technical experience shall not be taxable in the latter State in respect of remittances received by him from abroad for the purposes of his maintenance or studies.

ARTICLE XIV

(1) It is agreed that double taxation shall be avoided in the following manner:

(a) The United States in determining its taxes specified in Article I of this Convention in the case of its citizens, residents or corporations may, regardless of any other provision of this Convention, include in the basis upon which such taxes are imposed all items of income taxable under the revenue laws of the United States as if this Convention had not come into effect. The United States shall, however, subject to the provisions of section 131, Internal Revenue Code, as in effect on the date of the entry into force of this Convention, deduct from its taxes the amount of Norwegian taxes specified in Article I of this Convention.

(b) Norway in determining its taxes specified in Article I of this Convention in the case of its residents or corporations may, regardless of any other provision of this Convention, include in the basis upon which such taxes are imposed all items of income taxable under the revenue laws of Norway as if the Convention had not come into effect. Norway shall, however, deduct from the taxes so calculated that portion of such tax liability which the taxpayer's income from sources in the United States (not exempt from United States tax under this Convention) bears to his entire income. The competent authority of Norway may, however, decide that the deduction shall not exceed the United States tax on income taxable in the United States.

(2) The provisions of this Article shall not be construed to deny the exemptions from United States tax or Norwegian tax, as the case may be, granted by Article XI (1) of this Convention.

ARTICLE XV

With a view to the more effective imposition of the taxes to which the present Convention relates, each of the contracting States undertakes, subject to reciprocity, to furnish such information in the matter of taxation, which the authorities of the State concerned have at their disposal or are in a position to obtain under their own law, as may be of use to the authorities of the other State in the assessment of the taxes in question and to lend assistance in the service of documents in connection therewith. Any information so exchanged shall be treated as secret and shall only be disclosed to persons (including a court) concerned with the assessment, determination and collection of the taxes which are the subject of the present Convention, or the determination of appeals in relation thereto. No information shall be exchanged which would disclose a trade, business, industrial or professional secret. Information and correspondence relating to the subject matter of this Article shall be exchanged between the competent authorities of the contracting States in the ordinary course or on request.

ARTICLE XVI

In accordance with the preceding Article and insofar as may be found to be practicable, the competent authorities of each contracting State shall forward to the competent authorities of the other contracting State as soon as practicable after the close of each calendar year the following information relating to such calendar year:

The names and addresses of all addressees within such other State deriving from sources within the former State dividends, interest, royalties, pensions, annuities, wages, salaries, rents, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical income, showing the amount of such income with respect to each addressee.

ARTICLE XVII

(1) The contracting States undertake to lend assistance and support to each other in the collection of the taxes which are the subject of the present Convention, together with interest, costs, and additions to the taxes.

(2) In the case of applications for enforcement of taxes, revenue claims of each of the contracting States which have been finally determined may be accepted for enforcement by the other contracting State and may be collected in that State in accordance with the laws applicable to the enforcement and collection of its own taxes.

(3) Any application shall include a certification that under the laws of the State making the application the taxes have been finally determined.

(4) The assistance provided for in this Article shall not be accorded with respect to the citizens, corporations, or other entities of the State to which application is made.

ARTICLE XVIII

The State to which application is made for information or assistance shall comply as soon as possible with the request addressed to it except that such State may refuse to comply with the request for reasons of public policy or if compliance would involve violation of a trade, business, industrial or professional secret.

ARTICLE XIX

Where a taxpayer shows proof that the action of the revenue authorities of the contracting States has resulted, or will result, in double taxation contrary to the provisions of the present Convention, he shall be entitled to lodge a claim with the State of which he is a citizen or, if he is not a citizen of either of the contracting States, with the State of which he is a resident, or, if the taxpayer is a corporation or other entity, with the State in which it is created or organized. Should the claim be upheld, the competent authority of such State shall undertake to come to an agreement with the competent authority of the other State with a view to equitable avoidance of the double taxation in question.

ARTICLE XX

(1) The provisions of this Convention shall not be construed to deny or affect in any manner the right of diplomatic and consular officers to other or additional exemptions now enjoyed or which may hereafter be granted to such officers.

(2) The provisions of the present Convention shall not be construed to restrict in any manner any exemption, deduction, credit or other allowance now or hereafter accorded by the laws of one of the contracting States in the determination of the tax imposed by such State.

(3) Should any difficulty or doubt arise as to the interpretation or application of the present Convention, or its relationship to Conventions between one of the contracting States and any other State, the competent authorities of the contracting States may settle the question by mutual agreement.

ARTICLE XXI

(1) The competent authorities of the two contracting States may prescribe regulations necessary to carry into effect the present Convention within the respective States. With respect to the provisions of this Convention relating to exchange of information, service of documents, and mutual assistance in the collection of taxes, such authorities may, by common agreement, prescribe rules concerning matters of procedure, forms of application and replies thereto, conversion of currency, disposition of amounts collected, costs of collection, minimum amounts subject to collection and related matters.

(2) The competent authorities of the two contracting States may communicate with each other directly for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this Convention.

ARTICLE XXII

(1) The present Convention shall be ratified and the instruments of ratification shall be exchanged at Washington as soon as possible. It shall have effect for the taxable years beginning on or after the first day of January of the year in which such exchange takes place.

(2) The present Convention shall continue effective for a period of five years and indefinitely after that period, but may be terminated by either of the contracting States at the end of the five-year period or at any time thereafter, provided that at least six months' prior notice of termination has been given and, in such event, the present Convention shall cease to be effective for the taxable years beginning on or after the first day of January next following the expiration of the six-month period.

Done at Washington, in duplicate, in the English and Norwegian languages, the two texts having equal authenticity, this thirteenth day of June, 1949.

For the President of the United States of America:

[SEAL] JAMES E. WEBB.

For his Majesty the King of Norway:

[SEAL] WILHELM MUNTHE MORGENSTIERNE.

PROCLAMATION OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES DATED DECEMBER 13, 1951

* * * * *

And whereas the Senate of the United States of America, by their resolution of September 17, 1951, two-thirds of the Senators present concurring therein, did advise and consent to the ratification of the aforesaid convention subject to an understanding as follows:

"It is understood that the application of Article XVII of the convention shall be confined and limited as granting authority to each Contracting State to collect only such taxes imposed by the other Contracting State as will insure that the exemption or reduced rate of tax granted under the present convention by such other State, shall not be enjoyed by persons not entitled to such benefits.";

And whereas the text of the aforesaid understanding was communicated by the Government of the United States of America to the Government of the Kingdom of Norway and the aforesaid understanding was accepted by the Government of the Kingdom of Norway;

And whereas the aforesaid convention was duly ratified by the President of the United States of America on November 26, 1951, in pursuance of the aforesaid advice and consent of the Senate and subject to the aforesaid understanding, and the aforesaid convention was duly ratified on the part of the Kingdom of Norway;

And whereas the respective instruments of ratification of the aforesaid convention were duly exchanged at Washington on December 11, 1951, and a protocol of exchange was signed at that place and on that date by the respective Plenipotentiaries of the United States of America and the Kingdom of Norway, the said protocol containing a statement that it is understood by the two Governments that, upon entry into force of the aforesaid convention in accordance with its provisions, Article XVII thereof shall be applied in accordance with the aforesaid understanding;

And whereas it is provided in Article XXII of the aforesaid convention that the convention shall have effect for the taxable years beginning on or after the first day of January of the year in which the exchange of instruments of ratification takes place;

Now, therefore, be it known that I, Harry S. Truman, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and make public the aforesaid convention to the end that the said convention and each and every article and clause thereof, subject to the aforesaid understanding, may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States of America and by the citizens of the United States of America and all other persons subject to the jurisdiction thereof.

§ 510.102 Applicable provisions of law—(a) General. The Internal Revenue Code of 1954 provides in part as follows:

* * * * *

SEC. 894. Income exempt under treaty. Income of any kind, to the extent required by any treaty obligation of the United States, shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from taxation under this subtitle.

* * * * *

* * * * *

SEC. 7805. Rules and regulations—(a) Authorization. Except where such authority is expressly given by this title to any person other than an officer or employee of the Treasury Department, the Secretary or his delegate shall prescribe all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this title, including all rules and regulations as may be necessary by reason of any alteration of law in relation to internal revenue.

(b) Retroactivity of regulations or rulings. The Secretary or his delegate may prescribe the extent, if any, to which any ruling or regulation, relating to the internal revenue laws, shall be applied without retroactive effect.

* * * * *

(b) Internal Revenue Code of 1939. Any reference in this part to any provision of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 shall, where applicable, be deemed also to refer to the corresponding provision of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939.

(c) Effective date of regulations. Pursuant to sections 894 and 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, Article XXI of the convention, and other provisions of the internal revenue laws, this part is hereby prescribed effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951. All regulations inconsistent herewith are modified accordingly.

§ 510.103 Scope of the convention—(a) Purpose of convention. The primary purposes of the convention, to be accomplished on a reciprocal basis, are to avoid double taxation upon certain items of income derived from sources within one country by residents or corporations or other entities of the other country and to provide for administrative cooperation between the competent tax authorities of the two countries looking to the avoidance of double taxation and the prevention of fiscal evasion.

(b) Exemption from United States tax. The following items of income from sources within the United States are exempt from United States tax for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951, subject to the respective articles of the convention:

(1) Industrial and commercial profits of a Norwegian enterprise having no permanent establishment in the United States (Article III);

(2) Income derived by a Norwegian enterprise from the operation of ships or aircraft (Article V);

(3) Interest derived by a nonresident alien who is a resident of Norway, or by a Norwegian corporation or other entity, if such alien, corporation, or other entity has no permanent establishment in the United States (Article VI);

(4) Patent and copyright royalties, and other like amounts, including motion picture film rentals, derived by a nonresident alien who is a resident of Norway, or by a Norwegian corporation or other entity, if such alien, corporation, or other entity has no permanent establishment in the United States (Article VII);

(5) Compensation, subject to certain limitations, for personal services performed in the United States by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Norway (Article X);

(6) Compensation and pensions paid by Norway to an alien individual, and to a citizen of Norway who is also a citizen of the United States, including such items as are from sources without the United States (Article XI);

(7) Private pensions and life annuities paid to a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Norway (Article XI); and

(8) Remuneration derived from certain teaching in the United States by a professor or teacher who is a nonresident alien residing in Norway (Article XII).

(c) Students or apprentices. Remittances received from abroad for the purpose of maintenance or studies by a student or apprentice, a nonresident alien residing in Norway, who is temporarily present in the United States under specified circumstances are also exempt from United States tax (Article XIII).

(d) Withholding regulations. For regulations pertaining to the release or refund of excess tax withheld, and to exemption from withholding of United States tax at source, in the case of interest, patent and copyright royalties, film rentals, private pensions, and life annuities, received from sources within the United States by a nonresident alien who is a resident of Norway, or by a Norwegian corporation or other entity, see 26 CFR (1939) 7.100 through 7.109 (Treasury Decision 5956, approved December 9, 1952).

(e) Other provisions. Except as otherwise expressly provided by the convention, the United States tax liability of a nonresident alien who is a resident of Norway, or of a Norwegian corporation or other entity, is determined in accordance with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 relating to nonresident alien individuals and foreign corporations.

(f) Foreign tax credit. Any citizen of Norway who is a resident of the United States is liable to United States tax as though the convention had not come into effect; however, such alien resident of the United States is entitled, in accordance with Article XIV of the convention and subject to section 901 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, to a credit against the United States tax for the Norwegian tax, if any, and is also entitled to the benefits of Article XIV (2) and Article XX. Moreover, a citizen of the United States, even though resident in Norway, or a domestic corporation, even though engaged in trade or business in Norway through a permanent establishment situated therein, is liable to United States tax as though the convention had not come into effect but is likewise entitled, subject to section 901 of the Code, to a credit against the United States tax for the Norwegian tax.

§ 510.104 Definitions—(a) General. Any term defined in the convention or this part shall have the meaning so assigned to it; any term not so defined shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the meaning which such term has under the internal revenue laws of the United States.

(b) Specific terms. As used in this part:

(1) United States tax. The term "United States tax" means the Federal income tax, including surtaxes, of the United States and any other income tax of a substantially similar character imposed by the United States after June 13, 1949.

(2) Norwegian tax. The term "Norwegian tax" means the national and the communal income taxes of Norway, including the old age pension tax, the war pension tax, the tax on bank deposits and the seamen's tax, and any other income tax of a substantially similar character imposed by Norway after June 13, 1949.

(3) United States. The term "United States" means the United States of America; and, when used in a geographical sense, includes only the States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

(4) Norway. The term "Norway" means the Kingdom of Norway, but does not include Svalbard, Jan Mayen, or the Norwegian dependencies outside Europe.

(5) Permanent establishment — (i) Fixed place of business. The term "permanent establishment" means a branch office, factory, workshop, warehouse, or other fixed place of business, but does not include the casual and temporary use of merely storage facilities. It implies the active conduct of a business enterprise. The mere ownership, for example, of timberlands or a warehouse in the United States by a Norwegian enterprise does not mean that such enterprise, in the absence of any business activity therein, has a permanent establishment in the United States. The fact that a Norwegian enterprise maintains in the United States an office or other fixed place of business used exclusively for the purchase for such enterprise of goods or merchandise shall not of itself constitute such fixed place of business a permanent establishment of such enterprise.

(ii) Subsidiary corporation. The fact that a Norwegian corporation has a domestic subsidiary corporation, or a foreign subsidiary corporation which is engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein, does not of itself constitute either subsidiary corporation the United States permanent establishment of the Norwegian parent corporation.

(iii) Agency. A Norwegian enterprise which has an agency in the United States does not thereby have a permanent establishment in the United States, unless the agent has and exercises a general authority to negotiate and conclude contracts on behalf of such enterprise or unless he has a stock of merchandise from which he regularly fills orders on its behalf. If the enterprise has an agent in the United States who has power to contract on its behalf, but only at fixed prices and under conditions determined by such principal, it does not thereby necessarily have a permanent establishment in the United States. The mere fact that an agent of a Norwegian enterprise—assuming he has no general authority to negotiate and conclude contracts on behalf of his principal—maintains samples, or occasionally fills orders from incidental stocks of goods maintained, in the United States does not of itself mean that such enterprise has a permanent establishment in the United States. The mere fact that salesmen, employees of a Norwegian enterprise, promote the sale of their employer's products in the United States or that a Norwegian enterprise transacts business in the United States by means of mail order activities does not mean that such enterprise has a permanent establishment in the United States. A Norwegian enterprise shall not be deemed to have a permanent establishment in the United States merely because it carries on business dealings in the United States through a bona fide commission agent, broker, or custodian, acting in the ordinary course of his business as such.

(6) Enterprise. The term "enterprise" means any commercial or industrial undertaking carried on by any person, for example, by an individual, partnership, or corporation. It includes such activities as manufacturing, merchandising, mining, processing, banking, and insuring. It does not include the rendition of personal services. Hence, a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Norway and who performs personal services is not, merely by reason of such services, engaged in a Norwegian enterprise within the meaning of the convention; consequently, his liability to United States tax is not determined under Article III of the convention, if he has not otherwise carried on a Norwegian enterprise.

(7) Norwegian enterprise. The term "Norwegian enterprise" means an enterprise carried on in Norway by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Norway, or by a Norwegian corporation or other entity. Thus, an enterprise carried on wholly outside Norway by a Norwegian corporation is not a Norwegian enterprise within the meaning of the convention.

(8) Norwegian corporation or other entity. The term "Norwegian corporation or other entity" means a partnership, corporation, or other entity created or organized in Norway or under Norwegian laws.

(9) United States enterprise. The term "United States enterprise" means an enterprise carried on in the United States by an individual who is a resident of the United States or by a United States corporation or other entity.

(10) United States corporation or other entity. The term "United States corporation or other entity" means a partnership, corporation, or other entity created or organized in the United States or under the law of the United States or of any State or Territory of the United States.

(11) Industrial and commercial profits. The term "industrial and commercial profits" means profits arising from industrial, commercial, mercantile, manufacturing, and like activities of a Norwegian enterprise. It does not include dividends, interest, rents, royalties, or other mere investment income, or remuneration for personal services. In determining the industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States of a Norwegian enterprise, no profits shall be deemed to arise from the mere purchase of goods or merchandise within the United States by such enterprise.

(12) Commissioner. The term "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or his authorized representative.

(13) Ministry of Finance and Customs. The term "Ministry of Finance and Customs" means the Ministry of Finance and Customs (Finans- og Tolldepartementet) of Norway.

§ 510.105 Industrial and commercial profits—(a) General. (1) Article III of the convention adopts the principle that an enterprise of one of the contracting States shall not be taxable by the other contracting State upon its industrial and commercial profits unless it is engaged in trade or business in the latter State through a permanent establishment situated therein. Accordingly, a Norwegian enterprise is subject to United States tax upon its industrial and commercial profits, to the extent of such profits from sources within the United States, only if it is engaged in trade or business in the United States at some time during the taxable year through a permanent establishment situated therein.

(2) From the standpoint of the United States tax the article has application only to a Norwegian enterprise and its industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States. Thus, a nonresident alien individual who is a citizen of Norway, or a Norwegian corporation or other entity, carrying on an enterprise which is not Norwegian, is subject to tax on such income of such enterprise pursuant to section 871 (c) or section 882 (a), Internal Revenue Code of 1954, if such alien, corporation, or other entity has engaged in trade or business in the United States at any time during the taxable year, even though it has not had a permanent establishment therein at any time within such year.

(b) No United States permanent establishment. A Norwegian enterprise is not subject to United States tax upon its industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States, nor shall such profits be included in gross income, if such enterprise at no time during the taxable year in which such profits are derived has engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein. For example, if during the taxable year an enterprise carried on in Norway by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Norway, or by a Norwegian corporation, were to sell merchandise, such as textiles, furs, or canned fish products, in the United States through a bona fide commission agent or broker in the United States acting in the ordinary course of his business as such agent or broker, the profits arising from such sale would not be included in gross income and would be exempt from United States tax under Article III of the convention. Similarly, if during the taxable year such enterprise were to secure orders in the United States for such merchandise through its sales agents whose sole function in the United States is sales promotion, the orders being transmitted to Norway for acceptance, then the profits arising from such sales would not be included in gross income and would be exempt from United States tax.

(c) United States permanent establishment—(1) General. A Norwegian enterprise is subject to United States tax upon its industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States to the same extent as are nonresident aliens or foreign corporations which are subject to tax pursuant to section 871 (c) or section 882 (a), Internal Revenue Code of 1954, if such enterprise at any time during the taxable year in which such profits are derived has engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein. If it is so engaged, it is subject to United States tax upon its entire income from sources within the United States except to the extent otherwise exempt from United States tax.

(2) Allocation of profits. In the determination of the income taxable to such enterprise for purposes of the United States tax, all industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States shall be deemed to be allocable to the permanent establishment in the United States. Hence, if a Norwegian enterprise which has a permanent establishment in the United States at some time during the taxable year were to sell in the United States, through a bona fide commission agent therein acting in the ordinary course of his business as such, merchandise which has been produced in Norway, the profits arising from such sale would be allocable to the permanent establishment to the extent they are derived from sources within the United States, even though the sale is made independently of the permanent establishment.

(d) Independent basis. The industrial and commercial profits of the permanent establishment in the United States shall be determined as if the establishment were an independent enterprise engaged in the same or similar activities under the same or similar conditions and dealing at arm's length, or on an independent basis, with the enterprise of which it is a permanent establishment. Any such profits so attributed to such permanent establishment shall, subject to the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, be deemed to be income from sources within the United States.

§ 510.106 Control of a United States enterprise by a Norwegian enterprise. In effect, Article IV of the convention provides that, if a Norwegian enterprise by reason of its control of a United States enterprise imposes on the latter enterprise conditions different from those which would result from normal business relations between independent enterprises, the accounts between the enterprises shall be adjusted in order to ascertain the true taxable income of each enterprise. The purpose is to place the controlled United States enterprise on a tax parity with an uncontrolled United States enterprise by determining, according to the standard of an uncontrolled enterprise, the true taxable income from the property and business of the controlled enterprise. The basic objective of the article is that, if the accounting records do not truly reflect the taxable income from the property and business of the United States enterprise, the Commissioner shall intervene and, by making such distributions, apportionments, or allocations as he may deem necessary of gross income, deductions, credits, or allowances, or of any item or element affecting taxable income, between the United States enterprise and the Norwegian enterprise by which it is controlled or directed, shall determine the true taxable income of the United States enterprise. The provisions of section 482 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and the regulations thereunder, shall, insofar as applicable, be followed in the determination of the taxable income of the United States enterprise.

§ 510.107 Income from operation of ships or aircraft—(a) Exempt from tax. Under Article V of the convention so much of the income from sources within the United States of a Norwegian enterprise as consists of earnings derived from the operation of ships or aircraft, whether or not they are documented or registered in or under the laws of Norway, shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax, even though at some time during the taxable year such enterprise has engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein.

(b) Prior arrangement suspended. The provisions of Article V shall be deemed to suspend the arrangement between the United States and Norway providing for relief from double income taxation on shipping profits, effected by exchanges of notes dated November 26, 1924, January 23, 1925, and March 24, 1925 (Executive Agreement Series, No. 15; 47 Stat. 2617). Accordingly, while the provisions of Article V are in effect, no exemption from United States tax shall be accorded pursuant to, or by reason of, any agreement effected by the exchange of such notes. This paragraph shall not be construed, however, to restrict any exemption which, without reference to an exchange of notes, is accorded by section 872 (b) and section 883 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. See Article XX (2) of the convention.

§ 510.108 Interest. (a) Interest on bonds, securities, notes, debentures, or on any other form of indebtedness, including interest on obligations of the United States, interest on obligations of instrumentalities of the United States, and interest on mortgages and bonds secured by real property, which is derived from sources within the United States by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Norway, or by a Norwegian corporation or other entity, shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax under the provisions of Article VI of the convention if such alien, corporation, or other entity at no time during the taxable year in which such interest is derived has a permanent establishment in the United States.

(b) If, for example, a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Norway performs personal services within the United States during the taxable year, but has at no time during such year a permanent establishment within the United States, he is entitled to the exemption from United States tax with respect to interest derived in that year from United States sources, as provided in Article VI of the convention, even though under the provisions of section 871 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 he has engaged in trade or business within the United States during such year by reason of his having performed personal services therein.

§ 510.109 Patent and copyright royalties and film rentals—(a) General. Royalties, and other amounts, representing consideration for the right to use copyrights, artistic and scientific works, patents, designs, secret processes and formulas, trademarks, and other like property, including rentals and like payments in respect of motion picture films, which are derived from sources within the United States by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Norway, or by a Norwegian corporation or other entity, shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax under the provisions of Article VII of the convention if such alien, corporation, or other entity at no time during the taxable year in which such items of income are derived has a permanent establishment in the United States.

(b) Items not deductible. Under the provisions of Article VII the United States reserves the right, according to the principles of Article IV and § 510.106, to deny a deduction to the payer thereof for such royalties and other like amounts, or any portion thereof, as is considered by the Commissioner not to be reasonable consideration for the right to use the property involved.

§ 510.110 Real property income and natural resource royalties—(a) General. Income of whatever nature derived by a nonresident alien who is a resident of Norway, or by a Norwegian corporation or other entity, from real property situated in the United States, including gains derived from the sale or exchange of such property, rentals from such property, and royalties in respect of the operation of mines, quarries, timber, or other natural resources situated in the United States, is not exempt from United States tax by the convention. Such items of income are subject to taxation under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 generally applicable to the taxation of nonresident alien individuals and foreign corporations. See Articles VIII (1) and IX of the convention. Interest derived from mortgages and bonds secured by real property does not constitute income from real property for purposes of this section but is subject to the provisions applicable to interest generally. See § 510.108.

(b) Net basis—(1) General. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, a nonresident alien who is a resident of Norway, or a Norwegian corporation, who during the taxable year derives from sources within the United States any income from real property as described in such paragraph may elect for such taxable year to be subject to United States tax on a net basis as though such alien or corporation were engaged in trade or business in the United States during such year through a permanent establishment situated therein. See Article VIII (2) of the convention.

(2) Manner of electing. Such nonresident alien (including an individual, fiduciary, and member of a partnership) shall signify his election to be subject to the tax on such a basis by filing Form 1040B clearly marked at the top of the first page thereof as follows: "Return of Resident of Norway Electing to File on a Net Basis Pursuant to Article VIII of Norwegian Income Tax Convention." Such corporation shall signify its election to be subject to tax on such a basis by filing Form 1120 clearly marked at the top of the first page thereof as follows: "Return of Nonresident Norwegian Corporation Electing to File on a Net Basis Pursuant to Article VIII of Norwegian Income Tax Convention". The election so signified shall be irrevocable for the taxable year for which such election is made. All income from sources within the United States, including gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets or of other property, shall be disclosed on the return so filed. See sections 871 and 882 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and the regulations thereunder.

§ 510.111 Compensation for labor or personal services—(a) Exemption from tax. Under Article X of the convention compensation received by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Norway for labor or personal services, including the practice of the liberal and artistic professions, performed in the United States shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax in either of the following situations:

(1) Norwegian employer. Where such individual is temporarily present in the United States for a period or periods not exceeding in the aggregate a total of 183 days during a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1951, any compensation received by him (irrespective of when received, if received in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951) for such labor or personal services performed in the United States during such year as an employee of, or under contract with, a nonresident alien (including a nonresident alien individual and fiduciary) who is a resident of Norway, or a Norwegian corporation or other entity, whether or not such alien, corporation, or other entity is engaged in trade or business within the United States, shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax.

(2) Other employers. Where such individual is temporarily present in the United States for a period or periods not exceeding in the aggregate a total of 183 days during a taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1951, any compensation received by him (irrespective of when received, if received in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951) for such labor or personal services performed in the United States during such year shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax if such compensation does not exceed $10,000 in the aggregate. Thus, if a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Norway performs personal services in the United States during the taxable year as an employee of a domestic corporation for which he receives compensation of $15,000 in the aggregate, none of such compensation shall be exempt from United States tax even though such individual is present in the United States during such year for a period or periods not exceeding a total of 183 days, since the aggregate compensation received is in excess of $10,000.

(b) Definitions. For purposes of this section, the term "compensation for labor or personal services" shall include, but shall not be limited to, the compensation, profits, emoluments, or other remuneration of public entertainers, such as, stage, motion picture, television, or radio artists, musicians, and athletes. It shall also include directors' fees representing reasonable compensation for services rendered, whether or not the recipient of such fees has been present at any time during the taxable year in the contracting State from which payment of such fees has been made. For the allocation or segregation as between sources within, and sources without, the United States in the case of compensation for labor or personal services, see sections 861 through 864, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and the regulations thereunder.

§ 510.112 Government wages, salaries, and pensions—(a) General. Under Article XI of the convention any wage, salary, or similar compensation, or any pension, paid directly by the Government of Norway or by Norwegian communities or counties (fylker), or paid from funds or institutions created by such Government, communities, or counties, to any alien individual (whether or not a resident of the United States) or to any individual who occupies the dual status of a citizen of the United States and a citizen of Norway shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax, even though at some time during the taxable year such individual has engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein.

(b) Definition. As used in this section, the term "pensions" means periodic payments made in consideration for services rendered or by way of compensation for injuries received. Under Article XIV (2) of the convention the exclusion from gross income, and exemption from United States tax, provided by this section shall not be denied despite the provisions of Article XIV. See § 510.116.

(c) Cross reference. For the taxation generally of compensation of alien employees of foreign governments and the consequences of executing and filing the waiver provided for in section 247 (b) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, see section 893 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and the regulations thereunder.

§ 510.113 Private pensions and life annuities—(a) General. Private pensions and life annuities derived from sources within the United States and paid to a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of Norway shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from United States tax, in accordance with Article XI of the convention, even though at some time during the taxable year in which such items of income are derived such individual has engaged in trade or business in the United States through a permanent establishment situated therein.

(b) Definitions. As used in this section, the term "pensions" means periodic payments made in consideration for services rendered or by way of compensation for injuries received; and the term "life annuities" means a stated sum payable periodically at stated times during life, or during a specified number of years, under an obligation to make the payments in return for adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

§ 510.114 Visiting professors or teachers—(a) General. Pursuant to Article XII of the convention a professor or teacher, a nonresident alien who is a resident of Norway, who temporarily visits the United States for the purpose of teaching for a period not exceeding two years at any university, college, school, or other educational institution situated within the United States shall, for a period not exceeding two years from the date of his initial arrival in the United States, be exempt from United States tax with respect to his remuneration earned in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951, for such teaching during such period not in excess of two years.

(b) More than two years. The exemption granted by Article XII is applicable to remuneration earned during such part of the individual's visit as does not exceed two years from the date of arrival even though the total period of his presence in the United States may extend beyond two years, provided that during such entire period he may be considered to be temporarily visiting the United States.

(c) Residence. Such exemption shall not apply to the remuneration of an alien who is a resident of the United States or who is not a resident of Norway.

(d) Nonresidence presumed. An individual who otherwise qualifies for the exemption from United States tax granted by Article XII shall, for a period of not more than two years immediately succeeding the date of his arrival within the United States for the purpose of such teaching, be deemed to have the tax status of a nonresident alien in the absence of proof of his intention to remain indefinitely in the United States. See section 871 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and the regulations thereunder.

§ 510.115 Students or apprentices—(a) General. Under Article XIII of the convention a student of apprentice, a nonresident alien who is a resident of Norway, who temporarily visits the United States exclusively for the purposes of study or for acquiring business or technical experience shall not include in gross income, and shall be exempt from United States tax with respect to, amounts derived by him in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1951, and received during such years from without the United States as remittances for the purposes of his maintenance or studies.

(b) Residence. The exemption shall not apply to remittances received by an alien who is a resident of the United States or who is not a resident of Norway.

§ 510.116 Credit against United States tax for Norwegian tax—(a) General—(1) Taxable as though no convention. Notwithstanding any other provision of the convention the United States, in determining the United States tax of a citizen or resident of the United States, or of a domestic corporation, may, under Article XIV (1) (a) of the convention, include in the basis upon which such tax is imposed all items of income taxable under the revenue laws of the United States, as though the convention had not come into effect. For example, despite the exemption from United States tax granted by Article VI of the convention with respect to interest derived from sources within the United States by a resident of Norway, such interest shall be included in gross income and is subject to United States tax when so derived by a resident of Norway who is a citizen of the United States, even though such resident has no permanent establishment in the United States.

(2) Exception. Notwithstanding the provisions of this paragraph, the exclusion from gross income, and exemption from United States tax, granted by Article XI (1) of the convention with respect to wages, salaries, and similar compensation, and pensions, paid by Norway or Norwegian communities or counties shall not be denied despite the provisions of Article XIV (1) (a). See Article XIV (2) of the convention.

(b) Application of credit. For the purpose of mitigating double taxation Article XIV (1) (a) of the convention provides that a citizen or resident of the United States, or a domestic corporation, deriving income from sources within Norway shall be entitled to a credit against the United States tax for the amount of Norwegian tax paid or accrued during the taxable year. Such credit shall be made in accordance with the benefits and limitations of sections 901 through 905, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, relating to the foreign tax credit.

§ 510.117 Exchange of information—(a) General. (1) By Article XV of the convention the United States and Norway adopt the principle of exchange of such information as may be of use for carrying out the provisions of the convention, preventing fraud, or detecting practices which are aimed at the reduction of the revenues of either country, but not including information which would be contrary to public policy or which would disclose any trade, business, industrial, or professional secret.

(2) The information and correspondence relative to exchange of information may be transmitted directly by the Commissioner to the Ministry of Finance and Customs.

(b) Return of information by withholding agents. (1) To facilitate compliance with Article XVI of the convention, every United States withholding agent shall make and file in duplicate with the District Director of Internal Revenue, Baltimore 2, Maryland, an information return on Form 1042 Supplement, with respect to Norwegian addressees, which shall be filed for the calendar year 1955 and subsequent calendar years. This return shall be filed simultaneously with Form 1042.

(2) There shall be reported on such Form 1042 Supplement all items of fixed or determinable annual or periodical income (and amounts described in section 402 (a) (2), section 631 (b) and (c), and section 1235 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, which are considered to be gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets) derived from sources within the United States and paid to nonresident aliens (including nonresident alien individuals, fiduciaries, and partnerships) and to nonresident foreign corporations, whose addresses at the time of payment were in Norway, including such items of income upon which, in accordance with the withholding regulations under the convention, no withholding of United States tax is required; except that any of such items which constitute interest in respect of which Form 1001–NO or substitute Form 1001–NO has been filed in duplicate with the withholding agent is not required to be reported on such Form 1042 Supplement.

(c) Information to be furnished in ordinary course. In compliance with the provisions of Article XVI of the convention the Commissioner will transmit to the Ministry of Finance and Customs, as soon as practicable after the close of the calendar year 1955 and of each subsequent calendar year during which the convention is in effect, the following information relating to such preceding calendar year:

(1) The duplicate copy of each available Form 1042 Supplement filed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section; and

(2) The duplicate copy of each available ownership certificate, Form 1001–NO, and substitute Form 1001–NO, filed pursuant to the withholding regulations under the convention, in connection with coupon bond interest.

(d) Information in specific cases. Under the provisions and limitations of Articles XV and XVIII of the convention and upon request of the Ministry of Finance and Customs, the Commissioner shall furnish to the Ministry information available to, or obtainable by, the Commissioner relative to the tax liability of any person under the revenue laws of Norway in any case in which such information is necessary to the administration of the provisions of the convention or of statutory provisions against tax avoidance, or in which such information is necessary for the prevention of fraud.

§ 510.118 Double taxation claims—(a) General. Under Article XIX of the convention, where the taxpayer shows proof that the action of the revenue authorities of the United States or Norway has resulted, or will result, in double taxation contrary to the provisions of the convention, he is entitled to lodge a claim with the country of which he is a citizen; or, if he is not a citizen of either country, with the country of which he is a resident; or, if the taxpayer is a corporation or other entity, with the country in which it is created or organized. The article provides that, should the claim be upheld, the competent authority of the country with which the claim is lodged shall undertake to come to an agreement with the competent authority of the other country with a view to equitable avoidance of the double taxation in question.

(b) Manner of filing claim. Such a claim on behalf of a United States citizen, corporation, or other entity, or on behalf of a resident of the United States who is not a Norwegian citizen, shall be filed with the Commissioner. The claim shall be set up in the form of a letter addressed to "The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. C." and shall show fully all facts and law on the basis of which the claimant alleges that such double taxation has resulted or will result. If the Commissioner determines that there is an appropriate basis for the claim under the convention, he shall take up the matter with the Ministry of Finance and Customs with a view to arranging an agreement of the character contemplated by Article XIX.

§ 510.119 Beneficiaries of an estate or trust—(a) Qualified beneficiary. If he otherwise satisfies the requirements of the respective articles concerned, a nonresident alien who is a resident of Norway and who is a beneficiary of an estate or trust shall be entitled to the exemption from United States tax granted by Articles VI and VII of the convention with respect to interest, and patent royalties and other like amounts, to the extent that (1) any amount paid, credited, or required to be distributed by such estate or trust to such beneficiary is deemed to consist of such items and (2) such items would, without regard to the convention, be includible in his gross income.

(b) Amounts otherwise includible in gross income of beneficiary. For the determination of amounts which, without regard to the convention, are includible in the gross income of the beneficiary, see subchapter J of chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and the regulations thereunder.

§ 510.120 Norwegian partnerships—(a) General. Whether an individual, corporation, or other entity, a member of a partnership created or organized in Norway or under Norwegian laws, is subject to United States tax upon such person's distributive share of the income of such partnership depends upon both the status of the partnership and the status of such member.

(b) Citizen partner. A citizen or resident of the United States, or a domestic corporation, is subject to United States tax upon such person's distributive share of the income of such partnership as though the convention had not come into effect (but subject to the provisions of § 510.116) even though other members, by reason of benefits granted by the convention, are not subject to United States tax upon their distributive share of such income.

(c) Noncitizen partner. In any case in which income is derived from sources within the United States by a partnership created in Norway or under Norwegian laws, any member of such partnership who has a permanent establishment in the United States or who is either a nonresident alien not a resident of Norway or is a foreign corporation which is not Norwegian is not entitled, with respect to such member's distributive share of such income, to any benefit granted by the convention solely to nonresident aliens residing in Norway, or to Norwegian corporations or other entities, having no permanent establishment in the United States. Conversely, any member of such partnership who individually complies with the requirements for obtaining any such benefit will be entitled thereto with respect to such member's distributive share of such income. A member of a Norwegian partnership which has a permanent establishment in the United States shall likewise be considered to have a permanent establishment in the United States.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Internal Revenue Service

[Commissioner Delegation Order No. 5]

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER ET AL.

EMERGENCY ORDER OF SUCCESSION AND DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY TO ASSUME POSITION OF ACTING COMMISSIONER

By virtue of the authority vested in me by Treasury Department Order No. 129, Revision No. 2, dated April 22, 1955, the officials in the positions listed below and on a document filed at the Internal Revenue Service emergency relocation site are hereby authorized, in the event of an enemy attack on the continental United States, and the disability of the Commissioner, his absence from the emergency relocation site, or if there is a vacancy in the office, to succeed to the position of Acting Commissioner in the order listed, and are authorized to perform the functions of Commissioner to insure the continuity of the functions of that office:

Deputy Commissioner.
Assistant Commissioner (Operations).
Assistant Commissioner (Technical).
Assistant Commissioner (Inspection).
Assistant Commissioner (Administration).
Assistant Commissioner (Planning).

If none of these officials are available, the first available Regional Commissioner, in the order listed in the document on file at the emergency relocation site, will become Acting Commissioner.

Immediately in the event of an attack on the United States, each Regional Commissioner shall communicate as quickly as possible with the emergency National Office at the relocation site and advise the official in charge of his availability to assume the position of Acting Commissioner. After the lapse of a reasonable time for receipt of communications from the Regional Commissioners, the official in charge of the emergency National Office will advise the available Regional Commissioner highest in the order of succession to report to the emergency National Office at the relocation site to become Acting Commissioner.

If no Regional Commissioner is available, a District Director will become Acting Commissioner in the order indicated in the above-mentioned document on file at the emergency relocation site. District Directors need not contact the emergency National Office.

There is hereby delegated to Regional Commissioners and District Directors, or the officials acting in their stead, upon the event of an enemy attack on the continental United States, all authority vested in the Commissioner of Internal Revenue by law or transfer from the Secretary of the Treasurer as is necessary to insure the continuous performance of Internal Revenue Service essential functions by those officials in their areas of jurisdiction. This delegation of authority will remain in effect until notice is received that it has been terminated.

This order is effective June 9, 1955.

T. COLEMAN ANDREWS,
Commissioner.

ALASKA

JUNE 8, 1955.

An application, serial number Fairbanks 012151, for the withdrawal from all forms of appropriation under the public land laws, including the mining and mineral leasing laws of the lands described below was filed on April 19, 1955, by Fish and Wildlife Service. The purposes of the proposed withdrawal: Kuskokwim National Wildlife Management Area.

For a period of 60 days from the date of publication of this notice, persons having cause to object to the proposed withdrawal may present their objections in writing to the Area Administrator, Area 4, Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior, at Box 480, Anchorage, Alaska. In case any objection is filed and the nature of the opposition is such as to warrant it, a public hearing will be held at a convenient time and place, which will be announced, where opponents to the order may state their views and where proponents of the order can explain its purpose.

The determination of the Secretary on the application will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, either in the form of a public land order or in the form of a Notice of Determination if the application is rejected. In either case, a separate notice will be sent to each interested party of record.

The lands involved in the application are:

CALIFORNIA

NOTICE OF FILING OF PLAT OF SURVEY

JUNE 8, 1955.

Notice is given that the plat of survey of the following described lands, accepted November 12, 1954, will be officially filed in the Land Office, Sacramento, California, effective at 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this notice:

MOUNT DIABLO MERIDIAN

T. 1 N., R. 6 W.,
Sec. 2, Lot 13 (South Marin Island or Murphy Rock).

The area described contains 0.11 acres.

South Marin Island, also known as Murphy Rock, is located in the SE¼ Sec. 2 (protracted) T. 1 N., R. 6 W., M. D. M., Marin County, California. It lies in San Rafael Bay which is a northward arm of San Francisco Bay. The island is about one mile north of Point San Quentin, about ½ mile south of the mouth of San Rafael Creek, and approximately 1½ miles southeast of the city of San Rafael. It is a barren sandstone rock projecting about 17 feet above the high water mark of San Rafael Bay, and it has a surface area of 0.11 acres. It is approximately 130 feet long by 65 feet wide with the long axis oriented from northwest to southeast. Underwater contours indicate the presence of an underlying rock shelf approximately 400 feet in diameter and 30 feet below the surface at high water. Access to the island is only by boat, and no use is being made of it at the present time.

No applications for the described vacant public lands may be allowed under the homestead, desert land, small tract, or any other non-mineral public land laws unless the land has already been classified as valuable or suitable for such application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

At the hour and date specified above the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, or selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this notice shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this notice shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this notice, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this notice, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Sacramento, California, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Sacramento, California.

[SEAL] J. M. GIBBONS, Manager.

CALIFORNIA

PARTIAL REVOCATION OF ORDERS OPENING LANDS UNDER THE FOREST HOMESTEAD ACT; CORRECTION

JUNE 10, 1955.

The land description in the order dated May 26, 1955 (F. R. Doc. 55–4429, 20 F. R. 3883), so far as it refers to Section 19 of T. 3 N., R. 7 E., H. M., of List No. 1622, should read as follows: "Sec. 19, NE¼SW¼NE¼, S½NW¼SW¼NE¼, S½NE¼SE¼NW¼, SE¼SE¼NW¼, S½SW¼SE¼NW¼, containing approximately 35 acres."

IDAHO

ORDER PROVIDING FOR OPENING OF PUBLIC LAND

In an exchange of lands made under the provisions of section 8 of the Act of June 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 1269), as amended June 26, 1936 (49 Stat. 1976; 43 U. S. C. Sec. 315 (g)), the following described lands have been reconveyed to the United States:

BOISE MERIDIAN, IDAHO

T. 5 S., R. 10 E.,
Sec. 10, S½SW¼, SW¼SE¼;
Sec. 15, NW¼NW¼.

The areas described total 160 acres.

The lands described are located in Idaho Grazing District No. 1 and constitute a part of the public-land pattern. Since the lands lie on rather steep slopes, they would be unsuitable for agriculture and could be used only for grazing purposes. The lands are surrounded by Federal range on three sides, and if retained in public ownership will tend to consolidate Federal range in this area. The lands are classified as suitable for retention in Federal ownership for range management purposes.

No application for these lands will be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract or any other nonmineral public land law, unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of classification, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

Any application that is filed will be considered on its merits. The lands will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of the described land until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time, the said lands shall become subject to application, petition, location and selection under the applicable public-land laws, subject to valid existing rights, the provisions of existing withdrawals, the requirements of applicable laws and the 91-day preference right filing period for veterans and others entitled to preference under the Act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended. All applications filed pursuant to the Veterans' Preference Act of 1944, on or before 10:00 a. m. of the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though simultaneously filed at that time. All other applications under the public-land laws filed on or before 10:00 a. m. of the 126th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though simultaneously filed at that time.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to Manager, Land Office, Box 2237, Boise, Idaho.

NOLAN F. KEIL,
Acting State Supervisor.

NEW MEXICO

SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION NO. 38; CORRECTION

JUNE 1, 1955.

Paragraphs 2, 5 and 6 of New Mexico Small Tract Classification No. 38, dated May 6, 1955, F. R. Document 55–3828, 20 F. R. 3236, are hereby corrected to read as follows:

2. As to applications filed on these lands prior to 10:30 a. m., March 29, 1955, this order shall become effective upon the date it is signed, provided said applications are made to conform to the type of use and descriptions of lands specified in this order.

5. Leases will be issued for a term of three years and will contain an option to purchase in accordance with 43 CFR 257.13. The lands will be leased in tracts of approximately 5 acres (330' x 660') with the longer dimension extending north and south. However, if the successful applicants for adjacent tracts within one 10-acre subdivision mutually agree to an east-west orientation the leases may be amended accordingly. Advance rental for homesites shall be $30.00 for the 3-year period. Minimum advance rental for business sites shall be $60.00 for the 3-year period. A leasee for a business site shall be obligated to pay any additional rental at the rate fixed by the schedule of rentals in effect at the date of approval of the lease. An application to lease must be accompanied by the advance rental specified above plus a $10.00 filing fee.

6. Lessees who comply with the terms and conditions of their leases will be eligible to purchase their tracts at the appraised value of $200.00 per tract, at any time during the life of the lease, provided that during such period they either (a) construct the hereinafter described improvements on the lands or (b) file two copies of a binding agreement among themselves in accordance with § 257.13 (d), Title 43, Code of Federal Regulations, to observe, in the development of the lands, standards of building, sanitation, and health requirements consistent with the terms of their leases. Lessees who participate in such agreement may exercise, at the discretion of the Bureau of Land Management, their option to purchase without prior compliance with the improvement requirements of their leases.

The minimum improvements which must (a) be constructed, or which (b) the lessees must enter into agreement among themselves to construct must meet the following standards:

1. They must conform with health, sanitation and construction requirements of local state laws and local governmental ordinances.

2. Improvements on homesites shall consist of a neat, substantial, habitable house set upon a permanent foundation with at least three rooms and bath and minimum floor space of 400 square feet.

Improvements on business sites shall consist of neat, substantial and adequate buildings suitable to the type of business to be engaged in. Adequate disposal and sanitary facilities must be installed in all cases. Leases issued hereunder will not be renewable in the absence of compliance with one of the above conditions (a) or (b) unless failure to comply is justified by circumstances and non-renewal would work an extreme hardship on the lessee. Applications to purchase a tract or to renew a lease thereon must be accompanied by a filing fee of $10.00.

E. R. SMITH,
State Supervisor.

JUNE 1, 1955.

Paragraphs 5 and 6 of New Mexico Small Tract Classification No. 39, dated May 11, 1955, F. R. Document 55–4053, 20 F. R. 3515, are hereby corrected to read as follows:

5. Leases will be issued for a term of three years and will contain an option to purchase in accordance with 43 CFR 257.13. The lands will be leased in tracts of approximately 5 acres (330' x 660'). In the SE¼SW¼SW¼ Sec. 27, W½SW¼NE¼NE¼ Sec. 33, SE¼NW¼NW¼ and E½SW¼NW¼NW¼ Sec. 34, the longer dimensions of the tracts will extend north and south. In the NE¼SW¼SW¼ Sec. 27, the longer dimensions of the tracts will extend east and west. The NE¼SW¼NE¼NE¼ and the NW¼SE¼NE¼NE¼ Sec. 33 will be leased as one tract. The SE¼SW¼NE¼NE¼ and SW¼SE¼NE¼NE¼ Sec. 33 will be leased as one tract. The NE¼SE¼NE¼NE¼ Sec. 33 and the NW¼SW¼NW¼NW¼ Sec. 34 will be leased as one tract. The SE¼SE¼NE¼NE¼ Sec. 33 and the SW¼SW¼NW¼NW¼ Sec. 34 will be leased as one tract. Advance rental for homesites shall be $15.00 for the 3-year period. Minimum advance rental for business sites or combination home and business sites, shall be $60.00 for the 3-year period. A lessee for a business site or combination home and business site shall be obligated to pay any additional rental at the rate fixed by the schedule of rentals in effect at the date of approval of the lease. An application to lease must be accompanied by the advance rental specified above plus a $10.00 filing fee.

6. Lessees who comply with the terms and conditions of their leases will be eligible to purchase their tracts at the appraised value of $50.00 per tract at any time during the life of the lease, provided that during such period they either (a) construct the hereinafter described improvements on the lands or (b) file two copies of a binding agreement among themselves in accordance with § 257.13 (d), Title 43, Code of Federal Regulations, to observe, in the development of the leased lands, standards of building, sanitation, and health requirements consistent with the terms of their leases. Lessees who participate in such agreement may exercise, at the discretion of the Bureau of Land Management, their option to purchase without prior compliance with the improvement requirements of their leases.

The minimum improvements which must (a) be constructed, or which (b) the lessees must enter into agreement among themselves to construct must meet the following standards:

1. They must conform to health, sanitation and construction requirements of local State laws and local governmental ordinances.

2. Improvements on homesites shall consist of a neat, substantial habitable house set upon a permanent foundation.

3. Improvements on business sites or combination home and business sites shall consist of neat, substantial and adequate buildings suitable to the type of business to be engaged in. Adequate disposal and sanitary facilities must be installed in all cases.

Leases issued hereunder will not be renewable in the absence of compliance with one of the above conditions (a) or (b) unless failure to comply is justified by circumstances and non-renewal would work an extreme hardship on the lessee. Applications to purchase a tract or to renew a lease thereon must be accompanied by a filing fee of $10.00.

State Supervisor.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Maritime Administration

ESSENTIALITY AND U. S. FLAG SERVICE REQUIREMENTS OF TRADE ROUTE NO. 10

CONCLUSIONS AND DETERMINATIONS

Notice is hereby given that on June 8, 1955, the Maritime Administrator, acting pursuant to section 211 of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended, found and determined the essentiality and United States flag service requirements of United States foreign Trade Route No. 10 and, in accordance with his action of October 29, 1954, ordered that the following conclusions and determinations reached by the Maritime Administrator with respect to said route be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER:

1. Trade Route No. 10, as redescribed below, is reaffirmed as an essential foreign trade route of the United States:

Trade Route No. 10—U. S. North Atlantic Mediterranean and Black Seas. Between U. S. North Atlantic ports (Maine–Virginia, inclusive) and ports in the Mediterranean Sea, Black Sea, Portugal, Spain (south of Portugal), and Spanish and French Morocco (Tangier to southern border of French Morocco.)

2. U. S. flag sailing requirements are: (a) 4 to 5 sailings per month of passenger and combination (Passenger-cargo) vessels, which provide service exclusively on Trade Route No. 10; (b) 10 to 12 sailings per month of freight ships which provide service exclusively or predominantly on Trade Route No. 10; and (c) some additional passenger and cargo service by other regularly scheduled U. S. flag sailings serving the route in part only, in order to fill out U. S. flag service and provide overall adequacy of U. S. flag liner operation on the route.

3. Two passenger and four combination ships are required to perform 4 to 5 sailings per month and twenty to twenty-four freight ships are required to perform 10 to 12 sailings per month.

4. Freight ships of the C–3 type, including the special type C–3's of smaller cargo carrying capacity which are being operated on this route, are suitable and efficient ships, and C–2 type freight ships of usual characteristics are suitable although somewhat deficient in speed. The special type C–2's which are being operated in this trade and which have smaller carrying capacities and somewhat greater speeds than the usual C–2's are suitable ships under present conditions, but should be considered for replacement in the near-term future. The VC–2–S–AP3 Victory type ships are suitable for interim operation. Replacement freight ships for operation on Trade Route No. 10 should be of somewhat smaller cargo carrying capacity than the usual C–3's, but should be somewhat superior in speed.

Any person, firm or corporation having any interest in the foregoing who desires to offer comments and views thereon should submit same in writing to the Secretary, Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., within fifteen (15) days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The Maritime Administrator will consider these comments and views and take such action with respect thereto as in his discretion he deems warranted.

Dated: June 10, 1955.

By order of the Maritime Administrator.

Acting Secretary.

SOUTHEASTERN ENTERPRISES (WCLE)

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of R. B. Helms, Carl J. Hoskins and Jack T. Helms, d/b as Southeastern Enterprises (WCLE) Cleveland, Tennessee, Docket No. 11411, File No. BP-9629; for construction permit.

1. The Commission has before it a protest filed on May 19, 1955 by Robert W. Rounsaville, licensee of Station WBAC, Cleveland, Tennessee (1340 kc, 250 w, Unl.) pursuant to section 309 (c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, protesting the Commission's action of April 19, 1955 (released April 20, 1955), granting without hearing the above-entitled application of Southeastern Enterprises for a new standard broadcast station (WCLE) to operate on 1570 kilocycles with a power of 1 kilowatt, daytime only, at Cleveland, Tennessee; and an opposition to the said protest filed by WCLE on June 6, 1955.

2. It is to be noted that this is the second protest by WBAC to a grant of a construction permit for the above-described facilities at Cleveland, Tennessee. On September 17, 1954, a construction permit for said facilities was granted to J. A. Gallimore, trading as Radio Cleveland. WBAC filed a timely section 309 (c) protest to the grant, and on October 18, 1954 the application was designated for hearing. The hearing was scheduled to begin on November 15, 1954, but, on November 2, 1954, was continued to February 14, 1955. On January 24, 1955, J. A. Gallimore notified the Commission that he did not care to prosecute the application, and it was dismissed by the Commission on February 9, 1955.

3. In support of the instant protest, WBAC contends that it is a party in interest within the purview of section 309 (c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, because it will suffer economic injury since it is the only existing station in the same town where WCLE proposes to operate, since "any revenue obtained by the new station will be at WBAC's expense" and since "there is not sufficient advertising to support two radio stations in Cleveland". It is further contended by WBAC that under the Sanders Brothers Radio case [1] it is entitled to a full evidentiary hearing because an economic survey submitted with the protest shows that there is a "reasonable probability" the establishment of a second station in Cleveland would have a vital and important bearing upon the ability of the applicant to operate in the public interest. WBAC further contends that WCLE is not financially qualified to construct and operate the proposed station.

4. WBAC has specified the following issues on which it requests an opportunity to present evidence:

1. To determine whether the Cleveland market will provide sufficient revenues to the proposed station so as to permit the applicant to adequately serve its public.

2. To determine whether the advertising potential of the Cleveland market is such as may indicate that both stations—the existing and the proposed—will go under, with the result that a portion of the listening public will be left without adequate service

3. To determine whether the advertising potential of the Cleveland market is so slight that by a division of the field both stations—the existing and the proposed—will be compelled to render inadequate service.

4. To determine whether the competition of a second station which will operate daytime only, may force the existing full-time station to fail, thus depriving the public of Cleveland of its only nighttime radio outlet.

5. To determine whether the applicant is financially qualified to construct, own and operate the proposed station.

6. To determine whether, considering the above issues, a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity.

5. In view of the fact that protestant is licensee of standard broadcast station WBAC, Cleveland, Tennessee; that the grant herein protested establishes a second standard broadcast station in Cleveland, Tennessee in direct competition with protestant's existing and operating station; and that protestant has alleged that it has been and will continue to be financially injured by the grant in question, we are constrained to conclude that protestant is a "party in interest" which may protest under section 309 (c). See T. E. Allen and Sons, 9 Pike and Fischer RR 197; Federal Communications v. Sanders Brothers Radio Station, 309 U. S. 407 (9 RR 2008).

6. Issues 1, 2, 3, and 4 as specified by the protestant relate to economic injury. These issues, designed to show that the public interest would suffer by the establishment of a second station in Cleveland, Tennessee, in all likelihood, are not pertinent because of considerations already set out by the Commission In re Voice of Cullman, 6 RR 164 (1950).[2] However, the Commission, in cases very similar to the subject case, has recently afforded the protestants an oral argument on the legal and policy questions raised by protestants seeking hearing issues on the competitive aspects of new stations, In re Application of American Southern Broadcasters (WPWR), 11 RR 1054; In re Application of Radio Tifton (WTIF), 11 RR 1167; and In re Application of Iredell Broadcasting Company (WDBM) (FCC 55-586). Consequently, the instant protestant will be afforded a similar oral argument on the legal and policy questions raised by the requested economic injury issues.

7. With respect to Issue 5, the protestant alleges that WCLE is not financially qualified to construct and operate the proposed station. The protestant reasons that WCLE's existing capital of $25,000 and its estimated cost of construction of $19,309.78 would leave $5,690.22 to cover "possible initial operating losses" and that this is inadequate; that the $5,690.22 would be further reduced because WCLE could not construct the necessary buildings for its estimated $1,000; that WCLE would be unable to absorb a loss of at least $15,000 a year which would result from its estimated annual operating costs of $55,000 as against a possible income of $40,000; that WCLE's estimated annual revenue of $65,000 is unrealistic because it would have to come from present clients of WBAC or be developed from new business in Cleveland, and "Since WBAC is now in its tenth year of operation, it is not likely that many of its clients will leave the station to go to a station, non-network, daytime only, on a much higher frequency" and "The economic analysis clearly indicates the unprobability of an increase in the advertising potential of the market"; and that Jack T. Helms, one of the partners in WCLE, would be unable to supply additional funds if they were needed.

[1] Federal Communications Commission v. Sanders Brothers Radio Station, 309 U. S. 407 (9 RR 2008).

[2] See also In re Van Curler Broadcasting Corporation, 11 RR 215, where the Commission states "there is grave doubt as to whether a showing of economic injury on the part of a protestant would entitle him to a hearing on an issue related to the competition which the protestant would suffer from the operation of another station in his community".

8. The protestant sets forth no facts to substantiate its inference that $5,690.22 would be inadequate to meet WCLE's early operating expense and further premises its conclusion on the assumption that there will be "possible initial operating losses". The conclusion of inadequacy of the $5,690.22 is unrealistic in view of the fact that the combined net worth of the three partners in WCLE is $227,000. The contention by the protestant that WCLE's estimated annual revenue of $65,000 is unrealistic because "it is not likely that many of its (WBAC) clients will leave the station to go to a station, non-network, daytime only, on a much higher frequency" is frivolous since the protestant's petition is based on the claim that WBAC will lose so much business to WCLE that it will be economically injured and will have to diminish its service or perhaps go out of business. Moreover, the protestant's conclusion that no new advertising accounts can be secured from the Cleveland market is not borne out by the economic survey on which it relies since the survey showed that of the Cleveland merchants interviewed 22 per cent indicated that they intended to increase their advertising budgets and 32 per cent indicated that if they increased their advertising they would use radio. In its opposition to the instant protest, WCLE contends, on the basis of WBAC's financial data set forth in the WBAC protest, that its estimated annual revenue of $65,000 is reasonable inasmuch as the gross sales of WBAC for each year since 1946 have substantially exceeded that amount and in 1953, the most recent year given, were over $100,000; and that WBAC has realized an average profit therefrom for the past five years of $24,500 per year. While the balance sheet for Jack T. Helms shows little cash in excess of his $6,250 commitment to the partnership, his net worth totals $31,361.22; and although this amount includes certain fixed assets, they are encumbered to the extent of only $6,100 and can be considered as acceptable collateral for a substantial bank loan in the event that additional funds would be required from Jack T. Helms. The partnership agreement provides that capital will be furnished "according to the needs of the partnership". Balance sheets of the individual partners indicate that they have a total of $40,000 in cash available, a net worth of $227,000 and total assets in excess of $330,000. In its efforts to show that the applicant is not financially qualified, the protestant has specified no facts in support thereof but has relied upon conclusionary arguments grounded on hypothetical situations and contingencies of the protestant's own making. In the Commission's opinion the protestant has failed to specify with particularity facts to warrant the designation of the subject application for hearing on the issue of financial qualifications, but inasmuch as oral argument will be held on the above-described "economic" issues it would appear expedient to give the protestant an opportunity in said oral argument to show that the protestant's conclusions concerning the applicant's financial qualifications are valid and that such conclusions show that the applicant is not financially qualified to construct and operate the proposed station.

9. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That, insofar as the subject protest requests reconsideration of the Commission's action of April 20, 1955, it is granted to the extent provided for below; that pursuant to section 309 (c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, effective immediately, the effective date of the grant of the above-entitled application is postponed pending a final determination by the Commission with respect to the hearing described below, and that the above-entitled application is designated for hearing at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C., on the following issues:

1. To determine whether the Cleveland market will provide sufficient revenues to the proposed station so as to permit the applicant to adequately serve the public.

2. To determine whether the advertising potential of the Cleveland market is such as may indicate that both stations—the existing and the proposed—will go under, with the result that a portion of the listening public will be left without adequate service.

3. To determine whether the advertising potential of the Cleveland market is so slight that by a division of the field both stations—the existing and the proposed—will be compelled to render inadequate service.

4. To determine whether the competition of a second station which will operate daytime only, may force the existing full time station to fail, thus depriving the public of Cleveland of its only nighttime radio outlet.

5. To determine whether the applicant is financially qualified to construct and operate the proposed station.

It is further ordered, That Robert W. Rounsaville, licensee of Station WBAC, Cleveland, Tennessee, and the Chief, Broadcast Bureau, are made parties to the proceeding and that:

1. The hearing shall commence at 10:00 a. m. on July 7, 1955 and shall be held before the Commission en banc.

2. The hearing shall consist of oral argument, upon the basis that the facts alleged in the protest are true, to determine the legal and policy considerations presented by the above five issues.

3. The parties shall have fifteen days after the hearing to file proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law, and briefs as desired.

Thereafter, the Commission will issue a decision on each of the above issues, either dismissing it or designating it for evidentiary hearing before an Examiner. In the event that an evidentiary hearing is ordered, the parties shall have fifteen days after the close of the evidentiary hearing to file proposed findings of fact and conclusions, and such briefs as are desired, and they shall have fifteen days after the issuance of the Examiner's decision to file exceptions thereto and to the Commission's decision made after the hearing before it en banc, and seven days thereafter to file replies to any such exceptions.

4. The parties intending to participate in this proceeding shall file their appearances not later than July 1, 1955.

Adopted: June 8, 1955.

WJR, THE GOODWILL STATION, INC.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of WJR, The Goodwill Station, Inc., Flint, Michigan (WJRT), Docket No. 11412, File No. BMPCT-2689; for modification of construction permit.

1. The Commission has before it for consideration (1) a "Joint Petition for Rehearing, Reconsideration and Further Relief" filed on May 12, 1955, by Trebit Corporation (Trebit), Flint, Michigan, and W. S. Butterfield Theatres, Inc. (Butterfield), Detroit, Michigan, pursuant to section 405 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended; (2) a "Petition Protesting Grant and For Reconsideration or Rehearing" filed on May 12, 1955, by Lake Huron Broadcasting Corporation (Lake Huron), permittee of television broadcast station WKNX-TV, Channel 57, Saginaw, Michigan, pursuant to sections 309 (c) and 405 of the Communications Act; (3) a "Protest to Grant" filed on May 13, 1955, by Inland Broadcasting Company (Inland), permittee of television station WTOM-TV, Channel 54, Lansing, Michigan, pursuant to section 309 (c) of the Communications Act; (4) a "Protest and Petition for Reconsideration" filed on May 16, 1955, by Sparton Broadcasting Company (Sparton), permittee of television broadcast station WWTV, Channel 13, Cadillac, Michigan, pursuant to sections 309 (c) and 405 of the Communications Act; (5) a "Motion to Dismiss or Deny Joint Petition" and (6) a "Reply of WJR, The Goodwill Station, Inc.", both filed on May 17, 1955, by WJR, The Goodwill Station, Inc. (WJR); (7) an "Answer to 'Reply of WJR, The Goodwill Station, Inc.'" filed on May 23, 1955, by Lake Huron; and (8) a "Response to Reply of WJR", filed on May 23, 1955, by Sparton. All of the above protests and petitions are directed against the Commission's action of April 14, 1955, granting without hearing the above-entitled application, and all, except the petition filed by Trebit and Butterfield, request that the Commission either set aside the grant or postpone the effective date thereof and designate WJR's application for hearing on the issues specified by each of the petitioners and such further issues as may be prescribed by the Commission. In addition, Sparton requests that the Commission immediately postpone the effective date of the grant pending decision on its protest and petition. This request was denied by Commission order, dated May 25, 1955. Trebit and Butterfield's joint petition requests that the Commission reconsider and set aside the grant of the above-entitled application and deny, dismiss or return the application.

2. On May 14, 1954, the Commission, after a comparative hearing, granted the application of WJR for a construction permit for a new television broadcast station on Channel 12 assigned to Flint, Michigan, and denied the competing applications of Trebit and Butterfield. On December 6, 1954, the Commission issued a Memorandum Opinion and Order denying petitions for rehearing filed by Trebit and Butterfield. The construction permit so granted provided for a transmitter location 23 miles southeast of Flint in the direction of Detroit. On January 5, 1955, Trebit and Butterfield filed separate appeals in the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit (W. S. Butterfield Theatres, Inc. v. F. C. C., No. 12527 and Trebit Corporation v. F. C. C., No. 12528.)

3. On December 16, 1954, WJR filed the above-entitled application for modification of its construction permit to change its transmitter location from 23 miles southeast of Flint to 20.5 miles northwest of the city limits of Flint. The applicant aiso requested minor antenna changes, a change of studio location within Flint, changes in studio facilities, and indicated changes in programming, a change in network affiliation from DuMont to CBS, and a change in staff proposals. The Commission granted the application without hearing on April 14, 1955.[1]

4. Trebit and Butterfield claim standing to request reconsideration of the grant of the above-entitled application under section 405 of the Communications Act by reason of their status as the unsuccessful applicants for Channel 12 in Flint. They argue, in this respect, that the grant of the application adversely affected their rights as appellants before the Court of Appeals, because the application was in reality an amendment to WJR's original proposal in the comparative hearing, ". . . filed under the guise of an application for modification of permit . . ." In its opposition to Trebit and Butterfield's joint petition, WJR argues that neither has standing under section 405 of the Act to request reconsideration; that the proceeding involving their applications has been concluded and neither is a present applicant for Channel 12; that the fact that appeals from the Commission's decision are pending before the Court does not change that fact; and that neither has alleged that economic injury will be or has been caused as a result of the modification of the original construction permit.

5. We find no support in the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, in prior Commission decisions, or in Court decisions, for the claim to standing made by Trebit and Butterfield based on their status as the unsuccessful applicants for Channel 12 in Flint. The proceeding involving Trebit's and Butterfield's applications for construction permits has been concluded. As noted supra, appeals from the Commission's decision granting the construction permit to WJR are pending in the U. S. Court of Appeals for the D. C. Circuit. This fact does not alter the petitioners' status. The Commission's decision has not been stayed, and in the event it is reversed, the basic construction permit and any modification thereof will be vacated and all of the applications reconsidered. Under section 402 (h) of the act, this must be upon the original record unless the Court directs otherwise. The grant of the instant application does not make the appeals moot and can in no wise adversely affect the interests of the petitioners as applicants if the matter is remanded by the Court of Appeals. Since the petitioners are no longer applicants for Channel 12, standing cannot be based upon a former status. It should be noted that even if the instant grant were to be set aside, this would not serve to reinstate Trebit and Butterfield as applicants for Channel 12. Accordingly, we find that Trebit and Butterfield have no standing to request reconsideration of the grant of the above-entitled application. Sacramento Telecasters, Inc., March, 1955 (FCC 55-318); WJR, The Goodwill Station, Inc., April, 1955 (FCC 55-452). Therefore, the joint petition filed by Trebit and Butterfield must be dismissed.

6. Lake Huron claims standing as a party in interest under Section 309 (c) of the Communications Act and a person aggrieved and whose interests are adversely affected under section 405 of the act, as the licensee of standard broadcast station WKNX and the permittee of television station WKNX-TV, Channel 57, Saginaw. In support of its claim to standing, Lake Huron alleges that under its original construction permit, WJR did not provide a Grade A signal to Saginaw; that under the modified permit, the transmitter location is 14 miles from the center of Saginaw; that the city of Saginaw will be entirely encompassed by the principal city (77 dbu) signal of WJRT; that operating from this location WJRT will be in direct competition with Lake Huron's AM and TV stations; that in consequence of the grant Lake Huron will lose its CBS network programs and other sources of revenue; and that the additional competition will thereby result in the complete loss of Lake Huron's investment in WKNX-TV and will compel cessation of Lake Huron's television service to Saginaw and the surrounding area.

7. Inland claims standing as a party in interest under section 309 (c) of the Communications Act as the permittee of television broadcast station WTOM-TV, Channel 54, in Lansing, Michigan. Inland alleges that under WJR's original construction permit, WJRT would not have rendered Grade A service to Lansing; that as a result of the transmitter move, the Grade A contour of WJRT will substantially overlap the Grade A contour of WTOM-TV and will encompass the city of Lansing; that WJRT will be a direct competitor to WTOM-TV; that the transmitter move will result in WTOM-TV losing ABC programs which it now carries and, as a result, it will also lose regional and national advertisers; and that a Detroit advertiser has already failed to renew its advertising over WTOM-TV because of the proposed WJRT operation with a resultant loss of from $600 to $700 per month in revenue.

8. Sparton claims standing under sections 309 (c) and 405 of the Communications Act as the permittee of television broadcast station WWTV, Channel 13, Cadillac, Michigan. Sparton alleges that it is affiliated with CBS, ABC and DuMont networks; that such network programming has enabled it to sell national, regional and local spots, which sales constitute the major portion of its revenues; that operating from its proposed location, WJRT will cause destructive (adjacent channel) interference in Sparton's present service area, which will, in turn, cause a loss of audience and advertising revenues, and will "seriously endanger" Sparton's network affiliation. In addition, Sparton alleges that the proposed transmitter move will bring WJRT into competition with WWTV for the first time through overlap of as much as 16.3 percent of WWTV's Grade A service area and overlap of as much as 23.4 percent of WWTV's Grade B service area; and that this competition will result in the loss of the "full value" of Sparton's network affiliation, to the extent that there is a "serious possibility" that Sparton would be forced to suspend or cease operations altogether.

9. Lake Huron, in support of its protest and petition, alleges, in substance, that the grant of the WJR application for modification of construction permit contravenes the requirements of § 3.607 of the rules, the Commission's statements of policy, and the principles embodied in section 307 (b) of the Communications Act and adopted in the Sixth Report and Order; that the grant will impair the ability of UHF stations in Saginaw and Lansing, Michigan, to compete effectively by aggravating the intermixture of VHF and UHF service in those areas and will cause the likely loss of service of the UHF station; that the grant is in derogation of the Commission's own policy statement set forth in its notice of proposed rule making in Docket No. 11297 (proposing to limit transmitter sites to not more than five miles from a city's limits), and that the showing made by WJR in support of a waiver of the 5-mile limitation did not justify such waiver; that the grant is against the public interest because it sanctions misrepresentations and non-disclosure of material facts with respect to WJR's lack of intention to construct the station orginally applied for and authorized; that the grant is against the public interest because WJR abdicated to other persons and organizations its basic and primary responsibility and duty as a permittee of broadcast facilities to determine the nature of its operations in the public interest; and that the grant is in violation of §§ 1.319 and 1.387 (b) of the rules and the doctrine of the Ashbacker case.[2]

[1] On May 5, 1955, Trebit and Butterfield filed a motion in the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit requesting an order directing the Commission to rescind its action of April 14, 1955. By order of May 20, 1955, the Court directed that the motion be held in abeyance pending hearing of the appeals on the merits. Trebit and Butterfield had also appealed from denials of subsequent pleadings related to WJR's application for modification of the construction permit. Case Nos. 12666, 12667.

10. Inland, in support of its protest, alleges in substance, that the proposed transmitter move is contrary to the principles underlying the Table of Assignments; that the grant is not in the public interest because it will seriously cripple, if not eliminate outright, the existing UHF operations in Lansing and Saginaw, and will hold off any hopes of additional UHF service in those areas; that if commercial UHF is destroyed, noncommercial educational stations in the area, which are also UHF, will also be destroyed, because people will no longer buy UHF receivers or converters; and that the WJRT transmitter move is an act of misrepresentation and nondisclosure which the Commission should not condone.

11. Sparton alleges, in support of its protest and petition for reconsideration, generally the same matters alleged by Lake Huron and Inland, and in addition, alleges that the transmitter move will cause destructive electrical interference with a resultant loss of service to an area now served by WWTV; that because of the increased overlap of WWTV with other CBS affiliates, WWTV will lose sponsors; and that its program quality will thereby suffer to the detriment of the public it serves.

12. The above protestants request that, pursuant to the provisions of section 309 of the Communications Act, the Commission designate the above-entitled application for hearing on the issues specified in their respective protests, together with such further issues as may be prescribed by the Commission; make each of them a party to the proceeding; and pending hearing and decision, postpone the effective date of the Commission's action to the effective date of the Commission's decision after hearing. Lake Huron and Sparton also request reconsideration or rehearing of the Commission's action under section 405 of the Communications Act.

[2] Ashbacker Radio Corp. v. F. C. C., 326 U. S. 327.

13. In its reply to the above protests WJR questions whether the protestants have met the statutory test of standing, but in order "* * *to expedite final action * * *" concedes that each of the protestants possesses the requisite standing. Further, WJR states that it does not object to any of the issues framed by the protestants, except the issues framed by Sparton insofar as they relate to electrical interference and overlap. WJR also urges that, in adducing evidence in support of the issues, each of the protestants be limited to the specific allegations set forth in its protest; that the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof should be placed upon the protestants; that the hearing be set to commence at an early date; and necessary proceedings after hearing be expedited.

14. In light of the fact that Lake Huron, Inland and Sparton are permittees of television broadcast stations in Saginaw, Lansing and Cadillac, Michigan, respectively; that each has alleged it derives operating revenues from the sale of national, regional and local advertising from the area proposed to be served by WJRT from its new transmitter location; that the proposed transmitter move will result in WJRT placing a principal city signal over Saginaw for the first time, in placing a Grade A signal over Lansing for the first time, and in substantially overlapping the Grade A service area of Sparton's station WWTV for the first time, as well as causing adjacent channel interference to WWTV; and that each of the protestants has alleged that it has been or will be economically injured by the grant complained of, we find that Lake Huron, Inland and Sparton are each a "party in interest" within the meaning of section 309 (c) of the Communications Act, and Lake Huron and Sparton are each a "person aggrieved" within the meaning of section 405 of the Communications Act. F. C. C. v. Sanders Brothers Radio Station, 309 U. S. 470; Midwest Television, Inc., 9 Pike & Fischer RR611; Metropolitan Television Company v. F. C. C., — U. S. Appl. D. C. —.

15. The Commission finds, further, that each of the protestants has specified with particularity the facts, matters and things relied upon as required by the provisions of section 309 (c) of the act to warrant designation of the above-entitled application for hearing on the issues specified by each in its protest, except as indicated hereinbelow. Inasmuch as all of the issues specified by Inland and Sparton, except issues "1" and "2" specified by Sparton, are encompassed within the issues specified by Lake Huron, we are setting for hearing the issues specified by Lake Huron in lieu of those specified by Inland and Sparton.

16. Issues "1" and "2" specified by Sparton are as follows:

1. To determine the effect of a grant of the above-styled application upon the existing operations of Stations WWTV, Cadillac, Michigan, WKNX-TV, Saginaw, Michigan, and other television stations in the area.

2. To determine the areas and populations to be served by the applicant's proposed television station and to determine whether the type and character of the applicant's proposed program service will meet the needs of such areas and population.

With respect to Issue "1" above, no allegations have been made by Sparton relating to the effect of a grant upon any stations other than WWTV and WKNX-TV, and the issue is therefore too broad. An issue on the economic effect of a grant upon WKNX-TV has also been requested by Lake Huron. We will, therefore, include WWTV in that issue, and there is, therefore, no need for the separate issue on economic effect requested by Sparton.[3] It should be noted, however, that inclusion of this issue does not constitute a determination that the competitive effect of a grant upon existing stations is a relevant consideration. See American Southern Broadcasters (WPWR), 11 Pike & Fischer, RR 1054. This question will be determined in the hearing.

17. Issue "2" above is not acceptable as framed by the protestant to the extent it provides for a determination of the areas and population to be served by the applicant's proposed television station. Accordingly, we are reframing this issue so that it will elicit information as to coverage of WJRT's proposed operation in terms of Grade A and B field intensity contours as determined in accordance with the Commission's rules. See Westinghouse Radio Stations, Inc., 8 Pike & Fischer, RR381. The remainder of the issue is being retained as specified by the protestant.

18. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That, insofar as the petitions herein request reconsideration of the Commission's action of April 14, 1955, pursuant to section 405 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, they are denied, except with respect to the hearing provided for below; that effective immediately, the effective date of the grant of the above-entitled application is postponed pending a final determination by the Commission with respect to the protests herein of Lake Huron Broadcasting Corporation, Inland Broadcasting Company, and Sparton Broadcasting Company; and that, pursuant to section 309 (c) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-entitled application for modification of construction permit is designated for hearing at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C., on the following issues:

(a) To determine whether the type and character of the applicant's proposed program service will meet the needs of the communities and areas within the Grade A and Grade B field intensity contours of the television station proposed in the above-entitled application.

(b) To determine whether, in the light of the plans and intentions of WJR with respect to the location of the proposed television station, a grant of the application would be consistent with the provisions of § 3.607 of the Commission's rules, the principles in the Commission's Sixth Report and Order, and statements of policy of the Commission, or would contravene the requirements of section 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

(c) To determine whether WJR misrepresented and concealed from the Commission material facts with respect to its intentions to construct and operate the television station proposed in its original application for construction permit.

(d) To determine whether WJR abdicated to other persons and organizations its basic and primary responsibility to determine the nature of its operations in the public interest.

(e) To determine whether a grant of the said application is precluded by the provisions of § 1.319 or § 1.387 (b) of the Commission's rules or the doctrine of Ashbacker Radio Corp. v. F. C. C., 326 U. S. 327.

(f) To determine whether the consequences of a grant of such application would be to impair the ability of stations WKNX-TV and WWTV to compete effectively with the station proposed by WJR in said application for MP or to deprive the public of the service of WKNX-TV or WWTV.

(g) To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced upon the foregoing issues, whether public interest, convenience or necessity would be served by a grant of the application of WJR, and whether the applicant is qualified to receive a grant of the application.

The burden of proof as to each of the above issues shall be on the protestants:

It is further ordered, That the protestants and the Chief of the Broadcast Bureau are hereby made parties to the proceeding herein and that:

(a) The hearing on the above issues shall commence at 10:00 a. m., on June 27, 1955, before an Examiner to be specified by the Commission;

(b) The parties to the proceeding herein shall have fifteen (15) days after the issuance of the Examiner's decision to file exceptions thereto and seven (7) days thereafter to file replies to any such exceptions; and

(c) The appearances by the parties intending to participate in the above hearing shall be filed not later than June 20, 1955:

It is further ordered, That the joint petition for reconsideration filed by Trebit Corporation and W. S. Butterfield Theatres, Inc. is hereby dismissed.

Adopted: June 8, 1955.

Released: June 10, 1955.

[3] While it appears that Issue "1" requested by Sparton related to the economic effect of a grant upon WWTV and WKNX-TV, if it was intended to relate to the effect of the grant of WJR's application in terms of the Commission's allocation principles and section 307 (b) of the act, it is included in Lake Huron's first issue.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-3388]

CENTRAL POWER AND LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING ACQUISITION BY PUBLIC UTILITY SUBSIDIARY OF REGISTERED HOLDING COMPANY OF BONDS AND PROMISSORY NOTE OF NON-AFFILIATED NON-UTILITY COMPANY

JUNE 10, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that Central Power and Light Company ("Central Power"), a public-utility subsidiary of Central and South West Corporation, a registered holding company, has made a filing with this Commission pursuant to the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"). Central Power has designated sections 9 (a) and 10 of the act as applicable to the filing.

All interested persons are referred to said application for a statement of the transaction proposed therein, which is summarized as follows:

Central Power has entered into an agreement dated May 1, 1955, with Southern Texas Ice & Service, Inc. ("Southern Texas"), a non-affiliated non-utility company, pursuant to which Central Power will sell, and Southern Texas will buy, all of Central Power's ice properties, which are being operated under a lease agreement by Southern Texas.

The agreed sale price is $1,100,000 if paid in cash by Southern Texas on or before January 16, 1956, or $1,200,000 if paid partly in cash and partly in debt securities of Southern Texas. The agreement provides that Southern Texas shall pay to Central Power $250,000 in cash at the time of conveyance of said properties and deposit with Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, Illinois, as Escrow Agent, $850,000 principal amount of First Mortgage 5 Percent Sinking Fund Bonds dated May 1, 1955, and maturing May 1, 1965, and a promissory note in the principal amount of $100,000 bearing interest at the rate of 5 percent per annum from May 1, 1955, and payable in two installments of $50,000 each on May 1, 1956 and May 1, 1957. The bonds will be secured by a first mortgage on substantially all of the properties of Southern Texas, including those to be acquired from Central Power, and the promissory note will be endorsed and guaranteed by Southeastern Public Service Company, the parent of Southern Texas.

The agreement provides that Southern Texas may, at its option, pay to the Escrow Agent for the account of Central Power at any time on or before January 16, 1956, the sum of $850,000 in cash, plus interest thereon at the rate of 5 percent per annum from May 1, 1955, to the date of payment, and the bonds and promissory note held by the Escrow Agent shall be returned to Southern Texas. If Southern Texas shall not make such payment to the Escrow Agent for the account of Central Power, the failure to do so shall constitute an election by Southern Texas to purchase Central Power's ice properties partly for cash and partly for debt securities and the Escrow Agent shall release to Central Power the $850,000 principal amount of bonds and the promissory note in the principal amount of $100,000 as valid and binding obligations for the payment of principal and interest provided therein.

The filing states that no State commission and no Federal regulatory agency, other than this Commission, has any jurisdiction over the proposed acquisition by Central Power of the bonds and promissory note of Southern Texas.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 24, 1955, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on this matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reason for such request, and the issues of fact or law, if any, raised by said application which he proposes to controvert, or he may request to be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request shall be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application, as filed or as it may hereafter be amended, may be granted pursuant to Rule U-23 promulgated under the act, or the Commission may grant exemption from its rules as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof or take such other action as it deems appropriate.

By the Commission.

GAS INDUSTRIES FUND, INC.

NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATION FOR EXEMPTION OF PROPOSED PURCHASE OF SECURITIES DURING EXISTENCE OF UNDERWRITING SYNDICATE

JUNE 10, 1955.

Notice is hereby given that Gas Industries Fund, Inc. ("Gas Industries"), a registered open-end diversified investment company, has filed an application pursuant to section 10 (f) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("act") for an order of the Commission exempting from the provisions of section 10 (f) of the act the proposed purchase by Gas Industries of not more than 20,000 shares of the common stock of Pioneer Natural Gas Company ("Pioneer") during the existence of the underwriting syndicate mentioned below.

The application states that The First Boston Corporation ("First Boston") expects to be among a group of principal underwriters which plans to sell by public offering 776,066 shares of outstanding common stock of Pioneer on behalf of a group of selling stockholders comprising nine investment banking houses; that James H. Orr, one of the four directors of Gas Industries, is also a director of, and therefore, an affiliated person of, First Boston; and that Gas Industries considers it desirable to be in a position to purchase not more than 20,000 shares of Pioneer common stock during the existence of the public offering in order to have reasonable assurance of being able to obtain a substantial block of shares and to avoid the possibility of a higher price after the underwriting syndicate has dissolved.

Section 10 (f) of the act provides, among other things, that no registered investment company shall knowingly purchase or otherwise acquire, during the existence of any underwriting or selling syndicate any security (except a security of which such company is the issuer) a principal underwriter of which is a person of which a director of such registered investment company is an affiliated person, unless the Commission by order upon application grants an exemption therefrom. The application states that since a director of Gas Industries is an affiliated person of an investment banking organization which is part of the principal underwriting group, the proposed purchase is subject to the provisions of section 10 (f).

It is represented that the directors of Gas Industries have individually authorized the purchase by Gas Industries of not exceeding 20,000 shares of common stock of Pioneer from underwriters or members of the selling group, if any, other than First Boston, except to the extent that First Boston might be included if a purchase were to be made from Union Securities Corporation (the representative of the other principal underwriters) for the account of the several underwriters.

Pioneer, a Texas corporation, is engaged in the transmission and distribution of natural gas in the cities of Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Plainview, and in 54 other West Texas and Texas Panhandle towns and cities, and in Clayton, New Mexico, and the rural areas traversed by its transmission lines. Pioneer owns all the outstanding securities of Amarillo Oil Company, a Texas corporation, which is engaged in the business of natural gas and oil development and production. Its sole gas customer is its parent, Pioneer.

The application states that if Gas Industries were to purchase 20,000 shares of common stock of Pioneer, it would acquire approximately 2.6 percent of the total contemplated offering, and assuming a purchase price of $28 a share (the approximate market price on June 6, 1955), the aggregate purchase price would represent an investment of $560,000 or approximately 1.8 percent of the total assets of Gas Industries as of June 6, 1955.

It is represented that the proposed purchase by Gas Industries is consistent with its stated investment policies.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 24, 1955, at 12:00 noon, submit to the Commission in writing any facts bearing upon the desirability of a hearing on the matter and may request that a hearing be held, such request stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application may be granted as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

By the Commission.

TITLE 19—CUSTOMS DUTIES

Chapter I—Bureau of Customs, Department of the Treasury

[T. D. 53822]

PART 16—LIQUIDATION OF DUTIES

DECLARATION OF ORIGIN WITH RESPECT TO CUBAN PRODUCTS ENTITLED TO TOTAL OR PARTIAL EXEMPTION FROM DUTY

As it is evident that many Cuban products are readily identifiable as to their origin by reason of the character of the merchandise, and as the documentary requirements now applicable to all entries covering shipments of merchandise claimed to be Cuban products entitled to total or partial exemptions from duty work an unnecessary hardship on both the Customs Service and the importer in the case of some small shipments of such merchandise, § 16.23 (b) of the Customs Regulations is amended by adding "except as stated in the next sentence," after "agreement," in the last sentence and by adding at the end the following new sentence: "Production of the declaration may be waived in connection with direct shipments claimed to be of Cuban origin, valued not over $250, in those cases where the collector is satisfied from the character of the articles or otherwise that they are in fact of Cuban origin."

Acting Commissioner of Customs.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor

REGULATION OF HOMEWORK IN PARTICULAR INDUSTRIES IN CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES

Pursuant to sections 8 and 11 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1064, 1066; 29 U. S. C. 208, 211), the Administrator has heretofore issued regulations pertaining to the employment of homeworkers in the Women's Apparel Industry (Part 605), the Jewelry Manufacturing Industry (Part 607), the Knitted Outerwear Industry (Part 617), the Gloves and Mittens Industry (Part 621), the Button and Buckle Manufacturing Industry (Part 625), the Handkerchief Industry (Part 628), and the Embroideries Industry (Part 633).

These regulations have been re-examined and it has been determined that they are in need of editorial revision because some sections are obsolete and others are in need of clarification.

In Tobin v. Edward S. Wagner Co., Inc., 187 F. 2d 977, the court recognized the administrative authority to regulate homework but questioned the scope of the existing regulations applicable to homeworkers in the Knitted Outerwear Industry (29 CFR Part 617) on the ground that the language defining "industrial homework" was not sufficiently clear in the absence of "published rulings" giving notice that the administrative construction of the pertinent language was such as to make it applicable to situations where the homeworkers obtain their material from a source independent of the person for whom the goods are being produced. The homework regulations for the Knitted Outerwear Industry were clarified in this respect by an amendment to Part 617 (16 F. R. 3434, April 20, 1951). For reasons stated therein that amendment was published and made effective without advance notice and public procedure. Although challenged, the propriety of this procedure was upheld by the Court of Appeals. Mitchell v. Edward S. Wagner Company, Inc., 217 F. 2d 303, certiorari denied, 23 Law Week 3221. Similar clarification is needed with respect to the homework regulations for the Women's Apparel Industry, the Jewelry Manufacturing Industry, the Gloves and Mittens Industry, the Button and Buckle Manufacturing Industry, the Handkerchief Manufacturing Industry, and the Embroideries Industry.

For these reasons and because these amendments undertake only to make the regulations applicable to current conditions by deleting obsolete sections and to clarify and interpret, not to change, the remaining substance of the present regulations, advance notice and public procedure thereon is impractical, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest. (Sec. 4, Administrative Procedure Act, (60 Stat. 237, 5 U. S. C. 1004).)

Now, therefore, pursuant to authority vested in me by section 11 (d) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, (52 Stat. 1060, as amended, 29 U. S. C. 201 et seq.), Reorganization Plan No. 6 of 1950 (5 U. S. C. 611), General Order No. 45–A (15 F. R. 3290), and, the position of the Administrator being presently vacant, General Order No. 85 (20 F. R. 2066), Parts 605, 607, 617, 621, 625, 628 and 633 are hereby amended, effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, to read as follows:

PART 605—WOMEN'S APPAREL INDUSTRY, HOMEWORKER REGULATIONS

Sec.
605.1 Definitions.
605.2 Restriction of homework.
605.3 Application on official forms.
605.4 Terms and conditions for the issuance of certificates.
605.5 Investigation.
605.6 Termination of certificates.
605.7 Revocation and cancellation.
605.8 Preservation of certificates.
605.9 Records and reports.
605.10 Delegation of authority to grant, deny, or cancel a certificate.
605.11 Petition for review.
605.12 Petition for amendment of regulations.

AUTHORITY: §§ 605.1 to 605.12 issued under secs. 8, 11, 52 Stat. 1064, 1066; 29 U. S. C. 208, 211.

§ 605.1 Definitions. (a) The meaning of the terms "person", "employ", "employer", "employee", "goods", and "production", as used in this part, is the same as in the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended.

(b) "Industrial homeworker" and "homeworker", as used in this part, mean any employee employed or suffered or permitted to perform industrial homework for an employer.

(c) "Industrial homework", as used in this part, means the production by any person in or about a home, apartment, tenement, or room in a residential establishment of goods for an employer who suffers or permits such production, regardless of the source (whether obtained from an employer or elsewhere) of the materials used by the homeworker in such production.

(d) The women's apparel industry, to which this part shall apply, is defined as follows: The production of women's, misses' and juniors' dresses, washable service garments, blouses, and neckwear from woven or purchased knit fabric; women's, misses', children's and infants' underwear, nightwear, and negligees from woven fabrics; corsets and other body supporting garments from any material; other garments similar to the foregoing; and infants' and children's outerwear.

§ 605.2 Restriction of homework. No work in the women's apparel industry, as defined in § 605.1 (d), shall be done in or about a home, apartment, tenement, or room in a residential establishment unless a special homework certificate issued and in effect pursuant to this part has been obtained for each homeworker or unless the homeworker is so engaged under the supervision of a Sheltered Workshop, as defined in § 525.1 of this chapter.

§ 605.3 Application on official forms. Certificates authorizing the employment of industrial homeworkers in the women's apparel industry may be issued upon the following terms and conditions upon application therefor on forms provided by the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions. Such forms shall be signed by both the homeworker and the employer.

§ 605.4 Terms and conditions for the issuance of certificates. (a) Upon application by the homeworker and the employer on forms provided by the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, certificates may be issued to the applicant employer authorizing him to employ a particular worker in industrial homework: Provided, That the application is in proper form and sets forth facts showing that the worker:

(1) (i) Is unable to adjust to factory work because of age or physical or mental disability; or

(ii) Is unable to leave home because his presence is required to care for an invalid in the home; and

(2) (i) Was engaged in industrial homework in the industry, as defined, prior to March 5, 1942 (except that if this requirement shall result in unusual hardship to the individual homeworker it shall not be applied); or

(ii) Is engaged in industrial homework under the supervision of a State Vocational Rehabilitation Agency.

(b) No homeworker shall perform industrial homework for more than one employer in the women's apparel industry, but homework employment in another industry shall not be a bar to the issuance of a certificate for the women's apparel industry.

§ 605.5 Investigation. An investigation may be ordered in any case to obtain additional data or facts. A medical examination of the worker or invalid may be ordered or a certification of facts concerning eligibility for the certificate by designated officers of the State or Federal Government may be required.

§ 605.6 Termination of certificates. (a) Certificates shall be valid under the terms set forth in the certificate for a period of not more than 12 months from the date of issuance or such shorter period as may be fixed in the certificate. Application for renewal of any certificate shall be filed in the same manner as an original application under this part.

(b) No effective certificate shall expire until action on an application for renewal shall have been finally determined; Provided, That such application has been properly executed in accordance with the requirements, and filed not less than 15 nor more than 30 days prior to the expiration date. A final determination means either the granting of or initial denial of the application for renewal of a certificate, or withdrawal of the application. A "properly executed" application is one which contains the complete information required on the form.

§ 605.7 Revocation and cancellation. Any certificate may be revoked for cause at any time. Violation of any provision of the Fair Labor Standards Act shall be sufficient grounds for revocation of all certificates issued to an employer, in which event no certificates shall be issued to the offending employer for a period of one year. Before any certificate is cancelled, however, interested parties shall be notified in writing of the facts warranting such cancellation and afforded an opportunity to demonstrate or achieve compliance.

§ 605.8 Preservation of certificates. A copy of the certificate shall be sent to the homeworker, who shall keep such certificate on the premises on which the work is performed. A copy shall also be sent to the employer, who shall keep this copy on file in the same place at which the worker's employment records are maintained.

§ 605.9 Records and reports. The issuance of a certificate shall not relieve the employer of the duty of maintaining the records required by the regulations in Part 516 of this chapter and failure to keep such records shall be sufficient cause for the cancellation of certificates issued to such an employer.

§ 605.10 Delegation of authority to grant, deny, or cancel a certificate. The Administrator may from time to time designate and appoint members of his staff or State agencies as his authorized representatives with full power and authority to grant, deny, or cancel homework certificates.

§ 605.11 Petition for review. Any person aggrieved by the action of an authorized representative of the Administrator in granting or denying a certificate may, within 15 days thereafter or within such additional time as the Administrator for cause shown may allow, file with the Administrator a petition for review of the action of such representative praying for such relief as is desired. Such petition for review, if duly filed, will be acted upon by the Administrator or an authorized representative of the Administrator who took no part in the proceeding being reviewed. All interested parties will be afforded an opportunity to present their views in support of or in opposition to the matters prayed for in the petition.

§ 605.12 Petition for amendment of regulations. Any person wishing an amendment, addition, or revision of any of the terms of the regulations in this part may submit in writing to the Administrator a petition setting forth the changes desired and reasons for proposing them. If, upon inspection of the petition or upon his own motion the Administrator believes that reasonable cause for admendment of the rules and regulations appears, the Administrator will, unless it is impractical, unnecessary, or contrary to the public interest to do so, either schedule a hearing with due notice to interested persons or make other provisions to afford interested persons opportunity to present their views in support of or in opposition to the proposed changes.

PART 607—JEWELRY MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY, HOMEWORKER REGULATIONS

Sec.
607.1 Definitions.
607.2 Restriction of homework.
607.3 Application on official forms.
607.4 Terms and conditions for the issuance of certificates.
607.5 Investigation.
607.6 Termination of certificates.
607.7 Revocation and cancellation.
607.8 Preservation of certificates.
607.9 Records and reports.
607.10 Delegation of authority to grant, deny, or cancel a certificate.
607.11 Petition for review.
607.12 Employment of American Indians on the Navajo, Pueblo, and Hopi Indian Reservations.
607.13 Petition for amendment of regulations.

AUTHORITY: §§ 607.1 to 607.13 issued under secs. 8, 11, 52 Stat. 1064, 1066; 29 U. S. C. 208, 211.

§ 607.1 Definitions. (a) The meaning of the terms "person", "employ", "employer", "employee", "goods", and "production", as used in this part, is the same as in the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended.

(b) "Industrial homeworker" and "homeworker", as used in this part, mean any employee employed or suffered or permitted to perform industrial homework for an employer.

(c) "Industrial homework", as used in this part, means the production by any person in or about a home, apartment, tenement, or room in a residential establishment of goods for an employer who suffers or permits such production, regardless of the source (whether obtained from an employer or elsewhere) of the materials used by the homeworker in such production.

(d) The jewelry manufacturing industry, to which this part shall apply, is defined as follows:

(1) (i) The manufacturing, processing, or assembling, wholly or partially from any material, of jewelry, commonly or commercially so known. Jewelry as used in this part includes, without limitation, religious, school, college, and fraternal insignia; articles of ornament or adornment designed to be worn on apparel or carried on or about the person, including, without limitation, cigar and cigarette cases, holders, and lighters; watch cases; metal mesh bags and metal watch bracelets; and chain, mesh, and parts for use in the manufacture of any of the articles included in this definition. Jewelry as used in this part does not include pocket knives, cigar cutters, badges, emblems, military and naval insignia, belt buckles, and handbag and pocketbook frames and clasps, or commercial compacts and vanity cases, except when made from or embellished with precious metals or precious, semiprecious, synthetic or imitation stones, or the assaying, refining, and smelting of base or precious metals.

(ii) The term "parts" as used in the subdivision (i) of this subparagraph does not include parts which are used predominantly for products other than jewelry, such as springs, blades, and nail files. The term "commercial compacts and vanity cases" as used means compacts and vanity cases which bear the trade name or mark of a cosmetic manufacturer and are made for the purpose of distributing or advertising said cosmetics.

(2) The manufacturing, cutting, polishing, encrusting, engraving, and setting of precious, semiprecious, synthetic, and imitation stones.

(3) The manufacturing, drilling, and stringing of pearls, imitation pearls, and beads designed for use in the manufacture of jewelry.

(4) The term "hand-fashioned jewelry" as used in § 607.12 means articles of jewelry commonly known as genuine Navajo, Pueblo, Hopi, or Zuni handmade jewelry which in all elements of design, fashioning and ornamentation are handmade by methods and with the help of only such devices as permit the maker to determine the shape and design of each individual product: Provided, That silver used in the making of such jewelry shall be of at least nine hundred fineness, and that turquoise and other stones used shall be genuine stones, uncolored and untreated by artificial means; And provided further, That power machinery is permitted in the production of findings, in the cutting and polishing of stones, in the buffing and polishing of completed products, and in incidental functions. Equipment specifically prohibited shall include hand presses, foot presses, drop hammers, and similar equipment; And provided further, That solder may be of less silver content than nine hundred; And provided further, That findings may be mechanically made of any metal by Indians or others; And provided further, That turquoise and other stones may be cut and polished by Indians or others without restriction as to methods or equipment used.

§ 607.2 Restriction of homework. No work in the jewelry manufacturing industry, as defined in § 607.1 (d), shall be done in or about a home, apartment, tenement, or room in a residential establishment unless a special homework certificate issued and in effect pursuant to this part has been obtained for each homeworker or unless the homeworker is so engaged under the supervision of a Sheltered Workshop, as defined in § 525.1 of this chapter.

§ 607.3 Application on official forms. Certificates authorizing the employment of industrial homeworkers in the jewelry manufacturing industry may be issued on the following terms and conditions upon application therefor on forms provided by the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions. Such forms shall be signed by both the homeworker and the employer.

§ 607.4 Terms and conditions for the issuance of certificates. (a) Upon application by the homeworker and the employer on forms provided by the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, certificates may be issued to the applicant employer authorizing him to employ a particular worker in industrial homework provided that the application is in proper form and sets forth facts showing that the worker:

(1) (i) Is unable to adjust to factory work because of age or physical or mental disability; or

(ii) Is unable to leave home because his presence is required to care for an invalid in the home; and

(2) (i) Was engaged in industrial homework in the industry, as defined, prior to July 1, 1941 (except that if this requirement shall result in unusual hardship to the individual homeworker it shall not be applied); or

(ii) Is engaged in industrial homework under the supervision of a State Vocational Rehabilitation Agency.

(b) No homeworker shall perform industrial homework for more than one employer in the jewelry manufacturing industry, but homework employment in another industry shall not be a bar to the issuance of a certificate for the jewelry manufacturing industry.

§ 607.5 Investigation. An investigation may be ordered in any case to obtain additional data or facts. A medical examination of the worker or invalid may be ordered or a certification of facts concerning eligibility for the certificate by designated officers of the State or Federal Government may be required.

§ 607.6 Termination of certificates. (a) Certificates shall be valid under the terms set forth in the certificate for a period of not more than 12 months from the date of issuance or such shorter period as may be fixed in the certificate. Application for renewal of any certificate shall be filed in the same manner as an original application under this part.

(b) No effective certificate shall expire until action on an application for renewal shall have been finally determined, provided that such application has been properly executed in accordance with the requirements, and filed not less than 15 nor more than 30 days prior to the expiration date. A final determination means either the granting of or initial denial of the application for renewal of a certificate, or withdrawal of the application. A "properly executed" application is one which contains the complete information required on the form.

§ 607.7 Revocation and cancellation. Any certificate may be revoked for cause at any time. Violation of any provision of the Fair Labor Standards Act shall be sufficient grounds for revocation of all certificates issued to an employer, in which event no certificates shall be issued to the offending employer for a period of one year. Before any certificate is cancelled, however, interested parties shall be notified in writing of the facts warranting such cancellation and afforded an opportunity to demonstrate or achieve compliance.

§ 607.8 Preservation of certificates. A copy of the certificate shall be sent to the homeworker, who shall keep such certificate on the premises on which the work is performed. A copy shall also be sent to the employer, who shall keep this copy on file in the same place at which the worker's employment records are maintained.

§ 607.9 Records and reports. The issuance of a certificate shall not relieve the employer of the duty of maintaining the records required by the regulations in Part 516 of this chapter and failure to keep such records shall be sufficient cause for the cancellation of certificates issued to such an employer.

§ 607.10 Delegation of authority to grant, deny, or cancel a certificate. The Administrator may from time to time designate and appoint members of his staff or State agencies as his authorized representatives with full power and authority to grant, deny or cancel homework certificates.

§ 607.11 Petition for review. Any person aggrieved by the action of an authorized representative of the Administrator in granting or denying a certificate may, within 15 days thereafter or within such additional time as the Administrator for cause shown may allow, file with the Administrator a petition for review of the action of such representative praying for such relief as is desired. Such petition for review, if duly filed, will be acted upon by the Administrator or an authorized representative of the Administrator who took no part in the proceeding being reviewed. All interested parties will be afforded an opportunity to present their views in support of or in opposition to the matters prayed for in the petition.

§ 607.12 Employment of American Indians on the Navajo, Pueblo, and Hopi Indian Reservations. Nothing contained in the regulations in this part shall be construed to prohibit the employment, as homeworkers, of American Indians residing on the Navajo, Pueblo, and Hopi Indian Reservations, who are engaged in producing genuine hand-fashioned jewelry on the Indian reservations mentioned, provided the employment of such homeworker is in conformity with the following conditions:

(a) That each employer of one or more Indian homeworkers engaged in making hand-fashioned jewelry on these Indian reservations shall submit in duplicate to the regional office of the Wage and Hour Division for the region in which his place of business is located, on April 1, August 1, and December 1 of each year, the name and address of each employee engaged by him during the preceding four-month period in making hand-fashioned jewelry on Indian reservations.

(b) That each employer of one or more Indian homeworkers engaged in making hand-fashioned jewelry on these Indian reservations shall file copies of his piece rates in duplicate with the regional office of the Wage and Hour Division for the region in which his place of business is located on April 1, August 1, and December 1 of each year, and

(c) That each employer of one or more Indian homeworkers engaged in making hand-fashioned jewelry on these Indian reservations shall keep, maintain and have available for inspection by the Administrator or his authorized representative at any time, records and reports showing with respect to each of his homeworkers engaged in making hand-fashioned jewelry on these Indian reservations, the following information:

(1) Name of the homeworker.
(2) Address of the homeworker.
